Datenspenden sind ein neuer methodischer Ansatz um Digital Trace Data für die kommunikationswissenschaftliche Forschung zugänglich zu machen.

Bei der Erhebung von Datenspenden werden die Nutzer:innen einer Plattform (bspw. Google, YouTube, Instagram oder Spotify) angesprochen und gebeten, ihre persönlichen Nutzungsdaten herunterzuladen (bspw. via <https://takeout.google.com/settings/takeout>) und anschliessend an die Forschenden zu übermitteln.

Ziel des Seminars ist es, ein Konzept für ein (hypothetisches) Forschungsprojekt zu erarbeiten, das sich methodisch auf Datenspenden stützt und ein Phänomen der digitalen Mediennutzung untersucht. Dabei beschränkt sich das Seminar auf die Konzeptionalisierung eines Forschungsprojekts, ohne dass das Projekt anschliessend umgesetzt wird.

Event KI in der Gesundheitskommunikation
2541105a / Seminar / 1,865

Description:

Business event contents:

Die Bedeutung von Künstlicher Intelligenz (KI) in der Gesundheitskommunikation, verstärkt durch die Popularität von Tools wie ChatGPT, ist unübersehbar. Mit Zunahme generativer KI-Systeme wächst auch das Forschungsinteresse in diesem Bereich. Im Seminar werden wir uns u.a. mit Angebot, Nutzung und Wirkung von generativer KI mit Bezug auf gesundheitsbezogene Information und Kommunikation verschiedener Stakeholder auseinandersetzen. Ein Fokus liegt darauf, Chancen und Risiken der Nutzung von KI für die Gesundheitskommunikation zu reflektieren. Dabei sollen auch nötige Kompetenzen auf Kommunikator- und Rezipierendenebene analysiert werden. Die Studierenden werden Projekte entwickeln, um den Einsatz von KI in der Gesundheitskommunikation zu verbessern, diese diskutieren und bewerten.

Event Von Bytes zu Bedeutung: Kommunikationswissenschaftliche Perspektiven auf Responsible AI
254I106a / Seminar / 3,704

Description:

Business event contents:

Künstliche Intelligenz (KI) hat in den letzten Jahren viele gesellschaftliche Bereiche grundlegend transformiert. Im Zuge dessen wurde wiederholt die Entwicklung verantwortungsvoller ('responsible') KI-Systeme gefordert. Im Seminar widmen wir uns diesem Thema aus kommunikationswissenschaftlicher Perspektive und fokussieren dabei auf folgende Fragen: Was genau bedeutet 'verantwortungsvoller Umgang mit KI' in den Bereichen Medien, Kommunikation und Demokratie? Welche potenziellen Risiken und Herausforderungen sollen minimiert werden? Welche rechtlichen, sozio-technischen und ökonomischen Rahmenbedingungen benötigt es? Gemeinsam erarbeiten wir einen Überblick über relevante konzeptionelle und empirische Studien und diskutieren aktuelle Entwicklungen aus der Praxis.

Event Everyday experiences with digital dataveillance
2541116a / Seminar / 993

Description:

Business event contents:

Web searches, social media activities, online purchases: companies and governments intensively track and process people's digital traces. In response to ubiquitous data surveillance practices, individuals develop their own perceptions, understandings, and behaviors when using the internet. This research seminar will explore everyday experiences with dataveillance and the consequences this phenomenon can bring in people's lives. Students will learn and reflect on relevant theories and methods to elaborate a qualitative project. They will identify research gaps, formulate a research question, and design an interview protocol. Knowledge acquired and material developed by students will be used to conduct and analyze interviews in the following semester and support their bachelor's thesis.

Event Popularitätsmetriken und -rankings: Strategische Kommunikation von Nutzungsdaten im Wettbewerb um Aufm_keit
2541112a / Seminar / 2,790

Description:

Business event contents:

Likes, Trending Topics, Bestseller und Quoten - Es haben sich zahlreiche Metriken und Rankings etabliert, die die Popularität von Medieninhalten und die Resonanz bei Nutzer:innen signalisieren. Nutzungsdaten waren nicht nur bei der Verbreitung des Internets und der Etablierung von Social Media von enormer Bedeutung, sondern prägten bereits die Diffusion von Print- und Rundfunkangeboten. Im zunehmenden Wettbewerb um Aufmerksamkeit setzen Plattformen und Medienunternehmen verschiedenste Popularitätsmetriken und -rankings strategisch ein, um Inhalte besonders attraktiv und anschlussfähig erscheinen zu lassen. Doch wie aussagekräftig sind diese Nutzungsdaten wirklich und inwieweit werden sie manipuliert? Welche Muster der strategischen Kommunikation von Nutzungsdaten lassen sich entdecken und wie nehmen Nutzer:innen diese eigentlich wahr? Diese und weitere Fragen stehen im Zentrum des Forschungsseminars. Wir diskutieren zunächst die wichtigsten Studien, Befunde und Annahmen in diesem Forschungsfeld und entwickeln auf dieser Basis eigene Forschungsfragen und Konzeptionen für empirische Studien.

Event Microbiomes in health and disease
BME307 / Block Course / 2,438

Description:

Business event contents:

This course focuses on the analysis of gut microbiomes in healthy subjects and in inflammatory bowel disease (IBD) patients. The composition of gut microbiomes is investigated by typisation of 16S rRNA genes. Analyses of microbial diversity within and across samples as well as exploratory supervised classification will be carried out with bioinformatics tools. Inflammation in the gut is assessed by histology and Western blotting of marker proteins.

Event Rare Genetic Pediatric Disorders
BME362 / Block Course / 3,021

Description:

Business event contents:

Mastering Molecular Medicine in Rare Genetic Pediatric Immune and Connective Tissue Disorders:
Research on inborn errors of immunity and connective tissue provides the unique opportunity to investigate and analyse the genetic causes of the disorders by detecting disease-causing variants and their consequences on the immune system and the extracellular matrix, respectively, thus allowing to draw correlation between genotype and phenotype.

This research has recently led to some of the most important advances in biomedicine, and particularly in the development of new treatments.

However, due to the genetic and phenotypic heterogeneity of these diseases, and differential diagnoses due to the existence of overlapping clinical phenotypes among different diseases, there remains room for improvement in patient management and therapeutic approaches.

During this course, the students will gain insights into the diagnostic workup and translational research in rare immune and connective tissue diseases, focusing on monogenic inborn errors of immunity and the connective tissue. A workflow including genetics, bioinformatics, microscopy, and flow cytometry aiming at the identification of genetic and molecular mechanisms that underlie these pathologies will be covered. These are essential for the identification of personalised treatment strategies.

Event Animal experimentation and alternative methods in biomedical research
BME311 / Course / 185

Description:

Business event contents:

In research, it is crucial to find the right methods to answer scientific questions. In this lecture, we will take a closer look at methods and models that are often used in biomedical research. Our focus here is on animal experiments and alternatives to these like 3D cell culture or in silico approaches. The quality of science (study design, transferability, validity, scientific rigor, open science) and science ethics issues (animal ethics, biomedical ethics, 3Rs and animal welfare) will also be discussed.

Event Littérature et Histoire (ETH)

390I027a / Course / 7

Description:

Business event contents:

Littérature et Histoire ont souvent cohabité, «dialogué». L'Hi ainsi une thématique récurrente dans de nombreuses oeuvres littéraires.

Dans ce séminaire, nous interrogerons les relations entre littérature et Histoire. Nous survolerons plusieurs périodes de l'Histoire du monde, de l'Amérique à l'Europe en passant par l'Afrique. Il s'agira d'évoquer l'Histoire comme source de création pour les écrivaines et les écrivains. L'objectif est de cerner la mise en place des passerelles de cette transdisciplinarité, de questionner la manière dont l'Histoire est «réécrite» par la littérature, après en avoir été à l'origine.

illustrer nos propos, nous nous appuierons sur des oeuvres romanesques des XXe et XXIe siècles d'auteurs français, haïtiens et algériens.

Event Fachdidaktik Deutsch I (Balmer)
090De1 / Seminar / 1,092

Description:

Business event contents:

Im ersten Semester des Fachdidaktik-Kurses stehen die Planung, Durchführung und Reflexion von Übungslektionen im Zentrum. Sie erarbeiten in Gruppen schülerzentrierte und handlungsorientierte Unterrichtseinheiten im Bereich des Literaturunterrichts und der Sprachbetrachtung, führen diese in meinen Klassen durch und diskutieren Sie im Seminar. Dabei setzen wir uns ausgehend von seinen Lernzielen mit den Inhalten und Methoden des Deutschunterrichts am Gymnasium auseinander und reflektieren die Planung und Umsetzung von Unterricht im Kontext des Schulalltags.

Allgemein beschäftigt uns die Frage, wie sich das Fachwissen, das im Germanistikstudium erworben wird, in fachdidaktisches Wissen und Können transformieren lässt. Konkret setzen wir uns mit der Formulierung von Aufgaben und Aufträgen, Feedback und Rückmeldungen auseinander und widmen uns der Frage nach der Rhythmisierung von Lektionen und der Aktivierung der Lernenden.

Event Wissenschaftskommunikation im Ländervergleich: Sekundäranalysen von Bevölkerungsbefragungen
2541122 / Seminar / 3,804

Description:

Business event contents:

In vielen Ländern existieren Sorgen vor Wissenschaftsskepsis oder Desinformationen, andererseits aber auch Bemühungen, Wissenschaftsvertrauen zu fördern. Dabei unterscheiden sich jedoch zentrale Grössen der Wissenschaftskommunikationsforschung - z.B. Vertrauen und Informationsnutzung - zwischen Ländern. Dies zeigen Bevölkerungsumfragen, deren Datensätze zum Teil frei verfügbar sind und Potenzial für vergleichende Sekundäranalysen bieten.

Im Seminar arbeiten wir zunächst theoretische Ansätze, den Forschungsstand und das methodische Instrumentarium der (komparativen) Wissenschaftskommunikationsforschung auf. Später werden Hypothesen und Auswertungsstrategien entwickelt. Ziel ist dabei die Vorbereitung von ländervergleichenden Analysen durch Studierende.

Event Visual Communication of Climate Change
2541123a / Seminar / 3,697

Description:

Business event contents:

Climate change is one of the core challenges of humankind and is relevant to everyone's life. How to communicate it to the public is a growing and ever more important topic for the society and academia. Visual content, including images and videos, possesses the ability to attract audiences, capture their attention, foster engagement, and can be easily disseminated across national, cultural, and linguistic boundaries. In this seminar, we will explore the visual communication of climate change across nations and mediums, investigate the evolvement of climate visuals, and discuss the opportunities and challenges brought by technological development such as artificial intelligence.

Event Fachdidaktik Deutsch III: Schreiben im Deutschunterricht
090De3 / Seminar / 1,097

Description:

Business event contents:

In diesem Kurs beschäftigen wir uns mit dem Schreiben als Gegenstand und Lernmethode des Deutschunterrichts. Grundlage dafür bilden Modelle und Methoden der Schreibdidaktik, die wir für den Unterricht fruchtbar machen. Zentral verfolgen wir die Frage, welche Schreibkompetenzen der Deutschunterricht an der Mittelschule aufbaut und wie er dieser Aufgabe gerecht wird.

Konkret setzen wir uns mit unterschiedlichen Schreibaufträgen nicht nur im Schreib-, sondern auch im Literatur- und Linguistikunterricht auseinander.

Gleichzeitig erproben und reflektieren wir das Begleiten und vor allem das Bewerten von Schülertexten.

Notes:

Für dieses Seminar werden ein beendetes Fachstudium und erste Lehrerfahrungen empfohlen.

Event Fachdidaktik Italienisch I
090Ita1 / Seminar / 1,113

Description:

Business event contents:

Insegnare l'italiano, la sua lingua e la sua cultura: come? Nel nostro seminario conosceremo un ampio spettro di approcci, metodi e strumenti glottodidattici, ci eserciteremo a sceglierli e a valutarne l'efficacia a seconda dei contesti d'apprendimento e dei bisogni dell'apprendente.

Impareremo così sia a valutare materiali didattici già esistenti sia a realizzarne, anche nell'ottica di una preparazione ottimale alle «Übungslektionen».

Teoria e pratica si alterneranno, permettendoci di approfondire le questioni attualmente più discusse in glottodidattica e di partecipare attivamente agli sviluppi e ai dibattiti sul liceo del futuro.

Notes:

- conoscere piani di studio e obiettivi formativi del liceo
- formulare obiettivi didattici
- progettare e sviluppare unità didattiche
- preparare il piano di una lezione e di un'unità didattica
- sapere come sviluppare la competenza comunicativa descritta nel QCER e nel suo volume complementare, in particolare:

a) competenza ricettiva e produttiva, sia scritta che orale, sia monologica che in interazione

b) competenza pragmatica e interculturale

c) in contesto di classe, nella didattica a distanza, in contesti di scambio fisico o virtuale

- sviluppare unità didattiche per abilità integrate
- costruirsi un repertorio di strategie motivazionali
- sperimentare gli effetti della digitalizzazione sulla didattica disciplinare e sulla disciplina
- sapersi, nella prassi, orientare a studi di glottodidattica (in particolare nel settore della neurodidattica)
- conoscere il ruolo dell'insegnante d'italiano nei licei per sostenere processi di collaborazione e co-costruzione
- progettare escursioni, contatti linguistici e scambi

Event Fachdidaktik Wirtschaft und Recht VII: Schülerbeurteilung und Projektbegleitung
090WiRe7 / Seminar / 1,124

Description:

Business event contents:

Im ersten Teil der Lehrveranstaltung werden schriftliche und mündliche Prüfungen erstellt und anhand verschiedener Kriterien analysiert und reflektiert. Weitere Schwerpunkte sind Prüfungskorrektur und Notengebung, sowie die Durchführung mündlicher Prüfungen. In allen Themen sollen die Teilnehmer auf Fehlerquellen sensibilisiert werden und ihre eigenen (zum Teil impliziten) Beurteilungs- und Bewertungskriterien hinterfragen können.

Im zweiten Teil der Lehrveranstaltung wird die Planung, Durchführung und Bewertung von Schülerprojektarbeiten (insbesondere Maturaarbeiten und selbständige Vertiefungsarbeiten) thematisiert. Es werden zudem kritische Aspekte der Projektbegleitung reflektiert und mögliche Interventionen anhand von praktischen Beispielen erarbeitet.

Das Modul ist sehr praxisorientiert ausgerichtet. Von den Teilnehmern wird aktive Mitarbeit in den Diskussionen und in der Reflexion der Aufträge erwartet.

Event Materialität und Überlieferung: Handschrift und Druck als Zugänge zu vormoderner Literatur
360-514a / Colloquium / 2,362

Description:

Business event contents:

Mittelalterliche und frühneuzeitliche Texte unterliegen grundsätzlich anderen Überlieferungsbedingungen als moderne Literatur. Der Umgang mit Handschriften und Frühdrucken gehört daher zu den grundlegenden methodischen Herausforderungen der wissenschaftlichen Beschäftigung mit älterer Literatur.

In diesem Kolloquium werden wir uns daher jeweils am Beispiel ausgewählter Handschriften und Drucke den medialen und materiellen Modalitäten vormoderner Schriftlichkeit annähern. Die Studierenden werden dabei einerseits grundlegende Einblicke in die hierzu relevanten hilfswissenschaftlichen Felder (Paläographie, Kodikologie, Einbandkunde, Provenienzforschung etc.) erlangen. Andererseits werden wir auch exemplarisch den kulturwissenschaftlichen Fragen nach Gebrauch, Überlieferungswegen und "Sitz im Leben" mittelalterlicher und frühneuzeitlicher Literatur nachgehen, die die untersuchten Textzeugen jeweils aufwerfen.

Primär werden wir dabei auf Buchobjekte aus Zürcher Sammlungen fokussieren, um direkt am Gegenstand arbeiten zu können. Eine zusätzliche Exkursion ist geplant.

Course Materials:

Anzuschaffen ist: Matthias Kluge (Hg.), Handschriften des Mittelalters. Grundwissen Kodikologie und Paläographie. 4. Aufl. Ostfildern 2024.

Sämtliche weitere Seminarlektüre wird zum Semesterbeginn digital zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event Naturwissenschaftsdidaktische Grundlagen 3: Lehren mit Alltagsvorstellungen
090MAF1 / Seminar / 2,571

Description:

Business event contents:

Entlang des Modells der Didaktischen Rekonstruktion erheben und analysieren Sie typische Lernvoraussetzungen, setzen sich kritisch mit wissenschaftlichen Repräsentationen auseinander und entwickeln adaptive Lehr-Lernarrangements. Das Seminar ist am Konzept des Forschenden Lernens orientiert. Das heisst, Sie erwerben ein methodisches und theoretisches Instrumentarium um die Vorstellungen von Lernenden in Vermittlungskontexten zu erheben und zu verstehen. Entlang der Durchführung einer gemeinsamen Forschungsarbeit werden die methodischen und theoretischen Ansätze in die Praxis übersetzt und erprobt.

Über die Analyse individueller Denkpfade im Verlauf einer Intervention (z.B. einer Unterrichtsstunde) lernen Sie prozessorientiert Lernstände zu diagnostizieren.

Notes:

Die Veranstaltung erfolgt im Master Fachdidaktik Naturwissenschaft mit der ETH und der PHZH

Description:

Business event contents:

Dieser Kurs richtet sich an angehende (Fremd-)Sprachenlehrpersonen, die selbst ein mediengestütztes Lernangebot fürs eigene Fach entwickeln wollen - beispielsweise um binnendifferenzierten Unterricht oder Flipped-Classroom-Szenarien zu unterstützen.

Um dieses Ziel zu erreichen, werden wir

- bestehende Lernangebote wie MOOCs und Open Educational Resources entdecken, ausprobieren und analysieren;
 - verschiedene Instructional Design-Modelle kennenlernen und bei der Planung, Gestaltung und Evaluation unseres Produkts anwenden;
 - geeignete Software einsetzen, um unsere Produkte zu veröffentlichen.
- Vorkenntnisse sind keine erforderlich, Lehrerfahrung ist jedoch von Vorteil.
Ein eigener Laptop sowie Kopfhörer mit Mikrofon sind mitzubringen.

Event Anna Seghers. Erzählungen
360-112a / Seminar / 193

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Begleitseminar widmet sich Anna Seghers' Erzählungen. Als politisch aktive Antifaschistin und Kommunistin jüdischer Herkunft flieht sie nach der Machtergreifung der Nationalsozialisten ins Exil nach Mexiko, kehrt 1947 nach Berlin zurück und macht im Schriftstellerverband der DDR Karriere. Ihre Erzählungen zeichnen sich durch thematische wie auch formale Vielfalt aus, die das Seminar zum Gegenstand nimmt, um verschiedene in der Vorlesung behandelte Methoden zu erproben. Neben Texten aus der Zwischenkriegszeit ("Die Toten auf der Insel Djal") und der Exilliteratur ("Der Ausflug der toten Mädchen") werden auch Texte der Nachkriegszeit behandelt ("Das Argonautenschiff", "Drei Frauen aus Haiti"). Im Zentrum stehen dabei u.a. Hermeneutik, Strukturalismus, Gender und Postcolonial Studies.

Notes:

Grundlegende Kenntnisse in der Erzähltextanalyse werden vorausgesetzt. Zur vorbereitenden Lektüre in dieser Hinsicht ist empfohlen: Matías Martínez, Michael Scheffel: Einführung in die Erzähltheorie. 11. Aufl. München 2019.

Event Stigma: Körperzeichen seit 1910

360-112a / Seminar / 454

Description:

Business event contents:

Seit der Antike markieren Stigmata Körper und können ebenso Auserwähltheit wie sozialen Ausschluss kennzeichnen. Als Brandmale wiesen sie einst einen Körper als Eigentum aus, bevor sie mit der Stigmatisierung Franz von Assisis im 13. Jahrhundert als Wundmale der Passion Christi auf göttliche Auserwähltheit hinwiesen, was in den folgenden Jahrhunderten zu einer ganzen Reihe wunderbar Stigmatisierter führte. Im Seminar untersuchen wir, wie Stigmata im 20. und 21. Jahrhundert schliesslich aus einem christlichen Kontext herausgelöst und verändert werden: Der Stigmadiskurs verschiebt sich von der Religion in die Literatur, verhandelt werden nun Verletzbarkeit und Ausschlussmechanismen. Im Seminar soll das Stigma als multimediales Phänomen erschlossen werden, über das der Körper zum Zeichenträger wird, der in der Literatur zur Verhandlung von Passion, Krankheit und Herkunft in Dienst genommen wird. Das Seminar widmet sich in intensiven Close readings Texten, die vom Stigma erzählen, von Thomas Manns „Tod in Venedig“ über Anna Seghers „Legende von der Reue des Bischofs Jehan“ und der AIDS-Literatur der 1980er-Jahre bis hin zur Gegenwartsliteratur. Wir untersuchen, welche Erzählverfahren Texte über Stigmata nutzen, um die Verquickung von Körper und Zeichen darzustellen. Im Zentrum der Diskussionen stehen dabei u.a. Semiotik, Fiktionstheorie, Psychoanalyse, Gender und Queer Studies sowie Affect und Post Colonial Studies.

Event Empirical Legal Studies
120WM12 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 908

Description:

Business event contents:

?Our case material is a gold mine for scientific work. It has not been scientifically exploited. ... We should critically examine all the methods now used in any of the social sciences and having any useful degree of objectivity.? Herman Oliphant (1928)

What was called for in this quote almost 100 years ago is only gradually being realised in our time. Empirical legal research, i.e. data-based research on the origins and effects of law, is currently developing a great deal of momentum.

Typical questions that interest empirical legal researchers are for example: Do female judges decide differently than male judges? Can judgments of the European Court of Human Rights be predicted? What patterns of citation can be discerned in case law?

Among others, the lecture explores the following questions: What is empirical (legal) research and what is it used for? How do lawyers and courts use findings from empirical research? What are the phases of an empirical research project? How is legal data collected? What are the methods of analysis? How are empirical results communicated? What are the limits of empirical legal research?

The course is divided into a lecture part and an exercise part. In the exercise part, an introduction to (basic) quantitative methods and the freely available statistical software R is given. Students will practise applying simple statistical methods to legal data. Examples from a variety of legal fields are analysed.

Knowledge of statistics and R are not required.

Notes:

Knowledge of statistics and R are not required.

Course Materials: Information on the required materials will be available on OLAT.

Event Literaturgeschichte der skandinavischen Moderne
360-201a / Seminar / 2,169

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Seminar soll einen ersten Einstieg in die Literatur- und Kulturgeschichte der skandinavischen Moderne bieten. Dabei werden bewusst Themenschwerpunkte gesetzt, welche es erlauben, die Entwicklung der skandinavischen Literaturen von der Frühen Neuzeit bis zur Gegenwart exemplarisch nachzuverfolgen. Die Themen wurden so gewählt, dass sie einen Einblick in kulturelle Besonderheiten Skandinaviens bieten. Im Seminar werden wir uns dabei vor allem auf die Geschichte der skandinavischen Dramatik (u.a. Henrik Ibsen, August Stringberg und Jon Fosse) konzentrieren, die in der globalen Rezeption der skandinavischen Literatur eine entscheidende Rolle spielt.

Event Landschaft in den skandinavischen Literaturen

360-207a / Seminar / 3,547

Description:

Business event contents:

Die literarische Kultivierung von Landschaften spielt in der skandinavischen Literatur schon früh eine grosse Rolle. Im Seminar werden wir der Geschichte dieser Landschaftsschilderung an einigen ausgesuchten Beispielen (u.a. Linné, Welhaven, Blicher, Asbjørnsen und Moe, Strindberg, Lagerlöf, Heinesen, Ekman, Klougart) nachgehen, wobei wir uns insbesondere für die Frage interessieren werden, wie Landschaften semantisiert und ästhetisiert werden, d.h. welche Bedeutungen Landschaften erhalten und welche Relation zwischen Natur und Poetik besteht.

Course Materials: Eine Liste mit relevanter Primär- und Sekundärliteratur wird zu Beginn des Semesters verteilt.

Event Raumtheorien
360-207a / Course / 3,023

Description:

Business event contents:

Die Vorlesung soll einen Überblick über die einschlägigen Raummodelle geben, die in der Methoden- und Theoriediskussion der Literaturwissenschaften Anwendung fanden. Als Ausgangspunkt der Präsentation dient eine Auseinandersetzung mit dem spatial turn, der in den Kultur- und Sozialwissenschaften der 1990er Jahre ausgerufen wurde.

Dabei wurde Raum nicht mehr als gegebener abstrakter Behälter verstanden, sondern konsequent als kulturell erzeugte und nicht zuletzt sprachlich definierte Größen bestimmt. Mit der Aufmerksamkeit für Raum als ein kulturelles und historisch wandelbares Phänomen konnte man auf eine lange Tradition in den Kulturwissenschaften zurückgreifen, die in neuen Kontexten aktualisiert wurde. In der Vorlesung sollen Klassiker der kulturwissenschaftlich fundierten Raumkonzepte des 19. und 20. Jahrhunderts (u.a. Michail Bachtin, Gaston Bachelard, Ernst Cassirer, Juri Lotman) neben aktuelleren Aufsätzen und Sammelbänden behandelt werden.

Event Biology, Evolution, and Ecology of Marine Mammals
BIO340 / Course / 463

Description:

Business event contents:

Marine mammals are a diverse group of 129 species from different Orders that rely on aquatic habitats for their existence. This diverse group has evolved several specialised aquatic traits, which allowed it to adapt to the marine environment. Some marine mammal species have also evolved many traits found in humans and primates, such as large brain size, slow life history, and advance cognitive abilities, making them an ideal group for the study of convergent evolution. The course will cover these intriguing evolutionary aspects, but also address pressing conservation issues in the light of ever-increasing anthropogenic threats.

Notes:

The course will be accompanied by a field course (BIO341) in Shark Bay, Western Australia, with only a limited number of places available.

Students who would like to participate in the course will need to apply separately.

Event Lass uns töricht sein! Das Lalebuch und sein Anhang
360-118a / Seminar / 2,045

Description:

Business event contents:

Die Lalen stecken in einer Krise: Sie sind so weise, dass sie ständig ausser Haus sind, da ihr Rat an verschiedensten Herrscherhäusern gefragt ist. Deswegen verlottert ihr Eigenheim. Um ihre Haushaltung betreuen zu können und dem Ruin zu entkommen, beschliessen sie, sich fortan dumm zu stellen und als Narren zu leben: Eröffnet ist das Lalespiel. Mit Fokus auf das Lalebuch und den oftmals unbeachteten Anhang (1597) üben wir im Seminar literaturwissenschaftlich-mediävistisches Arbeiten an einem frühneuhochdeutschen Text. Wir vertiefen verschiedene Themen wie Weisheit/Narrheit, Lachen, Erzählen oder Ökonomie und arbeiten mit unterschiedlichen Herangehensweisen (Close Reading, mediologischer, praxeologischer, gattungstheoretischer oder intertextueller Zugang).

Course Materials: Bitte anschaffen: Das Lalebuch. Nach dem Druck von 1597 mit den Abweichungen des Schiltbürgerbuchs von 1598 und zwölf Holzschnitten von 1680. Hg. von Stefan Ertz. Stuttgart 1998. (Reclam)

Event Literatur und Kultur der Neuen Sachlichkeit
360-518a / Colloquium / 2,163

Description:

Business event contents:

Literatur, Kunst und Kultur zwischen den Weltkriegen sind durch Illusionslosigkeit und Abwehr von Ideologie und Pathos geprägt. „Verhaltenslehren der Kälte“ (so der Kulturwissenschaftler Helmut Lethen), ein neuer Realismus mit der Hinwendung zu Fakten, technischer, wissenschaftlicher und sozialer Modernisierung und ein Interesse für die Nahwelt des Alltags mit den ökonomischen, kulturellen und sozialen Realitäten der „kleinen“ Leute (Angestellte, Stenotypistinnen etc.) geben der Epoche ihre Signatur. In den Geschlechterbeziehungen zeigt sich die Modernisierung im Leitbild der „Neuen Frau“ sowie in der Ermöglichung weiblicher Autorschaft und ihrer Positionierung im literarischen Feld. Die Masse ist die prägende neue Erfahrung, der mit einer Massenkultur (z.B. Sportereignisse), einem „Kult der Zerstreuung“ (Siegfried Kracauer) und mit neuen Genres (Zeitroman, Reportage, kritisches Theater, Gebrauchslyrik) und literarisch-künstlerischen Verfahren begegnet wird. Leitmedium ist der Film, an den auch die Literatur mit Verfahren der Montage u.a. anschliesst. Aus heutiger Sicht erscheint die Epoche erstaunlich modern und hellichtig auch in der Analyse ihres eigenen Scheiterns ab 1929 mit dem Abdriften in die Katastrophe des Nationalsozialismus. Sie hat daher der/m heutigen Leser:in einiges an lehrreicher Aktualität zu bieten.

Event Regulation without Law? Law and the Technologies of the Twenty-First Century
90GL19-1 / Course / 3,042

Description:

Business event contents:

The rapid evolution of technology in the twenty-first century has changed our everyday experience. Every time we connect to the online world, we are faced with filtering technologies that determine what we can or cannot view. More and more we are tied into technology-driven regimes that tether us to manufacturers able to control our experience through locked-in systems and "updates", such as with the iPhone. Dependency-creating technologies are being developed, such as "terminator seeds" that self-destruct after one use, forcing farmers to buy seeds anew every season. These technologies exclude people in a manner analogous to state-enacted property regimes, or make them dependent on their manufacturers, raising issues of power balance. But, how is it that we should understand these technologies and the fact that they have law-like effects? Should we understand them as law or as part of the legal system? At the same time, how do these new technologies affect the way we conceive law? During the course we are going to take a primarily theoretical approach to reflect on the relationship between law and new technologies of the twenty-first century and how the concepts of "law" and "regulation" evolve under these new technological conditions.

Course Materials: Reading materials will be made available on the OLAT platform throughout the course.

Event Handels- und Wirtschaftsrecht II
90PM2-1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 1,602

Description:

Business event contents:

Die Vorlesung "Handels- und Wirtschaftsrecht II" behandelt das schweizerische Wettbewerbsrecht in einem weiteren Sinn, nämlich das Kartellrecht (KG und PüG), das Recht gegen den unlauteren Wettbewerb (UWG) und die Grundzüge des Immaterialgüterrechts. Thematisiert werden nicht nur das materielle Recht, sondern auch dessen praktische Anwendung auf behördlichem, zivilrechtlichem und strafrechtlichem Weg. Angesichts der fundamentalen Bedeutung des Wettbewerbsprinzips für ein marktwirtschaftliches System werden auch die ökonomischen Grundlagen, die verfassungsrechtlichen Bezüge und der internationale Rahmen gebührend berücksichtigt.

Notes:

Die Vorlesung wird begleitet durch ergänzende Unterstützungsangebote, die von Assistierenden gehalten werden. In diesen wird der in der Vorlesung vermittelte Stoff anhand von kleinen Beispielfällen veranschaulicht und die Studierenden können Fragen zum Vorlesungsstoff stellen. Das Angebot dient zur Vorbereitung auf die Prüfung im Handels- und Wirtschaftsrecht II. Es wird kein neuer Stoff vermittelt.

Event Postdigital religious Education
24SS017 / Seminar / 2,637

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Konzept der Postdigitalität suggeriert, dass digitale Technologien, Medien und das Internet der Dinge (IoT) inzwischen integraler Bestandteil unseres Alltags geworden sind. Diese Entwicklung wirft die Frage auf, welche Implikationen sich daraus für die religionsbezogene Bildung in einer postdigitalen Gesellschaft ergeben. Es gilt zu erkunden, welche Möglichkeiten sich eröffnen, welche Herausforderungen sich stellen, welche ethischen Überlegungen anzustellen sind und wie der religionsbezogene Unterricht in diesem neuen Kontext gestaltet und durchgeführt werden kann. Im Seminar soll eine detailliertere Betrachtung dieser Aspekte vorgenommen werden, um einen tieferen Einblick in die Umsetzung von postdigitaler religionsbezogener Pädagogik zu gewähren und einen praktischen, handlungsorientierten Zugang zu deren Umsetzung zu bieten.

Event Anarchist and Utopian Writing in China Across the Ages
280I514a / Seminar / 170

Description:

Business event contents:

Proceeding from fairly loose conceptualizations of "anarchism" and "utopia", the seminar will offer a panorama of philosophers, political and religious thinkers, literary authors and poets, from the Warring States to the Republican period, who were described by systematicizing scholars of later ages as "anarchists" or "utopianists". Most, if not all of such authors, are identifiable by their opposition to prevailing Confucian and/or Legalist discourses, their rebellion against state institutions such as the exam system, or by their interest in religious, ethnic or gender(ed) alterity. Each session will be devoted to one individual author and his/her most radical text.

Notes:

The course will take place in English, unless ALL participants prefer German.

Course Materials:

A detailed basic bibliography will be made available at the beginning of the term.
Useful introductory texts include

- Ames, Roger T. "Is Political Taoism Anarchism?" JCP 10 (1983)
- Bauer, Wolfgang. "Utopismus und Wirklichkeitssinn im alten und im neuen China." 1994.

Event International Organisations - Transforming the Organisations, Transforming Education
226I511a / Seminar / 431

Description:

Business event contents:

Today, international organisations take the role of a highly influential policy developers and policy brokers in global education. Together with philanthropic foundations, elite universities, private businesses and powerful governments, international organisations constitute a central cog in setting new standards, developing new metrics, and new policy goals for the future of education. Simultaneously, these organisations have a long history of constantly reinventing themselves to find new areas of activity and legitimacy. In this course, I will elucidate and explain the historical and contemporary roles of international organisations and their modus operandi in shaping global education and I will identify some key points of attention for how education might evolve in the future.

Event Musik und Dichtung im 17. Jh.

760I002a / Seminar / 2,535

Description:

Business event contents:

Das 17. Jahrhundert brachte im deutschsprachigen Raum eine Vielzahl neuer Entwicklungen, sowohl in der Dichtung wie in der Musik, mit sich.

Neue Gattungen (Oper, Kantate etc.) sowie regelpoetische Vorstellungen von Dichtern wie Martin Opitz oder Georg Philipp Harsdörffer hatten unmittelbaren Einfluss auf die weltliche und geistliche Musik. Von Heinrich Schütz über Andreas Hammerschmidt, Johann Rosenmüller bis zu Dietrich Buxtehude durchliefen dabei sowohl die Musik als auch die Poetik einen Wandel, der bis heute nachwirkt. Der Kurs untersucht die Verbindung zwischen Musik und deutschsprachiger Dichtung im 17. Jh. von Schütz bis Buxtehude. Über die Gattungen hinweg wird das Verhältnis zum Text unter den geänderten poetologischen und musikalischen Vorstellungen betrachtet. In den Vorträgen werden jeweils einzelne Werke und ihre textlich-musikalische Grundlage von mehr und weniger bekannten Dichtern und Komponisten näher beleuchtet.

Event Fundamental Probability for Finance (I+II) (L)
22MO0058 / Course / 1,309

Description:

Business event contents:

This 6 credit optional course covers fundamental concepts in probability theory, with some attention paid to concepts used in quantitative finance and risk management. After a quick review of basic set theory, basic calculus, and some basic combinatorics, we cover probability and conditioning, Bayes' Theorem, discrete and continuous random variables, conditional distributions, expectations, moments, sums, and transformations of (univariate and multivariate) random variables. We also cover the notion of fat-tailed distributions, and the basics of the financial risk measures Value-at-Risk and Expected Shortfall. Time permitting, we will also cover moment generating functions, and their use for sums of independent random variables, and the derivation of the main results of the multivariate Gaussian distribution. The course, though oriented towards Finance, is highly recommended for Master students in any quantitative field. Often, computer programs (Matlab) are shown and discussed in class for numerically computing solutions, but such material will not be tested.

Course Materials:

Fundamental Probability: A Computational Approach, by Marc Paolella.
Wiley, 2006.

While the book is not absolutely necessary because lecture notes will be given out, it is highly recommended for complimentary reading, associated material not covered in lecture, many more examples, and large sets of exercises (with solutions available). Further strongly suggested reading is Probability: A Lively Introduction, by Henk Tijms

Event Real Analysis I (L)
22MO0194 / Course / 3,027

Description:

Business event contents:

We will cover the standard topics in a one semester first course in real analysis appropriate for the intended audience, which in our case is students in our faculty, as opposed to the mathematics department (for which a higher level of presentation is used). The goal is to prepare the student for further study in courses that require this material, such as (post-introductory) probability theory, machine learning, microeconomics, mathematical finance, financial economics, and asset pricing. The list of topics is very standardized in nearly all textbooks at our intended level, and we will cover up to Riemann integration.

Course Materials: We use (the first several chapters of) the following two books: «Introduc to Real Analysis», by Manfred Stoll, 3rd edition, 2021; and Fitzpatrick, Advanced Calculus, 2nd edition, 2000.

Event Introduction to Measure Theory and Lebesgue Integration (L)
22MO0227 / Course / 1,774

Description:

Business event contents:

We will begin with a fast review of essential concepts from real analysis, such as compactness and complete metric spaces. Then we cover the standard order of topics, e.g., outer measure, countable subadditivity and the other usual properties of outer measure; then Lebesgue and Borel measure, measurable functions, and the univariate Lebesgue integral, and its major properties, e.g., the monotone convergence theorem and the dominated convergence theorem.

Course Materials:

The precise textbook(s) will be decided later. A good idea of the course contents can be obtained from inspecting the first four chapters of Christopher Heil's recent book Introduction to Real Analysis.

Event It's a (wo)man's world! Archäologische Perspektiven auf Frauen in Griechenland
6821101a / Course / 1,800

Description:

Business event contents:

Die materielle antike Kultur wirft zahlreiche Fragen auf, wenn es um die Erschliessung von Lebensrealitäten von Frauen in Griechenland geht. Können wir überhaupt einen "neutralen" Blick auf das tatsächliche Leben der Frauen gewinnen oder geben uns die archäologischen Zeugnisse vielmehr ganz unterschiedliche Zugänge zur Welt der Frauen - von der männlichen Vorstellung von Frauen in der Bilderwelt in der attischen Keramik bis hin zu gesellschaftlichen Erwartungen an Frauen, wie sie sich in Grablegungen äussern. In der Vorlesung soll im Vordergrund stehen, wie Befunde und Funde in verschiedenen Kontexten (Funerärkultur, Religion, Familie und Wohnen etc.) Antworten darauf zulassen.

226I507a / Seminar / 1,317

Description:

Business event contents:

Die digitale Transformation hat weitreichende Auswirkungen auf die Arbeitswelt und birgt eine Vielzahl von Herausforderungen. Beschäftigte und die erwerbsorientierte Bildung geraten unter Druck: Beschäftigte sollen digitale Kompetenzen aufbauen und fortlaufend anpassen, wenn sie auf dem Arbeitsmarkt bestehen wollen. Rufe einer umfassenden Neugestaltung der erwerbsbezogenen Bildung und nach der Entwicklung digitaler Kompetenzen werden dringlicher. Die Neugestaltung soll zugleich den dynamischen Kompetenzanforderungen der digitalen Arbeitswelt, neu entwickelten Lernformen und -ansätzen, sowie der zunehmenden Vernetzung der Arbeitsmärkte gerecht werden. Im ersten Teil des Seminars setzen wir uns anhand von internationalen Studien vertieft mit den Auswirkungen der digitalen Transformation auf die erwerbsbezogene Bildung auseinander und reflektieren die Forderungen nach deren grundlegenden Neugestaltung kritisch. Dabei richten wir unser spezielles Augenmerk auf die Rolle supranationaler Akteur*innen und die von ihnen entwickelten Instrumente zur Erfassung und Förderung digitaler Kompetenzen. Im zweiten Teil des Seminars erörtern wir, wie sich die Schweiz in Bezug auf internationale Entwicklungen und Initiativen im Bereich Digitalisierung und erwerbsbezogene Bildung positioniert und wie sie diese Positionierung unter Berücksichtigung ihres föderalistischen Systems ausgestaltet.

Notes:

Der Leistungsnachweis erfolgt durch eine schriftliche Dokumentation im Lernprozess sowie durch die aktive Teilnahme an Präsentationen und Diskussionen im Rahmen der Seminarsitzungen.

Event Guter Unterricht im Spannungsfeld zwischen gesellschaftlichen Anforderungen und Erkenntnissen
2261524a / Seminar / 1,593

Description:

Business event contents:

Im Seminar wird der Blick auf das System Bildung mit Fokus auf Unterrichtsentwicklung im Kontext des gesellschaftlichen Wandels gelegt. Welchen Einfluss auf den schulischen Unterricht haben z.B. die Standardisierung, Digitalisierung oder Inklusion? Ein besonderer Fokus liegt dabei auf der Frage, wie Erkenntnisse aus der empirischen Bildungsforschung - im Kontext dieser gesellschaftlichen Veränderungen - in der Praxis umgesetzt werden können (z.B. Förderung überfachlicher Kompetenzen, Individualisierung, Selbstorganisiertes Lernen)? Die Studierenden erarbeiten eine Einsicht in die spannende Komplexität der Entwicklung von Bildungsprozessen über alle Schulstufen. In den einzelnen Seminarsitzungen befassen wir uns mit dem Spannungsfeld zwischen gesellschaftlichen Anforderungen und empirischen Erkenntnissen aus der Unterrichtsforschung. Ein Fokus liegt dabei auf dem Vergleich und der Analyse von wissenschaftlichen Papers und Berichten. Die Studierenden können eigene Themenschwerpunkte auswählen und diese im Rahmen eines Vortrags oder einer Seminararbeit vertiefen. Zum Beispiel: Der gesellschaftliche Anspruch, das Bildungsangebot zu individualisieren und die Heterogenität der Lerngruppe im Unterricht zu berücksichtigen gegenüber den Anforderungen der Bildungsstandards. Oder: Bildungsgerechtigkeit versus Erreichung einer Abschlussquote von 95% auf der Sekundarstufe II. Als wichtige Quellen gelten neben Forschungsliteratur beispielsweise der Bildungsbericht Schweiz, die nationalen PISA-Berichte oder Positionspapiere von Economiesuisse oder LCH. Die folgenden Lernziele werden im Seminar fokussiert: Erwerb von Kenntnissen über die aktuellen Themenbereiche in der empirischen Unterrichtsforschung. Fähigkeit, die Erkenntnisse daraus im Kontext des gesellschaftlichen Wandels einerseits und der Schulpraxis andererseits zu analysieren und kritisch zu diskutieren. Formulieren von Antworten auf die Frage, inwiefern und wie empirisch unterstützte Änderungen im Unterrichtsalltag umgesetzt werden können. Entwicklung eines Verständnisses der Komplexität der Unterrichtsentwicklung.

Das Modul bietet eine Einführung in Geomorphologische Prozess welche unsere Landschaft prägen und wird durch Uebungen ergänzt. Neben allgemeinen Themen der Geomorphologie, fokussiert dieses Modul speziell auf glaziologische und periglaziale Prozesse sowie die dazugehörige quartäre Landschaftsentwicklung und die Prozesse werden anhand von 2 Exkursionen (Steingletscher und Uetliberg) veranschaulicht. Neben alpinen Landschaften werden auch Eisschilde sowie Eiszeitvergletscherungen behandelt.

Notes:

=> Die Vorlesung findet online statt!

- Die obligatorischen zwei 1-tägigen Exkursionen finden tendenziell am 2ten Wochenende nach Semesterbeginn (Steingletscher) und an einem Wochenende Ende Oktober (Uetliberg) statt. Die genauen Termine werden getrennt bekannt gegeben.
- Die Termine der Übungsstunden werden getrennt bekannt gegeben.
- Einzelne Teile der Veranstaltungen können auf Englisch durchgeführt werden.

Description:

Business event contents:

Lecture, practical exercises

Notes:

We will be working with R throughout the course, and we will assume that you have some knowledge of R when you come to this course: basics of reproducible data analysis in R; tidy data operations; spatial data types and operations; projections; plotting (spatial) data; finding help in the R help and on the internet (i.e. familiarity with packages "sf", "tidyverse", "ggplot2", "ggmap", "leaflet", "terra"). If you are a beginner of R, or if you have never used spatial data types and spatial packages of R, you are required to attend the self-study short course GEO 812 before the start of the fall semester. Contact the instructors if you have already used R, but are not sure regarding the equivalence of your previous knowledge.

Event Earth System Observations and Analyses
ESS417.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 780

Description:

Business event contents:

Course topics include the identification of research questions and the definition of experimental approaches to tackle these questions. The course introduces strategies to combine different observational data and process models (e.g. data quality assessment, data harmonization, local sensitivity analysis), and several analytical concepts to unravel spatial and temporal dynamics of earth system processes (e.g. variogram and time series analysis) and causality between environmental driver and processes (e.g. generalized additive models, anomaly detection).

Event Inhaltsregulierung auf Internet- Plattformen
2541107a / Seminar / 1,680

Description:

Business event contents:

Die Verbreitung des Internet eröffnet neue Möglichkeiten für freie Meinungsäußerung, führt aber auch zur Verbreitung von illegalen und gefährlichen Inhalten wie Kindesmissbrauchsdarstellung, Hassrede und Desinformation. Speziell die großen Internet-Plattformen wie Facebook und YouTube etablieren deshalb komplexe Systeme zur Inhaltsregulierung, um problematische Inhalte zu identifizieren, zu filtern, zu löschen, zu blocken und zu kuratieren (Inhaltsmoderation). Die Lehrveranstaltung beleuchtet die verschiedenen Formen der Inhaltsregulierung in ihrem sozialen, technischen und politischen Kontext. Berücksichtigt werden aktuelle Aspekte der Inhaltsregulierung wie Community Standards, upload- filter zum Urheberschutz und brisante Fallbeispiele wie das de- platforming von Donald Trump.

Event Religionen und religiöse Diskurse in der digitalen Öffentlichkeit
2541118a / Seminar / 3,050

Description:

Business event contents:

Missbrauchsskandale, Terroranschläge, Lifestyle oder Gedenktage - Religionen werden in einer breiten Vielfalt in der digitalen Öffentlichkeit dargestellt. Medien informieren dabei nicht nur, sie prägen auch das Verständnis von Religion in der Bevölkerung. Gleichzeitig ermöglicht Social Media neue Diskurse und Praktiken rund um Religion und Religiosität. Daher widmen wir uns in diesem Seminar den Fragen, welche Themen, welche Akteur:innen und welche Dynamiken in der digitalen Öffentlichkeit eine Rolle spielen und welche Chancen und Risiken für die Gesellschaft, Individuen und spezifische Religionsgemeinschaften daraus entstehen.

Event Strategic CEO Communication & Socio- Political Advocacy
254117a / Seminar / 3,436

Description:

Business event contents:

Business leaders are increasingly speaking out online on socio-political topics. In this research seminar on strategic CEO/executive communication on social media, students first formulate scientific questions, both independently and in teams, and then address them using social science theories and methods. Especially in the second half of the semester, each group of students will develop a research design and conduct a pretest. In doing so, the students apply all knowledge and competencies taught in the BA program (methodological, communicative, and organizational competencies).

Successful participation requires (1) a strong interest in empirical research, (2) self-management skills, (3) a team-oriented mindset, and (4) the willingness to participate in guided group project work.

Event Fitspiration in den sozialen Medien
2541119a / Seminar / 1,173

Description:

Business event contents:

In diesem Forschungsseminar werden die Studierenden das Thema "Fitspiration" in den sozialen Medien untersuchen. Der Begriff "Fitspiration" ist eine Verbindung von "fitness" und "inspiration" und entstand in den sozialen Medien, um dem "Thinspiration"-Trend entgegenzuwirken, der übermäßig dünne Körper verherrlicht. Der Zweck von "Fitspiration" ist die Förderung einer gesunden Lebensweise durch Bewegung und Ernährung, aber die Inhalte haben nicht immer eine positive Wirkung auf Nutzer:innen von sozialer Medien. Dieses Seminar befasst sich mit der Erstellung, der Rezeption und den Effekten von Fitspiration Inhalten auf sozialen Medien sowie den wichtigsten Variablen.

Event NT/ST Seminar: Karl Barth's exegesis of the Letter to the Romans
15SS037 / Seminar / 2,563

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Seminar behandelt die Römerbriefauslegung von Karl Barth im Ersten Römerbrief (1919) und Zweiten Römerbrief (1922) sowie in der deutlich weniger bekannten "Kurzen Erklärung" (1956). Aus systematisch-theologischer und exegetischer Sicht wird untersucht, wie Barth an den Text herangeht. Es geht also einerseits um hermeneutische und fundamentaltheologische Fragen: Wie kann man die "Sache" eines Textes verstehen? Welche Bedeutung hat die Bibel(auslegung) für die Theologie? Andererseits geht es aber auch um die konkrete Textarbeit: Wie kommt Barth zu seiner (manchmal überraschenden) Übersetzung? Wie rekonstruiert er die Semantik und Pragmatik des Textes?

Event KG Seminar: Zwingli and the Anabaptists
22SS036 / Seminar / 1,862

Description:

Business event contents:

Bald nachdem in Zürich durch die beiden Disputationen des Jahres 1523 die Weichen für die Entstehung einer evangelischen Kirche gestellt worden waren, kam es zu Friktionen im reformatorischen Lager. 1524 kam es zu einer Reihe von "Täufer-Disputationen": Versuchen, die innerreformatorische Opposition gegen Zwingli auf ähnliche Weise zu überwinden, wie dies mit der altgläubigen Opposition gelungen war. Das Seminar soll in der Analyse der im Zuge dieser Disputationen entstandenen Texte und unter Berücksichtigung des historischen und theologischen Kontexts exemplarisch den Umgang der jungen reformierten Kirche mit Dissent untersuchen.

Notes:

Teil des Seminars ist eine Archivexkursion. Vorausgesetzt wird die Bereitschaft zur Übernahme eines Referats und zur intensiven eigenständigen Beschäftigung mit historischen Quellen, ggfs. auch in lateinischer Sprache.

23LB000 / Exercise Group / 3,162

Description:

Business event contents:

Aus der im Laufe der Jahrhunderte stetig grösser gewordenen Masse der theologischen Texte stechen doch einige Texte besonders hervor. Sie haben die Theologie nicht nur ihrer Zeit geprägt oder sogar umgewälzt, sie prägen auch heute unser theologisches Nachdenken. Darum ist es gut, einige dieser Texte gleich zu Beginn des eigenen dogmatischen Nachdenkens an der Universität zu lesen und zu verstehen. Darum geht es in der Übung "Grundtexte der Dogmatik". Der inhaltliche Focus wird dabei auf Texten der 'neueren' Theologiegeschichte seit der Reformation liegen, auch gegenwärtige Beiträge sollen gemeinsam diskutiert werden. Neben dem Kennenlernen zentraler dogmatischer Texte ist es auch Ziel der Veranstaltung, Methoden zur ertragreicheren Lektüre einzuüben.

Die Suche nach dem Glück ist so alt wie die Menschheit. Menschen wollen glücklich sein. Aber worin Glück besteht und wie man es erreichen kann, wurde ganz unterschiedlich beantwortet. Im Seminar schauen wir uns wichtige theologische und philosophische Antworten an und diskutieren sie kritisch. Dabei wird auch reflektiert, was christlicher Glaube eigentlich mit Glück zu tun hat.

Event PT Course: Practical Theology and Cultural Witness
24LB000 / Seminar / 2,644

Description:

Business event contents:

Im Grundseminar PT geht es einerseits darum, die Subdisziplinen des Faches kennenzulernen. Andererseits bietet sich am Anfang des Studiums die Chance, anhand eines Leitbegriffs gemeinsam das (praktisch)- theologische Nachdenken einzuüben. In diesem Semester wollen wir es mit dem "Zeugnis" versuchen. Praktische Theologie bezieht sich auf Lebens- und Glaubenserfahrungen und versteht sich als Disziplin, die Lebenswirklichkeit und gelebte Religion möglichst weitherzig wahrnehmen und theologisch entschlüsseln kann (Bernd Schröder). Was heisst es, Glauben zu bezeugen? Wie ist der Bezug zur kirchlichen Praxis? Gefragt ist eine verantwortete "pastorale Praxis", die sich als eine spezifische Form der Zeugenschaft verstehen lässt.

Notes:

Die Literatur zum Kurs ist im Materialordner (OLAT) zu finden. Im Anschluss an den Grundkurs sind alle Studierenden eingeladen, den Evensong-Gottedienst (Beginn 18:00 Uhr) zu besuchen. Der Evensong wird im Rahmen einer Master-Übung von Studierenden vorbereitet und durchgeführt und findet während des Semester jeden Mittwochabend statt. Es besteht die Möglichkeit, sich im Anschluss an die Feier bei Brot, Wein und Käse im Foyer (oder im "Hirschli") über Gott und die Welt auszutauschen.

Event PT Liturgics Training: Evensong
24SU023 / Exercise Group / 2,636

Description:

Business event contents:

"Evensong" ist ein Abendgottesdienst in der anglikanischen Tradition. Es handelt sich um eine ausgebaute Vesper in der Nähe eines Colleges. Typisch sind der gepflegte Gesang. Wir orientieren uns an dieser Form, aber interpretieren sie sehr frei und erweitern sie zugleich. Wir hören eine kurze Predigt, lassen die Gemeinde singen und wagen den bewussten Stilbruch mit verschiedenen Traditionen: Gregorianik, Genfer Psalter und Worship. Ausserdem feiern wir ein schlichtes und schlankes Abendmahl. Wir üben uns also im Feiern und experimentieren mit Formen. Es geht einerseits darum, mit der klassischen Liturgie Vertrautheit zu gewinnen und andererseits darum, Neues zu erproben. Die angemeldeten Studierenden können im Rahmen des Moduls PT4 erste Schritte in Gottesdienstleitung, (öffentlich) Beten und Predigen üben. Selbstverständlich kann man die Übung, die jedes Semester stattfindet, auch als Wahlmodul buchen.

Notes:

Details zum Programm betreffend Orte und Zeiten inden Sie auf Olat. In der Regel feiern wir im Fraumünster und an einigen Abenden auch in der Wasserkirche.

Event Crafting Functional Organic Molecules
CHE322.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 602

Description:

Business event contents:

Organic molecules are not only attractive synthetic targets. They also have their function. Benzaldehyde binds into a biological receptor in our body, resulting in a scent of marzipan. cis-Retinal absorbs light and isomerizes to trans-retinal, initiating a signal that ultimately leads to vision. Polyacetylene possesses conjugated skeleton, through which an electron can be transported from one end to another, giving rise to conductivity. Rubrene emits yellow light in its excited state and can serve as a light-emitting diode (LED) material in displays. And the list goes on, and we can even think about artificial molecular motors, which can move in one direction or perform work when fueled. Where does molecular function originate? What structural features are responsible for a specific function? How do molecules interact with light, how do they interact with one another, and how can their subunits work in unison? How to design and craft a molecule that should perform a particular task? Join this course and find out! Together we will dive into the fascinating world of molecular design and craft functional organic molecules :-)

CHE328.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 1,518

Description:

Business event contents:

This course will give an insight into the field of green and sustainable chemistry. The qualitative aspects of sustainability will be discussed in the framework of the Twelve Principles of green chemistry. The course will also emphasize a quantitative approach, through the use of Life Cycle Assessment (LCA). We will use Simapro LCA software (<https://simapro.com/>) in the classroom to investigate a chemical process (all students are expected to bring their own laptop with internet access for connecting to the Simapro servers).

Event Environmentally Safe Chemicals
CHE711.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 922

Description:

Business event contents:

In this course, the overall goal is to explore the opportunities for developing chemicals and materials that are environmentally safe besides fulfilling the desired functionality, which is the major goal of many recent sustainability and green chemistry strategies at the Swiss, European and global level. To this end, you will first be introduced to the key concepts of environmental safety assessment for chemical products. Second, you will learn about databases, computational tools and experimental testing strategies that support the consideration of environmental safety at the early stage of research and development in chemical industry. Last, we will look at concrete "benign-by-design" examples and investigate success stories and challenges in implementing environmental safety considerations in the design of new chemicals and chemical products. You will deepen these concepts and experience the use of specific tools by developing your own case study as part of the course.

Event Revision course on ethics
23LM102 / Repetitorium / 3,166

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Repetitorium Ethik bietet Studierenden in der Endphase ihres Studiums einen abschliessenden Überblick über ethische Konzeptionen, Bereiche und Themen. Die Studierenden erarbeiten weitgehend eigenständig ethische Konzeptionen verschiedener Bereiche und wenden diese auf aktuelle, konkrete ethische Probleme an. Ziel ist es nicht nur einen Überblick über und Kenntnisse der theologischen Ethik zu erlangen, sondern dieses Wissen auch gezielt für eine eigene ethische Urteilsfindung einsetzen zu können und so Sprachfähigkeit in Konfrontation mit ethischen Dilemmata zu erlangen.

Notes:

Zum Nachweis der aktiven Teilnahme erarbeiten die Studierenden im Verlauf der Lehrveranstaltung ein Kurzreferat. Nach Ende der Lehrveranstaltung ist eine Essay in Form einer kurzen ethischen Urteilsfindung zu einem aktuellen Thema einzureichen. Die dafür nötigen Arbeitsschritte werden in der Lehrveranstaltung eingeübt. ---Während der Reading-Week vom 14.-18.10.2024 finden keine Lehrveranstaltungen statt.

Course Materials: Werden auf OLAT bereit gestellt.

Event Ethics at the end of life: Basics and theological perspectives
23SV120 / Course / 3,156

Description:

Business event contents:

Der Umgang mit ethischen Konfliktsituationen am Lebensende zählt zu den gesellschaftlich kontrovers diskutierten Themen. Die Fragen reichen von Problemen der klinischen Versorgung, über Fragen der Sterbehilfe bis hin zu Fragen der kulturellen und gesellschaftlichen Kommunikation über Sterben und Tod. Auch die evangelischen Kirchen, und hier insbesondere Pastor:innen, sind in diesen Debatten immer wieder gefordert, sich auf der Grundlage des christlichen Glaubens begründet zu positionieren: sowohl persönlich oder auch als gesellschaftliche Institutionen und Träger von Einrichtungen des Gesundheitswesens.

Die Vorlesung vermittelt grundlegende Kenntnisse über Positionen in der ethischen Diskussion über das Lebensende. Neben den Perspektiven der allgemeinen Medizin- und Bioethik, sowie der philosophischen Ethik, werden dabei insbesondere theologische Perspektiven thematisiert.

Event Queering Theology in theological ethics and church practice
23SS115 / Seminar / 3,152

Description:

Business event contents:

Der Begriff "Queering" bezeichnet die Umgestaltung etablierter theoretischer Deutungsmuster auf der Grundlage der Erfahrungen von queeren Personen: Wie muss Theologie neu gedacht werden, wenn wir die Lebenswirklichkeit queerer (homosexueller, transidenter, asexueller, polyamorer etc.) Menschen ernst nehmen? Wie lässt sich diese Lebenswirklichkeit theologisch reflektieren und wie müssen gesellschaftliche und kirchliche Normen und Ideale der Lebensführung neu gedacht werden, wenn wir diese Lebenswirklichkeit queerer Existenz ernst nehmen? Wie kann/muss sich kirchliche Praxis verändern und wie kann eine theologische Reflexion dieser veränderten Praxis aussehen?

Description:

Business event contents:

Der Grundkurs führt in eine wichtige Forschungspraxis der empirischen Religionswissenschaft ein: die Feldforschung. In der Feldforschung nähern wir uns dem Forschungsgegenstand durch Beobachten und Teilnehmen.

Wir dokumentieren was wir sehen und erleben mittels Feldnotizen, Foto-, Film- oder Tonaufnahmen. Feldforschung zeichnet sich durch ein hohes Mass an persönlicher Involviertheit aus. Sie zu betreiben fordert Reflexionsarbeit. Wie beeinflusst unsere Präsenz die Forschungssituation? Wie bewegen wir uns im Forschungsfeld, ohne die analytische Distanz aufzuheben? Wie übersetzen wir Beobachtungen in Sprache?

Event Das Deutsche Seminar - Ethnographischer Abgesang auf einen Lehr- und Lernort
360-105a / Seminar / 643

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Deutsche Seminar an der Schönberggasse 9 ist ein komplexer Schauplatz unterschiedlicher sozialer Praktiken, zu denen besonders prominent (aber nicht ausschliesslich) das Lernen und Lehren in eigens dafür gebauten und gestalteten Räumlichkeiten und diverse Formen informeller Geselligkeit gehören. In der Veranstaltung wollen wir diesen und weiteren sozialen Praktiken und ihren Orten und Räumen auf exemplarische Weise auf die Spur kommen. Dazu orientieren wir uns an der Tradition der "Ethnographie der Kommunikation", mit der linguistische und ethnographische Vorgehensweisen verbunden werden können. Gefragt sind Studierende, die sich darauf einlassen wollen, alltäglich vertraute ortsgebundene Phänomene mit distanziert ethnographischem Blick unter die Lupe zu nehmen.

Course Materials: Werden auf OLAT zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event Ethno Graphic - Graphic Novels in der empirischen Kulturwissenschaft
506I003a / Seminar / 982

Description:

Business event contents:

Dieser Kurs bietet eine interdisziplinäre Perspektive auf die Verbindung zwischen Illustration und empirischer Kulturforschung. Er richtet sich an Studierende der Populären Kulturen an der Universität Zürich sowie an Studierende des Studiengangs Nonfiction-Illustration an der Hochschule Luzern. In diesem Kurs werden Studierende verschiedene Formen der Illustration kennenlernen, insbesondere das grafische Storytelling, und deren Möglichkeiten als Kommunikationsmittel für Ergebnisse ethnografischer Forschung untersuchen. Durch die Kombination von theoretischen und angewandte Überlegungen aus den empirischen Kulturstudien und praktischen Illustrationstechniken werden Studierenden befähigt, komplexe soziokulturelle Phänomene kreativ zu untersuchen und zu vermitteln. Im Verlauf des Kurses werden die Studierenden kleine Forschungsprojekte durchführen, in denen sie ethnografische Methoden anwenden, um kulturelle Praktiken und Phänomene zu untersuchen. Die Ergebnisse und der Prozess werden in Form von Illustrationen präsentiert und in Texten reflektiert.

Event Kopräsenz. Über das natürliche Zuhause von Sprache
3601121a / Course / 2,042

Description:

Business event contents:

Wenig ist uns Menschen so gewohnt und so vertraut wie die Kopräsenz mit anderen Menschen. Es gehört zum Mensch-Sein dazu wie (für uns Heutige) die Sprache. Im Gespräch kommt beides zusammen, Kopräsenz und Sprache. Gespräche, d.h. Sprechen & Zuhören, gehören deshalb zu unserem Alltag so unverzichtbar wie Essen und Trinken, Schlafen und Träumen. Aber was ist das für eine soziale Wirklichkeit, die uns so vertraut und alltäglich ist, dass wir uns nur darüber Gedanken machen, wenn etwas schief läuft? Was steckt dahinter und worauf beruht diese spezifische Form menschlicher Kommunikation? Geht es uns womöglich wie den «jungen Fischen» bei David Foster Wallace, die sich auf die Frage n «Wasser» verduzt angucken und sich fragen, «was zur Hölle Wa als es der Begriff «Gespräch» suggeriert, ist dabei mehr als nur Sp Spiel. Was gesprochen und gehört wird, ist zweifellos ein wichtiger Bestandteil von Gesprächen, aber dass überhaupt gesprochen und gehört werden kann, kann selbst nicht durch Sprache gewährleistet werden. Als Kommunikationsmedium kann die Sprache selbst weder leben, denken noch kommunizieren. Dafür ist sie vielmehr auf biologische, kognitive und soziale Systeme angewiesen. In diesem Sinn kann man sagen, dass sich die Sprache im Falle des Gesprächs in einen grösseren sozialen Zusammenhang eingenistet hat, aus dem sie onto- wie phylogenetisch hervorgegangen ist und tagtäglich immer wieder hervorgeht und der selbst nicht auf Sprache angewiesen ist. Von diesem Zusammenhang handelt die Vorlesung, in der wir uns immer wieder mit konkreten Beispielen verständlich machen werden.

Notes:

Die Vorlesung gliedert sich in einen monologischen Teil, in dem theoretische und methodologische Konzepte vorgestellt werden, und in einen dialogischen Teil, in dem die Konzepte anhand empirischer Beispiele gemeinsam angewendet und vertieft werden.

Course Materials: Werden auf OLAT zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event Kinder- und Jugendmedien und Populärkultur: Theoretische Zugänge
506l406a / Course / 1,880

Description:

Business event contents:

Seit dem alle Superlative sprengenden Erfolg von Taylor Swift ist die Tatsache nicht mehr zu übersehen, dass die Schnittstelle zwischen Medien für Kinder- und Jugendliche und Pop zentral ist für die Populärkultur. Die Songs von Taylor Swift zitieren kinderliterarische Klassiker von Alice im Wunderland über Peter Pan bis zu John Green (der wiederum erklärter Swiftie ist). Gleichzeitig wird die Übergangszone zwischen Medien für ein jugendliches und für ein erwachsenes Publikum immer grösser und unübersichtlicher; Beispiele dafür finden sich auf TikTok unter dem #BookTok, wo Genres wie New Adult, New Romance und Dark Romance gefeiert werden und heftig debattiert wird, wer Dark Romance-Bücher wie Haunting bzw. Hunting Adeline lesen darf, oder auf Streaming Diensten, wo Serien wie Stranger Things oder Euphoria ebenfalls Fragen nach dem Zielpublikum aufwerfen. Das Phänomen an sich ist aber nicht neu. Mit den Kinder- und Hausmärchen der Brüder Grimm, die 1812/1815 erschienen, setzte eine Kultur der Mehrfachadressiertheit ein, die in Disney-Produktionen «für die ganze Familie» weiterlebt. Die Vorlesung zeigt, ausgehend von der Gegenwart mit Taylor Swift, #BookTok und Teenie-Serien eine historische und theoretische Perspektive auf – von der Romantik über Lewis Carroll und Hans Christian Andersen, Tim und Struppi und Herr der Ringe.

Event Melancholia and Dystopia
506I512a / Exercise Group / 769

Description:

Business event contents:

Der Lektürekurs untersucht Melancholie als kulturelles Phänomen in seinen sozialen und historischen Figurationen und als tief in Kunst und Literatur verankert. Melancholie wird dabei in unterschiedlichen Kontexten nicht nur als Belastung, sondern als Anstoß zur Reflexion und gestaltenden Intervention begriffen. Der Lektürekurs verfolgt u.a. eine Wissensgeschichte der Melancholie beginnend mit dem 18. Jahrhundert, in der die Melancholie psychologisiert und moralisiert und besonders in der Literatur der Empfindsamkeit ästhetisiert wird. Wir beschäftigen uns mit der Frage, wie Melancholie konzeptualisiert und erklärt, in welchen Wissensgebieten sie thematisiert und was über sie in diesen Zusammenhängen jeweils ausgehandelt wurde. Neben Freuds Konzept, der die Melancholie (1917) als eine Gegen-Form zur Trauerarbeit greift und Paul Gilroys „Postcolonial Melancholia“ (2004) spüren wir auch „weiblicher und queerer Melancholie“ in feministisch-theoretischen und queer-theoretischen Texten nach. Last but not least beschäftigen wir uns auch mit melancholischen Formationen auf dem popkulturellen und künstlerischen Feld und spüren einer möglichen gegenwärtigen Konjunktur und Verknüpfung von Melancholie und Dystopie nach.

Event Wissenschaftliches Schreiben
3601128a / Seminar / 3,801

Description:

Business event contents:

Wie kann ich Schritt für Schritt erfolgreich eine Hausarbeit verfassen? Was macht einen guten wissenschaftlichen Text aus? Welche Regeln sollten befolgt werden? - Diese drei Fragen stehen im Mittelpunkt des Seminars. Wir werden uns mit verschiedenen Einzeltätigkeiten (z.B. Einleiten, Gliedern, Argumentieren, Überarbeiten) innerhalb des Schreibprozesses befassen und theoretische Konzepte aus der Schreibforschung kennenlernen, repräsentative Beispiele diskutieren und die Theorie in Übungen in die Praxis umsetzen. Die Beschäftigung mit theoretischen und praktischen Teilen steht gleichermaßen im Zentrum jeder Stunde. Im Seminar werden wir auch Werkzeuge und Techniken der Literaturverwaltung kennenlernen und auf die Besonderheiten der Teildächer (ÄDL, NDL, Linguistik) eingehen. Die Studierenden sollen lernen, ihr Schreiben kritisch zu evaluieren und zu hinterfragen und gleichzeitig verstehen, welche Schritte zum Verfassen einer Hausarbeit notwendig sind.

Notes:

Das Seminar richtet sich an Studierende der Germanistik (Bachelor Deutsche Sprach- und Literaturwissenschaft). Auch Studierende, die gerade eine Seminar-/Abschlussarbeit verfassen, können das Seminar besuchen und dabei aktiv an ihrem Text arbeiten bzw. ihre Arbeit in die Diskussion einbringen.

Erwartet wird die regelmäßige Teilnahme und Mitarbeit sowie das Lösen von Übungsaufgaben in der Stunde. Über das Semester verteilt müssen drei schriftliche Prüfungsleistungen abgegeben werden.

Course Materials:

Im Seminar werden wir vor allem mit den folgenden beiden Werken arbeiten: Beinke, Christiane et al. (2016): Die Seminararbeit. Schreiben für den Leser.

3., völlig überarbeitete Auflage. München: UVK Verlagsgesellschaft mbH mit UVK/Lucius.

Lieberknecht, Agnes/May, Yomb (2019): Wissenschaftlich formulieren: ein Arbeitsbuch. Mit zahlreichen Übungen für Schreibkurse und Selbststudium. Tübingen: Narr Francke Attempto.

Event Künstliche Intelligenz und Digital History - Fluch oder Segen?
600-001a / Seminar / 2,068

Description:

Business event contents:

In diesem Seminar werden wir uns mit der Integration von Künstlicher Intelligenz (KI) in die Geschichtswissenschaft auseinandersetzen und die damit verbundenen methodologischen und historiographischen sowie ethischen Fragen untersuchen.

Die Anwendung von KI-Technologien in der Geschichtsforschung hat sowohl begeisterte Befürworter als auch skeptische Stimmen hervorgebracht. Wir werden kritisch reflektieren, wie KI-Systeme historische Daten analysieren, interpretieren und präsentieren können und welche Auswirkungen dies auf die Art und Weise hat, wie wir Geschichte verstehen und untersuchen. Im Fokus werden gängige KI-Tools (wie z.B. ChatGPT, Bing, Bart, DeepL, Perplexity, Midjourney, GitHub Copilot) stehen. Ziel ist es, ein vertieftes Verständnis für die Potenziale und Grenzen von KI in der Geschichtswissenschaft zu entwickeln und dabei auch Fragen der Datenethik zu berücksichtigen. Durch Diskussionen, Fallstudien und praktische Übungen werden wir die verschiedenen Perspektiven auf dieses komplexe Thema erkunden und reflektieren.

Lernziele werden u.a. sein:

- Verstehen, wie generative KI funktioniert (Technik dahinter) und mit welchen Daten sie trainiert wird.
- Wissen, was generative KI für die Geschichtswissenschaft leisten kann und wo ihre Grenzen liegen.
- Verstehen, wie wir die KI bestmöglich für unsere Zwecke nutzbar machen und anweisen ("Prompting") können. - u.v.m.

Ausgehend von aktuellen Use Cases aus der Forschung und Lehre werden Einsatzszenarien der KI besprochen, Möglichkeiten für Forschung und Lehre aufgezeigt, aber auch neue ethische Verantwortlichkeiten diskutiert, die mit diesen neuen Methoden einhergehen.

Notes:

Da im Seminar auch das selbstständige Ausprobieren von KI-Tools im Fokus stehen soll, wird dringend geraten, dass alle Teilnehmenden zu jeder Sitzung einen eigenen Laptop oder ein eigenes Tablet zur Verfügung haben. Der Leistungsnachweis setzt sich wie folgt zusammen: Beiträge und aktive Teilnahme an den praktischen Übungen während der Sitzungen (25%) sowie eine Seminararbeit (75%), die im Anschluss an die Lehrveranstaltung zu erbringen ist (zweisemestriges Modul).

Abgabetermin für die schriftliche Seminararbeit ist voraussichtlich der 01.06.25.

Ohly und Schreiber: Einleitung zu KI:Text, DeGruyt; <https://www.degruyter.com/document/doi/10.1515/9783111351490-002/html> Wir werden gemeinsam die aktuellste Forschung durch Lektüre und kritische Reflexion erarbeiten, um das Potenzial zu erkennen, die digitalen Geschichtswissenschaften als eigenes Feld weiterzuentwickeln (mit Schwerpunkt auf KI). Entsprechendes Material wird im Seminar zur Verfügung gestellt.

Ein grundsätzliches Interesse an digitalen Methoden und historischen Entwicklungen wird vorausgesetzt.

Event Gruppe 05: Kriminalpolitik und Rechtspraxis
600-007a / Seminar / 364

Description:

Business event contents:

Kriminalität wird hergestellt durch die Setzung von strafrechtlichen Normen und die Verfolgung und Sanktionierung von normabweichendem Verhalten. Je nach Zeit und Ort unterschied sich, welches Verhalten man als «kriminell» verstand und wie man diesem begegnen wollte.

In diesem Modul werden anhand von Beispielen aus der römischen Antike und der Moderne der politische Prozess der Gesetzgebung, die macht- und sicherheitspolitischen Absichten des Gesetzgebers, die dem Prozess zu Grunde liegenden Vorstellungen von Recht, Unrecht und Devianz, sowie die Praxis der Justizsysteme im Umgang mit kriminellem Verhalten untersucht.

Daneben führt das Proseminar 1 in Recherchetechniken, in den Umgang mit wissenschaftlicher Literatur sowie in die Vortragstechnik ein. Das Proseminar 2 führt in die Quellenarbeit und das Abfassen einer schriftlichen Hausarbeit ein.

Notes:

Proseminar 1: Mi 14:00-15:45

Proseminar 2: Fr 14:00-15:45

Leistungsnachweis:

Erwartet wird die aktive Teilnahme an den Sitzungen und die fristgerechte Erledigung der Leistungsnachweise. Als Leistungsnachweis wird im Proseminar 1 ein Referat mit Handout sowie ein schriftlicher Forschungsbericht verlangt.

Im Proseminar 2 wird als Leistungsnachweis ein schriftliches Konzept zu einer Proseminararbeit sowie eine schriftliche Proseminararbeit verlangt.

Das Modul gilt als bestanden, wenn die Leistungsnachweise in beiden Proseminaren als bestanden bewertet wurden.

Event Gruppe 08: Frauen in der Geschichtsschreibung
600-007a / Seminar / 367

Description:

Business event contents:

Lange handelte die universitäre Geschichtsschreibung hauptsächlich von grossen, weissen Männern. Erst in den 1970er-Jahren begannen feministische Historikerinnen – zunächst in den USA – unter dem Schlagwort «her-story» (analog zu «his-story») nach der Geschichte von Frauen zu fragen. Wo es zunächst darum ging, Wissenslücken über vergangene Frauenleben zu füllen, entwickelte die Frauen- und später Geschlechtergeschichte schon bald innovative methodische Ansätze, die vermeintlich natürliche Themen wie Geschlecht oder Sexualität zu historisieren versuchten.

Im Basismodul I spüren wir einerseits konkreten Geschichten von historischen Frauen nach. Dabei setzen wir im Westeuropa des Mittelalters (Proseminar I) sowie Südafrika im 19./20. Jahrhundert (Proseminar II) zwei geographische und zeitliche Schwerpunkte.

Uns interessiert das Handeln, die Erfahrungen und Lebensrealitäten von ganz unterschiedlichen Frauen in der Geschichte: von Königinnen und Äbtissinnen bis zu Bäuerinnen und Dienstmädchen im Mittelalter. Des Weiteren sollen Konzeptionen von Geschlecht und den hierfür zugeschriebenen Rollen in der Vormoderne; Sexualität, Feminismus und Frauenbewegungen sowie gesellschaftlicher Status der Frauen in wichtigen afrikanischen Epochen und Ereignissen wie missionarisches Engagement, Kolonialismus, Industrialisierung, Apartheid und postkolonialer Staataufbau kritisch analysiert werden. Andererseits wollen wir über die Aktualität und das kritische Potenzial einer Geschichtsschreibung von und über Frauen diskutieren.

Ausserdem bietet das Basismodul I eine Einführung in geschichtswissenschaftliche Arbeitsweisen: Eingeübt wird wissenschaftliches Vortragen und Recherchieren, das Arbeiten mit Forschungsliteratur und historischen Quellen sowie die Entwicklung von Fragestellungen und wissenschaftliches Schreiben.

Als Leistungsnachweis wird im Proseminar I mündliche Mitarbeit, ein kurzes Referat (ca. 10 Min.) mit einem Handout sowie ein Forschungsbericht verlangt.

Im Proseminar II wird als Leistungsnachweis mündliche Mitarbeit sowie das Verfassen einer Proseminararbeit (inkl. vorangehend zu erarbeitender Disposition!) verlangt.

Kleinere schriftliche Aufträge (z.B. ein Beitrag auf Olat) können ebenfalls gefordert werden.

Event Gruppe 12: Öffentlicher Raum und Öffentlichkeit
600-007a / Seminar / 371

Description:

Business event contents:

Wie nimmt die Gesellschaft den öffentlichen Raum wahr? Was heisst Wohnraum? Was ist die Stadt? Wo liegt die Privatsphäre und was ist die Öffentlichkeit?

In unserem Basismodul I werden diese und ähnliche Fragen im Zentrum stehen, die wir in beiden Proseminaren aus unterschiedlichen Perspektiven beleuchten wollen.

Das Proseminar 1 behandelt hauptsächlich das Verhältnis zwischen der Gesellschaft und Architektur/Städtebau. Durch die Einführung ins historische Arbeiten auf Deutsch sowie auf Englisch pflegt man den Umgang mit Fachliteratur und erlernt man die grundlegende Erkenntnis und Recherchetechniken fürs weitere Studium. Im Proseminar 2 steht die Arbeit mit historischem Quellenmaterial im Fokus. Konkret beschäftigen wir uns mit der Unterscheidung von Öffentlichkeit und Privatem in der griechischen Antike. Anhand literarischer Quellen, Inschriften und archäologischer Funde lernen wir die antike Welt kennen und üben das Aufwerfen wie Beantworten historischer Fragestellungen.

Im Laufe des Semesters werden wir gemeinsam ein Archiv oder ein Museum besuchen sowie Führungen in der Zentralbibliothek und in der Unibibliothek Geschichte durchführen. Erwartet wird die aktive Teilnahme an den Sitzungen und das fristgerechte Einreichen der geforderten Aufgaben beider Proseminare.

Notes:

Leistungsnachweis:

Als Leistungsnachweis wird im Proseminar 1 mündliche Mitarbeit, ein kurzes Referat (ca. 10 Min.) mit einem Handout sowie ein Forschungsbericht verlangt.

Leistungsnachweise im Proseminar 2 sind die aktive mündliche Mitarbeit, das Konzept der Proseminararbeit sowie die Proseminararbeit selbst.

Event Gruppe 13: Religion und Kultur: eine Geschichte der Religionspraxis
600-007a / Seminar / 372

Description:

Business event contents:

Lange Zeit bestimmte die Religion das Leben der Menschen in fast allen Bereichen ihres Lebens. Im Laufe der Geschichte wurde eine Vielzahl von Praktiken gepflegt und zu den verschiedensten Anlässen täglich Riten vollzogen. Diese religiösen Weltbilder unterschieden jedoch auch innerhalb der einzelnen Epochen zum Teil recht gravierend.

Im Proseminar 1 interessieren wir uns für die theoretischen Aspekte der Religionsgeschichte. Wir beschäftigen uns mit einer vorherrschenden historiographischen Tradition, die davon ausgeht, dass Kultur und Religion eng miteinander verbunden sind. Obwohl diese Annäherung der disziplinären Felder vorherrschend zu sein scheint, wird sie für die Untersuchung religiöser Praktiken nicht allgemein anerkannt.

Im Proseminar 2 soll ausgehend von den gesellschaftlichen Grundeinheiten Stadt, Familie, „Staat“ nach der Einschätzung sakraler Mächte und der Kommunikation mit diesen gefragt werden. Zu diesem Zweck, werden nicht nur verschiedene Kulte bis zur Entstehung des Christentums besprochen, sondern auch die Formen, Orte und Akteure der Kommunikation, d.h. Rituale, Heiligtümer und Priester in den Blick genommen.

Wie wurde Herrschaft im 8. und 9. Jahrhundert um- und durchgesetzt? Welche Möglichkeiten standen den Herrschern offen? Wie erreichten sie das «normale Volk»? Diese zentralen Fragen sollen anhand einschlägiger Quellentexte, die auch auf Deutsch zur Verfügung gestellt werden, und der Forschungsliteratur diskutiert werden.

Event Umstrittene Territorien: Kosovo und Nagorno Karabach
600-025a / Seminar / 3,632

Description:

Business event contents:

Der Status und die politische Zugehörigkeit von Kosovo und Nagorno Karabach sind seit Jahrzehnten zwischen serbischen und albanischen, beziehungsweise armenischen und aserbajdschanischen Bewohner:innen heftig umstritten.

Im Seminar gehen wir den Ursachen dieser Konflikte nach und fragen in vergleichender Perspektive nach Parallelen und Unterschieden und methodisch nach Nutzen und Risiken von Vergleichen für die Geschichtswissenschaft. Wir betrachten die Geschichte vom späten 19. bis ins frühe 21. Jahrhundert und erschliessen dabei punktuell die Geschichte des Balkans und des Südkaukasus. Wir fragen danach, welche Rolle das historische Erbe der osmanischen, persischen und russischen Zarenherrschaft spielte. Wie hingen die beiden Konflikte und die Entwicklung des Nationalismus in diesen Regionen zusammen? Wie wirkte sich die Herrschaft Jugoslawiens beziehungsweise der Sowjetunion aus und mit welchen Lösungsansätzen versuchten sie die Lage zu befrieden? Warum eskalierten die Gegensätze mit dem Zerfall dieser Staaten? Weshalb entzündete sich derart heftiger Streit gerade um diese peripheren Territorien, deren Kontrolle zur nationalen Schicksalsfrage hochstilisiert und um die mehrere Kriege geführt wurden? Welche Dynamiken führten zur Auseinandersetzung, was für eine Rolle spielten territoriale und ethnische Fragen? Wer waren die Hauptakteure der Konflikte und welche Interessen standen dahinter? Was für Erkenntnisse lassen sich aus dem Vergleich der beiden Fallbeispiele gewinnen, wie fruchtbar ist der Vergleich als historische Methode?

390I020a / Course / 3,761

Description:

Business event contents:

Les romans arthuriens en ancien et moyen français forment un univers assez cohérent, ce qui est la condition nécessaire à leur fonctionnement : Arthur apparaît partout, la reine est toujours Guenièvre, son épée s'appelle toujours Excalibur. Toutefois, au fil des siècles, certains personnages reçoivent une « backstory » et certains événements sont racontés plus en détail. Souvent, toutefois, en comparant les données récentes à la tradition plus ancienne, on constate des distorsions.

C'est comme si certains textes proposaient une réalité alternative où l'histoire arthurienne se déroule différemment. Dans ce cours, on présentera d'abord la doxa concernant quelques personnages, lieux et objets de la légende arthurienne, avant d'examiner leur devenir à travers la tradition littéraire. Le but est de présenter à la fois le corpus de romans arthuriens en circulation durant la période médiévale et les personnages qui les peuplent.

Course Materials: Un dossier de textes sera accessible sur Olat.

Event Field research: Religious objects athome and in the museum
57SS001 / Block Course / 1,148

Description:

Business event contents:

Wie kann man religiöse Praxis in der Gesellschaft untersuchen, ohne sich nur auf Worte zu beschränken? Dieser Frage widmet sich der Kurs auf Basis eines multimethodischen Ansatzes: Feldforschung und Museumsarbeit werden forschungspraktisch kombiniert. Im Rahmen von Kooperationen entwickeln Studierende ihr eigenes Projekt, das sich auf die Verwendung religiöser Objekte zu Hause und in Museen konzentriert. Dabei wird die künstliche Grenze zwischen Geschichte und Ethnographie überschritten und mit Spezialisten Schweizer Museen und Organisationen zusammengearbeitet.

Die Veranstaltung wird als Blockseminar in hybrider Form angeboten, sodass eine digitale Teilnahme an den regulären Terminen möglich ist. Der Besuch eines vorhergegangenen Feldforschungsseminars ist nicht obligatorisch, es wird aber auf die Möglichkeit der Teilnahme eines parallel stattfindenden Kurses hingewiesen.

Event Le voyage en poésie: 16e - 21e siècles

390I021a / Course / 2,112

Description:

Business event contents:

Le voyage est l'un des thèmes favoris de la poésie. Or les poètes - hommes et femmes - ne méditent pas seulement sur le voyage, ils nous dépayser et nous font voyager dans des territoires, réels ou imaginaires; ils offrent des visions de l'ailleurs qui nous permettent d'interroger, de changer ou de fuir notre vie ordinaire. Depuis la Renaissance jusqu'à aujourd'hui, en passant par l'époque romanti le Parnasse, par les divers mouvements d'avant-garde et d'engagement artistique, nous nous intéresserons à des voix poétiques qui ont élargi la perception de notre lien avec l'univers, en revivifiant en même temps la langue. Versifiée, libre ou en prose, la poésie est le lieu privilégié pour explorer le rapport entre les mots et les choses, entre le sens et le non-sens, pour révéler les diverses dimensions de l'existence humaine.

Course Materials:

Une petite anthologie de la poésie française du XVIe au XXIe siècle sera mise à la disposition des participant.e.s. Elle comprendra - entre autres - des poèmes :

- de La Pléiade (Ronsard, Du Bellay) et de Louise Labé
- des Romantiques (Lamartine, Hugo, Desbordes-Valmore)
- de Baudelaire, Rimbaud, Mallarmé
- des avant-gardes (Apollinaire, Breton, Éluard, Fondane)
- de Cendrars et Michaux
- de Ramuz et Jaccottet
- de Sylviane Dupuis

410I038a / Exercise Group / 3,209

Description:

Business event contents:

Lo scopo generale del corso è di offrire agli studenti e alle studentesse di BA e di MA un miglioramento delle loro capacità di comprensione e di scrittura dei temi in linguistica italiana e generale.

Tramite letture ed esercitazioni pratiche si familiarizzerà con la terminologia scientifica, requisito fondamentale per superare con profitto i seminari di linguistica italiana che prevedono la stesura di lavori scritti e una eventuale redazione di tesi in linguistica.

In particolare ci si concentrerà sulla metodologia dell'elaborazione di un testo scientifico (abstract, inquadramento teorico, raccolta e sistematizzazione dei dati, conclusioni, bibliografia), indispensabile in ambito accademico e non solo. Inoltre, il corso offrirà un approfondimento sulle glosse di Lipsia, metodo internazionale per la descrizione grammaticale.

Course Materials: I materiali e gli esercizi verranno distribuiti a lezione di volta in volta.
Le glosse di Lipsia possono essere consultate al seguente link: <https://www.eva.mpg.de/lingua/pdf/Glossing-Rules.pdf>

Event Theories of Fiction and Fictionality
390I022a / Course / 3,549

Description:

Business event contents:

Since Plato and Aristotle, there has been theoretical reflection on the status of literary fiction. Fiction has often been criticised for being untruthful and therefore of little value from a philosophical point of view. In contemporary theories of fiction, however, there are positions that accord particular value to fiction as a mode of knowledge. In this lecture, we will review some important theories of fiction (Searle, Walton, Iser, Warning, Genette, Cohn, Schaeffer, etc.), studying their logics and theoretical premises. In addition, we will present literary texts in which the problem of fiction is discussed, analysed and even staged (Ariosto, Cervantes, Sterne, Diderot, Carlyle, Pirandello, Proust, Gide, Borges, etc.). This dual approach will enable us to grasp the fundamental importance of fiction for literary communication and our culture in general.

Event La Suite "historique" du "Merlin". Problèmes d'édition
390I573a / Seminar / 2,072

Description:

Business event contents:

La Suite Vulgate du Merlin, appelée parfois aussi Suite « historique » pour la distinguer des autres suites du Merlin, est transmis par une cinquantaine de manuscrits et fragments et quelques imprimés. Dans ce cours, on apprendra à passer du manuscrit médiéval et du livre imprimé ancien à la l'édition scientifique, opération fondamentale quand on travaille sur des textes du Moyen Age. On apprendra à déchiffrer les manuscrits et à procéder à l'élaboration de toutes les composantes d' édition. Surtout, on réfléchira aussi aux implications scientifiques de nos choix. Une comparaison de la version octosyllabique et de l'imprimé permettra finalement de mettre en évidence aussi les enjeux que comporte la transmission textuelle à l'époque prémoderne.

Course Materials: Un dossier de textes sera accessible sur Olat.

Event Gesprächslinguistik und Medizin
360-546a / Seminar / 1,470

Description:

Business event contents:

In medizinischen Kontexten spielt Kommunikation eine zentrale Rolle. Das Arzt-Patienten-Gespräch ist Dreh- und Angelpunkt medizinischer Diagnostik und Behandlung, und in der Psychotherapie wird dem Reden gar eine heilende Wirkung zugesprochen. Entsprechend gehören Gespräche in medizinischen Kontexten auch seit Längerem zu den zentralen Forschungsgebieten der Angewandten (Gesprächs-)Linguistik.

Wie funktionieren Arzt-Patienten-Gespräche? Welche sprachlichen Handlungen finden statt, wie werden beispielsweise Entscheidungen getroffen? Mit welchen kommunikativen Mitteln werden genuin subjektive Erfahrungen wie Schmerzen oder die Erfahrung psychischer Erkrankung im Gespräch intersubjektiv geteilt? Und lassen sich mithilfe interaktions-/gesprächslinguistischer Methoden Krankheiten diagnostizieren? Mit solchen und weiteren Fragen wollen wir uns im Seminar näher befassen - in der Auseinandersetzung mit zugehörigen Theorien, Methoden und Studien wie auch in der Durchführung eigener empirischer Analysen.

Geplant ist dazu eine Zusammenarbeit mit aktuellen interdisziplinären Projekten aus dem Kompetenzzentrum «Language&Medicine Zurich» (<https://www.language-and-medicine.uzh.ch/de.html>).

Event Political Participation and Digital Democracies
254I603a / Seminar / 3,321

Description:

Business event contents:

This course examines the impact of political participation-such as online protests, crowdfunding for political causes, and the dissemination of political discourse on social platforms-on the traditional political structures of countries. It engages with questions central to understanding the digital political landscape: How does digital activism redefine civic engagement in democracies? What are the various manifestations of political participation, and how do they contribute to political transformation? What motivates individuals to engage in political activities in online spaces, and how does this relate to offline activism? Furthermore, we will analyze the efficacy of social movements in a digital sphere, investigate the relationship between digital and non-digital forms of political participation, and consider the governmental adaptations necessary to accommodate emerging forms of civic input.

Event Demokratie im digitalen Zeitalter: Wie die Internetnutzung politische Öffentlichkeit transformiert
2541120a / Seminar / 1,243

Description:

Business event contents:

Demokratie ist auf verlässliche Informationen angewiesen, auf die sich der politische Diskurs abstützen kann. Öffentlichkeit als gesellschaftliches Vermittlungssystem wurde hauptsächlich durch journalistische Medien und deren Inhalte geprägt. Neue digitale Angebote umgehen das journalistische Gatekeeping mit weitreichenden Folgen für die Öffentlichkeit. Sich widersprechende Meldungen aus unbekanntem Quellen verunsichern Rezipient:innen, das Vertrauen in Medien, aber auch in politische Akteure und Abläufe sinkt. Mediennutzung erfolgt zunehmend mobil und online - journalistische Medien, Parteien und Behörden passen ihre Kommunikation an und diversifizieren ihre Kommunikationskanäle - mit Folgen für die Demokratie.

Event Didaktik des Immersionsunterrichts an Maturitätsschulen (Englisch)
090Imm / Seminar / 700

Description:

Business event contents:

The course's aim is to provide a basis for future CLIL teachers in order to reflect upon and to implement the methodological and pedagogical dimensions of teaching a subject immersively in English. Participants will get an insight into the basics of CLIL, working on theoretical as well as practical materials, to be prepared for the challenge of having to teach a subject in a - presumably - foreign language. Apart from theoretical inputs and practical work, there will be guest speakers as well as opportunities to talk to immersion students. Course participants are expected to be active in class and in groupwork. During the course they will be required to produce their own hands-on materials, written assignments and will have to be willing to reflect critically upon them. In addition to this, participants are expected to do a set number of hospitation and trial lessons.

Event Infamie und Unvernunft. Fallgeschichten im 18. Jahrhundert
360-117a / Seminar / 1,670

Description:

Business event contents:

Die Aufklärung muss, nach einem Ausspruch des Philosophen Hans Blumenberg, selbst die Dunkelheit definieren, aus der sie herauszuführen sich anmasst. Das sog. Zeitalter des Lichts hat das mit einigem Aufwand getan und in wissenschaftlichen Abhandlungen und literarischen Erzählungen die dunklen Regionen des Wahnsinns, des Verbrechens oder der sexuellen Devianz zu kartieren unternommen. Wir verdanken den Bemühungen um die Vernunft damit ein ganzes Arsenal an Geschichten der Unvernunft, der Infamie und der vermeintlichen Anomalität, dem sich das Seminar in Begleitung zur Vorlesung widmen wird. Im Zentrum steht dabei das populäre Format der "Fallgeschichte", in der literarische Erzählverfahren, wissenschaftliches Erkenntnisinteresse juristische Urteilskraft und öffentlichkeitswirksame Sensationslust zusammenwirken.

Zielpunkt der Lektüren wird Schillers kanonischer "Verbrecher aus verlorener Ehre" (1786) sein, dem wir uns über eine Reihe ihm vorausgehender Fallgeschichten (etwa aus Spiess' "Biographien der Selbstmörder" oder aus Moritz "Magazin zur Erfahrungsseelenkunde") sowie im Gespräch mit theoretischen Positionen (insbes. Foucaults "Das Leben der infamen Menschen") nähern werden.

Event Von der Lexik zur Pragmatik. Deutschland, Österreich und die Schweiz im Vergleich
360-105a / Seminar / 3,708

Description:

Business event contents:

In der Variationslinguistik gibt es zu der Frage, welche Unterschiede sich im Sprachgebrauch zeigen und inwieweit diese mit aussersprachlichen Variablen korrelieren (z.B. Alter oder regionale Herkunft der Sprechenden), bereits zahlreiche Publikationen. Ein Schwerpunkt dieser Arbeiten (von denen wir im Seminar einige in den Blick nehmen werden) liegt auf der diatopischen Ebene.

Dazu zählen sowohl Arbeiten aus der Dialektforschung als auch solche, die mit der regionalen Variation in der Standardsprache befasst sind. Was die Standardsprache betrifft, so erkennt man etwa bei der Durchsicht von Zeitungen aus Deutschland, Österreich und der Schweiz regionale Unterschiede - und zwar sowohl in der Lexik (vgl. Feldsalat/Vogersalat/Nüsslisalat) als auch in der Grammatik (vgl. vergessen/vergessen auf). Im Seminar steht zunächst die lexikalisch-diatopische Variation im Zentrum, dann wird der Bogen von der Lexik über die Grammatik bis hin zur diatopischen Variation im Kommunikationsverhalten geschlagen (z.B. im Begrüssen und Verabschieden, in der Du- und Sie-Anrede, in der Verwendung von Höflichkeitsformeln). Das Seminar bietet einen Überblick über die aktuelle Forschung, lässt aber auch Raum für eigene Beobachtungsstudien.

Event Frau Minnes Abgesang. Die Rhetorisierung höfischer Liebe im Spätmittelalter (13.- 15. Jh.)
360-118a / Seminar / 1,303

Description:

Business event contents:

Was ist Liebe? Und wie liebt man gut und richtig? Mit diesen Fragen beschäftigt sich eine der populärsten Gattungen der spätmittelalterlichen Literatur: die sog. Minnereden. Wie der Begriff besagt, wird in diesen Texten über höfische Liebe geredet -- und zwar immer wieder von Neuem. Dabei geht es in diesen Texten weniger darum, Neues über das Wesen und Wirken der 'minne' aus als darum, das bestehende literarische Wissen in immer neuen Kombinationen und Rahmungen zur Darstellung zu bringen. Im Seminar zeichnen wir entlang unserer Lektüren nach, wie sich zwischen dem 13. und 16. Jh. 'Minnerede' als ausgesprochen produktives rhetorisches System verfestigt und eine eigene Topik sowie spezifische Ordnungsmodelle, Darstellungsmittel und Sprecherrollen ausgebildet. Den produktiven Dynamiken dieses Systems nähern wir uns über Ansätzen aus der Rhetorikforschung, der Literatursoziologie sowie der Kommunikationswissenschaft.

Event Antike Rechtsgeschichte

90GL1-2 / Course / 203

Description:

Business event contents:

An den meisten europäischen Universitäten ist es üblich, die Jurastudierenden nicht nur in den eigenen Rechtssystemen, sondern ebenso in deren historische Grundlagen zu unterrichten. Dies lässt sich einfach begründen: Das Rechtswesen ist ein Produkt der Geschichte und lässt sich daher besser im Lichte seiner jeweiligen Historizität verstehen. Im Falle der meisten kontinentalen Rechtssysteme reicht diese Geschichte über die Neuzeit und das Mittelalter bis zum römischen Recht zurück.

Das römische Recht wird daher in Europa als historische Grundlage unserer modernen Rechtssysteme studiert, wobei der Schwerpunkt darin liegt zu ergründen, inwiefern dieses in den heutigen Rechtssystemen noch vorhanden ist und wie es angewandt wird. Dies führt zu einer vertiefenden Befassung mit unserer eigenen Rechtstradition und in die diese artikulierenden rechtlichen Kategorien und Strukturen. Die Gefahr besteht darin, dass wir sie nicht als kontingent sehen, und daher nicht als eine Möglichkeit unter vielen erkennen, die unser rechtliches Denken tatsächlich prägt.

Rechtsvergleiche, wie sie üblicherweise in Form von Vergleichen innerhalb der heute geltenden Rechtssysteme praktiziert wird, erweitert diesen Horizont nur wenig: In einer weitgehend globalisierten Welt ist der Einfluss des westlichen Rechtswesens und damit mehr oder weniger direkt der westlichen Rechtskategorien, die letztlich auf dem römischen Recht beruhen, allgegenwärtig.

In diesem Sinne liegt in den antiken Rechtstraditionen, die der römischen vorausgehen -die mesopotamische, die ägyptische, die griechische- und daher nicht von ihr beeinflusst sind, eine hervorragende Gelegenheit, unsere Rechtstradition von aussen zu betrachten und sich ihrer spezifischen Züge bewusst zu werden. Der Kurs "Antike Rechtsgeschichte" bietet eine Einführung in diese "anderen" Rechtstraditionen anhand ihrer eigenen schriftlichen Quellen: von den Keilschrifttafeln und den ägyptischen Hieroglyphen bis zu den enormen Mengen an erhaltenen Papyri aus Ägypten und dem Nahen Osten, über einen Zeitraum von vier Jahrtausenden, von ca. 3000 v. Chr. bis zu den ersten Jahrhunderten unserer Zeitrechnung.

Ein grosser Teil dieses Materials besteht aus privaten Urkunden, durch die wir einen Einblick in das tatsächliche Rechtsleben der Bevölkerung und die rechtlichen Vorstellungen gewinnen, die diesem zugrunde lagen. In dieser Form gestaltet sich der Kurs weitgehend als Workshop, in dem vermittelt wird, wie Urkunden aus der Rechtspraxis zu interpretieren sind. Und da es sich um Rechtstraditionen aus vorrömischer Zeit handelt, erlaubt uns dieses Studium, das römische Recht und damit auch unsere eigene Rechtstradition in ihrer wahren historischen Perspektive zu erfassen.

Notes:

Keine Vorkenntnisse in Antikem Recht inkl. Römischem Recht nötig. Es wird mit übersetzten Quellen gearbeitet, keine Kenntnisse Antiker Sprachen nötig.

Course Materials: Die wesentlichen Quellentexte und weitere Materialien werden ab Beginn der Veranstaltung auf der Homepage des Lehrstuhls kontinuierlich publiziert.

Event Recht und Religion
90GL16-1 / Course / 3,032

Description:

Business event contents:

Religionen waren und sind prägende Elemente sozialer Ordnungen. Es stellt sich in unserer Rechtsordnung deshalb die Frage, wie religiöse Gruppen, Überzeugungen und Praktiken rechtlich bewertet werden sollen. Die Vorlesung zeigt die völkerrechtlichen, verfassungsrechtlichen und gesetzlichen Grundlagen für den Umgang mit Religionen und widmet sich dem Verhältnis von staatlichem Recht und Religion - auch in rechtsvergleichender Perspektive. Der Blick richtet sich aber nicht nur auf die Positionen von Religionen und ihren Rechten im staatlichen Recht. Religiöse Traditionen werden immer wieder auch im Zusammenhang von religiösen Rechtsbildungen wirksam, führen doch religiöse Überzeugungen häufig zur Entstehung von Rechtsregeln insbesondere für die Angehörigen religiöser Gruppen. Daher wird auch das Thema des religiösen Rechts in der Vorlesung in den Blick genommen. Dazu wird etwa das Recht der christlichen und der islamischen Religion von seinen Grundlagen her betrachtet.

Event Introduction au droit français
120WM17 / Course / 1,758

Description:

Business event contents:

Le droit français, bien qu'appartenant à la famille de droit civil, présente nombreuses caractéristiques qui lui confèrent une place singulière en Europe.

Au XIXe siècle, la France a joué un rôle majeur dans le mouvement de codification, influençant ainsi de nombreux pays dont la Suisse, la Belgique, le Brésil, le Québec ou encore l'Égypte. Plus de 200 ans après la promulgation du Code civil napoléonien, le droit français a entrepris une série de réformes pour renouer avec cette tradition, comme en témoigne l'Ordonnance du 10 fé 2016 actualisant entièrement le droit des contrats.

Le cours offre une présentation générale de l'organisation juridictionnelle française, (en réservant une place toute particulière à la Cour de cassation), ainsi que de deux piliers du droit français (le droit des obligations et la théorie du patrimoine).

Ainsi, seront notamment abordés le droit des contrats et de la responsabilité civile, la question de la propriété ou encore la protection du patrimoine dans l'exercice d'une activité professionnelle.

Course Materials: Présentation keynote, plan de cours, fascicule (articles de législation, extraits de doctrine, jurisprudences). Tous les documents seront publiés en ligne.

Event Futures Literacy - Who cares? Bildungstheoretische Anfragen
226I512a / Seminar / 1,314

Description:

Business event contents:

"Futures Literacy" - Zukunftskompetenz - ist, laut Unesco, nötig, um die drängenden globalen Herausforderungen bewältigen zu können. Es ist die Sorge um das Fortbestehen der Welt, das in diesem Postulat zum Ausdruck kommt und sich direkt an die Bildungsinstitutionen richtet. Dieser Appell ist die Ausgangslage des Seminars, in dem die Frage nach der "Sorge um die Welt" im Zentrum steht. Die Vielfalt semantischer Konnotationen und Ableitungen wie Sorgfalt, Sorgsamkeit, Vorsorge, Fürsorge oder Versorgung deuten darauf hin, wie tief die Sorge als Antrieb und Folge in soziale Verhältnisse eingebettet ist. Im Seminar wird diese inhärente und historisch gewachsene Vielfalt der Zugänge über ausgewählte Texte erarbeitet und diskutiert. Es soll ein Verständnis darüber gewonnen werden, wie sich die Sorge als existentielle Grundkonstante des Menschen manifestiert, wie Sorge begrenzend als Fürsorge institutionalisiert wird und gleichzeitig entgrenzend die vorsorgende Gestaltung einer als unsicher erlebten Zukunft in die Verantwortung des Einzelnen legt. Damit ergeben sich drei Dimensionen: die Sorge um sich, die Sorge um den Anderen und die Sorge um die Welt. Bestimmungsversuche von Praxen des Sorgens als Beziehung zwischen einem sorgenden Selbst und einem „Worum“ der Sorge sollen erarbeitet werden. Diese kursorische Annäherung versucht der theoretischen wie lebensweltlichen Vielfalt der Dimensionen der Sorge gerecht zu werden und sie im Hinblick auf bildungstheoretische und pädagogische Fragestellungen zu reflektieren.

Notes:

Es handelt sich um ein Projektseminar. Das Diskurs- und Forschungsfeld ist noch relativ wenig konsolidiert und wird in der Veranstaltung gemeinsam exploriert. Es wird erwartet, dass sich die Teilnehmer:innen rege an der Diskussion beteiligen und bereit sind Zeit in Recherche- und Lektürearbeit zu investieren.

Event Scientific programming for neuroeconomic experiments (S)
DOEC0267 / Doktorandenseminar / 3,207

Description:

Business event contents:

Collection, analysis and visualisation of neuroeconomic data crucially depend on proficiency in dedicated computer programmes and programming environments (e.g., MATLAB, COGENT, Psychtoolbox). This course is aimed at researchers and students with little expertise in these areas, but will also contain valuable tips for students who already have some programming experience. The course will provide a hands-on introduction to and exercises with this software and programming environment, which are necessary for conducting and publishing neuroeconomic experiments. The first part of the course will provide a general introduction to programming in MATLAB, ranging from basic data conversion to more sophisticated data analysis and visualisation in publication-ready figures. The second part will focus on programming principles that will facilitate efficient use of MATLAB for all aspects of scientific work. The third part will introduce the MATLAB toolboxes COGENT and Psychtoolbox which were specifically developed to conduct behavioral experiments and synchronise data acquisition with external devices (fMRI scanners, eye trackers, etc.). Taken together, in this course, the students will learn how to efficiently program their own experiments and analyse and present their data within a single programming environment.

Notes:

This course will take place in BLU-003 (Blümlisalpstrasse 10, 8006 Zürich).

If you wish to attend this course, please send an e-mail with your student ID number (Matrikelnummer) to cornelia.schnyder@econ.uzh.ch Students should bring their own notebook - if available - as we will be doing programming exercises in class (software will be provided).

Event The Practice of Strategic Management (S)
22MO0052 / Seminar / 3,500

Description:

Business event contents:

While strategy is often understood as something organizations have, the strategy-as-practice perspective emphasizes strategy as something people in organizations do. In other words, strategy is seen as a social practice that is constituted by the daily activities of strategy actors. Taking this perspective, in this seminar we will discuss a range of important topics in strategy research, including the activities of different strategy actors (top and middle managers), the dynamics of strategic decision making, the process of strategic change, and the practices and tools used in strategizing. This seminar is primarily research-oriented and aims to provide students with the foundations to understand the practice-based approach to studying strategy.

Based on papers published in top international journals, we will discuss concrete research exemplars as to how strategists - top or middle managers - produce, reproduce and change strategy.

This seminar is highly participative. In each session, students are required to actively take part in discussions.

During the semester, students are in charge of presenting papers of one session and to animate discussions in another one.

Notes:

Places in the seminar are limited. Please apply via VVZ to participate.

Your application should include (1) a motivation letter, (2) your CV and (3) transcripts of your grades, including your current GPA (all in one document).

Deadline for applications to be received: August 31st, 2024. Seminar participants will be selected and applicants informed about the selection decisions at the beginning of September.

Course Materials: Journal articles (will be distributed to participants)

Event Interdisziplinäres Arbeiten in archäologischen Forschungsprojekten
683-002a / Seminar / 1,725

Description:

Business event contents:

Archäologie umfasst mehr als das eigentliche Ausgraben. Interdisziplinäres Arbeiten bildet die Grundlage für gute wissenschaftliche Praxis in Forschungsprojekten, in denen viele verschiedene Disziplinen beteiligt sind.

Doch wie genau sieht dies im Einzelfall aus? Wie kann zwischen den Beteiligten kommuniziert werden, wenn alle verschiedene akademische Sprachen sprechen? Und wie können wir uns vom Begriff der "Hilfswissenschaften" entfernen, auf Augenhöhe forschen und sogar Transdisziplinarität erreichen? Die Veranstaltung beleuchtet diese Fragen durch die Vorstellung von aktuellen internationalen archäologischen Forschungsprojekten. Es wird untersucht, welche Disziplinen für unterschiedliche Forschungsfragen relevant sind und wie dies in der Praxis - vom Feld über das Labor bis hin zur Publikation - umgesetzt wird.

Als Schwerpunkte werden mehrere Themenblöcke behandelt, darunter 1) Landschafts-, Mikro- und Geoarchäologie, 2) digitale Archäologie und Fernerkundung mit Drohnen, 3) Theorien in der Archäologie, Soziologie, Politikwissenschaften und Philosophie sowie 4) Kulturmanagement, Archäologie in Zeiten von Krisen, Critical Heritage Studies und Dekolonisierung.

Event Routinen der gemeinsamen Unterrichtsentwicklung anpassen
2261523a / Seminar / 3,127

Description:

Business event contents:

Den Unterricht so weiterzuentwickeln, dass das Lernangebot möglichst auf die Bedürfnisse aller Schülerinnen und Schüler abgestimmt ist, kommt einer höchst anspruchsvollen und allein wohl kaum mehr bewältigbaren Aufgabe gleich. Im Seminar werden dazu nicht nur theoretische Grundlagen und empirische Erkenntnisse zum Konzept individueller, kollektiver und organisationaler Routinen in der Unterrichtsentwicklung und zum selbst- bzw. co-regulierten Lernen (SRL, CoRL) erarbeitet, sondern auch die Frage diskutiert, wie Routinen der Unterrichtsentwicklung verändert werden können. Zudem erhalten die Studierenden exklusive Einblicke in ein laufendes Forschungsprojekt (R2: <https://www.ife.uzh.ch/r2>), welches Routinen der gemeinsamen Unterrichtsentwicklung in Deutschschweizer Primarschulen untersucht. Dabei soll den Studierenden aufgezeigt werden, wie anhand von quantitativen Forschungsmethoden Routinen und deren Regulation untersucht werden können.

Course Materials: Detaillierte Informationen zum Programm und den Unterrichtsmaterialien werden via OLAT möglichst zeitnah bekannt gegeben.

Event Fallbeispiele individueller Life Histories von der Prähistorie bis zur Neuzeit
683I501a / Seminar / 1,143

Description:

Business event contents:

Der Ötzi, King Richard III, Ulrich von Hutten - sie alle verbinden individuelle Life Histories, die von der aktuellen Forschung in den Mittelpunkt gerückt wurden.

Mittels moderner interdisziplinärer Methoden werden diese "Histories" geschrieben, dargestellt und nicht zuletzt individuell verifiziert.

Die Studierenden werden diese meist naturwissenschaftlichen, aber auch sozial- und geisteswissenschaftlichen Methoden an, um vertiefte Kenntnisse moderner interdisziplinärer Forschung aufzugreifen.

Event Desinformation im Internet – Analyse multimodaler Online-Inhalte
2541101a / Seminar / 678

Description:

Business event contents:

Mis- und Desinformation im Internet wird im Hinblick auf Gefahren für die demokratische Öffentlichkeit kritisch diskutiert. Werden Wahlen manipuliert? Wie verbreiten sich problematische Inhalte online? Scheinproblem oder hoher Regulierungsbedarf? Im Seminar werden Mis- und Desinformationsinhalte betrachtet, die Debatte um jene aufgezeigt, Analysemethoden, Gegenmaßnahmen und rechtliche Dimensionen diskutiert.

Sie werden ausgehend von wissenschaftlicher Literatur und erlernten (Computational) Methoden ein eigenes Forschungsprojekt konzipieren und umsetzen, um Ergebnisse vor dem Hintergrund des Forschungsstandes zu diskutieren. Ein besonderer Fokus liegt dabei auf der ganzheitlichen Betrachtung der Modalitäten, also dem Einbezug von Text-, Bild-, Video und Audiomaterial.

Event Krisenerzählungen im skandinavischen Mittelalter
360-208a / Seminar / 2,047

Description:

Business event contents:

Krisen bieten guten Erzählstoff, und zugleich sind Erzählungen Modi der Krisenbewältigung. Dieser doppelten Konstellation werden wir in diesem Seminar für das skandinavische Mittelalter nachgehen. In Auseinandersetzung mit aktuellen literaturwissenschaftlichen und soziologischen Ansätzen zu Krisen und Krisenerzählungen werden wir verschiedene Texte der ost- und westnordischen Überlieferung vom 13.

Jahrhundert bis zur Reformation unter Einbezug ihres Entstehungskontextes daraufhin untersuchen, mit welchen Strategien Krisen erzählerisch verhandelt und gedeutet werden. Dabei werden historiographische Texte wie Saxo Grammaticus' Gesta Danorum, die schwedischen Reimchroniken oder die zeitgenössischen isländischen Sagas ebenso Beachtung finden wie mythologische und fiktionale Krisenkompensationen in der eddischen Dichtung und Sagatradition.

Course Materials: Relevante Kursliteratur wird zu Vorlesungsbeginn auf OLAT und in einem Semesterapparat zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event Erinnerung an Holocaust und Kolonialismus

600-502a / Seminar / 930

Description:

Business event contents:

Nicht nur in der Geschichtswissenschaft, auch in der öffentlichen Wahrnehmung haben Kolonialvergangenheit und Sklaverei zunehmend an Bedeutung gewonnen. Dabei wurde gelegentlich behauptet, es sei die Erinnerung an den Holocaust, die im 20. Jahrhundert dazu geführt habe, jene an Kolonialverbrechen zu verdrängen. Umgekehrt wird mitunter die Befürchtung geäußert, die aktuell zu beobachtende Pluralisierung und Ausdifferenzierung der Erinnerungskultur könne der Holocausterinnerung schaden.

Diese und verwandte Thesen wollen wir im Seminar auf den Prüfstein stellen und dabei einerseits Medien und Praktiken der Erinnerungskultur in den Blick nehmen, andererseits nach ihren materiellen, politischen wie sozialhistorischen Bedingungen fragen.

Course Materials: Literatur zur Einführung: Michael Rothberg, Multidirectional memory: remembering the Holocaust in the age of decolonization, Stanford UP 2009; Elizabeth Buettner, Europe after empire: decolonization, society, and culture, Cambridge UP 2016.

Event Statistica per linguisti: fondamenti e applicazioni pratiche con R
410I577a / Seminar / 3,413

Description:

Business event contents:

Il corso intende fornire ai/alle partecipanti gli strumenti di base per applicare l'analisi statistica alla ricerca in linguistica, attraverso un approccio pratico. Gli/le iscritti/-e sono incoraggiati/-e a partecipare attivamente, riflettendo già dalle prime lezioni su come quanto appreso può essere applicato al proprio ambito di studio.

Ogni seduta includerà una breve parte teorica, per presentare le nozioni necessarie per strutturare l'analisi (definizione del concetto di "variabile", "test statistico" e "modello"...), e una parte pratica, all'interno della quale la docente guiderà i/le partecipanti all'utilizzo del software R, mostrando con esempi da lingue diverse i passaggi necessari per visualizzare i dati e analizzarne la distribuzione attraverso modelli di regressione.

Il seminario, svolto in italiano, si rivolge agli studenti/-esse di tutte le materie romanistiche. Per superarlo con successo, è richiesto lo svolgimento di esercizi di analisi e la lettura di alcuni articoli.

Course Materials:

I materiali didattici (slide, script, database) verranno forniti dalla docente quattro giorni prima della lezione.

Per poter partecipare alle sedute è richiesto in aula l'uso del computer, sui quali sono da installare i due software:

1. R: <https://stat.ethz.ch/CRAN/>
2. R studio: <https://posit.co/download/rstudio-desktop/>

Event Escrituras hambrientas: crisis alimentaria y devoraciones en la ficción latinoamericana
427-513a / Seminar / 2,880

Description:

Business event contents:

En la literatura latinoamericana contemporánea las poéticas del deterioro y de la ruina son cada vez más punzantes. Entre ellas, un eje llama la atención: los relatos en torno al hambre y la crisis alimentaria. Este curso invita a reflexionar sobre cómo la ficción latinoamericana se ha acercado estética y temáticamente a dichas problemáticas en diferentes contextos históricos y geopolíticos. El curso examinará los modos de representación y de producción de lenguaje de algunas obras literarias paradigmáticas, cuya escritura evoca imágenes, espacios y vidas precarizadas ubicadas al borde de las sociedades.

Examinaremos los modos en que los textos se mueven entre el exceso y la escasez. Tales lecturas, así como la de textos teóricos sobre el tema, nos permitirá igualmente reflexionar, desde lo latinoamericano, sobre cuestiones ambientales, alimentarias y políticas contemporáneas globales.

Event Applied Financial Analytics for Strategic Decisions and Value Creation (L)
22MO0089 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 210

Description:

Business event contents:

Finance Analytics is about unlocking the power of data science and analytics to create granular, connected and dynamic intelligence for executive teams to steer financial performance, deliver successful corporate deals and create value.

The applications of data science and advanced analytics technology empower C-suite, executive and management to:

- have collective transparency on (financial) numbers,
- understand root-causes and key drivers of major financial performance shifts,
- simulate impact of alternative decisions and future scenarios,
- closely track progress and value realization of strategic initiatives.

The lecture introduces to the main building blocks of Finance Analytics, including leading technologies and key concepts of financial performance modelling. Several real-life corporate use cases are also presented.

Finally, a project assignment (in teams of 4-5 people) allows students to put theory into practice under the supervision of a senior "project buddy" from the industry.

Notes:

This module takes place on-site, with online recording.

Course Materials: Lecture notes will be available.

Event Data Visualisation in Finance (L)

22MO0225 / Course / 651

Description:

Business event contents:

We believe in applying mathematical knowledge with success in the world of finance and our purpose is to help students with a quantitative background to build an outstanding career.

Our dreams are achieved when we complement our knowledge with the trust of the people around us. During this class you will strengthen the soft skills needed to succeed as a quant in the world of finance. You will also get familiar with the technical tools needed to apply such skills in a working environment.

Organizations are growing larger and becoming more diverse. Inspirational storytelling is essential to assure the cooperation of people towards a common goal. For example, a successful quant needs to simultaneously convince a scientific audience of the model's soundness and a business audience of its practical benefits. In this class you will develop the storytelling skills needed to present complex information to diverse audiences in an inspiring way.

The management level is always looking for ways to take decisions faster and smarter. Arguments based on data are very persuasive and a well-chosen visualization transmits complex information in a fast and efficient way. You will learn how to build clear arguments based on data, how to design compelling visualizations and how to consolidate trust as a presenter.

The background of the module is rooted in real life examples from the banking industry regarding the implementation of regulatory models in the business decision process. In this working environment, you will use the most established tools for data visualization and understand their strengths and limitations.

In our opinion, the skills and practical know-how accumulated during this class will contribute to a successful career, independent of the organization you will choose to work for in the future.

Event Einführung in die Geschichte Chinas
280-200a / Course / 842

Description:

Business event contents:

Vorlesung, in der die sehr groben Linien der historischen Entwicklung Chinas von den ersten neolithischen Funden über die Entwicklung des chinesischen Kaiserreiches (221 v. Chr. bis 1911), der Republik China und der Volksrepublik aufgezeigt werden. Der Fokus liegt dabei auf der kulturgeschichtlichen Entwicklung und damit nicht so sehr auf der politischen Dimension, wobei die Dynastien und wichtigen Entwicklungen des politischen Systems natürlich, aber eben nicht ausschliesslich, thematisiert werden.

Event Die ideologische Grundlage des chinesischen Kaiserreichs: Einführung in den Neokonfuzianismus
280-301a / Exercise Group / 709

Description:

Business event contents:

Der Neokonfuzianismus entsteht als Folge einer Erneuerung der konfuzianischen Gelehrsamkeit, in deren Mittelpunkt der Staatsbeamte und Philosoph Zhu Xi (1130-1200) steht. Wie der herkömmliche Konfuzianismus gründet er sich auf die konfuzianischen Texte, doch im Unterschied dazu stehen weniger Staatsritual und Reichsverwaltung als vielmehr die Frage der Stellung des Einzelmenschen zu seiner Umwelt im Vordergrund. Die Anstrengung der Einzelnen um ein ausgewogenes Verhältnis zwischen ethischer Selbstpflege und Dienst an der Allgemeinheit wird dabei in einen kosmologischen Rahmen gestellt und als der rechte "Weg" (dao) bezeichnet. Aus diesem Grund nennen die Anhänger selbst ihre Lehre das "Lernen des Weges". Das als menschenmöglich gedachte Ziel des Neokonfuzianismus ist nichts Bescheideneres, als ein "weiser Mensch" zu werden - ein Status, der im althergebrachten Konfuzianismus Konfuzius selbst vorbehalten war. Der Kurs gibt einen Einblick in die Entstehungskontexte und die intellektuellen Grundlagen des Neokonfuzianismus, und er führt in das Denken seiner wichtigsten Vertreter von der frühen Song-Zeit (11. Jh. n.Chr.) bis zum Ende der Kaiserzeit ein. Als Ausblick wird schliesslich die Erneuerung des Neokonfuzianismus in der chinesischen Moderne ab dem 20. Jh. in den Blick genommen.

Course Materials: Werden zu Unterrichtsbeginn bekanntgegeben und auf Olat zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event Archiv-Text-Öffentlichkeit: Robert Walser
360-534a / Seminar / 261

Description:

Business event contents:

Gegenstand des Moduls sind die Schriften Robert Walsers und ihrer medialen Distributionsformen im Spannungsfeld von theoretischer Reflexion und Praxisbezug. Im Zentrum steht der Transfer von Walsers Literatur in der spezifischen Materialität ihrer Schrift- und Buchförmigkeit hin zu den diversen Arten der öffentlichen Darbietung: Dieser Weg reicht vom konkreten Produktionsprozess und dem Nachlass über das Archiv und die Texteditionen bis hin zu aktuellen Formen der öffentlichen Sichtbarmachung in Ausstellungen und den digitalen Medien.

Dabei soll ein kritisches Bewusstsein über die vielfältigen Erscheinungsformen von Literatur gewonnen werden: Wie strukturieren Archive das, was wir über die «Welt» und die «Literatur» beeinflussen Editionen unser Verständnis und unsere Interpretation literarischer Texte? Welche Rolle spielen generell Literaturinstitutionen für die Rezeptionssteuerung? Diesen Fragen werden wir uns am Beispiel ausgewählter Texte Robert Walsers widmen, deren reichhaltige Vermittlungsformen von entscheidender Bedeutung dafür sind, dass der Autor heute als der wohl wichtigste Schweizer Schriftsteller des 20. Jahrhunderts gelten kann. Neben der theoretischen Auseinandersetzung bietet das Modul insgesamt drei praxisorientierte Workshops, auch im außeruniversitären Feld, an: 1. Theorie und Praxis des Archivs im Schweizerischen Literaturarchiv Bern (ganztägige Exkursion); 2. Theorie und Praxis der Edition (Workshop bei der Kritischen Walser-Ausgabe in Zürich); 3. Theorie und Praxis der medialen Distribution (Robert Walser-Zentrum Bern, Exkursion mit Ausstellungsbesuch).

Business event contents:

This course will cover basic principles of cognitive and systems neuroscience across the lifespan. Examples of topics include attention, cognitive control, emotion, learning, memory, and social cognition. In most cases, the first part of each course meeting will be a lecture on a given topic. The second half of each course meeting will be a group discussion of current and/or classic papers related to the lecture topic in the previous week. For some topics, the entire meeting will be used for the lecture and demonstration of analysis methodologies. Each student will lead 1-2 discussion sessions over the course of the term. All students not leading the discussion in a given week will submit a short summary and list of pros, cons, open questions for each paper discussed. Grades (pass/fail) will be based on discussion session leadership and participation.

Notes:

This course will take place in BLU-003 (Blümlisalpstrasse 10, 8006 Zurich).

Event Theoretische Paradigmen der Literaturanalyse
360-530a / Colloquium / 2,166

Description:

Business event contents:

Die Veranstaltung führt in klassische, neue und neueste Literaturtheorien ein. Diese sollen anhand ausgewählter Texte erarbeitet intensiv diskutiert und im Hinblick auf ihre Relevanz für Literaturkritik und Literaturvermittlung bewertet werden. Wichtig ist in dieser Veranstaltung die Anwendung: Wie können theoretische Paradigmen operationalisiert, wie können sie insbesondere für die Analyse von Gegenwartsliteratur fruchtbar gemacht werden? Die Arbeitsform des Seminars basiert auf Kleingruppen, Protokollen, Peer-Reviews, Impulsreferaten und einem individuellen Portfolio, das im Verlauf des Semesters erarbeitet wird. Die Beispiele für die Anwendung wählen wir gemeinsam aus; Ihr Input ist dabei besonders wichtig; Synergien mit anderen Modulen sind möglich, werden aber nicht vorausgesetzt.

Event Der Alexanderroman im Mittelalter
3601125a / Colloquium / 671

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Seminar geht der Alexanderfigur und dem Erzählen von Alexander, dem Welteroberer in der Literatur des Mittelalters nach. Im Zentrum steht der sogenannte "Strassburger Alexander", ein gegen Ende des 12. Jh.s entstandener anonymer Text, eine erweiterte Version des Alexanderromans des Pfaffen Lambrecht (Mitte 12. Jh.). Andere Alexandererzählungen werden vergleichend herangezogen. Dabei wird die Ambivalenz dieser Figur, die masslos alle Grenzen sprengt - geographisch, epistemisch, moralisch, ethisch - gerade deshalb aber auch bewundert wird, zur Herausforderung für die Erzähler des Mittelalters.

Event Die Herrschaft der Ottonen im 10. Jahrhundert
600I006a / Course / 702

Description:

Business event contents:

Die Vorlesung behandelt die Entwicklung des ostfränkisch-deutschen Reichs vom ausgehenden 9. Jahrhundert bis zum Tode Kaiser Heinrichs II.

1024. Nach der Krise des Reichs unter den späten Karolingern gelang es Heinrich I., einen Ausgleich mit den Herzögen zu erzielen und die Königsherrschaft zu konsolidieren. Durch Erfolge bei der Erweiterung des Reichs nach Westen und besonders bei der Abwehr der Ungarneinfälle schuf Heinrich die Grundlage für die Übertragung der Königsherrschaft an seinen Sohn Otto den Großen. Bis 1024 blieb die Königsherrschaft nun in der Familie der Ottonen. Mit der Kaiserkrönung Ottos des Großen 962 wurde das Kaisertum zudem zu einem wichtigen Faktor in der Herrschaft der deutschen Könige. Mit ihr ging auch eine neue, bisher so nie ausgeübte Zusammenarbeit Ottos und seiner Nachfolger mit den Päpsten einher.

Die Vorlesung soll einen Überblick über die Gesamtentwicklung geben und besonders die Zäsuren zur Karolingerzeit sowie die Neuanfänge im 10. Jahrhundert herausarbeiten.

Description:

Business event contents:

Als Massenbewegung waren die Kreuzzüge im 12. und 13. Jahrhundert das Ergebnis von äusserst wirksamer Propaganda. Doch wie konnte es in einer Zeit, in der Massenmedien nicht zur Verfügung standen, gelingen, in den verschiedenen, vielsprachigen Regionen Europas die Massen zu erreichen? Mit welchen Argumenten, Drohungen und Versprechungen wurden die Kreuzzüge propagiert und von wem? Diese Fragen sollen anhand des einschlägigen Quellenmaterials beantwortet werden.

Event Geschichte der Schweiz: Politik, Wirtschaft und Gesellschaft (Teil 1: 1798-1914)

600I009a / Course / 1,446

Description:

Business event contents:

Mit gutem Grund hat Jürgen Osterhammel sein Buch über das 19. Jahrhundert mit dem Titel "Die Verwandlung der Welt" versehen. Vieles, ja fast alles änderte sich innerhalb von hundert Jahren. Die Industrialisierung revolutionierte die Wirtschaft, Europa kolonisierte die Welt, Verfassungen wurden zur Grundlage von Politik und Recht, die Ständegesellschaft wich der Klassengesellschaft, die Geschlechterbeziehungen konstituierten sich neu, eine moderne Massenkultur bildete sich heraus - und vieles mehr.

Die Vorlesung stellt die Geschichte der Schweiz in den Kontext dieser grossen Trends und untersucht die Frage, wie ein europäischer Kleinstaat wie die Schweiz die "Verwandlung der Welt" erlebte, verarbeitete und gestaltete.

Die Vorlesung beginnt mit der Analyse der Helvetischen Revolution von 1798 und endet mit einem Porträt der "Belle Époque".

Der zweite Teil der Vorlesung im FS 2025 wird die Geschichte vom Ersten Weltkrieg bis zur Gegenwart behandeln.

Event "Gesundheit", "Krankheit" und "Behinderung" im gegenwärtigen Japan
290I716a / Seminar / 4

Description:

Business event contents:

Die Konzepte "Gesundheit", "Krankheit" und "Behinderung" sind in der gegenwärtigen japanischen Gesellschaft von wichtiger Bedeutung. Dazu tragen unter anderem die fortschreitende Alterung der Bevölkerung, gesundheitspolitische Massnahmen und die sich verändernde Gesetzgebung für Menschen mit physischer, psychischer oder geistiger Beeinträchtigung bei. Während verschiedene Bestrebungen zur Bildung einer "inkluseren" Gesellschaft existieren, kommt der Förderung der "Gesundheit" grosse Aufmerksamkeit zu und es zeigt sich, dass das "Nicht-Gesund-Sein" in verschiedener Form stigmatisiert ist. Im Seminar bringen die Studierenden ein innerhalb der übergreifenden Thematik selbst gewähltes Thema in den Unterricht ein. Im Rahmen des Leistungsnachweises untersuchen die Studierenden ihr Thema eingehend und gestalten durch den mündlichen Leistungsnachweis einen Teil des Seminars aktiv mit.

Event Die Griechen und das Irrationale
600I501a / Colloquium / 701

Description:

Business event contents:

Rationalität und Logik galt lange Zeit als ein Hauptmerkmal der griechischen Kultur, das etwa in der Philosophie, der Mathematik und der Wissenschaft seinen Ausdruck fanden. Dabei sah man darüber hinweg, dass auch tief verwurzelte irrationale Aspekte existierten, die das tägliche Leben, die Religion und die künstlerischen Ausdrucksformen der Griechen wesentlich geprägt haben. Eric Robertson Dodds hat in einer berühmt gewordenen Studie über «The Greeks and the Irrational» im Jahr 1951 Versuch unternommen, solche Elemente und Formen des Irrationalen in der griechischen Kultur aufzuspüren, indem er wie ein Ethnologe auf Texte, historische Ereignisse und soziale Praktiken blickte.

Das Kolloquium will das Spannungsfeld zwischen dem Rationalen und dem Irrationalen in der griechischen Kultur ausloten. Im Zentrum steht die Frage, wie das Irrationale - in Form von magischen Praktiken, Orakeln, Träumen, Ekstase und anderen ausserrationalen Erfahrungen - im Alltagsleben der Griechen präsent war und in Texten reflektiert wurde.

Course Materials: E. R. Dodds, The Greeks and the Irrational, Berkeley 1951 (mehrfach nachgedruckt und u.a. ins Deutsche übersetzt).
Literatur und Materialien zur Veranstaltung werden auf OLAT zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event Diskriminierungserfahrungen nach 1945
600I505a / Colloquium / 726

Description:

Business event contents:

Seit 1945 gab es eine Vielzahl internationaler Regelungen zum Abbau von Diskriminierungen. Dazu gehören unter anderem die Allgemeine Erklärung der Menschenrechte (1948), das Internationale Abkommen zur Beseitigung jeder Form von Rassendiskriminierung (1965), die UN-Konvention über die Rechte des Kindes (1989), die Erklärung über die Beseitigung der Gewalt gegen Frauen (1993) oder auch das Übereinkommen über die Rechte von Menschen mit Behinderungen (2006). In der Geschichtswissenschaft weiß man bisher wenig darüber, wie diese Konventionen zustande gekommen sind, und ebenso wenig darüber, ob oder wie sie Diskriminierungserfahrungen verändert haben.

Das Masterkolloquium lädt Studierende, die sich von schwierigen Quellen und unvollständigen Geschichten nicht entmutigen lassen, dazu ein, sich auf ein Stück Rekonstruktionsarbeit einzulassen, um Einsichten in die Geschichte der Regulierung von Diskriminierungen, aber auch in Diskriminierungserfahrungen und -erzählungen seit 1945 zu gewinnen.

Event Der sozialistische «Ostblock». Entstehung, Bestand, Zerfall
612-502a / Seminar / 2,775

Description:

Business event contents:

Im Mittelpunkt dieses Kurses steht der «Ostblock». Wir zeichnen die Entwicklungen nach, die nach dem Zweiten Weltkrieg zur Herausbildung des «sozialistischen Lagers» unter sowjetischer Ägide führten, analysieren wie sich das Innenleben der Ostblockstaaten und die Zusammenarbeit zwischen ihnen während des Kalten Krieges konkret gestalteten, und versuchen zu verstehen, warum es Ende der 1980er Jahre zur Auflösung des Ostblocks und in der Folge der Sowjetunion kam.

Description:

Business event contents:

In der Übung beschäftigen wir uns damit, wie Kinder heute zwischen Familie und Gesellschaft aufwachsen. Im ersten Teil erörtern wir, was Kindheit überhaupt ist und wie sie sich historisch und gesellschaftlich entwickelt hat. Anschliessend lernen wir im zweiten Teil die Forschung mit Kindern kennen und nähern uns qualitativen Forschungsmethoden und ethischen Herausforderungen. Im dritten Teil werfen wir verschiedene Schlaglichter auf Themen wie Kinder in Armut, sozialer Ungleichheit, Geschlecht, Familie und Kinderschutz. Zuletzt werfen wir einen Blick auf das kindheitsforscherische Lehrstuhlprojekt WoKidS und diskutieren, was Kinder über ihr Wohlbefinden erzählen. In der Übung hinterfragen wir kritisch aktuelle und historische Kindheitsbilder und gesellschaftliche Familien- und Geschlechterideale und befassen uns vertieft mit Kindern, die in prekären Verhältnissen leben.

Course Materials: Theoretische, methodische und empirische Texte in Deutsch und Englisch zur Kindheitsforschung, Videomaterial, empirisches Interviewmaterial aus dem Lehrstuhlprojekt WoKidS.

Description:

Business event contents:

Wo verbringen Jugendliche ihre Zeit? Welche Räume sieht die Gesellschaft dafür vor - und welche Räume nutzen Jugendliche? Was steckt eigentlich alles hinter dem Begriff des "Raums"? Wem gehört der öffentliche Raum? Und was hat die Sozialpädagogik damit zu tun? Mit diesen Fragen und anknüpfenden Themenfeldern setzen wir uns im Rahmen dieser Übung auseinander. Ausgehend von der Frage danach, wie "Jugend" theoretisch zu greifen und zu definieren ist, schauen wir uns verschiedene Praxisfelder und Zielgruppen der Jugendarbeit genauer an. Der Schwerpunkt liegt auf Bereichen der non-formalen Kinder- und Jugendarbeit, bspw. der Offenen Kinder- und Jugendarbeit und der Graffiti-Szene. Anhand dieser Einblicke wird diskutiert, welche Räume Jugendliche wie für sich nutzen und welche Bedeutung diese für sie und ihr Aufwachsen haben. Außerdem wird analysiert, wie sich gesellschaftliche Macht- und Herrschaftsverhältnisse in diesen Räumen zeigen. Das Thema "Raum" dient dabei als Reflexionsfolie zur exemplarischen Verdeutlichung gesellschaftlicher Verhältnisse und intergenerationaler Aushandlungsprozesse - immer mit einem Fokus auf die Frage nach der Bedeutung dieser für Jugendliche. Auch die Sozialpädagogik selbst wird aus einer kritisch-reflexiven Perspektive thematisiert, so dass wir die Gelegenheit haben, über Fragen nach der sozialpädagogischen Professionalität im Spannungsfeld zwischen gesellschaftlichen Anforderungen und sozialpädagogischem Handeln zu diskutieren. So lassen sich zentrale Erkenntnisse über die Zusammenhänge zwischen Jugend, Sozialpolitik und Gesellschaft gewinnen.

Wo verbringen Jugendliche ihre Zeit? Welche Räume sieht die Gesellschaft dafür vor - und welche Räume nutzen Jugendliche? Was steckt eigentlich alles hinter dem Begriff des "Raums"? Wem gehört der öffentliche Raum? Und was hat die Sozialpädagogik damit zu tun? Mit diesen Fragen und anknüpfenden Themenfeldern setzen wir uns im Rahmen dieser Übung auseinander. Ausgehend von der Frage danach, wie "Jugend" theoretisch zu greifen und zu definieren ist, schauen wir uns verschiedene Praxisfelder und Zielgruppen der Jugendarbeit genauer an. Der Schwerpunkt liegt auf Bereichen der non-formalen Kinder- und Jugendarbeit, bspw. der Offenen Kinder- und Jugendarbeit und der Graffiti-Szene. Anhand dieser Einblicke wird diskutiert, welche Räume Jugendliche wie für sich nutzen und welche Bedeutung diese für sie und ihr Aufwachsen haben. Fluchtmigrationsbewegungen von Kindern und Jugendlichen stellen kein neues Phänomen dar, sondern sind konstitutiv für westlich-europäische Migrationsgesellschaften. Als solche können sie mit spezifischen Diskriminierungs- und Ausgrenzungserfahrungen, Zuschreibungen, Herausforderungen, wie auch Chancen einhergehen. Im Rahmen der Übung nehmen wir das Aufwachsen von Kindern in Begleitung ihrer Familien, wie auch von unbegleiteten Minderjährigen, welche ohne Sorgeberechtigte geflüchtet sind, unter diesen Bedingungen in den Blick und gehen dabei unter anderem folgenden Fragen nach: Wie gestaltet sich die institutionelle Unterbringung, Betreuung und Bildung von (un)begleiteten Minderjährigen? Welche normativen Kindheitsbilder prägen hierbei sozialpädagogisches Handeln? Wie wird Kindesschutz vor dem Hintergrund von asylpolitischen Bedingungen ermöglicht bzw. verunmöglicht? Ausgehend von diesen Fragen befassen wir uns in der Übung mit zentralen Begrifflichkeiten und Konzepten der Kindheits- und Fluchtforschung, werfen Schlaglichter auf hierbei relevante Diskurse und nehmen das Spannungsfeld zwischen Asylpolitik und Kindesschutz genauer in den Blick.

Jugendliche und die Polizei treffen an verschiedenen Orten und unter unterschiedlichen Umständen aufeinander. Sowohl in der Schule und in Einrichtungen der Kinder- und Jugendhilfe als auch auf der Strasse – Begegnungen zwischen Polizei und Jugendlichen können sowohl freiwillig als auch unfreiwillig erfolgen. Hierbei ist die Polizei dafür verantwortlich, die öffentliche Sicherheit und Ordnung zu gewährleisten, während sie gleichzeitig eine fürsorgliche Rolle im Umgang mit jungen Menschen übernimmt, insbesondere in den Bereichen Schutz, Prävention und Unterstützung. In der Übung beschäftigen wir uns mit unterschiedlichen Arbeitsfeldern der Polizei mit Jugendlichen sowie den bisherigen Entwicklungen dieser Arbeit. In der Rolle der Polizei wird das Spannungsfeld zwischen Kontrolle und Hilfe deutlich, was in der Übung fortwährend thematisiert und diskutiert wird. Hierzu widmen wir uns unter anderem den direkten Begegnungen mit Kindern und Jugendlichen sowie den Kooperationsbeziehungen der Polizei im Kontext von Kindern und Jugendlichen, insbesondere in Zusammenarbeit mit der Sozialen Arbeit.

Event Democracy and Citizenship in Modern India
330-250a / Course / 662

Description:

Business event contents:

India is the world's largest democracy. At independence in 1947, however, viability of India as a democratic nation was met with skepticism. Critics cited the nation's vast ethnic, linguistic, and religious diversity as potential barriers to political unity. Some highlighted the entrenched social and feudalistic inequalities as fundamentally at odds with democratic principles of equality, while others contended that the concepts of equality and democracy were intrinsically foreign to Indian culture. Contrary to these doubts, the Indian constitution enshrined the vision of a secular democracy grounded in equality, and since independence, India has consistently met formal democratic standards. This course probes into the resilience of Indian democracy and into questions about its substance. It examines the concept of equal citizenship, and looks at whether Indians today benefit from it.

Approaching these inquiries through the lens of political sociology, we investigate how social structures and cultural dynamics have shaped and been shaped by it. No preliminary disciplinary knowledge is required, welcoming anyone interested in the principles of democracy and those intrigued by the complexities of the world's largest democracy.

Event Griechische Nekropolen
682-011a / Seminar / 1,520

Description:

Business event contents:

Gräber und Bestattungssitten sind seit jeher zentrale Forschungsthemen in der Archäologie, schon allein, da von den materiellen Hinterlassenschaften antiker Kulturen ein grosser Teil aus Grabanlagen und Bestattungskontexten stammt. Sie geben einerseits Aufschluss über das religiöse und gesellschaftliche Verständnis von Tod und Jenseits, erlauben andererseits aber auch vielschichtige Einblicke in die Lebenswelt der jeweiligen Gesellschaft. In diesem Sinne werden im Proseminar ausgewählte Beispiele griechischer Nekropolen von der protogeometrischen bis in hellenistische Zeit betrachtet. Im Fokus stehen dabei neben der baulichen Ausgestaltung und deren Funktion auch die Ausstattungselemente der Gräber und die Bedeutung der dabei verwendeten Bilder sowie Bestattungssitten und Grabriten.

Course Materials:

- J. Breder, Attische Grabbezirke klassischer Zeit, Philippika 60 (Wiesbaden 2013).
- D. Graen, Tod und Sterben in der Antike. Grab und Bestattung bei Ägyptern, Griechen, Etruskern und Römern (Stuttgart 2011).
- D. Kurtz - J. Boardman, Thanatos. Tod und Jenseits bei den Griechen (Mainz 1985).
- E. Walter-Karydi, Die Athener und ihre Gräber 1000-300 v. Chr. (Berlin 2015).

Event Women and Money: Social and Economic Agency in the Long Nineteenth Century
440I506a / Seminar / 4,772

Description:

Business event contents:

As the current discussions about the gender pay gap show, gendered economic inequalities persist to this day. Yet they were particularly pronounced in the long nineteenth century when women's economic participation was severely limited. The period marked the culmination point of the so-called separate-sphere ideology, in which the public sphere was largely reserved for men, whereas women were associated with and confined to the private domestic sphere. While household management did entail some economic activities, economic practices and gender norms were closely intertwined. At the same time, the social hierarchies and power structures produced by these gender roles came to be increasingly contested as the organized women's movement began to emerge and as the "woman question", which included issues such as women's access to the labour market and changes to the marriage laws, turned into one of the key socio-political debates. In the literary imagination of the time, some texts celebrate the 'angel in the house', whereas others thematize the vulnerable position of women in patriarchal society as well as the ways in which precarity sometimes serves as a catalyst for economic independence. In this seminar, we will explore a wide range of social positions women occupy in nineteenth-century fiction as daughters, wives, mothers, widows, heiresses, single women, workers, artists, writers and entrepreneurs. In so doing, we will examine the economies which both limit and enable their social and economic agency. Our readings will include some of the foremost women novelists of the period, whose narratives will be analyzed as a form of economic writing alongside non-fictional texts written by Victorian women economists. Tapping into contemporary feminist economics, we will also challenge the androcentric bias implicit in traditional notions of what counts as economic activity by developing a broader, more inclusive concept that is more attuned to women's economic practices and contributions.

Notes:

The seminar papers will be due by Wednesday 12 February 2024.

Course Materials:

The seminar will include the following texts:

Event The United Nations and Human Rights
6151510a / Seminar / 4,790

Description:

Business event contents:

This seminar offers an overview of the recent research literature on the United Nations with a focus on its human rights institutions. The students are provided with an in-depth understanding of the UN human rights system and the key institutional characteristics of the main actors such as the UN Human Rights Council or the UN Special Procedures.

The seminar also sheds light on the normative and theoretical foundations of international human rights law. Against this backdrop, the seminar delves into the recent empirical research literature on international human rights institutions with an emphasis on quantitative research. The main research questions under scrutiny are the extent to which international human rights institutions can contribute to the protection of human rights and the extent to which they provide equitable access to victims of human rights violations. The seminar also provides a comparative perspective by covering research on other international interventions that aim to protect human rights beyond the scope of the UN.

Notes:

The seminar will take place in room AFL-F-150.

Event Digital Elites and Political Power in Online Spaces
6151516a / Seminar / 4,797

Description:

Business event contents:

This seminar offers a deep-dive into the political power wielded by both traditional and emerging elites in online environments. Students will investigate how digitalization has provided social elites-such as politicians, journalists, and celebrities-with novel tools to influence political processes. The course will delve into how these elites deploy such tools to craft political agendas, influence electoral outcomes, shape policy decisions, and impact public engagement. In addition to exploring the human agency behind these developments, the seminar will also examine the role of algorithmic curation in directing the flow of political information in digital spaces. The curriculum will include conceptual readings on these subjects, along with new methodological approaches for conducting this type of research. To fully participate and engage with the course content, students are expected to possess a foundational understanding of computational methods for analyzing digital data.

Event The Evolution of Social Cleavages in the 21st Century
6151529a / Seminar / 4,805

Description:

Business event contents:

In this seminar, we will investigate the shifting social basis of political conflict in advanced capitalist democracies today. The expansion of mass education, the transition to post-industrial economies, demographic change, and the rise of globalization have destabilized longstanding ties between social groups and political parties. This has led to a fierce argument about the contemporary drivers of political preferences and voting patterns. After discussing the fundamentals of the debate, the course moves on to discussing different social divisions and their relevance (e.g. class, gender, rural/urban location, generation). In the third part of the course, students present research papers on the topic.

Event Quantitative Methods
623-501a / Seminar / 4,815

Description:

Business event contents:

This course serves as an introduction to the minor in Methods-Data- Society. It covers the mathematical and statistical foundations of quantitative research, including probability theory, statistical inference, and statistical modelling. Special emphasis is placed on the logic of quantitative research, i.e., the manner in which statistical inference can be used to answer social scientific research questions. Another important goal is to impart knowledge of the R programming language.

Notes:

Students who have completed an introductory MA course in quantitative methods are exempted from taking this course. For everyone else who plans on taking the minor, this is a compulsory course. In addition to the course, tutoring sessions are offered on Fridays from 2:00 to 3:45 p.m.

Event Fundamentos de la Narratología (grupo 2)

427-001a / Seminar / 1,502

Description:

Business event contents:

¿Qué es un texto literario? ¿Cómo funciona y cuáles son las diferencias con otro tipo de textualidades? ¿Cómo se desarrolla el proceso de lectura y de producción de sentido? Estas son algunas interrogantes con las que abriremos este curso sobre análisis literario, cuyo primer curso (Semestre de otoño) estará dedicado al análisis narratológico. Tras un primer acercamiento general a la literatura, nos adentraremos en el campo de la narratología. Partiremos también de algunas preguntas clave: ¿De qué hablamos cuando hablamos de narración o de narrativa? ¿Qué es un autor, un lector, un texto, su circulación o su recepción? ¿Cuáles serían sus características, sus recursos y sus elementos? Y sobre todo, ¿Cómo y a través de qué herramientas podemos analizar el discurso narrativo? En clases leeremos y discutiremos una serie de textos teóricos sobre literatura y narratología, ejercitando su análisis en presentaciones orales y analizaremos textos cortos y dos novelas.

Course Materials:

Textos primarios:

Getrudis Gómez de Avellaneda, Sab

Lina Meruane, Sangre en el ojo

Textos secundarios:

Mieke Bal, Teoría de la narrativa

Monika Fludernik, An Introduction to Narratology Maite Alvarado, Paratexto

Maria Isabel Filinich, La escritura y la voz en la narración literaria Umberto Eco, Lector in fabula

Nota: para ejemplificar el uso de cada una de las herramientas de análisis narrativo, en cada clase estudiaremos un microcuento latinoamericano, que, junto con el resto de los textos, será puesto a disposición de los estudiantes durante el curso.

Event Bild-er-zeugnisse des Vergangenen. Poetik und Pragmatik von Kompilationsfilm und Found Footage
255I010a / Seminar / 4,054

Description:

Business event contents:

Beinah zeitgleich mit dem Anfang des Kinos beginnt dieses auf sich selbst zurückzukommen, gruppiert, montiert und schneidet Filme aus Filmen. Diese Praxis hat mit Kompilationsfilm und Found Footage in dokumentarischen und experimentellen Zusammenhängen seinen grössten Umfang gefunden, kann eine geschichtsvermittelnde Reportage genauso gestalten wie eine materialpoetische Analyse vergangener Blicke des Films. Zugleich sind über das so genannte Stock Footage vergangene Aufnahmen in der klassischen Spielfilmproduktion ebenso allgegenwärtig wie die Fragmente und Schnipsel der Filmgeschichte auf den Videoplattformen im Internet. Nicht neue Bilder zu drehen, sondern auf solche zurückzukommen, die es schon gibt, hat dabei eine reflexive Qualität an sich: Der Film, der aus Aufnahmen besteht, nimmt Aufnahmen wieder auf, entdeckt neue Anschlüsse und dokumentiert vergangene Blicke im nämlichen Archivbild. Im Seminar soll zunächst auf die Formenvielfalt des Archivbildes, seine ästhetischen (teils selbstkritischen) Potenziale und seine film- und medienkulturellen Gebrauchsweisen aufmerksam gemacht werden, um in einem zweiten Schritt das Archivbild im Kontext seiner privilegierten Stellung zur Repräsentation von Vergangenheit zu befragen und auch filmtheoretisch und filmanalytisch zu problematisieren. Hier geraten dann Fragen nach dem Verhältnis von Film, kollektivem Gedächtnis und kultureller Erinnerung in den Vordergrund. Schliesslich fragt das Seminar, inwiefern wir uns auch als Teil eines historisch gewordenen Kinopublikums unserer Bildung über die Vergangenheit als durch Filme geprägt und geformt vergewissern können und müssen. Das Seminar setzt sich dabei einerseits zum Ziel die filmanalytischen Kompetenzen seiner Teilnehmenden zu vertiefen, ausserdem soll in die Thematik des Geschichtsbezugs und der Vergangenheitsrepräsentation über einen spezifisch filmtheoretischen Rahmen hinaus auch allgemein(er) kulturtheoretisch eingeführt werden.

Caring for the 'Holy Land': Filipina Domestic Workers in Israel

By Claudia Liebelt

2011, Berghahn Books (EASA Book Series).

Description by the publisher:

In Israel, as in numerous countries of the global North, Filipina women have been recruited in large numbers for domestic work, typically as live-in caregivers for the elderly. The case of Israel is unique in that the country has a special significance as the 'Holy Land' for the predominantly d Christian Filipina women and is at the center of an often violent conflict, which affects Filipinos in many ways. In the literature, migrant domestic workers are often described as being subject to racial discrimination, labour exploitation and exclusion from mainstream society. Here, the author provides a more nuanced account and shows how Filipina caregivers in Israel have succeeded in creating their own collective spaces, as well as negotiating rights and belonging. While maintaining transnational ties and engaging in border-crossing journeys, these women seek to fulfill their dreams of a better life. During this process, new socialities and subjectivities emerge that point to a form of global citizenship in the making, consisting of greater social, economic and political rights within a highly gendered and racialized global economy.

Description:

Business event contents:

"Thinking Like a Climate: Governing a City in Times of Environmental Change" by Hannah Knox will offer this exercise group an inspiring ethnography, unveiling different perspectives on what an ethnography can be, how it is written, and how it is contextualized in the wider academic world.

The book delves into the complex interplay between urban governance and climate change. Through an ethnographic study of Manchester, Knox examines how city officials, scientists, and residents navigate the challenges of environmental transformation. The book explores the practical and philosophical dimensions of a climate governance, highlighting the tensions between scientific knowledge, policy-making, and everyday life. Knox provides a nuanced analysis of how climate change is perceived and managed at the local level, offering insights into the broader implications for global environmental governance.

Important: Please ensure you have the book by our first session. Remember to bring it with you to class.

Event The Shifting Representations of China in Storytelling
280-590a / Exercise Group / 4,140

Description:

Business event contents:

In modern and contemporary Chinese literary works, there is a notable focus on China itself, with significant periods such as semi-colonized China, socialist China, and post-socialist China being highlighted. This course aims to analyze the representations of these historical epochs in literature and their contribution to the formation of collective memory and national identity. Additionally, the course examines how narratives envision China's future while reflecting on its intricate past, as well as the concept of the "Chinese Dream" as depicted in popular culture and literature. Through engaging in-depth readings and critical discussions, students will explore how literature serves as a medium for historical reflection, cultural critique, and the reimagining of national identity.

Event Diversity in Japanese Economics and Politics
290-123a / Seminar / 4,226

Description:

Business event contents:

The seminar will explore the issue of diversity in relation to Japanese economics and politics. In class we will discuss the government efforts for "internationalisations" and "gender equality" since the 1990s and cover different topics such as womenomics, foreign workers, NEETs and freeters, women in politics, LGBTQ+ issues etc. The seminar will offer an in-depths analysis of how the Japanese political and economic world has responded to the rising demand for diversity in a context of a country affected by economic stagnation, ageing society and sinking birth-rate.

The seminar enables students to delve deeper in one of the topics covered in class and to elaborate on the chosen topic in the form of their own contribution.

Course Materials: The literature consists of original English sources and will be announced at the beginning of the semester. We will also use materials in Japanese.

Event Impressionismus. Forschung im Museum
640I038a / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 4,483

Description:

Business event contents:

Vor 150 Jahren, am 15. April 1874, eröffnete in Paris die erste der acht sogenannten Impressionisten-Ausstellungen, mit Künstlerinnen und Künstlern wie Paul Cezanne, Edgar Degas, Claude Monet, Berthe Morisot, Camille Pissarro, Pierre-Auguste Renoir und Alfred Sisley. Dieses Ereignis wird bis heute als «Geburt» einer «nouvelle peinture» gefeiert und gilt als wesentliches Moment für den künstlerischen Aufbruch in die Moderne. Anlässlich des Jubiläums finden weltweit zahlreiche Veranstaltungen statt. Unter anderem zeigen Museen in Dallas, Köln, London, Paris und Washington, DC, grossangelegte Ausstellungen. Die Vorlesung nimmt diese Präsentationen zum Ausgangspunkt für eine Einführung in den Impressionismus und thematisiert zugleich, weshalb dessen Erforschung in jüngster Zeit häufig im Rahmen von Ausstellungsprojekten stattfand. Der Schwerpunkt liegt auf Ausstellungen, die in den letzten zehn Jahren realisiert wurden oder sich zurzeit in Vorbereitung befinden. Diese Fallbeispiele verdeutlichen, wie etwa mittlerweile zugängliche Primärquellen und vermehrt durchgeführte kunsttechnologische Untersuchungen einerseits unser Wissen bezüglich der materiellen Beschaffenheit von dem Impressionismus zugerechneten Gemälden, Skulpturen, Zeichnungen und Druckgrafiken bereichern und andererseits zusehends das Ausmass der Synergien zwischen Künstlerinnen und Künstlern, Schriftstellern, Händlern sowie Sammlerinnen und Sammlern erahnen lassen, die in neuartigen Künstlervereinigungen, Ausstellungs- und Publikationsplattformen mündeten. Die zur Diskussion stehenden Ausstellungen veranschaulichen ferner zum einen, dass sich selbst im Zusammenhang mit einem kunsthistorisch intensiv untersuchten Gegenstand wie dem Impressionismus nach wie vor immer wieder grundlegende neue Erkenntnisse erschliessen. Zum anderen machen sie nachvollziehbar, inwiefern sich die Forschungsperspektiven aktuell verschieben und erweitern.

Course Materials:

Event Manns-Bilder – (De-)Konstruktionen von Männlichkeit
640-015a / Seminar / 4,497

Description:

Business event contents:

Männlichkeit ist keine statische Kategorie, sondern eine Konstruktion, die fortlaufend innerhalb gesellschaftlicher Diskurse hergestellt und reproduziert wird. Der in der modernen Forschung verwendete Begriff „Männlichkeiten“ im Plural unterstreicht die Vielfalt und Variabilität dieser (De-)Konstruktionen über kulturelle und soziale Kontexte hinweg. Besonders seit den 1960er Jahren, einer Zeit, die durch tiefgreifende soziale Umbrüche geprägt ist, hat sich das Verständnis von Männlichkeit erheblich gewandelt und diversifiziert. In diesem Zusammenhang spielt auch die bildende Kunst eine entscheidende Rolle. Das Seminar untersucht künstlerische Werke, die Männlichkeit kritisch dekonstruieren und vielfältige Perspektiven auf Geschlecht einführen. Im Zentrum unserer Betrachtungen stehen dabei Repräsentationen von Körpern, Sexualität, Identität, Rollenbildern und Emotionen. Wir verorten Männlichkeiten dabei nicht nur in bei der Geburt dem männlichen Geschlecht zugeordneten Körpern, sondern erkennen sie auch in Identitäten und Ausdrucksformen, die traditionelle Geschlechtergrenzen überschreiten. Zentrale Texte, die Männlichkeit als gesellschaftliches Phänomen und künstlerisches Thema beleuchten, helfen uns, Männlichkeitsdarstellungen in der Kunst zu verstehen und kritisch zu reflektieren. Das Seminarprogramm kann von den Teilnehmer*innen aktiv mitgestaltet werden. Eigene Themenvorschläge für Referate sind willkommen.

Event Künstler*innengruppen der Moderne (Schwerpunkt Schweiz)
640-014a / Seminar / 4,502

Description:

Business event contents:

Zahlreiche innovative Kunstkonzepte der internationalen Moderne wurden im Kontext von Künstler*innen-Gruppen entwickelt. Von den expressionistischen Gruppierungen der „Brücke“, dem „Blauen Reiter“, dem Kreis um die „Sturm“-Galerie, von Dada bis zu den abstrakten Strömungen zu den internationalen Gruppen des „Cercle et Carrée“, „Abstraction-Création“ wurde in Gruppen gearbeitet. Unter den Schweizer Zusammenschlüssen sticht die expressionistische Gruppe „Rot-Blau“ in Basel heraus. „Der Moderne Bund“ in Weggis, 1943 die „Groupe Suisse Abstraction et Surréalisme“, die „Allianz“ (1937) um die Züricher Konkreten, „Schwarz-Weiss“ und die Künstler:innen um die Zeitschrift „Spirale“ (1953). Das Seminar wird sich über die Art der Zusammenschlüsse an die jeweiligen Programmatiken annähern und so auch eine Kunstgeschichte der ersten Hälfte des 20. Jahrhunderts verfolgen. Ob als „Künstlerkolonie“, als metropole Ausstellungsvereinigung, als trans-europäisches Netzwerk oder um eine Zeitschrift herum gruppiert, der Zusammenschluss hatte meist sowohl ideologische wie auch praktische Gründe. Wir werden verfolgen können, welche Vorteile im Kollektiv gesehen wurden.

Notes:

Im Seminar werden wir uns mit der Forschungsliteratur sowie detaillierten Werkanalysen beschäftigen, für die Bearbeitung von Referatsthemen werden wir aber auch ins Archiv gehen und uns mit Briefen und Archivalien beschäftigen. (2-3 externe Termine)

Event Kunst und Theorie in Italien im 16. und 17. Jahrhundert

640-008a / Seminar / 4,501

Description:

Business event contents:

Im Seminar "Einführung in die Kunstgeschichte der Neuzeit" werden anhand der in jedem Semester wechselnden Hauptthemen die methodische und kunstgeografische Vielfalt, die aktuellen Deutungsansätze, die Diversität der künstlerischen Medien und Probleme der Epoche erforscht.

Das Bachelorseminar möchte die italienische Kunst und Theorie des 16. und 17. Jahrhunderts aus einer Vielzahl von methodischen und thematischen Perspektiven betrachten. Zum einen wird die Herausbildung von neuen Kunstdiskursen und zum anderen die Wechselbeziehungen zwischen den Kunstzentren Italiens in der Frühen Neuzeit thematisiert. So sollen die bedeutenden Kunstzentren wie Rom, Florenz, Venedig sowie Genua im Norden und Neapel im Süden der italienischen Halbinsel in den Blick genommen werden und im Kontext ihrer globalen Verflechtungen erforscht werden. Am Beispiel verschiedener Bildmedien wie Malerei, Grafik, Skulptur und Architektur werden die Zirkulation von Ideen und Kunstwerken, Naturnachahmung und Antikenrezeption, Formen der Auftraggeberschaft und Konzepte von Stilepochen (Renaissance, Manierismus, Barock) diskutiert. Durch die Lektüre und Analyse von Trattati und Künstlerbiografien soll zudem die Vielfalt bildtheoretischer Reflexionen dieses Zeitraums erörtert werden, die beispielsweise durch den Wettstreit der Künste (Paragone) und die Bildtheologie der Gegenreformation sichtbar wird.

Notes:

Die Texte zum Seminar werden auf OLAT als PDF zur Verfügung gestellt. Die Themen werden in der ersten Sitzung am 18. September vergeben.

Event Performing for the Camera: Performative Praktiken in der Videokunst
640-515a / Seminar / 4,507

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Seminar bietet mit einem Hauptaugenmerk auf performative Handlungen vor der bzw. für die Kamera einen Überblick über die Geschichte der Videokunst ab den späten 1960er Jahren bis heute. Es soll untersucht werden, wie Künstler*innen von der Dokumentation von Performances bis hin zu komplexen Videoinstallationen mit immersiven Charakter, Video in analoger und digitaler Form einsetzen, um Aspekte wie Körperlichkeit, Identität, Race und Gender zu verhandeln, um Narrative zu vermitteln oder um die sozialpolitischen Auswirkungen von Technologien zu hinterfragen und dabei immer wieder die Grenzen des Mediums Video neu ausloten. Das Seminar ist in drei Blöcke gegliedert. Ausgehend von der Diskussion einiger grundlegender Texte und einflussreicher Videoarbeiten sollen in kleinen Gruppen thematische Programme für mögliche Screenings entwickelt werden. Dazu werden einige der Seminartermine im Medien- und Informationszentrum der ZHdK stattfinden, um die Online-Plattformen von Electronic Art Intermix und dis.Art zur Recherche zu nutzen. Im dritten Block des Seminars werden die Screening Programme vorgestellt und im Plenum evaluiert.

Event Dinge des Alltags in Zürich 1500–1600
640-007a / Seminar / 4,509

Description:

Business event contents:

Anhand zeitgenössischer Bildquellen, Bauzeugen und Alltagsobjekte aus Museen und archäologischen Ausgrabungen wollen wir uns in diesem Seminar die materielle Kultur Zürichs erschliessen. Der Fokus liegt auf der Zeit zwischen Mittelalter und Neuzeit (1500–1600). Nach einer gemeinsamen Einführung und Annäherung an die Themenbereiche präsentieren die Teilnehmer*innen ihre individuell erarbeiteten Seminarbeiträge. Ausgehend von der sorgfältigen Beschreibung eines Objekts soll dieses mithilfe wissenschaftlicher Literatur in Kontext gesetzt werden – sei es in zeitlicher, regionaler, bautechnischer, technologischer, typologischer, kunsthistorischer oder sozialgeschichtlicher Art. Die zu untersuchenden Objekte finden wir in der Breite des spätmittelalterlichen Alltagslebens: von der Befestigungsanlage über historische Zimmer bis zu Kachelofen, Schuh, Geschirr oder Werkzeug. Um mit möglichst viel Originalmaterial in Kontakt zu kommen, sind Sitzungen im Landesmuseum, im Altertümer-Magazin, sowie Stadtpaziergänge und der Besuch einer laufenden bauarchäologischen Untersuchung vorgesehen.

Description:

Business event contents:

Die Veranstaltung knüpft an die Module Statistik I und II des Soziologischen Instituts an. Ein Schwerpunkt bildet die Anwendung quantitativer Analyseverfahren.

Die Veranstaltung baut somit die wichtige Brücke von der grundlegenden Statistik zur empirischen Forschungsarbeit. Sie bereitet insbesondere die Bachelorarbeit am Soziologischen Institut vor. Neben fortgeschrittenen analytischen Verfahren werden Techniken zur Darstellung komplexer Zusammenhänge, zur Visualisierung von Daten und zur Kommunikation von Analyseergebnissen behandelt: Kompetenzen, die auch in vielen soziologisch geprägten Berufsfeldern (Markt & Meinungsforschung, Amtliche Statistik, Politikberatung, Data Sciences) zentral sind.

In diesem Semester legen wir zudem einen Schwerpunkt auf alternative Schätztechniken neben der Methode der Abweichungsquadrate (Maximum Likelihood, Maschinelles Lernen). In unseren Analysen greifen wir Themen aus der Gesundheitssoziologie und der intergenerationalen Mobilitätsforschung auf.

Event Research Seminar Social Norms and Cooperation (Part 1)
240-506a / Seminar / 4,532

Description:

Business event contents:

Soziale Normen und Kooperation sind bestimmende Merkmale des gesellschaftlichen Zusammenlebens. Sie prägen unsere Interaktionen, Beziehungen und die Institutionen, welche wir aufbauen. Hierbei fungieren Normen als unsichtbare Regeln, die das Verhalten der Individuen lenken und es ermöglichen, in einer Gemeinschaft kooperative und harmonisch zusammenzuarbeiten.

Ziel des Kurses ist die Weiterentwicklung und Bearbeitung eines eigenen empirischen Forschungsprojektes im Themenbereich sozialer Normen und Kooperation. Ein grundsätzliches Verständnis für soziale Normen und Kooperation sollte ebenso vorhanden sein wie auch eine erste Idee für ein eigenes empirisches Projekt, welches im Rahmen der Veranstaltung ausgebaut werden kann. Unter anderem können diese Kenntnisse und erste Ideen in der Veranstaltung "Einführung in die sozialen Normen und Kooperation" erworben werden.

Description:

Business event contents:

This course is an introduction to continuous time models. We will focus on markets with a finite time horizon and a finite number of traded securities.

Uncertainty will be driven by Brownian motion. Next to the classical arbitrage pricing topics (Fundamental Theorems of Asset Pricing, completeness, etc), we intend to cover other selected topics such as dynamic programming with applications to finance.

Course Materials: Slides will be provided. A literature list will be provided in due time.

Event European Green Deal: A Simulation of Democratic Decision-Making in Europe
615-011a / Seminar / 4,631

Description:

Business event contents:

Climate change and environmental degradation are existential threats to Europe and the world. With the European Green Deal, the EU wants to make the transition to a modern, resource-efficient and competitive economy, but in which way?

Notes:

In this module we work towards a role play. The students take on the participating roles of political actors in the EU (e.g. Council President, President of the European Parliament, European Commission) and decide on the further progress of negotiations on the basis of role profiles and different specific interests.

The module is carried out in three phases: preparation (in the sessions until November), simulation (whole afternoon on November 27 from 1-5 p.m.) and evaluation (December 4th, 2024).

Course Materials:

Event Immigration Topics and Social Science Research
615-014a / Seminar / 4,633

Description:

Business event contents:

This course delves into the multifaceted world of immigration, exploring key aspects such as public attitudes, policy development, integration, and voting behaviour. Each week, new topics are discussed. As students examine these critical topics, they will also develop essential social science research skills, learning how to conduct literature reviews, form hypotheses, and analyze data. The curriculum integrates theoretical discussions with hands-on research practice, culminating in the creation of an original research design and a comprehensive research paper. Students will be encouraged to work in groups so as to foster collaboration and teamwork in a research setting. By the end of the course, students will have gained a deep understanding of immigration issues and honed their ability to contribute to academic discourse in this crucial area of study.

Course Materials:

Various readings distributed throughout the semester, such as:

- Mavroudi, E. and Nagel, C. (2016a). Global migration: Patterns, processes and politics. Taylor & Francis.
- Simonsen, K. B. (2017). Does citizenship always further immigrants' feeling of belonging to the host nation? a study of policies and public attitudes in 14 Western democracies. Comparative Migration Studies, 5:1–17.
- Hangartner, D., Dinas, E., Marbach, M., Matakos, K., and Xefferis, D. (2019). Does exposure to the refugee crisis make natives more hostile? American Political Science Review, 113(2):442–455.

Event Language and Identity

440-124a / Seminar / 4,670

Description:

Business event contents:

The languages we use and acquire form an important part of our sense of who we are - of our identity. From a postmodern constructivist perspective, every time we speak, we are negotiating and renegotiating our sense of self in relation to the larger social world, and reorganizing that relationship across time and space. Our gender, age, race, class, ethnicity, sexual orientation, among other characteristics, are all implicated in this negotiation of identity. This course explores the role of language in the construction of identities and the significance of identity construction with respect to (multiple) language acquisition and use. We will investigate the central importance of language to the formation of people's identities (personal, social, professional and virtual), the links between identity construction, motivation and autonomy and their influence on second language learning trajectories, identity formation in globalizing contexts (e.g. the effect of multilingualism/ multiculturalism on the personal identity of so-called "third culture kids"), and socially and historically constructed attitudes to English as a world language. Students will thus develop the skills of quantitative and qualitative data collection and analysis and come away with a perspective of multiple viewpoints related to identity in the context of linguistic diversity.

Event Staging the Early Modern City
440-220a / Seminar / 4,672

Description:

Business event contents:

Early modern London was a city of change, a city characterised by mobility.

During the reign of Elizabeth I and her successors, London's population grew exponentially, and with this influx of newcomers came novel goods and fashions.

Early modern theatre developed in tandem with these changes and many plays reckon with what it means to live in this 'new' London. Most explicit representation of the early modern city are so-called city comedies. Set in London - where their audience is also located -, they centre the relationship between the theatre and the city.

To track this relationship, this seminar will initially focus on early modern playhouse culture to gain an understanding of where, how, by whom, and for whom plays were performed. Then, four city comedies - Thomas Dekker's The Shoemaker's Holiday (1599), Dekker's and Thomas Middleton's The (1611), Ben Jonson's Bartholomew Fair (1614), and Richard Brome's The Garden (1635) - will direct our thinking about how plays staged the city and how they were themselves staged in the city. How do these plays represent the (sensory) experience of the city? How do their differently abled characters navigate their London? And how do the plays represent local communities in the context of foreigners, and characters of different genders and sexualities? To methodologically frame these questions, fields such as sense studies, disability studies, mobility and post-colonial studies, as well as gender and queer studies will be introduced.

This seminar thus aims to give an understanding of early modern theatre in its literary and material dimensions by supporting students in reading, contextualising, and analysing early modern plays through current approaches in early modern studies. Students with and without previous knowledge of early modern theatre are equally welcome.

Notes:

The 4,000-word essay (accounting for 80% of the grade) will be due on 1 May 2025. Deadline(s) for the portfolio tasks (accounting for 20% of the grade) will be confirmed.

Course Materials:

Students are kindly asked to obtain the following plays by the start of term:

Event Performance Studies: Shakespeare Then and Now
440-227a / Seminar / 4,681

Description:

Business event contents:

This course will introduce BA-students to the field of performance studies, using the example of Shakespeare to explore the historical performance practices of the early modern theatre as well as contemporary productions on stage and screen - what would Shakespeare plays have look liked on stages around 1600? How can we reconstruct possible stagings from the playtext and information about historical playhouses? What does an 'original practice' production of Shakespeare at today's Globe theatre look like? And what happens when his plays are mixed with or entirely transferred to digital media, as in the case of 'lockdown Shakespeares' produced during the pandemic and screened on zoom? We will lay particular emphasis on a practical approach: we will develop production sketches for selected scenes, analyse recorded productions, and also learn how to write a theatre review.

Event Vergleichende Politik (Vorlesung)

615-023a / Course / 4,713

Description:

Business event contents:

Diese Veranstaltung setzt die zentralen Themen der vergleichenden Politikwissenschaft, die im Rahmen der Systeme und Theorien in einer breiten vergleichenden Perspektive dargestellt wurden, voraus und vertieft diese. Dabei baut die Vorlesung auf den vermittelten Inhalten der Systeme und Theorien auf und erweitert diese sowohl theoretisch als auch durch die Analyse einer Reihe von Fallstudien von Akteuren und Institutionen.

Das Semester wendet sich den Theorien der vergleichenden Politikwissenschaft zu, und wendet sie anhand von Länderanalysen an. Dabei werden vier theoretische Perspektiven erarbeitet: die makro- historische Soziologie, der Institutionalismus, die politische Kulturforschung und der "Rational Choice" Ansatz. Weitere Theorien (z.B. Systemfunktionalismus oder feministische Theorien des Staates) werden in der Einleitung ebenfalls vorgestellt. Diese theoretischen Ansätze bilden die Struktur für die Veranstaltung und werden anhand empirischer Untersuchungen zu den wichtigsten Elementen von politischen Systemen präsentiert (Parlamente, Föderalismus, direkte Demokratie, Parteien, Wahlsysteme, usw.). Klassische Texte werden als wöchentliche obligatorische Lektüre die Vorlesung begleiten.

Die Lehrveranstaltung betrachtet den Zeitraum von Mitte des 19.

Jahrhunderts bis heute, setzt sich aber nicht nur mit westlichen, demokratischen Industriestaaten auseinander, sondern auch mit der Demokratisierung von Schwellen- und Entwicklungsländern.

Event Reading Literary and Critical Theory: Group 2
440-550a / Seminar / 4,694

Description:

Business event contents:

Conceived as an intensive reading course, this seminar provides you with the theoretical and methodological training that is needed for the type of research you will undertake at the Master level. In our discussion of selected theoretical texts, we will define the theoretical concepts and trace the critical tropes and Denkfiguren these texts work with, as well as examine the ways in which they build and present their arguments. Structured into three sections - namely culture, gender and power - our programme will include theorists and critics such as Virginia Woolf, Sigmund Freud, Julia Kristeva, Judith Butler, Donna Haraway, Shoshana Felman, Roland Barthes and Michel Foucault. The seminar will be accompanied by an optional tutorial.

Notes:

The seminar papers will be due by Wednesday 12 February 2025.

Course Materials:

Participants are expected to own copies of the following texts (in any edition):

Freud, Sigmund. Civilization and Its Discontents. Norton: New York, 2010.

Woolf, Virginia. A Room of One's Own. London: Persephone Books, 2019.

I strongly recommend that you read one of the following introductions before the semester kicks off:

Barry, Peter. Beginning Theory. Manchester: Manchester University Press, 2017.

Culler, Jonathan. Literary Theory: A Very Short Introduction. Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2011.

Eagleton, Terry. Literary Theory. Third revised edition. Malden: Blackwell, 2010.

Event Demokratietheorien
615-032a / Course / 4,714

Description:

Business event contents:

Dieses Modul bietet eine Vertiefung im Bereich der Demokratieforschung an und besteht aus vier thematischen Blöcken. Der erste Block behandelt die grundsätzliche Frage, was Demokratien sind, woher sie kommen und wohin sie gehen. Hier werden also Prozesse der Demokratisierung, Konsolidierung und Autokratisierung sowohl in der Theorie als auch an praktischen Beispielen beleuchtet. Im zweiten Block gehen wir auf verschiedene Ausprägungen, Modelle und Visionen von Demokratie ein, wie beispielsweise partizipative, deliberative oder digitale Demokratie. Im dritten Block fokussieren wir uns auf die Rolle und Perspektiven von Bürger_innen in Demokratien und beschäftigen uns mit politischer Partizipation und demokratischen Einstellungen. Im letzten Block analysieren wir zukünftige Herausforderungen wie Krieg, Terrorismus, Klimawandel und interne Bedrohungen durch autoritäre Eliten und diskutieren mögliche Wege zur Stärkung und Erneuerung demokratischer Systeme.

Course Materials: Die jeweilige Literatur (Artikel aus Fachzeitschriften und Buchkapitel) werden im Syllabus angegeben und zugänglich gemacht.

Das Modul zielt auf eine politikwissenschaftliche Verortung, Analyse und Beurteilung des Schweizerischen politischen Systems und seiner Funktionsweise. Im Modul "Einführung in die Schweizer Politik" des ersten Studienjahres lernen die Studierenden die Grundbegriffe (Akteure und Institutionen) der Schweizer Politik kennen. Event Preparation for the Research Seminar: Electoral Institutions and Reforms
615-501a / Seminar / 4,725

Description:

Business event contents:

Electoral institutions impact the kind of politicians we elect, how voters behave, and the policies we pursue. This course trains students to answer questions like: Is there such a thing as optimal electoral institutions? Under what circumstances do countries change their institutions? And what differences in politics and policies do we expect to observe if electoral institutions are altered?

The course consists of three parts: the first gives students a broad introduction to the field of formal political institutions and the unique challenges we encounter when we study a phenomenon theorized as both a cause and consequence. The second covers various theories of electoral system choice, demonstrating the rich, ongoing debate on the topic. The last section introduces students to the various consequences of electoral system choice, such as minority representation and economic inequality.

Course Materials: This seminar does not use a textbook. Instead, we will read academic articles, and chapters from books, as well as newspaper articles and blog posts to cover the material.

Event Spezialisierung: Technologischer Wandel, soziale Transformation und politisches Verhalten
615I002a / Seminar / 4,738

Description:

Business event contents:

Der technologische Wandel verändert die Arbeitswelt, unser Sozialleben und wie wir uns politisch informieren und engagieren. Die Covid-19 Pandemie hat bereits vorhandene Transformationsprozesse in entwickelten Demokratien zusätzlich beschleunigt.

In diesem Seminar nutzen wir den neusten European Social Survey 2020-22, der einen Schwerpunkt auf digitale soziale Kontakte im Arbeits- und Familienumfeld legt, um u.a. folgenden Fragen nachzugehen:

- Wie erleben Individuen Veränderungen am Arbeitsplatz oder im sozialen und familiären Umfeld?
- Wie unterscheidet sich das für verschiedene Gruppen, etwa nach Alter, Geschlecht, oder Bildung?
- Wie hängen diese Erfahrungen von technologischem Wandel mit Aspekten des politischen Lebens zusammen, etwa mit Wahlverhalten und politischer Teilhabe, sozialem Vertrauen, oder Demokratiezufriedenheit?

Ziel ist es, dass die Studierenden in diesem Rahmen eine spezifische Forschungsfrage entwickeln und eigenständig eine Analyse in Form einer Bachelorarbeit erarbeiten.

Course Materials: Pflichtlektüre und Folien werden auf OLAT zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event Spezialisierung: Debatten, Diskurse, Dialoge - Politische Kommunikation in der Schweiz
615I004a / Seminar / 4,737

Description:

Business event contents:

Politik findet in Kommunikation statt, und Kommunikation ist auch irgendwie immer politisch. Politiker:innen, die Wahlversprechen machen; Plakate, die für Abstimmungen werben; Pressekonferenzen zu aktuellen Entwicklungen; Debatten im Parlament; der Einfluss von neuen Medien - aber auch die alltäglichen Diskussionen an Stammtischen und in Familien.

Doch wie funktioniert politische Kommunikation eigentlich? Wie beeinflussen das politische System und Weltanschauungen unsere Sprache? Welche rhetorischen Strategien werden benutzt, um Menschen zu überzeugen und bewegen? Welche Stimmen haben besonderes Gewicht und wie kann man Manipulationen erkennen und allenfalls vermeiden?

Diese Veranstaltung soll Grundkenntnisse der politischen Kommunikation vor allem in Bezug zur Schweiz vermitteln. Inhaltlich werden dabei mehrere Schwerpunkte gesetzt: wann und warum Kommunikation politisch wird; welchen Einfluss alte und neue Medien haben; wie politische Rhetorik funktioniert und wie man öffentliche Diskurse analysieren kann.

Wir werden uns zum Beispiel mit Rassismus beschäftigen, mit Metaphern, gendergerechter Sprache, Wahlkämpfen aber auch mit methodischen Ansätzen um etwa Bilder, Musik oder Architektur zu verstehen und erklären. Die Veranstaltung hat einen starken Anwendungsbezug, es geht also nicht nur um Theorien, sondern auch darum, wie wir politische Kommunikation analysieren, verstehen und kritisch hinterfragen können. Die Kompetenzen, die wir uns so aneignen, sind dann nicht nur in der Wissenschaft gefragt, sondern auch im Journalismus, in der Wirtschaft und insbesondere natürlich der Polit-Praxis.

Course Materials: Die Lektüre wird beizeiten bekanntgegeben. Sie setzt sich zusammen aus Lehrbüchern und konkreten Studien.

Description:

Business event contents:

Parliaments and legislative politics are at the core of representative democracy. In this course we will learn how political actors - Members of Parliaments, parties and governments - and legislative institutions - primarily committees and second chambers - structure policy making. We will discuss how electoral incentives shape these actors' preferences, how parties try to stay united, what factors influence government formation and how the committees can hold ministries in check. We will also touch on political careers, lobbying and party switching.

Event Von Armbruster bis Zimmermann: Bild- und Sachquellen zum mittelalterlichen Handwerk
640-502a / Seminar / 4,508

Description:

Business event contents:

Handwerker sind aus unserem Mittelalterbild ebenso wenig wegzudenken wie die materiellen Überreste ihrer Produkte, Herstellungsabfälle und Werkstätten aus dem archäologischen Fundmaterial. Auch Schrift- und Bildquellen liefern wertvolle Aufschlüsse über das mittelalterliche Handwerk, die mit dem archäologischen Fundmaterial abgeglichen werden müssen. Vom Früh- bis Spätmittelalter ist im Handwerk eine Tendenz von wenigen hochspezialisierten Handwerkszweigen und zahlreichen handwerklichen Generalisten zu meist zünftig organisierten, in der Regel hochspezialisierten Handwerken feststellbar. Diese Entwicklung und die Genese der Marktorte und städtischen Zentren sowie des neu erstarkenden Fernhandels bedingten sich gegenseitig, ein Prozess, der auch in der Frühen Neuzeit weiter andauerte. Die im Zuge dessen errungenen technologischen Fortschritte führten massgeblich zu der Welt, wie wir sie heute kennen. Gleichzeitig darf auch die soziale und politische Dimension des Handwerks ab dem Spätmittelalter nicht vergessen werden: die Organisation der Handwerker in Zünften trug zu ihrem Selbstbewusstsein bei, was zu einer verstärkten politischen Partizipation und diversen Handwerkerrevolten führte. Andererseits boten die Zünfte auch eine private Absicherung für ihre Mitglieder, welche mit die Basis für das moderne Vorsorge- und Versicherungswesen bildete. Das Seminar bietet einen interdisziplinären Ein- und Überblick über das mittelalterliche und frühneuzeitliche Handwerk mit Fokus auf Sachkultur und Produktion, ohne die historische Kontextualisierung zu vernachlässigen. Studierende anderer historischer Fachrichtungen sind herzlich willkommen.

Event Urban Biogeography

ESS721.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 3,652

Description:

Business event contents:

First, drivers of (urban) land change and ways to quantify current and projected future trends will be introduced. Second, the multifunctional consequences of land change will be reflected for a range of ecosystem services with particular focus on urban areas (e.g., densification and sprawl, urban heat, biodiversity, hazards, recreation). Third, nature-based solutions and blue-green infrastructure (BGI) as potential pathways to mitigate fragmentation and loss of spatially distributed habitat area and quality will be discussed. As the design and implementation of BGI remains not only a data and methods challenge but also asks for collaborative interactions among various actors across sectors, we require combined efforts of natural and social scientists to develop integrative BGI. To this end, we will introduce social-ecological networks (SEN) as a fourth topic to mitigate ecosystem service across rural-urban gradients.

The lectures will be complemented by homework and a term paper that is also presented in an in-class poster presentation. The term paper on a topic of the student's choice allows to develop and shape own research ideas and reflect on them in a supportive and constructive teaching environment.

Event Themenverläufe in digitalen Öffentlichkeiten
2541103a / Seminar / 3,536

Description:

Business event contents:

Medien haben u.a. die Aufgabe, Themen von öffentlichem Interesse aufzugreifen und der Gesellschaft zu vermitteln. Die Möglichkeiten über Themen zu berichten, wie auch das Interesse seitens des Publikums, sind jedoch begrenzt. Das führt dazu, dass Themen konstant in einen Konkurrenzkampf um Aufmerksamkeit stehen. In diesem Seminar werden zentrale Theorien, Erkenntnisse und neue Methoden der Forschung zu Themenverläufen vermittelt. Sie lernen, welche Faktoren die Medienberichterstattung bestimmen, wie Themen miteinander interagieren und wie die Digitalisierung die Dynamik der Themenaufmerksamkeit verändert. In praktischen Übungen werden wir Einblicke in Methoden zur Messung der Aufmerksamkeitsdynamik von Themen wie Klimawandel, Covid-19-Pandemie oder dem Krieg in der Ukraine gewinnen.

Event Automated Inequality
2541109a / Seminar / 289

Description:

Business event contents:

From racist chatbots to recruiting algorithms biased against women: Today, automated systems make crucial decisions about our lives. Often described as "black boxes," they are employed in finance, employment, politics, healthcare, social services, and other sectors. Now, computers, not people, determine which areas receive policing or who becomes the subject of fraud investigations. This data-driven approach affects everyone but disproportionately targets and scrutinizes those already at the intersection of multiple disadvantages. We will explore systems like predictive policing, ChatGPT, and surveillance technology to understand how they discriminate against specific user groups. We will discuss the reasons behind their design and what could be done to make them fairer and more inclusive.

Event Kooperative Lehrarrangements: Bedeutung für das Lernen der Schüler:innen und die unterstützende Funktion der Lehrpers
222KOU / Seminar / 2,041

Description:

Business event contents:

Sozial-interaktive, kooperative Lernformen sind im Schulunterricht sowohl Methode als auch Ziel. Sie vermitteln idealerweise nicht nur Wissen und Fertigkeiten in den Unterrichtsfächern, sondern auch soziale Kompetenzen und Fähigkeiten zur Selbstregulation und zum selbst gesteuerten Lernen.

Im Seminar werden etliche Formen kooperativer Lehrarrangements vorgestellt und ausprobiert. Dabei werden drei grundlegende Elemente dieser Inszenierungsformen hinterfragt, nämlich inwiefern die Aufgabenstellung der Tiefenstruktur des Verstehensinhaltes angepasst ist, welche Lernstrategien Lernende dabei erwerben, und welche Rolle die Lehrperson dabei innehat. Sich als Lehrperson bei der Unterstützung einzelner Lernender oder Kleingruppen anhand von zentralen Kriterien zu beobachten, ist zudem ein geeignetes Mittel, seine Unterrichtskompetenz zu verbessern

Event NT Seminar: Letters of John - Johannine Theology compact
15SS036 / Seminar / 2,556

Description:

Business event contents:

Mit guten Gründen wird die johanneische Theologie als Klimax der neutestamentlichen Theologie bezeichnet (Jörg Frey). Dabei denkt man allerdings in erster Linie an das vierte Evangelium. Die drei Johannesbriefe finden dagegen meist nur wenig Beachtung. Im Seminar sollen diese drei Briefe exegetisch und theologisch erschlossen und in ihrem Verhältnis zum Evangelium diskutiert werden. Dabei werden zentrale Themen wie das Christuszeugnis, die Liebe, Sünde und Sündenvergebung, der Geist und das Verhältnis der Gläubigen zur Welt behandelt.

Event KG Proseminar: Methoden

22LB005 / Proseminar / 1,859

Description:

Business event contents:

Die Predigt des Evangeliums gilt als Ausgangspunkt der Zürcher Reformation. Schon vor seinem Amtsantritt im Zürcher Grossmünster fasste der spätere Reformator Ulrich Zwingli den Plan, das Evangelium Christi zu predigen: "Ich stieg daher auf keine Kanzel, ohne mir die Worte, die jeweils am gleichen Morgen in der Messe als Evangelium gelesen worden waren, vorzunehmen und sie allein aufgrund der biblischen Schrift auszulegen." Aufgrund dieser neuen Form der Predigt entzündete sich Kritik gegenüber überkommener Tradition und Ordnung mit der Folge weitreichender Neugestaltung von Kirche, Staat, individuellem und gemeinschaftlichem Leben. Doch was genau verstanden Zwingli und seine Mitstreiter unter "Evangelium" und weshalb entfaltete die Predigt des Evangeliums eine derartige Sprengkraft? Diesen Fragen soll im Rahmen des Proseminars gemeinsam nachgegangen werden. Dabei wird zugleich erklärt, was historisches Arbeiten bedeutet. Anhand ausgewählter Quellentexte werden die grundlegenden Methodenschritte erarbeitet und die Fragestellungen der Kirchen- und Theologiegeschichte exemplarisch sichtbar gemacht sowie deren Bearbeitung vorgeführt.

Notes:

Das Proseminar ist so aufgebaut, dass parallel dazu eine kirchengeschichtliche, schriftliche Arbeit geschrieben werden kann.

23SV013 / Course / 3,154

Description:

Business event contents:

"Es kommt darauf an, das Hoffen zu lernen". In unseren Tagen scheint diese Einsicht des Philosophen Ernst Bloch so dringend wie nie. Die Vorlesung will der Kraft des Hoffens aus christlicher Perspektive auf den Grund gehen. Sie will deutlich machen, inwiefern die christliche Hoffnung den Menschen nicht aus der Welt fliehen lässt, sondern ihm Kraft und Mut gibt, sich für und in der Welt zu engagieren. Sie thematisiert vor dem Hintergrund dieser Dynamik die klassischen "letzten Dinge" wie Tod und Auferstehung, Prädestination und Allversöhnung, die Vorstellung von einem jüngsten Gericht, das Verhältnis von Zeit und Ewigkeit sowie die Gestalt des ewigen Lebens.

Event Complex Molecule Assembly
CHE436.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 567

Description:

Business event contents:

The goal of this course is to develop a detailed understanding of the tactics and strategies used in complex molecule assembly. Specifically, the students will learn to develop and refine hypotheses for the preparation of a complex natural product. The students will learn to apply their chemical knowledge in the context of the requirements posed by complex organic molecules, and students will learn to address different constraints encountered in such endeavors. Additional learning outcomes will be critical method selection in the context of the full range of methodology in organic synthesis, and the use of modern tools for route selection, both database-oriented and by machine learning. As part of the examination procedure, students will learn to analyze a complex molecule, and will develop a proposal for its synthesis. A term paper will be written by the students documenting their analysis, and the solution to the challenges given in the context of a potential synthesis of the target molecule. Submission of the term paper to the instructor within the deadline is required. The term paper will be graded based on Scientific content of the route selection (feasibility, originality, creativity), Scientific quality of the methods selection (feasibility, originality, creativity), and technical quality of the paper (style, format, spelling). A detailed orientation of the goals, learning outcomes, and the term paper examination will be given in the introductory lecture.

Event DR Lecture: Religion, Popular Culture, and Speculative Fictions
28SV000 / Course / 639

Description:

Business event contents:

This course will explore examples of the intersection of religion, popular culture and speculative fictions - including science fiction, horror, and fantasy. Employing approaches from literary criticism, narratology, and communication studies, this course will also look for expressions of the ideas discussed in the real world, drawing on ethnographic examples from fandom studies and the study of new religious movements. The kinds of intellectual properties considered include Star Trek, Star Wars, Harry Potter, World of Warcraft, Dungeons and Dragons, Game of Thrones, the books of Stephen King, and H.P Lovecraft. This course will empower students to explore their own research into the representations and reception of religion in speculative fictions and popular culture.

Event Lecture: Religion between Tradition, Innovation and Change
53SV004 / Course / 3,720

Description:

Business event contents:

Religion wird oft in der Nähe von Tradition gesehen, da in Religionen die Vergangenheit sowohl in der Form von Überlieferungen massgeblich ist und in Ritualen erinnert und reproduziert wird.

Gleichzeitig wandeln sich sowohl der Kontext religiöser Traditionen als auch diese Traditionen selbst.

Eine Theorie des religiösen Wandels, die es erlauben würde, diese Vorgänge zu analysieren und zu vergleichen, findet sich in der Literatur bisher noch nicht. Die Vorlesung arbeitet an dieser Lehrstelle und entwickelt einen entsprechenden theoretischen Ansatz. Dazu werden historische und gegenwärtige Fallbeispiele u.a. aus den Bereichen Zoroastrismus, Evangelikalismus und Islam betrachtet und in die Diskussion von theoretischen Konzepten eingebettet. Dies wird Antworten auf die Frage erlauben, wie religiöser Wandel möglich ist, wie er abläuft und was seine Konsequenzen sind.

Event Bewegte Kunst. Verflechtung von Künsten, Aktivismus und Populären Kulturen
506I002a / Seminar / 419

Description:

Business event contents:

Das BA-Seminar möchte den historischen und gegenwärtigen Verflechtungen zwischen Künsten, Aktivismus und populären Kulturen theoretisch und empirisch nachgehen. Es folgt zunächst der Beobachtung, dass in den letzten Jahren vermehrt der Anspruch hörbar ist, dass Künste gesellschaftspolitisch aktiv und wirksam sein sollen. Dieser Aufruf, dass sich Kunst einmischen soll, wird an Konzepten wie Activist Art, Participatory Art oder Engaged Art sichtbar. Welche Rolle die Kunst in gesellschaftlichen Prozessen spielt und ob sie transformatives Potential besitzt, sind Fragen, die sich durch ausgewählte Texte von Kulturtheoretiker*innen ziehen. So werden wir uns beispielsweise mit den britischen Cultural Studies beschäftigen und deren Überlegungen, dass künstlerische Interventionen auch deshalb einen wichtigen Ort in sozialen Bewegungen haben, weil es darin um die Irritation und Subversion, Verschiebung und Erweiterung von ästhetisch routinierten Arten und Weisen des Wahrnehmens, des Affiziert-Werdens und Imaginierens geht. Wir betrachten hier Kunst nicht nur als Monopol einer bestimmten Klasse oder Gruppe, sondern als sozio-kulturell verfügbares Instrument, das über die künstlerischen Institutionen hinausgehend mit und in Lebenswelten, verbunden sein kann.

Event Ethnografische Reflexivität. Von der Introspektion zur Gesellschaftskritik
506I510a / Exercise Group / 983

Description:

Business event contents:

Insbesondere im Zusammenhang von Debatten um «Identitätspolitik» oder «kulturelle Aneignung» wird gegenwärtig nicht nur darum gestritten, was gesagt wird, sondern auch wer etwas sagt. Die Konjunktur des Satzes «Wer darf für wen sprechen?» zeigt, dass bei der Aushandlung gesellschaftlicher Konflikte Unklarheit darüber herrscht, welche Relevanz der Positionalität von Individuen oder Kollektiven – wie sie sich biografisch, kulturell oder historisch verorten bzw. von anderen verortet werden – beigemessen werden sollte.

Diskussionen über den Status und die Rolle von persönlicher Erfahrung und Identität sind zwar zeitgemäss, aber keineswegs neu. In ihnen hallen Kontroversen wider, wie sie in ethnografisch forschenden Wissenschaften seit den späten 1970er Jahren intensiv geführt werden: Die Writing-Culture-Debatte drehte sich nicht nur um die Frage der angemessenen Darstellung der Forschungsergebnisse als Text. Die «Krise der Repräsentation» legte ebenso erkenntnistheoretische und ethische Dilemmata offen und lenkte den Blick auf Macht- und Ungleichheitsverhältnisse zwischen Forschenden und Beforschten, etwa bei der Konstruktion kultureller Differenz in der Wissensproduktion (othering).

Heute ist methodologische Reflexivität und Kritik fest im disziplinären Selbstverständnis der Empirischen Kulturwissenschaft verankert. Im Seminar widmen wir uns der Frage, wie Reflexivität im Forschungsprozess operationalisiert werden kann: Was bedeutet es, dass wir selbst das primäre «Instrument» der Generierung und Interpretation von Daten sind? Wie positionieren wir uns im Spannungsfeld zwischen Subjektivität und Objektivität? Welche Autorität haben wir als Ethnograf:innen und welche Verantwortung tragen wir für die Forschungsteilnehmer:innen? Wodurch wird akademisches Wissen «machtvoll» und welche (politischen) Effekte kann es zeitigen? Sollten wir zu gesellschaftlichen «Problemen» Stellung nehmen und wenn ja, auf welche Weise? Wie lässt sich ethnografische Selbsterkenntnis in eine kritische Gesellschaftsanalyse übersetzen?

Event Rebellion und Aufstandsbekämpfung in der Antike

600-001a / Seminar / 3,028

Description:

Business event contents:

Abwehr und Befreiung von Fremdherrschaft sind mindestens so alt wie die historische Überlieferung selbst. Gleiches gilt für die Versuche imperialer Zentren, Aufstände niederzuwerfen. Erfolg hierbei setzt ein zumindest grundlegendes Verständnis aufständischer Bewegungen, ihrer äßeren Voraussetzungen und inneren Entwicklungslogik voraus.

Ab der klassischen Antike können wir durch eine reichere literarische Überlieferung und eine breitere archäologische Evidenz den Verlauf bedeutender Aufstände, vor allem aber Selbst- und Fremdwahrnehmung entscheidender Akteure besser greifen. Besonders hervor treten hier Hellenismus und früher Prinzipat; in beiden Fällen bedrohen großräumige Integrationsprozesse lokale Identit entstehen aber auch durch grenznahen Austausch neue politische Dynamiken in vermeintlich unterlegenen Gruppen am Rande übermächtiger Imperien. Aus dem Zeitbereich der Neuesten Geschichte schöpfend haben ebensolche postkoloniale Erfahrungen im Bereich der Konfliktforschung das eigene Feld der "Counter-Insurgency Studies" hervorgebracht. Theoriebildend waren dabei insbesondere die Konflikte der Vereinigten Staaten in Südost- und Südwestasien.

Der andauernde Abwehrkampf der Ukraine gegen den Untergang in einem russischen Imperium unterstreicht ebenso wie die russisch-iranische Vernichtung des Aufstandes gegen die Diktatur Bashar al-Assads die brennende Aktualität des Forschungsgegenstandes.

Ziel dieses Methodenseminars ist die Prüfung maßgeblicher Theorien der "Counter-Insurgency Studies" bzgl. ihrer Anwendbarkeit auf antike Evidenz.

Hierzu werden einzelne Fallstudien zunächst erschlossen und im zweiten Schritt exemplarisch untersucht. Besonderer Fokus wird hierbei auf den Makkabäern, Germanien und jüdischen Aufständen gegen römische Besatzung liegen. Im Mittelpunkt steht dabei die Sensibilisierung für die Herausforderungen epochenübergreifender Vergleiche, sowie die Befähigung zu selbstständiger Thesenbildung auf Basis des verfügbaren Quellenmaterials.

Notes:

Der Leistungsnachweis für das Methodenseminar besteht aus der Seminararbeit (75%) und einem ergänzenden Referat zu einer der Sitzungen (25%). Die Seminararbeit ist bis zum 10.06.25 abzugeben.

Event "Ihr habt gehört, gesehen, gelitten. Nun urteilt." Die Gesellschaft des klassischen Athen vor Gericht
600-003a / Seminar / 5

Description:

Business event contents:

Die Gerichtshöfe im klassischen Athen waren mit Laienrichtern besetzt, die durch Los aus einer Gruppe freiwilliger männlicher Bürger bestimmt wurden. Sie entschieden über die alltäglichen Streitigkeiten zwischen Nachbarn, Familien, Eheleuten, politischen Gegnern oder Geschäftspartnern. Involviert waren Bürger und Bürgerinnen, Fremde, Freie wie Unfreie. Mit allen rhetorischen Mitteln und nicht immer der Wahrheit verpflichtet, versuchten die Prozessgegner mit ihren Anklage- und Verteidigungsreden, die Richter von der eigenen Sicht zu überzeugen. «Ihr habt gehört, gesehen, gelitten. Nun urteilt.» sind die abschliessenden Worte eines Anklägers an die Laienrichter. Seine und andere erhaltene Gerichtsreden aus dem 5. und 4. Jh. v. Chr. geben Einblicke in die vielfältigen Konflikte in Athen, die zugrundeliegenden Einstellungen und Normen.

Wie lassen sich die Gerichtsreden als historische Quellen verwenden? Ausgehend von dieser Frage werden wir anhand ausgewählter Reden (in Übersetzung) sozial- und kulturgeschichtliche Fragen zur Gesellschaft Athens diskutieren sowie Aspekte der Geschlechter-, Religions- und Wirtschaftsgeschichte in den Blick nehmen.

Event Gruppe 10: Lebenswelten des Haushalts
600-007a / Seminar / 369

Description:

Business event contents:

Dieses Proseminar beschäftigt sich mit dem Haushalt als Ort des Zusammenlebens und als ökonomische Einheit. Einerseits werden dabei die sozialen Gruppen, ihre häuslichen Praktiken und die Räumlichkeiten beleuchtet, die sie beherbergen. Räume des Zusammenlebens sind Orte des Schutzes, des Konfliktes, sie schliessen Personen ein oder aus, sie prägen und strukturieren das Leben ihrer Bewohnenden durch ihren Aufbau und ihre Materialität. Gleichzeitig sind Wohnräume Orte verdichteter sozialer Beziehungen, in denen mithilfe von moralischen und rechtlichen Normen das Zusammenleben reguliert und organisiert wird. Andererseits werden Mechanismen der wirtschaftlichen Produktion, des Konsums und des Austauschs betrachtet, die sich innerhalb dieses Beziehungsgeflechts abspielen. Die Verteilung von Ressourcen sowie der Zugang zu Informationen, Gütern und Arbeitsmärkten sind dabei eng an interne Hierarchien gebunden, die wiederum von der Positionierung in externen Netzwerken abhängen. Vorstellungen von Familie, Expertise und Mode beeinflussen hierbei Praktiken des Austauschs, Transportierens und Zahlens.

Genauso wie sich Wohnräume architekturhistorisch verändert haben, haben sich auch die Lebenswelten ihrer Bewohner*innen verändert. So differenzieren sich ab der Frühen Neuzeit, die den zeitlichen Schwerpunkt des Proseminar I bildet, Räume anhand der in ihnen praktizierten Tätigkeiten aus. In gehobenen Kreisen pflegt man die Hygiene in Bade- und Ankleideräumen, beherbergt Gäste in Gästezimmern und studiert in der eigenen Bibliothek. Soziale Tätigkeiten, die privat wie öffentlich wirken, sind also eng mit den Orten ihrer Ausführung verknüpft. Das Proseminar II befasst sich insbesondere mit Veränderungen in Konsum und Handel von Gütern, wobei der Einfluss des transatlantischen Dreieckhandels ebenso diskutiert wird, wie die kolonialen Bestrebungen von europäischen Handelskompanien im Indischen Ozean und Pazifik. Das Thema «Lebenswelten des Haushalts» soll im Rahmen des Basismodul I ins geschichtswissenschaftliche Arbeiten einführen, indem Lese- und Recherchetechniken, Zitierformen und die Arbeit mit wissenschaftlichen Texten und historischen Quellen geübt und gefestigt werden.

Event Arbeit im Mittelalter
600-012a / Seminar / 231

Description:

Business event contents:

Neue Ansätze zur Geschichte der Arbeit im Mittelalter orientieren sich an Gegenwartsdebatten. Sie fragen, wie mittelalterliche Gesellschaften das Problem der Carearbeit lösten, ob sich Arbeit am Ende des Mittelalters aus Beziehungskontexten (des Hauses, der Herrschaft, des Dienstes) herauslöste, wieso sich Lohnarbeit und ein neues Arbeitsethos und Polemiken gegen selbstverschuldete Armut durchsetzen und warum sich die Sklaverei in den letzten Jahrhunderten des Mittelalters in Europa wieder stark ausbreitete. Wir versuchen innerhalb dieser Fragestellungen Problemstellungen für eigene kleine Forschungsprojekte zu entwickeln und diese an Quellenbeispielen umzusetzen.

Event Das Frühmittelalter als Zeitalter der Gewalt? Modi der Konfliktaustragung in der Merowingerzeit
600-014a / Seminar / 644

Description:

Business event contents:

Der Klappentext im Buch «Die Merowinger. Europa vor Karl dem Grossen» von Patrick J. Geary beginnt folgendermassen: «Kaum eine andere Epoche der europäischen Geschichte ist so sagenumwoben und legendenverhangen wie jene Jahrhunderte, an deren Ende mit Karl dem Grossen die erste Symbolgestalt eines neuen Europa die welthistorische Bühne betritt.

Blutrünstige Barbaren und herrschaftsmüde Römer bevölkern eine vage historische Erinnerung, in die sich das Geschlecht der Merowinger vornehmlich durch die hervorstechenden Merkmale der Dummheit, Feigheit und Impotenz eingeschrieben hat.» Ist also das europäische Frühmittelalter ein Zeitalter der Gewalt? Im Seminar soll anhand einschlägiger Quellenbeispiele nach Möglichkeiten, Modellen und Entwicklungen im Bereich der Konfliktaustragung in der Merowingerzeit gesucht werden.

Event Kindheiten in der europäischen Geschichte des 20. Jahrhunderts
600-023a / Seminar / 1,886

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Seminar fokussiert auf die Frage, was "Kindheit" während des 20.

Jahrhunderts unter den Bedingungen unterschiedlicher politischer Systeme bedeutete. In den Blick genommen werden dabei sowohl die sich wandelnden Konzepte von Kindheit, die politische Entscheidungen und soziale Realitäten prägten, als auch die Erfahrungen von Kindern, die sich abhängig von Geschlecht oder auch Herkunft gleichwohl deutlich unterscheiden konnten.

24SV020 / Course / 2,638

Description:

Business event contents:

Religionspädagogik und -didaktik sind Teildisziplinen der Praktischen Theologie und damit Teil eines theologischen Faches, das einerseits auf enge Verzahnung mit den anderen (theologischen) Disziplinen angewiesen ist und andererseits im Kontext soziokultureller Bedingungen, pädagogischer, entwicklungspsychologischer und sozialer Wirkungszusammenhänge sowie professionsbezogener Überzeugungen betrachtet werden muss. Die Vorlesung bietet einen Überblick über die für die Religionspädagogik wichtigen Themenfelder und Diskussionen. Es werden entscheidende wissenschaftliche, historische und aktuelle religionspädagogische Weichenstellungen sowie religionsdidaktische Entwicklungslinien aufgezeigt. Religionspädagogische Theoriebildung zielt darauf, die gegenwärtige Religionspraxis in pluralen Kontexten von Kirche, Schule, Familie und Gesellschaft zu erschließen. Nach einer grundlegenden wissenschaftstheoretischen Einführung bietet die Vorlesung einen mehrperspektivischen Überblick über die Grundfragen der Religionspädagogik - u.a. unter Rückgriff auf psychologische Theorien religiöser Entwicklung, die Frage nach religiöser und ethischer Bildung und empirische Befunde zu den Bedingungen religiöser Lernprozesse. Darüber hinaus werden konkrete Anregungen für die religionspädagogische Praxis gegeben.

Event Écrire la fin d'un monde: la littérature face aux bouleversements sociétares
390I023a / Exercise Group / 3,877

Description:

Business event contents:

La littérature fait face, dans de nombreuses œuvres, à la fin de mondes.

La fin de sociétés, comme après la Révolution française ou l'époque napoléonienne, la fin de modes de vie, comme lors du passage à la société moderne, ou à l'époque de la globalisation. Entre scénarios du désastre, dans la science-fiction ou les dystopies, émotion face au changement, propositions de constitution ou reconstitution d'un ordre nouveau potentiellement révolutionnaire, toutes sortes de démarches artistiques s'emparent du sujet.

Lors de cet atelier collaboratif, les encadrants et les étudiants procéderont de manière commune au choix de textes sur le sujet. Des périodes allant du 18^{ème} siècle à l'époque contemporaine pourront être abordées, ainsi qu'une large diversité de genre littéraires, selon les intérêts des participants. Nous procéderons à l'exploration de ces textes et des enjeux qui leur sont communs. L'accent sera mis sur le développement des capacités d'analyse et de collaboration face aux textes littéraires, de largeur de la vision aussi bien que de canalisation de la réflexion. Les encadrants suivront de près les étudiants, dans l'acquisition de la méthodologie aussi bien que dans la rédaction d'un travail écrit.

Course Materials: A définir en cours avec le groupe. Les étudiants sont encouragés à réfléchir dès avant le cours aux œuvres qui pourraient les intéresser en ce contexte

390I026a / Course / 71

Description:

Business event contents:

L'objectif principal de ce cours est de se familiariser avec divers aspects de l'acquisition de la morphosyntaxe par les apprenants de français et d'examiner comment les résultats rapportés sur l'acquisit du français contribuent à faire avancer notre compréhension de la nature des connaissances linguistiques chez les enfants. Le cours se concentre sur différents domaines d'acquisition, tel que l'acquisition de la morphologie flexionnelle et du placement du verbe, l'acquisition des sujets et des objets pronominaux, ainsi que l'acquisition de structures plus complexes (questions wh et phrases relatives). Le processus d'acquisition de ces phénomènes sera comparé à travers différentes situations d'apprentissage (acquisition chez les enfants monolingues et bilingues, ainsi que chez les enfants souffrant de troubles du développement du langage).

Course Materials: Le matériel pour le cours sera mis à jour régulièrement sur OLAT.

Event Che cos'è l'ecocritica?

410-014a / Seminar / 514

Description:

Business event contents:

Attraverso un'introduzione teorico-metodologica all'ecocritica il seminario si prefigge di mettere in evidenza la capacità delle opere letterarie di veicolare contenuti rilevanti per la nostra consapevolezza etico-ambientale e, nel contempo, di sollecitare una riflessione critica nei confronti dei tradizionali paradigmi interpretativi. Si tratterà di concepire una chiave di lettura transdisciplinare, che pone la letteratura in relazione con diversi altri ambiti del sapere, tra cui la filosofia, l'antropologia e la biologia.

Durante le prime sedute verranno fornite le nozioni teoriche e le coordinate storiche necessarie a inquadrare l'approccio ecocritico ai testi letterari. Nella seconda parte del semestre le studentesse e gli studenti saranno poi chiamate/i a confrontarsi in prima persona con l'applicazione di quanto appreso ad un corpus di opere della letteratura italiana moderna.

Course Materials: I materiali di studio (programma dettagliato, saggi critici, bibliografia e materiali utili alla preparazione delle lezioni e dei lavori scritti) verranno messi a disposizione anticipatamente sulla piattaforma OLAT che accompagna il seminario. Manuali di riferimento e letture destinate all'approfondimento dei singoli temi sono a disposizione presso il Romanisches Seminar.

Event L'«Orlando Innamorato» e il Rinascimento a Ferrara
410I034a / Course / 2,070

Description:

Business event contents:

In questo corso studieremo l'«Orlando Innamorato» del conte Ma Boiardo. Dedicato dal suo autore «a lo illustrissimo signor Hercule duca de Ferrara», il poema narra la storia dell'innamoramento del paladin Orlando per la principessa saracena Angelica. Nell'inseguirla, Orlando lascia lo spazio epico della guerra di religione nel quale la secolare tradizione delle storie caroline lo aveva sostanzialmente confinato, per entrare nello spazio romanzesco dell'amore e dell'avventura caratteristico delle storie arturiane; e subisce una trasformazione che, com'è stato detto negli studi critici, avrà un impatto senza precedenti nella storia della letteratura cavalleresca italiana. Composto al tempo del massimo splendore della corte estense e improvvisamente interrotto all'inizio dell'età delle "guerre d'Italia", il capolavoro di Bo continua ancora oggi ad appassionare gli studiosi. In queste lezioni leggeremo le sue pagine più significative, e al contempo seguiremo la storia singolare della sua fortuna e sfortuna critica in un'epoca di grandi mutazioni.

Course Materials: Tutte le necessarie indicazioni bibliografiche saranno fornite nel corso delle lezioni. Vari materiali saranno messi a disposizione delle studentesse e degli studenti sulla piattaforma OLAT.

Event Un'immensa cattedrale sognata: l'opera di Elsa Morante
410I035a / Course / 3,651

Description:

Business event contents:

Con suoni e ritmi inconfondibili, la prosa d'arte di Elsa Morante s'insinua nei grandi temi storico-sociali del Novecento, penetrando nel contempo l'intimità delle esistenze individuali e dando luogo ad un'opera in cui sogni e corpi si contendono il dominio del reale. In questo corso si esamineranno le principali tappe della produzione di Elsa Morante, dagli esordi di marca prettamente onirica - efficacemente testimoniata nel "Diario 1938" e sfociata nei racconti di "Il gioco segreto"(1941) e nel genere della fiaba - alla fase che, nell'immediato dopoguerra, segna il primo esperimento con la forma del romanzo ("Menzogna e sortilegio", 1948). A testimoniare del respiro mitico che attraversa le pagine della scrittrice si discuteranno poi l'edipica "Isola di Arturo" (1957), la peculiare visione del mondo di chi è votato all'emarginazione nel "Mondo salvato dai ragazzini" (1968), la drammatica visceralità di "La Storia" (1974) e la maternità ripudiata di "Aracoeli" (1982). Il corso prevede la possibilità di partecipare ad un convegno su E. Morante che avrà luogo il 22 novembre 2024 a Losanna (informazioni dettagliate seguiranno su OLAT).

Course Materials:

Gli scritti dell'autrice sono raccolti in: E. MORANTE, "Opere", a cura di Carlo Cecchi e Cesare Garboli, Milano, Mondadori, 1988-1994, 2 voll. [I Meridiani]. Saggi critici e altri materiali destinati all'approfondimento verranno messi a disposizione delle e dei partecipanti sia in biblioteca, sia sulla piattaforma OLAT.

Event "Volgarizzare e tradurre": traduzioni e rimaneggiamenti nella letteratura italiana (secc. XIII-XVI)
4101579a / Seminar / 6

Description:

Business event contents:

Il "volgarizzamento", ossia la traduzione libera che rimaneggia il testo di partenza, è un fenomeno di importanza centrale per la storia letteraria e culturale, ma anche per lo sviluppo della lingua e della prosa italiane. Dal Due al Cinquecento i volgarizzamenti hanno svolto un ruolo decisivo nella diffusione di testi e di conoscenze in campi diversissimi che spaziano dalla cultura antica al sapere scientifico e alla letteratura francese medievale. Rappresentano pertanto un campo particolarmente fecondo e stimolante per la storia letteraria e culturale. Nel seminario verranno analizzati volgarizzamenti di testi letterari, ma anche di testi storici, filosofici e scientifici. Si studiano le tecniche di traduzione, la tipologia del rimaneggiamento e il contesto culturale dei volgarizzamenti.

Course Materials: Si consiglia la lettura di G. Folena, Volgarizzare e tradurre, Torino, Einaudi, 1994
L'elenco dei volgarizzamenti tra cui scegliere per la presentazione e il lavoro scritto verrà caricato prima dell'inizio del semestre su OLAT.

Event Identität und Privatheit im Wandel
2541121a / Seminar / 1,649

Description:

Business event contents:

Wir hinterlassen jederzeit und überall Datenspuren - teils freiwillig, teils unfreiwillig. Was bedeutet es für Individuum, Staat und Gesellschaft, wenn wir zunehmend zu «gläsernen Menschen» werden? Wie wirkt sich die öffentliche und private Überwachung auf die Integrität der Kommunikation aus? Muss der Schutz von Privatheit und Identität vor dem Hintergrund dieser Entwicklungen neu konturiert werden? Das Forschungsseminar befasst sich mit diesen und weiteren Fragen zum Wandel von Identität und Privatheit im Kontext der Digitalisierung. Dabei werden historisch gewachsene Vorstellungen von Privatheit betrachtet und aktuelle politische Debatten rund um den Datenschutz und die digitale Identität in der Schweiz und im Ausland analysiert.

Event Das Recht von Kindern mit Behinderungen auf Bildung
226I541a / Seminar / 645

Description:

Business event contents:

Integration vor Separation – was bedeutet das? Und ist das schon Inklusion? Im Seminar werden wir ausgehend von Grundsätzen wie Menschenwürde, Selbstbestimmung und Teilhabe das Ziel der inklusiven Bildung gemäss der UNO-Behindertenrechtskonvention diskutieren. Wir werden uns mit aktuellen Entwicklungen in der Schweiz beschäftigen und dabei insbesondere folgende Fragen diskutieren:

- Welche nationalen und internationalen Gesetze und Konventionen enthalten das Recht auf inklusive Bildung, und wie werden sie in der Schweiz umgesetzt?
- Welche Rechte haben Schüler*innen mit Behinderungen und ihre Eltern, wenn es um den Zugang zu inklusiver Bildung geht?
- Welche Rolle spielen Lehrpersonen, Bildungsverwaltungen und Schulbehörden bei der Umsetzung der gesetzlichen Vorgaben?
- Welche (rechtlichen) Massnahmen können ergriffen werden, wenn Inklusion in Schulen nicht ausreichend umgesetzt wird?

Für den Besuch des Seminars sind keine rechtlichen Vorkenntnisse nötig, wir bauen das Wissen Schritt für Schritt auf. Sei dabei und gestalte eine inklusive Zukunft aktiv mit!

Course Materials: Wir lesen unterschiedliche Texte und Gerichtsentscheide, die im Kontext der UNO-Behindertenrechtskonvention stehen und sich mit dem Recht auf inklusive Bildung beschäftigen.

Event Fachdidaktik Philosophie III
090Phi3 / Seminar / 1,118

Description:

Business event contents:

Textarbeit, Begriffsanalyse und Gespräch stehen traditionellerweise im Zentrum des gymnasialen Philosophieunterrichts, so dass ein im weitesten Sinne hermeneutisches Paradigma vorherrscht, unabhängig vom bestimmenden Bild von Philosophie oder von der thematischen Ausrichtung. Demgegenüber wollen wir im Kurs andere Zugänge kennen lernen, die von diesem Paradigma abweichen oder es ergänzen. Wir werden sie gemeinsam diskutieren und damit experimentieren. Sie lassen sich in den Aktivitäten Sehen, Hören, Schreiben, Zeichnen, Spielen zusammenfassen.

Notes:

Die Veranstaltung am 26.09.24 wird online durchgeführt.

Voraussetzung für die Teilnahme ist, dass Interessierte bereits das erste, allenfalls auch beide Semester des Grundkurses in allgemeiner Philosophie-Fachdidaktik besucht haben (Fachdidaktik I und II). Regelmässige Präsenz in der Lehrveranstaltung wird erwartet.

Description:

Business event contents:

In dieser Veranstaltung werden anhand konkreter Fallbeispiele aus dem Unterricht an Berufsfach- und Berufsmaturitätsschulen pädagogische Prozesse analysiert. Hierbei steht einerseits die Biografie der Lehrperson andererseits die spezielle Situation des Berufslernenden im Vordergrund. Lern- und Sozialisationsprozesse werden diskutiert, Theoriewissen vertieft und durch Erfahrungswissen und Handlungsoptionen aus der Praxis ergänzt. Das Erkennen von Ressourcen bei den Berufslernenden und deren Unterstützung und Förderung bilden wichtige Bestandteile der Veranstaltung. Der Heterogenität (kulturell, schulisch, individuell) wird besondere Beachtung geschenkt und das Individuum ins Zentrum gestellt.

Description:

Business event contents:

In dieser Veranstaltung werden anhand konkreter Fallbeispiele aus dem Unterricht an Berufsfach- und Berufsmaturitätsschulen pädagogische Prozesse analysiert. Hierbei steht einerseits die Biografie der Lehrperson andererseits die spezielle Situation des Berufslernenden im Vordergrund. Lern- und Sozialisationsprozesse werden diskutiert, Theoriewissen vertieft und durch Erfahrungswissen und Handlungsoptionen aus der Praxis ergänzt. Das Erkennen von Ressourcen bei den Berufslernenden und deren Unterstützung und Förderung bilden wichtige Bestandteile der Veranstaltung. Der Heterogenität (kulturell, schulisch, individuell) wird besondere Beachtung geschenkt und das Individuum ins Zentrum gestellt.

Event Im Schatten der Aufklärung. Die dt. Literatur des 18. Jahrhunderts
360-117a / Course / 1,652

Description:

Business event contents:

Im Sinne einer literarhistorischen Vertiefung widmet sich die Vorlesung der deutschsprachigen Literatur des 18. Jahrhunderts von den Anfängen in der Frühaufklärung, über die Epochen der Empfindsamkeit und des Sturm und Drang bis hin zur Etablierung eines klassizistischen Kunstverständnisses bei Karl Philipp Moritz, Friedrich Schiller und Johann Wolfgang Goethe. Die bedeutendsten Werke, Gattungen und Autoren dieser Zeit sollen nicht nur mit Blick auf das poetologische Selbstverständnis der jeweiligen Strömung, sondern auch im Zusammenhang der ideen- und mentalitätsgeschichtlichen, kulturellen und sozialen Veränderungen beleuchtet werden, die im 18. Jahrhundert von so fundamentaler Bedeutung sind, dass sie die moderne Welt- und Selbstwahrnehmung bis heute noch prägen und nichts von ihrer Aktualität eingebüßt haben. Wenn die Literatur dabei 'im Schatten der Aufklärung' betrachtet wird, dann geschieht dies vor dem Hintergrund der Prämisse, dass der literarische Diskurs das philosophische und soziale Projekt im 'Zeitalter der Vernunft' nicht einfach nur begleitet und veranschaulicht, sondern insofern reflektiert, als sie allenthalben auch die problematischen und dunklen Seiten dieses Projekts hervorkehrt. Als Motto der Vorlesung kann in diesem Sinn ein ebenso emblematischer wie ambiger Ausspruch Francisco de Goyas dienen: »El sueño de la razón produce monstruos« ('Der Schlaf/Traum der Vernunft gebiert Ungeheuer').

Notes:

Die Vorlesung findet in Präsenz statt und bietet den notwendigen fachlichen Hintergrund für die Begleitseminare in diesem Modul.

Course Materials: Der Vorlesungsplan mit Angabe der besprochenen Literatur wird rechtzeitig vor dem Vorlesungsbeginn auf OLAT bereitgestellt.

Event Im Ausnahmezustand: Kleists Erzählungen
360-117a / Seminar / 1,651

Description:

Business event contents:

Heinrich von Kleist (1777-1811) kann in vielerlei Hinsicht als Ausnahmeerscheinung der deutschen Literatur gelten. Nicht nur sprengt er die gängigen Muster der Literaturgeschichte, weil er sich in die poetischen Strömungen seiner Zeit zwischen Klassik und Romantik wie ein Außenseiter Solitär nicht einordnen lässt. Auch ist die Welt, von der sein Werk erzählt, eine »Welt im Ausnahmezustand« (M. Schneider). Immer wieder berichtet Krieg und Krisen, von Revolten und Revolutionen, von Grenzerfahrungen und Extremsituationen, durch die vertraute Ordnungen von Recht und Politik, aber auch von Moral und Natur aufgehoben scheinen und radikal in Frage gestellt werden. Lesbar werden diese poetischen Ausnahmezustände nicht nur als Reflex auf die sozialen, politischen und sonstigen Erschütterungen, die in der zweiten Hälfte des 18. Jahrhunderts mehr und mehr das Projekt der Aufklärung in die Krise manövrieren. Sie sind auch als Vorboten einer Poesie lesbar, die sich in der Moderne programmatisch anschiebt, mit den traditionellen Regeln der literarischen Produktion zu brechen, um ihr Innovationspotenzial gerade aus der Aufhebung hergebrachter Konventionen (des Redens und des Erzählens) zu schöpfen. Wir werden uns im Seminar auf das narrative Werk dieses faszinierenden Dichters konzentrieren und seine »Poetik des Ausnahmezustands« auch mit aktuellen Theorien des Politischen ins Verhältnis setzen (Foucault, Agamben). Im Zentrum stehen kanonische Texte der deutschen Literatur wie Michael Kohlhaas, Die Marquise von O..., Das Erdbeben in Chili u.a., die eine aufmerksame und genaue Lektüre verlangen.

Event 'Haltung' in der Literatur (1930-2020)
360-112a / Seminar / 4,005

Description:

Business event contents:

Welche Haltung nimmt Literatur in Zeiten politischer Krisen ein? Und kann sie das überhaupt - können nicht nur Personen Haltungen einnehmen? Im Seminar untersuchen wir die inhaltlichen und formalen Möglichkeiten von literarischen Texten, engagiert zu sein. In den Fokus rücken dabei die ethischen Haltungen der Figuren ebenso wie die ästhetischen Haltungen der Texte, die von ihren Darstellungsverfahren abhängen. Die Beispiele führen von der Weimarer Republik über das "Dritte Reich" bis in die unmittelbare Gegenwart: Walter Benjamin, Bertolt Brecht, Ernst Jünger, Christian Kracht und Uwe Tellkamp. Im Zentrum stehen dabei u.a. Medientheorie, Fiktionstheorie, Diskursanalyse, Intertextualitätstheorie, Postcolonial und Critical Race Studies sowie Gender Studies.

Notes:

Grundlegende Kenntnisse in der Erzähltextanalyse und Dramenanalyse werden vorausgesetzt. Zur vorbereitenden Lektüre in dieser Hinsicht ist empfohlen: Matías Martínez, Michael Scheffel: Einführung in die Erzähltheorie. 11. Aufl.

Event Muster der digitalen Kommunikation
360-107a / Seminar / 2,541

Description:

Business event contents:

Unser sprachlicher Alltag ist durch und durch musterhaft organisiert - hiervon ist die digitale Kommunikation keineswegs ausgenommen: Ob im Rahmen verschiedentlicher Initialformate, im Kontext divergierender Kommentarspalten oder in weiteren häufig multimodal organisierten Online- Kommunikationszusammenhängen, bei genauerem Hinsehen lassen sich zahlreiche Routinen digitalen Kommunizierens identifizieren. Wir nehmen eine Auswahl dieser Muster - stets materialbasiert - genauer in den Blick. Zur theoretischen Fundierung beschäftigen wir uns nicht nur tiefergehend mit dem Musterbegriff, sondern diskutieren zudem einschlägige Konzepte der Digital Literacies Studies.

Gemeinsam erstellen wir (kleinere) Korpora digitaler Kommunikation und erforschen im Zuge von Gruppenarbeiten diese mit Blick auf das Wiederkehrende im multimodalen Miteinander.

Event Introduction to Neuroinformatics
INI401.1 / Course / 1,775

Description:

Business event contents:

This course considers the structure and function of biological neural networks at different levels. The function of neural networks lies fundamentally in their wiring and in the electro-chemical properties of nerve cell membranes. Thus, the biological structure of the nerve cell needs to be understood if biologically-realistic models are to be constructed. These simpler models are used to estimate the electrical current flow through dendritic cables and explore how a more complex geometry of neurons influences this current flow. The active properties of nerves are studied to understand both sensory transduction and the generation and transmission of nerve impulses along axons. The concept of local neuronal circuits arises in the context of the rules governing the formation of nerve connections and topographic projections within the nervous system. Communication between neurons in the network can be thought of as information flow across synapses, which can be modified by experience. We need an understanding of the action of inhibitory and excitatory neurotransmitters and neuromodulators, so that the dynamics and logic of synapses can be interpreted. Finally, the neural architectures of feedforward and recurrent networks will be discussed in the context of co-ordination, control, and integration of sensory and motor information in neural networks.

Event Readings in Neuroinformatics

INI431.1 / Seminar / 3,026

Description:

Business event contents:

It is a commonplace that scientists rarely cite literature that is older than 10 years and when they do, they usually cite one paper that serves as the representative for a larger body of work that has long since been incorporated anonymously in textbooks. Worse than that many authors have not even read the papers they cite in their own publications. This course, 'Foundations of Neuroscience' is one antidote. Thirteen major areas of research have been selected, which cover the key concepts that have led to our current ideas of how the nervous system is built and functions. Unusually, we will explore these areas of research by reading the original publications, instead of reading someone else's digested summary from a textbook or review. By doing this, we will learn how the discoveries were made, what instrumentation was used, how the scientists interpreted their own findings, and how their work, often over many decades and by many different scientists, linked together to generate the current view of mechanism and structure. We will also explore the personalities of the scientists and the context in which they made their seminal discoveries. To give one concrete example, in 1890 Roy and Sherrington showed that there was a neural activity-dependent regulation of blood flow in the brain. One hundred years later, Ogawa discovered that they could use Nuclear Magnetic Resonance (NMR) to measure a blood oxygen-level dependent (BOLD) signal, which they showed was neural activity-dependent. This discovery led to the development of human functional Magnetic Resonance Imaging (fMRI), which has revolutionized neuropsychology and neuropsychiatry. We will read both these original papers and explore the conceptual links between them and discuss the 'sociology' of science, which in this case, the pursuit of basic science questions over a century of research, led to an explosion in applications. Each week the course members will be given between 2 and 4 papers to read for homework and we will then meet weekly for an hour long interactive seminar. An intimate knowledge of the papers will be assumed so that the discussion does not center simply on an explication of the contents of the papers. Assessment will be done continuously as the individual students are asked to explain a figure, technique, or concept.

Event Rap - Rhetorik - Realness: Zur langen Geschichte des Sprechgesangs von Odysseus bis Sokee
360-516a / Colloquium / 3,020

Description:

Business event contents:

Keine andere aktuelle Form von Sprachkunst/Literatur wird so kontrovers bewertet wie die Lyrics der Rap-Kultur: Die Urteile reichen von pauschaler Verfemung bis zu kritikloser Verehrung. Jenseits aller Vorurteile gilt es aber zur Kenntnis zu nehmen, dass es aktuell keine andere Literaturform von der gesellschaftlich-medialen Allgegenwärtigkeit her mit derjenigen des Rap aufnehmen kann: Rap ist omnipräsent, und Rap äussert sich in komplexen, vielfältigen, oft mehrdeutigen Textpraktiken. Verehrt, verdammt, gefürchtet, geliebt: Das Suggestivpotential der Verbindung von Wort und Klang zieht sich als roter Faden durch die lange Geschichte der Poetik. Immer auch haftet dem Singen nebst dem unverkennbaren hohen erotischen Potential die doppelte Kodierung von Transzendenz zum einen und Tabubruch zum anderen unverbrüchlich an. Wo das Sprechen zum Singen wird, sagt es andere Dinge; und es sagt die Dinge anders. Der langen Geschichte einer Poetik des Sprechgesangs gehen wir in exemplarischen theoretischen und literarischen Lektüren gemeinsam nach. Nebst den Lyrics und den Videoclips aus dem zeitgenössischen Rap-Schaffen stehen dabei literarische und philosophische Texte aus unterschiedlichsten historischen und kulturellen Räumen im Zentrum unserer Arbeit, deren Gemeinsamkeit darin besteht, dass sie die dasjenige verhandeln, was wir heute zu den konstitutiven Elementen der Rap-Performance zählen.

Event Römisches Privatrecht I Gruppe 1
60PM5-1 / Course / 3,141

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Modul Römisches Privatrecht dient der Einführung in das Studium des Privatrechts. Entsprechend werden grundlegende Institute, wie Eigentum und Vertrag, Rechtsfiguren, wie Stellvertretung und Auftrag, und Rechtsprinzipien, wie Formalismus und Typenzwang, am historischen Beispiel vorgestellt und analysiert. Das Römische Privatrecht bildet die gemeinsame Grundlage der europäischen Privatrechtsordnungen und war auch für die Entstehung des schweizerischen Obligationenrechts und Zivilgesetzbuchs massgeblich, weshalb diese Regelungen ebenfalls vergleichend vorgestellt und gewürdigt werden. Im Einzelnen erhalten die Studierenden Einblick in die Institute und Prinzipien des Personenrechts, des Sachenrechts und vor allem des Obligationenrechts in Form des Vertrags- wie des Haftpflichtrechts. Ein besonderer Schwerpunkt liegt dabei auf der Analyse von römischrechtlichen Quellentexten (in deutscher Übersetzung), die bestimmte Problemlagen und Fallgestaltungen veranschaulichen und es erlauben, Gemeinsamkeiten und Unterschiede zwischen dem antiken römischen Recht und der heutigen Rechtslage zu erfassen und herauszuarbeiten.

Notes:

Inhaltlich sind die beiden Gruppen vollständig aufeinander abgestimmt und verwenden die gleichen Quellentexte (in Übersetzung). Beide Veranstaltungen finden in deutscher Sprache statt.

Zur Prüfungsvorbereitung wird auf die E-Learning-Plattform Lst. Babusiaux verwiesen.

Event Pippi, Mumin, Findus und Konsorten - Skandinavische Kinderliteratur
360-211a / Seminar / 2,764

Description:

Business event contents:

Kaum jemand von uns ist ohne Klassiker der skandinavischen Kinderliteratur wie die kleine Meerjungfrau, Pippi Langstrumpf, die Muminis oder Findus und Petterson gross geworden. Der Erfolg der skandinavischen Kinderliteratur beruht sicherlich auf der Tatsache, dass sie Kinder als Leser:innen ernst nimmt. Kinder werden somit nicht als Empfänger didaktischer Botschaften adressiert, sondern mit Texten konfrontiert, die an sich an der kindlichen Neugier und Kreativität auszurichten versuchen. Vor allem aber trauen sich skandinavische Kinderbuchautor:innen wie Hans Christian Andersen, Astrid Lindgren, Tove Jansson und Sven Nordqvist zu, Kinder mit 'ernsten' und herausfordern zu konfrontieren. Im Seminar werden wir uns mit der Besonderheit dieser skandinavischen Tradition auseinandersetzen, wobei wir neben thematischen Schwerpunkten auch auf die spezifische ästhetische Gestaltung der Kinderbücher eingehen werden. Es sollen aber auch Fragen über Imaginationen von Kindheit diskutiert werden, die entscheidenden Anteil daran besitzen, wie Kinderbücher geschrieben werden.

Course Materials: Eine Liste mit relevanter Primär- und Sekundärliteratur wird zu Beginn des Semester verteilt.

Event Warum der Hahn ein Sänger ist und dasHuhn zum Hahn gehört - Historische Wortbildung der germanischen Sprachen
360-507a / Seminar / 3,745

Description:

Business event contents:

Im Hühnerstall bezeichnet der Hahn das männliche Tier, doch wie nennt man das weibliche Pendant? Huhn oder Henne? Gibt es einen Unterschied? Warum sagt mein eigentlich nicht *Hahnin oder *Hähnin? Und weshalb lässt sich der Hahn morphologisch als "der Sänger" deuten? Fragen wie diese gehören in den Bereich der (historischen) Wortbildung. Im Seminar wollen wir uns v.a. aus historischer Perspektive diesem Teilbereich der Morphologie annähern und uns mit verschiedenen Fragen rund um die Wortbildung der germanischen Sprachen auseinandersetzen. Zumeist werden synchrone und einzelsprachliche Fallstudien den Ausgangspunkt von Diskussionen bilden, im Seminar soll aber die diachrone und vergleichende Perspektive im Zentrum stehen. In diesem Sinne wendet sich das Seminar an alle sprachgeschichtlich interessierten Studierenden. Kenntnisse altgermanischer Korpusssprachen sind von Vorteil, werden aber nicht vorausgesetzt.

Event Evolution and Biodiversity I

BIO113.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 1,003

Description:

Business event contents:

Dieser Kurs besteht aus zwei Teilen. Der erste Teil (donnerstags) führt in die Artenvielfalt lebender und ausgestorbener Wirbelloser und Wirbeltiere ein, wobei der Schwerpunkt auf makroevolutionären Mustern, morphologischer und ontogenetischer Evolution und Interaktionen zwischen den Arten liegt. Im zweiten Teil (der freitags unterrichtet wird) werden die evolutionären Konzepte vorgestellt, die jeder Biologe kennen sollte. Dazu gehören die Prozesse der Evolution auf dem phänotypischen und genetischen Niveau sowie die Evidenz der Evolution von Fossilien bis hin zur experimentellen Evolution. Bio113 bildet die Grundlage für EEE103 Evolution II und ist eng mit diesem abgestimmt. Im Praktikum werden Themen selektiv vertieft.

Event GEO 423 Political Geography
GEO423.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 120

Description:

Business event contents:

This graduate seminar explores contemporary issues of political geography with a particular emphasis on developing countries. A central concern is to familiarize students with the diversity of existing theoretical approaches and ongoing controversies about topics as diverse as civil wars, state collapse, environmental change or international development aid. Key questions at the centre of this course are: What are the spatial dimensions of international politics and how do political geography, political science and anthropology explain these phenomena? Which contemporary theoretical perspectives on the state, nature and multilocal solidarities confront each other? How can we explain development issues from a post-colonial viewpoint that integrates agency and structure, empirical fieldwork and more universal theories? What is the contribution of geography to foster a better understanding of complex development problems? Upon completion of the seminar, participants will have reflected upon the spatio-temporal dynamics of North-South politics, have dissected the complexity of nature-society relations, and will be familiar with major contributions of contemporary political geography. Students are asked to critically engage with these and other issues both during the seminar and in their writings. Practicing scholarly skills including academic writing, presentations and debating in class is a major seminar objective.

Course Materials: Lecture presentation and online literature on OLAT.

Event Gefühle in der japanischen Kulturgeschichte
290-122a / Seminar / 1,353

Description:

Business event contents:

Gefühle scheinen die natürlichste Sache der Welt zu sein. Freude, Trauer, Wut widerfahren uns einfach. Für ein erstes Erstaunen sorgt dann jedoch die Beobachtung, dass gar nicht klar ist, welche Gefühle wir eigentlich unterscheiden wollen. Es ist schwer zu sagen, ob z.B. die Eifersucht und der Ehrgeiz Gefühle sind. Listen von Gefühlen in Antike und Gegenwart, Ost und West zählen denn auch ganz unterschiedliche Beispiele für Gefühle auf. Wenn wir an Phänomene wie Trauerrituale denken, sehen wir zudem, dass Gefühle wesentlich durch menschliche Praktiken geprägt werden. Dies wollen wir mit Bezug auf Japan genauer analysieren. Wir werden untersuchen, welche Gefühle in Texten aus verschiedenen Epochen und Genres unterschieden worden sind, wie diese Gefühle genauer beschrieben werden, und mit welchen kulturellen Praktiken sie zusammenhängen. Ein komparativer Blick auf China und Europa wird unseren Blick für die Besonderheiten des japanischen Gefühlsdiskurses schärfen.

Event Non-Invasive Brain Stimulation for Neuroeconomics (S)
DOEC0530 / Doktorandenseminar / 2,598

Description:

Business event contents:

This course will introduce the non-invasive brain stimulation methods commonly used in neuroeconomic and cognitive neuroscience research. More specifically, the course will introduce transcranial magnetic stimulation (TMS), transcranial direct current stimulation (tDCS), and other forms of transcranial electric stimulation through a series of lectures and practical demonstrations. We will cover the basic physical principles of each technique, common forms of usage in empirical research, some landmark findings, and safety aspects. The aim of this course is to familiarize the students with these techniques so that they can start planning experiments that employ these techniques to address questions about causal brain-behavior relations.

Notes:

This course will take place in BLU-003 (Blümlisalpstrasse 10, 8006 Zürich).
If you wish to attend this course, please send an e-mail with your student ID number (Matrikelnummer) to cornelia.schnyder@econ.uzh.ch

Event The Economics of Human Capital (S)
22MO0100 / Seminar / 3,495

Description:

Business event contents:

This seminar examines (theoretically and empirically) the processes of skill (or human capital) formation throughout an individual's life. The theory of human capital applies generalized cost-benefit analysis to the investment in skills. In light of this theory, we will discuss in detail who would be willing to invest in socially productive skills, and under what conditions. Our discussion will not be limited to investments in cognitive skills (via investment in education, for example) but also will include investments in non-cognitive (or "soft") skills. We will examine the evidence about the relative importance of these skills to labor market outcomes and the optimal timing of investments.

Notes:

Please note, the number of students that can participate in this seminar is limited. To determine who is allowed to participate, each interested student will be asked to prepare a short assignment. Students who are interested in taking the seminar should e-mail Professor Segal (carmit.segal@business.uzh.ch) before September 16, 2024.

Course Materials: Papers will be distributed electronically.

Event Archaeological geophysics
683I011a / Seminar / 259

Description:

Business event contents:

The seminar offers a comprehensive introduction to the geophysical techniques commonly used in the detection of archaeological remains. The focus will be on both the theoretical foundations of specific methods, as well as on the practical skills required to use geophysical methods such as magnetometry, electrical resistivity, magnetic susceptibility, radar, electromagnetic induction, and ERT methods. Students will gain an understanding of the potential and limitations of each method's applications in various natural environments and specific archaeological sites. Additionally, they will be introduced to planning a geophysical survey of an archaeological site, understanding and evaluating geophysical literature, selecting equipment, basic processing procedures, and effectively interpreting survey results.

Notes:

QGIS, a free and open-source software, compatible with both MacOS and Windows operating systems will be utilized for processing and presenting geophysical data.

Course Materials: During the seminar, all readings related to archaeological geophysics will be accessible online, while some crucial texts can also be found in the library.

Event Von der Strategie zum Image - Geheimnisse erfolgreicher Markenkommunikation
254I061a / Course / 3,709

Description:

Business event contents:

Marken sind pure Psychologie. Sie malen gezielt Bilder in unsere Köpfe, erzeugen Emotionen, manipulieren und verführen. Welche Rolle spielen Marken im Konsumprozess? Warum bleiben wir Marken häufig ein ganzes Leben lang treu? Die Vorlesung erklärt den Wirkungsmechanismus erfolgreicher Marken und zeigt auf, wie sich die Spielregeln persuasiver Markenkommunikation in Zeiten von digitaler Transformation, Social Media und künstlicher Intelligenz verändern. Die Kombination aus theoretischen Modellen und aktuellen Praxisbeispielen verdeutlicht, warum wir als Konsumenten berechenbar sind. Neben theoretischem Basiswissen werden praktische Insights moderner Markenkommunikation vermittelt. Das erworbene Wissen wird mit erfahrenen Gastreferenten aus der Kommunikationsbranche vertieft.

Event Gender & the Internet
254I062a / Course / 1,355

Description:

Business event contents:

The goal of this class is to gain an understanding of gender-related issues in the digital era. We will be focusing on online media and platforms in terms of the producers and users as well as the content itself.

Our most important questions are: Who produces online media content and do different genders produce different kinds of content and in different contexts? What do users do or not do with media content, and how can it potentially influence their self-perceptions and their own agencies? What type of content is spread through online channels and what kind of reality does this portray or create? What, if anything, about the internet makes these phenomena different from offline phenomena? All of these questions, while having multiple dimensions, will be observed from a gender-perspective.

Event Grammatik und Pragmatik im Wandel
360-106a / Seminar / 1,516

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Seminar widmet sich historischen wie auch gegenwärtigen Wandelphänomenen im Bereich von Grammatik und Pragmatik: vom Entstehen des Perfekts über die Herausbildung neuer Subjunktionen bis hin zum Aufkommen von Partikeln wie "easy", "safe" und "fr" im jugendlichen Sprechen und Schreiben. Die Studierenden lernen zentrale Theorien und Methoden der Grammatikalisierungs- sowie Pragmatikalisierungsforschung kennen. Anhand ausgewählter Beispiele und stets material- bzw. korpusgestützt üben wir das empirische Arbeiten ein; hierzu sind Phasen der freieren Projektarbeit vorgesehen.

Event Variación Morfosintáctica en las Lenguas Iberorrománicas
427-011a / Seminar / 3,657

Description:

Business event contents:

El español y el portugués son lenguas habladas por un gran número de personas en diversas partes del mundo. No es de extrañar, por tanto, que existan diferentes formas de expresar lo mismo en esos distintos lugares. Por ejemplo, a la pregunta "¿Cómo estás?", algunos hablantes responderán "Bien, ¿y tú?", mientras que otros optarán por "Bien, ¿y vos?". Del mismo modo, algunas personas dirán que 'vieron' a su hermana hace dos días, mientras que afirmarán que la 'han visto' hace dos días. Este tipo de variación será el tema central de este seminario. A lo largo del semestre iremos ampliando nuestros conocimientos sobre conceptos de lingüística variacional. Además, abordaremos algunos fenómenos de variación específicos, basándonos en investigaciones actuales.

Course Materials: El material se pondrá a disposición del alumnado en OLAT.

Description:

Business event contents:

El tema de la relación entre lengua, género y sexo es uno de los más discutidos y controvertidos de las últimas décadas, en el ámbito de la lingüística, en la política y en la sociedad en general. En los debates que provoca este tema parece que solo reina el subjetivismo y que no hay espacio para análisis "neutros". Sin embargo, puesto que la tarea del análisis científico consiste en la búsqueda de la objetividad, pensamos que deberá haber perspectivas "frías" sobre este tema candente. A lo largo del semestre trataremos múltiples aspectos tanto lingüísticos como ideológicos, históricos y actuales, buscando siempre la perspectiva de la descripción "neutra" de los fenómenos, inclusive de las ideologías.

Event Voodoo, Jihad, Santa Fe: An den Grenzen der Französischen Revolution
600-507a / Seminar / 3,710

Description:

Business event contents:

Die Französische Revolution bzw. Kriege, die in ihrem Zuge ausbrachen, lösten ausserhalb Frankreichs sehr unterschiedliche Reaktionen aus. In letzteren kamen zum einen die Widersprüche und Grenzen der französischen Politik zum Ausdruck, zum anderen aber auch die tiefgreifenden Transformationsdynamiken, die durch die Revolution angestossen wurden. Mit diesem Themenfeld werden wir uns anhand von drei Beispielen auseinandersetzen: dem Aufstand der Versklavten in der französischen Karibikkolonie Saint-Domingue, dem Eroberungsfeldzug im osmanischen Ägypten sowie der neapolitanischen "Schwesterrepublik" in Süditalien.

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Seminar soll die verschiedenen Medien des Rechts im frühen Mittelalter und ihre Überlieferung betrachten. Dabei sollen die Kanones des kirchlichen Rechts ebenso betrachtet werden wie Formelsammlungen, Urkunden, Kapitularien und Gesetzestexte. Wie wurden die Rechtstexte vermittelt und bekannt gemacht? Wie weit reichte ihre Wirkung? Wie wurden sie den sich ändernden gesellschaftlichen Realitäten angepasst? Diese und weitere Fragen sollen anhand ausgewählter Quellentexte, die auch auf Deutsch zur Verfügung gestellt werden, und der Forschungsliteratur diskutiert werden.

Course Materials:

Event Gesundheit, Krankheit und Tod seit 1800: Begriffe, Konzepte und Methoden der Medizingeschichte
600-516a / Seminar / 1,471

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Seminar nimmt seinen Ausgangspunkt mit der Begriffsgeschichte der drei Leitkonzepte Gesundheit, Krankheit und Tod.

Die Medizingeschichte durchläuft seit dem Zweiten Weltkrieg theoretische Wandlungen, mit denen sich die Zugangsweise zum historischen Gegenstand radikal änderten. In den 1970er und 1980er Jahren fokussierte die Sozialgeschichte der Medizin auf die Gegenwartsherausforderungen - der Lebenserwartung, der sozialen Ungleichheit, der Rolle von Frauen in Medizin und Gesellschaft - und erforschte deren Geschichte in der Medizin. Es gelang, neue Quellenbestände wie etwa quantitative Informationen zu nutzen und es fand ein Abwenden vom innermedizinischen Diskurs und eine Hinwendung zu den Patient:innen und zu unterschätzten Berufsgruppen wie etwa Pflege statt.

Als zweite grosse Gruppe begannen sich Teile der Medizingeschichte, begründet durch Michel Foucaults Schriften, mit der Geschichte des medizinischen Wissens zu beschäftigen. So gelang es der Krankenhausgeschichte wegzukommen vom alten Modell, das Krankenhäuser als Orte der Medizin verstand, und sich hinzuwenden zu einer konsequenter Historisierung, die sozialpolitische und staatspolitische Motive klar benennen konnte. Eine dritte Tradition begann mit Esther Fischer-Hombergers "Krankheit Frau" (1979) und dem Versuch, Frauen in der Medizingeschichte sichtbar zu machen.

Damit begann eine zentrale Verschiebung der Medizingeschichte, weil immer klarer wurde, dass der Blick auf die medizinischen Schriften letztlich verdeckte, was im sogenannten "medical encounter" tatsächlich geschah. Im Hinblick auf die Geburtshilfe konnte die Geschichte zum Beispiel zeigen, wie lange die Bedürfnisse schwangerer Frauen von der Medizin vernachlässigt wurden.

Schliesslich stellte die vierte grosse Konzeptgruppe die Frage nach dem historischen Raum. Lange war die Medizingeschichte stark auf die westliche Medizin in den westlichen Ländern fokussiert. Dank Colonial und Postcolonial Studies versteht die Medizingeschichte heute viel besser, welche Bedeutung eine globale Perspektive hat, aber auch wie zentral Konzepte wie Rasse und Geschlecht die Ungleichheiten im Zugang und in der Entstehung wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse waren.

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Modul «Japanische Geschichte» umfasst eine Einführung in die ja Sozial-, Wirtschafts- und politische Geschichte sowie eine Einführung in die Kulturgeschichte Japans. Beide Einführungen bestehen aus je zwei Teilen:

1. einer Vorlesung, die als Podcast im OLAT zur Verfügung steht, und 2. einer Präsenzveranstaltung, in der Fragen zur Vorlesung besprochen und weiterführende Texte diskutiert werden. Die Präsenzveranstaltungen der Einführung in die Sozial-, Wirtschafts- und politische Geschichte und der Einführung in die Kulturgeschichte finden vierzehntäglich alternierend statt. Event Animalität und Literatur

504I563a / Seminar / 186

Description:

Business event contents:

Das Verhältnis zwischen Tier und Mensch ist in der abendländischen Tradition seit Aristoteles als das zwischen sprachlosem und sprachbegabtem Lebewesen festgelegt. Die Fraglosigkeit dieser Entgegensetzung, an der die Philosophie lange festgehalten hat, wird aber in der Literatur seit alters aufs Spiel gesetzt, weil die prekäre Grenze als Berührung der Sphären von Tier und Mensch, bis hin zu ihrer Überschreitung in der Metamorphose, eine der mächtigsten Quellen der poetischen Einbildungskraft darstellt. In neuerer Zeit haben auch Erkenntnisse der Biologie, etwa der Ökologie und der Verhaltensforschung, zur Verunsicherung der Grenze beigetragen, indem sie Elemente sprachähnlicher Organisation und Kommunikation im animalischen Leben nachgewiesen hat.

Event Erzählungen über die Ursprünge von Gottheiten (honjimonono)
290-600a / Exercise Group / 947

Description:

Business event contents:

Erzähltexte, die von den Ursprüngen von Gottheiten berichten, sogenannte honjimonono, finden sich ab dem Mittelalter über verschiedene Genres und Künste hinweg. So begegnen uns solche Erzählungen nach den Vorläufern im Shintōshū ("Sammlung göttlichen Wirkens") aus der Mitte des 14. Jahrhunderts im als otogizōshi oder Muromachi monogatari bekannten Genre spätmittelalterlicher Erzählprosa, aber auch in den Predigtballaden (sekkyōbushi) sowie im frühen Puppentheater (kojōruri) des 16. und 17. Jahrhunderts. Gemein ist ihnen, dass die menschlichen Protagonist:innen grosses Leid durchleben, bevor sie nach ihrem Tod als Gottheiten erscheinen, sowie das Gewicht, das familiären Bindungen beigemessen wird.

Grundlage für die Übersetzungsarbeit im Kurs wird ein honjimonono darstellen, das auf eine Geschichte aus dem Shintōshū zurückgeht. Nach der Lektüre des Shintōshū-Kapitels in Übersetzung, einer Einführung in philologische Grundlagen sowie einer Diskussion verschiedener Übersetzungs- und Kommentierungsstrategien wenden wir uns dem ausgewählten, in japanischen Textausgaben bisher unkommentierten honjimonono zu. Das richtige Verständnis des Textes wird durch einen Abgleich mehrerer Textzeugen gewährleistet. Kommentierte Editionen und Übersetzungen weiterer honjimonono werden als Übungsmaterial zur Verfügung gestellt.

Notes:

Grundlagen des klassischen Japanisch werden vorausgesetzt.

Event Demographic Change in Japan
2901124a / Course / 663

Description:

Business event contents:

Japan is currently the oldest and fastest shrinking society of the world and as such the forerunner of future demographic development in all advanced industrialized societies. In this lecture the interactions between social structures, individual action and demographic development will be traced and discussed in the historical development of Japan from the early modern period onwards. On the one hand, demographic trends shape long-term social change and the social structures of every society. On the other hand, however, demographic development is also decisively influenced by individual action in the context of social norms and the institutional setting. The main focus will be on current demographic development trends by addressing and discussing the background of the shrinking population, the ageing of society and the low birth rate as well as the implications of these development trends.

Event Die Verwandlung der Mittelmeerwelt - von Justinian zu Mohammed
600I001a / Course / 708

Description:

Business event contents:

Mit der Eroberung von Nordafrika und Italien gelang es dem oströmischen Kaiser Justinian I. (527-565) ein letztes Mal, das Imperium Romanum als ein das Mittelmeer umspannendes Reich wiederherzustellen. Zugleich traf er religions- und innenpolitische Weichenstellungen, die aus der Sicht vieler Forschenden endgültig den Übergang vom spätantiken Römischen Reich zum Byzantinischen Reich des Mittelalters markieren. In dem, auf seine Herrschaft folgenden Jahrhundert, durchlief der östliche Mittelmeerraum und der Mittlere Osten eine dramatische Transformation: Byzanz und das persische Reich der Sassaniden lieferten sich einen nicht enden wollenden Abnutzungskrieg, in dem Ostrom im Jahr 630 schliesslich triumphierte. Inzwischen war auf der arabischen Halbinsel nicht nur eine neue Weltreligion, sondern auch eine neue politische Kraft entstanden, der die siegreichen Römer aber so wenig entgegensetzen hatten wie die Perser. Zehn Jahre, nachdem der byzantinische Kaiser in Jerusalem seinen Sieg gefeiert hatte, waren die römischen Orientprovinzen von den Arabern erobert und aus der Weltmacht Rom ein byzantinisches Rumpfreich geworden.

In der Vorlesung sollen signifikante Momente aufgegriffen werden, deren historische Einordnung und exemplarische Analyse es erlauben soll, die politischen und gesellschaftlichen Entwicklungen fassbar und verständlich zu machen.

Event Ad Fontes! Handschriften lesen und erforschen
600I008a / Colloquium / 74

Description:

Business event contents:

Ad fontes! - In diesem Kolloquium geht es um Quellen und was wir HistorikerInnen mit ihnen tun können. Gerade vormoderne Quellen kommen selten so rein und klar daher, wie der wissenschaftliche Fachbegriff suggeriert. Meist sind sie sperrig und schwer zugänglich, in einer uns fremden Schrift und teilweise auch Sprache abgefasst. Wer mit schriftlichen Überresten arbeiten, sie befragen und interpretieren will - kurz: wer Geschichte wissenschaftlich betreiben will -, muss über ziemlich viele Werkzeuge und Techniken verfügen.

Ebendiese vermittelt die Veranstaltung. Wir werden uns im Kolloquium mit Handschriften aus dem Raum der vormodernen Deutschschweiz beschäftigen, die wir lesen, transkribieren und bearbeiten. In diesem Zusammenhang kommen auch die Materialität, Herstellung, Gebrauch und Überlieferung von Schriftstücken zur Sprache.

Darüber hinaus führt die Veranstaltung in Methoden digitaler Quellenauswertung ein. Anhand der KI-Plattform Transkribus lernen wir das maschinelle Lesen von Handschriften (machine reading, Automated Text Recognition) kennen und werden ein neues E-Learning-Modul für Ad-Fontes testen. Unser Feedback wird direkt in die Weiterentwicklung und Verbesserung des Lehrmoduls einfließen.

Event Tiergeschichte: Theoriekonzepte und Forschungsfelder
600I011a / Course / 3,559

Description:

Business event contents:

Während in den modernen Industriegesellschaften des 21. Jahrhunderts besonders in den Städten also viele Tiere aus dem menschlichen Bereich verschwunden sind, teilen die Haustiere als companion animals den Alltag und Komfort der menschlichen Familienmitglieder. So entsteht ein Verhältnis von Nähe und Ferne, sowohl räumlich als auch emotional, in dem sich Liebe zum companion animal und Erbarmungslosigkeit gegenüber Industrie- und Labortieren gegenüberstehen.

Die Vorlesung beleuchtet, dass sowohl die Liebe zum Haustier, als auch die Kartierung der Mensch-Tier Beziehung kulturell geprägt und historisch gewachsen sind. Auch die der Tiergeschichte zugrundeliegende Frage wie sich Tiere als Untersuchungsgegenstand fassen lassen, wird diskutiert. Wie zum Beispiel damit umgegangen werden soll, dass Tiere selbst keine direkten historischen Zeugnisse hinterliessen und dennoch als soziale Akteure zu verstehen sind, die Geschichte mitgestalten.

Vorgestellt werden Theoriekonzepte zur Wirkungs- und Handlungsmacht der Tiere, sowie zu Fragen der Repräsentation und Imagination. Dabei werden u.a methodischen Konzepte von Bruno Latour, Donna Haraway, Gilles Deleuze, Jacques Derrida oder Giorgio Agamben diskutiert. Aber auch konkrete Forschungsfeldern der Tiergeschichte werden vorgestellt. Dabei bildet sicherlich die Mensch-Haustierbeziehung einen Schwerpunkt. Weiter geht es um Nutztiere, Tiere in den postcolonial studies, sowie Tieren im Krieg. Eine Vorlesung werden wir im Zoologischen Museum verbringen.

Event Contemporary Readings on Behavior in Organizations (S) HS24
DOEC1153 / Doktorandenseminar / 591

Description:

Business event contents:

Participants will read, review, and discuss working papers to improve their ability to critically and constructively engage in the scientific writing process. The working papers can range from a first rough draft to papers at an advanced stage in the revise+resubmit process. The working papers will come from the participants, auditors and guests of the seminar themselves, and so students are encouraged to contribute a working paper of their own to our reading list. The seminar relies exclusively on the written word for input - there are no presentations. Thus, participants will read and review papers, and are expected to base their discussions solely on what they have read. The author of the paper is in the role of the listener and has the chance to benefit from the feedback. The purpose of this seminar is not to find all the problems in a working paper, but instead to develop ideas on how the problems could be fixed and the paper be improved as a whole to heighten its chances in the publication process.

Notes:

Participation in this seminar is limited. Please apply for this seminar via the new module booking tool: <https://studentservices.uzh.ch/uzh/launchpad/> including one PDF with the following parts: (a) a one paragraph statement of your research interests (b) your CV, and (c) an indication of whether you wish to contribute a working paper of your own to our reading list (if so, please submit a draft of the paper if it is available).

Course Materials: Readings will be assigned in class.

Event Political Information Environments in the Age of AI and Algorithmic Personalisation
249I611a / Seminar / 2,773

Description:

Business event contents:

In recent years, the political information environment has undergone significant changes, bringing forth a range of new opportunities and challenges. This seminar will zoom in on the role of algorithms, (generative) artificial intelligence (AI), and content personalisation in the production, distribution, and reception of political information and news. Following this, we will embed these phenomena in the context of other, broader trends in political communication and reevaluate them accordingly.

Event (In-)stabilität und Krise. Politik und archäologische Realitäten?
322I501a / Colloquium / 41

Description:

Business event contents:

Im Fokus der Veranstaltung steht die Diskussion um die Frage, welche archäologischen Perspektiven wir auf die Frage nach Krisen- und Umbruchsphasen historischer Ereignisgeschichte aus dem materiellen Befund gewinnen können. An charakteristischen Beispielen aus dem Zeitraum von ca. 300 v. Chr. bis zur Zeitenwende im Raum Italien und Sizilien, Zeit und Ort intensiver Ereignisgeschichte, gehen wir gemeinsam dieser Frage nach.

Event The Legitimacy of International Organisations: Comparing Mandates, Procedures, and, Effectiveness
615I507a / Seminar / 4,791

Description:

Business event contents:

In an increasingly interdependent world, international organizations (IOs) play a crucial role in global governance, peacekeeping, humanitarian efforts, and setting global standards across a wide array of issue areas. However, the legitimacy of these organizations - how they are perceived and recognized as right and proper by states, non- state actors, and citizens alike - is a complex and contentious issue.

This seminar delves into the heart of what makes international organizations legitimate entities in the eyes of the international community by comparing their mandates, procedures, and effectiveness.

Through a comprehensive examination of prominent International Relations (IR) research, students will engage with key theories and case studies that scrutinize the mechanisms of legitimacy and the performance of various IOs in fulfilling their global roles.

Notes:

The seminar will take place in room AFL-F-101.

Course Materials: Literature will be provided through OLAT.

Event Theorien der Internationalen Beziehungen: Herausforderungen für Forschung und wissenschaftliche Politik
615I508a / Seminar / 4,792

Description:

Business event contents:

Ausgangspunkt ist die für sozialwissenschaftliche Disziplinen typische Koexistenz und Konkurrenz unterschiedlicher theoretischer Perspektiven und deren Kampf um Deutungshoheit. Am Beispiel der IB werden 4 ausgewählte Frage- und Problemstellungen über das Konzept des vernetzten Lernens miteinander verzahnt:

1. Wissenschaftsphilosophische Grundlagen: Welche ontologischen, epistemologischen und methodologischen Grundannahmen sowie sogenannte - wissenschaftliche Weltbilder sind entscheidend für die spezifische Art der Konstruktion einer Theorie?
2. Theoretisches Denken über globale Politik: Inwieweit widerspiegeln die einflussreichsten Theorien der IB unterschiedliche wissenschaftsphilosophische Annahmen?
3. Vergleich: Welche a) forschungspraktische und b) praktisch- politische Relevanz haben die Gemeinsamkeiten und Unterschiede der Perspektiven?
4. Welche Anforderungen ergeben sich aus den gewonnenen Erkenntnissen für die wissenschaftliche Politikberatung?

Notes:

Besonders empfohlen für Master-Studierende mit ausgeprägtem Interesse an Theorie/Forschung und/oder einer Karriereabsicht im Bereich Politikberatung.

Event Political Representation
6151512a / Seminar / 4,793

Description:

Business event contents:

In today's representative democracies the most critical task citizens perform is the (s)election of politicians to represent them. Yet citizens perceive their representatives as increasingly distant and feel poorly represented. Critics point to the difficulty of holding politicians accountable and their unresponsiveness to people's demands. The unfolding crisis of representation and the failings of political parties to act as key democratic actors is very much a crisis of democracy itself fostering distrust and populism.

The seminar provides a basic and encompassing introduction to political representation as a concept and to representative government as a set of institutions and actors. The seminar aims to have both a theoretical and empirical focus. It addresses the dimensions of accountability, responsibility, substantive vs. descriptive representation, responsiveness, the role of parties as well as representational roles (trustee, delegate, etc.). The structure of the seminar is based on the knowledge of classic volumes in the field, but swiftly moves over to the most important contributions and debates of the last years. What does it mean to be adequately represented? How can the quality of representation be evaluated? Should an ethnicity, a social class or women be represented through members from these groups? Is it right to exclude immigrants from representation, and what about citizens living abroad? How effectively can citizens hold politicians accountable and sanction them? The reading list is centred on social and political science texts, but addresses political representation from an interdisciplinary perspective.

Event The Political Forms of Neoliberalism: Order and Rupture
6151530a / Seminar / 4,862

Description:

Business event contents:

A turn from social democracy to neoliberalism has occurred across Western societies since the mid-1970s, acquiring momentum in the early 1990s, with the onset of globalization. In essence, neoliberalism means elevating The Market into society's core institution, its individualistic and competitive logic gradually invading all social spheres, even the psyche. While often associated with the retreat of the state, it is more accurate to see this development as a refashioning of the state and of the political at large.

Hence the question: What are the political forms of neoliberalism? In fact, there is a whole variety. From the point of view of "order", these are: authoritarianism, governance, technocracy, federation, constitutionalism, and meritocracy. Their compatibility and mutual implications, but also their tensions are one focus of this class.

The common denominator of these political forms of neoliberalism is a tension with, if not hostility to, democracy and substantive equality. This is also the most obvious way in which neoliberalism differs from liberalism and the post-war liberal-democratic synthesis, which has fallen apart.

Next to providing an "inventory" of political forms, we shall also look at neoliberalism's evolution. What stands out is that over time the Left, qua "Third Way", has embraced neoliberalism--in what moment neoliberalism matured from "movement" (initially of the right) into "political order", to which there is "no alternative" today.

Finally, we look at political neoliberalism not only from the point of view of "order" but also of "rupture"--in particular, the rise of right- and left-wing "identity politics" at the extreme of the political spectrum (whose centrist forces agree on "market-conformant democracy").

The course follows closely a recent book of the author. He has picked key readings by other authors (of various disciplinary persuasions) that helped him navigate this field of study.

Course Materials: Readings by Friedrich Hayek, Raymond Geuss, Thomas Biebricher, Loic Wacquant, R.A.W. Rhodes, Wolfgang Streeck, Christopher Bickerton, Quinn Slobodian, Michael Sandel, Daniel Markovits, Gary Gerstle, Wendy Brown, Cas Mudde, and others.

Event Was war das Bauhaus?

640-014a / Seminar / 4,994

Description:

Business event contents:

2019 feierte das Bauhaus sein hundertjähriges Jubiläum. Unzählige Publikationen erschienen, die den Mythos der Reformschule festigten, sie aber auch in ein neues Licht stellten. Die 1919 in Weimar gegründete und 1925 in Dessau reorganisierte Kunst-, Design- und Architekturschule gilt als "Werkstatt der Moderne". Wie die aktuelle Literatur zeigt, war sie dabei von Beginn an ein internationales und transkulturelles Projekt. Die Mitglieder des Bauhauses kamen aus verschiedensten Ländern, und ihre Entwürfe verarbeiteten nicht zuletzt aussereuropäische Vorbilder. Das Bauhaus war mit seinen Anliegen auch nicht allein: Bereits zuvor und anderswo gab es experimentelle Zugänge zur Gestaltung und Versuche, Handwerk und Kunstpädagogik zu reformieren. Das Bauhaus gilt zudem als Ort der Emanzipation und der gesellschaftlichen Utopie. Doch gab es an der Schule - die 1933 von den Nationalsozialisten geschlossen wurde - unterschiedliche politische und weltanschauliche bis hin zu rassistischen Vorstellungen; manche Bauhäusler:innen sollten gar mit dem NS-Regime kollaborieren. Was also war das Bauhaus? Das Seminar führt ein in die Geschichte der Institution, die wesentlich an der Entstehung der modernen Avantgarden beteiligt war, und behandelt zugleich aktuelle Fragen der Geschichtsschreibung. Diese stellt post/koloniale Beziehungen heraus, geht Migrationserfahrungen nach, kompliziert die politische Verortung des Bauhauses und widmet sich dem weiblichen und queeren Bauhaus. Im Seminar geht es darum, das Bauhaus in seiner Zeit zu verorten; zugleich werden wir danach fragen, wie es zu dem wurde, was es heute für uns ist.

Notes:

Die Übung beinhaltet eine halbtägige Exkursion in die Werkbundsiedlung Neubühl in Zürich-Wollishofen. Termin nach Absprache.

Event European Strategy in a Changing World
6151502a / Seminar / 5,006

Description:

Business event contents:

Europe's changing international environment is a topic that vexes scholars and strategists alike. This course introduces students to cutting-edge research on European strategy since the end of the Cold War. Specifically, the course equips students with the historical, theoretical, and conceptual foundations for studying European strategy and the process of European strategy formation.

Once we established these foundations, we examine European strategy across issue areas - like defense, economics, cyber, and energy. We employ this knowledge to investigate European strategy towards key international relationships, like the transatlantic relationship, Europe-China relations, the European neighbourhood, and the Europe's relations with the developing world.

The course ends with exploring future avenues for studying and crafting European strategy. By the conclusion of the course, students should be able to independently formulate research questions and research fundamental aspects of European strategy in a theoretically solid and empirically rich manner. Researchers on different aspects of European strategy will deliver the seminars, combined with in-depth class discussion and interaction.

The language of instruction is English.

Notes:

The seminar will take place in room AFL-F-101.

On 21.11.24 the seminar will take place in room AFL-F-150.

Event Thematisches Tutorat: Michel Foucaults «Der Wille zum Wissen»
160I041a / Tutorat / 5,027

Description:

Business event contents:

Als im Jahre 1976 der erste Band von Foucaults Magnum Opus Sexualität und Wahrheit (L'Histoire de la sexualité) unter dem Titel Der Wille zum Wissen (La volonté de savoir)erschien, polarisierten die darin präsentierten theoretischen Konzepte zu Macht, Wissen und Diskurs die akademische Landschaft - nicht zuletzt wegen Foucaults Bruch mit den dominanten Auffassungen der Intellektuellen der Zeit. Bis heute ist der Text Objekt einer lebendigen akademischen Debatte und sein Einfluss auf die Gebiete der Soziologie, Kulturtheorie, Queer Theory, Gender Studies etc. ist nicht bestreitbar; noch immer gehen gegenwärtige Theoretiker*innen von den Inhalten des Werkes aus und bespielen sie mithin auch kritisch. Im thematischen Tutorat wollen wir uns einer intensiven Lektüre dieser bahnbrechenden philosophischen Abhandlung zum Verhältnis von Sexualität, Macht, Wissen und Diskurs widmen und werden uns zudem mit der gegenwärtigen Relevanz der Foucault'schen Theorien - auch anhand neuerer Texte wie beispielsweise von Judith Butler, Jean Baudrillard oder Paul Preciado - auseinandersetzen.

Event Legal Tech
120WM15 / Course / 2,123

Description:

Business event contents:

Ziel der Veranstaltung ist es, den Studierenden einen einführenden Überblick über die komplexe Materie Legal Tech zu verschaffen. Neben den einschlägigen Anwendungspotentialen (bspw. im Strafprozessrecht) werden auch die technischen und methodischen Grundlagen (bspw. Machine Learning) von Legal Tech beleuchtet.

In jedem thematischen Block werden die sozialen und rechtlichen Auswirkungen digitaler Technologien sowie die Interaktion von Menschen und künstlicher Intelligenz einschliesslich der damit verbundenen rechtlichen Implikationen analysiert.

Zu den großen thematischen Blöcken gehören insbesondere rechtlich relevanten Anwendungen der Blockchain-Technologie (bspw. Smart Contracts) und algorithmische Entscheidungssysteme. Gegenstand sind neben Algorithmen zur Vorhersage und Klassifikation (bspw. bei Haftentscheidungen) auch Algorithmen zur Bewältigung von Verteilungsproblemen (bspw. bei der Flüchtlingsverteilung).

Hierbei werden insbesondere die Ursachen von diskriminierenden Effekten (biases), experimentelle und empirische Methoden zum Nachweis von Diskriminierung sowie statistische Fairnesskonzepte erörtert. Die damit verbundenen Erkenntnisse werden rechtlich analysiert und im System des geltenden Rechts verortet.

Vorkenntnisse zu quantitativen Methoden aus dem Bereich der Sozial- oder Computerwissenschaften sind nicht erforderlich.

Event International Sales Law (CISG)
90IL13-1 / Course / 1,740

Description:

Business event contents:

This course is designed to introduce students to the theoretical and practical problems of international sales law and the legal solutions served by the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG), which entered into force in 1988 and counts today more than ninety contracting states. The course focuses mainly on the scope of application of the CISG, the hierarchy between the CISG and national sales law provisions, formation of the contract under the CISG, obligations of the parties and remedies in case of non-performance, and the liability regime of the CISG. The course aims also to use the CISG as a base to discuss differing approaches in Civil Law and Common Law jurisdictions, thereby facilitating students with international background to scrutinize their own national sales law system.

Course Materials: The PowerPoint presentations as well as the necessary reading will be available on the course website.

Event Anwaltsrecht
90WM86-1 / Course / 204

Description:

Business event contents:

Anwältinnen und Anwälte bewegen sich in einem Spannungsfeld: Einerseits sind sie unabhängige, unternehmerisch tätige Berufsleute, die entgeltliche Dienstleistungen erbringen. Andererseits spielen sie für den Zugang zur Justiz

- und damit für die Verwirklichung der Rechtsordnung - eine wichtige Rolle.

Anwältinnen und Anwälte haben insofern besondere Pflichten, aber auch Rechte.

Der Ausgleich dieser teilweise gegenläufigen Interessen ist Gegenstand des Anwaltsrechts, das seinerseits zwei Pole aufweist: Es ist teilweise öffentlich-rechtlicher Natur (Zulassung, Berufsregeln, Aufsicht, Freizügigkeit), teilweise privatrechtlich geregelt (Mandatsverhältnis zur Klientenschaft). Die Darstellung dieser komplexen Rechtslage ist Gegenstand dieser Vorlesung.

Die Praktikerinnen und Praktiker präsentieren schriftlich einen Fall oder eine Problemstellung aus der Praxis und stellen dazu eine oder wenige Fragen. Die Studierenden reichen innert Frist von 14 Tagen eine schriftliche Lösung ein ("Aktennotiz"). Sie haben sich dabei selbständig einen Überblick über das Rechtsgebiet zu erarbeiten und müssen verstehen, was die wirklich zentralen Punkte des Falles bzw. der Problemstellung sind. Die Praktikerin bzw. Praktiker bespricht die Lösungen mit den Studierenden in einer Doppelstunde.
