Event Exkursion ans Festival Il Cinema Ritrovato in Bologna
06UE255o006a / Exercise Group / 940

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Festival «Il Cinema Ritrovato» ist weltweit eines der zentralen Events für alle, die sich mit der Geschichte des Films beschäftigen, ob in der Filmwissenschaft, in Archiven und Museen als Kurator*innen oder schlicht als Fans. Gezeigt wird eine vielfältige Auswahl aus den ersten Jahrzehnten der Filmgeschichte bis hinein in die 2000er Jahre: thematische Reihen, neueste Restaurierungen, bekannte Klassiker - und projiziert wird jeweils die beste verfügbare Fassung. Höhepunkte sind die Stummfilmvorführungen mit Orchesterbegleitung auf der nächtlichen Piazza Maggiore, unerwartete Entdeckungen im Filmprogramm sowie ein Blick hinter die Kulissen der Filmrestaurierung. Denn, das Festival bietet nicht nur Gelegenheit, auf unvergessliche Weise in die Filmgeschichte einzutauchen, sondern lässt auch miterleben, wie diese überhaupt erst zustande kommt. Welche kuratorischen Entscheidungen führen zum Programm? Wo werden bislang kaum bekannte Filme 'wiederentdeckt'? Nach welchen Richtlinien restaurieren Filmarchive? Welche Rolle spielt dabei die zunehmende Digitalisierung des Filmerbes? Und wie werden die Filme letztendlich präsentiert? Vor Ort werden wir gemeinsam mit Expert*innen Fragen wie diese diskutieren sowie Filmscreenings, Vorträge und Masterclasses besuchen.

Notes:
Anmeldung:
Die Anmeldung via Modulbuchung ist verbindlich und muss durch eine schriftliche Teilnahme- sowie Kostenübernahmeerklärung bestätigt werden.

Folgende Termine sind zu beachten:

- Obligatorisches Vorbereitungstreffen (bei unentschuldigtem Nichterscheinen wird die Modulbuchung storniert): Freitag, 27. Februar 2026, 10-12 Uhr.
- Seminarblock im Juni, voraussichtlich 3. Juni 2026, 10-16 Uhr.
- Ausserdem wird die Anwesenheit während des gesamten Festivals (20.-28. Juni 2026) sowie bei den dort im Rahmen der Lehrveranstaltung stattfindenden Gesprächen (Daten werden noch kommuniziert) erwartet.
Kosten: Im Rahmen der Exkursion werden neben der Verpflegung vor Ort Übernachtungskosten entstehen, die von den Studierenden selbst übernommen werden müssen. Wir bemühen uns, eine kostengünstige Unterkunft zu organisieren. Die Fahrtkosten zwischen Zürich und Bologna sowie die Akkreditierung werden voraussichtlich vom Seminar für Filmwissenschaft getragen. Description:

Business event contents:
The self-study module Independent Reading: Critical Debates is designed for students who wish to acquire in-depth knowledge in a specialized field not offered by the regular curriculum. The module requires students to compile a reading list on a clearly defined topic of their choice. The list consists of a substantial number of theoretical texts; it can include literary and historical texts as well. In contrast to the corresponding Bachelor module, this work has to be done independently for the most part. The module will conclude with a 30-minute oral exam on the agreed reading list.

Notes:
Students must contact instructors before booking the module. Students who have not been accepted bei their instructor will be unenrolled.

Event Short Internship: The Art Collection of the Zurich James Joyce Foundation
06PR440o513a / Praktikum / 2,899

Description:

Business event contents:
The Zurich James Joyce Foundation hosts one of the world's most important collections on the Irish modernist James Joyce. In addition to books and other types of texts, the Foundation also has a unique collection of posters, photographs, and artworks.
At the start of their internship, students will be given a short introduction into the history and activities of the Foundation. They will also be given material that will help them gain a basic overview of the life and works of James Joyce. However, the main aim of this short internship project is for the students to assist the Foundation team in creating an illustrated inventory of the artworks in the Foundation's collection.

Tasks will include:
taking high-quality pictures of the artworks; researching information on the creators and the artworks in question; identifying gaps in the information available; defining a set of keywords that will make it easier to locate individual works; presenting one piece of art on the Foundation's website.

In addition, students may be asked to assist members of the team during public events, readings, etc..

Event Advanced Research Internship in the VARIAGE project (linguistics)
06PR440o514a / Praktikum / 223

Description:

Business event contents:
The linguists collaborating in the VARIAGE project (with Prof. Simone Pfenninger as the principal investigator) aim to study educational and occupational transitions across the lifespan, with an emphasis on retirement as a socially determined and linguistically constructed concept that is shaped by changing cultural meanings and individuals' lived experiences. In order to identify dis/continuity patterns in cognitive functioning and L1/L2 use and learning pre- and post-retirement, we bring together a range of perspectives regarding (1) original research agendas and (2) innovative methodological approaches, notably from the fields of second language acquisition, psycho-, socio- and neurolinguistics. We also focus on producing workable and replicable research designs in uncharted territories and identifying ways of how alternatives to conventional research methodologies can be operationalized.

VARIAGE is designed as an observational micro-development study including approx.
40 older L1 German learners of English as a foreign language (EFL) in Zurich, each of them observed in 30 consecutive waves before and after retirement over a period of 24 months (2023-2025). We are currently looking for interns who support us during the data analysis phase.

Notes:
Applying for the internship:

- Book the module in the module-booking system.
- Include a letter of motivation detailing your interest in the VARIAGE project, which should be uploaded directly when booking the module.

Your profile:
- Excellent verbal, written, and interpersonal communication skills in English.
- Excellent organizational skills and ability to manage multiple priorities and timelines.
- Flexibility and initiative in working (independently) with students and staff.
- An ability to accept assignments and to reliably and responsibly carry them out to completion.
- Strong computer skills.
- Strong interest in English language teaching and designing course materials for older EFL learners.
- Interest in quantitative and/or qualitative methods of analysis.

Event Stay Abroad Portfolio
06ST440-410a / Selbststudium mit Leistungsnachweis / 2,999

Description:

Business event contents:
Students who have spent six or more weeks within one year and with max. one interruption (i.e. min. 42 days) in the same particular Anglophone region (region = usually not a whole country) compile a research-based portfolio. The portfolio must be handed in no later than 6 months after the end of the stay abroad and consists of four parts: (1) a short account of their stay abroad, in the form of a report that goes beyond mere narrative (i.e.
which includes some meta-level reflection on the experience); (2) a brief presentation and discussion of one linguistic feature of the local variety of English, in a format that would be accessible to non- specialists; (3) an encyclopedia-style entry about one literary text or author from the region; (4) a short journalistic text on one key cultural and/or historical dimension of the Anglophone area in question.

Notes:
Students must submit written proof of their stay abroad (e.g. flight tickets, certificates of employment, etc.) in their application in the booking tool. Study abroad exchange semesters and summer schools do NOT count as a possible stay abroad case for the portfolio. Guidelines and information on the submission can be found on the English Department website. Please read the additional guidelines at the link below carefully.

Event Stay Abroad: Research-Based Report
06ST440-850a / Selbststudium mit Leistungsnachweis / 3,000

Description:

Business event contents:
Students who have spent six or more weeks within one year and with max. one interruption (i.e. min. 42 days) in the same particular Anglophone region (region = usually not a whole country) compile a research-based report. The portfolio must be handed in no later than 6 months after the end of the stay abroad and consists of two parts: (1) a short account of the stay abroad in the form of a report that goes beyond a mere narrative (i.e. which includes some meta-level reflection on the experience); (2) an in-depth analysis of either linguistic or literary data in the context of the region in question that shows the student's close familiarity with current research on a specific aspect of that region. The analysis should be concerned with either a distinctive linguistic feature occurring in the particular region or an anglophone literary work which displays a strong connection to that region.

Notes:
Before applying to this module students must contact the study abroad coordinator at studyabroad@es.uzh.ch to confirm that their stay abroad fulfils the requirements. Students are expected to submit written proof of their stay abroad (e.g. flight tickets, certificates of employment, etc.). Study abroad exchange semesters and summer schools do NOT count as a possible stay abroad case for the portfolio. Guidelines and information on the submission can be found on the English Department website. Please do read the additional guidelines at the link below carefully.

Event Grabung Monte Iato (Palermo, Sizilien) 2026
06PR682-513a / Praktikum / 1,397

Description:

Business event contents:
Seit dem Jahr 1971 führt der Fachbereich Klassische Archäologie, früher Archäologisches Institut, der Universität Zürich auf dem Monte Iato (Provinz Palermo) in Sizilien Ausgrabungen durch. Wegen der langen Dauer der Besiedlung gehört der Monte Iato zu den interessantesten westsizilischen Fundplätzen. Das an der Ietas-Grabung beteiligte Team umfasst im Schnitt 16 Mitarbeitende und Studierende des Fachbereichs Klassische Archäologie der UZH, ein(e) ArchitekturstudentIn der ETHZ sowie eine Reihe externer Projektpartner und Kollaborationen. Jedes Mitglied dieses Forschungsteams hat im Laufe der jeweils vierwöchigen Feldarbeiten, den zwei, im direkten Anschluss an die Grabung durchgeführten Bearbeitungswochen sowie in den Folgemonaten bestimmten Aufgaben im Hinblick auf die Feldforschung, die Fundbearbeitung sowie die Aufarbeitung und Publikation des Projektes nachzukommen.

Notes:
Vorgängig zur Modulbuchung ist eine schriftliche Bewerbung bei der Lehrperson erforderlich.

Description:

Business event contents:
During FS
2026, students are expected to further develop and complete their BA thesis projects based on the research seminar in HS
2025. This includes finalising the survey and questionnaire, collecting and analysing data, and writing up the thesis.

Up to five online BA colloquia are expected during FS
2026, aiming to follow up on students' progress, provide guidance on data collection and analysis, and answer students' questions during the research and thesis writing process. Detailed information and the schedule will be provided by the end of HS 2025.

Notes:
BA Thesis is expected to be written in English.

Event Experimentalpsychologisches Praktikum Plenumsveranstaltung
06VL200-102a / Course / 948

Description:

Business event contents:
Die ersten drei Plenumsveranstaltungen führen in die Open Science Thematik ein, welche danach in den Expra Gruppen praktische Anwendung findet. Podcast, Folien und weitere Unterrichtsmaterialien werden in einem OLAT-Kurs bereitgestellt.
Teil 1: Einführung und Überblick zu Open Science (J. Ullrich) Fr, 20.02.2026
Hinweis: Dieser Termin ist ein Selbstlerntermin (keine Präsenzveranstaltung): Bitte schauen Sie dazu den Podcast im OLAT an! Die Inhalte werden für die weiteren Termine vorausgesetzt.
Teil 2: Präregistrierung und weitere Open Science Methoden (N. Langer) Fr, 27.02.2026
Hinweis: Dieser Termin ist ein Selbstlerntermin (keine Präsenzveranstaltung): Bitte schauen Sie dazu den Podcast im OLAT an! Die Inhalte werden für die weiteren Termine vorausgesetzt. Bereiten Sie für diesen Selbstlerntermin bitte einen Laptop mit einem bereits installierten OSF Account vor. Die Installation eines OSF Accounts ist kostenlos und dauert ca. 5 Min. Hier finden Sie den Link: https://osf.io
Teil 3: Fallzahlplanung (M. Haller) Fr, 06.03.2026
Hinweis: Dieser Termin ist ein Selbstlerntermin (keine Präsenzveranstaltung): Bitte schauen Sie dazu den Podcast im OLAT an!

Die vier Plenumsveranstaltungen «Grundlagen der Datenanalyse im Experimentalpsychologischen Praktikum 1-4» (M. Krämer) sind ein optionales Angebot zur Auffrischung der Statistik- und insbesondere R-Kenntnisse in der Power-Analyse, der Aufbereitung der Daten und der Datenanalyse.

Die vier Plenumsveranstaltungen finden online statt und beinhalten einen Präsentations- sowie einen interaktiven Teil, in dem es möglich ist, Fragen zum jeweiligen Thema zu stellen. Der Zoom-Link für die Plenumsveranstaltungen wird jeweils in der Woche davor über E-Mail versendet. Es werden Podcasts aufgezeichnet. Diese und die jeweils gezeigten R-Materialien werden nach den Plenumsveranstaltungen in OLAT im Ordner «Materialien -> Statistik-Beratung» hochgeladen. Bitte installieren Sie die aktuelle Version von R und RStudio im Voraus.

- Termin 1 (Fr. 13.03.2026, 12:15-13:45): Konkrete Beispiele für die Berechnung des Stichprobenumfangs mit R
- Termin 2 (Fr. 27.03.2026, 12:15-13:45): Dateneingabe, Datenmanagement, Deskriptive Statistik, Skalenbildung
- Termin 3 (Fr. 24.04.2026, 12:15-13:45): Chi-Quadrat-Test, t-Tests mit und ohne Messwiederholung und nicht-parametrische Alternativen, einfaktorielle Varianzanalyse (ANOVA) mit und ohne Messwiederholung
- Termin 4 (Fr. 01.05.2026, 12:15-13:45): Zweifaktorielle Varianzanalyse mit und ohne Messwiederholung, multiple Regression, Kovarianzanalyse (ANCOVA)
Zusätzlich zu den Plenumsveranstaltungen werden Beratungstermine über MS Teams (oder auf Anfrage persönlich) angeboten, für die Sie sich als Gruppe oder auch einzeln stellvertretend für Ihre Gruppe anmelden können. Weitere Informationen dazu finden Sie in OLAT.

Event Research Colloquium
06KO640o506a / Colloquium / 4,934

Description:

Business event contents:
The Research Colloquium is the forum for presenting and discussing the current research undertaken by master's students, doctoral candidates and postdocs of the professorship for the History of Early Modern Art and by master's students of the Art History in a Global Context study program. Participants present their current research for their master or doctoral thesis in papers of max. 20 minutes. It is recommended to discuss the scheduling in advance with the supervisor. Please note the following recommendations: do not introduce the structure of your presentation; briefly present the table of contents of your thesis; then go straight to the point; avoid basics, expect disciplinary knowledge from your audience and refrain from biographies, for example; present your methodology; elaborate on your research question using case studies suitable for discussion.

Notes:
Presenting and discussing the current research esp. master's and doctoral theses. Contact: tristan.weddigen@uzh.ch

Event Capstone: Corporate Democratic Responsibility - Die Rolle von Unternehmen in der Schweizer Demokratie
06SE615o539a / Seminar / 3,548

Description:

Business event contents:
Unternehmen sind «corporate citizens» des Staates, denn die tragenden Pfeiler der liberalen Demokratie wie Rechtssicherheit, Gewaltenteilung, Infrastruktur, Bildungs- und Forschungsfreiheit, das Willkürverbot und freie Medien schaffen ein Umfeld, in dem Unternehmen nachweislich besser gedeihen. Aus dieser Komplementarität speist sich die Vereinbarkeit von Kapitalismus und Demokratie. Die gegenwärtige Weltlage zeigt jedoch: Demokratien sind fragiler, als wir lange geglaubt haben. Das wirft die Frage der Rolle von Unternehmen in der Demokratie neu auf, gerade in der Schweiz, in der politische Bildung, Partizipation und Miliz-Engagement zentral sind für das Funktionieren der Demokratie.
Eine wachsende sozial- und wirtschaftswissenschaftliche Forschungsliteratur befasst sich mit der Frage der Rolle von Unternehmen für die demokratische Stabilität, der «Corporate Democratic Responsibility». Diverse praktische Initiativen in der Schweiz und in anderen europäischen Ländern werden entwickelt. Allerdings fehlt eine theoretisch fundierte Übersicht der möglichen Instrumente, und wir wissen zu wenig über die Anreize der verschiedenen Stakeholder von CDR, ihre Chancen und Risiken, sowie die Erwartungen der Bevölkerung im Hinblick darauf.

Im Rahmen dieses Capstone-Projekts in Zusammenarbeit mit dem Think Tank Pro Futuris bearbeiten max. 6 Studierenden zwei Work packages über einen Zeitraum von 2 Semestern:
WP1) Die Studierenden erarbeiten die demokratietheoretischen Voraussetzungen und Grundlagen von CDR und stellen einen Katalog von verschiedenen Massnahmen zusammen, welche unterschiedlichen Demokratiemodellen zuträglich sind. Daraus resultiert eine "Toolbox" von CDR, welche verschiedene Massnahmen mit demokratiepolitischen und praktischen Zielen in Verbindung setzt.
WP3) Aufbauend auf diese theoretische Grundlagenarbeit führen die Studierenden dann eine repräsentative Bevölkerungsbefragung durch, in welcher mit klassischen und experimentellen Befragungsdesigns erhoben wird, welche Erwartungen die Bevölkerung an die Schweizer Unternehmen hat, unter welchen Bedingungen der CDR eine (positive) Bedeutung zugeschrieben wird, und welche Risiken oder Zielkonflikte CDR mit sich bringt.

Notes:
Auswahl von max. 6 Studierenden auf Antrag; gute Deutschkenntnisse sind Voraussetzung. Auswahl im Januar 2026 auf der Basis von: Motivationsschreiben; CV; Leistungsübersicht; Schriftprobe;

Treffen mit den Dozierenden (IPZ und Pro Futuris) idR alle 2 Wochen nach Absprache. Selbstständige Treffen der Studierenden dazwischen.

Total 12 ECTS für beide Semestern

Event Global Negotiation Academy
06SN615o540a / Sonstiges / 3,549

Description:

Business event contents:
The annual Global Negotiation Academy (GNA) is the flagship event organised by the IGN. The Academy brings together graduate students from around the world to participate in five-days of workshops and presentations by leading academics and practitioners in the field of global negotiation and conflict resolution. Each year the academy culminates in a multiparty simulation, designed by members of the IGN, based on a pressing global issue. In 2026 the focus of the simulation will be on global health security.

Notes:
Please apply via the booking tool and attach your CV and short motivation letter.
The conference participation fee will be covered by IPZ.
Participants of the seminar 'Global Negotiation: Theory and Practice' are encouraged to apply though it is not a prerequiste.

The conference will take place on the 6-10 July 2026 at the University of Zurich.

Event Introduction to Magnetometry Surveys for Archaeology
06PR683o004a / Praktikum / 4,749

Description:

Business event contents:
Magnetometry is one of the most widely used geophysical methods in archaeology. This short course introduces students to the handling and use of the Geometrics G-864 magnetometer for archaeological fieldwork. The course runs over three days. On the first day, students will receive an introduction to the principles of magnetic surveying, data acquisition, and interpretation. On the second and third days, students will work in two alternating groups (six students per group): one group will conduct field measurements, georeference the data (GPS mapping), download, and process it on the second day, while the other group will carry out the same activities on the third day.

Event Swiss Summer School in Democracy Studies: Democracy, Inequality and Minorities
06SNG90o110a / Sonstiges / 4,772

Description:

Business event contents:
A major issue in democratic theory and practice is the existence of persistent minorities. Prominent examples include ethnic, linguistic, religious, and geographic minorities, but also citizens whose voices hardly count in elections or referendums because their ideological attitudes repeatedly place them on the losing side of majority decisions.

Given that equality is the grounding and guiding principle of democracy - and hence its core normative promises are the fair treatment of all, coupled with the protection of individual liberties
- then we have a problem if groups of citizens, due to their identity traits and/or ideological convictions, are systematically disadvantaged. This concerns both the input and output dimensions of democracy. Consider, for example, the problem of inequalities due to low turnout (both in elections and in referendums) or the existence of electoral discrimination (i.e., when majority voters discriminate against candidates from minority groups). On the output side, majority decisions in referendums can have a negative impact on minorities, whereas their poor descriptive representation as a result of elections typically has a negative impact on their substantive representation and the quality of political decisions.

Through the prism of the role of minorities in a democracy, the 2026 Democracy Summer School explores these issues by examining not only their causes and consequences, but also the institutional design tools (e.g. federalism, electoral system reforms, deliberative minipublics) that can enhance the equality promise of democratic rule.

06KOG11o002a / Colloquium / 4,482

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Kolloquium in Theoretischer Philosophie und Geschichte der Philosophie richtet sich an alle Studierenden und Doktorierenden, die am Philosophischen Seminar eine Master- oder Doktorarbeit schreiben. Sie haben im Rahmen des Kolloquiums die Möglichkeit, ihre Arbeit oder Teile daraus vorzustellen (die Arbeit muss nicht bei der Dozierenden verfasst werden). Das Kolloquium bietet zudem Raum für die Lektüre grundlegender Texte und die Diskussion aktueller Forschungsfragen. Die zu besprechenden Texte werden jeweils eine Woche vor dem Termin allen Teilnehmenden zur Verfügung zu stellen und sollten nicht länger als
15 Seiten sein. Voraussetzung für die Teilnahme ist ein BA-Abschluss in Philosophie und die Bereitschaft, die Veranstaltung regelmässig zu besuchen und sich aktiv zu beteiligen.

Notes:
Zeiten und Räume: siehe entsprechende Veranstaltung im Mastermodul
06SM160-503

Wer am Kolloquium teilnehmen und einen Text vorstellen möchte, sollte sich nach Möglichkeit schon vor Beginn der Vorlesungszeit bei der Dozierenden melden.
Unbesetzte Termine können auch in der ersten Sitzung noch vergeben werden.

Event Research Colloquium in Ethics
06KOG11o007a / Colloquium / 4,480

Description:

Business event contents:
Dieses Forschungskolloquium bietet fortgeschrittenen Studierenden die Möglichkeit, ihre laufenden Arbeiten einer auf Ethik spezialisierten Forschungsgruppe vorzustellen.
Gleichzeitig stellt das Kolloquium eine Gelegenheit dar, Vorträge von Personen zu besuchen, die universitär im Bereich der Ethik und in angrenzenden Bereichen forschen. Es bietet damit einen Einblick in die aktuelle Forschung in der Ethik und in angrenzenden Bereichen und erlaubt es, sich mit der Arbeitsweise in der akademisch-philosophischen Forschung vertraut zu machen.

Event Exploring East Asian Art in London: Collections and Conversations
06EX642o002a / Field Trip / 4,524

Description:

Business event contents:
This excursion takes students into major London collections of East Asian art, likely including the British Museum and the Victoria and Albert Museum. Through guided viewing and discussion, students will examine how these institutions display, interpret, and contextualize East Asian objects. The excursion is also planned to include a workshop with lecturers and students from SOAS, University of London, exploring current approaches to curating, researching, and teaching East Asian art together. Students will develop critical skills in looking at objects, understanding museum practice, and engaging with scholarly debates in the field.

Event Critical Readings in East Asian Art History
06ST642-501a / Selbststudium mit Leistungsnachweis / 4,597

Description:

Business event contents:
The aim of this course is to expand and deepen the students' knowledge about content, discourses, theories, and methodologies in the field of East Asian art history. The course is based on individual study of research literature selected by the instructor, and literature tailored to one's own research interests and research project (selected by a student and approved by the instructor). The students are expected to read and critically reflect on the selected topical readings. They should be prepared to discuss these materials during the examination. Upon completing their self-study process, students are kindly requested to register with the Teaching Assistants during the second week of the teaching period, using the provided registration form available on OLAT.

Event Rome Contemporary: Art and Architecture since 1945
06EX640o004a / Field Trip / 2,739

Description:

Business event contents:
This five-day field seminar examines the transformations of Rome's visual and spatial culture from the postwar reconstruction to the contemporary era, tracing the intersections between art, architecture, urbanism, and cinema in shaping the city's modern identity. Combining on-site analysis, seminar discussions and film-based inquiry, the course situates Rome as a dynamic laboratory for artistic experimentation, urban imagination, and cultural reinvention - a city where the weight of history continually collides with the demands of modernity.
While Rome is often viewed through the lens of antiquity, this seminar repositions the city as a key site for understanding twentieth and twenty-first-century developments in art, architecture, and visual culture. The decades following World War II witnessed not only the physical restoration of the historic centre but also the emergence of new artistic and architectural vocabularies that redefined the city's image and social fabric. The reconstruction years fostered innovative dialogues between artists and architects, ranging from the rationalist heritage of the 1930s to the experimentation of postwar modernism and the aesthetic of ruins that permeated both painting and film. Attention will be given to the evolving relationship between visual art and the urban environment: from 1950s informalism to conceptual and performative practices in the 1960s and 1970s that unfolded within the city's public and domestic spaces.
In parallel, the seminar integrates cinema studies as an interpretative and analytical framework, examining how filmic representations have shaped Rome's collective and visual imagination. Through on-site visits and discussions, participants will consider how directors used the city's streets, ruins, and peripheries as stages for postwar reconstruction, social struggle, and moral renewal.
By combining art-historical, urban, and cinematic methodologies, the field trip encourages participants to critically engage with Rome as a terrain of negotiation between reconstruction and ruination, sacredness and spectacle, centre and periphery. Through walking seminars, museum visits, and site-specific analysis, students will examine how artists, architects, and filmmakers have continually reimagined the Eternal City - not as a static relic of the past, but as a living, evolving space of modern creativity and cultural experimentation.

Event Im Westen viel Neues - Die Fotografie und ihre aktuelle Ausstellungspraxis in Lausanne, Vevey und Genf
06EX640o006a / Field Trip / 1,534

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Exkursion "Im Westen viel Neues" widmet sich der historischen Entwicklung und gegenwärtigen Ausprägung der Ausstellungskulturen der Fotografie in der Westschweiz. Ausgehend von den frühen Ateliers, Amateurvereinen und Photoclubs des 19. Jahrhunderts bis hin zu den heutigen Institutionen und Festivals zeichnet sich in Lausanne, Vevey und Genf ein exemplarischer Transformationsprozess ab: von der marginalisierten Position eines technischen Mediums hin zu einem zentralen Faktor im musealen und kuratorischen Feld. Diese Entwicklung spiegelt nicht nur den Bedeutungszuwachs der Fotografie im Kontext aktueller Kunst- und Ausstellungspraxis, sondern auch die wachsenden Verbindungen zwischen regionalen, nationalen und internationalen Diskursen.
Die Exkursion führt unter anderem zu drei prägenden Akteuren dieser Entwicklung - dem Musée de l'Élysée in Lausanne, dem Centre de la photographie Genève (CPG) sowie dem Festival Images Vevey (Ausstellungsraum: L'Appartement) - und thematisiert die vielfältigen Formen, in denen Fotografie heute ausgestellt, vermittelt und kritisch reflektiert wird. Mit dem Festival Images Vevey beispielsweise entstand ein Format, das Fotografie bewusst ausserhalb institutioneller Räume verortet und den Stadtraum als Ausstellungsort versteht. Im Zentrum unserer Auseinandersetzung oszilliert dabei die Frage, wie sich vermittelnde Strategien und institutionelle Strukturen in der Westschweiz seit den 1980er Jahren herausgebildet haben und welche Rolle sie im internationalen Ausstellungsdiskurs spielen. Jüngste Entwicklungen - insbesondere die Einbettung des Élysée in das Plateforme 10 Kunstquartier (2022) - markieren einen Übergang zu neuen Formen der Vernetzung, interdisziplinärer Praxis und digitaler Erschliessung.
Besonderes Augenmerk gilt der Verflechtung regionaler Kontexte mit globalen Perspektiven sowie den räumlichen, organisatorischen und kuratorischen Bedingungen, unter denen Fotografie gezeigt wird. Ergänzt wird die Exkursion punktuell durch Workshops und Gespräche mit Kurator*innen und Fachexpert*innen vor Ort, die Einblicke in institutionelle Strategien, programmatische Ausrichtungen und aktuelle Herausforderungen im Umgang mit Fotografien und fotografischen Verfahren geben.

Notes:
Die beiden Vorbereitungstreffen am 27.02. sowie am 20.03.2026 (jeweils von 14.00 bis 15.45 Uhr) sind Pflichtveranstaltungen.
Die individuelle An- und Abreise (zum Startort der Exkursion) nach Lausanne sowie die Buchung der Unterkunft erfolgt eigenverantwortlich. Ein Pauschalbetrag von max. 200.- CHF pro Teilnehmende wird übernommen. Es wird empfohlen, sich eine Unterkunft in Lausanne zu organisieren, da von dort aus beide anderen Destinationen (Vevey und Genf) am schnellsten erreichbar sind.

Termin Exkursion: vom 22.04. bis und mit dem 24.04.2026 (inkl. An- und Abreise)

Course Materials:	Lektüreangaben werden vor der ersten Pflichtveranstaltung per E-Mail zugestellt.

Description:

Business event contents:
This module is designed as a self-study on a research topic defined at the beginning of the Master studies by the supervisor of the Master thesis and the Master coordinator. Through the survey of the current literature on the subject, the student demonstrates a comprehensive understanding of a specialised area of biomedicine. The topic of the module should not overlap with the specific topic of the Master thesis. At the end of the self-study, the examination of the learning outcomes takes the form of a 30-minute oral examination.

Event Dokumentarfilm: Geschichte und Ästhetik
06SE255n001a / Seminar / 735

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Verhältnis von Film und Wirklichkeit gehört zu den meist diskutierten und öffentlich thematisierten Aspekten der Film- und Kinokultur sowie in einem grösseren Rahmen der audiovisuellen Kultur überhaupt. Der dokumentarische Film nimmt dabei eine besondere Stellung ein: Denn wesensmässig ist seinen Bildern und Tönen eine privilegierte Beziehung zur Realität eingeschrieben, unabhängig davon, ob er diese tatsächlich erfüllt oder erfüllen kann. Das Dokumentarfilmkino zeichnet sich also dadurch aus, dass es nicht eine erfundeneWirklichkeit sicht- und hörbar macht, sondern seine Welten sind dadurch bestimmt, dass sie uns als Ausschnitte der Welt erscheinen, in der wir sie zugleich sehen und hören. Der Dokumentarfilm liefert uns dabei nicht nur Weltbilder, die wir schon kennen, sondern trägt zur Weltbildung seines Publikums bei und wird deswegen umso mehr als ästhetische Form analysebedürftig.
Das Aufbauseminar widmet sich dem Verhältnis von Dokumentarfilm und Wirklichkeit anhand konkreter Einzelbeispiele der internationalen (meist westlichen) Dokumentarfilmgeschichte. Dabei steht der einzelne Film jeweils im Zentrum der entsprechenden Seminarsitzung, wobei etwa ein Jahrhundert Dokumentarfilmgeschichte von den 1920er Jahren bis in die aktuelle Gegenwart abgedeckt und der zweiten Hälfte des Seminars ein Fokus auf Diffusionen des Dokumentarischen gelegt wird, also auf Filme, die die Grenzen des Dokumentarischen verwischen. Ziel ist einerseits, vertiefter auf Geschichte undÄsthetik des Dokumentarfilms einzugehen, seine verschiedenen Formen, Verfahren und Methoden vertraut zu machen und hierin die filmanalytische Kompetenz auch über das dokumentarische Ensemble hinaus zu schärfen. Andererseits soll über einen Fokus auf die ästhetische Analyse der Filme die aktuell durch KI, Deep Fakes, Alternative Fakten und Ähnliches scheinbar in Bedrängnis geratene audiovisuelle Non-Fiktion einer ästhetisch kritischen und historisch fundiertenReflexion unterzogen werden.

Event Filme in Bewegung: Orte, Zirkulation, Infrastrukturen
06SE255n002a / Seminar / 1,036

Description:

Business event contents:
Welche Unterschiede macht es, ob wir Bewegtbilder in den festen Raum- und Zeitordnungen eines Kinosaals oder eines Seminarraums, im Vorbeigehen an einem Screen im Museum oder im öffentlichen Raum, umgeben von anderen Medien in unseren Wohnzimmern, oder unterwegs als YouTube-Video, Reel oder GIF auf den Geräten in unseren Händen sehen? Welche Bedeutung kommt den Vermittlungsprozessen und Transportwegen zu, mittels derer sie dort jeweils hingelangen? Das Seminar interessiert sich für die Bewegungen von Film in und zwischen unterschiedlichen historischen und gegenwärtigen Rezeptionskontexten, für ihre jeweiligen räumlichen, technischen und sozialen Ordnungen sowie für die Bedeutung der Austauschprozesse und Kanäle, die Zirkulation und Zugang organisieren und ermöglichen - oder auch nicht ermöglichen. Entlang von drei Schlagworten - Orte, Zirkulation und Infrastrukturen - und in exemplarischen Fallstudien folgen wir solchen Bewegungen vom Kleinen ins Grosse. Zu den möglichen Gegenständen gehören Klimaanlagen und Reinigungsprotokolle in Kinosälen, Schattenbibliotheken, Kettenbriefe auf VHS, Fotografien von Fernsehmöbeln, Memes in und jenseits von digitalen Kulturen, Unterseekabel und Datencenter. Ein zusätzlicher Schwerpunkt wird auf der Frage nach Methoden und Schreibverfahren liegen, mit denen sich die Mobilität von Film beweglich beobachten und beschreiben lässt.

Event Cinema of Places. Space, Architecture and Landscape in Fiction, Documentary and Experimental Films
06SE255n003a / Seminar / 540

Description:

Business event contents:
From its beginnings, cinema has both depicted places and constructed imaginary topographies. Early cinematic views and panoramas served as voyages, transporting audiences to unknown distant territories. Some decades later, Hollywood westerns shaped one of the most recognizable film topographies - a mythological image of spectacular and vast American landscapes. Today, as contemporary technology continues to immerse us in elaborate artificial spaces, a close examination of material places portrayed on the screen can allow us to think the rich and protean relationship between film and space(s).

In this Aufbauseminar, we will discuss films of various genres, styles and lengths from different decades and geographical areas, yet they will all have in common a prominent role given to places. Some of the questions we will address are: How do cinematic techniques construct space? Is there a difference between a setting, nature and a landscape? Can a place itself be a protagonist? What do the choice and the treatment of places tell us about the sociopolitical and cultural context? What are the relations between cinema and architecture?

The notions of space and place will be our departure point, but our discussions will expand to include related topics, such as cinematic time or the politics of the film image.

The viewing sessions will often require preparatory readings of theoretical or critical texts from film studies or other disciplines (anthropology, philosophy, art history, etc.). The seminar aims to strengthen participants' film-analytical and text-analytical skills while also allowing them to familiarize themselves with the different manners in which cinema has dealt with space and topography throughout its history.

Event Close Viewing: A Clockwork Orange – Annäherung an einen umstrittenen Klassiker
06SE255n007a / Seminar / 546

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Vertiefungsseminar erprobt mit dem Format «Close Viewing» eine eher ungewöhnliche Herangehensweise für filmwissenschaftliche Lehrveranstaltungen: Im Zentrum des Seminars steht ein einziger Film, der ein Semester lang Gegenstand der Analyse sein wird. Dies soll eine vertiefte Auseinandersetzung mit dem Werk ermöglichen, für die in traditionellen Seminaren meist die Zeit fehlt. Im Zentrum dieses Close-Viewing-Versuchs steht Stanley Kubricks A CLOCKWORK ORANGE. Der 1971 erschienene Film ist ein ebenso gefeierter wie umstrittener Klassiker. Eine seiner Besonderheiten ist der umfangreiche populäre Diskurs, der sich parallel zur ebenso umfangreichen wissenschaftlichenLiteratur um den Film etabliert hat. Fast immer, wenn im Feuilleton vom potenziell schädlichen Einfluss von Filmen die Rede ist, wird A CLOCKWORK ORANGE als prominentes Exempel angeführt.
Im Rahmen des Seminars widmen wir uns zahlreichen Facetten des Films, wobei unterschiedliche filmtheoretische Herangehensweisen zum Einsatz kommen. Unter anderem soll der Film im Œuvre Kubricks sowie im Kontext des oft als ‹New Hollywood› bezeichneten Umbruchs der US-Filmindustrie situiert werden. Wir werden uns zudem Filme, die als Vorläufer gelten können - etwa Andy Warhols VINYL (US 1965) oder Lindsay Andersons IF.... (GB 1968) - anschauen, aber auch spätere erschiene Werke, die auf Kubricks Film Bezug nehmen, wie zum Beispiel TRAINSPOTTING (GB 1996).
Ein weiterer Schwerpunkt werden Theorien zu Literaturverfilmungen und die Beziehungen zwischen dem Film und Anthony Burgess' gleichnamiger Vorlage bilden; besonderes Augenmerk gilt hier der Kunstsprache Nadsat. Neben formalen und ästhetischen Aspekten sowie Theorien zu Verfremdung und Immersion werden wir uns zudem mit der Rezeption des Films beschäftigen; dabei soll es nicht nurum seinen notorischen Ruf als angeblich gewaltverherrlichendes Werk sowie seineZensurgeschichte gehen, sondern auch um den nachhaltigen popkulturellen Einfluss. A CLOCKWORK ORANGE hat Musiker von David Bowie bis zu Die Toten Hosenund den Punk generell beeinflusst und wird regelmässig von Modeschaffenden zitiert.
Die Lehrveranstaltung verfolgt somit ein doppeltes Ziel: Die detaillierte Analyse eines einzelnen Werks, an dem zugleich der Umgang mit verschiedenen Theorien und methodischen Ansätzen geübt werden soll.

Event Dario Argentos Filme: Analysen, Kontexte, Rezeptionen
06SE255n008a / Seminar / 613

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Filme des italienischen Regisseurs Dario Argento lassen sich aus zahlreichen filmtheoretischen und -analytischen Perspektiven betrachten. Dies ist nicht trotz, sondern gerade wegen der Diversität und Kontroversität seines fünf Dekaden umfassenden Filmschaffens der Fall. Argentos Werke unterwandern wiederholt ein gängiges kulturelles Verständnis des europäischen Arthouse-Kinos. In der filminteressierten Öffentlichkeit werden dabei insbesondere die künstlerische Qualität und der ästhetische Wert seiner Filme intensiv debattiert.

Im Seminar sollen Argentos Filme nicht nur Anlass für eine Auseinandersetzung mit künstlerischen Qualitäten sein. Uns dienen sie als Grundlage für filmische und kontextuelle Analysen, um zu diskutieren, inwiefern ein Œuvre innerhalb eines wissenschaftlichen Rahmens produktiv analysiert und debattiert werden kann. Dabei werden zeitgenössische Diskurse zu Gender, kulturellen Austauschbeziehungen sowie zur Interaktion von Kino und Öffentlichkeit (insbesondere im Kontext von Trash und Kult, von Ironie und «Auteur»-Ideen) eine Rolle spielen. Ebenso finden klassischere filmtheoretische Perspektiven Berücksichtigung, zu filmischen Genres und Dispositiven etwa, die auch heute noch neue Sichten auf historisch gewordenes Kino ermöglichen.

Folgende Fragen werden im Zentrum unserer Auseinandersetzung stehen: Mit welchen Analysemethoden lässt sich ein historisch so umfassendes filmisches Werk untersuchen? In welche Kontexte lassen sich Filme einordnen, die an ungewohnten Schnittstellen ästhetischer, ökonomischer, kultureller und nationaler Filmproduktionen entstanden sind? Welche Erkenntnisse ermöglicht die heutige Auseinandersetzung mit einem filmischen Œuvre?

Event Biophilie und Film
06SE255n009a / Seminar / 497

Description:

Business event contents:
Biophilie bezeichnet die Liebe zum Leben und zum Lebendigen, zur Natur. Unter den visuellen Künsten hat der Film eine besondere Beziehung zur Darstellung desLebens. Aus seiner zeitlichen Dimension und seiner Fähigkeit, Bewegung darzustellen, leiteten Filmtheoretiker*innen insbesondere in der ersten Hälfte des 20. Jahrhunderts das Repertoire der künstlerischen Spezifika des Films ab.
Theoretiker*innen und Filmemacher*innen wie Maya Deren, Jean Renoir, Sigfried Kracauer, Jean Epstein oder Germaine Dulac betonten die Affinität des Films zu Darstellungen des Lebensflusses.
Darüber hinaus war der Film das erste visuelle Medium, das mit Hilfe der Zeitraffer-Technik Einblicke in die bis dahin für das blosse Auge unsichtbaren Bewegungen des Pflanzenwachstums ermöglichte. In gewisser Weise, so die Hypothese, war der Film also nicht nur in der Lage, das Leben «einzufangen»,sondern auch eine neue Form des Lebendigen als animistisches Bild zu schaffen.
Auch auf der Ebene der narrativen Stoffe erwies sich der Film insbesondere in der jüngeren Geschichte des Mediums als geeignetes Vehikel, um verschiedene biophile und zugleich kulturkritische Diskurse über das Leben zu formulieren.
So unterschiedliche Filme wie SILENT RUNNING (Douglas Trumbull; USA, 1971),
EL ABRAZO DE LA SERPIENTE (Ciro Guerra; Kolumbien/Venezuela/Argentinien, 2015),POCAHONTAS (Eric Goldberg und Mike Gabriel; USA, 1995) oder AVATAR (James Cameron; USA/GB, 2009) dienen im Seminar als Beispiele für diese Diskurse.
Gerade vor dem Hintergrund der Klimakrise gewinnen diese Filme in ihrer biophilen, lebensbejahenden Ebene an Wirkungskraft.
Im Seminar wird ein breites Spektrum theoretischer und historischer Texte gelesen, die neben filmwissenschaftlichen auch anthropologische oder wissensgeschichtliche Positionen zur Biophilie auf ihre Relevanz für das Kino untersuchen. Darüber hinaus zielt das Seminar auf eine eingehende Auseinandersetzung mit zentralen medienontologischen Ansätzen zur Ästhetik und Theorie des filmischen/fotografischen Bildes.
Zusätzlich zur Vertiefung der historischen und theoretischen Kenntnisse über grundlegende Aspekte der Filmästhetik werden die analytischen Fähigkeiten der Teilnehmer*innen in einem intensiven Umgang mit Filmmaterial gefördert.

Notes:
Im Rahmen des Seminars wird es abwechselnd eine Woche geben, die den thematischen Diskussionen gewidmet ist, gefolgt von einer Woche, in der die Filme visioniert werden.

Event News from Home: Europäische Blicke auf die USA
06SE255n501a / Seminar / 2,186

Description:

Business event contents:
Jacques Demy, Agnès Varda, Ruth Beckermann, Chantal Akerman, Wim Wenders - die Liste der europäischen Regisseur*innen, die in den USA (und über die USA) Filme gedreht haben, ist lang und könnte beliebig verlängert werden - auch ohne diejenigen Regisseure mitzuzählen, die nach 1933 aus Deutschland zwangsemigrieren mussten und oft in Hollywood landeten. Das Seminar konzentriert sich vor allem auf dokumentarische Arbeiten, in denen die USA nicht nur Landschaft und Schauplatz, sondern explizite Reflexionsfläche für das Nachdenken über Identität, Herkunft, Kultur und Mentalitäten ist. Vardas Filme über die Black Panthers oder ihren Onkel Yanco; Ruth Beckermanns AMERICAN PASSAGES (2011), Hartmut Bitomskys HIGHWAY 40 WEST (1981), Rainer Komers' BARSTOW, CALIFORNIA (2018), Klaus Wildenhahns HARLEM THEATER (1968/69). In einer Zeit, in der die seit 1945 scheinbar verbindliche Allianz zwischen den USA und Europa brüchig und in Frage gestellt worden ist, bekommen diese Filme eine neue politische Bedeutung.

Description:

Course Materials:	Francisco Rosales et al. (2017): CAMPUS SUR. Libro del alumno, Barcelona, Difusión. Beim Kauf des Kursbuchs gibt es zwei Möglichkeiten: Wenn Sie die bereits im HS behandelten Inhalte wiederholen möchten, empfehlen wir Ihnen den Kauf der Kompaktversion, die die Stufen A1-B1 enthält. Es gibt zwei Alternativen: eine auf Deutsch (von Klett) und eine auf Spanisch (von Difusión). Da Sie in diesem Semester bereits ein A2-Niveau haben, empfehlen wir Ihnen die zweite Option (nur auf Spanisch). Wenn Sie nur die Inhalte wünschen, die wir in der FS verwenden, können Sie die CAMPUS SUR-Version erwerben, die nur das B1-Niveau enthält und nur auf Spanisch (Difusión) ist. Der Preisunterschied zwischen den beiden (A1-B1 und B1) ist nicht sehr gro&szli dass wir die kompakte Version (A1-B1) empfehlen, auch wenn Sie nur an einem Semester teilnehmen möchten.

Event Fachdidaktik Englisch III: Can Learning Grammar Be Fun - and Effective?
06SE090E3b / Seminar / 973

Description:

Business event contents:
How about teaching tenses by having your students shoot a short film, modal verbs by having them write their own poetry, and idiomatic expressions by asking your class to act them out literally? Why not turn Romeo and Juliet into a punk zine, dance the Charleston or bust out your dopest hip hop moves to get into the groove of The Great Gatsby and The Hate U Give, respectively? In this course we are going to explore David A. Kolb's Experiential Learning Theory (ELT) with a view to teaching grammar and other EFL areas in an interactive manner to both short- and long-term high schoolers. In designing and actively trying out lessons based on the Experiential Learning Cycle, we shall try to engage our (future) students analytically, physically, and emotionally. This holistic approach should provide them with dynamic, effective, and deep learning experiences. The course is all about giving our students the tools they need to have a memorable experience, reflect upon it, deduce insight from it, and then use it for subsequent activities. This way, ideally, learning grammar as well as other aspects of our curriculum become fun, effective, and transformative.

Event Fachdidaktik Philosophie I
06SE090Phi1 / Seminar / 990

Description:

Business event contents:
Im Vordergrund stehen Themen wie Unterrichtsplanung, Lehrmethoden, Gesprächsführung und Methoden der Textarbeit. Darüber hinaus werden unterschiedliche didaktische Konzepte vorgestellt und das Verhältnis von Philosophie und Didaktik wird grundsätzlich reflektiert. Ebenso stehen schulpraktische und bildungspolitische Fragen zur Diskussion, beispielsweise wenn es um Bildungsauftrag und Lehrpläne oder um die Stellung der Philosophie als Unterrichtsfach an Maturitätsschulen geht.

Notes:
Der Neueinstieg in den zweisemestrigen Didaktikkurs ist nur im Frühjahrssemester möglich. Eine vorgängige Anmeldung beim Dozenten wird empfohlen: roger.hofer@ife.uzh.ch

Event SDS210.1 Programming with Spatial Data (Grundlagen zur Arbeit mit digitalen räumlichen Daten II): Gruppe 2
07UESDS210.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 4,875

Description:

Business event contents:
The course follows a flipped classroom approach that blends self-paced learning with interactive lab sessions. Each week, you will engage with lecture videos and the accompanying script before the lab sessions. These materials introduce the core programming concepts and spatial data techniques for that week.
The in-person lab sessions are then used to apply what you have learned, clarify open questions, and work collaboratively on practical exercises.
Instructors will be available to guide you, discuss your code, and help troubleshoot challenges you encounter while implementing your solutions.

Notes:
Bring your own laptop to practical exercises (labs). Book this module before the semester starts to ensure access to the computer lab infrastructure.

Course Materials:	Provided on Teams & OLAT.

Event Fachdidaktik Englisch III: (YA) Literature in the 21st Century Classroom
06SE090E3a / Seminar / 972

Description:

Business event contents:
The pandemic and the advent of GenAI have been catalysts for educators to adapt their teaching to ensure that students are equipped with all the skills and competences they will need in the 21st century. As we shift from teacher-directed lessons to student-centered projects, move away from pen and paper to ed-tech integration, and give our students more choices in both academic and behavioral goals, our role is changing from teacher to learning facilitator and coach.

Using (YA) literature, we will explore how we can foster 21st century skills in classroom reading, collaborative projects and individual follow-up assignments. We will discuss ways of providing room for creativity, critical thinking, and differentiation in our literature lessons. We will reflect how digital tools and AI can augment, modify or even redefine the ways our learners engage with literature. We will evaluate new forms of formative and summative assessment, individual oral and written assessment, self- and peer feedback. Student input in the form of reviews, presentations of theoretical concepts and demonstrations of digital tools / apps will complement the course.

Event European Summer University for Jewish Studies: “Away and Gone – About Jewish Travelers” / July 12-17, 2026, in Hohene
01SE14SS056 / Seminar / 4,926

Description:

Business event contents:
Jüdische Erfahrungen und Lebenswelten sind seit jeher von Mobilität geprägt. Dabei denkt man häufig an Verfolgung und erzwungene Migration. Doch auch ganz andere Faktoren haben Jüdinnen und Juden zum Reisen veranlasst, die im Fokus der diesjährigen Sommeruniversität stehen.
Ökonomisch waren sie in vielen Regionen vor allem auf Handelsberufe festgelegt, und so war «Reisender» durchaus ein eigenes Berufsbild, ob als Hausierer oder Kaufleute. Das prägte soziale Erfahrungen genauso wie die Notwendigkeit, Ehepartnerinnen und Ehepartner außerhalb der eigenen lokalen Gemeinde zu finden und damit familiäre Strukturen auch auf große Distanzen aufrecht zu erhalten.
Die Kommunikation über religiöse Traditionen und die stetige Neubegründung jüdischen Wissens erforderte permanenten Austausch und damit eine rabbinische Reisetätigkeit zwischen den Zentren jüdischen Lebens, in Europa und darüber hinaus. Die so entstandenen Netzwerke jüdischen Geisteslebens expandierten auch durch Forscherdrang und wissenschaftliche Neugier. Bis schließlich auch die nostalgische Suche nach vergangener «Heimischkeit» und Pilgerreisen zu den Stätten legendärer Wunderrabbiner ganz neue Formen eines jüdischen Tourismus erzeugten.
Die 16. Europäische Sommeruniversität für Jüdische Studien Hohenems wird vom 12. bis 17. Juli 2026 – in gewohnt breiter interdisziplinärer Perspektive – den sozialen und ökonomischen, religiösen, kulturellen und wissenschaftsgeschichtlichen Dimensionen des jüdischen «Unterwegsseins» nachgehen, von Handelswegen und Heiratsnetzwerken bis zu Entdeckungslust und nostalgischer Sehnsucht.
Die Sommeruniversität für Jüdische Studien Hohenems 2026 steht Studierenden aller Fachbereiche offen. Bevorzugt angenommen werden Studierende der beteiligten Universitäten in Bamberg, Basel, Budapest, Heidelberg, Innsbruck, München, Wien und Zürich.

Notes:
Es handelt sich um die Sommeruniversität "Jüdische Studien", die vom 12.7. bis 17.7.2026 in Hohenems (A) stattfindet. Bitte buchen Sie die Veranstaltung, Sie werden dann automatisch bei Olat eingeschrieben und für die Anmeldung kontaktiert. Die Teilnahmegebühr beträgt 280 EUR für Studierende (inklusive Frühstück und Unterkunft) und wird teilweise von der Sigi Feigel Gastprofessur rückerstattet.

Event Money and Power in Democracies
06SE615o535a / Seminar / 2,124

Description:

Business event contents:
Is democracy more likely to be introduced when economic inequality is high or low? Once democracy has been introduced, does economic inequality affect its quality? Why is economic inequality increasing across the world and what do we think the long-term political consequences of this dynamic will be? This course explores these questions by offering a deep dive into the literature on political economy with a focus on democracies, democratization, and democratic health.

Notes:
Raum: AFL-H-376

Course Materials:	The materials covered in class are mostly academic articles and chapters from books, and the majority of this work is quantitative in nature. It is, therefore, helpful if you have a basic understanding of statistics used in the social sciences. However, don't be discouraged if you do not yet have this type of knowledge - we will cover the main findings together in class.

Event BW: Blockcourse in St. Andrews: NT Blockseminar: Apocalypticism in the First and Second Centuries (St Andrews)
01BK15LS000 / Seminar / 2,160

Description:

Business event contents:
Was zeichnet apokalyptische Strömungen aus? Wie lassen sie sich historisch und literarisch im Frühjudentum und im Frühchristentum einordnen? Und welchen Beitrag leisten sie zum Verständnis der Jesusbewegung und der frühchristlichen Literatur? Diesen Fragen widmen wir uns an drei Tagen in der Küstenstadt St Andrews in Schottland in einer international zusammengesetzten Studiengruppe. Grundlage der gemeinsamen Arbeit sind ausgewählte Quellentexte aus Qumran, dem Neuen Testament (Evangelien, Paulusbriefe, Johannesoffenbarung) sowie weiteren frühjüdischen und frühchristlichen Schriften (u. a. 5Esra, die Sybillinischen Orakel, die Petrusapokalypse). Zur Vorbereitung wird ergänzend zu den Quellentexten einschlägige Sekundärliteratur herangezogen.

Notes:
Das Blockseminar findet vom 18.–20. Juni 2025 an der University of St Andrews in Schottland statt (Anreise 17.6., Abreise 20./21.6.). Es richtet sich an MA- (nach Absprache auch BA-)Studierende und Doktorierende der Universität Zürich und der University of St Andrews. Die Unterrichtssprache ist Englisch. Über die fachliche Auseinandersetzung hinaus besteht die Möglichkeit zum Austausch mit internationalen Studierenden und der Besichtigung von St Andrews. Unterkunft sowie gemeinsame Verpflegung werden gestellt; die Teilnehmenden tragen die Kosten der individuellen An- und Abreise selbst. Das Blockseminar ist mit dem AT-Blockseminar vom 20.–22. Januar 2027 in Zürich zu kombinieren, das die Thematik der Apokalyptik vertieft (Leitung: Prof. Dr. Konrad Schmid / Dr. Moritz Adam). Der Besuch beider Seminarteile wird mit 3 ECTS angerechnet. WICHTIG: Die Zahl der Teilnehmenden ist begrenzt. Wegen der Organisation der Unterkunft ist neben der Modulbuchung die Anmeldung bei Florence Gantenbein zwingend erforderlich (florence.gantenbein@uzh.ch).

Event Seminar: Analysis of qualitative data
01SE46LM001 / Seminar / 4,936

Description:

Business event contents:
Im Fokus dieses Seminars steht die Auswertung qualitativer Daten. Zum einen lernen die Studierenden verschiedene Datenanalyseverfahren kennen (z.B. qualitative Inhaltsanalyse, thematische und sequentielle Kodierverfahren) und können passende Ansätze für ihre Forschungsinteressen und Forschungsmaterialien identifizieren. Dazu gehört auch eine kritische Auseinandersetzung mit den Möglichkeiten und Herausforderungen der verschiedenen Auswertungsmethoden, wie auch mit damit verbundenen wissenschaftstheoretischen Prämissen. Andererseits werden im Seminar Grundprinzipien der Datenanalyseprozesse besprochen. Wir beschäftigen uns mit der Aufbereitung der Daten, Datamanagement, Datensicherung, forschungsethischen Überlegungen und der Verwendung von Softwares bei computergestützten Analysen. Schliesslich soll auch der Übergang von der Datenanalyse zur Verschriftlichung der Erkenntnisse thematisiert und Gütekriterien qualitativer Verfahren diskutiert werden.
Die Studierenden werden diese verschiedenen Themenfelder anhand von selbst und/oder von anderen erhobenen Daten erproben und im direkten Umgang mit empirischen Daten praktische Erfahrungen sammeln.

Notes:
Das ist ein Seminar auf Masterstufe. Die Veranstaltung ist zudem für Doktorierende geöffnet. Auditor*innen werden auf Anfrage zugelassen.

Event Landschaftsarchäologie
06VL682o003a / Course / 1,805

Description:

Business event contents:
Landschaftsarchäologie bezeichnet die kulturgeschichtliche Auseinandersetzung mit einem Lebensraum, der als Resultat des Zusammenwirkens von naturräumlichen Gegebenheiten und menschlichem Handeln verstanden wird. Landschaftsarchäologie ist in diesem Sinne archäologische Humanökologie: diese untersucht sowohl das Wirken des Menschens auf seine Umwelt ("human impact") als auch den Einfluss der Umwelt auf den Menschen ("natural forcing"). Zu den typischen landschaftlichen Veränderungen durch den Menschen gehören Siedlungen und ihr wirtschaftliches Umfeld (Rodungen, Felder und Wiesen, Verkehrswege, Weidegebiete, Abbauplätze) sowie rituelle Überprägungen durch Grabanlagen, Monumente oder sakrale Landschaftsgestaltungen; zu den natürlichen Wirkkräften gehören das Klima mit seinen verschiedenen Aspekten (Temperatur, Niederschlag, Wind u.a.m.), aber auch Erosion und Akkumulation oder Naturgewalten wie Vulkanausbrüche und Erdbeben. Landschaft ist ein dynamischer Zustand, ähnlich wie menschliche Gesellschaften ist er einem steten Wandel unterworfen. In der Vorlesung werden archäologische Herangehensweisen an Landschaft und Landschaftsrekonstruktion bzw. -simulation thematisiert und mit Fallbeispielen der europäischen Prähistorie illustriert.

Event Textual Sources on Catastrophes in Early and Early Medieval China
06UE280-500a / Exercise Group / 3,954

Description:

Business event contents:
The course offers selected original texts (narrative, poetic, epigraphical, philosophical, historiographical etc.) from Shang China down to the early Middle Ages which describe and classify disasters and their consequences or which embed them in arguments. The texts will be collaboratively translated and analyzed. The diversity of the chosen genres, their textual history and linguistic features also serves to introduce the tools and pitfalls of philological analysis of the materials being worked on.

Notes:
Students are required to have a level of Classical Chinese at least equivalent to Antikchinesisch II. The course requires students to be ready to independently prepare original texts in commented editions and to engage in detailed discussion of various translation variants.

Lessons are held in English, unless ALL participants prefer German

Course Materials:	Selections from original sources to be distributed via OLAT.

Event Forschungsseminar (Beginn FS 2026), Teil I
06SE226-513a / Seminar / 1,105

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Lernen in formellen (wie Schule und Universitäten) sowie informellen Lernkontexten wird zunehmend durch digitale Technologien wie generative und prädiktive Künstliche Intelligenz (KI) beeinflusst.
Diese Technologien beeinflussen den Lehr- und Lernprozess und können dabei aktiv gestaltet werden. In diesem Forschungsseminar werden zwei zentrale Themen der digitalen Lerntechnologien behandelt: Zum einen die multimediale Lernforschung, die sich mit der Gestaltung digitaler Lerntechnologien - unter anderem mit generativen KI - zur Optimierung der Lernleistung beschäftigt. Zum anderen geht es um Learning Analytics, die sich mit der Anpassung des Lernens und der Analyse von Lehrprozessen (z. B. durch Feedback) mithilfe von Daten aus digitalen Technologien - wie prädiktiver KI - befasst, um fundierte pädagogische und didaktische Entscheidungen zu treffen. Der Begriff adaptives Lehren beschreibt die Verbindung beider Forschungsfelder, um Lernerfahrungen zu personalisieren.
Die Studierenden setzen sich mit Theorien, empirischen Erkenntnissen und Forschungsmethoden in den Bereichen Multimedia Learning und Learning Analytics auseinander.
Dabei soll auch ein klarer Bezug zur (Forschungs-)Ethik im Zusammenhang mit dem Einsatz von KI hergestellt werden. Ziel ist es, übergreifende Konzepte und offene Forschungsfragen zu identifizieren sowie zukünftige Herausforderungen, Trends und Einflussfaktoren auf die Wirkung digitaler Technologien auf Lehr- und Lernprozesse zu antizipieren und diese auf einen Bildungsbereich zu übertragen, der dem gewählten Studienschwerpunkt entspricht.
Mögliche übergeordnete Forschungsfragen sind:

- Wie müssen KI-gestützte Lerntechnologien gestaltet sein, um effektive Wissensvermittlung zu ermöglichen?
- Wie kann der Einsatz von KI die Lernerfahrungen personalisieren und adaptiv an individuelle Bedürfnisse anpassen?
- Wie kann digitale Wissensvermittlung Lehrpersonen bei der Gestaltung von multimedialen Lernarrangements oder beim Lehren unterstützen?
- Wie kann digitale Wissensvermittlung (z. B. mittels KI) selbstreguliertes Lernen (oder andere relevante Theorien) beim multimedialen Lernen unterstützen?
- Welche Daten können von Lehrpersonen genutzt werden, um Unterrichtsmethoden zu optimieren?
- Wie sollten Dashboards/digitale Displays gestaltet sein, um Lehrende/Lernende effizient zu informieren?
- Welche Denkweisen und Kompetenzen sind erforderlich, um eine erfolgreiche Integration von KI in die Wissensvermittlung zu ermöglichen?
- Wie hat sich der Umgang mit KI-Technologien in Bildungskontexten (Schulen und Universitäten) verändert? (Historische Diskurse über Erwartungen und Wirkungen)
- Welche politischen Rahmenbedingungen und ethischen Richtlinien beeinflussen den Einsatz von KI in der Wissensvermittlung?
- Welche ethischen Herausforderungen ergeben sich beim Einsatz von KI im sozialpädagogischen Kontext - insbesondere in Bezug auf den Schutz von Kindern und Jugendlichen?
- Wie haben technologische Innovationen - von der Einführung des Computers bis hin zur Künstlichen Intelligenz - Bildungsverständnisse und Lernpraktiken im historischen Verlauf verändert?

Event OT Lecture: The book of Proverbs. An educational guide
01VL14SV033 / Course / 201

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Vorlesung widmet sich dem Buch der Sprüche, das unter verschiedenen Namen bekannt ist (Proverbia, Sprüche Salomos etc.). Im Zentrum steht die Weisheit. Die prägnanten Sprichwörter dieser antiken Erziehungsliteratur haben ihre Wurzeln im Hebräischen der Levante und in den Kulturen des Alten Orients und des Alten Ägyptens. Des Weiteren fasziniert das Buch der Sprüche mit seiner facettenreichen Überlieferungs-, Übersetzungs- und Rezeptionsgeschichte in Christentum und Judentum. Das Zusammenspiel mit wechselnden kulturellen und religiösen Kontexten (gestern wie heute) ist in dieser Vorlesung von besonderem Interesse.

Notes:
Diese Vorlesung ist in Absprache mit der Hebräischlektüre "Proverbia" (Mo, 16h–18h) und dem Kurs "Altäthiopisch II: Sprache und Schriftkultur (Messale und Tagsas)" (Fr, 12h–14h) konzipiert. Der Besuch der genannten Sprachveranstaltungen ist nicht verpflichtend, wird Studierenden mit Hebräisch- oder Altäthiopischkenntnissen aber wärmstens zur Ergänzung empfohlen.

Course Materials:	Werden auf OLAT bekanntgegeben. Zur Vorbereitung empfohlen: Lektüre des Buchs der Sprüche (Zürcher Bibel), Ruth Scoralick, "Sprüche Salomos" in WiBiLex (https://bibelwissenschaft.de/stichwort/12030/).

Event CH Seminar: The disputation of Baden (1526)
01SE22SS047 / Seminar / 1,690

Description:

Business event contents:
Vor 500 Jahren fand die Badener Disputation (19. Mai–8. Juni 1526) statt. Sie gehört zu den wichtigsten Ereignissen der frühen Reformationszeit in der Eidgenossenschaft. Die Forschung fragt sich bis heute: Wer waren eigentlich die Akteure, wer hat eingeladen, wer war verantwortlich und welche Folgen hatte die Disputation für die Kirchengeschichte der Schweiz. Und immer noch ranken sich viele Geschichten und Gerüchte darum, wie es möglich war, dass Zwingli in Zürich über den Verlauf der Disputation in Baden bestens und regelmässig orientiert war. Ein kleiner Krimi...

Notes:
Das Seminar strukturiert sich durch Quellenlektüre, Referate, Diskussionsthesen etc; Latein, Französisch und Italienisch sind wünschbar, aber nicht Voraussetzung. Auditoren sind zugelassen.

Event ST Proseminar Dogmatics: What is Judaism's theological significance for Christianity?
01PS23LB003 / Proseminar / 2,783

Description:

Business event contents:
Thema des Proseminars ist die Frage nach der theologischen Bedeutung des Judentums für die christliche Theologie. Wie verhalten sich das Judentum als Volk und Religion und die christliche Kirche zueinander? In welchem Verhältnis stehen alter und neuer Bund? Welche theologische Bedeutung kommt dem Jüdischsein Jesu von Nazareth zu?
Der inhaltliche Schwerpunkt des Proseminars liegt auf der deutschsprachigen Debatte nach dem Zweiten Weltkrieg, in der die bleibende Bedeutung des Judentums für das Christentum anerkannt und eine «Theologie nach Auschwitz» entwickelt wurde. Dafür lesen wir sowohl klassisch gewordene Ansätze (Karl Barth, Jürgen Moltmann und Friedrich-Wilhelm Marquardt) als auch jüngere Beiträge (u.a. von Barbara Meyer) und kirchliche Papiere. Dabei geht es einerseits um eine Auseinandersetzung mit grundlegenden Einsichten dieser Debatte wie z.B. die bleibende Erwählung Israels (im Anschluss an Römer 9–11). Andererseits sollen aber auch Herausforderungen und Probleme diskutiert werden, die sich z.B. im Zusammenhang mit christlichem Antijudaismus und Spielarten von Substitutionstheologien ergeben.

Event ST: Advanced Course in Philosophy of Religion_Does Religion Exist? On the Genesis and Validity of a Non-Natural Catego
01VL23LM020 / Course / 2,780

Description:

Business event contents:
Public doubt of God's existence has become a widely accessible option across large segments of Western society.
Public doubt of God's existence has become a widely accessible option across large segments of Western society.
The existence of religion, however, seems beyond such doubt.

This course examines one of the most fundamental questions in religious studies and philosophy of religion: whether religion exists as a coherent, universal phenomenon or is rather a modern Western construct imposed upon specific human practices and beliefs. The question becomes concrete when we ask: Why is prayer labeled as religious while shopping rituals, flag ceremonies, and the academic practice of theorizing religion are considered non-religious or secular?

We begin by exploring how the concept of religion emerged historically, tracing its development from ancient philosophical traditions through Christian theology to modern secular scholarship. Students will investigate the assumptions underlying common definitions of religion and consider whether attempts to create universal categories of religious experience are theoretically sound or practically useful.

The course challenges students to think (self-)critically about taken-for-granted concepts, examining how the category of «religion» has been shaped by particular cultural, political, and intellectual contexts. We will explore debates between substantivist approaches that seek universal religious phenomena (i.e. belief in supernatural powers), functionalist perspectives that focus on religion's social functions, and constructivist views that emphasize the contingent, historically specific nature of religious categories. Through engagement with «classical» texts and contemporary scholarship from E. Durkheim and M. Weber to Ch. Taylor and others, students will analyze how different societies have organized spiritual, ritual, and transcendent experiences, and whether these can meaningfully be grouped under a single conceptual umbrella.

A central focus of the course examines how the religious-secular binary functions as an instrument of political, economic and conceptual power. We will investigate how dominant actors—including state institutions, the media, economic elites, and secular intellectuals—construct and maintain the distinction between «religious» and «secular» spheres to serve their particular interests. By relegating certain beliefs and practices to an «inner», «private», or «subjective» religious domain, social actors can present their own commitments as neutral, rational, and universally valid «secular» positions. Students will analyze how this dynamic shapes public policy debates, scientific theorizing, educational curricula, and social hierarchies, exploring cases where the religious-secular divide has been deployed to marginalize alternative worldviews while legitimizing dominant power structures.

We will examine concrete examples of how Western definitions of religion create conceptual problems when applied to non-Western traditions. Buddhism serves as a particularly illuminating case study: often characterized as «non-religious» in popular Western discourse due to its non-theistic orientation, Buddhism reveals the Christian-centric assumptions embedded in common definitions of religion that privilege belief in God or gods. This mischaracterization has enabled Buddhism's presentation as a rational «philosophy» or «psychology» compatible with secular modernity, while obscuring its rich ritual life, institutional structures, and soteriological claims that would typically be classified as religious in other contexts.

Key questions raised in this course include: What assumptions do we make when we speak of «world religions»? How do power dynamics influence which practices get classified as religious versus cultural, political, or philosophical? What are the implications of these categorizations for understanding human diversity and for academic study itself? What happens to competing truth-claims when the religious-secular boundary starts to break down? Are humans worshiping animals, whether they think of themselves as religious or not?

By the end of the course, students will have developed sophisticated tools for analyzing «religious» phenomena while remaining critically aware of the conceptual frameworks they employ.

Notes:
This hybrid course is held as a presence course, but can also be attended online.

Course Materials: Course materials will be provided at the start of the course.

01LE23LB100 / Exercise Group / 2,782

Description:

Business event contents:
In diesem Lektürekurs sollen klassische Texte der theologischen und philosophischen Ethik gemeinsam besprochen und diskutiert werden. Ziel ist es dabei, einen Eindruck der Disziplin der Ethik im Verlauf ihrer Geschichte sowie ein vertieftes Verständnis einzelner ethischer Konzepte zu gewinnen, indem die Texte in ihren historischen Kontext eingeordnet und in Bezug auf ihre Bedeutung für Ethik heute hin befragt werden.
Darüber hinaus soll auch die gewinnbringende Lektüre anspruchsvoller Texte eingeübt werden.
---Da die Sitzungen der Klärung von (Verständnis-) Fragen und vor allem der Diskussion gewidmet seien sollen, wird die intensive Vorbereitung der Texte vorausgesetzt.

Event Die Vorsokratiker: tiefgründiges oder unreifes Denken?
06SE160o502a / Seminar / 681

Description:

Business event contents:
Seit langem, nämlich seit Platon und dann wieder im 20. Jahrhundert, haben vorsokratische Denker wie Heraklit oder Parmenides den Nimbus von tiefgründigen Denkern, die das Prinzip des Weltganzen enthüllen. Dies kontrastiert mit der einflussreichen Auffassung von Aristoteles, wonach es sich bei allem vorsokratischen Denken um ein unsystematisches und unreifes handelt.
Das Seminar wird diesem Kontrast nachgehen und dafür die Fragmente behandeln von Parmenides, Heraklit, Xenophanes, Anaxagoras, Demokrit, Empedokles sowie Protagoras.
Griechischkenntnisse sind nicht erforderlich, aber die Bereitschaft, sich mit den oft nur kurzen Textfragmenten eingehend zu befassen.
Zudem wird am Ende jeder Seminarsitzung exemplarisch das Verfassen von philosophischen Arbeiten eingeübt.

Event Einführung in qualitative Forschungsmethoden (S)
03SE22BO0101 / Seminar / 824

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Seminar "Einführung in qualitative Forschungsmethoden" bietet Bachelorstudierenden einen Einblick in die Methoden der qualitativen Sozialforschung. Der Fokus liegt dabei auf Methoden der Management- und Organisationsforschung. Die Struktur des Kurses orientiert sich am Aufbau eines qualitativen Forschungsprojekts. Der Kurs setzt sich zusammen aus abwechselnden theoretischen, praktischen und reflexiven Elementen.

Notes:
Um genügend Zeit und Raum für das komplementäre theorie- und praxisorientierte Erlernen qualitativer Forschungsmethoden, Diskussionen und Feedbacks zu bieten, ist die Teilnehmerzahl begrenzt. Die Studierenden können sich mit Lebenslauf, Motivationsschreiben und Leistungsausweis über das Bewerbungstool des VVZ bewerben.

01SE24SS021 / Seminar / 2,235

Description:

Business event contents:
Hoffnungsvoll Minderheit sein – eine ökumenische Studienreise mit der presbyterianischen Kirche in Portugal
20. Juni – 29. Juni 2026

Portugal schaut auf eine bewegte Religionsgeschichte zurück: Schon in der römischen Antike gab es christliche Gemeinden, die islamische Besetzung der iberischen Halbinsel brachte ein manchmal friedliches, oft aber konfliktreiches Zusammenleben von christlichen, muslimischen und jüdischen Gemeinschaften bis zur Reconquista, die im 11. Jahrhundert das Ende des Kalifats bedeutete. Im Spätmittelalter und bis in die Neuzeit war Portugal so katholisch, dass noch Mitte des 20. Jahrhunderts für viele Menschen in Portugal ein mancherorts sehr volkstümlicher Katholizismus fraglos zur portugiesischen Identität gehörte. Die Reformation hatte die Pyrenäen nicht zu überqueren vermocht.

Kirchen protestantischer Tradition entstanden in Portugal aus meist englischen und amerikanischen Missionsinitiativen, wie sie für das «grosse Jahrhundert der westlichen Mission» von Mitte des 19. bis Mitte des 20. Jahrhunderts. typisch sind. Erst das Ende von Inquisition und Absolutismus in Portugal hatten neue Freiräume für andere Religionsgemeinschaften als die römisch-katholische Kirche eröffnet.

Ziel der Studienreise ist es, zusammen mit aktiven Gemeindegliedern und Mitarbeitenden der IEPP zu erkunden und zu erleben,

- wie diese kleine, an Ressourcen arme Kirche lebt und wirkt,
- ob und wie die innerevangelische und die evangelisch-katholische Kommunikation und Zusammenarbeit funktioniert,
- ob und wie die Geschichte der jüdisch-christlich-islamischen convivência im Mittelalter für das gegenwärtige interreligiöse Zusammenleben fruchtbar gemacht wird,
- welche Schlüsse sich ziehen lassen, wenn wir die Erfahrungen in unseren jeweiligen Kirchen miteinander vergleichen.

Wir sind überzeugt, dass die IEPP für Studierende inspirierend sein kann, die sich auf einen Dienst in den evangelischen Kirchen der Schweiz vorbereiten – in Kirchen also, die sich in tiefgreifenden Wandlungsprozessen befinden. Aus soliden und vergleichsweise reichen Amtskirchen, die ihre Dienste anbieten, werden Minderheiten, die als Gemeinschaften in einer auch religiös vielfarbigen Gesellschaft Wege suchen, wie sie ihr Leben auch für die anderen aus der «Kraft der Auferstehung» führen können.

Am 20. Februar (14-21h) findet ein Vorbereitungstreffen in Basel statt. Informationen folgen per Olat. Die Reise kostet CHF 250.00 pro Person.

Geleitet wird die Reise von:
Profn. Andrea Bieler (Theologische Fakultät Basel),
Prof. Ralph Kunz (Theologische und religionswissenschaftliche Fakultät Zürich)
und Pfr.Dr. Benedict und Sabine Schubert-Prack (Basel).

Die Platzzahl ist begrenzt – berücksichtigt wird nach Eingang der Anmeldung.

Event Von der „Hauswirtschaft“ zur „Care-Arbeit“? Geschlechterbedingte Arbeitsteilung in der Schweiz (20.-21. Jh.)
06SE600-601b / Seminar / 3,199

Description:

Business event contents:
Dank kollektiver Recherchen in den Beständen des Gosteli-Archivs und des Schweizerischen Sozialarchivs werden wir in diesem Blockseminar eine historische Perspektive auf die heutige Diagnose einer "Care-Krise" aufzeigen. Welche Formen der bezahlten und unbezahlten Sorgearbeit "aus Liebe" (Barbara Duden) gab es in der Schweiz vor der heutigen Diskussion um "Care-Arbeit"? Wie bedingen sich die Transformationen dieser Arbeitsformen und ihrer unterschiedlichen Sichtbarkeit seit dem letzten Jahrhundert mit sozioökonomischen Prozessen wie Industrialisierung, Rationalisierung oder der Entstehung der Konsumgesellschaft? In diesem Seminar werden wir uns insbesondere auf sozial-, geschlechter- und wissenshistorische Ansätze stützen, da die zu berücksichtigenden Arbeitsformen mit der geschlechterbedingten, aber historisch wandelbaren Trennung zwischen Öffentlichkeit und Privatsphäre zusammenhängen und somit im Laufe der Jahrzehnte anders sichtbar, benannt, reguliert oder gar bewertet wurden. Wie lassen sich Begriffe wie "hauswirtschaftliche Arbeit", "Hausfrauenarbeit" oder "reproduktive Arbeit" und die damit zusammenhängenden Debatten um ihre Quantifizierung und Anerkennung historisieren? Im Rahmen unserer Archivbesuche werden wir uns den Perspektiven unterschiedlicher Akteur:innen zu diesen Fragen im Zeitwandel annähern: von der Sicht der Statistik oder des Schulfachs "Hauswirtschaft" bis hin zur eigenen Wissensproduktion der Frauenbewegungen in all ihrer Vielfalt. Unsere Diskussionen sollten uns dabei helfen, gängigen Narrativen über Arbeit, Haushalt, und Geschlechterverhältnisse historische Tiefe und Nuanz zu verleihen.

Description:

Business event contents:
Thema ist Religion in Grossbritannien, mit einem Fokus auf die Gegenwart, aber auch mit einem Blick auf den historischen Kontext. Das Seminar dient der Vorbereitung für eine Studienreise, die im Juni 2026 stattfinden wird. Das Seminar kann auch ohne Teilnahme an der Studienreise gebucht werden, sinnvoller ist es jedoch, die beiden Dinge zu verknüpfen. Für die Studienreise ist eine separate Anmeldung und Buchung erforderlich.

Notes:
Das Seminar kann auch ohne Studienreise gebucht werden.

Die Studienreise findet vom 17.06.26 bis 28.06.26 statt.

Die Anmeldung und Buchung für die Studienreise erfolgt via der Dozentin per Mail: Maike Schöttner Sieler <maike.schoettnersieler@uzh.ch>.

Event DNA Next Generation Sequencing – from theory to practice
07VUBIO680 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 609

Description:

Business event contents:
Next-generation sequencing (NGS) technologies have revolutionized almost all fields in biology and are changing the practice of medicine. With the falling equipment and sequencing costs, they are becoming indispensable techniques in research and diagnostic laboratories. As a joint state-of-the-art research and training facility of the ETH Zurich and the University of Zurich, the NGS team at the Functional Genomics Center Zurich (FGCZ) offers a five-day course with hands-on practicals.
The lectures cover NGS technologies, their applications and data analysis principles. The practicals consists of sequencing library preparation from gDNA, sequencing run set up on bench top sequencer, and sequencing data analysis. Additionally, single molecule sequencing is covered during this course, including a practical session.

Event Farbiges Rauschen – Migration der Zeichen: Räume – Graffiti – Memes – KI
06SE506o001a / Seminar / 1,021

Description:

Business event contents:
Ein Überfluss an Zeichen und Kommunikation zeichnet unseren Alltag aus. Wir gehen im Semi-nar auf eine Reise durch Raum und Zeit. Wir analysieren Schnittstellen und Interdependenzen: Von Urban Art, über Graffiti, Memes zu postdigitalen Trends. Wir (unter-)suchen Aneignungs-prozesse in digitalen und alltäglichen Räumen: Wie beeinflussen digitale Repräsentationen von Ordnung und Unordnung unser Bild von Urbanität? Welche Innovationen gehen von jugendkul-turellen Codierungsmustern zum Beispiel bei Hip Hop-Videos oder Memes aus? Wie lassen sich aktuelle Bedürfnisse nach Digital Detox und Privatheit konzeptionell fassen? Wie verändern KI und digitale Introspektion zu Mental Health unsere Identitäten? Wie formen Techfirmen und künstliche Intelligenz die Arbeitswelten? Im Seminar erarbeiten wir Konzepte, Begriffe und me-thodische Grundlagen sowohl für literatur- als auch für forschungsbasierte Seminararbeiten. Be-standteil des Leistungsnachweises ist eine kurze Videoarbeit, die die Studierenden selbstständig oder in Kleingruppen durchführen.

Event Love Representations & Dating in the Age of Technolog. Reproducibility, Intimacy between Culture, Capital, and Swipi
06KO506o404a / Colloquium / 1,890

Description:

Business event contents:
This colloquium explores how romantic relationships and desire are shaped within digital spaces, focusing on how the structure of these platforms influences everyday practices of intimacy. We will look at how identity markers and performances are embedded in the use of dating apps, and how these platforms facilitate new forms of self-presentation and emotional interaction. Core topics include the gamification of desire, the aesthetics and politics of self-portrayal, and the economic dynamics driving digital romance. The course also investigates the influence of pop culture formats such as dating shows and platforms like Instagram, as well as regulatory phenomena like digital sisterhoods. The course questions how intimacy is potentially shifted reshaped through and within digital environments.

Event Digitale Methoden in der Filmwissenschaft
06UE255o009a / Exercise Group / 697

Description:

Business event contents:
Seit einigen Jahren ist das Schlagwort der «Digital Humanities» in aller Munde - es geht dabei um die Frage, welche Chancen und Möglichkeiten sich durch neue digitale Werkzeuge und Methoden für die geisteswissenschaftliche Forschung eröffnen. In der Filmwissenschaft reichen die Ansätze von der algorithmischen Erkennung von Schnitten, Personen und Mustern - also der automatisierten Analyse von Bewegtbildern -, über quantifizierende Stilanalyse und automatische Extraktion von Inhalten aus schriftlichen Quellen bis hin zur Metadatisierung biografischer und filmografischer Informationen sowie Geomappings historischer Kinos. Auch in der Filmgeschichte und Farbforschung eröffnen digitale Werkzeuge, Netzwerke und Visualisierungsmethoden neue Perspektiven. Oft ist dabei ein Zusammenspiel sogenannter «Mixed Methods» zentral, also die Kombination von qualitativen und quantitativen Verfahren sowie das Wechseln zwischen «close readings» und «distant readings».
Diese Übungvermittelt zentrale Methoden und aktuelle Ansätze der digitalen Filmforschung und legt besonderen Wert auf praktische Anwendung und eigenständige Projektarbeit. Die Studierenden arbeiten einzeln oder in Kleingruppen an eigenen Projekten, entwickeln Forschungsfragen, experimentieren mit digitalen Tools und Datensätzen und reflektieren Potenziale und Grenzen ihrer Ansätze. Praktische Übungen mit Softwarelösungen, Plattformen und Analysewerkzeugen stehen im Vordergrund, um digitale Methoden nicht nur theoretisch zu verstehen, sondern aktiv auszuprobieren.
Ziel ist es, ein Bewusstsein für Aufwand, Erkenntnisgewinn und methodische Herausforderungen zu entwickeln, eigene forschungsnahe Projekte umzusetzen und einen reflektierten, kritischen Umgang mit digitalen Methoden in der Filmwissenschaft zu fördern.

Course Materials:	Einstiegslekt re: Diecke, Josephine, und Malte Hagener. "Managing Tools and Expectations: Dos and Don'ts of Teaching Digital Methods for Film Analysis and Film Historiography". Event Ethiopic II: Language and Scribal Culture (Messale and Tagsas)
01SK91L0038 / Sprachkurs / 263

Description:

Business event contents:
Der Kurs widmet sich dem Buch der Sprüche, das in der altäthiopisch-orthodoxen Kirchentradition oftmals als zwei Bücher überliefert ist (Messale: Spr 1–24, Tagsas: Spr 25–31). Die prägnanten Sprichwörter dieser Erziehungsliteratur haben ihre Wurzeln in vorchristlicher Zeit im Hebräischen der Levante und bringen eine facettenreiche Überlieferungsgeschichte mit.

Notes:
Der Kurs setzt Vorkenntnisse voraus, die im Kurs Altäthiopisch I (HS 25) oder vergleichbaren Veranstaltungen erworben wurden. Ergänzend könnte die Vorlesung "Das Buch der Sprüche. Traditionsreiche Erziehungsliteratur im Zusammenspiel mit wechselnden kulturellen und religiösen Kontexten" (Fr, 10h–12h) und/oder – bei ausreichenden Hebräischkenntnissen – die Hebräischlektüre "Proverbia"(Mo, 16h–18h) besucht werden.

Course Materials:	Unterrichtsmaterialien werden auf OLAT bereitgestellt. Darunter auch Hilfsmittel wie Tropper, Josef & Rebecca Hasselbach, Classical Ethiopic: A Grammer of Gəʿəz (Languages of the Ancient Near East Series 10), Pennsylvania 2021; Procházka, Stephan, Altäthiopische Studiengrammatik (OBO Subsidia linguistica), Freiburg Schweiz / Göttingen 2004; Leslau, Wolf, Concise Dictionary of Geʿez, Wiesbaden 2010; Leslau, Wolf, Comparative Dictionary of Geʿez (Classical Ethiopic). Event Computer Applications in Chemistry
07VLCHE103.1 / Course / 1,553

Description:

Business event contents:
This module deals with the basics of computer science with a special focus on applications in chemistry.
The students work on and solve exercises on their personal laptops.
The discusses topics include:

- data types, data storage, data processing
- chemoinformatics, chemical data bases
- programming, basics and simple applications with Python

Furthermore mathematical methods in chemistry will be discussed with the help of the program Mathematica, e.g.:

- numerical and analytical solving of differential equations
- eigenvalue problems
- graphical representation of multidimensional functions

Event Grundlagen Albanisch 2
06SK480-031a / Sprachkurs / 1,424

Description:

Business event contents:
Der Kurs "Grundlagen Albanisch 2" (A1.2) ist die Fortsetzung des Kurses "Grundlagen Albanisch 1" und richtet sich an Studierende, die bereits elementare Kenntnisse des Albanischen mitbringen oder einen Anfängerkurs abgeschlossen haben. Ziel des Kurses ist es, die kommunikativen Fähigkeiten in alltäglichen und studienbezogenen Situationen weiter auszubauen. Im Zentrum stehen alle vier sprachlichen Grundkompetenzen: Hören, Sprechen, Lesen und Schreiben. Besonderes Augenmerk wird auf die plurizentrische Struktur des Albanischen gelegt, insbesondere auf Unterschiede zwischen der Standardvarietät und dem Kosovo-Albanischen.

Notes:
Am Ende des Kurses sollen die Studierenden:
-vertraute Ausdrücke und einfache Sätze verstehen und verwenden, die mit Alltag, Universität und persönlicher Umgebung zu tun haben;
-einfache Gespräche führen (z.B. über Tagesabläufe, Freizeit, Familie, Studium, Einkäufe);
-kurze Texte lesen und schreiben (z.B. E-Mails, Formulare, Dialoge);
-Grundstrukturen der Grammatik sicher anwenden (z.B. Verben im Präsens und Perfekt, Akkusativ, Dativ, Possessivpronomen);
-ein erstes metasprachliches Bewusstsein für die plurizentrische Sprachsituation des Albanischen entwickeln.

Event Instruction Pieces: Agitationsfilm, Tutorial und Prompt-basiertes Video 06SE255n016 / Seminar / 1,560

Description:

Business event contents:
«Throw a stone into the sky high enough so it will not come back.» Mit ihren INSTRUCTION PIECES eröffnet die Musikerin, Künstlerin und Aktivistin Yoko Ono neue Perspektiven. Ausgehend von ihrer konzeptuellen Reihe verschriftlichter Aufforderungen nehmen wir in diesem Aufbauseminar instruktives Material in den Blick, das mit filmischen Mitteln etwas in Bewegung versetzt und unsere Orientierung herausfordert. Der aus den Lautsprechern ertönende und auf die Leinwand projizierte Anleitungsschritt «Throw out of focus» aus MorganFishers Experimentalfilm PROJECTION INSTRUCTIONS etwa lenkt die Aufmerksamkeit vom Kinosaal auf den Vorführraum und die Interaktionen der Umsetzung.
Audiovisuelle Bewegtbilder können Instruktionen beinhalten und aus ihnen hervorgehen. Agitationsfilm, Tutorial und Prompt-basiertes Video sind beispielhafte Erscheinungsformen dieser Verbindung, die auf Handlung ausgerichtet ist. Denn Anweisungen und Gesten der Handhabe zielen auf Ausführung und Nachahmung. Die entsprechenden Handlungen werden durch Instruktionen vorbereitet, generiert, vermittelt, expliziert und begleitet. Abläufe werden in Sequenzen unterteilt, kodiert und angeleitet, um Zusammenhänge nachvollziehbar zu machen und neu herzustellen.
So lässt das eingetippte Kommando «FIND Photo Origin» das Leben der abgebildetenFrau als audiovisuellen Ausschnitt auf einem Computermonitor erscheinen. Durch diese und weitere Befehlseingaben tritt in Lynn Hershman Leesons Spielfilm CONCEIVING ADA die Programmiererin Emmy Coers in Kontakt mit der von ihr verlebendigten Ada Lovelace, die den ersten Algorithmus für eine mechanische Rechenmaschine entwickelte.
Wie technische Berechnung und Auflösung hingegen unsere Sicht beeinflussen, untersucht Hito Steyerl in ihrem Video HOW NOT TO BE SEEN: A FUCKING DIDACTIC EDUCATIONAL .MOV FILE. Formelhaft demonstriert sie vor der Kamera in fünf Lektionen verschiedene Möglichkeiten unter dem Radar zu bleiben. Die Einblendung «PRETEND YOU ARE NOT THERE.» deutet zugleich den Umgang mit dem präsentierten militärischen Einsatz digitaler Technologien. Als Akteur*innen der globalen Rüstungsindustrie bewegen wir uns wiederum mit einer filmischen Anleitung durch das Lehrstück SITUATION ROOMS des Theaterkollektivs Rimini Protokoll: «Look at the Mirror! I am a hacker. And now I have another body, which is yours.» Über Tablet und Kopfhörer begeben wir uns in biografische Blickwinkel, die vom Waffenhandel geprägt sind. Wir werden interaktiv in die Aufführung eingebunden, indem wir die erteilten Anweisungen befolgen und die vorab gedrehten Situationen nachstellen sollen.
Entlang solcher und anderer filmischer Varianten des Agitierens, Unterweisens und Generierens beschäftigen wir uns im Seminar mit Instruktionen im Kontext medialer, technologischer und gesellschaftlicher Transformationen. Wir betrachten sie als kritische und kreative Reaktionen auf bestehende Vorgaben und Verhältnisse und diskutieren politische, künstlerische und konzeptuelle Aspekte dieser vielfältigen Kulturtechnik. Welchen Status haben Filme, die auf Instruktionen basieren und diese beinhalten? Wo, wie und was stossen sie an? Welche Visionen lassen sie entstehen? Wer wird adressiert und wessen Perspektiven sind in der Produktion und Rezeption der Anweisungen vertreten? Wie verhalten wir uns zum Dargebotenen? Woran nehmen wir teil und welche Rolle spielen wir? Was für ein Bild geben wir dabei ab und was fällt auf uns zurück?

06SE360-103b / Seminar / 820

Description:

Business event contents:
Die mittelhochdeutsche Literatur ist ebenso vielgestaltig wie faszinierend: Geschichten von Rittern und Heiligen, Liebeslyrik und politische Dichtung sind aber nicht aus sich selbst heraus verständlich. Nicht nur die Sprachstufe des Mittelhochdeutschen, sondern auch die besonderen medialen Verhältnisse einer oftmals vor Anwesenden vorgetragenen und handschriftlich überlieferten Literatur sind Voraussetzungen der wissenschaftlichen Beschäftigung mit der deutschen Literatur des Mittelalters. Anhand von konkreten Beispielen führt eine Vorlesung in die komplexen literarhistorischen, medialen, ästhetischen und soziokulturellen Besonderheiten der mittelhochdeutschen Literatur ein. In einem begleitenden Seminar werden ausgehend von der Lektüre eines Texts bzw. Textcorpus die Grammatik des Mittelhochdeutschen behandelt und die Übersetzung mittelhochdeutscher Texte ins Neuhochdeutsche eingeübt.

Event Investments – Selected Quantitative Tools (L)
03VL22MO0108 / Course / 1,628

Description:

Business event contents:
The lecture provides a comprehensive introduction to state-of-the-art machine learning tools for finance. Participants learn how to express relationships among financial variables and predict the risk and return of investments using neural architectures. Sample Python code is provided and used to experiment with real-life data and create a hands-on experience. Machine learning enables us to learn complex dependencies and describe e.g., tipping point behaviour and sharp reversals of prices during market corrections. This unlocks enormous modelling potential but also the pitfall of overfitting the available data. The objective of the lecture is to get comfortable with these new tools, both from a theoretical and practical perspective.

Notes:
This module takes place onsite with Zoom running in parallel to enable remote participation. Regular presence at the lecture required.

Event The Risk and Finance Lab (S)
03SE22MO0109 / Seminar / 3,070

Description:

Business event contents:
Aim of the lecture: to discuss and demonstrate the common mechanisms underlying all types of financial analysis spanning from liquidity risk management via traditional and advanced book keeping to rocket science risk analytics. It will be shown, that based on sound first principles, it is possible to reduce complexity of financial analytics to a manageable level without compromising on its content.
Lab: in the lab tutorials students can practically implement the knowledge acquired in the lectures with a professional, globally used software, thereby enhancing the learning effect significantly. Students will build models in groups which handle problems such as "Liquidity stress scenarios at a large UK bank" or "Interest income forecast at a regional Swiss bank under different market scenarios" or "A global framework of credit risk exposure" etc.

Notes:
This module takes place on-site. Materials will be made available in OLAT.
Technical equipment: have your own laptop.
Students with a bachelor in banking and or finance and students participating in the Master of Science UZH ETH in Quantitative Finance can book directly.
Other students should contact Willi Brammertz by mail willi@brammertz- consulting.ch before booking. The course is limited to 20 students.
In case of overbooking, the order of application applies.

Event Advanced NMR Methods for Identification of Natural Products
07VUCHE439.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 221

Description:

Business event contents:
NMR spectroscopy is a powerful technique for structural elucidation of organic molecules. This course is aimed at students who are familiar with the utilization of NMR but wish to deepen their understanding of how NMR experiments work and the theory behind them. In this class you will learn how to become a “power user” of this technique, allowing you to independently plan, execute and analyse NMR experiments. The two main topic areas are

- the relationship between spectral features and molecular structure, including dynamics
- analysis of the physical properties underlying spin behaviour and coherence transfer

You should be familiar with the concepts nuclear spin, spin systems, coupling patterns and be able to analyze standard 1D and 2D experiments (HSQC, COSY, TOCSY) for structural elucidation of small organic molecules. In order to understand experiments beyond the simplest pulse-acquire-type, we need to use quantum mechanics and some mathematics. Luckily, the product operator formalism which is appropriate for the description of the vast majority of experiments does not require very heavy theoretical tools. Nevertheless, self-study is important to understand the advanced concepts discussed in this class - there will be assigned reading or exercises (ca 0.5 – 1h time commitment) to do at home after each lecture. Exercises are typically pen-and-paper and will be assessed counting towards 20% of the final grade. You will have to hand in exercises on OLAT or in analogue form prior to the next lecture.

Event Communication Skills for Leaders
07SECMS103.1 / Kurs / 554

Description:

Business event contents:
Demands on today's leaders in science and business continue to get higher and higher. In addition to proven professional skills, so-called soft factors are becoming increasingly important, and are often decisive for individual careers.
No matter whether we want to successfully lead a group, recruit new colleagues, convince potential investors or funding sources about a research project, or negotiate with customers and suppliers: communication is an essential part of daily life.
We talk to each other, listen to each other, write, read, and exchange non-verbal signals. We constantly convey and reveal information while we are in contact with other people - consciously and deliberately, but also unintentionally and unknowingly.
The CMSZH Graduate School aimes at providing optimum development opportunities for you as future top leaders and researchers. We have designed a two-day communication course, in cooperation with an external partner. The program is tailored to meet your needs.

07SECMS104.1 / Kurs / 1,939

Description:

Business event contents:
Profound scientific knowledge has to be complemented with soft skills like organizational efficiency and management competence for a successful career in industry as well as in academia.
This course provides you with the best qualifications for management duties: The intense three-day training in management skills focuses specifically on the needs of future leaders.
The first two days provide you with the necessary basics, which you will deepen in a one-day refresher within four month.
As part of the CMSZH education on soft skills competence ⟨Communication- Management-Leadershi❒ in collaboration with BSP.International, this course follows the ⟨Communication Skills for Leader▲ training and focuses on your business needs.
The ⟨Management Skills for Leader▲ course introduces the concepts of project management explains how to develop an effective work schedule shows how to deal with different characters and personalities enables you to effectively pass on tasks and mandates explicates the difference between delegating a job and passing on a task trains you how to arrange and run effective business meetings makes you aware of common pitfalls in management

Description:

Business event contents:
Which skills are asked when I am head of a group? What are the important points to conduct an interview with a job applicant? How do I bring people together to work as a team? Why are aims so important in a leadership position? And where is control needed? These and other questions will be answered during a three-day course about leadership skills. The aim of the course is to make you familiar with the tasks and tools of a leader.
This course is the third module of the CMSZH education on soft skills competence ⟨Communication-Management-Leadershi❒ in collaboration with BSP.International, and focuses on your future needs as a leader.

Event Chemical crystallography and crystal structure determination
07VUKRI102.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 530

Description:

Business event contents:
Review of principles of diffraction and instrumentation, unit cells, lattices, and symmetry. Practical aspects of structure determination: working safely with X-rays, crystal selection and mounting, data collection strategies, data reduction, corrections for absorption, extinction and Lp, structure solution techniques, structure solution and refinement software, structure modelling and refinement, disorder, twinning, false symmetry, interpretation of anisotropic displacement parameters, problem detection and resolution. Determination of the absolute configuration, interpretation of results and scope of chemically useful information, validation and publication of results, critical evaluation of published crystal structures, biomacromolecular crystallography.
The course extends the material presented in KRI 101 and should equip participants with the knowledge that will enable them to carry out indpependently a crystal structure determination and to analyse the results of an analysis. An introduction to biomacromolecular crystallography will also be given.
This course has as a prerequisite of KRI 101, or an equivalent, which develops the important theoretical concepts of small molecule crystallography.

Event Materials Characterization II
07VUKRI207.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 2,038

Description:

Business event contents:
    In the first part of the semester, different lecturers will present the fundamentals of the materials characterization methods mentioned above. This is the lecture part of the course. In the second half of the semester, the students, grouped in teams, will apply selected methods. These laboratory works are at the heart of the course, where the students are faced with practical problems and the limitations of the different methods, and where they have to independently elaborate solutions within the teams. Special: some practical courses are offered at the Paul Scherrer Institute, where the students can make use of the neutron and synchrotron X-ray facilities. These courses will take place after the end of the semester and occupy half and full days.

Notes:
Together with ETH Zürich (Lerneinheit Nr. 327-0413-00L) Takes place at ETH!
Further information in the lecture catalog of the ETHZ!

Course Materials: Lecture notes:

- Slides of the lectures (in English) will be distributed electronically.
- Depending on the laboratory course, additional documentation will be made available.
- In laboratory journals, the students are asked to compose their own documentation of the laboratory courses.

Literature:

07VLKRI302.1 / Course / 2,122

Description:

Business event contents:
- History of Structural Molecular Biology
- X-ray diffraction from macromolecular crystals
- Data collection and statistics, phasing methods
- Crystal symmetry and space groups
- X-ray data processing
- Principle of cryo-EM for biological macromolecules I, including hardware of TEM and detectors, image formation principle (phase contrast, spherical aberration, CTF), 3D reconstruction (central-section theorem, backprojection, missing information)
- Single particle analysis, including principle (projection matching, random conical tilt, angular reconstitution)
- Tomography I, including basics and subtomogram averaging
- Tomography - recent techniques, including cryo-FIB
- EM specimen preparation (cryo, negative stain), initial EM data processing
- EM and X-ray structure building, refinement, validation and interpretation
- Model building and refinement

Event Industrial Internship
07PRWCH403.1 / Praktikum / 1,548

Description:

Business event contents:
Students search themselves for a company where they will work on an economic and/or chemical project for about at least 8 weeks and gain insight into the work in industry. Company and project have to be accepted by the responsible lecturer before starting the internship! Students summarize the work during their internship in a written report.
The internship can lead to a Master's thesis in the same company.

Event Automation and Chemical Data Science in Practice
07PRDSA105.1 / Praktikum / 343

Description:

Business event contents:
Lab automation and data science are powerful tools in the modern-day life sciences. This course will serve as capstone for the minor program "Lab Automation and Chemical Data Science". In a two-semester student project all the content of the program lectures and exercises will be utilized: Selected data sets will be processed and analysed, ML models will be applied and experiments will be performed using lab automation tools to complement the data collection or validate predictions and classifications.

While the preparation of the data sets will be performed as home assignment, the practical work will be done in small groups upon arrangement. The research infrastructure of the Department of Chemistry, such as the HTEL, will be made available for the experimental part of the project.

The module is supposed to be done in parallel with or after the courses DSA 103 and DSA 104 and can be started in either the fall or spring semester.

Notes:
Registration until 2 weeks after the start of the lecture period via email to Johannes Schörgenhumer (johannes.schoergenhumer@chem.uzh.ch) [The module can be started in either fall or spring semester.]

Event Harmonic Chemistry
07VUCHE731.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 1,481

Description:

Business event contents:
In this lecture I will present the mathematical basis of resonance phenomena relevant to chemistry and physical chemistry from a different point of view. We experience resonance phenomena on a daily basis, especially in music and art. The idea of the lecture is to use the positive emotions associated with music and art to gain an intuitive understanding of the sometimes challenging mathematical relationships of resonance phenomena. Active participation including musical performance is welcome. Topics covered will include:

Vibrations:
•   Math: amplitudes in the time and frequency domain, Fourier analysis
•   Some basics of electric AC engineering
•   the guitar: tones and overtones, musical notation, harmonic and anharmonic vibrations, sound pick-ups, distortion, coupling
•   molecular vibrations: harmonic oscillator, anharmonicity, fundamental frequency and over-tones, measurement techniques Infrared and Raman spectroscopy
•   lattice vibrations and reciprocal space o Fourier analysis in measurement techniques: FTIR, NMR
•   Impedance spectroscopy
•   Modulation excitation spectroscopy

Resonance
•   Math: partial differential equations for wave theory and diffusion processes, resonances in 1D, 2D, and 3D
•   The drums, loudspeakers, and room acoustics: resonance effects in 2D and 3D
•   Resonances as the basis of quantum chemistry: Bohr model of the atom (1D), the hydrogen atom (3D)
•   Resonance effects in nano chemistry (plasmons, etc.)
•   Photochemistry explained along photon-electron resonances.
•   Resonances in biology/medicine: the ear (ossicles as impedance converter, how do we hear), signal propagation in nerves (soliton theory), resonances in the brain/heart

Event Deutsche Literatur 1730-1930 im Überblick
06VL360-111a / Course / 656

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Modul, bestehend aus einer Vorlesung, einem Seminar und einer Selbststudieneinheit vermittelt einen einführenden literaturgeschichtlichen Zugang. Die Vorlesung verfolgt als Ziel, einen Überblick über die Geschichte der deutschsprachigen Literatur von der Aufklärung bis zur klassischen Moderne zu verschaffen. Dies ist nur möglich anhand exemplarischer Einsichtnahme in ausgewählte epochentypische Werke, immer im Bewusstsein, dass literarische Texte ästhetische Eigendynamiken entfalten, die sich nicht auf die Dokumentation eines historischen Kontextes beschränken lassen. Dennoch will die Vorlesung zeigen, dass Literaturgeschichte unverzichtbar ist: Als Ordnungsraster, das es erlaubt, sprachliche Kunstwerke in engem Zusammenhang mit historischen Kontexten und mit einer historischen Signatur versehen zu betrachten.

Notes:
Die Vorlesung arbeitet mit einem umfangreichen Textkorpus, aus dem für die individuelle Lese- und Prüfungsliste ausgewählt werden kann (siehe oben Leistungsnachweis/Modul). Die individuelle Lektüre muss rechtzeitig begonnen und gut organisiert werden. Besonders die Lektüre des Pflichttextes "Wilhelm Meisters Lehrjahre" sollte frühzeitig begonnen werden, ein Leseplan parallel zur Vorlesung und dem Seminar empfiehlt sich.
Das Lektüreportfolio und der Vorlesungsplan findet sich im Olat-Kurs.

Course Materials:	Die Vorlesung findet in Präsenz statt. Eine Aufzeichnung steht in der darauffolgenden Woche über Switchdrive/Olat zur Verfügung.

Event History of the English Language 2: Focus on Middle English (Group 8: Foreign Influences on Middle English)
06SE440-110h / Seminar / 1,225

Description:

Business event contents:
This module introduces students to the history of English and to English historical linguistics. It is intended for Bachelor students in their second year and consists of two parts: a lecture and a seminar. The lecture provides an overview on the history of the English language from the Norman Conquest of 1066 to the present today. The seminar introduces the students to Middle English (the language spoken and written in England between AD 1150-1500). The module gives an insight into the early forms of English and provides guidance on how to read original texts in Middle English with the help of glossaries. It also introduces some basic principles of English historical linguistics and of the study of medieval English literature.

Course Materials:	Students are required to get their own copy of the course book by the beginning of the term: - Brinton, Laurel J. and Leslie K. Arnovick. 2016. The English Language: A Linguistic History. Third edition. Oxford: Oxford University Press. Note that you should get the third edition of this book. It can be bought at KLIO Buchhandlung (Zähringerstrasse 45, 8021 Zürich). Additional reading assignments will be announced in the respective seminars/ the lecture.

Event B: On conversation
06SE440-121c / Seminar / 348

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar offers an introduction to the linguistic study of conversation, covering both the theoretical foundations and selected methodological frameworks for conversation analysis. Combining insights from conversation analysis, pragmatics, and interactional linguistics, students will learn to examine conversation and interaction by studying the various aspects that shape everyday, institutional, and technology-mediated conversations. Topics will include: exchange structure, turn-taking, politeness and face, stance-taking and alignment, register and context, etc. While the focus will be on spoken interaction, some aspects of written interaction, including technology-mediated conversation, may be covered.

Learning objectives
-Understand key concepts of conversation analysis

-Apply transcription conventions to accurately represent conversational data

-Analyze exchange structure, turn-taking, adjacency pairs, repair, (im)politeness, and stance-taking in authentic conversational data

-Compare different types of conversation, such as everyday talk, institutional discourse, digital interactions, etc.

-Develop critical awareness of how conversational practices reflect and shape social relations

Event Shakespeare's Problem Plays
06SE440-224b / Seminar / 2,897

Description:

Business event contents:
This course will explore plays by William Shakespeare that resist traditional classification into comedy or tragedy and instead dwell in a space of moral ambiguity, tonal shifts, and unresolved tensions. These "problem plays" are so named because they challenge expectations, leaving audiences uncertain about how to respond emotionally or ethically.

In this seminar, we will examine four key plays commonly associated with this category, each of which confronts difficult questions about justice, gender, power, and redemption, often subverting genre conventions and frustrating neat interpretive frameworks: 'Measure for Measure' deals with themes of law, morality,and authority, exposing the uneasy relationship between justice and mercy. 'All's Well That Ends Well' challenges conventional romanticnarratives, presenting a problematic heroine and an unlikable hero, while 'The Two Noble Kinsmen' (co-written with John Fletcher) exploresthe limits of friendship, love, and fate in a world governed by both classical ideals and unpredictable passions. 'The Winter's Tale'traverses a striking emotional arc-from jealousy and tyranny to forgiveness and renewal-defying the boundaries between tragedy and comedy.

Through close reading, historical contextualization and critical discussion, students will engage with the formal, thematic, and ethical complexities of these plays. We will also consider the role of performance and reception history in shaping the plays' ambiguous legacy.

This seminar is designed for advanced undergraduates with an interest in early modern drama, genre theory, and literary interpretation. Above all, we will explore Shakespeare's most challenging and provocative works-texts that remain "problems" in the best and most thought-provoking sense.

Notes:
Deadlines for term paper: 1 September 2006.

Course Materials:	Please read the plays before the start of the semester. You are expected to buy a recent critical edition (containing an introduction and textual notes printed below the play-text), with the following edition series recommended: > The New Oxford Shakespeare > New Cambridge Shakespeare > Arden Shakespeare Third Series

Event Afrofuturism
06SE440-228b / Seminar / 237

Description:

Business event contents:
Afrofuturism, a genre that emerged in the mid-20th century, has only in recent years garnered wider attraction. For example, discussions about Octavia Butler have resurfaced due to the prophetic visions she espoused in her novels Parable of the Sower and Parable of the Talents. In these novels, which appeared in the 1990s, she was eerily accurate in predicting a significant increase of wildfires in California in the 2020s and the election of a "violent, far-right President promising to make America great again," to quote her exact wording. If not through Butler, Afrofuturism certainly reached the masses in 2018 when the first Black Panther movie was released, breaking numerous box office records due to its popularity.

This seminar will examine what Afrofuturism is and will explore some of its most important themes. Some of the guiding questions will be: Why is there a need for science fiction from a Black cultural lens? How do Black people envision the future? What are Black people's hopes and concerns regarding science and technology in the future, considering the colonial past? What does it mean to time travel when Black? And what is the significance of Afrofuturist works that speculate about alternative historical trajectories to colonialism?

Event Middle English lexicon
06SE440o509a / Seminar / 2,096

Description:

Business event contents:
This MA seminar discusses historical lexicology (study of words), historical semantics (study of meanings) and historical lexicography (study of dictionaries) of the Middle English language, following three interrelated tracks of enquiry:

1. Middle English lexis in dictionaries (historical lexicography, dictionaries and databases of Middle English);
2. Semantic fields (histories of specific lexical items and semantic fields, myths and truths about specialized vocabulary, semantic change and lexical death);
3. Lexical sociolinguistics (lexical focusing, permeation and selection of lexical items, competition between native and borrowed vocabulary).

Theoretical and practical discussions will be accompanied by select readings and alalysis of Middle English texts.

Event NT Seminar: Narrative and theological implications of prayer in Luke-Acts?
01SE15SS043 / Seminar / 2,154

Description:

Business event contents:
Among the authors of the New Testament, most obviously, it is Luke who is particularly interested in prayer. In the Gospel of Luke, Jesus not only prays more often than in the other Gospels, he also talks more about prayer. Accordingly, prayer also plays an important role in Luke's second book. The apostles' prayer is emphasized in almost all groundbreaking scenes. The seminar discusses the relevant passages in Luke-Acts on prayer and attempts to work out Luke's overarching concept on this topic. What is the narratological function of prayer in Luke's account and what is his theological interest in this kind of communcation with God?

Event Climate Targets in Europe
06SE615o009a / Seminar / 541

Description:

Business event contents:
Climate change and environmental degradation are existential threats to Europe and the world. With the European Green Deal, the EU aims to transition to a modern, resource-efficient, and competitive economy, but in which way? This online module offers a practical, intercultural exchange between students at the University of Zurich and University College Dublin. By using various optional topics, regional solutions are analysed, compared, and discussed.
Students will examine and compare climate targets in various European countries, including Ireland and Switzerland, with a focus on key policy areas such as renewable energy, carbon emissions reduction, and sustainable agriculture. The module provides comprehensive knowledge of the European Union Green Deal and detailed insights into past and current practical implementation using regional examples. Critical reading and discussion of academic literature will further enhance understanding.
This intercultural module leverages the online environment to facilitate peer-to-peer learning and exchange. Approaches to teaching and learning include active and task-based learning, intercultural group work and discussions, intercultural debates in class, and problem-based learning. Through collaborative projects and discussions, module participants will gain insights into the diverse strategies and policies employed across different nations, fostering a comprehensive understanding of European climate policies and their implementation.

Notes:
The module Climate Targets and Their Implementation in the European Regions is an intercultural module for students at University College Dublin (UCD) and the University of Zurich (UZH). The module is developed and delivered through Una Europa.
This online-only module is taught by Dr Sebastian Lamm.

Event J.R.R. Tolkiens Welt und das (skandinavische) Mittelalter
06SE360-603a / Seminar / 1,655

Description:

Business event contents:
J.R.R. Tolkien wird vor allem mit seinen beiden Hauptwerken Lord of the Rings und The Hobbit in Verbindung gebracht, zwei Grundlagenwerken der High Fantasy-Literatur. Um dieses Werk herum erschuf Tolkien eine komplexe Welt mit begleitenden Hintergrunderzählungen und Nachschlagewerken wie Karten und Wörterlisten. Die in diesem Textnetzwerk aufgezogene Welt ist zutiefst durch Tolkiens Wissen und Vertrautheit mit der (skandinavischen) mittelalterlichen Überlieferung geprägt, und Tolkiens literarisches Werk steht in engem Dialog mit seinem wissenschaftlichen Wirken als Professor für englische Sprachwissenschaft an der University of Oxford und seiner Auseinandersetzung mit der altnordischen und mittelenglischen Sprache und Texttradition. In diesem Seminar werden wir Tolkiens Wirken als Wissenschaftler und Schriftsteller nachgehen und dabei einerseits das wissenschaftliche Fundament seines literarischen Werks erkunden und andererseits seine kreative Adaption und Rekontextualisierung des skandinavischen Mittelalters untersuchen.

Notes:
Für die Teilnahme an dem Seminar sind Altnordischkenntnisse von Vorteil, aber keine Voraussetzung.

Course Materials:	Die Kursliteratur wird zu Veranstaltungsbeginn auf OLAT und in einem Handapparat zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event Tugendethik – aktuelle Beiträge
06SE160o504a / Seminar / 3,128

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Tugendethik hat sich in den letzten Jahrzehnten als eigenständiges Paradigma der normativen Ethik neben Deontologie und Konsequentialismus etabliert. Dennoch bleiben selbst grundlegende Fragen wie die nach der angemessenen Struktur einer solchen Ethik, der durch sie vorausgesetzten Konzeption von Tugenden und Lastern sowie ihrer Leistungsfähigkeit etwa im Bereich der angewandten Ethik weiter umstritten. Im Seminar soll der Stand der Diskussion anhand von Texten aus der aktuellen Debatte rekonstruiert und kritisch diskutiert werden.

Event Einführung in Hegels Rechtsphilosophie
06SE160o002a / Seminar / 781

Description:

Business event contents:
Hegels «Grundlinien der Philosophie des Rechts» (1821) reichen weit über das hinaus, was heute unter dem Begriff der Rechtsphilosophie verstanden wird. Sie enthalten neben einer Grundlegung des sog. abstrakten Rechts eine Theorie der Moralität (und deren Grenzen) sowie im Rahmen von Hegels Theorie der Sittlichkeit umfassende Analysen von Institutionen wie Familie, bürgerliche Gesellschaft, Staat. Im Seminar soll anhand dieses grundlegenden Textes zugleich eingeführt werden in Struktur und grundlegende Begriffe von Hegels philosophischem System insgesamt.

Event RWP Seminar: Lake Lucerne excursion: hiking and exploring the Swiss national mythology
01SE61SS117 / Seminar / 2,624

Description:

Business event contents:
Vom 31.8. bis zum 4.9. findet eine transdisziplinäre Exkursion die nationalmythologische Kernlandschaft der Schweiz und ihre literarisch-religiöse Genealogie statt. Der Blockkurs ist die obligatorische Vorbereitung für diese Exkursion und damit Teil einer zweisemestrigen Veranstaltungskombination.
Zwischen dem 31.8. und dem 4.9.2026 gehen wir dem Vierwaldstättersee entlang und beschäftigen uns mit der Nationalmythologie der Schweiz, die insbesondere um den Urnersee ihre zentralen Erinnerungsorte wie Rütli, Tellplatte oder Schillerstein aufweist.

Im Zentrum stehen die religionshistorischen und literarischen Konstruktionen dieser Schauplätze vom 18. Jahrhundert bis in die Gegenwart. Ergänzend dazu widmen wir uns der Landschaftswahrnehmung. Dies tun wir einerseits mit der Perspektive der von Lucius und Annemarie Burckhardt-Wackernagel begründeten Promenadologie, welche die kulturelle Prägung unserer Wahrnehmung von Landschaft (etwa als „schön“ oder „ursprünglich“) analysiert und dekonstruiert. Andererseits berücksichtigen wir auch Perspektiven wie die ökokritische Sicht, welche das Verhältnis von Mensch und Natur im Anthropozän in den Blick nimmt. Wandern und Spazieren erscheinen dabei nicht nur als kulturelle Praktiken, sondern auch als potenzielle Formen wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnis. Die Promenadologie wie auch die Ökokritik – letztere ursprünglich in der Literaturwissenschaft verortet und heute ein interdisziplinäres Forschungsfeld – bieten methodische Zugänge, die während der Exkursion in situ erprobt und reflektiert werden.

Notes:
Die Exkursion wird teilweise in Kooperation mit Prof. Dr. Boris Previšić, Direktor des Instituts Kulturen der Alpen in Altdorf, durchgeführt und ist Teil des Herbstsemesterprogramms. Voraussetzung für die Teilnahme an der Exkursion ist der Besuch des vorbereitenden Blockkurses, der an vier Nachmittagen eine thematische Einführung bietet. Zudem nehmen alle Teilnehmenden am Symposion _Warum ist Landschaft schön?_ im Kloster Schönthal (25./26. Mai 2026) teil. Die Exkursion ist als separate Lehrveranstaltung im Herbstsemester zu belegen. Eine Anmeldung bei David Atwood (david.atwood@uzh.ch) für beide Veranstaltungen ist zwingend erforderlich und die Teilnehmerzahl ist auf 16 Studierende begrenzt. Die Platzvergabe erfolgt nach Eingang der Anmeldung, wobei RWP-Studierende priorisiert werden.

Description:

Business event contents:
Bilder sind wichtige Quellen für Religionsgeschichte und Religionswissenschaft. Durch die vergleichende Analyse und Interpretation von Bildern können bestimmte Fragestellungen medienspezifisch verfolgt, genauer in den Blick genommen und profiliert werden, sei es traditionsintern oder traditionsübergreifend, sei es diachron oder synchron. Widmet sich der E-Guide 1 vor allem der Interpretation von Einzelbildern, so wird in diesem Kurs nun der methodische Vergleich von Bildern erlernt und an Vertiefungsbeispielen aus verschiedenen religiösen Traditionen und Epochen geübt.

Event Lecture: Roman Religion
01GK56LB016 / Course / 3,205

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Vorlesung bietet eine Einführung in die Kulte im antiken Rom. Zunächst wird besprochen, ob und wie man "Römische Religion" mit Theorien und Methoden der historischen Religionswissenschaft erfassen kann. Es folgt ein historischer Überblick von der Entwicklung von Kulten in der Stadt Rom in der Frühzeit bis zu ihrem Verbot in der Spätantike. Dann werden verschiedene Phänomene (z.B. Rituale, collegia von Kultämtern, kultische Orte und Gebäude, Kalender) an ausgewählten Beispielen vorgestellt.

Event Urbane Museumslandschaften: Geschichte und Transformation (Exkursion/MA „Wien – Stadt der 100 Museen“)
06EX506-546a / Field Trip / 3,978

Description:

Business event contents:
Die europäische Museumslandschaft ist in den letzten Jahren von einem grundlegenden Wandel gezeichnet. Neben der allgemeinen Ökonomisierung des Kulturbetriebs haben auch inhaltliche Entwicklungen wie ein verändertes Kulturkonzept das Selbstverständnis der Museen und die Paradigmen der Museumsarbeit zu verändern begonnen. Im Rahmen einer mehrtägigen Exkursion nach Wien - eine Museumsstadt in der sich die Geschichte und aktuellen Transformationsprozesse der Kulturmuseen beispielhaft studieren lassen - sollen nach dem Prinzip des Lernens durch Anschauung Museen und ihre Ausstellungen analysiert werden.
Neben eigenen theoriegeleiteten Erkundungen über Präsentationsästhetiken, museale und szenographische Sprechakte werden Gespräche mit ExpertInnen über Politiken des Sammelns, Präsentierens und Vermittelns Einblicke in die Museumspraxis sowie in aktuelle Neukonzeptionen und kommende Projekte bieten.

Notes:
Die Exkursion findet vom 27.04 bis 01.05.2026 statt.

Die Vor- und Nachbearbeitung findet an folgenden Terminen statt:

- 20.02.2026

Event Identities and Politics
06SE615-006c / Seminar / 1,531

Description:

Business event contents:
Group and political identities are increasingly present in political conflict in West European democracies. This course covers different topics on the politics of identities, and it is divided in three parts. The first part engages with political psychology literature on identity construction. The second part looks at identities as a source of political conflict, engaging with political sociology and political behavior studies on political polarization and the increasingly blurred lines between political and social group identities. Finally, the third part looks at identity as a source of social and political inequality

Event Generative Künstliche Intelligenz und Desinformation: Herausforderungen, Chancen und Kompetenzen
06SE254o114a / Seminar / 1,259

Description:

Business event contents:
Generative Künstliche Intelligenz (KI) spielt eine zunehmende Rolle in der Produktion und Verbreitung von Desinformation - etwa durch KI-generierte Fake News, Deepfakes oder Chatbots. Im Seminar befassen wir uns mit aktuellen Forschungsperspektiven zur Rolle generativer KI in Desinformationsprozessen. Im Zentrum stehen daher auch Fragen der Verbreitung, Wirkung, Glaubwürdigkeit und Erkennbarkeit von KI-generierten Inhalten sowie die Entwicklung von Kompetenzen. Generative KI bietet auch Chancen im Kampf gegen Desinformation - etwa durch unterstützende Tools zur Faktenprüfung oder zur Entwicklung zielgruppengerechter Kommunikationsstrategien. Auch Widerlegungsstrategien wie Prebunking und Debunking werden thematisiert. Die Studierenden erarbeiten auf Grundlage des aktuellen Forschungsstands selbst Interventionen gegen KI-generierte Desinformationen, diskutieren und evaluieren diese.

Event Selbsttracking im Zeitalter der Algorithmen
06SE254o115a / Seminar / 2,849

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Tracking der eigenen Fitness und Gesundheit mit Apps und tragbaren Geräten wie Whoop, Apple Watch, Oura und Co. ist weit verbreitet. Schnell zunehmende Fähigkeiten von Algorithmen und künstlicher Intelligenz, steigende Leistungen von Geräten und wachsende Mengen an gesammelten und verarbeiteten Nutzendendaten eröffnen bisher unerreichte Chancen für Nutzende, Organisationen und Systeme. Andererseits bringen Selbst-Tracking Möglichkeiten Risiken u.a. für die Privatsphäre, Datensicherheit, Selbstwahrnehmung, und Stigmatisierung von Nutzenden mit sich.
In diesem Seminar erarbeiten Studierende einen Überblick über den aktuellen Forschungsstand von Selbst-Tracking Praktiken und deren Auswirkungen für Nutzende und Stakeholder. Es werden Beispiele aus der Praxis hinzugezogen sowie bestehende und zukünftige Chancen und Bedenken diskutiert.

Notes:
Lernziele dieses Seminars sind
u.a.:
1. Eine Literaturarbeit selbstständig erarbeiten (von der Ideenfindung bis zur fertigen Arbeit)
2. Sich kritisch mit wissenschaftlicher Literatur zu einem Thema auseinandersetzen und Verbindungen zwischen verschiedenen Literatursträngen erkennen
3. Zentrale Inhalte eines Themas präsentieren, diskutieren und in einen grösseren Kontext stellen
4. In Gruppen arbeiten und verschiedene Meinungen und Ansichten einbeziehen

Die Benutzung von Hilfsmitteln mit künstlicher Intelligenz ist unter Einschränkung erlaubt, sofern sie die Erreichung der Lernziele unterstützen und nicht übernehmen.

Event Organisms of the tidal coast: Algae and invertebrates
07VUBIO239 / Block Course / 2,219

Description:

Business event contents:
The course takes place at the Station Biologique de Roscoff (Bretagne, France). On daily excursions into the tidal zones during low tide, marine algae and associated invertebrates are collected and examined in the laboratory. The grasping of the depth-dependent zonation and the organismal diversity of the tidal cost belong to the aims of the course.
Students work in groups of two on projects they select from zoological and algological themes.

Notes:
Das Modul eignet sich auch für Studierende der Universität Zürich und der ETHZ sowie anderen schweizerischen Hochschulen.

Event Theoretische Philosophie und Geschichte der Philosophie
06KO160-503a / Colloquium / 3,098

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Kolloquium zur Theoretischen Philosophie und Geschichte der Philosophie richtet sich an alle Studierenden und Doktorierenden, die am Philosophischen Seminar eine Master- oder Doktorarbeit schreiben. Sie haben im Rahmen des Kolloquiums die Möglichkeit, ihre Arbeit oder Teile daraus vorzustellen (die Arbeit muss nicht bei der Dozierenden verfasst werden). Das Kolloquium bietet zudem Raum für die Lektüre grundlegender Texte und die Diskussion aktueller Forschungsfragen. Die zu besprechenden Texte werden jeweils eine Woche vor dem Termin allen Teilnehmenden zur Verfügung zu stellen und sollten nicht länger als 15 Seiten sein.
Voraussetzung für die Teilnahme ist ein BA-Abschluss in Philosophie und die Bereitschaft, die Veranstaltung regelmässig zu besuchen und sich aktiv zu beteiligen.

Notes:
Wer am Kolloquium teilnehmen und einen Text vorstellen möchte, sollte sich nach Möglichkeit schon vor Beginn der Vorlesungszeit bei der Dozierenden melden.
Unbesetzte Termine können auch in der ersten Sitzung noch vergeben werden.

Event Untertanen. Die Eroberten der Eidgenossen im Vergleich
06SE600-044a / Seminar / 3,153

Description:

Business event contents:
Zu den tiefgreifenden Veränderungen, die die Eidgenossenschaft im 15. Jahrhundert und in den ersten Jahrzehnten des 16. Jahrhunderts prägten, gehörte die territoriale Expansion. Die territorialen Erwerbungen und die Einrichtung von Vogteien im Aargau, südlich der Alpen, im Thurgau und in der Westschweiz führten zu neuen Formen der Begegnung zwischen den Machthabern, den Eliten und der lokalen Bevölkerung. Überall musste der Status der Untertanen, die ihren Herren Treue und Gehorsam schworen, neu definiert werden, ebenso wie die Rolle der Herren, die im Gegenzug Schutz und die Einhaltung bestimmter Privilegien garantierten. Dieser Prozess manifestierte sich in verschiedenen Formen von Konflikten und Kooperationen, hatte tiefgreifende Auswirkungen auf die gesamte Eidgenossenschaft und nahm in jeder Vogtei je nach sprachlichen, kulturellen, politischen, rechtlichen, sozialen und wirtschaftlichen Gegebenheiten einen unterschiedlichen Verlauf.
Im Seminar werden ausgewählte Fallbeispiele analysiert, Vergleiche zwischen verschiedenen Situationen gezogen und Ausblicke auf andere europäische Regionen in derselben Zeitspanne eröffnet. Die gemeinsame Vertiefung des Themas erfolgt durch die Lektüre von Quellen und die Diskussion der Sekundärliteratur.

Event Webentwicklung und Datenvisualisierung
06SE615o515a / Seminar / 3,241

Description:

Business event contents:
Der Kurs bietet eine Einführung in die Webentwicklung. Zuerst nehmen wir HTML durch, welches die Grundlage des Webs ist. Anschliessend besprechen wir, wie mit CSS die Webseite gelayoutet werden kann und zwischen mobilem und Desktop-Design unterschieden werden kann. Nach dieser Einführungen tauchen wir in PHP und SQL ein, um einen Einblick in die Backend Programmierung zu erhalten. Am Schluss des Seminars werden wir uns mehrere Wochen mit der Front-End Entwicklung beschäftigen und dazu JavaScript lernen. Der Schwerpunkt dabei wird auf der JavaScript Bibliothek D3 liegen und wir lernen, wie damit interaktive Grafiken/Karten erstellt werden können. Als Leistungsnachweis müssen die Teilnehmer eine eigene Webseite programmieren mit einen Blogbeitrag und einer interaktiven Grafik. Dadurch können die neu gelernten Fähigkeiten direkt angewendet werden. Der Kurs fordert viel Einsatz der Studierenden.

Notes:
Die Veranstaltung wird erstmalig im Group Flex Ansatz durchgeführt, d.h. es findet nur eine gemeinsame Sitzung zu Beginn statt. Anschliessend erlernen die Gruppen im eigenen Tempo den Stoff und treffen sich ca. wöchentlich mit dem Dozierenden zum Klären von Fragen und Unterstützung. Dieser Ansatz verbindet ein hohes Mass an Flexibilität mit kollaborativem Lernen.

Event Anm. Exkursion Biosphärenreservat Engiadina Val Müstair
07VLGEO721.2 / Field Trip / 283

Description:

Business event contents:
Der Schweizerische Nationalpark bildet die Kernzone des Biosphärenreservats Engiadina Val Müstair. Auf der Exkursion werden Entstehungsgeschichte und die (politischen) Regionalisierungen des Gebiets vermittelt. Die Forschung spielt in sowohl im Nationalpark (Kernzone) als auch in der Umgebungs- und Entwicklungszone im Unterengadin eine wichtige Rolle. Forschungs- und Monitoringprogramme verschiedener Disziplinen werden während der Exkursion vermittelt. Zudem führen die Studierenden jeweils ein kleines Volunteer Employed Photography-Projekt durch.

Notes:
Die Wanderung ist relativ lang (5h reine Marschzeit, 1000 Höhenmeter, 13-15 km). Im Notfall besteht eine (kleine) Abkürzung durch Auslassung des Munt la Schera. Bei sehr schlechtem Wetter nehmen wir eine alternative Route.

Event Research Internship inBiomedicine (6-12 weeks)
07SOBME300 / Praktikum / 2,696

Description:

Business event contents:
The students work on a defined research project under the supervision of an advanced researcher. After the project is finished the students write their project report. Students learn the scientific practice, the use of research methods and how to evaluate, interpret and describe scientific results (report).
Research internships are primarily supervised by research group leaders associated with the Faculty of Science (MNF) or lecture in the Biomedicine or Biology study programs. The research group must be approved by the Studienkoordination Biomedizin biomedizin@physiol.uzh.ch before the start of the internship.

Event Literature in Context: History and Theory
06VL440-200a / Course / 1,876

Description:

Business event contents:
Beginning with the early modern period - the time of the Renaissance in England and the first English settlements in North America - this lecture course will take a transatlantic approach to the history of Anglophone literature. It will concentrate on key moments, that is, political, social, and cultural constellations that led to the emergence of important literary trends and forms. These moments include the flowering of lyric poetry and drama in the Elizabethan period, the beginnings of American literature, the rise of the novel in eighteenth- century Britain, as well as movements such as Gothicism, Romanticism, and Modernism on both sides of the Atlantic.

By repeatedly crossing the Atlantic to compare and contrast developments at different points in history, the course aims to give insight into some of the main periods, genres, and themes of British and American literature. In doing so, it hopes to familiarize participants not only with representative texts, but also with the historical contexts in which these texts were produced and received. At the same time, the lectures will introduce a variety of theoretical perspectives, including approaches from the field of postcolonial studies. The course will end by considering the rise of Anglophone literature from outside the UK and the US.

Course Materials:	All assigned reading will be made available electronically on the OLAT platform. (Much of it is also included in the Norton Anthologies of English and American Literature.)

Event Le français non-standard
06UE390-006a / Exercise Group / 1,829

Description:

Business event contents:
Le cours vise une approche théorique et pratique du concept de français non-standard. L'aspect différentiel d'une langue se manifeste de prédilection dans le vocabulaire qui est la composante la plus sujette au changement. En effet, le vocabulaire d'une langue est constitué de différentes couches communicantes qui réflètent avec plus ou moins de transparence son évolution. Le non-standard se manifeste également dans d'autres compartiments de la langue comme la syntaxe ou la grammaire. Le cours permettra aussi de sonder dans quelle mesure le non-standard est accepté par les locuteurs d'une langue donnée en s'appuyant sur des exemples allant de l'ancien français jusqu'au français moderne.

Notes:
La bibliographie sera distribuée tout au long des séances

Was ist Leben? Die Versuche, auf diese grosse Frage eine Antwort zu geben sind zahlreich und reichen weit zurück. Ist es die Selbstbewegung der Seele, die das Prinzip des Lebens ausmacht (Aristoteles)? Ist es ein "élan vitale", der dem Leben zugrunde liegt (Bergson)? In den Naturwissenschaften werden hochkomplexe Theorien über prozessuale Organisationsformen von Leben vertreten, bei denen nicht Lebensdefinitionen im Vordergrund stehen, sondern verschiedene Merkmale (wie Energie- und Stoffwechsel, Selbstregulation, Kommunikation/ Reizbarkeit, Reproduktionsfähigkeit u.a.) in ihren Wechselwirkungen untersucht werden. In der Theologie wird Leben u.a. als Gabe des Schöpfergottes verstanden, der Mensch und Tier durch seinen Lebensatem zu lebendigen Wesen macht. – Das Seminar unternimmt erste Annäherungsschritte an die Frage "Was ist Leben?" aus naturwissenschaftlicher, philosophischer und theologischer Perspektive und reflektiert auch die Voraussetzungen derselben. Zu jeder Perspektive werden jeweils ausgewählte neuere Positionen studiert und in ein interdisziplinäres Gespräch gebracht. Auch aktuellere Themen wie «artifical life» und ausserirdisches Leben sollen zur Sprache kommen.

07PRBIO259 / Praktikum / 2,698

Description:

Business event contents:
Die teilnehmenden Studierenden arbeiten unter individueller Betreuung durch eine/n fortgeschrittene/n Forscher/in (Doktorierende/r, Postdoc, Gruppenleiter/in) an einem spezifisch definierten Forschungsprojekt und verfassen einen Bericht nach Projektabschluss. Die Studierenden erhalten somit theoretischen und praktischen Einblick in aktuelle Forschung im Gebiet Molekular- und Zellbiologie.

Participating students work under individual guidance of an advanced researcher (PhD student, postdoc, group leader) on a specific defined research project and write a scientific report upon completion of the project. Thereby students acquire practical and theoretical insight into actual cutting edge research in Molecular and Cellular Biology.

Event PT Übung: Seelsorge-Übung für Theologiestudierende
01UE24SU004 / Exercise Group / 2,229

Description:

Business event contents:
Im Rahmen der Seelsorgeübung besuchen Studierende während des Semesters kranke und pflegebedürftige Menschen in einem Spital oder einem Pflegeheim. Die Einsätze werden vorbereitet und begleitet von erfahrenen Seelsorgerinnen und Seelsorgern, die in der betreffenden Institution tätig sind.

Ziele der Seelsorgeübung sind das Kennenlernen der Tätigkeit von Seelsorgenden und die Reflexion und Entwicklung der eigenen Kompetenzen in diesem Bereich. Die Seelsorgeübung wird von den Kirchen finanziert und in Zusammenarbeit mit den Fakultäten angeboten.
Zur Seelsorgeübung gehören ein Kennenlerntag, vier Einführungstage, ein Zwischentag und drei Auswertungstage, sowie seelsorgerliche Einsätze in einem Spital oder einem Pflegeheim an 10 frei wählbaren Halbtagen während des Semesters. Während des Semesters wird eine schriftliche Gesprächsaufzeichnung erstellt, zum Abschluss ein 8-10-seitiger Praktikumsbericht.

Die Übung ist anspruchsvoll. Sie verlangt zeitlichen Einsatz und fordert auch psychisch. Alle vor- und nachbereitenden Veranstaltungen gehören obligatorisch dazu. Die Blockveranstaltungen plus eine Zwischenauswertung in der Mitte der Übung (nach Vereinbarung) werden durch den Lehrbeauftragten Pfr. Markus Naegeli zusammen mit Pfrn. Nicole de Lorenzi wahrgenommen. Beide sind erfahrene und ausgewiesene Seelsorger:innen, die auch als CPT-Supervisor:innen arbeiten. Die Einsätze während des Semesters werden von erfahrenen Seelsorgerinnen und Seelsorgern begleitet.

Notes:
Ab 2019 ist der Besuch der Seelsorgeübung Voraussetzung für die Anmeldung zum Lernvikariat. Das gilt auch für Quereinsteigende ab Aufnahmeverfahren Herbst 24/25. Die Jahrgänge davor können sie auch im Rahmen des Lernvikariats besuchen. Die Übung wird als Wahlmodul Seelsorgeübung im Rahmen des Studiums an der Theologischen Fakultät der UZH gebucht. Sie schreiben sich für diese zugehörige Lehrveranstaltung an der Uni ab Beginn des betreffenden Semesters ein. Es besteht zudem alternativ die Möglichkeit, das äquivalente Wahlmodul Spiritual Care, das im Rahmen des interdisziplinären Lehrangebots an der Theologischen Fakultät der UZH angeboten wird, zu buchen.

Es wird empfohlen, die «Seelsorge-Übung für Theologiestudierende» nach oder zeitgleich mit den Modulen «PT: Seminar Seelsorge» (im FS) und «PT: Vorlesung/Übung Seelsorge» (im HS) zu absolvieren, da die drei Module eine didaktische Einheit bilden. Für die Übung werden 3 ECTS-Punkte angerechnet. Bitte melden Sie sich möglichst frühzeitig an, dies erleichtert die Organisation der Praktikumsplätze. Ihre Anmeldung ist verbindlich. Die Anzahl der Teilnehmenden ist beschränkt.

Event ME3: Organizational Economics (L)
03VL22MO0003 / Course / 1,900

Description:

Business event contents:
This course offers an economic perspective on platforms as a new form of organization. Economic activity has become increasingly digital, and online platforms have now become an essential part of the economy. Digital platforms disrupt existing markets but also create new ones, raising a series of important questions related to firms' management and competitive strategy. The course will present and discuss the key concepts that dictate and shape platforms and platform markets. These concepts will be discussed using both theoretical economic models as well as empirical evidence based on academic research. Industry cases will also be discussed.

Event Jugend und Politik
06SE615o517a / Seminar / 4,295

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Bild, welches die Öffentlichkeit von der Jugend und ihrem Verhältnis zur Politik hat, ist ambivalent. Einerseits wird der Jugend oft nachgesagt, unpolitisch, konsumorientiert, am Gemeinwohl uninteressiert und kritisch gegenüber traditionellen Pflichtwerten zu sein. Andererseits wird aber von einer massenhaften Politisierung der Jugend gesprochen. Was stimmt? Was ist über die politische Partizipationsbereitschaft der Jugendlichen bekannt? Wie entwickeln Jugendliche politische Haltungen und wie stabil sind diese? Diese und andere Fragen werden im Seminar behandelt.

Notes:
Die Veranstaltung findet im Raum AFL-F-150 statt.

Event Geschichten der Vergeltung. Über gesellschaftliche Emotionen in der Zeitgeschichte
06KO600o505a / Colloquium / 3,436

Description:

Business event contents:
Seit 1945 avancierte Gewaltlosigkeit zunehmend zu einem zentralen Bestandteil der Selbstbeschreibung westeuropäischer Staaten. Der Soziologe Michel Wieviorka sprach zu Beginn des 21. Jahrhunderts sogar davon, die Gewalt - er meinte die physische Gewalt - habe sich nach den 1980er Jahren zu einer "Figur des Bösen" schlechthin entwickelt.
Dass Gewalt gleichwohl ausgeübt wurde und wird, steht außer Frage. Das Kolloquium interessiert sich jedoch primär für ein anderes Phänomen: Es beschäftigt sich mit Fällen, in denen physische Gewalt innerhalb bestimmter Teilöffentlichkeiten als politisches oder persönliches Bekenntnis oder Verlangen auftaucht und entgegen der offiziellen Delegitimierung physischer Gewalt Zustimmung erfährt. Zu denken ist etwa an Situationen, in denen Recht und Vorstellungen von Gerechtigkeit auseinander treten (bis hin zur Forderung nach Todesstrafe oder einem Verständnis für Selbstjustiz), bis hin zu imaginierten Bekenntnissen zur Gewalt in der Musik, in der Literatur oder in der Kunst.
Das Kolloquium wird derartige Fälle anhand von verschiedenen Quellen kontextualisieren und analysieren. Dabei wird es immer auch um die Frage gehen, inwiefern emotionsgeladene Artikulationen über Gewalt oder gar Fantasien als Quellen für eine Zeit- und Gewaltgeschichte fruchtbar gemacht werden können.

Event Forschungswerkstatt Online-Befragung
06SE240o017a / Seminar / 3,450

Description:

Notes:
Der Workshop findet an 4 Terminen statt:
1. Einführung und Auffrischung Erhebungsmethoden und Fragebogenkonstruktion
2. Diskussion/Pretest von Fragebogenentwürfen & Einführung in die Praxis von Online-Befragungen
3. Hands-on EFS Online Survey - Praktische Konstruktion des Online-Fragenbogens & Spezielle Themen der Online-Befragung (Monitoring, Datenretrival, Dateninspektion)
4. Fragebogenpräsentation

Course Materials: Studierende ohne Vorkenntnisse im Bereich der Umfragemethoden sollten zuvor die vom Institut angebotenen Veranstaltungen zur Fragebogenkonstruktion und Erhebungsmethodik besuchen und den Workshop in einem späteren Semester buchen. Auch sollten Basiskenntnisse quantitativer Auswertungsmethoden (z.B. Statistik 1) vorhanden sein. Zur Auffrischung empfehlen wir 1) Diekmann, Andreas (2007): Empirische Sozialforschung: Grundlagen, Methoden, Anwendungen.

Event Fortgeschrittene Methoden
06SE240-009a / Seminar / 3,490

Description:

Business event contents:
Gegenstand und Ziel der Lehrveranstaltung ist die Einführung und Auseinandersetzung mit dem Forschungs- und Argumentationsstil der qualitativen Sozialforschung. Dabei werden die Besonderheiten von qualitativen Forschungsprozessen wie auch die zentralen forschungsethischen Prinzipien vermittelt. Im Verlauf der Veranstaltung werden verschiedene qualitative Forschungsansätze und -methoden im Hinblick auf ihre spezifischen Erkenntnismöglichkeiten sowie ihre Erhebungs- und Auswertungsstrategien vorgestellt. Dazu gehören Grounded Theory, Ethnographie, Narratives Interview, Expert(inn)eninterview, Gruppendiskussion und Bildanalyse. Der Schwerpunkt liegt dabei auf der praktischen Einübung der jeweiligen Erhebungs-, Aufbereitungs- und Auswertungsprozesse.

Event Switzerland 1917: World War, Political Revolution, Modern Literature
06KO440o009a / Colloquium / 4,278

Description:

Business event contents:
"I learned three things in Zurich during the war... Firstly, you're either a revolutionary or you're not, and if you're not you might as well be an artist as anything else. Secondly, if you can't be an artist, you might as well be a revolutionary... I forgot the third thing.
Tom Stoppard, Travesties

1917: a year bookended by two revolutions in Russia, first in February and then in October. To the west, the Great War rages in Flanders, Italy suffers a catastrophic defeat at Caporetto, news of mutiny spreads, and the Americans enter the conflict. World history churns around Switzerland, which, though neutral, is yoked to the chaos by telegraph cable and train track. V.
I. Lenin, architect of the Bolshevik Revolution, learns of the Tzar's abdication from the pages of the March15 NZZ. Three weeks later, at 15:10 on April
9, his sealed train leaves Zurich HB, headed for Saint Petersburg.

This course is about the political, cultural and artistic juncture of 1917, seen through the lives and works of writers, radicals, and refugees who found themselves in neutral Switzerland during the penultimate year of the Great War. This extraordinary confluence of political revolution and revolutionary art-the two wartime vocations that Henry Carr recalls in the above epigraph-will orient us as we examine the intersection the local and the global at this pivotal moment in world history. At the heart of our inquiry lies the productive tension between the specificity of the conditions that obtained in Switzerland and the tremendous scope of the internationalisms to which it was host.

Our syllabus features selections of several world-shaking texts that bear the stamp 'Switzerland
1917'-passages from Lenin's Imperialism the Highest Stage of Capitalism, a chapter of Ulysses the Joyce wrote in Zurich, poems and provocations by the Dadaists-as well as two later fictional works that explore the experience of émigrés in Switzerland during our focus year: Ernest Hemingway's
1929 novel, A Farewell to Arms, and Tom Stoppard's
1975 play, Travesties. These materials will be paired with excursions and guided visits of several sites in Switzerland. We will complement our discussion of Tzara with a trip to the Cabaret Voltaire and the Kunsthaus; our reading of Joyce with a visit to the Zurich James Joyce Foundation. There will also be a day-long excursion to Geneva to tour the Museum of the International Red Cross and Red Crescent and visit artifacts and documents related to the League of Nations at the UN Museum. The penultimate class meeting will develop connections between the cultural and political contestations of 1917 and contemporary debates about humanitarianism, refugees, and the war in Europe."

05VL.498_2lt / Block Course / 1,430

Description:

Business event contents:
Lernziele

Tierseuchen & Biosicherheit:

Die Studierenden kennen die gesetzlichen Grundlagen der Biosicherheit bei Arbeiten in Laboren der verschiedenen Sicherheitsstufen und können diese im Laboralltag anwenden.
Die Studierenden können die gesetzlichen Grundlagen zur Tierseuchengesetzgebung zusammenfassen und sind in der Lage zu beurteilen, wann diese zur Anwendung kommen müssen.

Labor-Mathematik:

Die Studierenden sind in der Lage, einfache Berechnungen, die im Laboralltag zu lösen sind, selbständig auszuführen.

Epidemiologie:

Die Studierenden sind in der Lage die Prinzipien der Evaluation von diagnostischen Tests erklären zu können und Daten deskriptiv (numerisch und grafisch) in R auszuwerten.

Tierernährung & Mykotoxine:

Die Studierenden kennen die besonderen Bedürfnisse der unterschiedlichen Tierarten und können die Eignung der Ration/ bzw. Futterzusammensetzung beurteilen. Die Studierenden kennen die wichtigsten veterinärmedizinisch relevanten Mykotoxine sowie die gesetzlichen Grundlagen, die Wirkung auf Gesundheit und Leistung der Tiere und ihr Potential zur Rückstandsbildung.

Description:

Business event contents:
Sie machen sich mit grundlegenden Mechanismen der Krankheitsentstehung (Pathogenese) auf Ebene der Zelle, des Organs und des Gesamtorganismus vertraut. Diese pathogenetischen Prozesse lösen funktionelle und morphologische Veränderungen von Zelle, Organ und Organismus aus und können anhand dieser Veränderungen erkannt werden. Sie werden erläutert und histologisch, ultrastrukturell und makroskopisch dargestellt und mit den molekularen bzw. biochemischen Vorgängen vernetzt.
Das Praktikum dient dazu, Sie mit typischen morphologischen Veränderungen vertraut zu machen, die das Erkennen und Interpretieren der spezifischen Organveränderungen ermöglichen, die Sie im Master kennenlernen werden.

Event Wertorientiertes Controlling (L)
03VL22BO0148 / Course / 4,640

Description:

Business event contents:
Die wertorientierte Lenkung eines Unternehmens - ob gewinnorientiertes oder Non-Profit-Unternehmen - gehört zu den wichtigsten Aufgaben von Führungsorganen. Es gilt, die Substanz eines Unternehmens zu halten, zu schützen und nach den definierten Zielsetzungen weiterzuentwickeln.
Dabei müssen die Erwartungen verschiedener Anspruchsgruppen aufeinander abgestimmt werden. Die Erfüllung dieser Erwartungen soll anhand von klar nachvollziehbaren Performance- und Kennzahlenmodellen dokumentiert werden können. Inhaltlich deckt die Veranstaltung ein weites Spektrum an Themen ab, darunter wertorientierte Führung, Budgetierung, Reporting, Kosten- und Leistungscontrolling, Investitionscontrolling und Projektcontrolling.

Event Struktureller Wandel, Identitäten und Polarisierung in globalisierten Wissensgesellschaften
06SE615o545a / Seminar / 4,715

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Polarisierung zwischen rechtsnationalen und gesellschaftsliberalen, linken Parteien hat «Identitätspolitik» auch in der vergleichenden politischen Ökonomie zu einem vieldiskutierten Phänomen gemacht. Gruppenidentitäten werden zunehmend herangezogen, um Wahlentscheidungen und Wahlergebnisse zu erklären. Während kulturelle oder identitätsbasierte Erklärungen lange als Alternative zu ökonomischen Erklärungen verstanden wurden, betont die jüngere Forschung deren Zusammenspiel. Diesem widmet sich diese Veranstaltung. Dabei gehen wir von ökonomischen Veränderungen aus: Welche Ungleichheiten entstehen durch den Technologiewandel oder die Bildungsexpansion? Welchen Einfluss haben Bildungssysteme oder Wohlfahrtsstaaten auf diese Ungleichheiten und politisches Verhalten? Ökonomische Ansätze ergänzen wir mit politsoziologischen und sozialpsychologischen Perspektiven, um folgende Fragen zu beantworten: Wie erleben Individuen die gesellschaftlichen Umbrüche der letzten Jahre und Jahrzehnte? Welche Folgen hat dies für Gruppenwahrnehmungen und politisches Verhalten?

Event Mass Spectrometry-based Proteomics Training Course at FGCZ
07VUBIO698 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 4,740

Description:

Business event contents:
Proteomics aims to investigate the entire content of proteins present in cells, tissues, body fluids, whole organisms, or in any type of biological sample. Mass spectrometry-based proteomics is currently the most comprehensive approach for quantitative profiling of proteins, their interactions and spatial localizations, and for the identification of protein modifications.The objective of this course is to introduce the field of proteomics, focusing on fundamental concepts in sample preparation, peptide and protein identification, and quantification. These concepts are reinforced through the practical training using state-of-the-art mass spectrometers and open-source software for data analysis.

The course is designed to provide the participants with the knowledge necessary to access the resources and infrastructure of the proteomics unit at the Functional Genomics Center Zurich.

Event Mittelpaläolithikum (mit Beteiligung an SISA)
06KO683o003a / Colloquium / 4,599

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Schweiz ist nicht sehr reich an mittelpaläolithischen (neanderthalerzeitlichen) Fundplätzen, was im Wesentlichen auf die eiszeitliche Überprägung der Landschaft zurückzuführen ist. Und dennoch: die alpinen paläolithischen Höhlen haben emblematischen Charakter für die prähistorische Archäologie in der Schweiz, vor allem für deren früher Phase in der ersten Hälfte des 20. Jh. In jüngster Zeit ist das archäologische Interesse für mittelpaläolithische Fundstellen neu erwacht, mit laufenden und geplanten Forschungen, an denen auch das Institut für Archäologie beteiligt ist. Mit dem Kolloquium sollen aktualisierte Grundlagen angeschaut werden und interessierten forgeschrittenen BA- und MA-Studierenden eine Möglichkeit für die Teilnahme an der SISA zum Thema "Neanderthal Landscapes" gegeben werden.

Event Parteiendemokratie in der Schweiz und im internationalen Vergleich
06SE615o546a / Seminar / 4,722

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Seminar "Parteiendemokratie in der Schweiz und im internationalen Vergleich" untersucht die Rolle politischer Parteien als zentrale Institutionen demokratischer Herrschaft. Ausgehend von theoretischen Grundlagen und klassischen Konzepten der Parteien- und Demokratieforschung werden Entstehung, Funktionen und Wandlungsprozesse von Parteiensystemen analysiert. Ein besonderer Schwerpunkt liegt auf der Schweiz: ihrer Konkordanzdemokratie, der Beziehung zwischen Parteien und direkter Demokratie sowie den Besonderheiten von Parteienfinanzierung und Wahlkämpfen. Im internationalen Vergleich werden Entwicklungen wie Populismus, Digitalisierung, Repräsentationsdefizite und neue gesellschaftliche Konfliktlinien diskutiert. Empirische Ansätze - etwa mit V-Dem-Indikatoren - ermöglichen eine analytische Einbettung der Schweiz in globale Demokratietrends. Das Seminar kombiniert theoretische Reflexion, empirische Analyse und aktuelle politische Debatten zur Zukunft der Parteiendemokratie.

Event Grundlagen des Rechts
02VLIUS_AD27 / Colloquium / 4,553

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Modul soll Doktorierenden und Habilitierenden der Rechtswissenschaften die Möglichkeit geben, ihr Vorhaben zur Diskussion zu stellen. Dabei sollen auch und gerade Projekte einbezogen werden, die ihren Schwerpunkt jenseits der Grundlagenfächer haben. Solche Vorhaben sollen in den perspektivischen Zusammenhang insbesondere des römischen Rechts, der Rechtsgeschichte und der Rechtstheorie gestellt werden. Diese Diskussion konkreter Forschungsvorhaben aus der Sicht der rechtswissenschaftlichen Grundlagenfächer soll die Vertiefung der jeweils untersuchten Fragestellungen möglich machen. Für die Zukunft ist geplant, den Kreis der beteiligten Doktoranden und Habilitanden auf andere Universitäten zu erweitern, um die fachwissenschaftliche Diskussion zu bereichern.

Event Von Tieren und Menschen in der Kunst der frühen Neuzeit
06SE640-016a / Seminar / 3,472

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Seminar widmet sich den Darstellungen desTieres und seinen komplexen Beziehungen zum Menschen in der Kunst der frühen Neuzeit (15.-18.Jahrhundert).
Im Spannungsfeld von Kunstgeschichte, Philosophie und Anthropologie wird die Entstehung und Veränderung einer beweglichen Grenze zwischen Tier und Mensch untersucht - von den Schöpfungserzählungen bis zu Montaignes Überlegungen über Grausamkeit und tierisches Leid sowie zu Descartes' Konzept der "Tier-Maschine" (animal-machine).
Anhand zentraler Texte und exemplarischer Kunstwerke, in denen das Tier eine aktive, symbolische oder kritische Rolle spielt - Jagdszenen, Darstellungen von Fleisch und Wild, exotische Tiere, hybride Figuren, naturkundlicheIllustrationen -, erforscht das Seminar die bildnerischen Strategien, mit denen Künstler:innen der frühen Neuzeit die Grenzen des Lebendigen und die Bedingungen der Darstellung neu definierten.
Diskutiert werden Fragen der Gewalt und Grausamkeit, derMaterialität (Farbe, Blut), der Mimesis sowie Formen reflexiver Darstellung, in denen das Tier als Spiegel des Menschen erscheint.

Notes:
Die Texte zum Seminar werden auf OLAT als PDF zur Verfügung gestellt.
In der ersten Sitzung am 20.02. werden die Referatsthemen vorgestellt und vergeben.
Die zwei nachfolgenden Sitzungen sind der gemeinsamen Diskussion zuvor gelesener theoretischer Texte gewidmet.

Course Materials:	Michel de Montaigne, Essais, Stuttgart 2014, Buch 2, Kap. XI-XII; René Descartes, Bericht über die Methode/Discours de la méthode, Ditzingen 2019, Teil 5; Jacques Derrida, Das Tier, das ich also bin, Wien 2016; Elisabeth de Fontenay, Le silence des bêtes. Event Integrationspolitik: Ist das zu schaffen?
06SE615-013c / Seminar / 4,621

Description:

Business event contents:
Spätestens seit der Flüchtlingskrise 2016 steht die Integration wieder ganz oben auf der politischen Agenda vieler Staaten. «Wir schaffen das», sagte einst Angela Merkel. Bloss wie? Diese Frage beschäftigt nicht nur PolitikerInnen, sondern auch WissenschaftlerInnen. So entstanden in den letzten Jahren viele spannende Studien zu diesem Thema. Mit einem Teil davon werden wir uns im Seminar befassen, wobei der Fokus auf quantitativen Methoden liegt.

Event Die "Wende": Ostmitteleuropa seit 1989
06SE600-046a / Seminar / 673

Description:

Business event contents:
Fast vierzig Jahre sind vergangen, seit sich die Staaten des ehemaligen «Ostblocks» aus der sowjetischen Umklammerung lösten undden Übergang vom Staatssozialismus zu Marktwirtschaft und Demokratie einleiteten. Nach einem vielschichtigen Transformationsprozess sind die ostmitteleuropäischen Länder heute politisch und wirtschaftlich eng mit dem übrigen Europa verflochten.
Gleichzeitig irritieren die postsozialistischen Staaten westliche Beobachterinnen und Beobachter immer wieder - etwa durch Widerstände gegenüber «Brüssel», autoritäreTendenzen einzelner Regierungsparteien, die Berufung auf eine «illiberale Demokratie» oder eine nationalistische Geschichtspolitik.
Im Seminar diskutieren wir die Entwicklung der ostmitteleuropäischen Länder seit den 1980er-Jahren, wobei wir uns vor allem auf Polen, Tschechien, die Slowakei und Ungarn konzentrieren. Wir fragen danach, wie sich diese Gesellschaften nach der "Wende" von 1989 neu definierten, wie sich die Lebenswelten der Menschen veränderten und wie aktuelle politische Auseinandersetzungen historisch einzuordnen sind.

Event Dentro il vocabolario: lessicografia ed etimologia italo-romanze
06VL410o030a / Course / 640

Description:

Business event contents:
Se sui media si parla di linguistica, il più delle volte è a proposito di un nuovo vocabolario. Per il senso comune dei parlanti, infatti, le parole sono l'aspetto più visibile della lingua e il redigere vocabolari è quindi l'attività, fra quante può svolgerne il linguista, meglio percepita socialmente. Di conseguenza, è anche l'attività più spesso riconosciuta in sede pubblica: in Svizzera, gli unici posti di lavoro espressamente destinati solo a chi abbia una formazione linguistica, al di fuori delle università, sono quelli di redattore presso i quattro vocabolari nazionali. Inoltre, fra i greatest hits dell'interesse pubblico nei confronti della lingua, l'etimologia (ossia la spiegazione dell'origine delle parole) occupa una posizione preminente: anche l'esercizio dell'etimologia ha il suo luogo deputato in quel tipo di vocabolario che si dice, appunto, etimologico o nell'apposita sezione che oramai anche i dizionari dell'uso le dedicano. Data la sua visibilità sociale, il vocabolario è sempre stato non solo strumento scientifico ma anche strumento ideologico, e oggetto di discussione politica. Di tutto ciò il corso intende dare un'idea, tracciando nella prima parte una panoramica storica della lessicografia italiana (anche nei suoi risvolti politico-culturali). Nella seconda parte si darà poi spazio agli aspetti più operativi dando uno sguardo alle grandi imprese lessicografiche attualmente in corso in ambito italiano - il Lessico Etimologico Italiano (LEI) e il Tesoro della Lingua Italiana delle Origini (TLIO) - e fornendo alcuni esempi concreti di applicazione del metodo etimologico.

Course Materials: Per sostenere l'esame, chi abbia frequentato il corso dovrà prepararsi in base agli appunti presi a lezione e alla lettura di:
M. Aprile, Dalle parole ai dizionari, il Mulino 2005;
D. Baglioni, L'etimologia, Carocci 2016;

Event Escrituras femeninas/feministas: Literaturas latinoamericanas en clave de género
06VL427o043a / Course / 880

Description:

Business event contents:
Este ciclo de conferencias (Vorlesung) propone una exploración crítica de la literatura escrita por mujeres en América Latina, así como de las textualidades que interrogan, performan o reconfiguran lo femenino desde una perspectiva de género. El curso abordará primero que todo la dupla feminino/feminista para luego acercarnos a un corpus de obras -ficción, ensayo, poesía, autobiografía- que figuran experiencias femeninas, y se posicionan claramente frente a las relaciones de poder. Nos preguntaremos también qué significa leer en clave de género y cómo la escritura puede devenir resistencia.

A lo largo del curso, nos adentraremos en los debates, tensiones y luchas de los feminismos latinoamericanos a través de la teoría y la escritura literaria. Prestaremos especial atención a las relaciones entre cuerpo, lenguaje, poder y afecto; a las genealogías de mujeres escritoras que han sido desplazadas del canon; y a las estrategias formales que interrumpen o reinventan las convenciones literarias. Más que un recorrido cerrado, el curso será un espacio para pensar juntes -y críticamente- cómo se escribe, se inscribe y se disputa lo femenino en la literatura.

Course Materials:	Se trabajará con un amplio corpus de cuentos, poesía y teorías literarias feministas, que se pondrá a disposición de los/las estudiantes a principios de semestre. Se tratarán además tres novelas. Se recomienda comprar la novela Las niñas del Naranjel, de Gabriela Cabezón Cámara.

Description:

Business event contents:
Dieses Forschungskolloquium bietet fortgeschrittenen Studierenden die Möglichkeit, ihre laufenden Arbeiten (Masterarbeiten, ausnahmsweise auch Seminararbeiten) einer auf Ethik spezialisierten Forschungsgruppe vorzustellen.
Gleichzeitig stellt das Kolloquium eine Gelegenheit dar, Vorträge von Personen zu besuchen, die universitär im Bereich der Ethik und in angrenzenden Bereichen forschen. Es bietet damit einen Einblick in die aktuelle Forschung in der Ethik und in angrenzenden Bereichen und erlaubt es, sich mit der Arbeitsweise in der akademisch-philosophischen Forschung vertraut zu machen.

Event Fake News & What (Not) To Do About It
06SE615o526a / Seminar / 4,280

Description:

Business event contents:
In the past decade, an impressive number of studies have speculated about and assessed the impact of fake news on public opinion. In this course, we will examine what more classical political communication research can teach us about the potential consequences of fake news on citizens' (political) attitudes and behavior. The focus will be on understanding to what extent recently brought up phenomena such as filter bubbles and echo chambers fit in much earlier introduced concepts such as motivated reasoning and selective exposure. Moreover, we will pay attention to how fake news differs from other (political) news, how these different sources may affect public opinion, and what can be done to counter anynharmful effects from exposure to these sources. Aside from addressing these more theoretical concepts, we will also discuss interesting research designs to study the phenomena addressed in this course.

Notes:
The course has four introductory sessions which lay out the basic theoretical framework of classical political communication theories. Next, we will look at the most relevant work on (the effects of) fake news, and partisan news. This part is followed by a couple of sessions on existing interventions against harmful exposure to different news sources. The course ends with one ore two sessions on research designs in this field of study.

Event Poverty and Precarity around 1600
06SE440o504a / Seminar / 2,350

Description:

Business event contents:
This MA seminar examines how poverty and precarity were debated, represented and contested in early modern England. Against the backdrop of environmental crises such as droughts and harvest failures, increasing urbanization, and profound changes to traditional social structures, the period witnessed intensified anxieties about vagrancy, crime, charity, and the moral obligations of the state and its subjects. We will explore a wide range of literary and non-literary texts that reflect and shape these concerns: alongside prose satires, utopian fictions, and political pamphlets that address the material and ideological dimensions of poverty, early modern drama-particularly history plays and city comedies-emerges as a powerful form of social criticism, interrogating the boundaries between need and deviance, relief and repression.

Readings will include (extracts from) William Shakespeare's 2 Henry VI, 2 Henry IV, King Lear, and Measure for Measure, Richard Brome's A Jovial Crew, as well as Thomas Nashe's Pierce Pennilesse, Thomas More's Utopia, and radical writings by Gerrard Winstanley and the Levellers, such as A Declaration from the Poor Oppressed People of England and The Laws of Freedom.

The course incorporates conceptual frameworks from new social history, disability studies, and gender studies. We will engage with recent critical interventions, including Jasbir Puar's The Right to Maim (2017), to examine how discourses of debility, capacity, and productivity shaped early modern ideas of economic and bodily worth.

This seminar is aimed at students interested in early modern literature, the history of social thought, and the intersections of culture, politics, and inequality. Together, we will consider how literature helped imagine-and sometimes resist-the emerging disciplinary logics of poverty and precarity.

Event Maya Deren
06KO255o002a / Colloquium / 2,061

Description:

Business event contents:
«With film, I can make the world dance!» - Maya Deren, von der diese Aussage stammt, ist eine herausragende Persönlichkeit des
20. Jahrhunderts. Bekannt geworden ist die
1917 in der heutigen Ukraine geborene und früh in die USA ausgewanderte Künstlerin und Autorin vor allem durch ihre visionären Experimentalfilme in den
1940er Jahren, von denen MESHES OF THE AFTERNOON (USA
1943) vermutlich der bekannteste ist. In diesem Kolloquium werden wir uns primär mit Derens filmtheoretischen Schriften auseinandersetzen, die einerseits an Grundvorstellungen der klassischen Filmtheorien von Béla Balázs, Siegfried Kracauer u.a. anschliessen, andererseits aber bereits auf die Filmavantgarde der
Ziel des Kolloquiums ist es, grundlegende Kompetenzen in der Analyse filmtheoretischer Texte zu vermitteln und das theoriegeleitete Sprechen und Schreiben über Film einzuüben.

Event History of the English Language 2: Focus on Middle English (Group 3: Middle English Manuscripts)
06SE440-110a / Seminar / 1,183

Description:

Business event contents:
This module introduces students to the history of English and to English historical linguistics. It is intended for Bachelor students in their second year and consists of two parts: a lecture and a seminar. The lecture provides an overview on the history of the English language from the Norman Conquest of 1066 to the present today. The seminar introduces the students to Middle English (the language spoken and written in England between AD 1150-1500). The module gives an insight into the early forms of English and provides guidance on how to read original texts in Middle English with the help of glossaries. It also introduces some basic principles of English historical linguistics and of the study of medieval English literature.

Course Materials:	Students are required to get their own copy of the course book by the beginning of the term: - Brinton, Laurel J. and Leslie K. Arnovick. 2016. The English Language: A Linguistic History. Third edition. Oxford: Oxford University Press. Note that you should get the third edition of this book. It can be bought at KLIO Buchhandlung (Zähringerstrasse 45, 8021 Zürich). Additional reading assignments will be announced in the respective seminars/ the lecture.

Event Legal Sociology
02VL90GL13-1 / Course / 4,395

Description:

Business event contents:
The primary aim of this course is to show how classic theories of legal sociology may be effectively used to elucidate contemporary problems of law and society. The course starts with a "refresher" on some important theories of legal sociology before entering into an in-depth analysis of some key challenges of the law in contemporary society, including (1) globalisation and impacts on the law and (2) collisions between legal cultures.

Event Wirtschaftsrechtsgeschichte
02VL90GL5-2 / Course / 4,399

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Veranstaltung wird die Entwicklung der Wirtschaftsverfassung, von Märkten und Marktmechanismen sowie die Organisation der Marktteilnehmer betrachten.
Besonderes Gewicht hat dabei die Frage nach der Verflechtung mit dem historischen Wandel politischer Herrschaft, der gesellschaftlichen Ordnung und den kulturellen Rahmenbedingungen. Die Veranstaltung wird diese Phänomene jeweils im Zusammenhang von Mittelalter, früher Neuzeit und Moderne untersuchen. Einzelthemen sind dabei etwa die Entwicklung von Zünften und Gilden in der mittelalterlichen Stadt, die Entstehung von Fernhandelsgesellschaften und der Verlauf von Spekulationsblasen in der frühen Neuzeit, die Entstehungsbedingungen des Handelsrechts, die historischen Grundlagen des Aktienrechts und die Ausformung des Kartellrechts.

Course Materials:	Ein begleitendes Skript mit Quellentexten und Literaturhinweisen wird zu Beginn des Semesters über die IUS Teaching App verfügbar sein. Die Folien werden im Laufe des Semestersan derselben Stelle aufgeschaltet.

Event Statistik und Datenanalyse: Einführung
06VL254-014a / Course / 2,987

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Vorlesung ist zweigeteilt. Im ersten Teil werden die Lernziele der Einführung in die Statistik und Datenanalyse vermittelt. Im zweiten Teil wird es eine Einführung in Analysesoftware R und R-Studio bzw. Positron geben.

Notes:
Wir empfehlen Ihnen, die Vorlesung vor Ort zu besuchen. Gerade wenn Sie nicht ausschliesslich aus eigenem Interesse und Freude an Statistik lernen, ist der regelmässige Besuch hilfreich, um am Stoff dranzubleiben und kontinuierlich für die Prüfung zu üben.

Event Methodological Foundations
06SE615o541a / Seminar / 4,474

Description:

Business event contents:
The course centers on two foundational pillars of quantitative political methodology: Maximum Likelihood Estimation (MLE) and Bayesian statistics. A deep understanding of these methods will enable students to surpass the capabilities provided by a standard curriculum. Supplementary topics will include relevant mathematical statistics and practical issues such as uncertainty propagation.

Event Interdisziplinäre Sichtweisen zur Frage der Verantwortung und die (Dys-) Funktionen der Finanzmärkte (L) (Interd. point 03VL22BO0068 / Course / 1,577

Description:

Business event contents:
Allgemeine Beschreibung: Die Finanzkrisen, die Finanzinstabilität sowie das Credit Suisse-Debakel von 2023 haben zu vielfältigen Anschuldigungen gegen Banken, Finanzaufsichtsbehörden und Zentralbanken, aber auch gegenüber Vertretern: innen der Wirtschaftswissenschaften geführt. Letzteren wird vorgeworfen, sie hätten sich zu wenig mit den Ursachen und Folgen der Finanzkrise von 2007/08 befasst. Die vorliegende Veranstaltung will der Frage nachgehen, wer welche Verantwortung für die Stabilität der Finanzmärkte in Zukunft zu tragen hat. Diese Fragestellung wird aus mehreren wissenschaftlichen Disziplinen (Banking, Finance, Psychologie, Recht, Ethik, Ethnologie) beleuchtet werden. Neben den zwei leitenden Referenten: innen werden auch Gastreferenten: innen aus Wissenschaft und Praxis zu Wort kommen und den Gedankenaustausch bereichern.

Event Lektüren der Flateyjarbók: Einführung in die skandinavistische Mediävistik
06SE360-202a / Seminar / 1,850

Description:

Business event contents:
Im zweiten Teil des Moduls «Literatur- und Kulturgeschichte des skandinavischen Mittelalters» soll die Überblicksdarstellung der Vorlesung weiter vertieft werden. In gemeinsamer Lektüre werden wir unterschiedliche altisländische Texte, die in der Sammelhandschrift Flateyjarbók überliefert sind, in Übersetzung und ausschnittsweise im Original erschliessen. Wir setzen uns mit verschiedenen Gattungen (z.B. saga, þáttr, ríma) auseinander und lernen und üben, wie diese untersucht werden können. Zugänge aus der Narratologie, Geschlechterforschung oder dem Postkolonialismus stehen dabei im Vordergrund. Nebst diesen literatur- und kulturwissenschaftlichen Ansätzen werden wir uns anhand der Flateyjarbók auch zum ersten Mal mit der Materialphilologie auseinandersetzen und in diesem Zusammenhang die Kodikologie und Paläographie in Grundzügen kennenlernen.

Event Portfolio Management Theory 2 (S)
03SE22MO0128 / Seminar / 2,343

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar constitutes the second component of the Portfolio Management Program. In this seminar, students use the theoretical foundations learned in the lecture Asset Management: Advanced Investments as well as the seminar Portfolio Management Theory 1 and the programming skills learned in Backtesting for Portfolio Management to develop and backtest a unique trading strategy.
Students participate in regular expert presentations and act as investment analysts to prepare for the Portfolio Management Program Implementation seminar in the following semester.

Notes:
The number of participants is limited. Only open to students who successfully completed Portfolio Management Theory 1, Asset Management: Advanced Investments and Backtesting for Portfolio Management.
The seminar will be held onsite at the scheduled times. Materials will be provided electronically. Students are encouraged to ask questions and contribute to the class discussions.

06SE240-012a / Seminar / 3,495

Description:

Business event contents:
How to model human behavior in social interactions? This course introduces game-theoretic tools and methods that help thinking about social interactions and associated behaviors. Applications include social norms, honesty, punishment and human cooperation. The course consists of both theoretical and applied course components relying on rational choice theory and game theory blending theory, field studies and experiments.

Course Materials:
1. Diekmann, Andreas: Spieltheorie. Rowohlt 2009.
2. Dixit, Avinash K., and Susan Skeath. Games of Strategy. WW Norton & Company 2015.

Event Laboratory Course in Physical Chemistry for the Life Sciences
07PRCHE153.1 / Praktikum / 2,224

Description:

Business event contents:
The practical course is meant to deepen, supplement and practically apply the lectures in physical chemistry (CHE 154 and CHE 155) and to practise apparatus-based experimentation. The experiments cover the following topics: general thermodynamics, transport phenomena, spectroscopy and surface tension.
A large part of the practical course is the writing of scientific laboratory reports as preparation for later scientific publication. This also includes the scientific evaluation of the measurement data including error analysis.
Both are the subject of a special introduction at the beginning of the practical course

Notes:
The capacity of the lab course is limited. If the requirements are not met, no place will be allocated. Preference is given to those students for whom CHE 153 is mandatory. All other students will be admitted according to the date of booking.

Attendance is MANDATORY at the introduction on the first Tuesday of the semester!
In case of absence, you lose your booked lab space!

Event Modern Times. Legal History of Modern Europe
02VL90GL11-1 / Course / 4,397

Description:

Business event contents:
The Western concept of constitution and law is under pressure. The tenets of modern law, freedom and liberalism, seem self-evident to us, but they are increasingly being called into question - by authoritarian regimes from outside, but also by several political movements from within. Indeed, it seems as if liberalism has been, and is, the common denominator of an era. It represents a crucial feature of modernity that can thus be found in many fields of law. To the student, the different fields of today's law usually appear to be completely disparate and disconnected, but they do in fact bear the signature of an age. This course will focus on exactly that signature by providing you with an account of some of the most relevant lines of development within Europe's legal history of, roughly speaking, the last 200 years. After all, the legal history of modernity is the immediate prehistory of our present time. Hence, we will combine legal history with an assessment of today's legal culture. Modern Times is an invitation for all students wishing to better understand and survey our current law.

In contrast to the Master-Vorlesung Rechtsgeschichte der bürgerlichen Moderne (which is delivered in German), this course will not adopt Switzerland as its starting point. Instead, it will trace the legal developments in Europe from the French revolution onwards, thereby providing you with a general comparative framework. It is open to Swiss students (both students at the UZH and those doing a Joint Degree) as well as students from abroad who are spending part of their studies at the University of Zurich (e.g. Double Degree and Master Program students). Students do not need to fulfil any particular preconditions for attending this course, nor will they be expected to have attended legal history courses before. The only prerequisite is curiosity.

This course can also be followed online, too; all units will be made available in OLAT. Participation in the course can be organized flexibly. Furthermore, in class we offer the opportunity to actively deepen the knowledge acquired during the lectures through interactive discussion groups. Everybody can thus contribute to one's own examination performance if wished, since participants can actively engage with their own arguments and questions. Detailed information on how this will work has been given in the first unit.

Students are welcome to register for the course here.

Event Probability Theory (L)
03VL22MO0268 / Course / 4,642

Description:

Business event contents:
This is a graduate-level course in probability theory requiring previous exposure to a first course in real analysis, but not measure theory. We will cover the measure-theoretic underpinnings of probability spaces and random variables, the use of characteristic function inversion, more general random variables suitable for modeling financial asset returns, and non-trivial discrete random variables for modeling runs and occupancy distributions.

Course Materials:	We will follow my set of notes, namely sections 9.1 and 9.2, with the link to the pdf file: https://u.pcloud.link/publink/show?code=XZ9CRJ0Zb8zoIpXjhLVQzYC1tEE9GJ2IxH7V

Im Zentrum der Übungen steht die Methode der Falllösung, d.h. die fallbezogene Behandlung öffentlich-rechtlicher Problemstellungen. Gleichzeitig wird der Stoff des Moduls Öffentliches Recht II anhand konkreter Fälle veranschaulicht und vertieft.

Notes:
Im Rahmen der Übungen Öffentliches Recht II ist eine schriftliche Fallbearbeitung möglich.

Course Materials:	Die Übungsfälle werden für jede Gruppe auf der Website oder OLAT (je nach Gruppe) des betreffenden Lehrstuhls zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event Bayesian Data Analysis and Models of Behavior (L)
03VLDOEC0829 / Course / 436

Description:

Business event contents:
Making sense of the data acquired via experiments or databases is fundamental in many fields of sciences. However, students and scientists often struggle to understand and analyze the data in their own research. This course is designed for researchers who want to gain practical experience with computational models for data analysis based on Bayesian inference. Coursework involves practical demonstrations with example datasets, homework, and discussion of solutions for problems that routinely arise during data analysis on models of behavior. The participants will learn and practice how to implement the models, estimate their parameters, and interpret the output. No advanced knowledge of statistics and probability is required, and from the very start, participants are encouraged to apply data analyses by themselves.
The first objective is to make the participants familiar with the conceptual framework of Bayesian data analysis. The second goal is to introduce the ideas of modern Bayesian data analysis, including techniques such as Markov chain Monte Carlo (MCMC) techniques, alongside the introduction of software that facilitates the creation of any Bayesian inference model. Throughout the course, this will involve practical demonstrations with example datasets, homework, and discussions that should convince the participants of this course that it is possible to make inferences and understand the data acquired from the experiments that they usually acquire in their own research (starting from simple linear regressions all the way up to models with hierarchical structures). After working through this course, the participants should be able to build their own Bayesian inference models and apply such models to their own data.

Notes:
If you wish to attend this course, please send an e-mail with your name and student ID number (Matrikelnummer) to cornelia.schnyder@econ.uzh.ch This course will take place in BLU-003 (Blümlisalpstrasse 10, 8006 Zurich).

Event Fachdidaktik Italienisch III: Lernmedien nutzen und erstellen
06SE090Ita3 / Seminar / 987

Description:

Business event contents:
Come pianificare percorsi d'apprendimento della durata di più settimane? E come programmare il curricolo di uno o più semestri? Faremo pratica progettando:
1. un percorso di apprendimento su un romanzo moderno con attività calibrate a livello B1/B2;
2. un programma semestrale facendo riferimento sia ai piani di studio sia alle attuali tendenze della didattica delle lingue;
3. singole unità didattiche sfruttando le risorse attualmente offerte da OneNote e Teams.

Creeremo da un lato percorsi variati che mirino allo sviluppo di competenze sia linguistiche che culturali, scegliendo romanzi su tematiche attuali che sappiano stimolare l'interesse di chi studia l'italiano negli ultimi due anni di liceo.

Dall'altra parte ci concentreremo sulle strategie e le tecniche che permettono all'insegnante di strutturare il curricolo, di presentare materiale, di migliorare la collaborazione tra gli apprendenti, di individualizzare il feedback, nonché di organizzare i materiali didattici prodotti sia nel corso degli anni che nel quotidiano scolastico.

Event Statistik II, Tutorat Gruppe 3
06TT240-007c / Tutorat / 3,534

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Regressionsanalyse ist ein Verfahren für metrische Variablen und die wichtigste Analysetechnik der quantitativen Sozialforschung. Ein Verständnis ihrer Potentiale, Probleme und Anwendungsbezüge ist Voraussetzung zur erfolgreichen Absolvierung eines quantitativ orientierten Soziologiestudiums. Gleichfalls ist sie Schlüssel zur Bewährung in der empirisch geprägten sozialwissenschaftlichen Berufspraxis und Brücke in die Data Sciences. Nach Vorstellung der Grundlagen und Diskussion wichtiger Probleme der Regressionsanalyse (Ausreisser, fehlende Linearität) widmet sich die Vorlesung vertieft (a) der Integration kategorialer Variablen sowie (b) der simultanen Analyse mehrerer unabhängiger Variablen (Multiple Regression). Letzteres dient entweder der Kontrolle von Drittmerkmalen oder der Erhöhung der statistischen Erklärungskraft. Die multiple Regression erfüllt somit wichtig Funktionen bei der kausalen Absicherung von Zusammenhängen sowie der Etablierung statistischer Prognosemodelle.

Notes:
Die Veranstaltungsinhalte bauen auf die Themen der grundlegenden Statistikveranstaltung (Statistik I) auf. Die Absolvierung der beiden Veranstaltungen in der vorgesehenen Reihenfolge ist daher dringend angeraten.

Description:

Business event contents:
Kursinnhold: novellesamlingen til Lars Saabye Christensen - "Haren" (Cappelen Damm, 2025)

- Analyse av novellene i "Haren" av Lars Saabye Christensen, med fokus på innhold, fortellerstil, humor, språk og komposisjon.
- Diskusjon om temaer som aldring, erindring og menneskelig sårbarhet.
- Utforskning av Saabye Christensens rolle i nyere norsk litteratur og hans bruk av Oslo som litterært landskap.
- Sammenligning med andre samtidsforfattere som tematiserer det hverdagslige og eksistensielle.
Kurset er en unik mulighet for å fordype seg i en sentral stemme i moderne norsk litteratur.

Notes:
Forlagets omtale av boken:
Haren er en rik, underholdende, overraskende, morsom og tankevekkende novellesamling fra en av våre fremste forfattere. Her finner du 20 noveller som spenner fra hva som kan skje når du er på tur og møter noen som ikke har kontroll på hunden sin, via glemte og gjemte sanger, til folk som «husket bryllupsdag, men glemte ekteskapet». Innimellomer vi med på livredning, å få ny kollega, en runde kunsthistorie - og flere runder rundt Bislett stadion. Blant annet.

«Da Vigdis og Jarl hadde vært gift i
14 år, begynte han å kjøpe stygge gaver til henne. Han gjorde seg virkelig flid med å finne noe han visste hun ikke ville like. Men det måtte heller ikke være for stygt. Det skulle bare være på kanten. Hun hadde for eksempel aldri likt grønt. Grønt fikk henne til å se ut som et lik, mente hun selv. Det var mye som var grønt. Det kunne imidlertid gjerne være dyrt. Sannsynligvis var dette den beste kombinasjonen: dyrt og stygt. Jarl la gaven på kjøkkenbordet, lagde frokost og gledet seg til å se Vigdis åpne den.»

Når Lars Saabye Christensen for første gang på over ti år kommer med nye noveller, er det et must for alle som er glad i hans forfatterskap, noveller eller begge deler.

Event Living with Algorithms: Media, Narratives, and Social Change in Modern China
06SE280o126a / Seminar / 4,932

Description:

Business event contents:
How do artificial intelligence, mega digital platforms, and algorithmically-curated feeds redefine daily life in China? This seminar moves beyond abstract geopolitical narratives to explore the lived experience and media representations of technological, cultural, and social change.
Using selected case studies-ranging from AI applications and platform economies to expressive cultural trends such as Guochao and Labubu-the course explores how everyday practices reflect the construction of identity through narratives and media engagements, as well as broader transformations in governance, market structures, and social relations. Particular attention is paid to how the discourse of the nation-state remains structurally present yet often indirectly visible in digital and commercial contexts.

Notes:
The seminar is conducted in English (instruction and readings).
Chinese language skills are advantageous but not required. Regular attendance and active participation are expected. The weekly workload consists of approximately 2-3 core texts or equivalent empirical materials.

Course Materials:	Readings will be provided via OLAT and include: Selected academic readings on contemporary China, with a focus on digital discourse, and empirical case analysis. Journalistic narratives and business case studies. Visual texts and primary social media data.

Event RWP Seminar: Qualitative methods for Middle East Studies
01SE61SS119 / Seminar / 2,625

Description:

Business event contents:
Course Description
This course provides an introduction to qualitative research methods, using case studies and examples drawn from the Middle East to illuminate broader methodological concepts. Students will engage with the theoretical foundations of qualitative inquiry, learning to apply its principles across diverse socio-political contexts. Ethical challenges—including those faced in conflict zones and under authoritarian regimes—will be examined. Through hands-on engagement with advanced techniques in qualitative data collection, analysis, and interpretation, students will gain practical skills applicable to a range of complex research environments.

After the theoretical part of the course, five scholars from the Middle East will be invited to share their own methodological approaches, offering unique insights into region-specific research practices. Assigned readings of these scholars' texts will serve as a basis for class discussion and reflection, connecting theory with practice in a rich and immersive learning experience.

By the end of the course, participants will be prepared to design and execute rigorous qualitative studies informed by theoretical perspectives and grounded in real-world challenges.

Course Objectives

Theoretical Foundations: Gain a deep understanding of the epistemological and methodological principles underpinning qualitative research, with a focus on case studies.

Ethical Considerations: Develop strategies to address ethical dilemmas, emphasizing researcher positionality, informed consent, and confidentiality in conflict zones and authoritarian contexts.

Practical Application: Explore practical challenges in conducting research in politically sensitive and religiously charged environments, such as the Middle East.

Methodological Techniques: Apply advanced techniques in qualitative data collection, analysis, and interpretation, integrating diverse approaches.

Course Requirements

Participation (20%): Active engagement in discussions and group work.

Reflective Journals (30%): Analytical depth and critical reflection.

Short Research Project and Presentation (40%): Methodological rigor, originality, and peer feedback.

Guest Lecture Facilitation (10%): Preparation and discussion quality during the sessions with guest scholars.

Event Von der Idee zum Text – ein Schreibseminar
06SEG11o101a / Seminar / 4,694

Description:

Business event contents:
Während des Schreibens einer Dissertation haben wir manchmal eine Idee, die gut klingt und sich auch gut erzählen lässt, die wir aber (zu) lange nicht im Schreiben konkretisieren. Aber wir alle wissen eigentlich, dass sich erst im Schreibprozess herausstellt, wie gut eine Idee funktioniert, ob sie trägt, ob sie genug hergibt, wie sie sich entwickeln lässt - und kennen auch die befreiende Erfahrung, dass sich eine gute Idee beim Schreiben wie von selbst weiterentwickelt.
Das Ziel dieses Seminars ist es, den Weg von einer Idee zu einem Text gemeinsam in einer kleinen Gruppe zu gehen. Alle beginnen damit, eine Idee für ein Kapitel, einen Aufsatz oder einen Antrag genauer zu formulieren. Diese diskutieren wir dann gemeinsam und erstellen aufbauend darauf einen konkreten Plan für die Umsetzung der Idee in einen Text. Der Schreibprozess - der Fortschritte, aber auch manchmal eine Rückkehr zum Anfang beinhalten wird - wird begleitet durch kurze wöchentliche Treffen online, durch individuelle Besprechungen während des Semesters, und durch vier längere Treffen im Semester, bei denen wir Ideen und Texte gemeinsam diskutieren.
Das Seminar ist für alle geeignet, die etwas Unterstützung und Struktur beim Umsetzen einer Idee in einen Text brauchen können, und die sich verpflichten möchten, eine erste Version eines Textes im Laufe des Herbstsemesters bis Ende Januar zu schreiben. Besonders geeignet ist der Kurs für Doktorierende ab dem zweiten Jahr.

Event Evolution of Human Life History
07VLBIO215 / Course / 4,731

Description:

Business event contents:
This course examines the evolution of human development and reproduction through the lens of life history theory. We will begin by outlining the key components of mammalian and primate life histories and identifying the distinctive features of the human pattern, including prolonged childhood, delayed reproduction, and extended lifespan. A central focus of the course will be on hominin fossil evidence: for each major hominin species, we will explore what is currently known about its life history profile and integrate this with archaeological and morphological evidence related to diet, behavior, and ecology. Special attention will ge given to the role of cooperative breeding in shaping the human life history strategy and its deep connections to the evolution of our uniquely social cognition and complex cooperative behavior.

Event Ubique res publica, ubique vita. Nordafrika in der römischen Kaiserzeit
06SE682-012a / Seminar / 3,133

Description:

Business event contents:
Nach der Zerstörung Karthagos 146 v. Chr. wird der nordafrikanische Raum nicht nur zur Kornkammer des Imperium Romanum, sondern auch zum Schmelztigel zwischen 'Romanisierung' und 'local cultures': In Folge römischer Städtegründungen, munizipalen Statuserhebungen oder grosszügigen Landallokationen kommt es in der frühen Kaiserzeit zu einem markanten wirtschaftlichen Aufschwung der Region. Neu etablierte Eliten suchen sich in gegenseitigem Konkurrenzkampf im repräsentativen Ausbau urbaner Zentren oder der Konsolidierung landwirtschaftlicher oder merkantiler Umschlagplätze zu übertrumpfen. Im Laufe der Kaiserzeit konstituieren oder transformieren sich somit mächtige urbane Ballungszentren wie Leptis Magna oder Timgad, deren reiche materielle Hinterlassenschaften die dortigen prosperierenden städtischen Kulturen bis heute bezeugen.

Mit ihrem Wohlstand, ihrer bemerkenswert dichten Besiedlung und ihren diversen Repräsentationsformen in Bild und Bau stellt der nordafrikanische Siedlungsgürtel einen idealen Untersuchungsfall für das Spannungsverhältnis zwischen selbstbewussten Zentren und geographischer Peripherie im Römischen Reich der Kaiserzeit dar. Im Seminar werden wir uns anhand folgender strukturierenden Leitfragen eine befundorientierte, gattungsübergreifende Perspektive auf die materiellen Kulturen der Africa Romana erarbeiten: Wie drückt sich die zunächst neue, später etablierte und letztlich schwindenden Präsenz Roms in der materiellen Kultur der Region aus? Welche Aussagepotenziale ergeben sich daraus für Kaiser, lokale Eliten und Bevölkerung, insbesondere hinsichtlich deren politischer, administrativer und kulturellen Fern- und Nahbeziehungen und Netzwerken? Welche konkrete Rolle spielen dabei Kategorien wie Urbanität, Monumentalität und Repräsentation? Wie gestaltet sich individueller, oder privater Luxus, etwa in Villen oder Domus? Wie «funktioniert» die prachtvolle Ausgestaltung und Einrichtung öffentlicher Platzanlagen, sakraler Landschaften oder urbaner bzw. extraurbaner Infrastruktur, beispielsweise für die Herstellung und Kommunikation von politischem Einfluss oder kultischem Handeln?

Interessierte Studierende sollten einen semesterbegleitenden Beginn ihrer Seminararbeit für eine Peer-Feedbackschleife in ihrer Semesterplanung berücksichtigen. Unabdingbar ist zudem die Bereitschaft zur regelmässigen und intensiven Lektüre der bereitgestellten Sekundärliteratur

Event Bilder aus Ton: Dekortechniken in der griechischen Keramik
06VL682o001a / Course / 469

Description:

Business event contents:
Bemalte Keramikgefässe zählen zu den bekanntesten Relikten aus der griechischen Antike und wurden in vielfachen Kontexten verwendet. Ihre Bilder sind Ergebnis einer komplexen technischen Innovation, die es möglich machte, in einem speziellen Brennverfahren mittels der sogenannten Glanztontechnik zweifarbige, haltbare Bilder aus Ton zu erzeugen - eine Technik, die bis ins 20. Jahrhundert hinein vergessen war.
Mithilfe verschiedenster Experimente und enormem Knowhow gelang es den antiken Handwerkern, die Glanztontechnik zu bereichern. Sie erzeugten spezielle (Farb-)Effekte des Tons, nutzen Zusatzfarben vor und nach dem Brand, verwendeten spezifisches Werkzeug, um Formen einzuritzen, zu malen, plastisch aufzutragen etc. Daraus entstanden vielfältige Dekortechniken, die in der Vorlesung an konkreten Beispielen und Materialgattungen von der geometrischen Zeit bis in den Hellenismus betrachtet werden. In der Vorlesung wird ebenfalls die Verbreitung spezifischer Dekortechniken und ihrer Adaptionen im Mittelmeerraum thematisiert.

Event Alexander der Grosse
06UE682o002a / Exercise Group / 248

Description:

Business event contents:
Anhand von grösseren und kleineren Textausschnitten werden die sagenumrankte Person und die Taten Alexanders beleuchtet, der in wenigen Jahren ein Weltreich eroberte, die Stadt Alexandria in Ägypten - neben vielen anderen - gründete und bereits im Alter von 33 Jahren verstarb.

Je nach Vorliebe der Teilnehmenden können griechische (u.a. Flavius Arrianos, Plutarch) oder lateinische Texte (u.a. Curtius Rufus, Itinerarium Alexandri) gewählt werden.

Event Einführung in die Textanalyse
06SE360-201a / Seminar / 801

Description:

Business event contents:
Im Seminar werden die im Herbstsemester erworbenen Kenntnisse der Textanalyse um eine Einführung in Terminologie, Methoden und Fragestellungen der Erzähltheorie erweitert. Das theoretisch erworbene Wissen wird systematisch anhand von Texten aus der skandinavischen Literaturgeschichte erprobt, die vom frühen 19. Jahrhundert bis in die Gegenwart reichen. Die Studierenden trainieren den literaturwissenschaftlichen Umgang mit Erzähltexten und vertiefen ihr Wissen über moderne skandinavische Klassiker der Gattung, lernen aber auch Texte kennen, die (noch) nicht zum Kanon zählen.

Course Materials:	Primär- und Sekundärliteratur des Kurses wird über OLAT zur Verfügung gestellt. Zur Anschaffung empfohlen: Martínez, Matías und Michael Scheffel: Einführung in die Erzähltheorie. München: Beck 2020.

Event Einführung in die skandinavische Literaturgeschichte
06VL360-201a / Course / 812

Description:

Business event contents:
Skandinavien wird von der Touristikindustrie in der Regel als wilder Naturraum vermarktet, dessen Wald-, Küsten-, See-, Vulkan- und Insel-Landschaften durch aufsehenerregende Fotografien beworben werden. Dabei gibt es in Skandinavien auch eine faszinierende Kulturgeschichte zu entdecken, die in der Vorlesung durch die exemplarische Auseinandersetzung mit einzelnen Prosatexten, Dramen, Gedichten und Filmen aus Dänemark, den Färöern, Finnland, Island, Norwegen und Schweden erschlossen werden soll. Die Überblicksdarstellung wird in Einzelfällen durch Bezüge zur skandinavischen Geschichte sowie zur skandinavischen Architektur-, Kunst- und Musikgeschichte flankiert. Insgesamt soll die Vorlesung einen ersten fundierten Einblick in die Vielfalt der skandinavischen Kulturen und Literaturen geben.
Auch die Landschaften sollen dabei nicht zu kurz kommen.

Event Infrastrukturen der Moderne
06VL640o005a / Course / 1,554

Description:

Business event contents:
Ab den 1950er Jahren entstand (nahezu weltweit) eine neue Form von Kulturpolitik, die sich zugleich in die politischen Entwicklungen des kalten Krieges zwischen Ost und West einschreibt. Hierzu gehören internationale Vereinigungen wie der internationale Kunstkritikerverband (AICA), der Museumsverband ICOM und andere transnationale Kulturbündnisse. Dass die globalen Kunstbeziehungen nach dem zweiten Weltkrieg eine Dimension erhielten, war unter anderem auch neuen Infrastrukturen geschuldet: nicht nur die Reisemöglichkeiten und Foren des politischen und kulturellen Austausches veränderten sich, sondern auch die transatlantischen Bündnisse und Formen der Kunstförderung. Kultur als diplomatisches Mittel wurde zu einem Schlüssel der Völkerverständigung und zugleich Teil ideologischer Propaganda in Ost und West, Nord und Süd. Hierzu gehörten eine Serie von internationalen Konferenzen die z.B. von der UN gefördert wurden und an denen auch zahlreiche Vertreter:innen aus dem 'gobalen Süden' partizipierten. Wanderausstellungen, die auf nationaler Ebene konzipiert und als "Fenster" in die Welt verstanden wurden, prägten ganze Generationen. In den Dekolonisierungsbewegungen wurde Kunst zu einem Faktor der nationalen Neudefinition und damit vervielfältigten sich die auch Austauschstrukturen der Modernen Kunst. Die Strukturen kultureller Förderung wie zum Beispiel die ProHelvetia oder das Deutsche Institut für Auslandsangelegenheiten (die teils in die Vorkriegszeit zurückreichen) entwickeln als Kulturinstitutionen nach 1950 neue Wirksamkeit. Die Vorlesung untersucht, welche Netzwerke sich globalisierten und welche lokalen Perspektiven entwickelt wurden. Material und Normierung werden weitere Themen sein, bei denen Künstler:innen auf Infrastrukturen reagieren. Infrastrukturen werden vor dem Hintergrund neuerer Theorie als kulturelle Aktivität in Netzwerken vorgestellt, die von zahlreichen personellen Allianzen und Beziehungen aufrechterhalten und weiterentwickelt werden.
Infrastrukturen und Austauschstrukturen stellen einen der wichtigsten Aspekte für die Analyse der Nachkriegsmoderne dar.

Event Research Colloquium in East Asian Art History
06KO642-510a / Colloquium / 3,471

Description:

Business event contents:
Research Colloquium in East Asian Art History offers a platform for MA students, doctoral candidates and postdoctoral researchers to develop their individual research projects. Participants will engage in the process of formulating research questions, identifying pertinent research materials and methodologies, and exploring relevant theoretical frameworks. They will have the opportunity to present their works in progress and receive feedback from their peers. Additionally, the colloquium will facilitate discussions on secondary sources relevant to both individual research projects and the broader field of East Asian Art History.

Event Politgirls. Von Antigone bis Greta Thunberg in Literatur und Film
06SE360-517a / Seminar / 2,315

Description:

Business event contents:
In der Schweizer Presse sind die Mädchen auf dem Vormarsch: fleissiger, zielstrebiger, engagierter, sozialer, so liest man. Und doch werden Mädchen in heutigen und historischen Gesellschaften weltweit auf vielfältige Weise missachtet, misshandelt, missbraucht und missverstanden. Der Grund dafür: der fehlende theoretische Rahmen, der ein umfassendes Verständnis junger weiblicher Individuen im Alter von
10 bis
20 Jahren ermöglicht. Das Seminar verfolgt deshalb ein doppeltes Ziel: Ausgehend von den geopferten Töchtern in griechischen Tragödien, in denen die Spannungen zwischen den biologischen, psychologischen, kulturellen, sozialen, politischen, ökologischen und ästhetischen Dimensionen von «Girlhood» ausgestellt werden, behandeln wir Mädchenwie Antigone, Elektra, Penthesilea, Kleopatra, Jeanne d'Arc, Sophie Scholl oder Greta Thunberg in Literatur und audiovisuellen (und sozialen) Medien, z.B. @politigirls. Wir wollen aber auch gemeinsam schauen, welche Theorien dabei helfen, Mädchen in der Wissensordnung zu verankern - und zwar nicht negativ: «keine» Frauen (Gender Studies), «keine»Jungen (Psychoanalyse), sondern eben positiv.

Event Blick in der Interaktion
06UE360o001a / Exercise Group / 500

Description:

Business event contents:
Der Blick spielt in menschlicher Interaktion eine ganz entscheidende Rolle. In diesem Seminar beschäftigen wir uns mit den vielfältigen Funktionen, die der Blick im Interaktionsverlauf übernimmt. Nach einer allgemeinen theoretischen Einführung in die gesprächsanalytische und die psycholinguistische Blickforschung, die einen Überblick über die wichtigsten Erkenntnisse der Forschung und die unterschiedlichen Methoden der Blickerfassung -analyse gibt, werden wir Arbeitsgruppen bilden und selbst Interaktionsdaten mit aufnehmen. Dazu werden wir mobile Eyetrackingbrillen verwenden. Diese Daten sollen dann in den Arbeitsgruppen bezüglich einer blickspezifischen Fragestellung analysiert und die Ergebnisse dieser Analyse im Seminar vorgestellt werden.
Mögliche Fragestellung betreffen
u.a. die Rolle des Blicks bei der Regulierung des Sprecherwechsels, bei der Rezipientenmobilisierung, der Aufmerksamkeitselizitierung, der Koordinierung von joint attention u.v.m.

Event Frühneuhochdeutsch: von newen zeyttungen und wahrhafftigen wunderzeichen
06UE360o004a / Exercise Group / 1,162

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Modul «Frühneuhochdeutsch: von newen zeyttungen und wahrhafftigen wunderzeichen» bietet einen umfassenden Überblick über diese Epoche des Deutschen, die von
1350 bis
1650 angesetzt wird. Texte aus dieser Periode sind im Verhältnis zu älteren Texten zwar relativ gut zu verstehen, zeigen aber deutliche Abweichungen im Erscheinungsbild, in Wortformen und im Satzbau. Dieses Spannungsfeld zwischen Verständlichkeit und Abweichungen werden wir im Seminar erforschen. Der Fokus des Moduls liegt auf einem selbständigen, empirischen und übenden Zugang. Um diese Ziele zu erfüllen, werden wir nach einer allgemeinen Einführung, einen Besuch in der Handschriftenabteilung der Zentralbibliothek Zürich absolvieren. Jede Studentin/jeder Student wird ein Flugblatt aus der Sammlung «Wickiana» auswählen, an welchem sie/er während des Semestersdie verschiedenen sprachlichen Ebenen untersuchen wird. Die Ergebnisse der Analyse werden in einer Arbeit zusammengefasst. Im Vordergrund steht somit die Vermittlung von Methoden und grundlegenden Kenntnissen im Auswerten und Beurteilen von historischen Texten.

Course Materials:	Die Seminarlektüre wird in der ersten Sitzung bekannt gegeben. Vorbereitend kann man sich über die Sammlung "Wickiana" auf folgender Seite informieren: https://www.zb.uzh.ch/de/news/wickiana.

Event Einführung in Wirtschaftssoziologie
06SE240-509a / Seminar / 3,489

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Verhältnis von Wirtschaft und Gesellschaft und damit auch das disziplinäre Verhältnis von Soziologie und Wirtschaftswissenschaften beschäftigt die Soziologie seit ihren Anfängen. In diesem Seminar sollen klassische Diskussionen über die Entstehung des Kapitalismus und seine Folgewirkungen, theoretische Diskussionen über die soziale Einbettung der Ökonomie und die neuere Beschäftigung mit dem Kapitalismus in der Gegenwart diskutiert werden.

Event Diseases at the human animal interface
07VUBME357 / Block Course / 703

Description:

Business event contents:
Approximately 70% of infectious diseases in humans ultimately have an animal source. Zoonoses are infectious diseases that transmit from animals to humans. These include Salmonella, influenza viruses and rabies amongst others. Newly emerging infectious diseases are of concern for potential pandemics and widespread human mortality, such as the pandemic of influenza in 1918-1920 which killed between 50 and 100 million people. The reservoir for Ebola virus is believed to be bats. HIV infection also crossed the species barrier, probably transmitted from chimpanzees to humans, via bush meat, in central Africa sometime around 1920. However HIV / AIDS was only recognized as a human infection in the 1980s. It is estimated that 60% of newly emerging infectious diseases are of animal origin. Also the costs of zoonoses may be enormous. This course will explore the reasons why infectious diseases emerge from animals and look at the consequences in terms of burden of disease and how the threats can be ameliorated.

Event Forschungsfragen, Quellen, Methoden: Dekolonisierung und Ungleichheit
06SE307-600a / Seminar / 1,062

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Seminar führt in aktuelle Forschungsdebatten zur Geschichte der Dekolonisierung der arabischsprachigen Region ein. Auf der Grundlage gemeinsam gelesener und diskutierter neuerer Forschungsbeiträge zu unterschiedlichen Formen und Dimensionen von Ungleichheit erarbeiten die Teilnehmenden im Verlauf des Seminars einen Forschungsplan zu einem selbst gewählten Unterthema. Dabei geht es neben inhaltlichen Fragestellungen auch um die Auseinandersetzung mit möglichen Quellen sowie die Reflexion methodischer Zugänge.

Event Linda Martín Alcoff: Rape and Resistance
06SE245o625a / Seminar / 1,864

Description:

Business event contents:
Das 2018 erschienene Buch "Rape and Resistance" der US-amerikanischen Philosophin Linda Martín Alcoff behandelt grundsätzliche (erkenntnis-)theoretische und normative Fragen, die sich im Kampf gegen sexuelle Gewalt stellen: Wie können Überlebende von sexueller Gewalt über ihre Erfahrungen sprechen und wie lässt sich ihr Wissen konzeptionalisieren? Welches Gewicht sollen Normen im Umgang mit Sexualität haben? Ist es möglich, dass sexuelle Normen angerufen werden, ohne Minderheiten zu diskriminieren oder rassistische und koloniale Perspektiven zu reproduzieren? Wie können in der Gesellschaft Bedingungen geschaffen werden, damit die Stimmen der Überlebenden von sexueller Gewalt gehört und fair behandelt werden? Und wie lässt sich das Bewusstsein für intersektionale Dimensionen im Umgang mit sexueller Gewalt schärfen?
Im Seminar lesen und diskutieren wir Alcoffs Buch im Licht der genannten Fragen und ordnen ein, wie sich ihr Beitrag u.a. zu den normenkritischen Ansätzen von Michel Foucault, Gayle Rubin und Judith Butler verhält.

Notes:
Im Rahmen des Workloads erbringen die Studierenden zusätzlich zum mündlichen Input und zur schriftlichen Arbeit Reflexionsprotokolle, die in der Vorlesungszeit anfallen.

Event Disaster Literature in Ancient China
06SE280o515a / Seminar / 3,964

Description:

Business event contents:
Floods, famines, droughts, earthquakes - already the oracle bone inscriptions of the 13th century BC are riddled with references to natural disasters and the various attempts to predict and contain them. The oldest literary narratives in Chinese historiography provide a wealth of images of natural and man-made disasters, which political philosophers immediately incorporate into their questions and arguments. How can a state protect its citizens from the vagaries of nature, and what ethical principles are violated when it fails to do so? What is the relationship between personal, family, and social catastrophes? What forms of violence are legitimate in response? Who is responsible for the appearance of monsters, ghosts, and strange omens associated with disasters? And, perhaps most importantly, how can the disaster of permanent war be prevented? Using selected literary sources ranging from archaic inscriptions to the early Middle Ages, discursive treatments of the topic in ancient philosophy, and modern secondary literature on the environmental and climate history of ancient China, the course ultimately draws parallels to more recent theories of social crisis and collapse.

Notes:
Students should be prepared to give a presentation (approx. 30 min.) and lead the subsequent discussion in class. Lessons will be held in English, unless ALL participants prefer German.

Event Japanische Philologie: Grundlagen
06UE290-021a / Exercise Group / 1,665

Description:

Business event contents:
Wissenschaftlich gesicherte Kenntnis über Japan erfordert das Studium von Texten: Nachschlagewerke, Originalquellen, Übersetzungen, Forschungsliteratur. Der Kurs vermittelt Grundlagen text-bezogenen Arbeitens sowie Kenntnisse über wichtige Hilfsmittel in der Japanologie, gedruckt wie digital. Wir üben das genaue Lesen, die Analyse von Quellen und die Bewertung wissenschaftlicher Literatur. Die Kenntnisse und Fähigkeiten, die damit erworben werden, sind nicht nur für das Studium der Japanologie (egal ob kultur- oder sozialwissenschaftlich) nützlich; sie helfen allgemein, sich Zugang zu Informationen zu verschaffen und diese zu bewerten.

Notes:
Die Veranstaltungen bestehen aus einem Vorlesungs- und einem Übungsteil. Die regelmässige Teilnahme vor Ort hilft nachweislich beim erfolgreichen Bestehen des Moduls.

Event Grundlagen der japanischen Geistesgeschichte
06VU290-114a / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 1,436

Description:

Business event contents:
Dieser Kurs bietet einen Überblick über die japanische Geistesgeschichte von ihren Anfängen bis in die Gegenwart. Anhand ausgewählter Textpassagen in Übersetzung lernen wir die Hauptströmungen Buddhismus, Konfuzianismus und Shintoismus kennen und betrachten auch den ästhetischen Diskurs sowie Denker ausserhalb der grossen Traditionen. Für die Gegenwart untersuchen wir nationalistische, marxistische und feministische Positionen und reflektieren über Konzepte der Moderne in der japanischen Geistesgeschichte.

Event Women’s movement in Japan
06SE290-124a / Seminar / 3,269

Description:

Business event contents:
The seminar will explore the emergence, development, activities and achievements of several women's movements in Japan from the postwar period to present day. We will discuss among other things feminist movements in Japan, conservative women's groups, minority women's activism, queer women's organisations and so on. What issues have these women addressed? What changes have they contributed to bring about in Japanese society? Exploring the diversity of women's movement in Japan, students will have a chance to choose a topic they want to delve into for their presentation and seminar paper

Description:

Business event contents:
The end of colonial rule in 1947 resulted in the traumatic and violent partition of British India into separate nation-states-India and Pakistan-with Bangladesh emerging later in 1971 after a brutal war of independence. These partitions, carried out explicitly along religious lines, left deep and enduring scars across the subcontinent. Millions were displaced, hundreds of thousands were killed, and communities that had lived together for centuries were torn apart. One lasting legacy of these upheavals has been the creation of permanent religious minorities, many of whom continue to experience systemic oppression and exclusion within the nation-states that emerged from partition.

This course explores how South Asian states have managed religious diversity in the wake of partition and independence. It focuses on the nation-state as a political form that seeks to forge a national identity in the name of a singular people, and examines how this has unfolded in India, Pakistan, and Bangladesh through often intolerant expressions of religious majoritarianism. We will analyze how these developments have shaped policies, institutions, and everyday experiences of citizenship, including for marginalised religious minorities, across South Asia.

Event Agroecology, Food Security & Sustainable Production
07VLEEE357 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 4,076

Description:

Business event contents:
Sustainable food production is essential four our daily life as we rely on the food we eat. At the same time, agricultural production has a big impact on the environment and, currently, there is much debate on various topics that are directly and indirectly linked to agriculture (e.g. pesticides, GMO's, climate change, biodiversity loss, food security). This course provides an overview of a wide range of themes related to agroecology and food security. We will discuss various options for sustainable food production, including organic and conventional agriculture, the use of biologicals to boost agricultural production, crop diversification and various biotechnological approaches (e.g. genetically modified crops, genome editing) that can make crops resistant to pests, various stresses, and climate change. Moreover, we will discuss the impact of agriculture on the environment covering themes such as biodiversity, climate change, and the use of pesticides and fertilisers. In addition, we will evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of different productions systems and discuss alternative practices such as agroforestry, regenerative agriculture, and conservation agriculture. There will be an excursion to an organic farm and we will visit various field experiments at Agroscope, the Swiss centre of excellence for agricultural research.

Event BS: History of ancient Israel
01VL14LB001 / Course / 370

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Vorlesung führt in die Geschichte Israels und ihrer Quellen ein. Entscheidende Diskurse des historischen Rahmens der hebräischen Bibel im alten Israel vom 2. vorchristlichen Jahrtausend bis in das 2. nachchristliche Jahrhundert sowie ihre wissenschaftliche Erforschung und Diskussion werden vor dem Hintergrund der Geschichte des Nahen und Mittleren Ostens sowie des weiteren östlichen Mittelmeerraums in der Antike in den Blick genommen.

Notes:
Zusätzlich zur grundlegenden Literatur, die eine Orientierung und Rahmung der Vorlesung im Ganzen leistet, wird für die einzelnen Sitzungen relevante Sekundärliteratur in deutscher und englischer Sprache zur Verfügung gestellt. Antike Textzeugnisse in den Originalsprachen (Hebräisch, Griechisch, etc.) werden durchgängig mit Übersetzungen ergänzt, altsprachliche Kenntnisse werden nicht vorausgesetzt. Die begleitende Lektüre biblischer Texte sowie relevanter Sekundärliteratur ist für die erfolgreiche Teilnahme an der Veranstaltung erforderlich.

Event KG: Vorlesung Antikes Christentum
01VL22LB001 / Course / 1,693

Description:

Business event contents:
Wie hat alles angefangen? Wer waren die ersten Christen? Wie und wo lebten sie? Welche Fragen stellten sie? Wie stellt sich das Christentum als Teil einer antiken Stadt neben anderen traditionellen Religionen dar? Welche antiken Überzeugungen leben im Christentum fort? Die Vorlesung wird einen Überblick über fünf Jahrhunderte geben und in die Literatur des antiken Christentums einführen. Wir beginnen im 2.
Jahrhundert, einer Blütezeit des römischen Reiches und einer Zeit, in der wir auf sehr verschiedene Formen des Christentums treffen. Es wird um Fragen nach Verfolgung und Martyrien, nach christlichem Leben und Mönchtum, aber auch nach der Entstehung kirchlicher Strukturen, nach dem Leben in Städten wie Alexandrien und Konstantinopel, nach wissenschaftlicher Theologie in der Antike und nach Personen wie Origenes gehen. Wir werden schliesslich über die Zeit des 4. und 5.
Jahrhundert, in denen man auf Synoden versuchte, die christliche Identität zu definieren und Fragen der Trinitätslehre abschliessend zu behandeln, die seither das christliche Selbstverständnis prägen.

Event CH Seminar: Switzerland on the path to a federal state: church political development from 1798 - 1848 in Switzerland
01SE22SS046 / Seminar / 1,691

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Wirren, die zur Gründung des schweizerischen Bundesstaates führten, waren in erster Linie politischer Natur, doch verbargen sich hinter den politischen Streitigkeiten wichtige kirchenpolitische Auseinandersetzungen. Natürlich wäre es falsch zu behaupten, der Sonderbundskrieg von 1847 wäre ein Religionskrieg gewesen, doch seine eigentliche Brisanz erhielt der Konflikt ab dem Moment, wo religiöse Identitäten in Gefahr zu geraten schienen (Klosteraufhebungen im Aargau, die Jesuitenberufung in Luzern, die Freischarenzüge 1844 und 1845, sowie die Gründung des Sonderbundes). Das Seminar richtet den Fokus auf die kirchenpolitischen Fragestellungen innerhalb der Entwicklung der Schweiz vom Staatenbund zum Bundesstaat und fragt sich, welche Rolle religiöse Überzeugungen zur politischen Manifestierung der Schweizerischen Eidgenossenschaft gespielt haben.
Der in den Fokus gefasste Zeitraum beträgt die Jahre von 1803 bis 1848.

Event ST Lecture Dogmatics: Theologie of Heaven
01VL23SV021 / Course / 2,778

Description:

Business event contents:
In den biblischen Überlieferungen nimmt der Himmel eine zentrale Bedeutung ein. Er ist u.a. "Wohnort" Gottes, der Engel und der Seligen. Der Himmel gehört zu den kultur- und frömmigkeitsgeschichtlichen Kernsymbolen des Christentums (wie auch anderer Religionen). Mit dem Aufkommen der Naturwissenschaften in der Neuzeit wurde der Himmel zum unermesslichen Universum entgrenzt und gleichsam religiös entleert - auch wenn in Populärkulturen vielfältige (und manchmal auch problematische) Restbestände davon übrig geblieben sind. In der Moderne wurde der Himmel dann auch Gegenstand scharfer Religionskritik. Es fragt sich darum: Wie soll die Theologie heute vom Himmel reden - und zwar nicht nur vom heaven, sondern auch vom sky? - Die Vorlesung möchte dieser Frage nachdenken.

Notes:
Die Lehrveranstaltung besteht aus einer Mischung von Vorlesung und Seminar. Sie setzt die Bereitschaft zur vorbereitenden Lektüre von Texten voraus.

Event PT Lecture Liturgics: Dimensions of worship – an orientation
01VL24SV024 / Course / 2,228

Description:

Business event contents:
Was macht den Gottesdienst aus? Was gehört dazu und warum? Und wie hängen die verschiedenen liturgischen Sequenzen im Rahmen eines Gottesdienstes zusammen? Ausgehend von den sakramentalen Brennpunkten liturgischer Praxis (Wortverkündigung, Abendmahl, Taufe) wird in der Vorlesung die «Architektur» des Gottesdienstes nach evangelisch-reformiertem Verständnis erörtert. Dies geschieht unter Berücksichtigung der geschichtlichen Entwicklungen in den Westkirchen sowie mit Blick auf systematische und materialliturgische Fragestellungen. Die Reflexion auf die liturgische Praxis in ihrer Gesamtheit und in jedem ihrer Teile soll zudem in allgemeine theologische Überlegungen zur «Natur» liturgischen Handelns eingebettet werden.

Notes:
Es ist eine zweitägige Studienreise zum Berneuchener Haus Kloster Kirchberg (Horb am Neckar, D: BW) in Planung (Kostenbeteiligung Studierende: ca. 30.- CHF pro Person). Dieser wäre regulärer Bestandteil der Vorlesung und würde vom 08.05. (Freitag) bis zum 10.05.2026 (Sonntag) stattfinden. Entsprechend würden die Termine 05.05., 19.05. und 26.05. entfallen (letzte Vorlesung: 12.05.). Studierende, die das Modul buchen und an der Studienreise nicht teilnehmen können, vereinbaren mit dem Dozenten eine Ersatzleistung.

Course Materials:	Alle Unterrichtsmaterialien (liturgische Texte, Literatur) sind auf OLAT zu finden.

Event RWP Lecture: Landscape fantasies - nature as a political-religious projection
01VL61SV004 / Course / 2,626

Description:

Business event contents:
Landschaft wird je nach Standort als schön, hässlich, bedroht, faszinierend oder ursprünglich wahrgenommen. Diese Wahrnehmungen beruhen auf einer Kulturgeschichte der Natur, denn Menschen schreiben ihre Kultur in die Landschaft ein. Einige menschliche Ordnungssysteme sind gut sichtbar in der Landschaft zu erkennen wie etwa die massentouristischen Infrastrukturen. Andere wie prähistorische Kalender oder ‘Kraftorte’ setzen ein bestimmtes Wissen voraus und benötigen eine Anleitung. Die Vorlesung setzt sich das Ziel, die neuzeitlich-moderne Landschafts- und Naturwahrnehmung sowie ihre politisch-religiöse Geschichte anhand verschiedener Topoi nachzuzeichnen. Darunter fallen: Landschaft als Gemälde, als ästhetische, literarische und/oder als politische Inszenierung, als Gegensatzkonstruktionen (Stadt vs Land, Natur vs Kultur, wild vs bezähmt, exotisch vs normal, schrecklich vs erhaben), als Orte des Erhabenen, als Wüsten, Inseln und Berge. Dass das Religiöse mit Ökologie und Landschaft vielfältig verbunden ist, wird dabei immer wieder aus unterschiedlichen Perspektiven beleuchtet.
Einzelne Sitzungen werden durch Gäste bestritten (u.a. Prof. Dr. Boris Previšić, Institut Kulturen der Alpen zum Mythos der "intakten Natur") oder als Spaziergang in der Zürcher Umgebung durchgeführt.

Event RWP Seminar: Der Warenkorb als Glaubenswelt. Kritische Analogien zwischen Religion und Wirtschaft
01SE61SS118 / Seminar / 2,623

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Waren, die wir konsumieren (oder gerne konsumieren würden), sind mit Bedeutung aufgeladen: Verheißung, Prestige, Erwartung. Im Seminar untersuchen wir, ob sich aus diesen Aufladungen Analogien zur Religion ableiten lassen. Werden ökonomische Institutionen zu religiösen Verbänden, die Sinn und Orientierung versprechen? Ein kritischer Blick auf die Motive und Konsequenzen, die sich aus der Verbindung von Religion und Wirtschaft ergeben, begleitet uns.

Das Seminar erschließt das Themenfeld anhand von Fallstudien aus zwei ökonomischen Sphären: Markt und Kapitalismus in systemischer Perspektive, Ernährung in praxeologischer Perspektive.
Zur Analyse von Markt und Kapitalismus betrachten wir die „invisible hand“ des Marktes (Smith), den Kapitalismus als Religion (Benjamin) und die „unterirdischen Gewalten“ (Marx), die dem Wirtschaftssystem eingeschrieben sind. Die Ernährung untersuchen wir als alltäglich erfahrbaren Tummelplatz für Glaubenssätze und ideologische Abgrenzungen. Apokalyptische Erzählungen rund um den Fleischkonsum und die scharfe Rhetorik, mit der sich beide Seiten moralisch auf der richtigen Seite verorten, stehen im Fokus.

Die ökonomische Perspektive ermöglicht für beide Ebenen eine Analyse sowohl aus Sicht der Anbieter als auch der Nachfrager.

Anhand der Fallstudien wenden wir uns im dritten Teil dem Methoden-Workshopping zu. Mit einem informierten Blick auf die diskutierten Cases entwickeln wir geeignete methodische Zugänge, um konkrete interdisziplinäre Fragestellungen daraus abzuleiten und abzubilden.

Event Creative Writing
06KO440o010a / Colloquium / 4,274

Description:

Business event contents:
In the field of language learning, creative writing has long been advocated as a valuable exercise due to its "playful but rigorous work with language" and its ability to create "greater precision in expression" (British Council). It has also been shown to be an important emotional outlet and leads to greater self-awareness, self-confidence and improved mental health. In keeping with these notions, this supplement course allows students to discover the merits of creative writing for themselves. Using a variety of prompts, students will compose their own poetry, prose and drama and will engage critically with their own work and with that of others. Special emphasis will be placed on responding to writing prompts, as well as on the creative process, editing and rewriting. A selection of the students' output will be collected and performed at an end-of-semester reading. Students will first read and discuss a selection of shorter text types (e.g. poetry, flash fiction, ten-minute plays), before emulating those by producing their own work.

Event The World’s Largest Vote: Understanding Indian Elections
06SE615-005b / Seminar / 4,748

Description:

Business event contents:
Every five years, nearly a billion people in India cast their votes, often after waiting for hours in the heat or walking miles to polling booths. What drives this extraordinary political participation? Why do the poor vote in greater numbers than the rich? How do political parties mobilise religion, caste and welfare to win power - and what does that tell us about democracy itself?

This seminar explores the logic - and the occasional illogic - of Indian democracy. It takes theories of rational choice and public choice as a starting point to understand voter behaviour, party strategy and institutional design, and then tests those theories against India's social realities. We ask: how do individual incentives, collective identities, and moral ideas of fairness intersect in the practice of politics?

Through a mix of academic readings, interactive simulations, films, and real electoral data, students will experience how political science theories meet lived democracy. They will analyse how parties build coalitions, why voters turn out despite minimal instrumental gain and how democracy functions in contexts of deep inequality. India's democracy becomes both a case and a mirror that challenges assumptions about rationality, representation, and the future of democratic politics.

By the end of the course, students will not only understand the mechanics of Indian elections but also rethink what makes citizens participate, cooperate and believe in democracy.

Course Materials:	Reading materials will be communicated in the syllabus.

Event Financial Engineering (L+E)
03VU22MO0142 / Course / 1,041

Description:

Business event contents:
This lecture is intended for students who would like to learn more on equity derivatives modelling and pricing. After introducing fundamental concepts of mathematical finance including no-arbitrage, portfolio replication and risk-neutral measure, we will present the main models that can be used for pricing and hedging European options e.g. Black- Scholes model, stochastic and jump-diffusion models, and highlight their assumptions and limitations. We will cover several types of derivatives such as European and American options, Barrier options and Variance-Swaps. Basic knowledge in probability theory and stochastic calculus is required. Besides attending class, we strongly encourage students to stay informed on financial matters, especially by reading daily financial newspapers such as the Financial Times or the Wall Street Journal.

Event NT Seminar: Miracle Stories in the New Testament
01SE15SS044 / Seminar / 2,156

Description:

Business event contents:
"Wenn es um die Wunder der Evangelien geht, sollte es nicht unser erstes Anliegen sein, sie zu verteidigen, sondern sie zu verstehen. Wenn wir das gelernt haben, stellen wir auf einmal fest, dass sie sich selbst verteidigen" (F. F. Bruce)
Wunderezählungen machen einen wesentlichen Anteil der Jesusüberlieferung in den vier Evangelien aus. Diese überliefern 35 Wunder Jesu und berichten in 15 weiteren Texten von seiner Wundertätigkeit. In diesem Seminar werden wir die Erzählungen über die Heilungen, Exorzismen, Natur-, Auferweckungs- und Epiphaniewunder Jesu und auch über die Wunder seiner Apostel miteinander betrachten. Auf dem Hintergrund des Alten Testaments und des jüdischen Kontextes werden wir diese Wunder zu verstehen suchen als Zeichen des messianischen Zeitalters, in denen sich das Reich Gottes ereignet (vgl. Lk 11,20; Mt 12,28). Dabei werden neben den theologischen Implikationen am Rande auch historische, philosophische und naturwissenschaftliche Fragen bedacht.

Event Vorlesung: Öko-Islam. Praxis und Reflexion zu einer anderen Moderne
01SM54VL014 / Course / 3,206

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Umweltkrise gehört zu den zentralen Herausforderungen der Gegenwart. «Öko-Islam» kann als eine transnationale Bewegung verstanden werden, die einerseits religiöse Praxis im Sinne der Nachhaltigkeit umgestaltet und andererseits muslimische Traditionsbestände für Umweltengagement mobilisiert. Die Lehrveranstaltung widmet sich dem Verhältnis von Praxis und Reflexion im «Öko-Islam» sowie der Frage, wie deren Akteur:innen Alternativen zu einer anthropozentrischen und allein auf Wachstum ausgerichteten Moderne entwickeln.

Event Persuasive Strategien in der Gesundheitskommunikation
06SE250-700a / Seminar / 4,807

Description:

Business event contents:
Gesundheitskommunikation nutzt vielfältige Kanäle, von klassischen Massenmedien über digitale Anwendungen bis hin zu strategischen Kampagnen, um Wissen, Einstellungen und gesundheitsrelevantes Verhalten zu beeinflussen. Persuasive Strategien stehen dabei im Zentrum. Sie umfassen Botschaftsmerkmale wie Framings, narrative Strukturen, visuelle Gestaltung, Emotionalisierung sowie Mechanismen wie soziale Normen, Glaubwürdigkeit, Selbstwirksamkeit oder Identifikation. Diese Strategien gelten als zentrale Wirkmechanismen und bilden die Grundlage für strategische Gesundheitskommunikation, die gesundheitsförderliches Verhalten unterstützen soll.
Im Seminar analysieren wir, wie persuasive Strategien in verschiedenen medienvermittelten und organisatorischen Kontexten eingesetzt werden und welche Botschaftsmerkmale und psychologischen Prozesse ihre Wirksamkeit bestimmen. Dabei greifen wir auf relevante theoretische Ansätze zurück (z. B. Persuasionstheorien, Verhaltensänderungsmodelle, Nudging, Narrative Persuasion, Message Framing). Wir diskutieren und analysieren aktuelle Beispiele aus der persuasiven Gesundheitskommunikation (z. B. Kampagnen, Inhalte auf sozialen Medien) und diskutieren Erfolgsfaktoren sowie Risiken wie Reaktanz, Stigmatisierung oder unerwünschte Effekte persuasiver Botschaften.
Basierend darauf entwickeln wir in Kleingruppen empirische Forschungsdesigns zur Analyse bestehender Kommunikationsmassnahmen oder zur experimentellen Prüfung neu entwickelter Kommunikationsmaterialien im Hinblick auf deren persuasive Wirkung. Innerhalb dieses Rahmens bearbeiten die Studierenden eigene Fragestellungen und erheben in Gruppen empirische Daten, die sie in der Seminararbeit nach wissenschaftlichen Standards aufbereiten.

Event Aufbaukurs Methoden und Statistik
06VL615-019a / Course / 326

Description:

Business event contents:
Statistik ist die Lingua franca der quantitativen Politikwissenschaft.
Dieser Kurs baut auf den Inhalten der Einführung in die Methodenlehre auf und fokussiert auf die lineare Regression - das meist-verwendete statistische Modell in den Sozialwissenschaften. Der Kurs beginnt mit einem Fokus auf Kausalität. Wir sehen unter welchen Bedingungen die lineare Regression kausale Schätzungen erlaubt zu machen. Wir diskutieren, wann die lineare Regression kausale Schlüsse zulässt und sehen auch eines der prominentesten angewandten Beispiele dafür (Difference-in-differences).

Event Cognitive Economics (L) (Decision Theory)
03VLDOEC0883 / Course / 632

Description:

Business event contents:
This course introduces students to the current research frontier in cognitive economics. Cognitive economics studies the economic effects of imperfections in cognitive information processing: the ways in which people attend to, remember, aggregate and trade off variables to make economic decisions. The primary focus of this class are empirical applications, both in the lab and the field. The course is interdisciplinary and heavily draws on ideas and models from the cognitive sciences, including theories of attention, memory and noisy processing. A central idea in this course is that many seemingly-distinct empirical regularities and anomalies reflect generic simplification strategies that people adopt to reduce information-processing demands, including topics such as: (i) noisy approximations and resulting behavioral attenuation; (ii) comparative thinking; (iii) reducing representations of a problem by overweighting what's salient, gets cued in memory, or is deemed important; (iv) thinking in analogies and categories; and (v) devaluing or shying away from objects one cannot properly evaluate.

Event Politikevaluation
06SE615o550a / Seminar / 4,825

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Evaluation hat sich als ein zentrales angewandtes Tätigkeitsfeld sozialwissenschaftlicher - und speziell politikwissenschaftlicher - Forschung etabliert. Die Analyse der Prozesse und Wirkungen öffentlicher Politiken und deren systematische und transparente Bewertung sind zunehmend institutionalisiert und haben heute einen bedeutenden Stellenwert bei der Politikgestaltung auch im schweizerischen politischen System erlangt.
Der Schwerpunkt dieses Kurses liegt bei der Erarbeitung eines eigenen Evaluationskonzepts aufgrund einer konkreten Projektausschreibung zu einer Evaluation öffentlicher Politik in der Schweiz. Die Teilnehmenden werden dabei im Sinne eines projektorientierten Unterrichts bei den einzelnen Arbeitsschritten begleitet. Dieses Seminar führt zudem in die Grundlagen der Evaluation ein. Neben den grundlegenden Begriffen und Konzepten der Evaluation wird auch die Geschichte der Evaluation und deren Anwendungspraxis thematisiert.

Event Political Development in China: Understanding Autocratisation
06SE615o012a / Seminar / 3,441

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar examines the political development of the PRC with a focus on the dynamics of autocratisation since the early 2000s. We survey the key institutions, shifting state-society relations, and center-local governance. Special attention is given to elite politics, ruling strategies, policy campaigns, and the political economy of development. Students will engage critically with classic and recent autocratisation scholarship and apply related concepts to empirical cases.

Notes:
Learning goals:

- Explain major theories of autocratisation and evaluate their applicability to China.
- Identify key institutions of CCP rule and assess how they shape policy processes and outcomes.
- Analyze state-society interactions (participation, consultation, repression) using concrete cases.

Event Digital Governance
06SE615o537a / Seminar / 685

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar examines how digital technologies are governed and regulated across different political systems. It explores how states, international organizations, and private actors shape the rules, norms, and infrastructures of the digital sphere. Topics include data protection and privacy, platform governance, artificial intelligence regulation, digital sovereignty, and the political economy of tech regulation. Emphasis is placed on comparative perspectives (contrasting approaches in the EU, the United States, China, Switzerland, and other regions) to understand how political institutions, values, and power relations shape digital governance.
Through critical readings and case studies, students learn to analyze the interplay between technology, regulation, and democracy in the digital age.

Event Theory and practice of cultural diplomacy
06SE615-010b / Seminar / 3,106

Description:

Business event contents:
This course examines the role of cultural diplomacy in international relations, exploring its theoretical foundations and practical applications in international relations, focusing on how states and non-state actors use culture as a tool for building international relations, influencing foreign publics, and promoting national interests. The course will analyze the historical development of cultural diplomacy, its role in soft power strategies and the impact of global and local contexts on its practice, as well as its securitization in modern geopolitical contexts. Through case studies and practical exercises, students will gain a comprehensive understanding of how cultural diplomacy is used by states, non-state actors and international organisations. By the end of the course, students will be able to critically assess the impact of cultural diplomacy on global affairs and apply this knowledge to real-world scenarios.

Event Eurasian and Russian foreign policy
06SE615-010a / Seminar / 913

Description:

Business event contents:
The course provides a comprehensive exploration of Eurasian and Russian foreign policy, offering both historical and contemporary perspectives. Students will examine the evolution of Russian foreign policy from the imperial era through the Soviet period and into the post-Soviet transition. The curriculum covers the current directions and priorities of Russian foreign policy, including Russia's positioning in its immediate neighborhood, strategies towards major global powers and its role in international organizations. The course also focuses on the dynamics of social, security and economic interactions in Eurasia, as well as challenging context of cooperation in the region. In addition, students will explore the effects of regional conflicts and influence of external actors in the region.

Event Self-organised Seminar
07BLGEO838.1 / Seminar / 2,839

Description:

Business event contents:
The Self-organized Seminar will be designed and taught by the participants themselves. It aims at de-hierarchizing teaching and strengthening students' independence and their responsibility for their personal learning process. In a first step, the participants will collectively identify topics in human geography they feel were neglected in their curriculum so far and which they want to get to know or learn more about. Based on this, the students define course objectives and learning goals and develop a syllabus for the seminar. Simultaneously, they negotiate and formulate the rules regarding collaboration and organization among the group. In the following seminar sessions, the students take turns teaching each other on the chosen topics. They may use a variety of didactic formats. Apart from text-, picture- or video- based discussions or group work in the seminar room, they may include sessions outside campus, such as talks with experts or excursions.

Event Simulation of Negotiations: Integrating Science and Diplomacy
06SE615o552a / Seminar / 4,884

Description:

Business event contents:
The seminar offers students the opportunity to apply knowledge on multilateral diplomacy to a case study of multilateral negotiations. For the academic year 2026 the military use of artificial intelligence / autonomous weapons has been selected as a case study.
Artificial intelligence enables the development and deployment of autonomous drones and robotic systems capable of performing missions without direct human control, such as surveillance, reconnaissance and targeted strikes.
The wars in Ukraine and Gaza are examples of the intensive use of artificial intelligence in warfare. There is a lack of international regulation on the military use of artificial intelligence, but there are multilateral negotiations on the topic.
Geneva plays an important role in these efforts.
Students will acquire basic knowledge of multilateral diplomacy and negotiations and have the opportunity to examine political, technological, legal, and humanitarian dimensions of the military use of artificial intelligence. They will deepen their knowledge through experts' presentations, mandatory readings and preparatory work for the negotiation simulation.
Moreover, this seminar will be an opportunity to analyze existing instruments of international law, technological developments as well as the ongoing disputes on the issue.
Students will apply their knowledge through their participation in a simulation exercise of multilateral negotiation to be held at the University of Geneva on May 19 and 20, 2026.
Negotiation tables will be chaired by former Ambassadors having extensive experience of international negotiations. Students will work in teams.

Event Sicherheit und Konflikt (Vorlesung)
06VL615-024a / Course / 2,900

Description:

Business event contents:
Security and conflict are at the heart of international politics. This lecture introduces BA students to the scientific study of international security and conflict, ranging from wars between and within states to terrorism and genocide. It provides students with a solid understanding of key actors, theories, and findings in peace and conflict research. We start by reviewing scholarly work on concepts and grand theories of security and conflict. We then assess research on the causes of war and its impact on international and domestic peace, followed by an overview of closely related forms of political violence, such as rebellion and state repression. The final part of the lecture is dedicated to the topics of conflict management and prevention, as well as future challenges to global security and peace.
Overall, the lecture aims to convey a basic understanding of peace and conflict studies by discussing research findings and evaluating them with real-world evidence.

Notes:

Event Brot, Wein und Wirklichkeit: Ernährung zwischen Genuss und Überleben in der antiken Welt
06SE602-501b / Seminar / 513

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Nahrung und Esskultur der Antike war weit mehr als bloße Nährstoffaufnahme - sie konstituierte ein komplexes System sozialer Distinktion, politischer Machtausübung und gemeinschaftlicher Identitätsstiftung. Diese vielschichtige Bedeutung des Essens durchzog alle Bereiche der antiken Gesellschaft und offenbart fundamentale Strukturen der damaligen Lebenswelt. In der Diskussion stellen sich daher Fragen wie: Wer aß welche Nahrung? Welche ist die richtige, welche die beste Ernährung? Und wer konnte sich welche Speisen leisten? Gab es Speiseverbote? Was verraten uns gemeinsame Mahlzeiten über die antike Esskultur und ihre gemeinschaftsstiftende Wirkung? Im Rahmen der Diskussion sind zugleich deren Grundlagen zu klären: Wie und wo wurden welche Nahrungsmittel produziert und welchen Bedingungen unterlagen Handel und Transport der Lebensmittel?

Event Artificial Intelligence: Technology and Law
02VL90WM39-1 / Course / 4,402

Description:

Business event contents:
Machines are increasingly capable of performing tasks considered to require "intelligence" if performed by human beings. Recent developments in the field of Artificial Intelligence (AI) are fueled by novel data processing technologies, ever growing amounts of data, and increased computing power. AI systems come with great promises and opportunities, but they also raise concerns in many respects and they pose significant challenges to the application of today's legal order. Accordingly, regulators around the globe are currently investigating if and how the law should be adapted to meet these challenges.
This course provides participants with an interdisciplinary view on AI by focusing on the capabilities of AI systems and the regulatory as well as technical responses in Switzerland and Europe. In doing so, it also highlights some of the fundamental differences in preventing undesired outcomes in law and computer science and challenges all participants to reflect on practical solutions for the future.

Event Seminar: IBM watsonx Agentic AI Challenge (MSc)
03SE22MIS107 / Seminar / 4,867

Description:

Notes:
The allocation of students to this seminar will be done through the department via the new module booking tool. If there is a shortage of seats, we will give preference to students that are majoring in informatics and have not yet attended a seminar and are already far in their studies. Please note that we cannot guarantee a spot.

More information on the process can be found on our website: https://www.ifi.uzh.ch/en/studies/seminar.html.

Application for this seminar is via the new module booking tool: https://studentservices.uzh.ch/uzh/launchpad

Lectures: Tuesdays, 18:15-20:00, recorded, held online. The students need to come to the IBM office for the kick-off event and the final presentations. The kick-off event, where industry partners will present use cases, will take place on February 17.

Event Kulturwissenschaftliche Vortragsreihe: Zukünfte (in) der Krise
06KO506o405a / Colloquium / 3,526

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Empirische Kulturwissenschaft beschäftigt sich seit langem und in jüngerer Zeit verstärkt mit den vielfältigen Vorstellungen von «Zukünften» und deren Bedeutung für gesellschaftliche Entwicklungen (Tauschek 2023). Zukunft war und ist ein zentrales kulturelles Deutungsmuster, das sich in gesellschaftlichen Erwartungen, individuellen Lebensentwürfen und kollektiven Imaginationen manifestiert (Appadurai 2013). Ob in politischen Visionen, technischen und digitalisierten Kontexten, populären Literaturen und Medien, den Künsten oder der gelebten Alltagskultur - Zukunftsvorstellungen strukturieren Wahrnehmungen der Gegenwart und beeinflussen soziale Handlungen (Färber 2021, Bausinger 1991, Welz 2021). Zukunft ist nicht nur ein Gegenstand der Spekulation, sondern ein wirkmächtiges Konzept, das gegenwärtige gesellschaftliche Konstellationen prägt, normative Ordnungen stabilisiert oder herausfordert und Möglichkeiten des Handelns eröffnet oder begrenzt (Chakkalakal 2018). In diesem Sinne versammelt die Kulturwissenschaftliche Vortragsreihe im FS26 unterschiedliche wie aktuelle empirisch-kulturwissenschaftliche Perspektiven auf "Zukünfte".

Notes:
Programm
Im Rahmen von Vorträgen, Gesprächsrunden und künstlerischen Formaten spüren wir gemeinsam mit Expert:innen aus unserem Fach und einem interessierten Publikum Bildern, Narrativen und Praktiken von Zukunft nach. Wir fragen, wie diese in der aktuellen gesellschaftlichen Konstellation (Ege 2021) präsent und wirksam sind. Welche Narrative prägen gesellschaftliche Imaginationen des Zukünftigen, welche Handlungsspielräume eröffnen oder begrenzen sie? Als Empirische Kulturwissenschaft verfügt unser Fach über die Expertise, nicht nur nach Zukunftsvorstellungen zu fragen, sondern auch den Erzählweisen und Performanzen, die sie hervorbringen, nachzuspüren. Entlang von drei thematischen Blöcken -RÄUME, FIKTIONEN und LEBENSWEISEN - beschäftigen wir uns möglichst breit und zugleich möglichst konkret mit Zukunftsvorstellungen, -praktiken und -erzählungen.

Die Veranstaltung am 17.02.2026 findet online statt.

Event Distributive Justice and Conflict in Capitalist Demoracies in capitalist democracies
06SE615-506a / Seminar / 708

Description:

Business event contents:
In this two-semester seminar, we study key theories of distributive justice in political philosophy, as well as core theories and empirical studies on distributive conflict from international and comparative political economy. The goal of the seminar is to link normative principles of justice with the real-world distributive policies and conflicts that form the backbone of political economy research. For this purpose, we study how both normative theory and positive political economy research approach questions of distribution and distributional principles.
During the fall semester, the course is structured in three blocks. A first block addresses the main normative theories of distributive justice (contractualism, utilitarianism, Dworkin's auction model). A second block asks about the goods and rights to be distributed in contemporary capitalism (social rights, money, opportunities, recognition), focusing on the political economy of distributive politics (regarding welfare states, labour markets, and inequality). In a third block, we address the normative, political and economic challenges of defining the boundaries of solidarity. In other words, who belongs and who should belong to a joint "risk pool", within and beyond the nation-state? During the spring semester, we adopt a tutorial structure, giving general and individual guidance on the redaction of the research paper. The research papers will have a focus either on political philosophy or on empirical political economy, but we expect all students to reflect on both the normative and the empirical implications of each topic

Event Strategien der Konfliktbearbeitung in der internationalen Politik: Analyse, Vergleich und Politikberatung
06SE615o507a / Seminar / 3,007

Description:

Business event contents:
Welche ontologischen, epistemologischen und methodologischen Grundannahmen bzw. welche "Denkordnungen" sind entscheidend für eine spezifische Sicht politischer Akteur*innen auf die Bearbeitung komplexer weltpolitischer Konflikte? Welche forschungspraktische und welche praktisch- politische Relevanz haben die Gemeinsamkeiten und Unterschiede der analysierten Konfliktbearbeitungsstrategien? Welche Folgewirkungen ergeben sich aus der Anwendung unterschiedlicher Konfliktbearbeitungsstrategien für die Praxis? Welche Anforderungen ergeben sich aus den gewonnenen Erkenntnissen für die wissenschaftliche Politikberatung? Die Merkmale der ausgewählten Konfliktbearbeitungsstrategien werden anhand empirischer Fallstudien herausgearbeitet (China-Taiwan-Konflikt, Ukraine-Konflikt, Syrien-Konflikt etc. - Auswahl erfolgt gemeinsam).

Event Age and Aging: Linguistic, Literary, and Cultural Studies Perspectives
06VL440o006a / Course / 238

Description:

Business event contents:
This lecture series explores the multifaceted themes of age and aging through the lenses of linguistics, literary studies, and cultural studies. Each week features a lecture from a scholar at the English Department whose work engages with questions of how age is constructed, represented, and experienced across time, languages, and societies. In this lecture, we will examine topics relating to, for example, representations of age and aging in literature and media, discourses around aging in contemporary or historical texts and contexts, cognitive, social and linguistic constructions of age(ing), coming-of-age narratives, sociolinguistic and pragmatic perspectives on age-related language use, language change in past and present, additional language learning in classroom and naturalistic settings in relation to chronological age and age of onset of acquisition. This course offers students an opportunity to consider aging as a dynamic site of meaning-making, and to reflect on how age intersects with identity categories such as gender, race, and class. Through active participation and critical reflection, students will gain deeper insight into the role of language, literature, and culture in shaping societal understandings of aging and the life course.

Event Handel mit Schweizer Ansichten um 1800: Kunsthistorische Forschung in Museum, Archiv und Bibliothek
06UE640o012a / Exercise Group / 4,711

Description:

Business event contents:
In den letzten Jahren hat sich die Erforschung der Geschichte des Kunsthandels zu einem wichtigen Bereich der Kunstgeschichte entwickelt. Bisher lag der Schwerpunkt vor allem auf NS-verfolgungsbedingt verlagertem oder entzogenem Kunstbesitz, auf dem Handel mit Objekten aus kolonialen Kontexten sowie auf den Strategien des Handels mit zeitgenössischer Kunst. Diese Übung widmet sich einem bedeutenden früheren Kapitel der Schweizer Kunstgeschichte. Im Umfeld der Schweizer Kleinmeister um 1800 erschlossen Kunstschaffende, Verlage, Druckereien und Kunsthandlungen mit der Produktion von Schweizer Ansichten - als Einzelblätter oder in Buchform - damals den europäischen Markt für Landschaftskunst. Der Handel mit diesen Grafiken und Büchern fand an unterschiedlichen Orten und in verschiedenen Kontexten statt: im Atelier, in einer Kunst- oder Buchhandlung, lokal in der Schweiz oder in europäischen Grossstädten.

Die wissenschaftliche Erforschung der beteiligten Akteurinnen und Akteure, der Handelsplätze sowie der Stationen der Wertschöpfungsketten befindet sich noch ganz am Anfang. Ziel der Veranstaltung ist es, in diese Fragestellungen einzuführen und ihre Potenziale gemeinsam zu diskutieren. Die Übung bietet den Studierenden die Möglichkeit, eigene Untersuchungsansätze zu entwickeln und diese anhand von Kunstwerken und historischen Dokumenten aus Museen, Archiven und Bibliotheken praktisch zu erproben. Im Mittelpunkt steht dabei die Konzeption eines individuellen Forschungsprojekts, das in Form eines wissenschaftlichen Exposés ausgearbeitet wird. Zur Vorbereitung werden im Rahmen von Exkursionen verschiedene Institutionen besucht, die Einblicke in aktuelle Forschungsprojekte und -ansätze zur Thematik gewähren.

Notes:
Die Anzahl der Teilnehmenden ist auf 12 Personen beschränkt. Die Sitzungen vom 24.2.26, 17.3.26 und 31.3.26 werden voraussichtlich als Exkursionen stattfinden (Terminverschiebungen vorbehalten).

Event Designing Japan: Architecture and Society from the Origins to the 21st century
06VL642o003a / Course / 4,598

Description:

Business event contents:
This lecture course surveys the diverse architectural traditions of Japan spanning from the ancient Kofun tombs to the contemporary era. The course centres on ten thematic areas, thus providing a comprehensive overview of the features of Japanese architecture. Each thematic area discusses a different design aspect (e.g. timber construction, the roof in Japanese architecture) and the historical development and conceptual content of these aspects is demonstrated through a number of selected case studies. These include examples of Japan's religious, residential and civic architecture such as Shintō shrines, Buddhist temples, and feudal castles. They also include the most prominent examples of postwar and contemporary architecture (e.g. the work of Tange Kenzo, postwar avant-garde, and the development of housing). The cultural significance and ability of architecture to respond to contextual, social, and environmental challenges are key themes in this course-for example the introduction of Buddhism and state building, architecture and nature. The lecture series does not follow a chronological order; rather, it employs a non-linear narrative that facilitates connections between diverse developments and continuities in Japanese architecture over time, from the origins to the present. Upon completion of the course, students will be able to look at architecture as a discipline shaped by ideas, social constraints, and technology; to explain the development of Japanese architecture; to explain the influential role of Japanese architecture and its global recognition.

Event Feld-Wald-und-Wiesen-Wissenschaft: Kulturanalytische Zugänge zu Landschaften
06SE506o003a / Seminar / 1,024

Description:

Business event contents:
Was für eine Aussicht! Irgendwo zwischen Hochspannungsleitungen, Autobahnraststätten und Betonblöcken gerieren sich touristische Erlebniswelten, Naherholungsgebiete und Parkanlagen als Residuen einer «unberührten Natur». Dieses durch den beschleunigten Raumwandel derletzten Jahrzehnte forcierte Neben- und Durcheinander ist aus kulturwissenschaftlicher Sicht äusserst aufschlussriech, da es laufend neue Un/Ordnungen, Ungleichzeitigkeiten und Uneindeutigkeiten hervorbringt, in denen sich gesellschaftliche (Umwelt-)Verhältnisse exemplarisch verdichten. Um sie festmachen zu können, offeriert das Seminar ein relationales, breites Verständnis von «Landschaft», dasscheinbare Polaritäten wie Stadt und Land, Natur und Kultur, Stofflichkeit und Repräsentation aufbricht. Davon ausgehend fragt es danach, wie wir Landschaften kulturtheoretisch fassen, ihre konkreten soziomateriellen Dispositionen ethnografisch beschreiben und die sie durchdringenden Diskurse analysieren und historisieren können.

Event „Après Ski?“ Beiträge der Kultur- und Sozialwissenschaften zum Klimawandel in den Alpen
06UE506o502a / Exercise Group / 3,092

Description:

Business event contents:
Der menschengemachte Klimawandel ist eine der grossen Herausforderungen, die auch in einem globalen Massstab die Kultur- und Sozialwissenschaften zusehends beschäftigen. In den Alpen als einem von den Folgen der Erwärmung besonders betroffenen Gebiet, das zudem politisch und kulturell besonders aufgeladen und eng mit seinem Umfeld verflochten ist, hat dies zu einer Intensivierung der entsprechenden Forschung in einem breiten Fächerspektrum geführt. Das Seminar sichtet und diskutiert wichtige Grundlagentexte und ausgewählte aktuelle Arbeiten, die sich mit dem Umgang mit den Auswirkungen des Klimawandels im Alpenraum beschäftigen - es geht dabei etwa um Gletscher und Identität, um den Umgang mit Naturgefahren und Zielkonflikte im Zusammenhang verschiedener Anpassungsleistungen oder auch um Veränderungen im Wintertourismus und Erfahrungen der Solastalgie in der Land- und Alpwirtschaft. Auch die theoretischen und methodischen Herausforderungen für eine kulturwissenschaftliche Forschung unter den Bedingungen des Anthropozäns sollen systematisch thematisiert werden. Neben Lektüren und Diskussionen wird das Seminar auch den direkten Austausch mit aktuell auf diesem Gebiet Forschenden ermöglichen.

Event Kunsttheorie III: Postkoloniale Theorie und Ästhetik
06SE640-030a / Seminar / 3,314

Description:

Business event contents:
Die postkoloniale Theorie verweist oft darauf, dass das Ästhetische mit Machtverhältnissen und Gewalt verstrickt ist. Ästhetik wird dabei als genuin eurozentrische, oder gar rassistisch Theorie begriffen, die zur Legitimation kolonialer Herrschaft beitrage.
Diese Kritik widerspricht der tradierten Vorstellung ästhetische Erfahrung fundamental, gilt diese im Kontext der europäischen Moderne, von Kant über Schiller bis Adorno, doch als Dispositiv für Reflexion, Kritik und Autonomie.

Der Lektürekurs widmet sich dieser doppelten Rolle des Ästhetischen und bewegt sich an den Schnittstellen von Postcolonial Studies, Ästhetik und Kunsttheorie. Was genau kritisieren die postkoloniale Theorien an der Ästhetik? Was sind die möglichen Formen und Ziele einer sogenannten "Dekolonisierung" des Ästhetischen? Diese und weitere Fragestellungen werden anhand ausgewählter theoretischer Texte diskutiert.

Notes:
Der Kurs ist die Fortsetzung der Veranstaltungsreihe "Kunsttheorie", die seit 2023 vom Kunsthistorischen Institut angeboten wird. Die einzelnen Kurse können unabhängig voneinander besucht werden. Voraussetzungen für die Teilnahme sind neben Interesse an kunsttheoretischen Fragestellungen eine hohe Lese- und Diskussionsbereitschaft theoretischer und teilweise anspruchsvoller Texte, sowie die gründliche Vor- und Nachbereitung der Treffen. Bereits vorhandene Kenntnisse der Kunsttheorie und/oder Kunstphilosophie sind hilfreich, werden aber nicht vorausgesetzt.

Event Research Seminar: Heritage and Urban Environments: The Case of Cairo
06SE307-602a / Seminar / 2,721

Description:

Business event contents:
This course introduces to the rich and multi-layered heritage of Cairo, the "city victorious". Quite surprisingly to today's observer, the city of Cairo used to be a green city, with large recreational areas, ponds, and approximately up to 600+ smaller gardens at the time of Napoleon's presence in Egypt in the year 1798. What happened to this heritage? And are there ideas to bring it back? This course will combine historical and contemporary material, with interdisciplinary inputs from international guest speakers, in order to understand a fascinating "city out of control".

Notes:
The course is part of the Una Europa Module in Cultural Heritage (https://una-europa.ic.uj.edu.pl/pl_PL/programme-details).

Event Validierung non-formal und informell erworbener Kompetenzen in internationaler Perspektive
06SE226o544a / Seminar / 3,157

Description:

Business event contents:
In Anbetracht von gesellschaftlichen, wirtschaftlichen und technologischen Entwicklungen und deren Auswirkungen auf Erwerbsarbeit und Bildung hat die Anerkennung und Validierung von non-formal und informell erworbenen Kompetenzen an Bedeutung gewonnen. Internationale Studien zeigen beispielsweise auf, dass in Zeiten des Fachkräftemangels die Anerkennung und Validierung nicht nur für die Integration von geringqualifizierten Arbeitskräften, sondern auch von hochqualifizierten Migranten und Migrantinnen einen wesentlichen Hebel darstellen. In der Schweiz verläuft die Umsetzung von Maßnahmen zur Anerkennung und Validierung trotz Fachkräftemangel in Bereichen wie Kommunikation und Information, Gesundheit und Soziales, dem Bau- und Gastgewerbe, langsam, stösst innerhalb des dualen Berufsbildungssystems an Grenzen und ist mit mannigfachen Herausforderungen und Schwierigkeiten behaftet. Im Rahmen dieses Seminars werden wir uns einerseits anhand von internationalen Studien zu Maßnahmen im Bereich der Anerkennung von non-formalem und informellem Lernen und deren Auswirkungen auf die Integration von Arbeitskräften auseinandersetzen. Andererseits werden wir das Paradoxon der Schweiz aus Sicht der Stakeholder und aus Sicht der Betroffenen anhand einschlägiger Literatur genauer beleuchten, den Austausch mit Expert.innen/Betroffenen suchen und über Lösungsansätze debattieren.

Event International Large Scale Assessments: Fragestellungen, methodische Grundlagen und ausgewählte Befunde
06SE226o523a / Seminar / 1,587

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Modul führt in zentrale internationale Large Scale Assessments (z.B. PISA, TIMSS) ein und zeigt, welche Rolle sie für Bildungsforschung, Bildungsmonitoring und Bildungspolitik spielen. Die Studierenden lernen, Designs, Test- und Stichprobenverfahren sowie Auswertungslogiken (u.a. Plausible Values, Gewichtung, komplexe Stichproben) zu verstehen. Sie können Berichte und empirische Befunde aus LSAs kritisch interpretieren, eigene Fragestellungen mit LSA-Daten bearbeiten und Möglichkeiten wie Grenzen dieser Studien reflektieren.

Event Music and Artificial Intelligence
06KO760o001a / Colloquium / 2,135

Description:

Business event contents:
This course explores the evolving role of artificial intelligence in music, with particular attention to their historical development and cultural implications. Students will examine the use of artificial intelligence and algorithms in all aspects of music: creation, production, distribution, and cultural consumption. The course will provide a historical context of the use of AI and automated processes in music composition, from early examples of algorithmic composition to today's advanced generative systems. The course invites students to reflect on how AI reshapes important questions around how we create music and how we hear and value it. Issues of authoriality and attribution (who or what can be called a composer) will be examined alongside ethical concerns such as intellectual property, cultural appropriation, and bias and representation in AI systems.

Course Materials:	T. Bonini and P. Magaudda, "Platformed! How Streaming, Algorithms and Artificial Intelligence are Shaping Music Cultures" (Cham, 2024). N. Braguinski, "Mathematical Music: From Antiquity to Music AI" (London-New York, 2022). K. Crawford, "Atlas of AI: Power, Politics, and the Planetary Costs of Artificial Intelligence" (New Haven, 2021). C. W. Event Opern des 20. Jahrhunderts: eine Zürcher Perspektive
06SE760o006a / Seminar / 2,206

Description:

Business event contents:
Im Seminar werden exemplarisch wichtige Opern des 20. Jahrhunderts behandelt, um einen Überblick über Entwicklungen im Musiktheater der Moderne zu erhalten. Die Auswahl der Werke orientiert sich dabei an den Zürcher Ur- und Erstaufführungen und wirft dadurch einen Blick in die lokale Musiktheatergeschichte, die über die «Internationalen Festwochen» bzw. die «Juni-Festspiele» in den 20er- und 30er-Jahren international wahrgenommene Produktionen bot. Dazu zählen bekanntermassen Alban Bergs «Lulu», Paul Hindemiths «Mathis der Maler» und Arnold Schönbergs «Moses und Aaron», aber auch andere Werke von Alexander Zemlinsky und Othmar Schoeck über Rudolf Kelterborn und Boris Martinů bis Heinz Holliger werden besprochen.

Event Superbugs
07VU BIO403 / Course / 3,019

Description:

Business event contents:
This class aims to spotlight the rise of superbugs—bacteria resistant to antibiotics—that are a growing threat to human health, animal health, and the environment. We will explore the medical, ecological, and economic drivers behind the rise of superbugs and present potential solutions to reduce the impact of AMR worldwide. The course takes a multidisciplinary (“One Health”) approach to this emerging health threat and will present medical case studies, as well as large-scale ecological, epidemiological, and policy analyses on AMR, with a strong focus on the animal-human interface. If you want to learn about a silent pandemic that makes more victims than HIV and malaria combined, this course is for you.

Event Introduction à la littérature de divination médiévale
06SE390o520a / Seminar / 1,622

Description:

Business event contents:
Comme à toutes les époques, les gens du Moyen Age étaient curieux de connaître l'avenir. Ils scrutaient les étoiles, le bruit du tonnerre, ou lançaient des dés. Dans ce séminaire, on découvrira quelques-uns des procédés employés à l'époque et les manuscrits qui nous en ont conservé les textes. On travaillera aussi à l'édition d'un texte accessible uniquement en manuscrit.

Event Strumenti e metodi avanzati in linguistica
06SE410-005a / Seminar / 3,012

Description:

Business event contents:
Questa unità didattica presuppone i moduli della fase introduttiva (Fondamenti di linguistica sincronica, Prolegomena (linguistica), con in particolare il corso introduttivo di Fonetica e fonologia) nonché il modulo Fondamenti di linguistica diacronica e dialettologia. Il lavoro in classe è inteso come guida all'approfondimento della materia già affrontata in tali unità didattiche e serve inoltre come accompagnamento nell'iter di preparazione al successivo esame basato sulla lista di letture. A questo scopo, nel lavoro in classe, si alterneranno spiegazioni da parte del docente ed esercizi ai quali lavoreremo insieme. Di settimana in settimana, inoltre, sarà richiesto alle/ai partecipanti di svolgere per proprio conto ulteriori esercizi assegnati in classe.
L'esercizio mira a integrare strumenti e nozioni acquisite in precedenza imparando a vedere le connessioni e a comporre in un metodo complessivo, da applicarsi a qualsiasi oggetto linguistico, quanto nelle unità didattiche precedenti, per esigenza didattica, è stato presentato separatamente (taglio diacronico e sincronico; livelli di analisi fonologico, morfologico, sintattico, lessicale; studio di testi antichi e di varietà linguistiche moderne, ecc.).

Event Filmische Naturerscheinungen? Film-Natur zwischen Anschauung und Begriff in den Audiovisionen
06SE255o502a / Seminar / 1,038

Description:

Business event contents:
"Natur" ist derzeit angesichts multipler ökologischer Bedrohungen in aller Munde und zugleich scheinbar im Anthropozän im Schwinden begriffen. Natur ist dabei mit Film und Kino von Beginn an verbunden und beide prägen einander wechselseitig, auch in einem unmittelbar materiell-ökonomischen Sinne, bis heute. Film als Technologie und Ökonomie verhält sich hierbei zu Natur und Umwelt zunächst negativ, denn seine Produktion setzt den Verbrauch von natürlichen Ressourcen voraus. Zugleich sind aber die Kinoleinwand und andere Bildschirme teils die einzigen Flächen, von denen aus 'Natur' dem Publikum entgegenscheint. Sei es als Landschaft, Stimmung oder in Form von Einzellebewesen Natur prägt nicht nur filmische Zeige- und Erzählordnungen, diese prägen umgekehrt durch Settings, Kreaturen, Protagonisten und Antagonisten das, was wir meinen, wenn wir "Natur" sagen - so zumindest die Ausgangsthese des Seminars.
Die Lehrveranstaltung hat also zum Ziel, in verschiedenen Ausdrucksqualitäten von Natur in der Filmsprache einzuführen und diese als eine Form sinnlicher Begriffsbildung anzuschauen. Dabei sollen von einer filmphilosophischen Perspektive aus filmisch-ästhetische Gebräuche der Natur untersucht werden und die verschiedenen Umschreibungsverfahren, die der Film am Naturbegriff vollzieht, vorgestellt und analysiert werden.
Im Seminar sollen dabei einerseits gegenstandsbezogene Kenntnisse in der Filmphilosophie entwickelt und vertieft werden, andererseits soll über die Einbeziehung aktueller film- und kulturwissenschaftlicher Diskurse die Position des Filmischen in den gegenwärtigen Debatten um Umwelt/Mitwelt, Ökologie und (Post-)Anthropozentrismus verortet und diskutiert werden.
Im Seminar werden sowohl filmanalytische und filmtheoretische Kompetenzen vertieft als auch Perspektiven auf den Film als einer Praxis der philosophischen Ästhetik evaluiert. Hierbei geht es insbesondere auch darum, Film in anderen Dimensionen zu betrachten, als seine Konzeption als Vermittlungsinstanz vorsieht.

Event Einführung in quantitative Methoden für Historiker/-innen
06KO599o500a / Colloquium / 825

Description:

Business event contents:
"Mehr", "weniger", "einige" usw. - historiografische Narrative wimmeln von unbestimmten Zahlwörtern, die einen impliziten numerischen Vergleich zweier Mengen anzeigen. Vielfach (auch so ein Wort!) erlauben erst solche Vergleiche, einen bestimmten Tatbestand argumentativ einzuordnen." (T. A. Jopp, M. Spoerer, 2017) Es lohnt sich über statistisches Wissen zu verfügen, um selbst Forschungsfragen nachzugehen oder Studien kritisch lesen zu können, die auf statistischen Methoden beruhen. Es ermöglicht den interdisziplinären Dialog mit den Sozialwissenschaften. Vor allem aber gibt es historische Quellen, die vor allem quantitativ ausgewertet werden können. Quantitative Methoden eröffnen zusätzliche Perspektiven. Zusammen mit den qualitativen Ansätzen ermöglichen sie die Analyse aller Quellen eines historischen Phänomens aus unterschiedlichen Perspektiven heraus. In der Veranstaltung werden elementare statistische Kenntnisse vermittelt: Es werden die Grundbegriffe der deskriptiven Statistik anhand von wirtschaftshistorischen Quellen und Fachartikeln erläutert und angewendet; die quantitativen Resultate werden graphisch umgesetzt; das lineare Modell (Regressionsanalyse, OLS) wird erläutert und besprochen was Kausalität ist. Gearbeitet wird mit dem Statistikprogramm R. Die Veranstaltung richtet sich an Studierende ohne Vorkenntnisse, soll Berührungsängste im Umgang mit quantitativen Methoden abbauen und die Vorteile sowie Nachteile quantitativer Methoden im historischen Kontext aufzeigen. Die Veranstaltung ist anwendungsorientiert, bringen Sie einen Laptop mit.

Event Physical Chemistry II for the Life Sciences
07VLCHE155.1 / Course / 2,304

Description:

Business event contents:
The two-hour lecture continues the basic physical-chemical training begun in CHE154 with a special focus on the life sciences. The first chapter “Surfaces” deals primarily with the effects of surface tension, including the Gibbs-Thomson effect and wetting phenomena. This is followed by the topic “Transport phenomena”, which covers the basics of heat transport, mass transport by diffusion and viscosity. The subsequent introduction to quantum mechanics covers the fundamental differences to classical physics, the results of quantum mechanics for selected systems and possible interpretations of quantum mechanics. This introduction to quantum mechanics serves as the basis for the last chapter, “Spectroscopy”. In addition to general spectroscopic principles, fluorescence, infrared, UV-visible and nuclear magnetic resonance spectroscopy are discussed.

Event Organic Chemistry for the Life Sciences
07VUCHE172.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 2,218

Description:

Business event contents:
This lecture deals with the structures, properties and reactions of organic molecules, i.e. the chemistry of carbon-based molecules. The course content forms a basis for an understanding of processes in living cells at the molecular level. The following topics are covered: Structure and bonding in organic molecules; classification according to functional groups (alkanes, alkyl halides, alcohols, ethers, phenols, amines, aldehydes, ketones, and carboxylic acid derivatives); stereochemistry (D/L and R/S nomenclature systems); structure and properties of biomolecules, including carbohydrates, amino acids, peptides and proteins, nucleic acids and natural products such as lipids, terpenes, steroids and alkaloids.

Description:

Business event contents:
Molecular Quantum Mechanics:

- Basic concepts of quantum mechanics
- Simple quantum mechanical model systems (particle-in-a-box, harmonic oscillator)
- Hydrogen atom and atomic orbitals
- Periodic table
- Chemical bond: Molecule H2+, Hückel theory

Spectroscopy:

- Electronic (UV/VIS) spectroscopy: nomenclature and selection rulses based on simple symmetry considerations
- Vibrational (IR) spectroscopy, normal modes
- vibronic spectroscopy, Franck-Condon principle
- Fluorescence spectroscopy

Notes:
Part of the exercises will use the program Mathematica (you will need your own computer)

Event Current Approaches in Single Cell Analysis
07VLBME327 / Course / 586

Description:

Business event contents:
Currently single cell analysis approaches revolutionize the way we study and understand biological systems. In all biological and biomedical settings, cell populations and tissues are highly heterogeneous; this heterogeneity plays a critical role in basic biological processes such as cell cycle, development and organismic function, but is also a major player in disease, e.g. for cancer development, diagnosis and treatment.
Currently, single cell analysis techniques are rapidly developing and find broad application, as the single cell measurements not only enable to study cell specific functions, but often reveal unexpected biological mechanisms in so far (assumed) well understood biological processes.
In this lecture, we will discuss the most important single cell approaches, the questions they can address and current developments. We will cover single cell genomics, single cell transcriptomics, single cell proteomcis (CyTOF mass cytometry), single cell metabolomcis and highly multiplexed single cell imaging. Finally, we will also discuss the latest approaches for the analysis of such generated highly multiplexed single cell data.

Event Einführung in die Ältere deutsche Literaturwissenschaft (Gruppe 4)
06SE360-103d / Seminar / 822

Description:

Business event contents:
Die mittelhochdeutsche Literatur ist ebenso vielgestaltig wie faszinierend: Geschichten von Rittern und Heiligen, Liebeslyrik und politische Dichtung sind aber nicht aus sich selbst heraus verständlich. Nicht nur die Sprachstufe des Mittelhochdeutschen, sondern auch die besonderen medialen Verhältnisse einer oftmals vor Anwesenden vorgetragenen und handschriftlich überlieferten Literatur sind Voraussetzungen der wissenschaftlichen Beschäftigung mit der deutschen Literatur des Mittelalters. Anhand von konkreten Beispielen führt eine Vorlesung in die komplexen literarhistorischen, medialen, ästhetischen und soziokulturellen Besonderheiten der mittelhochdeutschen Literatur ein. In einem begleitenden Seminar werden ausgehend von der Lektüre eines Texts bzw. Textcorpus die Grammatik des Mittelhochdeutschen behandelt und die Übersetzung mittelhochdeutscher Texte ins Neuhochdeutsche eingeübt.

Event Radiochemistry
07VUCHE438.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 2,627

Description:

Business event contents:
The primary objective is to learn basic chemical and physical properties of radioactive materials and their applications in chemistry, biology and medicine. Emphasis will be placed on syntheses of radiolabelled compounds for application in biology and medicine.

Nuclear chemistry and radioactive properties: Sources and decay properties of radioactive elements, radioactive emission properties and the interaction with matter; radiation protection and dose calculations.

Radiochemistry: Chemical synthesis and multistep reactions using 'hot atoms': [18F]- Fluoride chemistry and radioactive halogens, Organic synthesis with 11C (including 13N, 15O), 99mTc radiochemistry and chemistry of other radiometals (64Cu, 68Ga, 89Zr, 90Y, 111In, 225Ac) - emphasis on coordination chemistry

Radioactive compounds in chemical biology: Focusing on i) in vitro assays (chemical and cellular) for evaluating radiotracers, and ii) use of radioactivity as a tool in chemical biology (radioimmunoassays etc).

Applied radiochemistry: Focus on the use of radiochemistry and radioactive materials in different sectors: medicine (imaging/therapy), nuclear energy (waste reprocessing) and the environment.

The course will involve lectures, mentored workshops, homework, presentation/exam. Practical sessions will include handling radioactivity, performing separation chemistry, radiolabelling of small molecules/proteins, radioTLC/HPLC, gamma spectroscopy and nuclear imaging with PET.

Event Introduction to Macromolecular Chemistry
07VUKRI303.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 1,920

Description:

Business event contents:
This introductory course on macromolecular chemistry discusses definitions, introduces types of polyreactions, and compares chain and step-growth polymerizations. It also treats the constitution of polymers, homo- and copolymers, networks, configuration and conformation of polymers. Topics of interest are contour length, coil formation, the mobility in polymers, glass temperature, rubber elasticity, molecular weight distribution, energetics of polyreactions, and examples for polyreactions (polyadditions, polycondensations, polymerizations).
Selected polymerization mechanisms and procedures are discussed whenever appropriate throughout the course. Some methods of molecular weight determination are introduced.

Notes:
Together with ETH Zürich (Lerneinheit Nr. 529-0941-00L) Takes place at ETH!
Further information in the lecture catalog of the ETHZ!

Course Materials:	Course materials (consisting of personal notes and distributed paper copies) are sufficient for exam preparation.

03VL22MO0173 / Course / 209

Description:

Business event contents:
The course studies the relation between firms and financial and product markets. Topics considered are bond issuance, earnings (mis)management by an energy producer and intermediary (Enron), portfolio hedging, private equity, the analysis of relative cost, securitisation, collateralized debt obligations (CDO) and credit default swaps (CDS), the hedging of foreign exchange risk, risk arbitrage in takeovers and valuation. These are studied in the context of real cases.

Course Materials:	Course materials and cases to be obtained from the OLAT website.

Event History of the English Language 2: Focus on Middle English (Group 2: Bawdy Tales in Middle English)
06SE440-110b / Seminar / 1,195

Description:

Business event contents:
This module introduces students to the history of English and to English historical linguistics. It is intended for Bachelor students in their second year and consists of two parts: a lecture and a seminar. The lecture provides an overview on the history of the English language from the Norman Conquest of 1066 to the present today. The seminar introduces the students to Middle English (the language spoken and written in England between AD 1150-1500). The module gives an insight into the early forms of English and provides guidance on how to read original texts in Middle English with the help of glossaries. It also introduces some basic principles of English historical linguistics and of the study of medieval English literature.

Course Materials:	Students are required to get their own copy of the course book by the beginning of the term: - Brinton, Laurel J. and Leslie K. Arnovick. 2016. The English Language: A Linguistic History. Third edition. Oxford: Oxford University Press. Note that you should get the third edition of this book. It can be bought at KLIO Buchhandlung (Zähringerstrasse 45, 8021 Zürich). Additional reading assignments will be announced in the respective seminars/ the lecture.

Event A: Old English in Switzerland
06SE440-123c / Seminar / 191

Description:

Business event contents:
Switzerland counts among the small but exciting places for the transmission of Old English, the ancestor language of present-day English, which was spoken in England from about AD 500 until the Norman Conquest of England in 1066. Swiss libraries preserve some of the earliest Old English written attestations including Old English bird names, names of the months, Anglo-Saxon runes, as well as the earliest version of Bede's Death Song, a short alliterative poem, which the Venerable Bede (c. 673–735) allegedly composed shortly before his death. These texts, dating from the eighth and ninth centuries, are part of the important collection of early medieval manuscripts at the Abbey Library of St. Gallen. They must have reached Switzerland through contacts between England and mainland Europe during the Anglo-Saxon period, as they have been present in Switzerland since the early Middle Ages. Other Old English texts found in Swiss libraries were copied in Anglo-Saxon England and only reached Switzerland later, for example, three short legal texts in a manuscript at the Burgerbibliothek in Bern and a fragment of a homily by Ælfric of Eynsham (c. 950–1010) held at the Fondation Martin Bodmer in Cologny.

In this B.A. Seminar, we will read and translate the Old English texts extant in Swiss libraries and we will study relevant historical and cultural background to find out how these texts ended up in Switzerland in the first place. To enable students to conduct their own research projects, the seminar provides an introduction to philology, manuscript studies and palaeography. Students will also learn how to work with digital resources like e-codices (https://www.e-codices.ch/en) and the Dictionary of Old English Corpus (corpus.doe.utoronto.ca/doecorpus/#/oec) (https://corpus.doe.utoronto.ca/doecorpus/%23/oec)). The seminar features an excursion to one of the libraries where we will work with manuscripts on site.

Event New Frontiers: The Metamorphoses of Science Fiction
06SE440-222b / Seminar / 2,185

Description:

Business event contents:
This course traces the evolution of anglophone science fiction from its nineteenth-century origins to its present-day forms, examining how the genre has repeatedly responded to significant historical events and cultural shifts. We will explore how science fiction not only reflects contemporary societal challenges and crises but also envisions alternate realities and possible futures.

We begin with the genre-defining work of H.G. Wells, who established the formula of a new device, technology, or event that disrupts and estranges an otherwise familiar world. In "War of the Worlds" (1898), Wells uses late-Victorian scientific discourse to imagine a scenario where humanity is attacked by a technologically superior lifeform. This laid the groundwork for later works like John Wyndham's "The Day of the Triffids" (1951), which adapts the Wellsian model to a Cold War setting, depicting an invasion of Britain by genetically engineered, sentient, walking plants.

The latter half of the course will examine more recent reinventions of the genre, from late-1960s American "New Wave" science fiction to contemporary Afrofuturist texts. We will explore how writers like Ursula K. Le Guin, Octavia E. Butler, and Nnedi Okorafor have reframed speculative fiction to offer critical reflections on - and possible alternatives to - injustices related to race and gender, while also exploring the human and environmental toll of current systems of power and exploitation. Our main case studies in this context will be "Left Hand of Darkness" (1969) and "Parable of the Sower" (1993), two modern classics.

Event Writing Ireland: 1700 to the Present
06SE440-229b / Seminar / 3,273

Description:

Business event contents:
This module introduces students to Irish literature in English from 1700 to the present. It considers texts beyond ubiquitous titles such as Jonathan Swift's Gulliver's Travels, Bram Stoker's Dracula, or James Joyce's Ulysses. It will include prose, poetry, and drama from Ireland and Northern Ireland. We will consider such questions as: what did it mean to be an Irish writer in the early eighteenth century? How were Irish texts published and received? How did the status of Irish literature develop over time? Can Irish literature written in English be considered Irish? We will examine the figure of the stage Irishman, the role of antiquarian writing in the rediscovery of native Irish texts, the development of Irish literature in relation to political events, as well as internal divisions within Ireland and the impact of economic changes such as the Irish Famine and the the Celtic Tiger.

Notes:
This course has a heavy reading load, please consider this before booking the module.
Essay deadline: 15th August 2025

Portfolio: tasks and deadlines announced the first week of the semester

Course Materials:	Texts will include R. B. Sheridan's The Rivals (1775), The Wild Irish (1806) by Sydney Owenson, extracts from Charles Kirkham's Knocknagow (1879), J. M. Synge's The Playboy of the Western World (1907), Edna O'Brien's The Country Girls (1960), poetry by Seamus Heaney, and Donal Ryan's The Spinning Heart (2012). A list of texts to purchase will be circulated the first week of the semester. Other texts will be circulated as pdfs.

Event Words and Dictionaries through Time
06VL440o002a / Course / 3,271

Description:

Business event contents:
Dictionaries are indispensable research tools for any student of historical linguistics. On the most basic level, they help us understand the languages used in earlier periods. Yet, dictionaries can be used for much more than that: They reveal where words come from and how they evolve across time, they show which words are used in different geographical areas or specific communicative domains, and they illustrate how certain areas of the lexicon are structured.
Furthermore, dictionaries are themselves part of the primary evidence of a language and are thus not only a tool for, but also an object of, linguistic research. Despite the fact that dictionaries are probably the most widely used linguistic resource, even advanced students are often not aware of the wealth of dictionary resources available and of the specific uses different dictionaries can be put to.

This lecture introduces students to English lexicography and its history; it presents important dictionaries and related resources and teaches students how to use them for their own research. In the course of the semester, we will analyse the structure and components of dictionaries, learn how to work with different dictionaries, discuss how words get into dictionaries and find out whether Samuel Johnson really wrote the first English dictionary.

Event Language Acquisition across the lifespan
06SE440o508a / Seminar / 2,836

Description:

Business event contents:
This course offers a strongly developmentally oriented perspective on the acquisition and use of more than a single language by individuals at different stages of life (notably early childhood, adolescence, young adulthood, mature adulthood and third age). We will examine universal, individual, and social sources of influence on the learning of additional languages across time as well as the development of early and late bi/multilingualism. These influences include (biological/starting) age; crosslinguistic influence; the linguistic environment; the non-linear development of learner language; individual learner differences such as language learning aptitude and motivation; and social dimensions of additional language learning. We will also discuss which best-evidence instructional principles and designs support the learning of a foreign language across the lifespan: in preschool, primary school, secondary school, university, and in adult language schools and third age colleges. The course thus builds on the interconnections between early and late bi/multilingualism and emphasizes the central role that cognition, society, and education play in shaping multiple-language learning.

Event Graphic Violence: Portraying the Northern Ireland Conflict in Comic Books
06KO440o516a / Colloquium / 1,399

Description:

Business event contents:
Between the late 1960s and the mid 1990s, Northern Ireland was the site of a bloody conflict that sometimes spilled beyond its borders, extending to the rest of the island, neighbouring Britain and even mainland Europe. Euphemistically called the 'Troubles', this violence between those loyal to the British crown and those who aspired to a United Ireland resulted in the deaths of almost 3,500 people, at the hands of paramilitaries, local police, and the British army, the last of which had originally been deployed in the area to restore order.

Despite the tragic human toll, the Northern Ireland conflict proved to be "a thriller writer's dream" (Pelaschiar 1998: 19), spawning its own literary and film genre, the Troubles thriller. This genre also made its way into comic books, with superheroes such as Spider-Man, Daredevil, Green Arrow and the Punisher all becoming embroiled in the conflict over the years. More recently, comics narratives on the Troubles have expanded beyond the thriller genre, however, with graphic novels based on real-life figures such as Bobby Sands also being published.

Although a good deal has been written on the literary and cinematic portrayals of the Troubles, there have been comparatively few studies on the conflict in comics. Thus, this module will examine the representation of this tumultuous period in Northern Ireland's history in comic books and graphic novels.

It will begin by looking briefly at the background to the Troubles, before offering an overview of how the conflict has been represented in other media. Then, using close reading, it will identify common tropes in the comic book depictions of the Troubles, particularly focusing on how the various factions in the conflict are shown, whether the comics take sides with particular groups, and how the portrayals vary over time or depending on the country in which they were published.

Event Optical and Vibrational Spectroscopy
07VUCHE728.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 2,207

Description:

Business event contents:
This course introduces the fundamental principles and applications of vibrational and optical spectroscopies. Building from the basics of light–matter interaction, students will learn both theoretical foundations and experimental methods, covering Raman, infrared, photoluminescence (PL), time-resolved PL, transient absorption, terahertz (THz) spectroscopy, and cathodoluminescence (CL) spectroscopy. The course combines lectures with demonstration sessions and practical examples, showing how these techniques are applied to solve challenges in materials science, health and life sciences, energy, and the environment.

Event Biomedical data mining
07VUBME351 / Block Course / 494

Description:

Business event contents:
In biomedical research, large datasets generated by technologies such as transcriptomics and mass spectrometry-based proteomics provide quantitative information on transcript and protein abundance, as well as their variation under different conditions or between groups. These data are then analysed to retrieve relevant information and are often integrated with additional molecular and clinical data.
In this block course, you will analyse a dataset from ongoing projects of the participating research groups. To extract biologically relevant information, you will acquire core skills for analysing such life-science data, focusing on the use of the R programming language and bioinformatics methods. Through lectures and tutorials, you will learn key analytical approaches such as over-representation analysis and functional annotation.
Applying these skills, you will follow a complete research cycle. Initially, you will work on predefined tasks using specified methods. Then, adopting an inquiry-based learning approach, you will formulate your own research question, develop an appropriate analysis strategy, and carry it out. Throughout the course, you will conduct independent research under the close supervision of experienced scientists, with regular discussions on your progress.

At the end of the course, you will present your analyses and results in an oral talk and summarise them in a written report.

Notes:
Course location: The first 5 days of the course will take place on-site at the Swiss Institute of Allergy and Asthma Research (SIAF) in Davos, with the remainder conducted online, including regular lectures via Microsoft Teams/ Zoom and online tutorials. Travel costs by public transport and accommodation in Davos during the first part of the course will be reimbursed.

Event The political economy of far-right support in the Global South
06SE615-005a / Seminar / 3,073

Description:

Business event contents:
The far right has been increasingly successful in elections around the world in recent decades. Due to anti-liberal and authoritarian tendencies within the far right, this development has raised concerns about democracy coming under threat. Prominent theories posit that the rise of the far right is rooted in economic disappointments resulting from structural transformation. Transformation generates economic winners and losers. Dominant social groups perceive status threats.
Far-right ideology lends itself well to politicizing these threats and disappointments. Globalization is a threat because domestic jobs are lost to foreign low-wage competition. Migrants compete for scarce jobs in the sectors most negatively affected by structural change. Glorifying better times from the past works well in the face of disappointments about increasing automatization. However, existing theories often fail to extend easily beyond advanced democracies. This is mainly because in the Global South - which is home to some of the largest democracies in the world - structural transformation is vastly different. Yet, the same type of far right parties and politicians succeed electorally. What role do structural economic factors play in the far right's success in the Global South? How does structural transformation differ between the Global South and North? What are the political effects of structural transformations? These are some of the guiding questions for this seminar.

Event What's in a vote?
06SE615-012a / Seminar / 3,249

Description:

Business event contents:
How do voters decide how to cast their ballot? How does the electoral system interact with voters? What is the role of election or initiative campaigns? What about political parties or the media? This course is concerned with exploring the potential answers to questions such as these. Its goal is to understand the interactions between voters and various elements of democratic practice within advanced democracies. Each week will focus on a different aspect of this relationship. Beyond the thematic course content, emphasis will be placed on academic writing skills, social science research, and practice in developing individual research ideas. The course is held as a seminar format.

Event Faschismus. Zur Poetik einer politischen Simulation 1910-2050
06VL360o013a / Course / 1,023

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Politische am Faschismus ist, dass er aussieht wie Politik. Wer ihn als eine diskursive Macht verstehen will, der muss zunächst einsehen, dass die rhetorischen, ästhetischen und performativen Verfahren, derer sich der Faschismus bedient, ihm nicht Beiwerk sind, sondern Substanz. Die Vorlesung wird die Entwicklung, Durchsetzung und Transformation dieser Verfahren nachverfolgen, beginnend im italienischen Futurismus, sich von den Avantgarden über die Niederungen nationalsozialistischer Literaturproduktion bis zum subtilen und weniger subtilen Nachleben der faschistischen Poetik im Nachkriegseuropa, in der Popkultur und in den Architekturen des digitalen Zeitalters erstreckend.

Event Søren Kierkegaard
06SE160o501a / Seminar / 3,037

Description:

Business event contents:
In scheinbar paradoxer Weise gilt Søren Kierkegaard (1813-1855) sowohl als wichtiger christlicher Philosoph als auch als Hauptfigur oder gar Gründer des Existentialismus - einer philosophischen Tradition, die heute teilweise als Reaktion auf den "Tod Gottes" (Nietzsche) wahrgenommen wird. Diesen existentialistischen Kierkegaard werden wir uns im Seminar vornehmen, indem wir philosophisch zentrale Aspekte seines Denkens anhand der Lektüre von Auszügen aus so einflussreichen Werken wie Entweder - Oder (1843), Furcht und Zittern (1843), der Unwissenschaftlichen Nachschrift (1846) und Die Krankheit zum Tode (1849) analysieren und diskutieren.

Event Problems and Methods in Philosophy
06SE160o015a / Seminar / 2,394

Description:

Business event contents:
This course introduces philosophical methodology by focusing on central problems in theoretical philosophy. It covers some of the most fundamental and fascinating issues in epistemology, metaphysics, the philosophy of mind, and the philosophy of language. Rather than aiming for an overview of different intellectual traditions, we will try to get a profound understanding of hand-picked philosophical problems by reflecting on the methods by which these problems are tackled. In preparation for each session, students will read an original text addressing an intriguing philosophical problem, such as the problem of the external world, other minds, free will, induction, personal identity, meaning, and consciousness. Based on the selected texts from both classic and contemporary philosophers, students will become familiar with a wide range of philosophical methods;
e.g., the Socratic, axiomatic, transcendental, verificationist, dialectic, phenomenological, and experimental method, the appeal to common sense, thought experiments, conceptual analysis, and the method of analogy. This approach will offer profound insights into fundamental questions of Western philosophy while empowering students with the skills to navigate and critically engage with other domains of abstract and complex thought.

Event Philosophy of Risk
06SE160o012a / Seminar / 2,297

Description:

Business event contents:
In this course, we address the question, «how should we make rational decisions about risk?». We begin by examining the metaphysics of risk, comparing competing answers to the question «what is risk?». We thenmove on to looking at the epistemology of risk, and the consequences it has for rationality and decision-making. Finally, we consider the impact of risk on moral decision-making and moral risks.

Event Epistemische Ungerechtigkeit
06SE160o011a / Seminar / 868

Description:

Business event contents:
Wir klagen häufig über Ungerechtigkeit, z.B. über die ungerechte Verteilung von Gütern, über soziale Ungerechtigkeit oder über ungerechte Institutionen. In diesen Zusammenhängen ist das Thema seit langem Gegenstand der praktischen Philosophie. Doch auch im Rahmen der theoretischen Philosophie ist das Thema seit einiger Zeit in den Fokus gerückt, was in erster Linie dem Engagement feministischer Philosoph:innen zu verdanken ist. In unserem Seminar wollen wir uns mit einem wirkmächtigen Werk aus dieser Richtung auseinandersetzen: Miranda Frickers Buch «Epistemic Injustice». Fricker thematisiert dort Ungerechtigkeiten, die uns als Erkenntnissubjekte betreffen. Inwiefern verhalten wir uns beispielsweise ungerecht, wenn wir den Ansichten von Personen, die bestimmten sozialen Gruppen angehören, weniger Glauben schenken als anderen? Gibt es strukturelle Benachteiligungen kognitiver Natur, die sich auf die Teilhabe am gesellschaftlichen Leben auswirken? Grenzen bestimmte Praktiken des Erkenntnisgewinns Personen systematisch aus?

Event On Certainty
06SE160o010a / Seminar / 2,203

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar will address key epistemological issues pertaining to the notion of certainty. These issues include, inter alia, the distinction that can be drawn between the attitude of certainty and certainty as a property of a believed proposition, and the relationship between certainty on the one hand and knowledge and epistemic justification on the other hand. Our discussion of these issues will be based on the work of important figures in modern and contemporary philosophy such as René Descartes, George Edward Moore, Ludwig Wittgenstein, Peter Klein and Timothy Williamson. This with the aim to familiarise students with the methodological tools that characterise the analysis of philosophical texts within academic philosophy as well as with the highest standards of philosophical discussion. Specific formal notions, such as the notion of epistemic probability, will also be introduced in the context of this seminar to help students understand their relevance to the issues we will discussed.

Event Descartes Meditationen
06SE160o004a / Seminar / 648

Description:

Business event contents:
Rene Descartes «Meditationen über die erste Philosophie» gehören fraglos zu den philosophischen Klassikern. Das liegt nicht nur daran, dass das Werk überaus einflussreich für die Philosophie der Neuzeit gewesen ist, sondern auch daran, dass Descartes es mit einer Fragestellung beginnt, die gleichermaßen zugänglich wie tief erscheint: Gibt es eigentlich Überzeugungen, an denen ich unter keinen Umständen zweifeln kann? Im Anschluss an seine Antwort auf diese Frage diskutiert Descartes eine Reihe von Themen, die bis heute im Zentrum der theoretischen Philosophie stehen: die Natur von Wissen und Wahrheit, die Beziehung von Körper und Geist und die Existenz Gottes.

Im Seminar werden wir den Argumentationsgang der Meditationen anhand einer kleinschrittigen und gründlichen Lektüre rekonstruieren und prüfen. Wir werden uns dabei auch mit den Einwänden gegen Descartes Position auseinandersetzen, die Elisabeth von der Pfalz in ihrem Briefwechsel mit ihm formuliert hat.

Event Evolutionary Morphology of Vertebrates - Issues and Methods
07VUBIO262 / Block Course / 4,516

Description:

Business event contents:
This course presents an overview of many of the methods to study organismic evolution of vertebrates in a comparative and phylogenetic framework. Although the course deals with vertebrates in examples and case studies, many of the issues apply to other organisms as well. The main topics covered are: introduction to systematics and the analysis of morphological characters, vertebrate phylogeny, the development and evolution of several organ systems (e.g., teeth, antlers, heart, guts) or embryological structures (e.g., neural crest), growth, allometry, heterochrony, modularity and integration, comparative embryology, and the study of patterns of vertebrate evolution and palaeobiology.
Activities include talks by the course directors and associates, projects and presentations for participants, and many practical excercises involving study of specimens of different kinds (skeletons, embryos). Computer-based activities include those introducing basic systematic methods and 3D reconstructions of images generated by CT computer tomography scans or of embryological structures based on histology.

Event History of the English Language 2: Focus on Middle English (Lecture)
06VL440-110a / Course / 1,504

Description:

Business event contents:
This module introduces students to the history of English and to English historical linguistics. It is intended for Bachelor students in their second year and consists of two parts: a lecture and a seminar. The lecture provides an overview on the history of the English language from the Norman Conquest of 1066 to the present today. The seminar introduces the students to Middle English (the language spoken and written in England between AD 1150-1500). The module gives an insight into the early forms of English and provides guidance on how to read original texts in Middle English with the help of glossaries. It also introduces some basic principles of English historical linguistics and of the study of medieval English literature.

Course Materials:	Course books - please get your own copy by the beginning of the course: Brinton, Laurel J. and Leslie K. Arnovick. 2016. The English Language: A Linguistic History. Third edition. Oxford: Oxford University Press. Please note that you have to get the third edition of this book. It can be bought at KLIO Buchhandlung (Zähringerstrasse 45, 8021 Zürich). Additional reading assignments will be announced in the course.

Event Basiswissen Mittelalterarchäologie
06SE640-020a / Seminar / 435

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Veranstaltung gibt einen Einblick in die Gegenstände, das Selbstverständnis und die Geschichte der Mittelalterarchäologie. Im Zentrum der Veranstaltungen stehen die wichtigsten Themengebiete der Mittelalterarchäologie, die da sind: Siedlungsarchäologie, Sakral- und Profanbauten, Tod und Bestattung sowie der grosse Komplex der Funde.

Notes:
In einem ersten Block werden die Themen wie in einer Vorlesung kompakt vorgestellt; in einem zweiten Teil wird das Gelernte von den Studierenden in Form von Referaten angewandt. Abgeschlossen wird der Kurs durch eine Klausur in der letzten Semesterwoche, in der das sowohl im Vorlesungsteil als auch in den Referaten Gelernte abgefragt wird.

Event Seminar: Possession discourses and exorcisms in religious/spiritual and therapeutic contexts
01SE55LM002d / Seminar / 2,865

Description:

Business event contents:
Was passiert, wenn Menschen von Dämonen, Dschinns oder anderen Kräften „besessen" sind? Wie wird dieses Erleben übernatürlicher Wesen sozial, religiös, psychologisch und biomedizinisch interpretiert, behandelt und therapiert? Welche ethischen Herausforderungen entstehen für Forschende, die solche Phänomene untersuchen?

In diesem Seminar widmen wir uns Besessenheitsdiskursen und Exorzismuspraktiken in unterschiedlichen zeitgenössischen Gesellschaften, von der Schweiz über Osteuropa bis Tanzania. Thematisiert werden insbesondere christliche, islamische und säkulare Kontexte. Dabei reflektieren wir kritisch, wie unterschiedliche Wissenssysteme miteinander konkurrieren, sich ergänzen oder partiell verschmelzen. Ein weiterer Schwerpunkt liegt auf methodischen Herausforderungen und ethischen Fragen, die sich in der empirischen Erforschung solcher sensibler und konfliktreicher Themenfelder ergeben.
Anhand ethnografischer Fallbeispiele, theoretischer Beiträge und eigener methodischer Reflexionen diskutieren wir, wie in und durch Besessenheitsdiskurse Fragen sozialer Macht, kultureller Identität und religiöser Autorität ausgehandelt werden. Ziel ist es, den Studierenden Werkzeuge an die Hand zu geben, um das vielschichtige Spannungsfeld zwischen religiöser Erfahrung, medizinischer und psychotherapeutischer Praxis sowie sozialwissenschaftlicher Forschung kritisch und ethisch reflektiert zu untersuchen.
