Event Kinder und Kindheiten - eine differenztheoretische Annäherung
06SE226o530a / Seminar / 1,702

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Wahlmodul lädt Studierende dazu ein, Kindheit als gesellschaftlich hergestellte, historisch wandelbare und vielfältige Kategorie kritisch zu analysieren. Auf der Grundlage differenztheoretischer Ansätze wird untersucht, wie die Unterscheidung zwischen Kind und Nicht-Kind in unterschiedlichen sozialen, kulturellen und medialen Kontexten erzeugt, stabilisiert oder auch irritiert wird und welche normativen und machtbezogenen Implikationen damit verbunden sind. Die Veranstaltung verbindet theoretische Inputs, gemeinsame Textarbeit und diskursive Auseinandersetzungen mit der Analyse unterschiedlicher Materialien - darunter Filmausschnitte, Social-Media-Beiträge, Kinder- und Jugendbücher sowie weitere Darstellungen von "Kind" und "Kindheit". Durch dieses Zusammenspiel verschiedener Zugänge wird eine reflexive, multiperspektivische Annäherung an die Heterogenität von Kindheiten ermöglicht, die zugleich gesellschaftliche Erwartungen, Zuschreibungen und Strukturierungen sichtbar macht.

Event Foucault und die Empirische Kulturwissenschaft
06KO506o501a / Colloquium / 1,122

Description:

Business event contents:
Welche neuen Machttechniken und Regierungsweisen entstehen (und warum), wie prägen sie den Alltag, und welche Widerstände erzeugen sie? Foucaults Analysen dieser und anderer Fragen haben längst Klassiker-Status in den Geistes- und Sozialwissenschaften; der französische Theoretiker zeigte, wie sich die Lebens- und Wissensformen der Gegenwart als kontingente Produkte einer von Macht geprägten Geschichte begreifen lassen. In den letzten Jahren haben neue «Post-Truth»-Diskurse von rechts (die in Teilen an Foucaults Hinterfragung von Wahrheitskonzepten anzuschliessen scheinen) und die verbreitete Rückkehr zu vermeintlichen Gewissheiten aber auch neue Kritik an diesem Autor hervorgerufen.
Vor diesem Hintergrund sollen im Seminar sowohl Foucault-Texte als auch empirisch-kulturwissenschaftlichen Studien gelesen und diskutiert werden, die an seine Begriffe, Denkfiguren, Fragestellungen anschliessen, u.a. mit Blick auf Macht und Widerstand; Gouvernementalität und Neoliberalismus; Ethiken und Techniken des Selbst; Subjektivierungsweisen; Biopolitik, Rassismus und Migration.

Event Researching Irregularized Migration and Access to Rights: Eastern Europe in Global Perspective
06SE480o501a / Seminar / 2,724

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar focuses on the governance, experiences, and contested meanings of irregularized migration, with particular emphasis on migration from, to and through Southeastern and Eastern Europe. The course critically examines how irregularized migration is constructed through legal, political, and administrative frameworks, and how migrants navigate and resist these conditions in practice.

Key readings and case studies provide students with tools to analyze the intersections of policy, border regimes, and lived experiences. Through engagement with EU documents, scholarly texts, and interview-based materials, students will explore how irregularity is produced, managed, and challenged across different contexts.

Event Wie Soziale Medien unseren Alltag prägen
06SE254o106a / Seminar / 4,628

Description:

Business event contents:
Soziale Medien sind tief in den Alltag integriert und prägen, wie Menschen kommunizieren, sich vernetzen und ihre Umwelt wahrnehmen. Dieses Seminar untersucht die vielfältigen Wege, auf denen soziale Medien den Alltag beeinflussen können - einschliesslich Gewohnheiten, Beziehungen und Selbstwahrnehmung. Ein besonderer Schwerpunkt liegt auf den Motiven für die Nutzung sozialer Medien und der Frage, inwieweit diese Plattformen psychologische und soziale Bedürfnisse erfüllen. Die Studierenden setzen sich mit theoretischen Ansätzen und empirischer Forschung auseinander und reflektieren zugleich ihre eigenen Erfahrungen. Im Rahmen des Seminars werden zudem Nutzungsdaten analysiert, um Muster der Verwendung und mögliche Auswirkungen zu untersuchen. Gemeinsam wird kritisch diskutiert, wie soziale Medien individuelles Erleben und kollektives Verhalten in der modernen Gesellschaft prägen.

Event Ausstellen in Museen
06SE640-018a / Seminar / 342

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Bachelorseminar beschäftigt sich neben dem Studium vor Originalen mit Konzepten und Techniken des Ausstellens am Beispiel von Museen in Zürich (u.a.
Kunsthaus) und Umgebung (z.B. Fotostiftung). Im Blickfeld steht die Wechselbeziehung zwischen der Geschichte der Institutionen und den unterschiedlichsten Präsentationsformen sowohl in der Sammlung wie auch in aktuellen Ausstellungen. In den ersten Veranstaltungen werden parallel zur Lektüre einführender Publikationen Grundlagen der Werkanalyse sowie Recherchemethoden eingeübt. Ferner sind die musealen Aufgaben (Sammeln, Bewahren, Erforschen, Vermitteln) zu thematisieren. Zu gegebener Zeit werden anhand ausgewählter Themenschwerpunkte aktuelle Ausstellungen in Form von Referaten eingehend analysiert. Anhand von ausgewählten Beispielen lernen die Studierenden, sich kritisch mit der Geschichte und der Präsentation von Sammlungen und Sonderausstellungen ebenso wie mit Aspekten der Museumsarchitektur und des Displays der Säle im Allgemeinen auseinanderzusetzen, eigene Werkanalysen vorzustellen und sich in der Diskussion differenziert zu äussern. Sie sind in der Lage, die wissenschaftlichen Arbeitstechniken des Recherchierens, Referierens und Schreibens anzuwenden.

Ausgehend von der auf die lateinische Rezeption aristotelischer Schriften zurückgehenden Unterscheidung zwischen der schaffenden/schöpferischen und der geschaffenen Natur widmet sich das Seminar medienübergreifend den heterogenen Darstellungsformen von Animalität in der Kunst und Wissenschaft der Frühen Neuzeit. Die vielfältigen Repräsentationen der Tiere und des Tierhaften, insbesondere in der Malerei, Druckgrafik und Skulptur des 16. bis 18. Jahrhunderts, waren nicht nur Reflexionsfelder mimetischer Wiedergabe und visueller Ausdruck intensiver Naturstudien, sondern fungierten zugleich als komplexe Projektions- und Spekulationsflächen philosophischer, theologischer, politischer und nicht zuletzt kunsttheoretischer Diskurse. Im jeweiligen historischen Kontext möchte die Veranstaltung der Genese, Konzeption und Funktion ausgewählter Kunstwerke nachgehen, um die intensive ästhetische Auseinandersetzung mit dem Animalischen als integralen Bestandteil der frühneuzeitlichen Wissenskultur zu analysieren.

Notes:
Die Vergabe der Referate findet in der ersten Sitzung statt. Eine Anwesenheit zu diesem Termin ist daher für die Teilnahme am Seminar obligatorisch.

Event The Policies and Politics of Migration and the Welfare State
06SE615-002b / Seminar / 4,281

Description:

Business event contents:
How do modern welfare states respond to changing patterns of migration? In this seminar, we analyze both formal rules and informal practices that shape migrants' access to welfare provisions across different contexts. We will pay particular attention to how different actors, ranging from the general public to political parties, trade unions, and business associations, shape the politics of migration and welfare and construct the ideational links between them. Adopting a comparative perspective, we will discuss contemporary political conflicts over welfare deservingness and reflect on the future legitimacy of social protection amid competing functional pressures such as demographic aging and changing skill requirements, in our increasingly mobile societies.

Event Origins of Political Institutions: Comparing State Development Across the World
06SE615-002e / Seminar / 4,473

Description:

Business event contents:
This course examines how political institutions emerged and evolved across different regions of the world, from ancient states to modern democracies. Drawing on insights from political economy, history, and comparative politics, it explores why states took different paths of development and how institutions such as parliaments, bureaucracies, and electoral systems came to shape political life. To illustrate these ideas, we will analyze case studies from Western Europe, Asia, Latin America, and Africa, highlighting both shared patterns and regional differences.

Key themes include:

- What prompted rulers to share power and establish parliaments?
- How and why did democracy emerge in some places but not others?
- What is state capacity and how does it emerge?
- What roles have culture, religion, and knowledge played in shaping state development?

Event Digital Politics
06SE615-008a / Seminar / 688

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar examines how Western democracies are being reshaped by new political movements, economic challenges, and technological advancements. As traditional party systems are disrupted and political engagement evolves, governments face the complex task of managing austerity, demographic shifts, and rapid technological change. At the heart of these changes are digital technologies and artificial intelligence (AI), which have transformed political strategies, policymaking, and public engagement.
We will investigate how AI and data science shape politics and governance, focusing on their role in microtargeting, opinion measurement, and data-driven decision-making. The seminar emphasises the application of social data science and AI to improve policy decisions, with weekly sessions examining key topics like elections, policymaking, political mobilisation, citizen engagement, climate change, economic stability, and crisis management.
Additionally, we will explore the technical and organisational conditions required for effective AI-driven policymaking, addressing questions about the reliability of AI-generated knowledge, data sources, and AI's adaptability to a constantly evolving policy landscape.

Event Technology and Its Imaginaries: From Internet to AI
06SE254o103a / Seminar / 3,048

Description:

Business event contents:
What are the imaginaries of technologies that surround us, and how do they relate to the technology underneath? This course develops students' critical analytical skills to understand how societies construct meaning around digital technologies (Internet, AI, social media, cryptocurrencies...), and how these imaginaries relate to underlying technologies. In this seminar the students learn to identify and analyze the gaps, alignments, and interactions between what we imagine technologies to be and how they actually function.
Building on this analytical foundation, students apply their insights to create hypothetical guidelines for emerging technology development that steer technological development towards desired imaginaries.

Notes:
After successfully completing this course, students can systematically collect data and investigate how societies imagine digital technologies, understand the technical realities behind these technologies, critically analyze the gaps and alignments between the technological imaginary and reality, and apply this analytical framework to evaluate technological discourse and emerging technologies.

Event Künstliche Intelligenz und massenmediale Öffentlichkeit
06SE254o107a / Seminar / 1,788

Description:

Business event contents:
Der Einsatz von künstlicher Intelligenz (KI) in den Medien weitet sich aus und ist ein wichtiges Thema der Sozial- und Medienwissenschaft. Neben der automatisierten Textproduktion wird KI heute für die Distribution von Inhalten, für Recherchezwecke und anderes mehr eingesetzt. Daraus ergeben sich für die medienvermittelte Öffentlichkeit Chancen und Risiken. Einerseits bietet der Einsatz von KI potenziell grosse Ressourcenersparnisse. Freiwerdende journalistische Ressourcen könnten so für hochwertige Formate eingesetzt werden. Risiken sind noch immer vorhandene Qualitätsdefizite von Texten, die mit KI produziert werden und die Befürchtung, dass es durch den Einsatz von KI zu einer Erosion von Vielfalt und Reflexionskompetenz in der öffentlichen Kommunikation kommt. Die Diskussion dieser Chancen und Risiken wird im Mittelpunkt des Seminars stehen. Es werden dabei neueste empirische Ergebnisse der Forschung des Forschungszentrums Öffentlichkeit und Gesellschaft (fög) vorgestellt.

Event Human brain activity and the mind
07VUBME353 / Block Course / 1,517

Description:

Business event contents:
The ultimate aim of neuroscience is to understand the mind by investigating the brain.
The brain is part of the outside material world and brain activity can be measured non-invasively. In this course, we study the functions of the human brain using two non-invasive methods: near-infrared spectroscopy (fNIRS) and electroencephalography (EEG). fNIRS is based on near-infrared light being able to shine through the skull and identify changes in blood flow that originate from brain activity. EEG measures the electrical activity of the brain. The two methods investigate complementary aspects of brain function. We will learn how these methods work and how to apply them in neuroscientific experiments.
The mind is part of the internal world and it can be perceived by introspection: we can directly observe consciousness, perceptions, thinking and feelings and we will reflect on these and their meaning. It is not trivial to connect the brain and mind levels. In this course we critically observe, discuss and analyze the relation between the mind and the brain. We are looking for students keen on pondering these major questions.

Event Philosophy of Law
06SE160o507a / Seminar / 2,296

Description:

Business event contents:
Why do human societies have laws? Where does the "authority of law" come from? What is the relationship between the law and morality? Is there a moral obligation to obey the law? What if a law is unjust?

These and other fundamental questions in the philosophy of law will be explored. The focus of the first part of the course will be the major theoretical conceptions of law such as natural law theory, legal positivism, and legal realism. In the second part of the course, we will turn to other major debates in the philosophy of law. For instance, some legal theorists hold that law has authority because individuals do better to follow the law than to follow their own reasons and inclinations. Others contest the idea that law has authority at all, and emphasize law's fundamentally coercive nature.
This is a reading and discussion focused seminar. Students are expected to come to the seminar having completed all the Required readings, bringing their questions to the texts, and prepared to discuss the material in plenary or in small groups on relevant series of questions related to the readings

Guided self-study: students are expected to read the Required articles, book chapters, web sources, newspapers stories, etc., to prepare the seminar sessions and the assignments

Independent research: students are expected to do their own independent research for their essays

Event Introduction to Data Science
06SE615o528a / Seminar / 1,598

Description:

Business event contents:
This course serves as an introduction to machine learning methods for supervised and unsupervised learning. In its essence, machine learning is concerned with detecting patterns in data. Over the past decade, this has become ever more important in the social sciences. This course teaches you the logic of machine learning, its workflows, and the pitfalls that come with it.
In the part on unsupervised machine learning, the emphasis is on principal component and cluster analysis. In the part on supervised learning, the focus is on nearest neighbors, probabilistic learners, and tree-based algorithms. An important part of the course is concerned with feature selection and engineering, as well as interpretable machine learning.

Notes:
The seminar familiarizes students with supervised machine learning workflows and logics. It focuses on two classes of widely used algorithms: (1) tree-based learners and (2) neural networks. Students will learn about feedforward neural networks, random forests, BART, boosting trees, and other powerful predictive algorithms. The course is hands-on and involves practical exercises using R and Python.

Course Materials:	Miscellaneous articles and chapters.

Event Agenda Setting and the Media: Framing the Political Debate
06SE615-BAa / Seminar / 239

Description:

Business event contents:
In our daily lives, we often see certain political issues grab the spotlight, shaping conversations at dinner tables, on news channels, and across social media platforms. But how do some topics become the center of attention while others fade into the background? This Bachelor's course on "Agenda Setting and the Media: Framing the Political Debate" will guide students through the process of how issues rise to prominence in the political arena.

For instance, consider the issue of misinformation. Once a peripheral concern, misinformation has swiftly become a central issue in global politics, demonstrating the powerful role of media framing and agenda setting. News outlets and political leaders have highlighted it as a major challenge, influencing public opinion and prompting significant political and financial responses. Countries and organizations, including the European Union, are now investing millions to combat misinformation, showcasing how effectively framed issues can escalate into priority actions on the political agenda.

In this course, we will look at why certain issues become widely talked about, guided by the ideas of agenda setting and framing. Students will study real and recent situations, like the sudden surge in attention to artificial intelligence after groundbreaking achievements in machine learning, to see what's happening behind the scenes. Why do some subjects capture our attention while others do not? How do the ways media and politicians talk about these issues affect what we think is important? And what is the role of social media in this story? In this course, we will explore how media coverage, public interest, and political discussions and work together to make certain issues stand out. Students will discover the processes that decide which topics become big in public discussions and political discourse.

Sufficient time will also be reserved to discuss the research designs of the assigned reading materials so as to prepare students for writing their own research design, which will ultimately form the basis of the BA thesis.

Notes:
The course will primarily be taught in English. Written assignments can be handed in in both English and German.

Event International economic institutions
06SE615-BAb / Seminar / 1,590

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar deals with the importance of international economic institutions for international politics. The globalization of the last decades has contributed to the fact that international institutions have gained political importance. Since nation states no longer (can) govern alone in the globalized world, political power is shifting to the global level and to organizations such as the World Bank, WTO, IMF, OECD or BIS. The seminar is therefore devoted to the emergence of international economic institutions on the one hand and their importance for current politics on the other.
The main learning objective is to acquire a scientifically sound understanding of the role of international institutions in a globalized world. The students should learn to develop specific scientific questions and to investigate them with the help of political science methods, either qualitatively or quantitatively. The course places a special emphasis on the critical reflection of theoretical arguments and empirical research designs, as well as their application. At the end of the spring semester, the students will submit their BA thesis they write throughout the semester.

Event Migration und Integration im europäischen Frühmittelalter
06SE600-042a / Seminar / 2,098

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Herausbildung der verschiedenen auf das Weströmische Reich folgenden regna wurde in der Forschung ganz unterschiedlich bewertet. Die ältere Forschung sprach von der Völkerwanderung, die Wahlweise zum Untergang des Römischen Reichs führte oder von diesem verursacht wurde und sah die Reiche der Franken, Goten, Langobarden usw. als Beginn der modernen Staaten wie Deutschland, Frankreich, Spanien und Italien.

Von diesen einstigen Gewissheiten ist in der neueren Forschung nicht viel übriggeblieben. Weder kann noch postuliert werden, dass sich das Römische Reich einfach mit der Absetzung des letzten Kaisers ins geschichtliche Nichts verabschiedet hat, noch entspringen die neu entstehenden Reiche zugewanderten, ethnisch determinierten Volksgruppen, noch führt von ihnen eine direkte Kontinuitätslinie zum modernen Nationalstaat des 19. und 20. Jahrhunderts.
Das Seminar versucht sich dieser Themenkomplexe mittels zeitgenössischer Quellen und neuerer Forschung anzunehmen.

Event Wie sich Geschichte verkauft: Geschichtswissenschaft und Popularisierung
06SE600-049a / Seminar / 3,251

Description:

Business event contents:
Video, Film, graphic novel, podcast - Dies sind typische Formate, mit denen Lust auf und an der Vergangenheit gemacht werden soll. Die Produzierenden dieser Formate verfolgen dabei ihr je eigenen Interessen. Wie funktionieren die jeweiligen Medien, welche Chancen und Grenzen haben sie in der Vermittlung akademisch seriöser historischer Inhalte? Wo verläuft die Linie zwischen Popularisierung und Populismus? Dies wird an Beispielen zur (früh-)neuzeitlichen Geschichte Europas zu diskutieren sein.

Event Raum, Wissen und Gesellschaft – eine Kulturgeschichte der griechischen Welt
06SE600-035a / Seminar / 2,632

Description:

Business event contents:
Die griechische Welt der Antike war geprägt von dichten sozialen Strukturen, vielfältigen Wissensformen und einer ausgeprägten Kultur des Zusammenlebens. Im Seminar geht es darum, wie Menschen ihre Gesellschaften organisierten, Wissen sammelten und weitergaben und welche Rolle unterschiedliche Orte und Lebenskontexte dabei spielten.
Wir lesen Texte aus Literatur, Philosophie und Historiographie und beziehen archäologische Zeugnisse ein, um ein vielschichtiges Bild der griechischen Kultur zu zeichnen. Ziel ist es, die griechische Welt nicht nur über ihre politische Geschichte zu erfassen, sondern in ihrer kulturellen und gesellschaftlichen Tiefe zu verstehen.

Als Teilnehmerin/Teilnehmer dieser Veranstaltung besteht die Möglichkeit, an einer Exkursion nach Griechenland, die zu diesem Seminar angeboten wird, teilzunehmen.

Event Antike griechische Religion: Forschungsansätze und -diskussionen
06KO600o006a / Colloquium / 288

Description:

Business event contents:
Vielfältige religiöse Ideen und Praktiken prägten das Leben der Menschen in der Antike in fast allen Bereichen - im Alltäglichen wie im Aussergewöhnlichen, in Politik, Krieg und Frieden, von der Geburt bis zum Tod. Die griechische Gesellschaft ist daher ohne Zugänge zu diesen religiösen Vorstellungen und Handlungen nicht zu verstehen.
Doch wie lässt sich eine für uns fremde Religion, die selbst keinen Begriff für das Phänomen hatte und nicht auf allgemein gültigen Offenbarungsschriften aufbaute, erfassen? Im Kolloquium werden wir alte und neue Forschungsansätze und -kontroversen diskutieren und uns mit unterschiedlichen Quellen - literarischen, inschriftlichen und archäologischen Zeugnissen - auseinandersetzen. Da alle antiken Texte in Übersetzung zur Verfügung gestellt werden, sind spezielle Sprachkenntnisse nicht notwendig.

Event Der Investiturstreit im Gebiet der heutigen Schweiz
06SE600-043a / Seminar / 643

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Gebiet der heutigen Schweiz lag nach hochmittelalterlichen Massstäben teilweise im Königreich Burgund, im Rektorat Burgund, im Herzogtum Schwaben und in der Grafschaft Tirol unter der Herrschaft des römisch-deutschen Königs und Kaisers. Es deckte eine strategisch bedeutende Position am Oberrhein, am Bodensee und an den Alpen (und damit am Übergang zum Königreich Italien, das unter der Herrschaft desselben Königs und Kaisers stand) ab. Als die frühmittelalterliche Einheit von geistlicher und weltlicher Herrschaft an den unterschiedlichen Ansichten über den Einfluss des Königtums auf die Vergabe von Bistümern und Klöstern zerbrach und zu einem fast 50 Jahre dauernden Streit (Investiturstreit 1076-1122) führte, wurde diese Region erheblich in Mitleidenschaft gezogen. Aus der Bodenseeregion kamen ebenso bedeutende Anhänger des Papsttums wie des Kaisertums. Städte, Kirchen und Klöster waren gleichermassen umkämpft. Im Seminar sollen diese Vorgänge in ihrer regionalen, zeitlichen und personellen Entwicklung anhand einschlägiger Quellenzeugnisse untersucht und auf der Grundlage einschlägiger wissenschaftlicher Texte analysiert werden. Von den im Original lateinisch-sprachigen Texten liegen deutsche (oder englische) Übersetzungen vor.

Auf dieses Seminar ist die Vorlesung "Europa im 11. Jahrhundert - Kirchenreform und Investiturstreit" abgestimmt. Der Besuch der Vorlesung ist empfehlenswert.

Notes:
Zum Seminar wird ein Tutorat angeboten, dessen Besuch dringend empfohlen wird.

Event BME 369 Diffusion weighted imaging
07VUBME369 / Block Course / 367

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar introduces you to diffusion-weighted imaging (dMRI) and tractography using magnetic resonance imaging (MRI). In the first part of the seminar, we will cover some fundamentals of dMRI and tractography, including physical and theoretical fundamentals of dMRI signal acquisition and modelling as well as tractography algorithms. This will make you set for the second, hands-on part of the seminar: Together, we will go through the complete analysis of a dMRI data set using the software MRtrix3. We will start with a raw data set, as it comes out of the scanner, and at the end, we will have “tracked” some of the most important fiber tracts in one of the organizer’s brain! The practical part will be based on the tutorial “B.A.T.M.A.N.” by the course organizers, which is freely available at https://osf.io/fkyht/ along complementary tutorial data.

Event Gene therapy from bench tobedside
07VUBME363 / Block Course / 1,257

Description:

Business event contents:
The emerging field of gene therapy is entering clinical practice at fast pace. Highly skilled biomedical experts are therefore of utmost importance for clinical translation of basic science findings. We therefore propose a novel modul covering relevant aspects required theoretical and practical background The module contains a lecture series of 1 week in total completed by a written exam (2-3 hrs). This theoretical part is completed by a 2.5-week individual laboratory course rotating in participating labs.
Practical work will be completed by presentations of all lab work by participants in a half-day concluding symposium.
Theoretical part The lecturing covers today's technical and medical aspects of vectorology, non-viral vector systems, gene editing and clinical gene therapy. The mechanisms for transfer of genetic material into cells, gene editing, target cells, animal models, specific applications for monogenetic diseases, potential adverse effects, and novel developments in the field of gene therapy will be taught Practical Part Group Reichenbach Exercises on lentiviral vector technology

- Produce Plasmid for viral vector production
- Produce lentiviral vectors from plasmids for gene manipulation
- Transduction of cells with lentiviral vectors Group Speck Exercises how to approach a gene engineering project building upon the lectures given in the first week.
- Elaborate a concept and define an experimental design
- Define the needs how to go ahead from the bench to the clinics.

Group Schwank Exercises how to approach a gene editing via CRISPR/Cas9.
- design gene editing experiments to correct disease-causing mutations,
- analyse efficacy and safety of gene editing approaches.

Notes:
Notes: The theoretical part is offered as a separate module, BIO 708, in which the number of participants is not limited. Registration via normal UZH module booking.

07VUBME361 / Block Course / 2,631

Description:

Business event contents:
The randomised trial is one of the most important experimental study designs in laboratory, clinical and community-based research. This course covers the way research questions are set up for randomised trials, key methods of randomised trials, aspects of reproducibility (registration and publication of protocols and availability of data sets), sample size calculation and analytic approaches, outcome selection, assessment of subgroup effects as well as steps to organize and conduct randomised trials (ethics, databases, quality control). During the course, students will design, conduct and analyse a randomized trials and thus go through the critical elements of a trial.

Event Advanced concepts of Physical Chemistry I
07VUCHE326.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 231

Description:

Business event contents:
A. Introduction to Fluorescence Spectroscopy Starting with the principle of electronic excitation the Jablonski diagram will be explained. Internal conversion and intersystem crossing are the first events taking place after electronic excitation.
Fluorescence emission will be explained including the differences between fluorescence and phosphorescence. The time scale of these processes will be discussed. Processes as radiationless decay and quenching will be explained including static and dynamic quenching.
Specific variants of fluorescence spectroscopy, e.g. single molecule spectroscopy, Förster resonance energy transfer, 2-photon spectroscopy, confocal spectroscopy, and fluorescence correlation spectroscopy will be discussed. Further, applications in life sciences and sensing, as well as instrumental aspects will be explained.

B. Surface tension
The section "surface tension" starts with the fundamental aspects of the surface tension of liquids. Further, the effect of surface tension at curved interfaces (Laplace pressure, Kelvin equation), capillary forces and tensides (Gibbs adsorption isotherm) are presented and discussed. The wetting of liquids on flat, rough, chemically homogeneous or heterogeneous solid surfaces including the lotus effect completes the topic. Examples from chemistry, biology or daily life complete both sections.

C. Solid surfaces:
Importance of surfaces in chemistry and technology, concept of surface energy, kinetics and thermodynamics of gas adsorption, adsorption isotherms. Structure of surfaces, Influence surface structure on reactivity. Molecular surface dynamics. Electronic structure of adsorbate layers. Nucleation and growth of crystals, thin film growth. Modern methods in surface science: scanning probe microscopy, photoelectron spectroscopies, electron diffraction. Molecular adsorption and self-assembly. Surface chemistry and heterogeneous catalysis and large-scale industrial synthesis.

Event The Political Economy of Africa's Development
06SE615-502b / Seminar / 3,064

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar focuses on the theoretical and empirical underpinnings of the natural resource curse (sometime referred to as the political resource curse). It delves into an ongoing debate on the relationship between natural resources endowment and development outcomes across the developing world. It also looks at the relationship between natural resource revenues and fiscal capacity (defined here as the ability of states to mobilize domestic revenues from a broad base) in developing countries.
At the end of the course, students will increase their understanding of:

The notions of a natural resource and how this relates to political, social and economic outcomes in developing countries;
How to theoretically and empirically examine the effect of natural resource endowment or dependence on the aforementioned outcome
Examine the moderating or mediating role of political institutions

Event Governance and Institutions in Africa
06SE615o503a / Seminar / 1,377

Description:

Business event contents:
This course begins with exploring how the political economy literature attempts to unbundle the concepts of governance and institutions. It assesses how the 'twin-concept' is evoked at different levels - international, nationa sub-national - in the discussion about the nature and evolution of states in Sub-Saharan Africa (SSA). The goal is to provide students with an overview of key historical, structural and contemporary factors shaping the nature and evolution of governance and institutions in SSA. As such, topics to be explored traverse issues around both pre and post-independence institutions, including attempts to bring governance closer to citizens through the process of decentralization.
At the end of the course, students will increase their understanding of:
a) The 'twin-concept' concept of governance and institutions and how relate to state of SSA
b) The historical and long-run origins of governance and institutions in SSA
c) The 'leaders' and 'laggards' in the quest for good gover thatis the case.

Notes:
The course will combine lectures with interactive activities involving class exercises, discussions and presentations. Students would also be expected to submit written assignments. A background in basic statistics and international politics will be useful but not constitute a prerequisite for the course. All lectures and presentations will be delivered in English, just as all written assignments.

Event Die koloniale und dekoloniale Welt
06VL600o012a / Course / 682

Description:

Business event contents:
In der Vorlesung geht es darum, die Epoche des Kolonialismus und der Dekolonisierung sowie den erinnerungspolitischen Umgang mit diesen geschichtlich relevanten Phänomenen anhand ausgewählter Themen und theoretischer Zugänge zu verstehen und dabei auch den Kolonialismus ohne Kolonie der Schweiz in den Blick zu nehmen. Dabei sollen auch grundsätzliche Fragen und Probleme der Geschichtswissenschaft - z.B. Präsentismus, Archiv, Perspektive - vorgestellt und diskutiert werden. Besonders relevant ist die Geschichte der Kolonialkritik und der Analyse des Kolonialismus von Intellektuellen aus den (ehemaligen) Kolonialgebieten. Die Beschäftigung mit erinnerungstheoretischen Debatten und Konzepten schliesslich soll ein besseres Verständnis aktueller Probleme ermöglichen.

- Identify and classify different enzyme classes based on their mechanism/EC numbers and understand the roles of coenzymes in enzyme-catalyzed reactions.
- Interpret enzyme kinetic data to assess enzyme activity and optimize reaction conditions.
- Understand different enzyme engineering techniques, such as rational design and directed evolution, to improve enzyme properties.
- Compare and understand molecular biology techniques, such as epPCR, DNA shuffling, and combinatorial libraries, to engineer enzymes with improved properties.
- Understand high-throughput screening methods, such as display systems in combination with FACS, to identify and select improved enzyme variants.
- Understand enzyme immobilization and kinetic resolution/desymmetrization techniques to specific enzyme classes for improved stability and selectivity.
- Understand the principles of enzyme kinetics, including Michaelis- Menten kinetics, inhibition, promoters, and multi-substrate enzymes, and apply them to optimize enzyme activity and select appropriate metrics for evaluation.
- Design and execute an enzyme engineering project, including the selection of appropriate strategies and methods for optimization.
- Understand the practical applications of biocatalysis and its potential for sustainable chemistry.
- Understand the industrial potential of biocatalysis and biocatalytic cascades for pharmaceuticals, agrochemicals, neutraceuticals, flavors and fragrances.
- Understand the importance of safety and ethical considerations in biocatalysis research and development.

Event Gruppe 02, Proseminar 1: Materielle Kultur und maritimer Handel
06SE600-007b / Seminar / 1,450

Description:

Business event contents:
Wie veränderte sich materielle Kultur im Laufe der Geschichte? Welche historischen Ereignisse und Entwicklungen beeinflussten das Konsumverhalten und die Handelswirtschaft nachhaltig? Mit dieser Fragestellung werden wir uns der Expansionspolitik der griechischen Stadtstaaten und des Römischen Imperiums (PS 2) sowie der europäischen Kolonialmächte (PS 1) annähern. An Fallbeispielen aus unterschiedlichen Geschichtsepochen erforschen wir die Auswirkungen des Kolonialismus auf Warenhandel und materielle Kultur. Zudem beleuchten wir, welche Einzelakteure und Akteursgruppen in das koloniale Handelssystem involviert waren. Im Proseminar 1, das der frühneuzeitlichen Epoche gewidmet ist, folgen wir den transatlantischen Handelsrouten für Warenimport und erkunden, wie dieser die lokale Güterproduktion prägte. Die wirtschaftlichen und sozio-kulturellen Einflüsse auf das Konsumverhalten untersuchen wir etwa an neuen Luxusgütern, die zum zeitgenössischen Statussymbol wurden. Hinsichtlich Materialität im Alltag nehmen wir auch die Sittenmandate unter die Lupe, mit welchen das Reformiertentum übermässigen Konsum zu regulieren versuchte.
Das Thema Wirtschaft in der Antike geht mit der Entwicklung der griechischen und römischen Gesellschaften einher. Nach einer Übersicht über wichtige wirtschaftliche Akteure antiker Gesellschaften (Bürger, Frauen, Soldaten und Sklaven) konzentriert sich das Proseminar 2 auf drei Makrobereiche: die Grundlagen der antiken Wirtschaft; die Verwaltung öffentlicher Unternehmen in Griechenland und Rom; die Rolle von Grossereignissen bei der Veränderung antiker Wirtschaftssysteme. Wir werden uns mit antiken Definitionen der Wirtschaftswissenschaften, der Funktionsweise des griechischen und römischen Handels, der materiellen Kultur wie Münzprägung, der Verwaltung grosser Bauwerke sowie den finanziellen und sozialen Auswirkungen bedeutender Ereignisse wie der griechischen Kolonisierung, der römischen Provinzialisierung und den Folgen von Epidemien befassen.

Wichtig: Die Unterrichtssprachen sind Deutsch (PS 1) und Englisch (PS 2).

Event Ökonomie der Kinderbetreuung im Mittelalter
06SE600-041a / Seminar / 3,327

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Geschichte der Kindheit seit dem Mittelalter wird oft als Prozess der Befreiung aus ökonomischen Zwängen und der zunehmenden Orientierung am Kindeswohl erzählt. Dabei ist gar nicht so klar, welche Rolle Kinder in der Bedürfnisbefriedigung von Haushalten im Mittelalter genau spielten - und ob vergleichbare Funktionen aus den Gesellschaften der Gegenwartsgesellschaft wirklich verschwunden sind. Wir fragen, mit welchen (oft generationsübergreifenden) Kosten- und Nutzenkalkülen die Zeugung, Geburt, Betreuung, Erziehung und Ausbildung von Kindern im Mittelalter verbunden war. Inwiefern gab es schon in der Vormoderne "Projektkinder"? Wie fügten sich der Austausch, die Verdingung, die Ziehelternschaft und der Einsatz von Kindern als Arbeitskräfte in zeitgenössischen Formen des Lebensunterhalts ein, und wie könnten die Kinder selbst dies erlebt haben? Wir befassen uns sowohl mit Beispielen adliger Fortpflanzungsstrategien und Kindererziehungspraktiken als auch mit der bäuerlichen und handwerklichen Haushaltsorganisation.

Event Digital Technology, Politics, and Policy-Making
06SE615-502a / Seminar / 694

Description:

Business event contents:
The seminar studies how digital technology has affected liberal democracies with a focus on social media and artificial intelligence (AI). Digital technology permeates the entire political process, affecting the flow of information among citizen and political actors, the connection between the mass public and political elites, and the development of policy responses to societal problems. The seminar discusses how social media and AI have shaped these different domains, with an empirical focus on both Switzerland and other cases such as the United States and the European Union, as well as other countries and regions. This seminar will prepare students to understand and debate the growing influence of social media and AI in the political sphere. During the Fall semester, students will prepare a research design for an empirical study to be conducted during the Spring semester.

06SE360-533a / Seminar / 1,870

Description:

Business event contents:
Vermittelt wird ein vertiefender Einblick in die unterschiedlichen Einsatzmöglichkeiten und Funktionen, welche die Vermittlung von Literatur in Bildungsprozessen haben kann. Eine Reflexion über die gesellschaftlichen Rahmenbedingungen des Gegenstands «Literatur» undseine Stellung in der «Bildung», sowie Chancen und Herausforderungenin seiner Vermittlung gehen Hand in Hand mit praktischer Umsetzung. Im Lauf des Semesters erarbeiten die Studierenden ihr eigenes Praxis-Projekt. In Zusammenarbeit mit einer Bildungseinrichtung erproben sie selbst didaktische Strategien und Methoden in der praktischen Umsetzung, die sie begleitend theoretisch reflektieren.

Event Bilder lesen
06SE360o612 / Seminar / 470

Description:

Business event contents:
Angesichts der neuen Bedeutung der elektronischen Medien wurde schon vor Jahrzehnten prognostiziert, dass wir in ein neues Zeitalter einer Bildkultur eintreten, in der die Schrift zunehmend an Bedeutung verliert. Entsprechend wurde auch konstatiert, dass das Lesen von Bildern eine immer wichtigere Schlüsselfertigkeit darstelle. Im Seminar werden wir entsprechenden Text-Bild-Beziehungen nachgehen, die zu einer buchstäblichen Lektüre von Bildern animieren. Dabei wird es zunächst um literarische Strategien gehen, die so etwas wie «Bildlichkeit» erzeugen. Weiterhin schauen wir uns unterschiedlicheFormen von Illustrationstechniken an, die zu multimodalen Formen von Lektüren anregen. Dabei werden wir bewusst auch auf die lange Tradition von Text-Bild-Konstellationen in der skandinavischen Kinder- und Jugendliteratur (u.a. Tove Jansson, Astrid Lindgren, Sven Nordqvist) Bezug nehmen. Schliesslich werden wir uns in einem letzten Abschnitt des Kurses mit der Bildlichkeit der Schrift selbst beschäftigen, die ebenfalls auf spannende Art für die Interpretation von Texten genutzt werden kann.

Course Materials:	Eine Liste mit relevanten Primär- und Sekundärtexten wird zu Beginn des Semesters zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event Ad fontes: Einführung in die Arbeit mit Archivquellen
06KO600o013a / Colloquium / 204

Description:

Business event contents:
Ad fontes! - Die geschichtswissenschaftliche Arbeit stützt sich ganz grundlegend auf Quellen. Doch gerade die vormodernen Quellen kommen selten so sauber und klar daher, wie der Begriff suggeriert. Meist sind sie sperrig und schwer zugänglich, in einer fremd wirkenden Schrift und Sprache abgefasst. Wer mit schriftlichen Überresten arbeiten, sie befragen und interpretieren will - kurz: wer Geschichte wissenschaftlich betreiben will -, muss über ziemlich viele Werkzeuge und Techniken verfügen.

In diese Arbeitsschritte führt das Kolloquium ein: Wir beschäftigen uns mit Handschriften aus dem Raum der spätmittelalterlichen und frühneuzeitlichen Deutschschweiz, welche wir lesen, transkribieren und bearbeiten lernen. In diesem Zusammenhang kommen auch Materialität, Herstellung, Gebrauch und Überlieferung von Schriftstücken zur Sprache. Darüber hinaus führt die Veranstaltung in die moderne Archivarbeit sowie in aktuelle KI-gestützte Tools und Methoden ein.

Die Archivarbeit befindet sich in einem grossen Umbruch. Jedes Jahr stehen mehr und mehr Quellen in digitaler Form zur Verfügung und digitale Methoden verändern auch die Analyse und Interpretation der Dokumente. In diesem Kolloquium verbinden wir daher bewährte analoge Vorgehensweisen mit digitalen Methoden und lernen auch das sogenannte maschinelle Lesen (machine reading) von Handschriften kennen, welches in den vergangenen Jahren stark verbessert worden ist und nun breite Anwendung findet.

Course Materials:	Die Vorbereitung der einzelnen Sitzungen erfolgt unter anderem über die Website des e-learning-Projektes 'Ad fontes' (https://www.adfontes.uzh.ch), während in den Sitzungen selbst die Arbeit mit den Dokumenten sowie die Einführung in verschiedene Tools und Nachschlagewerke im Vordergrund stehen wird.

Event Methoden und Beispiele der Auswertung mittelalterlicher Quellen
06KO600o014a / Colloquium / 2,088

Description:

Business event contents:
Wie untersucht man Quellen aus Gesellschaften wie jenen des Mittelalters, die wir nur in Ansätzen verstehen? Quellen, die überdies meist nur fragmentarisch und nach einer kaum nachvollziehbaren Systematik überliefert sind?
Im Kolloquium beschäftigen wir uns weniger mit Transkription, Übersetzung und Quellenkritik als mit Problemen und Möglichkeiten der Interpretation. Mich interessiert besonders, wie wir einzelne historische Akteur:innen, ihre Beziehungen und alltagsnahe Handlungsweisen und Weltverständnisse rekonstruieren können. Wie können wir dabei aus unserer eigenen Gegenwart stammende Vorannahmen einklammern, wie entwickeln wir produktive Fragen an die Quellen, wie setzen wir dabei Theorien sinnvoll ein? Inwiefern eröffnen Methoden des Distant Reading und Machine Learning sowie die digitale Verfügbarkeit von Quellen neue Möglichkeiten, wo werfen sie neue Probleme auf? Wir kombinieren die Lektüre von Texten mit der intensiven Arbeit an Quellenbeispielen.

Event Comparative Systematics and Evolution of Primates
07VLBIO207 / Course / 557

Description:

Business event contents:
The order Primates comprises many very diverse families, but also peculiar species with unique adaptations, such as aye-ayes, tarsiers, gibbons, or humans. In this course, we will explore the adaptive radiation of living primates and the distinguishing traits of taxonomic groups and representative species. Morphological characteristics are set in relation to behavioural traits such as activity period, locomotion, diet, ranging patterns, social structure and life history. Complementing the lectures, short videos and skeletal material are shown. Following an introduction in comparative phylogenetic studies in R, we will investigate relationships between various traits and test hypotheses about primate and human evolution (code provided).

Notes:
Primate systematics and characteristics are taught by the primatologist Dr. Thomas Geissmann.
An optional excursion to the Zoo of Mulhouse will be offered on a Saturday in April.

Event Reception of Israel’s Scriptures in the New Testament
01SE65LB031 / Seminar / 2,641

Description:

Business event contents:
The aim of the course is to equip students to grasp key exegetical questions and methodological steps for interpreting New Testament passages in their reception of the Scriptures of Israel.
The first part of the seminar will focus on the classical methodological steps of historical-critical exegesis, with particular attention to their application in intertextual analysis. A selected passage from the Gospel of Matthew will serve as a case study for practice and discussion.
The second part of the seminar will introduce the broader background of how the early Jesus movement developed distinctive ways of interpreting and applying the Scriptures of Israel in light of the eschatological event of the Messiah’s coming. It will also examine the role of the Scriptures of Israel in shaping early Christian theology and discuss key methodologies for analysing the intertextual relationship between the Scriptures of Israel and the New Testament.

Notes:
The course will take place online.

Students will learn to read non-English literature (mainly in German) with the help of AI translation tools.

Event Lernen
06SE226-520a / Seminar / 1,857

Description:

Business event contents:
Im Zentrum stehen grundlegende Fragen des Lernens: Was bedeutet Lernen? Wie lernen Schüler:innen? Wie entwickeln sich fachliche und überfachliche Kompetenzen? Welche Merkmale, Kontexte und Überzeugungen beeinflussen Lernprozesse, und wie kann das Lernen der Schüler:innen wirksam gefördert werden? Das Modul beleuchtet diese Fragen aus theoretischer und empirischer Perspektive unter Einbezug zentraler Modelle sowie aktueller internationaler Befunde der Lern- und Motivations sowie der Neurowissenschaft. Praxisnahe Herausforderungen werden anhand zielgruppenspezifischer Produkte wie Infografiken und Policy Briefs analysiert, aufbereitet und kritisch reflektiert. Leistungsnachweis: Benotete Gruppenarbeit bestehend aus der Entwicklung einer praxisnahen Fragestellung, einer Infografik und eines Policy Briefs.

Notes:
Das Modul wird als Blended-Learning-Seminar durchgeführt, in dem sich Präsenzveranstaltungen, kollaboratives Arbeiten in Lerngruppen und selbstständige Lernphasen abwechseln.

Event Excursion: The United Nations and Education - Past and Present
06EX226o513a / Field Trip / 928

Description:

Business event contents:
International organizations (IOs) play a central role in fostering intergovernmental cooperation in education and supporting global educational developments. A defining feature of the 21st century, for global governance and education, is the existence of development agendas, such as the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), officially adopted by countries at the United Nations General Assembly, defining aspirations and charting a course of action, among other goals, for global educational development. Among IOs, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) is the custodian agency for SDG 4 and has been tasked by UN Member States with steering and monitoring progress towards the targets adopted. UNESCO has been a historical actor of global educational development, promoting and supporting the right to education and facilitating intergovernmental dialogue and capacity building in education. Yet, while the organization is well known, the work of its international civil servants is less known and understood. This excursion will offer unique insights into the workings of IOs and the history of intergovernmental cooperation in education. Combining site visits and interviews with individuals working for UNESCO students will have the opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of one of the oldest and most central intergovernmental organization in education. Preceded by a preparatory session and followed by a wrap-up discussion, the excursion will give students a unique outlook on the political economy of global governance and education. Within the module the excursion will help students address questions such as: What is global educational development? Who are key and influential actors on the global stage? How do ideas travel from the global to the classroom? What is the historical evolution of UNESCO's role within the increasingly complex global governance architecture?

Notes:
Preparatory session: 17.02.2026 10.15-12.00 a.m. The preparatory session will take place in FRE-D-20.

06SE390-502a / Seminar / 3,325

Description:

Business event contents:
Dans ce séminaire, nous traiterons quatre types de phrases subordonnées: les phrases relatives, les phrases interrogatives enchâssées, les phrases corrélatives comparatives et les corrélatives consécutives en français et dans d'autres langues romanes. Nous ferons une description détaillée de la structure et du fonctionnement de ces quatre types de phrases et nous examinerons plus en détails le rôle de la conjonction de subordination "que" et son équivalent dans d'autres langues romanes.

Event À la recherche des origines du français écrit : le berceau anglais
06KO390-506a / Colloquium / 3,318

Description:

Business event contents:
Paradoxalement, la première phase d'élaboration du français écrit a eu lieu non pas en France, mais en Angleterre, au 12e siècle. D'après le travail séminal de Kürschner 1999, cette circonstance est due au prestige particulier dont le français jouissait en territoire insulaire en tant que langue dominatrice et à l'intérêt porté à la littérature vernaculaire anglo-saxonne par les colonisateurs continentaux qui s'y étaient établis. Depuis 1999, le sujet fascinant a connu des apports considérables du côté philologique mais la recherche est restée stagnante du point de vue linguistique. Le séminaire entend relancer l'enquête au moyen d'analyses linguistiques internes et sociolinguistiques de textes anglonormands diversifiés, dans une tentative de fournir un fondement empirique aux hypothèses acceptées ou à développer. La nature du français insulaire sera également retracée à partir des bribes phonétiques et lexicales que cette variété a laissé dans la langue anglaise.

Event Long Story Short: Die Kurzgeschichte als Form
06SE504o060a / Seminar / 1,889

Description:

Business event contents:
"The dénouement of a long story is nothing; it is just a 'full close', which you may approach and accompany as you please - it is a coda, not an essential member in the rhythm: but the body and end of a short story is bone of the bone and blood of the blood of the beginning." (Stevenson 1995: 155)

Obwohl das Verfassen kürzerer Erzählungen ohne Weiteres bis in die Antike zurückverfolgt werden kann, wird die Kurzgeschichte immer wieder als moderne Form beschrieben, deren Ursprünge im 19. Jahrhundert liegen (vgl. May 1995). So findet denn auch die Bezeichnung "short story" im englischsprachigen Raum erstmals ungefähr 1880 Verwendung und gewinnt daraufhin stetig an Bedeutung, um schliesslich zu einer zentralen Form zu werden, der auch in literaturwissenschaftlichen Kontexten grosse Aufmerksamkeit geschenkt wird.

In diesem Seminar lesen wir eine breite Auswahl von kurzen Erzählungen aus verschiedenen zeitlichen und sprachlichen Kontexten und untersuchen die Kurzgeschichte als literarische Form, die immer wieder mit Ideen von "Verdichtung" und "Intensivierung" in Verbindung gebracht wird. Dabei fragen wir uns unter anderem:

Was ist eine Kurzgeschichte überhaupt? Was heisst kurz? Wie kurz ist zu kurz, und wie lang ist zu lang? Welches Potenzial liegt in dieser Form, die sich ausschliesslich über ihre Länge definiert? (Was) hat der Aufschwung der Kurzgeschichte ab dem 19. Jahrhundert mit diesem Potenzial zu tun? Was ist eine "Kurzgeschichtensammlung", und macht es in gewissen Fällen vielleicht mehr Sinn, von "composite novels" (Kompositromanen) zu sprechen (vgl. Dunn & Morris 1995)?

Event Übungen zu Raumanalyse mit GIS; Gruppe 1
07UEGEO243.2 / Exercise Group / 3,333

Description:

Business event contents:
Einführung in die Benutzung von GIS anhand des Open Source GIS QGIS. Die grundlegenden theoretischen Konzepte, die GIS zugrunde liegen und die in der Vorlesung 07VLGEO243.1 eingeführt werden, sollen in diesen Übungen angewandt und dadurch besser verstanden werden. Insbesondere für die beiden unterschiedlichen Datenmodelle (Raster und Vektor) sowie verschiedene Typen von räumlichen Modellierungen und Analysen soll ein Verständnis vermittelt werden. Eine zweite Zielsetzung der Veranstaltung ist das Erlangen von Fertigkeiten im Umgang mit dem verwendeten Softwarepaket und mit gebräuchlichen Datensätzen von Open Data Zürich, swisstopo sowie OpenStreetMap.

Notes:
Nebenfachstudierende und externe Studierende können innerhalb der Kapazitätsgrenzen berücksichtigt werden. Es wird in Zweiergruppen gearbeitet.

Course Materials:	Schriftliche Aufgabenstellungen (pro Übungsserie abgegeben); Kurzanleitung zu verwendeter Software; Online Help; Homepage der Uebungen GEO243.2.

Event Waves of Knowing: Oceans and Rivers as Theoretical Spacesand the Decolonial Movements of Cinematic Thought
06KO255o501a / Colloquium / 3,239

Description:

Business event contents:
Zwischen Film und den Gewässern des Ozeans und der Flüsse besteht eine Nähe. Sie ist in der Fluidität begründet, der fliessenden Bewegung, aber auch im Imaginarium des Wassers als mythologischer Raum und Träger von Geschichten. Im Kontext der ökologischen Krisen und ihrer Ursprünge im kolonialen Extraktivismus sowie im Gedenken der «Unertrunkenen» des transatlantischen Sklavenhandels und der Passagenüber das Mittelmeer sind Gewässer gerade in jüngerer Zeit verstärkt zu einem Ort dekolonialen Denkens geworden.
Im Kolloquium werden wir den Bewegungen dieses Denkens folgen, entlang ausgewählter Schriften von Saidiya Hartman (Lose Your Mother. A Journey Along the Atlantic Slave Route, 2006), Christina Sharpe (In the Wake. On Blackness and Being,
2016), Astrida Neimanis (Bodies of Water. Posthuman Feminist Phenomonology,
2016), Macarena Gómez-Barris (The Extractive Zone. Social Ecologies and Decolonial Perspectives,
2017), Karin Amimoto Ingersoll (Waves of Knowing. A Seascape Epistemology,
2016), Erika Balsom (An Oceanic Feeling. Cinema and the Sea,
2018), Alexis Pauline Gumbs (Undrowned. Black Feminist Lessons from Marine Mammals,
2020), Melody Jue (Wild Blue Media. Thinking through Seawater,
2020), Adriana Michéle Campos Johnson («An Expanse of Water. How to Know Water through Film»,
2020), Sofia Lemos (Meandering. Art, Ecology and Metaphysics,
2024) und Dalida María Benfield («Cinema Flows, Like Water», 2024).

Ziel des Kolloquiums ist es, diese Texte in ihren historischen und diskursiven Zusammenhängen zu verstehen und für eine filmwissenschaftliche Lektüre zu erschliessen.

Event B: Pedagogical Grammar & Second Language Acquisition
06SE440-124d / Seminar / 349

Description:

Business event contents:
The study of Pedagogical Grammar in second language (L2) acquisition takes place at the intersection of descriptive grammar, L2-grammar instruction and L2 grammar acquisition. In this course, we will begin with an overview of these fields of study and their intersections (cf. Keck & Kim 2014: 3f). After a review of the different approaches taken to L2 grammar instruction and their theoretical background, we will focus on empirical evidence for the selection of different strategies and linguistic material for teaching L2 grammar.

We will leverage the possibilities and limitations offered by collections of native speaker data and learner language and proceed to grammatical core topics like the present perfect, relative constructions or modals and investigate how evidence can inform L2 grammar teaching in topics located at the grammar end of the lexis-grammar cline. There is a wide range of possible paper projects from the analysis of learner language, the comparison of course material and the target language to the analysis, selection and creation of teaching materials for specific linguistic phenomena.

Notes:
Paper deadline: October 28, 2026.
The Learning Portfolio consists of a short presentation (10-12 min) and a written task.

Course Materials:	For the first session, please read Keck & Kim (2014) pp 1-31, available on OLAT and reserve shelf. Consult the section Study Questions and Tasks on OLAT for the first session. Event Debatten, Diskurse, Dialoge - Politische Kommunikation in der Schweiz
06SE615-BAg / Seminar / 630

Description:

Business event contents:
Politik findet in Kommunikation statt, und Kommunikation ist auch irgendwie immer politisch. Politiker:innen, die Wahlversprechen machen; Plakate, die für Abstimmungen werben; Pressekonferenzen zu aktuellen Entwicklungen; Debatten im Parlament; der Einfluss von neuen Medien - aber auch die alltäglichen Diskussionen an Stammtischen und in Familien.
Doch wie funktioniert politische Kommunikation eigentlich? Wie beeinflussen das politische System und Weltanschauungen unsere Sprache? Welche rhetorischen Strategien werden benutzt um Menschen zu überzeugen und bewegen? Welche Stimmen haben besonderes Gewicht und wie kann man Manipulationen erkennen und allenfalls vermeiden?
Das Frühlingssemester dient dem Verfassen der Bachelorarbeit und erlaubt so den Studierenden eigene Forschung durchzuführen.

Event Nicht-Standard-Varietäten des Deutschen weltweit entdecken
06SE360-105a / Seminar / 2,189

Description:

Business event contents:
In diesem Seminar machen wir eine kleine Weltreise und schauen uns Varietäten des Deutschen an, die in anderen Ländern und auf anderen Kontinenten gesprochen werden. Dabei interessieren uns sowohl soziolinguistische Aspekte als auch sprachstrukturelle Besonderheiten, die auf Sprachkontakt mit der Umgebungssprache bzw. die Mehrsprachigkeit der Sprecherinnen und Sprecher zurückzuführen sind.
In soziolinguistischer Hinsicht interessiert die Entstehung der jeweiligen Varietät (z.B. ökonomische Gründe, die zur Auswanderung zwangen) und auch die Frage, ob die Varietät bis heute überlebt hat (die Sprache wird von den Sprecherinnen und Sprechern weitergegeben) oder vom Aussterben bedroht ist (die Sprache wird nicht mehr an die Kinder weitergegeben). In sprachstruktureller Hinsicht schauen wir uns interessante grammatische Phänomene an, die wir so möglicherweise in einer innerdeutschen Varietät gar nicht vorfinden würden. Wir arbeiten mit einem Digitalen Weltatlas, sodass wir die einzelnen Varietäten weltweit verorten können und in Bezug auf bestimmte Merkmale miteinander vergleichen können. Geplant ist zudem die Einladung von Expertinnen und Experten zu einzelnen Nicht-Standard-Varietäten des Deutschen weltweit.

Event Crafting Functional Organic Molecules
07VUCHE322.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 581

Description:

Business event contents:
Organic molecules are not only attractive synthetic targets. They also have their function. Benzaldehyde binds into a biological receptor in our body, resulting in a scent of marzipan. cis-Retinal absorbs light and isomerizes to trans-retinal, initiating a signal that ultimately leads to vision. Polyacetylene possesses conjugated skeleton, through which an electron can be transported from one end to another, giving rise to conductivity. Rubrene emits yellow light in its excited state and can serve as a light-emitting diode (LED) material in displays. And the list goes on, and we can even think about artificial molecular motors, which can move in one direction or perform work when fueled. Where does molecular function originate? What structural features are responsible for a specific function? How do molecules interact with light, how do they interact with one another, and how can their subunits work in unison? How to design and craft a molecule that should perform a particular task? Join this course and find out! Together we will dive into the fascinating world of molecular design and craft functional organic molecules :-)

Event Entwicklungsbiologie (Vorlesung)
07VLBIO142.1 / Course / 863

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Entwicklungsbiologie befasst sich mit den Mechanismen, welche zur Bildung komplexer Organismen führen. In den letzten Jahren wurde klar, dass unterschiedliche Entwicklungsvorgänge auf die gleichen, grundlegenden Konzepte zurückgeführt werden können. In der Vorlesung werden diese Konzepte eingeführt und durch Beispiele an Wirbellosen, Wirbeltieren und Pflanzen illustriert.

Event Einführung in die Ältere deutsche Literaturwissenschaft (Gruppe 5)
06SE360-103e / Seminar / 823

Description:

Business event contents:
Die mittelhochdeutsche Literatur ist ebenso vielgestaltig wie faszinierend: Geschichten von Rittern und Heiligen, Liebeslyrik und politische Dichtung sind aber nicht aus sich selbst heraus verständlich. Nicht nur die Sprachstufe des Mittelhochdeutschen, sondern auch die besonderen medialen Verhältnisse einer oftmals vor Anwesenden vorgetragenen und handschriftlich überlieferten Literatur sind Voraussetzungen der wissenschaftlichen Beschäftigung mit der deutschen Literatur des Mittelalters. Anhand von konkreten Beispielen führt eine Vorlesung in die komplexen literarhistorischen, medialen, ästhetischen und soziokulturellen Besonderheiten der mittelhochdeutschen Literatur ein. In einem begleitenden Seminar werden ausgehend von der Lektüre eines Texts bzw. Textcorpus die Grammatik des Mittelhochdeutschen behandelt und die Übersetzung mittelhochdeutscher Texte ins Neuhochdeutsche eingeübt.

Event Sätze in der Schule
06SE360-107c / Seminar / 3,036

Description:

Business event contents:
In diesem Seminar schauen wir uns einen zentralen Bestandteil des schulischen Sprachunterrichts, die Satzlehre, vor dem Hintergrund neuerer didaktischer Ansätze für den Grammatikunterricht an. Nachdem wir uns eine Übersicht über grundlegende Satztypen verschafft haben, wenden wir uns einzelnen Problembereichen aus dem Deutsch- sowie Fremdsprachenunterricht zu. Zum Abschluss diskutieren wir die erzielten Erkenntnisse im Hinblick auf aktuelle schulische Lehrpläne.

Event Frauenklöster als „besondere“ Bauaufgabe: Gender und Architektur im Mittelalter
06SE640-506a / Seminar / 1,160

Description:

Business event contents:
Frauenkonvente sind und waren aufgrund des Zulassungsverbots von Frauen zum Priesteramt besonderen Bedingungen unterworfen, die sich auch auf die räumliche Organisation ihren Klöster und Kirchen auswirkt und ausgewirkt hat. Das Klausurgebot, das im Mittelalter vor allem die Frauen betraf, besagte, dass ihre Klosteranlagen und ihre Kirchenräume so zu organisieren seien, dass sie ihren religiösen Pflichten nachkommen konnten, ohne mit der Aussenwelt in Kontakt zu treten. Da dies vielfach nicht leicht umzusetzen war, hat es vielfache Anpassungen und Kompensationsangebote gegeben, die sich sowohl in den Schriftquellen niedergeschlagen haben, aber auch an den Bauten und ihrer Ausstattung ablesbar sind. Im Seminar soll diesen Spezifika nachgegangen und gefragt werden, wie sich die genderspezifischen Gegebenheiten weiblicher Klostergemeinschaften in der Architektur und Ausstattung von Frauenklöstern niedergeschlagen haben; dabei soll auch ein besonderes Augenmerk auf die Entwicklung der Forschungsdiskussion in den letzten 30 Jahren gelegt werden.

Notes:
Die Referatsthemen werden in der 1. Lektion im Semester (18.02.2026) vorgestellt und verteilt.

Event Geschichte erzählen, Geschichte verstehen – von Herodot und Thukydides zu Hegel und Tolstoi
06VL600o005a / Course / 1,346

Description:

Business event contents:
Wie wird Geschichte erzählt und wie können wir sie überhaupt erfassen? Das Seminar geht dem Wesen des historischen Blicks nach und analysiert anhand der griechischen Klassiker (u.a. Herodot, Thukydides und Polybios), wie Geschichte erzählerisch gestaltet wird und zugleich den Anspruch erhebt, Wahrheit festzuhalten. Diese frühen Konzeptionen werden mit einflussreichen und originellen Texten der Neuzeit - etwa von Hegel und Tolstoi - kontrastiert, in denen sich neue Deutungsweisen, aber auch überraschende Kontinuitäten zeigen.

Im Mittelpunkt steht die Frage, wie aus Erzählung Erkenntnis wird, welche Formen historische Wahrheit annehmen kann und weshalb Geschichte immer auch ein Deutungsraum bleibt. Die Teilnehmenden erhalten nicht nur Einblicke in wichtige Texte zur Geschichtsschreibung, sondern zugleich eine Einführung in die großen theoretischen Debatten über Sinn, Narration und Wahrheit, die bis heute unser Verständnis von Geschichte prägen.

Event ST Seminar Ethik: #dearwhitechurch – Rassismuskritik, Kritisches Weißsein und postkoloniale Verantwortung in Kirche und
01SM23SS126 / Seminar / 2,774

Description:

Business event contents:
Rassismus gehört zu den langlebigsten und anpassungsfähigsten Ideologien der Moderne. Er ist tief in kulturelle Erzählungen, Wissenschaft, Sprache und Wertesysteme eingeschrieben. Auch Kirche und Theologie sind keine neutralen Räume: Sie sind historisch und strukturell von weißen Perspektiven geprägt und reproduzieren bis heute diskriminierende Zuschreibungen und Machtasymmetrien. Obwohl Kirchen sich selbst als antirassistisch verstehen, fehlt in der deutschsprachigen Theologie bislang eine breite rassismuskritische und postkoloniale Auseinandersetzung.
Dieses Seminar setzt hier an: Es führt in die Grundlagen der kritischen Rassismus- und Weißseinsforschung ein und erschließt deren Relevanz für die evangelische Sozialethik. Inhalte sind u.a.: white saviorism in Missionsarbeit und „Entwicklungshilfe“, Ethik diskriminierungssensibler Sprache, Umgang mit Rassismus und Rechtsextremismus in der Kirche sowie Schwarze und womanistische Ethikentwürfe. Studierende lernen Schlüsselbegriffe wie Intersektionalität, Mikroaggression, Postkolonialität/Dekolonialität, Othering und Critical Race Theory kennen und reflektieren deren Bedeutung für theologisch-ethische Fragestellungen.
Das Seminar verbindet ethische Analyse mit praxisorientierten Perspektiven: Wie können Seelsorge, Gottesdienst und Gemeindearbeit diskriminierungs- und diversitätssensibel gestaltet werden?
Ziel des Seminars ist es, (kolonial-)rassistische Strukturen – ob subtil oder offen, gesellschaftlich wie theologisch – sichtbar zu machen, Wege zum Abbau dieser Machtverhältnisse aufzuzeigen und zu fragen, wie Kirche zu einem safer space werden kann.

01SE27SS004 / Seminar / 1,526

Description:

Business event contents:
Produkte zum Anti-Aging und zur Leistungssteigerung beim Menschen werden längst von vielen gesellschaftlichen Gruppen im Alltag verwendet. Werden aber menschliche Körperteile z.B. durch Prothesen ersetzt, um die Funktionalität zu verbessern, kommt die Frage auf, wo die Grenzen des Machbaren gesetzt werden sollte. Der Umgang mit Technologie zum Zweck der Optimierung wirft Fragen der Gerechtigkeit, Gesundheitsversorgung und Rationalisierung und zum Menschenbild auf. Welches Leben ist „lebenswert“ und welche Rolle haben Menschen mit Behinderung? In diesem Seminar werden die Diskurse aus den Disability Studies und zeitgenössischer transhumanistischer Denker, die die stärksten Befürworter der Selbstoptimierung durch Technologie sind, analysiert.
Denker, die die stärksten Befürworter der Selbstoptimierung durch Technologie sind, analysiert.
Teilnehmende werden durch Vorträge, Podcasts, Lektüre und Diskussionen angeregt, ein technisch kritisches Verständnis sowohl für die Herausforderungen als auch für die Chancen durch den Einsatz von neuen Technologien zu entwickeln.

Event Regulatory Challenges in Financial Markets: From Banking and Insurance to Blockchain (L)
03VL22MO0134 / Course / 2,649

Description:

Business event contents:
What are the regulatory challenges in our days in the area of banking, insurance and blockchain? How could the financial specialists, asset and risk managers, actuaries, brokers, crypto specialists quickly react to the latest requirements of the supervisory authorities, enterprise risk management, blockchain developments in all aspects from solvency, auditing till legal aspects? The content of the lecture orients to a quick understanding of the real financial industry experience.

Basel III (and its updates) is an internationally agreed set of measures developed by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision in response to the financial crisis of 2007-09. The measures aim to strengthen the regulation, supervision and risk management of banks. The Swiss Solvency Test (SST) is a supervisory tool applied in Switzerland which adopts a risk-based and total balance sheet approach. Insurance companies are required to provide a market-consistent assessment of the value of their assets and liabilities.
Possible changes to these balance sheet positions are then modelled over a one-year period in order to arrive at the total required capital.

Notes:
The lecture will benefit from several invited contributions of senior representatives from FINMA and the financial services industry.

Event Cinema Expanded: Film als Idee und erweiterte Realität
06SE255o003a / Seminar / 539

Description:

Business event contents:
Was könnte ein erweitertes Kino sein? Ein Kino ohne Film, ohne Kamera, ohne Screen. Eine Idee, ein Experiment, eine Aktion, eine Performance, ein Klangraum, eine Computersimulation. Im Kopf, auf der Strasse, unter Wasser, im Weltraum. Als projizierter Lichtkegel, mit dem man interagiert (bei Anthony McCall), als Pappkasten, in dem man Brüste ertasten kann (bei Valie Export), als kybernetische Kuppel, die Bilder aus dem All empfängt (bei Stan Vanderbeek), als Schwimmbad mit unter Wasser hörbarem Soundtrack (bei Hélio Oiticica) oder als sauer eingelegte Filmstreifen im Küchenglas (bei Tony Conrad).
Unter dem Begriff des «Expanded Cinema» werden ganz unterschiedliche künstlerische Praktiken gefasst, die die Grenzen gewöhnlicher Weisen des Filmemachens und
-schauens ausloten und das Feld filmischer Erfahrung radikal erweitern. Seine Anfänge reichen zurück in die filmische Avantgarde der 1960er Jahre, als sich das Kino unter dem Eindruck technologischer Entwicklungen und politischer Bewegungen neu ausrichtete. Von heute betrachtet, im Blick auf die installativen und performativen Erweiterungen des Films sowie auf die Erkundung partizipativer und immersiver Formen filmischer Erfahrung, können diese Anfänge als wegweisend für die zeitgenössische künstlerische Praxis gelten.
Im Seminar werden wir die Geschichte des Expanded Cinema aus der Perspektive heutiger Filmerfahrung erschliessen. Ziel ist es, sowohl ein historisches Verständnis erweiterter Formen des Films zu entwickeln als auch zu explorieren, wie sich diese Formen in aktuellen künstlerischen Arbeiten und Projekten artikulieren. Dabei wird es auch darum gehen, nach der neuerlichen Relevanz eines erweiterten Kinos in seinen sozialen, ökologischen und pädagogischen Dimensionen zu fragen. In diesem Zusammenhang sind auch gemeinsame Ausflüge in das erweiterte Feld des Films geplant. Diese sind Bestandteil des Seminars und können ausserhalb der regulären Seminarzeiten liegen.

Event Progress and Decline: The Late Victorians
06SE440-223b / Seminar / 2,398

Description:

Business event contents:
Covering the last quarter of the nineteenth century, the late Victorian period was a time of striking contrasts. As the height of the "age of progress," it witnessed the unprecedented growth of British cities and the rapid expansion of the British Empire, driven by technological innovations such as the steam engine. Yet, this period was also marked by a widespread pessimism about the fragile state and future of human civilization.

Literary texts from the turn of the century offer fascinating insights into these tensions and trends. In Bram Stoker's "Dracula" (1897), cutting-edge technology such as the newly invented phonograph is deployed to track an archaic enemy who threatens to infiltrate the capital of the British Empire and transform innocent housewives into murderous vampires. Meanwhile, H.G. Wells's "The Time Machine" (1895) follows a time traveller who uses a bicycle-like device to journey into the distant future, where humanity has declined rather than advanced.

First published in the final year of the nineteenth century, Joseph Conrad's "Heart of Darkness" tells the story of an ambitious and highly sophisticated European colonizer who succumbs to the temptations of the African wilderness, "going savage" rather than "civilizing" the Indigenous population. Before Conrad, several other writers had explored the hidden, dual nature of modern civilization - most famously Robert Louis Stevenson in "Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde" (1886) and Oscar Wilde in "The Picture of Dorian Gray" (1890/91). Beneath Dr Jekyll's impeccable reputation and social standing, and beneath Dorian Gray's astonishing beauty and eternal youth, lies an ugly truth.

Through close and contextual readings of these key texts, we will explore themes of degeneration, doubleness, and reverse colonization to gain a deeper understanding of fin-de-siècle literature and its surrounding cultural discourses.

Notes:
All five texts covered in this course are also featured on the Reading List for the "Literature in Context" module. Of these, three are novellas and therefore relatively short. "Dracula" is by far the longest text, and I strongly recommend reading it before the start of the semester to keep the workload during the teaching period manageable.

Essay deadline: September 1st, 2026.

Im Kurs hören Sie unterschiedliche kürzere Audiobeiträge in allen BKMS-Sprachen: Nachrichten, Aufnahmen von literarischen Texten, Podcasts, Gespräche im Alltag, populäre Songs etc. In den Präsenzstunden bemühen wir uns, jedes gesprochene Wort zu verstehen, wobei Ihnen unterschiedliche Übungen helfen. Wöchentlich erstellen Sie eigene kurze Audioaufnahmen, in denen Sie ausgewählte Stellen aus den behandelten Audiobeiträgen nachsprechen (in der BKMS-Sprache Ihrer Wahl) - dabei üben Sie den eigenen mündlichen Ausdruck, vor allem in Bezug auf die richtige Betonung der Wörter und auf die Satzintonation.

Event Macht Politik einen Unterschied? Vollzug & Wirkungen der Politik in der Schweiz
06SE615-BAj / Seminar / 1,912

Description:

Business event contents:
Der Staat legitimiert sich heute nicht nur durch Demokratie und Rechtsstaatlichkeit, sondern auch durch seine Leistungsfähigkeit. So treten der Politikvollzug und seine Wirkungen in den Fokus. Die Analyse der Prozesse und Wirkungen öffentlicher Politiken und deren systematische & transparente Bewertung sind zunehmend institutionalisiert und erhalten einen bedeutenden Stellenwert bei der Politikgestaltung (Stichwort: 'evidence based policy making'). Die damit befasste Evaluation hat sich als ein zentrales angewandtes Tätigkeitsfeld der Sozialwissenschaften etabliert.
Die Evaluation ist damit ebenso Anwendung wie Gegenstand der Politikwissenschaft.
Der Kurs führt in die Grundlagen der Evaluation ein. Neben Begriffen und Konzepten der Evaluation werden auch deren Geschichte thematisiert und diverse Evaluationsmodelle kritisch reflektiert.
Im Frühjahrssemester realisieren, präsentieren und diskutieren die Teilnehmenden die im Herbstsemester konzipierten BA-Arbeiten.

Event Mehrsprachigkeitsorte und Geopoetik
06UE480-002a / Exercise Group / 2,070

Description:

Business event contents:
Viele Orte und Regionen in Ostmittel-, Ost- und Südosteuropa waren und sind mehrsprachig. Das macht diese Orte transkulturell und multiperspektivisch. Die Gründe dafür sind vielfältig: erzwungene und freiwillige Migration, späte oder verhinderte Nationalstaatlichkeit, Kolonialismus und imperiale Kriege. In unserem Seminar erforschen wir diese Mehrsprachigkeitsorte einerseits aus historischer und linguistischer Perspektive. Wir fragen: Was erzählen sie uns? Andererseits erforschen wir sie aus literarischer Perspektive. Denn diese Orte bringen Literatur in unterschiedlichen Sprachen hervor. Wir wollen etwas über die literarische Existenz dieser Orte erfahren, über Orte als Schauplätze von Literatur, über die Fiktionen und die Geopoetik, die über und in diesen Orten entstehen.

Event Varieties of Economic History
06SE599-504a / Seminar / 3,158

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar aims to discuss the methodological, theoretical, and empirical variety of economic history. In contrast to other source and archival based research seminars, students are expected to write an in-depth analytical paper primarily based on secondary literature and using a selected research monograph as a starting point.

This seminar will not provide a survey of classical authors, themes, and approaches but rather, through common discussions of selected monographs and additional journal articles, will explore the multiple ways of doing economic history. We will focus on the differences, boundaries, and overlaps between qualitative and quantitative approaches as well as between economic history and other fields of historical inquiry (such as social history, history of science, global history, gender history, etc.).

Event Bildungsbenachteiligung und Schulentwicklung
06SE226o524a / Seminar / 476

Description:

Business event contents:
Bildungsbenachteiligung wird verstanden als eine Benachteiligung von Schüler:innengruppen, die aufgrund systematischer Diskriminierungsstrukturen und -prozesse im Bildungssystem und der Gesellschaft einen eingeschränkten Zugang zu Bildungsangeboten haben und Bildungsziele weniger erfolgreich erreichen können, als Schüler:innen aus privilegierten sozialen Gruppen. Der Grad der Bildungsbenachteiligung ist gerade in den deutschsprachigen Ländern, insbesondere auch in der Schweiz, überdurchschnittlich hoch. Umso mehr drängt sich die Frage auf, welches die Gründe sind und welche Ansätze bestehen, Bildungsbenachteiligungen zu reduzieren. In diesem Modul findet zum einen eine systematische Auseinandersetzung mit theoretischen Grundlagen und empirischen Befunden im Zusammenhang mit Bildungsbenachteiligungen statt. Zum anderen werden verschiedene Handlungsansätze in Bezug auf die Weiterentwicklung von Bildungssystemen diskutiert.

Event Kanondebatten
06KO255o001a / Colloquium / 1,699

Description:

Business event contents:
Welche Texte und Filme nehmen wir bewusst oder unbewusst als kanonisch wahr - und weshalb? Was steht auf unseren Lektürelisten und in unseren Fussnoten? Wer wird darin jeweils repräsentiert und adressiert, wer nicht? Warum werden bestimmte Autor:innen immer wieder zitiert, bestimmte Filme immer wieder besprochen?
Wo es die Annahme eines verbindlichen, bewahrenswerten und tradierbaren Wissens gibt, ist Teilhabe eine Frage von Kennerschaft und dem Zurechtfinden in einer «Dynamik aus Gemeinwissen und Geheimwissen» (Waack). Als Bezugsrahmenhaben Kanones damit eine ebenso identitäts- und gemeinschaftsstiftende wie ausgrenzende Funktion. Sie normieren und werten, beeinflussen Verfügbarkeit und Sichtbarkeit, schliessen ein und aus, reproduzieren Machtstrukturen und reduzieren Komplexität.
Im Kolloquium lesen wir gemeinsam Texte zum Thema Kanon und Kanonkritik, spüren den Dynamiken von Kanonisierungsprozessen an Beispielen einzelner Texte und Filme nach und diskutieren Möglichkeiten und Fallstricke eines reflexiven und kritischen Umgangs mit dem Kanon.

Event Entscheidungsprozesse in der Schweizer Politik
06SE615-510a / Seminar / 851

Description:

Business event contents:
Ausgangspunkt dieses Forschungsseminars bildet die Frage, wie in der Schweiz politische Entscheidungen getroffen werden. Der Fokus liegt dabei weniger auf der individuellen Meinungsbildung, sondern auf kollektiven Entscheidungen. Dabei befassen wir uns beispielsweise mit folgenden Fragestellungen: Welche Akteure (wie Parteien, Verbände, Interessengruppen, aber auch staatliche Stellen) beteiligen sich in welchen Phasen und mit welchen Mitteln an welchen Entscheidungen? Mit welchem Erfolg tun dies diese Akteure und wie lässt sich deren Einfluss auf die Politikgestaltung erklären?
Das zentrale Erkenntnisinteresse besteht darin, Faktoren herauszuarbeiten, welche die Ausgestaltung politischer Entscheidungsprozesse beeinflussen. Auf methodischer Ebene steht der Vergleich qualitativer Fallstudien im Vordergrund. Auf der Basis dieser Fallstudien erfolgen standardisierte Analysen mit dem 'Actor Process Event Scheme' (APES). Bei Interesse können selbstverständlich auch quantitative Analysendurchgeführt werden.
Im Frühjahrssemester befassen sich die Teilnehmenden mit der Realisierung der von ihnen im Herbstsemester konzipierten Untersuchung.
Weiter werden die Arbeiten präsentiert und diskutiert.

Event Das frühe Streichquartett
06SE760-006a / Seminar / 617

Description:

Business event contents:
Im 18. Jahrhundert entstand mit dem Streichquartett eine der bedeutendsten, europäischen Gattungen. In nur wenigen Jahrzehnten war es auf dem gesamten Kontinent zu finden und ist bis heute einer der prestigeträchtigsten Vertreter der Kammermusik. Dabei nahm das Streichquartett gerade in seiner Frühphase die unterschiedlichsten Formen an, bevor es seine heute bekannte Gestalt erhielt. Im Seminar setzen wir uns mit der Entstehung und Entwicklung der Gattung auseinander. Über Haydn, Mozart und Beethoven hinaus werden dabei anhand von weiteren, repräsentativen Werken des 18. Jahrhunderts gängige musikalische Analyseverfahren erlernt und eingeübt.

Event Musik als Familiensache: Die Bachs
06VL760o008a / Course / 2,136

Description:

Business event contents:
Johann Sebastian Bach ist eine wichtige Gestalt der Musikgeschichte des 18.
Jh.: Er stammt aus einer verzweigten Musikerfamilie, war mit einer Hofsängerin verheiratet, schuf vielfältige Instrumentalmusik und herausragende Werke der protestantischen Kirchenmusik. Er hat aber auch eine Sonderstellung: Er komponierte keine Opern, äusserte sich nicht öffentlich zu aktuellen ästhetischen Debatten und wirkte die längste Zeit auf einer scheinbar unspektakulären städtischen Kantorenstelle. Andererseits zeigt sich in seinen Kompositionen sehr offen für die musikalischen Strömungen seiner Zeit. Dabei schöpft er alle kompositorischen Möglichkeiten (wie in den gelehrten Spätwerken, z.B. dem 'Musikalischen Opfer') aus: "es muß alles möglich zu machen seyn". Bachs Werk soll in der Vorlesung kontextualisiert und zwischen Traditionen des 17. Jh. und Innovationen sowie im Vergleich mit Zeitgenossen (wie Telemann oder Händel) und Werken der Bach-Familie diskutiert werden. Auch sein Nachwirken bis in die Musik der Gegenwart wird thematisiert.

Event Künstliche Intelligenz sinnvoll in der Geschichtswissenschaft einsetzen
06SE600-001c / Seminar / 1,787

Description:

Business event contents:
In diesem Seminar werden wir uns mit der Integration von Künstlicher Intelligenz (KI) in die Geschichtswissenschaft auseinandersetzen und die damit verbundenen methodologischen und historiographischen sowie ethischen Fragen untersuchen. Die Anwendung von KI-Technologien in der Geschichtsforschung hat sowohl begeisterte Befürworter als auch skeptische Stimmen hervorgebracht. Wir werden kritisch reflektieren, wie KI-Systeme historische Daten analysieren, interpretieren und präsentieren können und welche Auswirkungen dies auf die Art und Weise hat, wie wir Geschichte verstehen und untersuchen. Im Fokus werden KI-Tools (wie z.B. ChatGPT, Gemini, NotebookLM, Perplexity, Midjourney, GitHub Copilot u.v.m.) stehen. Ziel ist es, ein vertieftes Verständnis für die Potenziale und Grenzen von KI in der Geschichtswissenschaft zu entwickeln und dabei auch Fragen der Datenethik zu berücksichtigen. Durch Diskussionen, Fallstudien und praktische Übungen werden wir die verschiedenen Perspektiven auf dieses komplexe Thema erkunden und reflektieren.

Lernziele werden
u.a. sein:

- Verstehen, wie generative KI funktioniert (Technik dahinter) und mit welchen Daten sie trainiert wird.
- Wissen, was generative KI für die Geschichtswissenschaft leisten kann und wo ihre Grenzen liegen.
- Verstehen, wie wir die KI bestmöglich für unsere Zwecke nutzbar machen und anweisen ("Prompting") können.
- u.v.m.

Ausgehend von aktuellen Use Cases aus der Forschung und Lehre werden Einsatzszenarien der KI besprochen, Möglichkeiten für Forschung und Lehre aufgezeigt, aber auch neue ethische Verantwortlichkeiten diskutiert, die mit diesen Technologien einhergehen.

Notes:
Der Leistungsnachweis setzt sich wie folgt zusammen: Beiträge und aktive Teilnahme an den praktischen Übungen während der Sitzungen (25%) sowie eine schriftliche Seminararbeit (75%), die im Anschluss an die Lehrveranstaltung zu erbringen ist (zweisemestriges Modul).
Abgabetermin für die schriftliche Seminararbeit ist voraussichtlich der 09.11.2026.

Die Note des ersten Teils des Seminars (25%) setzt sich wie folgt zusammen: aktive Teilnahme an Hands-on-Übungen (v.a. das Testen von KI-Tools); Diskussion, Evaluation und Präsentation von Übungsergebnissen im Plenum; Inputs zu ausgewählten Themen (zwei- bis dreiminütig); Vorbereiten und Präsentieren einzelner Inhalte (evtl. in kleinen Gruppen); Änderungen vorbehalten.

Course Materials:

Da im Seminar auch das selbstständige Ausprobieren von KI-Tools im Fokus stehen soll, wird dringend geraten, dass alle Teilnehmenden zu jeder Sitzung einen eigenen Laptop oder ein eigenes Tablet zur Verfügung haben.

Einführende Lektüre: Ohly und Schreiber: Einleitung zu KI:Text, DeGruyter; https://www.degruyter.com/document/doi/10.1515/9783111351490-002/html

Wir werden gemeinsam die aktuellste Forschung durch Lektüre und kritische Reflexion erarbeiten, um das Potenzial zu erkennen, die digitalen Geschichtswissenschaften als eigenes Feld weiterzuentwickeln (mit Schwerpunkt auf KI). Entsprechendes Material wird im Seminar zur Verfügung gestellt. Ein grundsätzliches Interesse an digitalen Methoden und historischen Entwicklungen wird vorausgesetzt.

Event Soziale Grammatik
06UE360o003a / Exercise Group / 2,915

Description:

Business event contents:
Dieses Seminar schlägt eine Brücke zwischen formaler Grammatikforschung und Soziolinguistik, indem wir uns anschauen, auf welche Weise Kategorien der sozialen Bedeutung in grammatischen Strukturen ausgedrückt werden. Wir (er)kennen alle den Unterschied zwischen "du" und "Sie", aber warum erscheinen uns auch Satzformen wie "Kannst du mir das Buch geben?" höflicher als "Gib mir das Buch!"? Und wie (und wann) lernen Kinder diese Unterschiede? Sprachliche Formen drücken zudem immer auch unsere soziale Identität und Zugehörigkeit aus - eine weitere Dimension der sozialen Bedeutung, die wir uns im Hinblick auf ihre sprachlichen Reflexe genauer anschauen.

Event Gewissen erzählen. Narrative Ethik im Mittelalter
06KO360o007a / Colloquium / 1,365

Description:

Business event contents:
Unter dem Leitbegriff der 'narrativen Ethik' fragt das Seminar nach einem spezifischen Modus mittelalterlichen Erzählens, der nicht primär moralische Normen vermittelt, sondern ethische Reflexion ermöglicht.
Im Mittelpunkt steht dabei weniger die explizite 'Moral der Geschichte', sondern die Frage, wie ethische Konflikte erzählerisch gestaltet, inszeniert und erfahrbar gemacht werden. Ausgangspunkt der Lektüre ist der "Willehalm" von Wolfram von Eschenbach, der durch seine moralischen Ambivalenzen besonders anschlussfähig ist.
Ergänzend analysieren wir theologisch-philosophische Texte (u.a. Augustinus, Thomas von Aquin), um historische Konzeptionen des Gewissens zu erschliessen und diese in den literarischen Kontext einzuordnen.

Event Solid State and Materials Chemistry
07VUCHE325.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 2,912

Description:

Business event contents:
This course is designed as an introduction to the fundamentals of modern materials chemistry and design. Structure-property relationships of important solid materials are discussed with special emphasis on their application potential. The lecture starts with an introduction to the fundamental concepts of point/space groups, crystallography and diffraction techniques. Next, the most important inorganic structure types are explained in detail. Subsequently, the different types of defects in solids are introduced. This lays the foundation for technologically important properties of solids, such as conductivity, optical properties, and cooperative phenomena (e.g. magnetism and ferroelectricity). Further information about the electronic structure of solids rounds off the discussion of materials development. Finally, contemporary synthetic techniques and emerging research fields will be covered as an outlook on applied solid state chemistry.

Event Wirtshausgeschichten – der Wirt und das Gasthaus in schwankhaftem Erzählen
06SE360-110b / Seminar / 3,255

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Wirtshaus ist in spätmittelalterlichen und frühneuzeitlichen Texten ein zentraler (halb-)öffentlicher Ort, an dem konsumiert, geredet, gespielt, gelacht, gesungen, gegaukelt, gestritten, gehandelt und geschlafen wird. Menschen verschiedener Berufe und sozialer Schichten kommen im Gasthaus zusammen, Aufführungen, Feste sowie Trauerfeiern finden statt, Meinungen werden ausgetauscht, Flugblätter verkauft, Neuigkeiten überbracht. Das Wirtshaus ist also sowohl ein Ort, an dem sich Geschichten abspielen, als auch ein Ort, an dem Geschichten erzählt werden. Als Stätte des Genusses, der Verschwendung und des Glücksspiels gerät es zudem immer wieder in Kritik. Die Spannung zwischen Masshalten und Exzess bietet Stoff für Lasterlehre, Satire, Schwankerzählen. So vielfältig wie das Wirtshaus ist auch sein Personal: nebst den Gästen insbesondere die Wirtsleute. Mal sind sie naiv und leicht übers Ohr zu hauen, mal treten sie gewitzt und betrügerisch auf. Den Wirt als schillernde Figur und das Wirtshaus als Mikrokosmos der frühneuzeitlichen Gesellschaft möchten wir in diesem Seminar näher untersuchen. Ihnen begegnen wir (u.a.) in Texten wie dem «Narrenschiff», dem «Lalebuch», einer Moritat von Pamphilus Gengenbachoder in Schwanksammlungen wie Wickrams «Rollwagenbüchlein» oder Montanus' «Wegkürtzer».

Event A: Second language development
06SE440-124c / Seminar / 193

Description:

Business event contents:
Learning new languages is a common human experience. Whether we are required to learn a language at school, or whether the need is driven by economic opportunity, survival, ancestral connection or even love, the human capacity to learn new languages raises many questions. How do humans manage the complex task of learning new linguistic structures? Why are some people better at language learning than others? What is the relationship in the mind between established and new language patterns? How can we learn languages more effectively?

This BA seminar offers insight into these and other questions through examining theoretical approaches, empirical methods and findings in second language acquisition research. Topics include features of language learners and their learning processes (e.g., age, crosslinguistic influences), individual influences on language development (e.g., motivation, aptitude) and social dimensions (e.g., identity, community). Students will have an opportunity to carry out a small research project on an aspect of language learning that interests them.

Learning objectives:

- Gain insight into how humans acquire additional languages and what makes this process more or less successful across individuals.
- Analyze how cognitive, emotional, and environmental factors shape the development of new linguistic abilities.
- Engage critically with different perspectives on language learning by interpreting data and evaluating current debates in the field.
- Develop research skills by formulating questions, collecting data, and reflecting on real-world language learning experiences.

Notes:
Assessment and weighting:
1. Activity (field work, experiments) - 17%
2. Oral presentation - 17%
3. Final paper - 66%

ad 1-2: Course participants will carry out small-scale research projects in order to gain hands-on experience with methods and techniques covered in class and in order to critically assess the advantages and disadvantages of each method. Afterwards they will present the results of their projects in class.

ad 3: Paper submission deadline: August 22, 2026

Course Materials:	There is no textbook for this course. Readings will be drawn from a combination of book chapters and journal articles, such as the following: Ortega, L. (2009). Understanding second language acquisition. Routledge. A more complete list will be available on OLAT from February 1, 2026.

Event Justiz im frühneuzeitlichen Europa - Versuche mit einem Podcast
06SE600-516d / Seminar / 1,679

Description:

Business event contents:
Vergangene Vorstellungen von Recht und Ordnung sind ein wesentlicher Gegenstand der Kriminalitätsgeschichte und Rechtsgeschichte. Wie und wer erlässt mit welcher Begründung Gesetze? Wie werden diese Gesetze implementiert? Wie sieht Strafverfolgung in der Praxis aus? Mit solchen empirischen Forschungsfragen verbinden sich grundsätzliche theoretische Probleme: Worin unterscheiden sich Rechtsgeschichte und Kriminalitätsgeschichte? Ist Justizpraxis Durchsetzung oder Umsetzung von rechtlichen Normen? Ist frühneuzeitliche Rechtspraxis ungerecht? Nach einer Phase der Erarbeitung solcher Fragen an archivalischen Beispielen, wird zu diskutieren sein, inwiefern die gewonnenen historischen Erkenntnisse sich in einem Podcast vermitteln lassen: Welcher Podcasttyp eignet sich zur Vermittlung? Welche geschichtstheoretischen Probleme entstehen bei der Entwicklung eines historischen Podcasts? Ziel soll die experimentelle Ausarbeitung eines Podcastmanuskripts auf der Grundlage eines Notzuchtfalls im frühneuzeitlichen Zürich oder eines selbst gewählten frühneuzeitlichen Fallbeispiels sein. Sofern das Experiment gelingt, ist geplant, eine Aufnahme des/der Podcasts zu ermöglichen. Informationen zur Berücksichtigung des Seminarthemas für die Ausarbeitung der Seminararbeit erfolgen in der ersten Sitzung.

Notes:
Leistungsnachweis: Der Leistungsnachweis besteht aus einem Portfolio, das sich aus der benoteten schriftlichen Arbeit (75%) und von im Lernprozess zu erbringenden Leistungen (25%) zusammengesetzt. Über die Zusammensetzung und die Art der im Lernprozess zu erbringenden Leistungen, über die Anforderungen an die MA-Seminararbeit ebenso wie über die Regeln zur Nutzung von KI wird in der ersten Sitzung des Moduls informiert. Abgabefrist für die Seminararbeit in Papier- wie in elektronischer Form ist spätestens der 01.11.2026.

Event Utopie Bildung: Krise der Imagination?
06SE226o512a / Seminar / 3,156

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Bedeutung der Imagination wird gerade in ihrer Krise sichtbar. Die(se) Negativität ist ein Topos des bildungsphilosophischen Nachdenkens. Lange Zeit war es nicht gut um den Ruf der Imagination bestellt. Sie gebäre nur Trugbilder, welche den Zugang zum Erkennen des wahren Seins verhinderten oder ganz unmöglich machten. Sie sei höchstens in der Kunst von einer gewissen Bedeutung, führe aber beim Urteilen über die Wirklichkeit in die Irre. Heute wird die Imagination jedoch - zum Glück - anders, positiver eingeschätzt, insbesondere auch aus bildungstheoretischer Sicht. Während das radikal Neue wohl nicht vorstellbar ist, und nicht verstehbar, wirkt die Imagination dennoch schöpferisch, indem sie neue Sichtweisen versucht. Abwesendes und Vergangenes geistig vergegenwärtigen - in dieser Tätigkeit arbeiten das Erinnerungsvermögen und die Imagination eng zusammen. Doch die Imagination ermöglicht auch, sich Abwesendes als das Noch-nie-Dagewesene vorstellen zu können, sich künftig andere, bessere Zustände vor Augen zu führen, was wiederum das Handeln in der Gegenwart beeinflussen kann und vielleicht soll. Hoffnung ist imaginativ. Narrative der Hoffnung sind verbunden mit Narrativen der Herkunft; »Zukunft braucht Herkunft« heißt es zu Recht. Ihre Verknüpfung leistet die Imagination, die damit vom Gebundensein an nackte Gegenwart zu befreien vermag. Darin stecken ihr lebenspraktischer, ja lebenswichtiger Bezug sowie ihre politische Bedeutung - dies möglicherweise positiv als Utopie, warnend als Dystopie, oder aber negativ als Ideologie (Ricœur, 1986).

Notes:
Bereitschaft zur Teilnahme an der Seminarsitzungen sowie deren Vor- und Nachbereitung wird erwartet.

Event Littérature française globale @ UZH
06VL390o022a / Course / 1,884

Description:

Business event contents:
Cette série de conférences en ligne réunira des collègues des études littéraires françaises du monde entier - des chercheurs, d'une part, qui travaillent sur la littérature française ou francophone en Asie, en Europe, en Amérique du Nord et du Sud, sans être eux-mêmes de langue maternelle française, et, d'autre part, des francophones qui enseignent et analysent la littérature française dans un pays où une autre langue est parlée.

Elles et ils aborderont les défis et les possibilités uniques qu'implique cette «altérité», cette «distance» et cette «étrangeté» dans lesquelles ils se trouvent en tant que locuteurs non natifs par rapport à la langue, la culture et la littérature qu'ils étudient - ou inversement en réfléchissant à ce que cette situation d'«extraterritorialité» signifie en termes d'étude et d'enseignement de sa propre langue, littérature et culture dans un environnement différent.

De cette manière, les étudiantes et étudiants peuvent faire un «tour du monde» des études en littérature française et francophone actuelle, du Japon au Canada, en passant par l'Italia et le Royaume Uni, par le Brésil et Puerto Rico, et seront introduits à une perspective transculturelle sur la littérature française.

La série de conférences n'aurait pas pu être réalisée sans le soutien de l'association UZH Alumni.

Course Materials:	Les matériaux seront fournis aux étudiantes et étudiants.

Event Ces textes qui osent nommer les choses pour donner du courage
06VL390o023a / Course / 526

Description:

Business event contents:
Voltaire, Olympe de Gouges, Émile Zola, Aimé Césaire, et bien d'autres encore - nombreux sont, en effet, les auteurs et les autrices qui ont pris la plume pour dénoncer des injustices, éveiller les consciences et proposer des alternatives là où tout semblait figé.
En parcourant les époques et les espaces, nous relirons leurs textes, les situerons dans leurs contextes respectifs, et étudierons comment la force de la parole littéraire peut ouvrir des horizons et raviver l'espoir.

Course Materials: Les textes seront mis à disposition sur OLAT.

Event Paesaggi e giardini nella letteratura italiana
06VL410o032a / Course / 2,236

Description:

Business event contents:
Il corso propone un percorso, che si estende da Dante al Rinascimento, attraverso analisi di descrizioni letterarie di giardini e paesaggi. Ci interrogheremo da una parte sulle modalità di descrizione e i valori simbolici attribuiti agli spazi naturali evocati, dall'altra sulla percezione della natura e sullo sguardo del soggetto che stanno alla base di questi brani. Un'indagine sulla genesi della pittura di paesaggio nel Rinascimento e la concomitante creazione della categoria di "paesaggio" completa il percorso.

Course Materials: I testi vengono messi a disposizione sulla piattaforma OLAT.

Event La retorica degli affetti nella letteratura italiana
06VL410o033a / Course / 1,798

Description:

Business event contents:
Qual è il ruolo degli affetti nella letteratura? Fin da Aristotele, l'efficacia di un testo è stata ricondotta anche alla sua capacità di suscitare emozioni. La partecipazione affettiva al mondo rappresentato, insieme al piacere intellettuale ed estetico, costituisce una delle forze trainanti della lettura di un testo letterario.
Questo corso esplora l'interazione tra affetti, cognizione ed espressione, analizzando le strategie retoriche e narrative. Attraverso ''close reading'' e analisi complessive di testi dal Trecento al Duemila - da Petrarca a Patrizia Cavalli - metteremo in luce i meccanismi che, oltre le differenze storiche e di genere letterario, strutturano l'esperienza emotiva e cognitiva di chi legge. Il percorso offrirà strumenti per comprendere come autrici e autori abbiano modellato affetti, valori e visioni del mondo attraverso le loro scelte espressive.

Course Materials:	Vari materiali (programma dettagliato, saggi critici ecc.) verranno messi a disposizione sulla piattaforma OLAT che accompagna il corso. Indicazioni bibliografiche verranno fornite durante le lezioni.

Event "Forma mentis" ed espressione letteraria
06SE410o531a / Seminar / 4

Description:

Business event contents:
Come si ripercuote il particolar modo di pensare di una scrittrice e di uno scrittore sul testo letterario? È possibile mettere in relazione scelte linguistiche specifiche con una certa idea dell'essere umano? Quale tipo di collaborazione ricettiva implicano alcune scelte discorsive? Cercheremo di rispondere a queste domande mediante analisi mirate di opere della letteratura moderna, dal Settecento alla contemporaneità. Utilizzeremo strumenti della critica stilistica, della retorica, della grammatica e della narratologia. Il corpus principale va da Alfieri a Celati, con possibilità di ulteriore individualizzazione.

Course Materials:	I materiali di studio (programma dettagliato, saggi critici, bibliografia e materiali utili alla preparazione delle lezioni e dei lavori scritti) verranno messi a disposizione sulla piattaforma OLAT che accompagna il seminario. 06SE090LLB2a / Seminar / 1,176

Description:

Business event contents:
In dieser Veranstaltung werden anhand konkreter Fallbeispiele aus dem Unterricht an Berufsfach- und Berufsmaturitätsschulen pädagogische Prozesse analysiert. Hierbei steht einerseits die Biografie der Lehrperson andererseits die spezielle Situation des Berufslernenden im Vordergrund. Lern- und Sozialisationsprozesse werden diskutiert, Theoriewissen vertieft und durch Erfahrungswissen und Handlungsoptionen aus der Praxis ergänzt. Das Erkennen von Ressourcen bei den Berufslernenden und deren Unterstützung und Förderung bilden wichtige Bestandteile der Veranstaltung. Der Heterogenität (kulturell, schulisch, individuell) wird besondere Beachtung geschenkt und das Individuum ins Zentrum gestellt.

Event Mathematikdidaktik des gymnasialen Unterrichts auf der Sekundarstufe I
06SE090MaDgU / Seminar / 2,058

Description:

Business event contents:
Im gymnasialen Unterricht der Sekundarstufe I (erste drei Jahre Langgymnasium oder erstes Jahr des Kurzgymnasiums) werden zentrale Begriffe und Denkweisen der Mathematik neu eingeführt oder vertieft betrachtet, wie z.B. Variable, Funktion, Beweisen. Dies erfordert eine sorgfältige didaktische Analyse der Lehrperson, indem die Voraussetzungen der Schüler/-innen sowie die mathematischen und kognitionspsychologischen Anforderungen untersucht und reflektiert werden.
Beispiele von Schülerarbeiten geben in diesem Seminar einen Einblick in die mathematische Denkwelt der Schülerinnen und Schüler. Vielfältige Aufgaben zum Einsatz im Unterricht werden vorgestellt, selber gelöst und diskutiert.
Inhalt

- Arithmetik und Algebra: Form und Inhalt in der Algebra, Problemlöseaufgaben
- Geometrie: Einstieg in ein neues Thema, Üben, dynamische Geometrie (Geogebra)
- Sachrechnen: Funktionsbegriff, mathematische Modellierung
- Aktuelle mathematikdidaktische Aspekte wie Lernprozesse, Grundvorstellungen, Kompetenzen, Metakognition

Event Fachdidaktik Russisch II
06SE090Rus2 / Seminar / 995

Description:

Business event contents:
Das zweite Semester ist dem Unterricht auf der gymnasialen Mittelstufe gewidmet. Unterrichtsformen, die das selbständige Lernen der Schülerinnen und Schüler fördern, werden vorgestellt und erprobt. Themen:
1. Grammatik: Besonderheiten des Verbalsystems (Konjugation, Verbalaspekt, Verben der Bewegung).
2. Lektüre: lyrische und epische Werke des 19. - 21. Jahrhunderts. Welche Texte können wir im Original lesen? Welche Hilfestellungen brauchen die Lernenden? Welche Werke lesen wir in deutscher Übersetzung? Welche Hintergrundinformationen bringen die Schülerinnen und Schüler mit, welche müssen wir erarbeiten? Welches Wissen zur Literatur bringen die Schüler:innen bereits aus dem Deutsch-, Französisch- und Englischunterricht mit? Was sagt der Rahmenlehrplan zum Literaturunterricht in diesen Fächern?
Neben der Reflexion geht es auch darum, konkret zu arbeiten: Wir wählen Werke aus, stellen Originaltexte mit Wortschatz für den Unterricht bereit, erstellen Anweisungen für mündliche und schriftliche Arbeitsformen. Wir vergleichen dabei, wie gut diese Arbeit von KI Tutoren geleistet wird und befassen uns mit den rechtlichen und pädagogischen Einschränkungen beim Einsatz von KI im Schulunterricht.
Als drittes befassen wir uns mit dem Thema Prüfen und Bewerten. Was sind die Anforderungen und Bewertungskriterien bei schriftlichen Prüfungen zum Stoff in Lehrbüchern und zur Literatur, Korrektur und Notengebung? Wie lauten diese bei der Prüfungslektion?

Event Displacement and (Im)Mobility: Contemporary Migrant Writing
06SE440o503a / Seminar / 4,275

Description:

Business event contents:
Global migration - particularly the forced migration of refugees - is often framed as a challenge from the perspective of potential receiving countries, which frequently engage in concerted, even violent, efforts to seal their borders against unwanted incomers. In an era of widening wealth inequality, escalating military conflicts, and accelerating climate change, the issue of human mobility is becoming increasingly prominent. Yet often lost in the alarmist rhetoric surrounding migration are the perspectives of migrants themselves.

This seminar examines recent literary works that centre the experiences of displaced individuals across a range of genres, including the essay, memoir, autobiographical poetry, short story, and novel. Texts to be discussed include "No Friend but the Mountains" (2018), originally composed via text messages by the Iranian-Kurdish journalist Behrouz Boochani during his five-year detention in an isolated refugee camp on Manus Island, off the coast of Australia.
This widely acclaimed book gives visibility to the brutal and deliberately under-represented practice of forced immobility. We will also read "Tell Me How It Ends: An Essay in 40 Questions" (2017) by Mexican writer Valeria Luiselli, which captures the voices of undocumented child refugees who "illegally" entered the United States. In addition, we will examine selected stories from Viet Thanh Nguyen's "The Refugees" (2017) as well as Mohsin Hamid's "Exit West" (2017), a captivating and formally experimental novel that reimagines the Syrian refugee crisis of the mid-2010s through the lens of speculative fiction. Hamid depicts a world in which magic portals enable large-scale population movements that transform the global landscape, provocatively conceptualizing the right to migration as a basic human right.

Throughout the semester, we will explore how the texts under discussion use various modes of representation to engage with the experience of displacement and to challenge dominant narratives.

Event Romantic Genius and Gender
06SE440o507a / Seminar / 2,738

Description:

Business event contents:
The figure of the genius poet - the exceptional individual who autonomously creates original works of art - is crucial to a discussion of Romanticism. This new model of solitary authorship has often been associated with masculinist positions. Male poets of the period often construct themselves as subjects and authors by objectifying femininity, imagining and sometimes even demonizing it as the radical Other. In some cases, their writing can also be seen to appropriate, usurp and absorb feminine features. These gendered structures have to be thought together with the shift from the so-called one-sex model to the two-sex model around 1800 and a consolidation of binary gender norms that remain influential today.

In order to trace these gender constructions, the seminar will examine a number of male poets and the ways in which they establish their cultural authority. Our primary focus, however, will be on the literary production of Romantic women authors such as Mary Wollstonecraft, Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley, Mary Robinson, Charlotte Smith, Dorothy Wordsworth, Anna Letitia Barbauld, Felicia Hemans, and Letitia Landon. How do these female writers constitute themselves as authors in the Romantic period? How do they gain a voice and visibility by reworking or rejecting the genius myth?

Discussing the "Corinne craze", we will explore how female authors rewrite the story of the visionary female genius Corinne, the heroine in Germaine de Staël's novel "Corinne, or Italy" (1807), and how in so doing, they reflect on their own authorship as women writers. Revisiting Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley's oeuvre, we will examine the ways in which she critiques certain notions of the male genius, whilst constructing herself as a different kind of author. Contemporary films such as "Bright Star" (2009) by Jane Campion and "Mary Shelley" (2017) by Haifaa al-Mansour will allow us to analyse how Romanticism and its women are reimagined today.

Business event contents:
Conceived as an intensive reading course, this seminar provides students with the theoretical and methodological training that is necessary for the type of research they will undertake at the Master level. Through the discussion of selected theoretical works, the course aims to clarify theoretical concepts, trace recurring critical tropes and examine how these texts construct and present their arguments.

Our programme will include theoretical texts by Sigmund Freud, Julia Kristeva, Michel Foucault and Judith Butler among others. Our primary example will be Bram Stoker's classic gothic text Dracula (1897).

Event Model Analysis and Interpretability in NLP
06SE521o501a / Seminar / 2,108

Description:

Business event contents:
Analysing and interpreting the inner workings of NLP models is important for various use cases. Insights may be used by developers to design specific interventions to improve models; users may benefit from explanations to verify whether outputs are trustworthy; in some settings, regulations require transparency and safety of AI decisions, and interpretability methods help to address these concerns.

Event Artificial Intelligence Terminology
06SE521o502a / Seminar / 313

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar takes place in the context of the creation of a multilingual online terminology database (English, German, French, Italian) on

1. artificial intelligence overall and
2. artificial intelligence for language accessibility.

Following an introduction to terminology writing, focusing on aspects such as selecting sources and creating definitions, students will choose a predefined number of concepts (examples: "language model", "embedding", "attention", "isolated sign language recognition", "pose estimation"). The seminar contribution will then consist of two parts:

1. presenting the concepts (based on thorough literature reviews) and drafts of database entries in class and receiving feedback;
2. finalizing the database entries on the concepts until the end of the course.

Event Übungen zur Rechtsgeschichte Gruppe 2
02UE60PM4-2 / Exercise Group / 4,317

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Rechtsordnungen der Gegenwart sind das Ergebnis von teilweise langgestreckten historischen Entwicklungen. Schon deswegen sind rechtshistorische Grundkenntnisse für das Verständnis des geltenden Rechts unverzichtbar.

Die Veranstaltung knüpft an die Vorlesung Rechtsgeschichte aus dem vergangenen Semester an. Im Zentrum stehen die Analyse und Interpretation ausgewählter rechtshistorischer Texte. Dabei wird rechtshistorisches Grundlagenwissen aus der Vorlesung vorausgesetzt, vertieft und durch die Studierenden in die Interpretation mittels analytischen Vorgehens eingebracht.

Zusammen mit der Vorlesung aus dem vergangenen Semester sind die Übungen Teil des Pflichtmoduls Rechtsgeschichte (BLaw). Das Modul wird abgeschlossen durch eine schriftliche Prüfung, die auf beiden Veranstaltungen aufbaut.

Course Materials:	Unterrichtsmaterialien werden in den Veranstaltungen insbesondere über OLAT und die IUS Teaching App zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event Römisches Privatrecht II Gruppe 1
02VL60PM5-2 / Course / 4,315

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Modul Römisches Privatrecht dient der Einführung in das Studium des Privatrechts. Entsprechend werden grundlegende Institute, wie Eigentum und Vertrag, Rechtsfiguren, wie Stellvertretung und Auftrag sowie Rechtsprinzipien, wie Formalismus und Typenzwang, am historischen Beispiel vorgestellt und analysiert. Das Römische Privatrecht bildet die gemeinsame Grundlage der europäischen Privatrechtsordnungen und war auch für die Entstehung des schweizerischen Obligationenrechts und Zivilgesetzbuchs massgeblich, weshalb diese Regelungen ebenfalls vergleichend vorgestellt und gewürdigt werden. Im Einzelnen erhalten die Studierenden Einblick in die Institute und Prinzipien des Personenrechts, des Sachenrechts und vor allem des Obligationenrechts in Form des Vertrags- wie des Haftpflichtrechts. Ein besonderer Schwerpunkt liegt dabei auf der Analyse von römischrechtlichen Quellentexten (in deutscher Übersetzung), die bestimmte Problemlagen und Fallgestaltungen veranschaulichen und es erlauben, Gemeinsamkeiten und Unterschiede zwischen dem antiken römischen Recht und der heutigen Rechtslage zu erfassen und herauszuarbeiten.

Event (Un)Freedom in U.S. Literature and Culture
06VL440o004a / Course / 180

Description:

Business event contents:
Freedom is a core idea in US-American founding myths and national identity. The promise of freedom for some Americans, however, has always been conditioned on the unfreedom of others. The US is built on settler-colonialism and enslavement, and rights, liberties, and freedoms continue to be unequally distributed within today's society and culture. As a contested term, 'freedom' has been put into the service of various emancipatory agendas, but it has also been used to justify existing hierarchies, exploitation, and subjugation - a phenomenon that Elisabeth Anker has aptly called "ugly freedom."

This lecture will trace discourses of un/freedom throughout US history: It will examine the concept of freedom in the founding documents of the US and its entanglements with enslavement and explore the notion of 'free land' at the heart of settler-colonialism and (westward) expansion. It will address the continuing unfreedom of African Americans, indigenous peoples, and other minoritized and oppressed groups as well as the social movements and organizations that have fought for equal rights and individual liberties for women, people of color, and the LGBTQIA + community. It will also exemplarily cover how historical figures are turned into freedom fighters in the cultural imaginary of the US and how specific freedoms and rights (gun rights, free speech, etc.) are negotiated in politics and culture.

Notes:
The exam will take place during the lecture slot in the final week of teaching (May 27, 2026).

Course Materials:	All course materials will be provided on OLAT.

Event Soziale Ungleichheit, Gruppe E
06UE226-011e / Exercise Group / 2,922

Description:

Business event contents:
Diese Übung vertieft die kritische Reflexion zentraler Schlüsselbegriffe der Sozialen Arbeit und Sozialpädagogik anhand von empirischen Beispielen aus der Schweizer Sozialgeschichte und der Gegenwart der Sozialer Arbeit in der Schweiz. Sie kann genutzt werden, um die eigene wissenschaftliche Reflexivität so weiterzuentwickeln, dass gesellschaftliche Differenz- und Zugehörigkeitspraktiken sowie symbolische und materielle Bedingungen und Umstände von Unterschieden und Unterscheidungen, die in einer gegebenen Gesellschaft zu Armut und Ungleichheit, Marginalisierung, Othering, Missachtung und Entkopplung führen, sozialpädagogisch les- und verstehbar werden. Zu diesem Zweck wird das in der Vorlesung gewonnene Wissen mit Bezug auf ausgewählte Adressat*innengruppen angewendet und weiter differenziert.
Insbesondere die vulnerable Positionierung und die (Über-)Lebensbedingungen von Jugendlichen und Erwachsenen in Kontexten von (extremer) Armut, Wohnungs- und Obdachlosigkeit und mit prekärem Zugang zu Nahrung, Bekleidung und Unterkunft in der Schweiz werden thematisiert. Um sorgfältige Vorbereitung und engagierte Lektüre wird gebeten, da die (sozialpädagogischen) Themen und Probleme, die wir in dieser Gruppe behandeln, ethisch, intellektuell, sozial, politisch und kulturell herausfordernd sind.

Course Materials: - wissenschaftliche Studien und Aufsätze
- empirisches Datenmaterial (Archivmaterial aus dem Schweizer Sozialarchiv)
Die Details werden auf OLAT bekannt gegeben.

Event Sustainable management of biological diversity
07VLESS812.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 3,021

Description:

Business event contents:
The course on sustainable management of genetic resources begins with an introduction to genetic resources as an essential biodiversity variable (EBV), and their importance for human society and natural systems. We will discuss approaches to the management of genetic resources, and learn how genetic resources can be assessed and quantified including a hands-on introduction to some measurement techniques. Students will then choose a focal topic in the management of genetic resources, analyze relevant assessment data, report on their results, and connect these to scientific literature.

Event Electoral Systems: Causes and Consequences
06SE615o542a / Seminar / 4,545

Description:

Business event contents:
Electoral systems are the core feature of representative democracies and are easy to manipulate by actors to influence results, as recent instances of gerrymandering in Texas and California attest. From the birth of representative democracy to the present, the impact of electoral systems on fair representation, on coalitions' stability and on the connection between citizens and representatives have been at the core of institutional engineering. Electoral systems matter for minorities' rights, for the divide between urban and rural areas, for gender representation and for the chances of protest parties and outside candidates. Electoral systems are complex mathematical instruments to translate preferences in to votes and votes into seats. They are therefore a critical link between citizens' preferences and policy. The entail a strong component of psychology since they enhance or restrict the expression of emotion and insecurity. Equally important, however, is their role in including societal and economic structures, sectoral interests and corporate decision making. For new democracies in developing or post-authoritarian countries, electoral systems are the core feature that electoral monitors from international organizations observe.

The seminar is structured in sections covering types and origins of electoral systems, the political economy of electoral systems, the effects of electoral systems on representation, the geography of electoral systems, the manipulation of electoral systems and, finally, the question of whether or not there is an "ideal" electoral system.

Electoral systems are highly complex mechanisms. Beyond acquiring an advanced knowledge of electoral systems, participants are trained to analyse empirical research, to theorize and to critically summarize a field of research, as well as to develop an argument and to write an essay. Participants are given the instruments to critically assess the advantages and disadvantages of electoral systems in an array of areas. The form of the course is that of a seminar and the basic principle is that participants learn from one another - both from strengths and mistakes. The success of the seminar thus strongly depends on the willingness of each participant to engage in the seminar and with peers.

Materials include a mix between classical texts, cutting-edge recent research papers and technical introductions, that give participants both a broad historical-comparative overview, and a technical expertise on the mechanisms and effects of electoral systems. Example cover systems in different parts of the globe and include supra-national parliaments.

Event Introduction to Social Norms and Cooperation
06SE240-505a / Seminar / 3,529

Description:

Business event contents:
The course is tailored for master students interested in experimental social science who wish to specialize on the track "Social norms and Cooperation." The course objective is to get an overview of the different motives behind human behavior and the aspects social norms can play in our society, how they can be altered, and why they are essential to maintaining human large-scale cooperation. The course is a discussion-based course in which the content is acquired jointly, by lecturers and students, through input presentations of relevant study results followed by active discussions on a specific topic. This means that the students actively shape the course and active participation is strongly encouraged. Students will also learn to critically examine the current research state and apply or extend findings from recent studies.

Event Contemporary History of Law
02VL90GL2-1 / Course / 4,392

Description:

Business event contents:
The course will focus the attention on the 16th to the 20th centuries, scrutinizing the «modern» development of State's theories and creation of the international law system; the complex and contradictory relations between violence and law, between war and law, between race and law, between (in)equality of man and law and finally between economy and law. The course will outline and analyse the legal consequence of entanglements, interactions, collisions of law and relate this to the nature and construction of the social order from a historical perspective.

Reading of primary sources combined together with a critical reconstruction on law and jurists in their context will be done during the course.

Notes:
On 25 February 2026 the class will not take place in the lecture hall.

Instead, students will participate in a guided visit to the Ethnographic Museum, including a tour led by the museum director focusing on the restitution of art and cultural objects to Benin.

Please check OLAT for further information regarding meeting point and schedule.

Course Materials:	Primary sources and related reading materials will be distributed during the lessons and uploaded together with the slides in Olat.

Event Political Ecology: From critique to transformation
07SEGEO425.1 / Seminar / 2,336

Description:

Business event contents:
Despite global efforts to stop and reverse climate change, biodiversity loss, and growing social inequality, these processes only seem to be accelerating. The urgency to address these issues has now led to a global call for 'transformative change,' but what exactly does this meanand how can we make sure it is different than all the other failed solutions? To tackle these glaring contemporary issues, this course invites students to critically explore the structures of power that maintain the status quo and hinder meaningful transformation.
Specifically, the course provides students with critical theoretical insights into socioecological relations, the production of knowledge about these relations, and the power dynamics inherent in governing these. It focuses on key debates and critiques within the interdisciplinary field of political ecology and on challenges arising from land and natural resource governance, access, and use. With these critiques in mind, the final sessions of the course focus on some of the current approaches to, and critical debates surrounding, societal transformation initiatives.
The course will be run as an intensive seminar: lectures and close reading of key texts will be complemented by classroom discussions and smaller exercises. The course will illustrate practical applications of theoretical concepts through case studies and offer students the option to apply course concepts in a service-learning project. The course will also guide students through the process of writing a seminar paper on a selected topic of interest related to course material.

Notes:
Learning Outcome Upon completion of the seminar, students:

- have reflected upon the complex and conflictual relations that govern access to and control over nature and natural resources
- have critically assessed the existing debates on these topics and can apply them to case studies
- have worked on the formulation of a consistent argument in their seminar paper
- have practiced scholarly skills, such as scientific writing, presentations and debating in class.

Event Global Economic Geographies of Agriculture and Food Systems
07VLGEO433.1 / Seminar / 1,367

Description:

Business event contents:
In the seminar course GEO433.1 we will read texts and engage with additional material with three main emphases: First, we focus on the ongoing transformation of agricultural value chains and the increasing power of retailers and transnational food producers. Second, we turn our attention to actors and processes that are marginalized in the mainstream value chain literature, such as labor relations, dispossession of land or the destruction of nature. Third, we ask for possible alternatives to globalized industrial agriculture and discuss both their potential and their challenges.

Course Materials:	Course materials will be available for download on OLAT after the respective seminar session.

Event NT Reading Course: The Messianic Secret in the Gospel of Marc
01UE15SU013 / Exercise Group / 2,152

Description:

Business event contents:
Der Lektürekurs befasst sich mit einschlägigen Passagen zur Geheimnistheorie des Markusevangeliums. Warum werden die Dämonen und die Jünger immer wieder dazu aufgefordert zu schweigen? Warum verbietet Jesus, seine Wunder bekannt zu machen? Wieso werden die Jünger so unverständig dargestellt? Als der narrative und christologische Leitdiskurs des Markusvangeliums kann das üblicherweise als das "Messiasgeheimnis" bezeichnete Konstrukt als hermeneutischer Schlüssel für das älteste der vier Evanglien dienen. Mit Hilfe der sprachlich-philologischen Besprechung sowie inhaltlich-theologischen Auslegung zentraler Texte zu diesem Geheimnis verschaffen wir uns einen Einblick, wie Markus sein Evangelium konzipiert und wie ihm zufolge die Erkenntnis der wahren Identität Jesu Christi von Nazareth funktioniert.

Course Materials:	Die Unterrichtsmaterialien werden zu Beginn des Semesters abgegeben bzw. auf OLAT zur Verfügung gestellt. Bringen Sie bitte, falls vorhanden, Ihr NT Graece mit.

Event Data, Governance, and Society (Vorlesung)
06VL615o011a / Course / 625

Description:

Business event contents:
Digital technologies have become deeply woven into contemporary governance. They reshape how states operate, how public and private actors interact, and how citizens experience authority, accountability, and control. The lecture series offers a comprehensive introduction to these transformations by examining the political, institutional, and ethical implications of life in digitally mediated societies. It seeks to move beyond familiar debates about technological innovation and instead focuses on how data infrastructures, algorithmic systems, and platform logics reconfigure the everyday practices of governing - for example through biometric identification, automated welfare administration, predictive policing, or large-scale cloud architectures that underpin public services.
Over the course of the semester, we will explore how digital technologies redistribute responsibilities between governments and private companies, how infrastructures embed normative assumptions into decision-making, and how datafication produces new forms of classification, surveillance, and inequality. The course takes an explicitly interdisciplinary approach, drawing on political science, sociology, science and technology studies, and critical data studies.
Particular emphasis is placed on understanding how digital governance is made and remade in practice, for example through procurement choices, bureaucratic routines, commercial interests, citizen engagement, and the frictions and failures that inevitably accompany complex information systems. Finally, the course foregrounds emerging forms of contestation and resistance that seek to reshape digital governance from within and below, from bureaucratic "tinkering" to digital rights activism and civic counter-infrastructures.
Students will gain analytical tools to critically examine contemporary governance arrangements, assess competing visions of the digital state, and reflect on the normative stakes of governing through data.

Event Science, Technology, and Policy
06SE615o549a / Seminar / 4,817

Description:

Business event contents:
Scientific knowledge and technological infrastructures are central to how contemporary societies govern complex problems. From climate modelling and nuclear safety assessments to large research facilities, digital platforms, and biomedical innovation, science and technology shape and are shaped by political agendas, administrative routines, and public debates. This seminar offers an introduction to these dynamics by examining how scientific authority is constructed, how expertise circulates through policy processes, and how states strategically invest in research, innovation, and digital capabilities to secure competitiveness and manage risks.
Throughout the semester, we investigate how research systems evolve, how major infrastructures such as national laboratories or data centres underpin regulatory and strategic decisions, and how narratives of excellence, innovation, and competitiveness inform political negotiations over budgets and research and development priorities. We also explore how expert advice is organised within public administration, how uncertainty becomes a site of contestation, and how tools such as scenarios, foresight analyses, and cost-benefit models structure political decision-making. Particular emphasis is placed on Swiss cases such as the ETH Domain, SNSF and Innosuisse funding structures, ENSI's regulatory work, and science-diplomatic engagements to illustrate how evidence and expertise are mobilised.
By focusing on the policies and practices through which scientific knowledge is produced, stabilised, and rendered actionable, the course highlights the frictions, negotiations, and institutional constraints that shape science (for) policy. Students will gain conceptual and analytical tools to critically examine the politics of expertise, evaluate competing visions of research and innovation policy, and reflect on the normative stakes of governing (through) science and technology.

02UE60PM4-2 / Exercise Group / 4,314

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Rechtsordnungen der Gegenwart sind das Ergebnis von teilweise langgestreckten historischen Entwicklungen. Schon deswegen sind rechtshistorische Grundkenntnisse für das Verständnis des geltenden Rechts unverzichtbar.

Die Veranstaltung knüpft an die Vorlesung Rechtsgeschichte aus dem vergangenen Semester an. Im Zentrum stehen die Analyse und Interpretation ausgewählter rechtshistorischer Texte. Dabei wird rechtshistorisches Grundlagenwissen aus der Vorlesung vorausgesetzt, vertieft und durch die Studierenden in die Interpretation mittels analytischen Vorgehens eingebracht.

Zusammen mit der Vorlesung aus dem vergangenen Semester sind die Übungen Teil des Pflichtmoduls Rechtsgeschichte (BLaw). Das Modul wird abgeschlossen durch eine schriftliche Prüfung, die auf beiden Veranstaltungen aufbaut.

Course Materials:	Unterrichtsmaterialien werden in den Veranstaltungen insbesondere über OLAT und die IUS Teaching App zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event Methods in Digital (Art) Curation: The Sigg Collection
06UE642o001a / Exercise Group / 3,404

Description:

Business event contents:
This hands-on Übung explores digital curation through practical work with contemporary Chinese art from the Uli Sigg Collection. Students get familiarized with three digital methodologies that center on networks, virtual display and story mapping, before collaborating in teams to create components of a unified digital exhibition. The course develops technical proficiency with digital tools and critical awareness of how digital methodologies shape art historical interpretation. Through experimental sessions and project development, students practice curatorial decision-making while examining how digital platforms enable multiple simultaneous narratives from the same cultural materials.

Notes:
The course will culminate into an exhibition launch event in the first weeks of June 2026 (date tba).

Please bring your own laptop.

Course Materials:	M+ Sigg Collection. M+ Museum, https://www.mplus.org.hk/en/about-the-collection/m-sigg-collection/. Further readings will be communicated via Syllabus and on OLAT.

Event Science and Technology in China: Readings
06UE280-590a / Exercise Group / 3,476

Description:

Business event contents:
Building on the "Science and Technology in China" seminar, this course will incorporate a primary source each week to complement the discussions. Depending on the topic, these sources may include state policy documents, planning guidelines, speeches, scientific essays, institutional reports, media coverage of technological debates, or academic research articles. Guided by the instructor, students will analyze and contextualize these materials in dialogue with secondary scholarship from the seminar, thereby deepening their engagement with key themes. Through this structured approach, students will enhance their critical understanding of how science and technology are framed, organized, and mobilized in China across different historical and political contexts, and from the perspectives of diverse state and non-state actors.

Notes:
The ability to read Chinese texts is a prerequisite for this class.

Course Materials:	Primary source texts will be circulated beforehand.

Event Europäische Politik (Vorlesung)
06VL615-031a / Course / 916

Description:

Business event contents:
It is not possible to understand European politics today without understanding both national-level and European-level politics. This lecture integrates the study of national and European politics, exploring parliamentary democracy, policymaking, political parties, public opinion, representation, and other topics at both levels of government. By examining the interplay between national and European politics, we can better understand recent events, such as the rise of radical right, populist parties, as well as policymaking surrounding green policies and climate change.

Notes:
Students should leave the course with a clear understanding of the institutions of European parliamentary democracy and how they impact public opinion and political representation. Students will develop an understanding of the interplay between European national and EU-level politics will be able to explain how politics at these two levels impact one another.

Event Literature and Culture of the Long Eighteenth Century
06VL440o005a / Course / 1,875

Description:

Business event contents:
This semester-long lecture series offers an introduction to the literature and culture of the long eighteenth century (c.
1660-1800), a period marked by dramatic social, political, and intellectual change. Spanning the Restoration to the dawn of Romanticism, the series will explore how literature both reflected and shaped the values, tensions, and transformations of its time.

Students will encounter a range of key genres and texts-from Restoration drama to the rise of the novel, from satire to sentimental poetry-and engage with critical debates surrounding gender, class, empire, and modernity. It is organised around key topics and developments of the period: The Sexual Politics of Restoration Drama, Writing the Nation, The Country House, Print Culture and the Public Sphere, Imitation and Imagination, Reason and Emotion, Writing the City, Trade and Travel, Colonialism and Slavery, and Domesticity and Female Sexuality.

Through these thematic sessions, the series will trace the emergence of modern notions of identity, authorship, and political engagement, situating literary developments within broader cultural and historical contexts. It provides an essential foundation for students interested in eighteenth-century studies, offering both close textual readings and interdisciplinary perspectives on one of the most dynamic periods in English literary history.

Notes:
Written exam during the lecture slot in the final week of the teaching period.

Course Materials:	Handouts with extracts from primary texts and critical literature will be uploaded on OLAT. I recommend the following introduction: Charlotte Sussman, Eighteenth-Century English Literature, 1660-1789 (2012).

Event Musik des 17. Jahrhunderts
06VL760o010a / Course / 2,137

Description:

Business event contents:
Das
17. Jahrhundert ist eine schwierige, weil in ihrer Vielfalt besonders unübersichtliche Epoche der Musik. Die vordere Begrenzung erweist sich immanent, durch den Wechsel zur Monodie, als eindeutig, steht jedoch in gewissem Widerspruch zur historischen Zäsur, die durch den Dreissigjährigen Krieg und die Neuordnung Europas nach 1648 gegeben ist. Ähnlich kompliziert verhält es sich mit der Begründung eines musikhistorischen Wandels um und nach 1700, der am ehesten in der Kanonisierung fester vokaler und instrumentaler Formen gesehen werden kann. Das 17. Jahrhundert ist musikalisch das Zeitalter von Monteverdi und Lully, Purcell und Corelli, Schütz und Frescobaldi, es reicht vom späten Gesualdo und von Sweelinck bis zum jungen Vivaldi und zum jungen Telemann, es ist aber auch das Jahrhundert von Descartes, Kepler, Newton, Kircher und Galilei. In der Vorlesung soll versucht werden, dieses widersprüchliche Zeitalter unvereinbar erscheinender Gegensätze in einem ersten Zugang zu systematisieren. Dabei wird es auch um Grundlagenwissen gehen, das vor allem in regionalen Querschnitten erarbeitet werden soll.

Business event contents:
The field of organization studies is characterized by a plurality of different theories which offer different approaches to studying the life in and around organizations. In this vein, this lecture will present and discuss the diversity of perspectives for studying organizations: The historical development of different paradigms will be reflected, the different theoretical approaches will be presented and their practical relevance will be discussed.

Description:

Business event contents:
Im Zentrum des Kurses stehen die Lektüre auf der Oberstufe und damit verbundene Literatur- und Kulturthemen wie Kunst, Rhetorik, Philosophie, Wissenschaft. Einerseits wird die Lektüre spezifischer Autoren und Werke in den Blick genommen, andererseits auch die Konzipierung umfassenderer Themen, die die Lektüre verschiedener Autoren beinhalten. Dabei beschäftigen wir uns insbesondere mit Methoden der Vorentlastung. Die Studierenden erarbeiten wöchentlich Unterrichtssequenzen, die den Anforderungen an einen zukunftsweisenden Lateinunterricht mit gesellschaftlicher Relevanz erfüllen und auf das Hochschulstudium vorbereiten.

Event Statistik II, Tutorat Gruppe 2
06TT240-007b / Tutorat / 3,533

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Regressionsanalyse ist ein Verfahren für metrische Variablen und die wichtigste Analysetechnik der quantitativen Sozialforschung. Ein Verständnis ihrer Potentiale, Probleme und Anwendungsbezüge ist Voraussetzung zur erfolgreichen Absolvierung eines quantitativ orientierten Soziologiestudiums. Gleichfalls ist sie Schlüssel zur Bewährung in der empirisch geprägten sozialwissenschaftlichen Berufspraxis und Brücke in die Data Sciences. Nach Vorstellung der Grundlagen und Diskussion wichtiger Probleme der Regressionsanalyse (Ausreisser, fehlende Linearität) widmet sich die Vorlesung vertieft (a) der Integration kategorialer Variablen sowie (b) der simultanen Analyse mehrerer unabhängiger Variablen (Multiple Regression). Letzteres dient entweder der Kontrolle von Drittmerkmalen oder der Erhöhung der statistischen Erklärungskraft. Die multiple Regression erfüllt somit wichtig Funktionen bei der kausalen Absicherung von Zusammenhängen sowie der Etablierung statistischer Prognosemodelle.

Event Reclaiming Narratives: Photographic Archival Disruptions in Global Contemporary Art
06SE640-510a / Seminar / 3,443

Description:

Business event contents:
Digging out, tracing, cutting, stitching, juxtaposing, layering, repurposing, reenacting: the uses of photographic archives in contemporary art practices are broad, varied, and multifaceted. Far from offering a comprehensive overview of archival mobilisation, this seminar will focus on a selection of specific case studies. Students will be encouraged to closely examine the materiality of each artwork, the archive's original context, the image-making process, and the ways in which the artist's interventions generate alternative 'truths'.

What is a photographic archive, vernacular and private, collective and institutional? Why choose to recycle an archival image: to condemn it, celebrate it, or give it new life? To archive is to save, store, and possess; to show is to curate and reinterpret its meanings. Constructing an archive always follows a logic of selection and classification, privileging certain stories while marginalising others. While some archives, due to their status, authorship, and preservation, have created and continue to shape historical knowledge, others remain underexamined, concealing their narratives from public view and collective consciousness.

The use of photographic archives in contemporary art, particularly corpora representing maps and territories, faces, and bodies, has taken a sharp and powerful turn in recent years. These materials have become tools deployed to surface underrepresented histories, fill gaps and silences in official records, trace the colonial and imperial contexts in which archives were originally produced, or create counter-monuments that challenge existing power structures. Repurposing an archive allows an artist to reconnect with the past and interrogate how archives filter the ways we perceive, remember, and interpret the world.

Taking a global perspective on archival excavation, this seminar will explore works by international practitioners operating in diverse geographical contexts, including the United States, Brazil, Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Benin, Ethiopia, South Africa, and Madagascar, to name a few. These artists employ a range of tools to rework private or public photographic repositories, from handcrafted materials to artificial intelligence.
The seminar will also introduce students to key theoretical writings that have shaped the definition, limitations, and political possibilities of archives.

Event Public Law and Economics
02VL90WM95-1 / Course / 4,410

Description:

Business event contents:
How should the law address the problem of excessive CO2 emissions? Why do voting procedures sometimes fail? When should a task be delegated to the administration or courts? How can the law deter corruption and collusion? And why do states comply with international law?

This course will uncover the economic foundations of public law. In doing so, the course will explore a diverse set of topics ranging from bargaining problems, voting mechanisms, the economics of fundamental rights, economic theories of delegation, enforcement and compliance to comparative constitutional law and legal origins.

The course will discuss both the conceptual foundations of the economic analysis of law and more recent developments in public law and economics, in particular recent methodological advancements. Drawing on specific examples from national public law and public international law, the course will shed light on how experimental methods, empirical legal studies and data science can inform our understanding of public law.

Event Politische Kommunikation im Zeitalter von Influencern und KI
06SE249-700a / Seminar / 2,321

Description:

Business event contents:
Dieses zweisemestrige Forschungsseminar untersucht das aufkommende Phänomen der Social-Media-Influencer und die wachsende Rolle künstlicher Intelligenz (KI) in der Gestaltung politischer Kommunikation. Was unterscheidet Influencer von traditionellen politischen oder medialen Akteuren? Wie prägen sie den politischen Diskurs auf Plattformen wie TikTok und Instagram? Und wie verändert der Aufstieg KI-generierter Inhalte die Art und Weise, wie politische Botschaften produziert, verbreitet und rezipiert werden?
Im Laufe des Seminars durchlaufen die Studierenden einen vollständigen Forschungsprozess - von der konzeptionellen Entwicklung bis zur empirischen Untersuchung. Das Seminar bietet die einmalige Gelegenheit, an der Spitze der Forschung zur politischen Kommunikation zu arbeiten und dabei sowohl fundiertes theoretisches Wissen als auch praktische Fähigkeiten in digitalen Forschungsmethoden zu erwerben.
Im ersten Semester konzentrieren wir uns auf die Entwicklung des theoretischen Rahmens. Die Studierenden analysieren die Rolle von Influencern in modernen politischen Kommunikationslandschaften, ihre Strategien und ihre potenziellen Auswirkungen auf politische Prozesse und die öffentliche Meinungsbildung. Zudem wird kritisch beleuchtet, wie KI-Technologien - insbesondere generative Modelle - Sichtbarkeit, Engagement und Überzeugungskraft in der digitalen Politik beeinflussen. Die Studierenden setzen sich mit der Fachliteratur auseinander, formulieren Forschungsfragen sowie Hypothesen und entwerfen eine Forschungsstrategie.
Im zweiten Semester widmen wir uns der empirischen Forschung. Die Studierenden lernen moderne Verfahren der Inhaltsanalyse und computergestützte Methoden kennen. Sie erheben und analysieren Daten von Social-Media-Plattformen, um ihre Forschungsfragen zu beantworten und ihre Hypothesen zu testen. Besonderes Augenmerk wird auf die methodischen Herausforderungen und Chancen gelegt, die sich aus dem Einsatz von KI-basierten Werkzeugen für Kommunikation und Forschung ergeben.

Event Sprachgeschichte(n) von unten: Niederländisch im westgermanischen Kontext
06SE360-505a / Seminar / 2,944

Description:

Business event contents:
Die traditionelle Sprachgeschichtsschreibung kann als männlich, gebildet und elitär gekennzeichnet werden. Ein wichtiger Perspektivwechsel, der sich in den vergangenen
20 Jahren im Forschungsfeld der Historischen Soziolinguistik vollzogen hat, ist der Ansatz einer Sprachgeschichte von unten (Elspaß 2005). Statt auf gedruckten, eher formellen Textsorten liegt der Fokus hier auf handschriftlichen Archivquellen, insbesondere Egodokumenten wie Briefen oder Tagebüchern. Im Mittelpunkt steht auch der alltägliche Sprachgebrauch von bislang marginalisierten Schreibenden, etwa Frauen, Soldaten, Auswanderern. Doch wie genau verändert bzw.
differenziert der Blickwinkel 'von unten' unser bisheriges Bild von Sprachgeschichte(n)? Sollten wir unser linguistisches Grundverständnis von Sprachvariation, Sprachwandel und Sprachenvielfalt überdenken?
Im Fokus des Seminars steht die Sprachgeschichte des Niederländischen in der Frühen und Späten Neuzeit. Bereits seit den
2000er Jahren hat die Sprachgeschichte von unten die Erforschung des Niederländischen, in den Niederlanden und Belgien, massgeblich geprägt. Neben ausgewählten Fallstudien der Niederlandistik sollen auch einschlägige Beispiele aus der germanistischen und anglistischen Forschungstradition behandelt werden. Damit wird die niederländische Sprachgeschichte in den grösseren westgermanischen Kontext eingebettet. Die Studierenden werden zunächst an die Prinzipien, Theorien und Methoden herangeführt, bevor sie im Rahmen eines eigenen kleinen Forschungsprojekts die Möglichkeiten (und Herausforderungen) einer Sprachgeschichte von unten auch ganz praktisch kennenlernen dürfen.

Notes:
Die Veranstaltung findet im Prinzip auf Niederländisch statt. Abhängig von der Zusammensetzung der Teilnehmenden sind in Absprache jedoch auch Deutsch oder ein mehrsprachiges Format denkbar. Die Unterrichtsmaterialien sind auf Niederländisch, Deutsch und Englisch.

Event Entwicklungspsychologie (Teil 2)
06VL200-002e / Course / 864

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Entwicklungspsychologie im Erwachsenenalter basiert auf der Perspektive der Lebensspannenpsychologie und befasst sich mit der Beschreibung und Erklärung von Entwicklungsprozessen in den zentralen Funktionsbereichen Kognition, Emotion, Motivation und Soziale Beziehungen. Die Vorlesung führt nicht nur die Lebensspannenpsychologische Perspektive ein, sondern wendet diese auf die verschiedenen psychologischen Funktionen und auf Lebensbereiche im Alltag an (z.B. Berufliche Entwicklung und Verrentung). Die Vorlesung vermittelt Wissen über die zentralen Theorien der Lebensspannenentwicklung und stellt ausgewählte empirische Befunde zu diesen Theorien vor. Die spezifischen Herausforderungen an methodische Herangehensweisen bei der Untersuchung von Entwicklungsprozessen im Erwachsenenalter werden vorgestellt und diskutiert.

Notes:
Es wird zu jeder Vorlesung dieses Moduls ein Podcast zur Verfügung gestellt, Zugang über OLAT. Hinweis: Es ist möglich, dass einzelne Vorlesungen/Termine nicht oder nicht störungsfrei aufgezeichnet werden. Studierende verzichten deshalb auf eigenes Risiko auf die Teilnahme an einer Veranstaltung oder auf das Erstellen eigener Notizen. Bei inhaltlichen Widersprüchen haben die als prüfungsrelevant deklarierten Materialen (z.B. Folien) Vorrang vor den Podcasts. Event Der malaiische Archipel als globale Kontaktzone der Frühen Neuzeit
06SE600-505a / Seminar / 646

Description:

Business event contents:
Die südostasiatische Inselwelt umfasst rund 20'000 Inseln. Über Jahrtausende stand der Archipel im Zentrum von Migrationen und interregionalen Austauschprozessen, die zu komplexen kulturellen Sedimentierungen und einem prononcierten religiösen Pluralismus führten. Beziehungen zum südostasiatischen Festland, China, dem indischen Subkontinent, der arabischen Welt und dem osmanischen Reich wurden ab dem frühen 16. Jahrhundert durch eine iberische (und später v.a. auch niederländische) Präsenz ergänzt, die auf gewissen Inseln dezidiert koloniale Züge annahm. Der maritime Fernhandel mit der südostasiatischen Inselwelt, deren Gewürze weltweit gefragt waren, stellte ein wichtiges Kapitel globaler Verflechtungen in der Frühen Neuzeit dar. In diesem Seminar werden wir versuchen, uns Grundwissen über die Geschichte und kulturelle Verschiedenheit des Archipels anzueignen. Zudem werden wir nach den Mustern fragen, welche euro-südostasiatische Interaktionen im 16.-18. Jahrhundert prägten, und einige europäischsprachige Quellen besprechen, die darüber Auskunft geben.

Event Theorien digitaler Bilder
06KO255o503a / Colloquium / 3,417

Description:

Business event contents:
Angesichts der Flut KI-generierter Bilder und Videos in den sozialen Medien mehren sich die Warnungen vor Manipulation und Desinformation.
Manche sehen mit dem sogenannten «AI Slop» gar das «Ende der Wahrheit» gekommen. Solche Warnungen sind dabei nicht neu. Bereits in den 1990er Jahren wurde angesichts von Photoshop, Digitalkameras und computeranimierten Sauriern in Hollywood-Blockbustern wortmächtig darüber diskutiert, ob den Bildern im anbrechenden «digitalen Zeitalter» noch zu trauen ist. Spätestens mit der Durchsetzung von Smartphones und sozialen Netzwerken hat sich allerdings gezeigt, dass digitale Bildmedien kaum weniger als analoge dazu genutzt werden, «reale» Ereignisse aufzuzeichnen. Noch nie wurde unser Alltag so umfassend bildlich dokumentiert wie in den vergangenen zwei Jahrzehnten. Zugleich sind digitalen Bildern ganz neue Funktionen zugewachsen: Als «operative Bilder» (Harun Farocki) sind sie Teil vonautomatisierten Steuerungs- und Überwachungsprozessen, etwa in autonomen Fahrzeugen und Waffensystemen; als vernetzte und in Echtzeit online geteilte Bilder erfüllen sie neue kommunikative Funktionen; und dank ihrer Einbettung in Prozesse der Metadatierung, der Mustererkennung und des forensischen Datenabgleichs erlauben sie die Rekonstruktion komplexer Ereignisse und die Simulation von Prozessen, die sich ansonsten der Sichtbarkeit entziehen.

Event Grosse Exkursion KLA: Seminar
06SE682o004a / Seminar / 1,410

Description:

Business event contents:
Die durch den Vesuvausbruch 79 n. Chr. verschütteten Städte Pompeji, Herculaneum sowie die Villen von Stabiae und Oplontis bieten eine einzigartige Perspektive auf römische Stadt- und Wohnkultur.

In unserem Exkursionsseminar bereiten wir uns inhaltlich auf die grosse Exkursion an den Golf von Neapel vor. Dabei beschäftigen wir uns schwerpunktmäßig mit der Stadt Pompeji, insbesondere der Gestaltung der öffentlichen Räume (Forum, Heiligtümer, Spielstätten und Thermen) und der Wohnhäuser und ihrer Ausstattung sowie den Nekropolen. Die im Zürcher Seminarraum erworbenen Erkenntnisse werden wir vom 8.-15. Mai 2026 vor Ort auf einer Exkursion an den Golf von Neapel mit ausführlichen Besuchen im Neapler Nationalmuseum und den verschiedenen Ausgrabungsstätten vertiefen.

Event Landschaften der Metallurgie
06SE683-003a / Seminar / 1,804

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Verwendung von Metallen beginnt bereits in der Steinzeit! Der Fokus auf Kupfer als frühestes metallener Werkstoff führte den Menschen zu technischen Innovationen: Einerseits wurden Techniken zum Abbau von Erzen entwickelt, andererseits wurde das Erz geschmolzen (primäre Metallurgie), gegossen, legiert und ggf. geschmiedet (sekundäre Metallurgie). Der Fokus wird auf den Naturräumen stehen, in denen Erze zugänglich sind und in denen Metalle weiterverarbeitet und verbreitet (Netzwerke) wurde.

Event Rituallandschaften
06SE683o501a / Seminar / 2,734

Description:

Business event contents:
Dass "Landschaft" das Resultat des Zusammenwirkens von Menschen mit ihrer Umwelt ist, wird allgemein anerkannt. Oft denkt man dabei an Siedlungen, Verkehrswege und wirtschaftliche Aktivitäten wie Waldrodungen, die Anlage von Feldern und Wiesen, Ressourcengewinnung oder Terrassierungen. Weniger offensichtlich, weil archäologisch schwieriger nachweisbar, sind Landschaftselemente und Landschaften, die das Resultat ritueller Aktivitäten darstellen: wir sprechen dann zum Beispiel von Gräberlandschaften, Hortlandschaften oder "heiligen Orten" - Situationen, die nicht ohne Weiteres zu kontextualisieren sind, insbesondere dort, wo keine erläuternden (schriftlichen) Quellen zur Verfügung stehen. Die Ansprache solcher Rituallandschaften geschieht oft über historische oder kulturanthropologische Analogien, die zahlreiche Kontinuitäten menschlichen Handelns in Zeit und Raum offenbaren. Ohne eine Auseinandersetzung mit Rituallandschaften bleibt eine archäologische Kulturgeschichte zwangsläufig unvollständig. Im Seminar werden europäische und aussereuropäische Fallbeispiele thematisiert.

Event The Japanese Empire in Ecological Perspective
06SE600-048a / Seminar / 3,439

Description:

Business event contents:
This class explores the history of the Japanese Empire in Asia and the Pacific (ca. 1895-1945) from an ecological point of view. Besides a historiographical survey of imperial Japan and its former colonies - chiefly Taiwan, Korea, and Manchuria, but also less prominent sites such as Sakhalin and Micronesia - this class builds a theoretical background in environmental history, STS and Anthropocene Studies.
Over the semester, we map different topics and sites, reaching from various resource frontiers to colonial medicine and "imperial metabolism." Each section investigates different ways in which the infrastructure of empire shaped and was shaped by labor, migration, and unpredictable environmental change. Local perspectives are important: postcolonial approaches help recover the experience of displaced indigenous or migrant communities and they guide us to select localities that carried the cost of modernization. We will ask how historically grown infrastructures and collective memory both continue to affect power relations and resource dependencies in the present. Finally, we discuss how East Asian experiences of industrial modernity expand and challenge Eurocentric views of the Anthropocene.

This BA-Seminar is bilingual: students are free to make oral and written contributions in either German or English. Good passive command of both languages is crucial to complete this class.
Knowledge of other languages is not mandatory, but students with knowledge of East Asian languages are especially encouraged to use this opportunity to explore non-Western archives.

Event Lektürekurs Schwedisch
06SK360-218a / Sprachkurs / 1,845

Description:

Business event contents:
Tillsammans läser vi en samtida svensk roman, och vilken det är kommer att meddelas i god tid före kursens början. Romanen står i centrum, men den kompletteras med andra texter samt ljud och bild, t.ex. i form av poddar och TV/film.
Genom att läsa utökar deltagarna sitt ordförråd och får inblick i den språkliga mångfalden och genom olika skrivuppgifter övas och förbättras den skriftliga kompetensen.

Den muntliga språkfärdigheten övas och utvecklas i samtal, diskussioner och andra typer av övningar. Ett viktigt moment är en muntlig uppgift som deltagarna redovisar inom ramen för undervisningen; de språkliga verktygen kommer att tematiseras och övas i förväg. Vid behov tar vi även upp grammatiska teman.

Course Materials:	Romanen kommer att finnas till försäljning vid kursens början. Ytterligare text- och undervisningsmaterial finns tillgängligt på kursens OLAT-plattform. Svensk ordbok (SO) som app. Den kan laddas ner gratis på https://www.svenska.se

Event Image and Imagination. Historical inquiry and image literacy.
06KO600o506a / Colloquium / 3,438

Description:

Business event contents:
Across numerous image archives, this colloquium fosters critical encounters with visual collections and introduces methodological tools for writing histories with, through, along, or against images. What role does visuality play in a discipline that has, at least until recently, relied mainly on written evidence? Often seen as mere documentation, images usually contain entangled histories inherent to a photograph or image that go beyond what is visible within. Photographs as hybrid objects serve as productive avenues for writing histories when critically analyzing the 'contract of photography' (Ariella A. Asoulay) that lies at its core.

Throughout the semester, students will develop image literacy through hands-on experience with various image genres, ranging from travel photography to military archives and corporate image collections. The colloquium will introduce you to (on-site and online) archival visual research methods at the following archives: Schweizerisches Sozialarchiv, ETH Bildarchiv, UZH "Völkerkundemuseum", Stadtarchiv Zürich, Fotomuseum Winterthur, and others. Image-archive professionals will also intervene during the colloquium to discuss specific issues, such as handling image archives that contain sensitive colonial and violent legacies.

Event Radio, Fernsehen, Internet. Medien(ge)schichten nach 1945
06SE600-053a / Seminar / 3,442

Description:

Business event contents:
Dieses Seminar widmet sich der Geschichte moderner Massenmedien nach 1945. Im Zentrum steht die Analyse dreier Medienkomplexe, die Wissen über Gesellschaft und Wirklichkeit in der zweiten Hälfte des 20. Jahrhunderts massgeblich strukturiert haben: Radio, Fernsehen und Internet - drei Medien, die sich nicht einfach historisch ablösen, sondern sich sedimentartig wie Schichten überlagern und bis heute so etwas wie das "mediale Apriori" (Friedrich Kittler) unseres Wissens bilden.

In Anlehnung an Niklas Luhmanns Diktum über die massenmediale Vermittlung unseres Wissens ("Was wir [...] über die Welt, in der wir leben, wissen, wissen wir durch die Massenmedien") fragt das Seminar: Was sind die Bedingungen und Grenzen, innerhalb derer sich eine Gesellschaft in Radio, Fernsehen und Internet ein Wissen über sich selbst bildet? In welchen historischen Kontexten entstehen diese medialen Räume gesellschaftlicher Reflexion? Wie wirken ihre medialen Logiken bis heute fort? Und welche Rolle spielen sie in der Arbeit von Historiker*innen, die bei ihren (Re-)Konstruktionen von Vergangenheit in zunehmendem Masse auf Radio, Fernsehen und Internet zurückgreifen?

Das Seminar verfolgt dabei zwei zentrale Ziele: Erstens wird die historische Genese und Funktionsweise dieser Medien untersucht. Wie konstituiert sich in ihnen das Sichtbare und Sagbare? Was ist der gesellschaftliche Kontext, in dem sie entstehen? Zweitens sollen die Teilnehmenden die eigene medientechnische Praxis historischen Arbeitens reflektieren, denn gerade für die Zeitgeschichte gilt: Auch was wir über die Vergangenheit wissen, wissen wir aus den Massenmedien. Mit diesem Zuschnitt möchte das Seminar, auf die Verschränkung von Medien, Geschichte und Geschichtsschreibung aufmerksam machen.

Course Materials:

Der Unterricht wird durch Lektüre einschlägiger Sekundärtexte aus der Geschichts- und Medienwissenschaft vorbereitet. In den einzelnen Seminarsitzungen steht das historische Material im Vordergrund, d.h. historische Tonaufnahmen (Radio), Videoausschnitte (Fernsehen) und digitale Quellen (Internet), die in Verbindung mit der vorher geleisteten Textlektüre beschrieben, eingeordnet und erklärt werden.

Event Collage
06SE640-011a / Seminar / 547

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Seminar widmet sich der Collage als künstlerischem Verfahren und ästhetischem Ausdrucksmittel, von ihren historischen Anfängen, mit einem Fokus auf ihre Etablierung im frühen 20. Jahrhundert, bis hin zu ihren vielfältigen Erscheinungsformen in der Gegenwart. Im Mittelpunkt stehen die Entstehung und Entwicklung der Collage, ihre unterschiedlichen Techniken und stilistischen Anwendungen sowie die daraus hervorgehenden neuen Formen visueller und materieller Ausdruckskraft.

Darüber hinaus werden die wechselseitigen Bezüge zwischen Collage und anderen Medien, wie Malerei, Fotografie, Druckgrafik, Installation und digitaler Kunst, untersucht. Das Seminar beleuchtet insbesondere, wie Collagepraktiken auf spezifische soziale, historische und politische Kontexte reagieren und diese zugleich reflektieren.

Ziel ist es, die Collage als ein dynamisches Medium zu verstehen, das an der Schnittstelle von Kunst, Gesellschaft und Geschichte immer wieder neue Perspektiven auf das Verhältnis von Fragment und Materialität, von Dekonstruktion und Rekonstruktion eröffnet.

Notes:
Die erste Sitzung wird aus einer Vorstellungsrunde sowie einer Einführung in die Hauptthemen, Leitfragen, Begrifflichkeiten und Ziele des Seminars bestehen.
Die folgende zweite Sitzung stellt die historischen und kunsthistorischen Kontexte und Konzepte vor. Von der 3. bis zur 12. Sitzung werden die Referate präsentiert. Die letzte Sitzung wird (je nach Anzahl der Teilnehmer*innen) für eine Abschlussdiskussion freigehalten.
Sitzung 1: Vorstellungsrunde, Einführung in die Hauptthemen, Leitfragen und Ziele.
Sitzung 2: Vorstellung von historischen und kunsthistorischen Kontexten und Konzepte.
Sitzung 3 bis 12: Referate.
Letzte Sitzung: Abschlussdiskussion.

Course Materials:	Die Unterrichtsmaterialien unterteilen sich in die folgenden Hauptkategorien: Die einführende Literatur; die wöchentlichen Pflichtlektüren; die Unterrichtsfolien von Seite der dozierenden Person (auf OLAT zur Verfügung gestellt); die Power Point Präsentationen als visuelle Unterstützung der Referate von Seite der Studierenden (nach den jeweiligen Referaten auf OLAT zur Verfügung zu stellen); die Bibliografie als integraler Teil der Recherchearbeit, entwickelt in Vorbereitung auf das Referat und die Seminararbeit.

Event Schweizer Zeichnungen zwischen sublim und pittoresk: Zeichnungen erschliessen und ausstellen
06SE640-018b / Seminar / 2,823

Description:

Business event contents:
Im Frühling 2026 zeigt die Graphische Sammlung der ETH Zürich die Ausstellung «Gletscher & Stromschnellen. Gezeichnete Schweiz um 1800» (1.4.-5.7.2026). Begleitend dazu bietet das Seminar eine Einführung in die Schweizer Zeichnung des 18. und 19. Jahrhunderts. Die Studierenden erwerben grundlegende historische und materielle Kenntnisse der Zeichenkunst und erhalten praxisnahe Einblicke in museale Arbeitsprozesse sowie in die Planung und Umsetzung einer Ausstellung. Ausgehend der Werke in der Ausstellung, erschliessen wir zentrale Themen der Schweizer Kleinmeisterkunst und der Produktion der Bildhelvetica im Kontext des frühen Tourismus, der Alpenkunde und der künstlerischen Landschaftserfassung. Im Mittelpunkt steht die Frage, wie die Schweizer Landschaft um 1800 zeichnerisch festgehalten und damit ein «Bild der Schweiz» geschaffen wurde - ein Schweizbild zwischen Naturgewalt und Idylle, zwischen sublim und pittoresk. Das Seminar vermittelt einen objektbasierten Forschungsansatz. Der Grossteil der Sitzungen findet vor Ort in der Graphischen Sammlung statt und alle Referate werden direkt vor den ausgestellten Werken im Ausstellungsraum gehalten. Neben Arbeit am Original befassen wir uns mit Fragen der Erschliessung, Konservierung und kuratorischen Vermittlung sowie mit den besonderen Herausforderungen der musealen Arbeit mit Werken auf Papier.

Notes:
Das Seminar findet teilweise in der Graphischen Sammlung der ETH Zürich statt. Die ersten Sitzungen dienen der Einführung, Verteilung der Referatsthemen und der Lektürediskussion.

Event Kunst und Spiel, ca. 1950-1970
06SE640-505a / Seminar / 285

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Spiel ist ein Schlüsselthema der Nachkriegsavantgarden. Zwar postuliert die Ästhetik seit ihren Anfängen einen Zusammenhang von Kunst und Spiel, und bereits die Dadaisten und Surrealisten setzten sich spielerisch mit einer von technischen und ökonomischen Zwecken geprägten Welt auseinander. Doch erst nach dem Zweiten Weltkrieg rückte das zweckfreie Spiel in den Fokus der Avantgarden. COBRA, die Independent Group und die Situationistische Internationale, John Cage und Allan Kaprow, Niki de Saint Phalle und Jean Tinguely, die kybernetische Kunst oder die experimentellen Architekturentwürfe von Constant und Cedric Price, sie alle entwickelten spielerische Praktiken bzw. Räume, die zum Spiel anregen sollten.

Im Seminar werden wir versuchen, diese künstlerischen Zugänge kulturhistorisch zu situieren. Wir beschäftigen uns dafür mit Johan Huizingas "Homo ludens" (1938) und Roger Callois' "Les jeux et les hommes" (1958) ebenso wie mit der Aufwertung des Kinderspiels und der Geschichte des Spielplatzes nach dem Zweiten Weltkrieg, den Spielskulpturen, die in Grosswohnsiedlungen und Museen Einzug hielten, und den Spiellandschaften, die anlässlich von Grossereignissen wie den Olympischen Spielen 1972 in München entstanden. Nicht zuletzt geht es um die verschiedenen Formen von Umwelterziehung, die Spiel und Kapitalismuskritik verbanden und weltweit im Zuge der 68er-Bewegung entwickelt wurden. Zentral ist dabei die Frage: Wie verhielten sich diese spielerischen Kunstpraktiken zur Entstehung der Konsum- und Freizeitgesellschaft, mit der sich Städte und Landschaften radikal veränderten? Wie kritisch oder affirmativ waren sie? Wie emanzipativ können solche spielerischen Praktiken heute noch sein?

Event Romanik - ein europäischer Stil?
06VL640o002a / Course / 2,737

Description:

Business event contents:
"Romanik" ist in allen Ländern Europas als Stilbegriff für die Architektur des 11. und 12. Jh. bekannt. Anders als in der vorromanischen Zeit lassen sich nun, im Hochmittelalter, auch überregional vergleichbare Bauformen und -motive beobachten, begünstigt durch die länderübergreifend agierenden neuen geistlichen Orden (Cluniazenser, Zisterzienser), aber auch durch neue politische Konstellationen (z.B. die Normannen in Süditalien und Sizilien) und nicht zuletzt die Kreuzzüge. In der Vorlesung soll ein Überblick über die romanische Baukunst in den verschiedenen Regionen Europas gegeben und nach Verbindendem, aber auch nach Regionalspezifischem gefragt werden; ein besonderes Augenmerk gilt dabei den verschiedenen Akteuren, die für Entwurf und Ausführung der Bauten verantwortlich waren (Auftraggeber, Financiers, Architekten, Bauhandwerker etc.).

Notes:
Die Vorlesung ist Teil eines dreisemestrigen Zyklus zur Architekturgeschichte des Mittelalters. Sie ist aber so konzipiert, dass sie auch ohne Besuch der anderen beiden Teile (Teil I: Frühmittelalter, Teil III: Gotik) in sich abgeschlossen und verständlich ist.

Event Narrative Layers: Unveiling and Rewriting East Asian Art
06SE642-024a / Seminar / 3,372

Description:

Business event contents:
This BA seminar examines how art historical narratives are constructed, maintained, and can be rewritten in East Asian art history. Students will investigate the mechanisms behind historiographical myth-making, including the cult of artistic "genius," colonial frameworks, and institutional structures that shape our understanding of East Asian art. Critically, this course reflects on our own position as students and researchers studying East Asian art from Zurich-geographically, temporally, and conceptually distant from the cultures and time periods we examine. Through critical analysis of case studies-from the Hokusai phenomenon and the British Museum's Samurai exhibition to Japanese colonial narratives about Korean art and the discourse of literati painting theory in Chinese art history-students will explore how institutional practices, political powers, scholarly discourse, and market forces create and reinforce particular narratives while obscuring others. The course connects these historiographical questions to contemporary issues of historical revisionism, decolonization, and the recovery of marginalized voices, while acknowledging that we ourselves participate in specific institutional and intellectual traditions that shape how we "see" East Asian art.

Notes:
The language of instruction is English; all course assignments can be completed either in English or German.

Course Materials:	The required readings for the sessions are listed in the syllabus and the texts will be uploaded to OLAT. Further readings may be added during the semester. Any changes to the required reading will be announced in class and on OLAT.

Event Art and Nation in East Asia
06SE642-524a / Seminar / 3,364

Description:

Business event contents:
"Art and Nation in East Asia" investigates how art and visual culture have imagined, contested, and circulated ideas of the nation across China, Japan, and Korea. Moving beyond stylistic labels and canonical narratives, the course examines how art objects, art critique and art infrastructure (art schools, world's fairs, museums, biennials) participate in the politics of national identification, cultural heritage and memory. Through focused case studies, the course asks: How do artistic practices define who and what belongs to the nation? How are "national styles" fabricated, branded, or resisted? What roles do collecting, curating, and education play in turning art into national property? And how do global markets and soft-power campaigns reshape what counts as "national art" today? Students engage historical and contemporary works alongside theoretical texts on nationalism, transculturation, and visuality. Through close looking, seminar discussion, and an individual research project, the course develops critical tools for evaluating the stakes of calling something "national art" and for situating East Asian examples within wider debates about culture, identity, and power.

Event Anti-/Postcolonial Avant-Garde
06SE645-502a / Seminar / 3,403

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar explores the intersections between avant-garde practices and anti-/ postcolonial artistic movements across the twentieth century. It seeks to rethink the notion of the 'avant-garde'-a concept traditionally anchored in Euro-American art history- by examining experimental artistic practices that emerged beyond the Euro-American centered frame.
While the concept of modernism has, in recent decades, been the subject of critical revision, revealing plural and uneven modernities across Asia, Africa, and Latin America, the notion of the 'avant-garde' has not yet received the same revaluation. Commonly associated with radical aesthetic experimentation and sociopolitical critique, the avant-garde remains largely tied to Euro-American centered genealogies of art history.
This seminar proposes to critically challenge this common perception by focusing on artistic groups, schools and movements that have voiced an anti- or postcolonial program while simultaneously engaging in multiple ways with avant-garde artistic practices and strategies. The seminar begins with a theoretical grounding, engaging with scholarship that interrogates the dominance of Euro-American centered art histories and proposes alternative frameworks for understanding the concept of the avant-garde.
Subsequent sessions will focus on specific case studies across different localities and artistic movements: the surrealist magazine 'Tropiques' and the work of Wifredo Lam; the Brazilian anthropophagic movement; Mexican Muralism; the École de Dakar; the Casablanca Art School; and Nigerian Modernism, among others.
Through these examples, students will critically examine how these artists engaged with the so-called avant-garde but also redefined its aesthetic and political ambitions.

Event Transnational Yoga: The Intersection of Science, Health, Religion, and Society in the Globalized World
06SE278-501a / Seminar / 3,456

Description:

Business event contents:
The influence of yoga on the West has been profound and multifaceted, shaped by various yogic movements and key figures from India over the past century. From a mystical practice rooted in Indian spiritual traditions to a multi-billion-dollar global industry, yoga's journey across cultures is one of the most fascinating stories of modernity. This course explores yoga as a dynamic and evolving practice that has moved beyond borders, transformed by- and transforming-the societies it touches. By examining yoga as India's "spiritual soft power," the course maps its genealogy from the post-World War II period to today, highlighting how yogic ideas continually circulate between India and the West. Students will gain a nuanced understanding of how yoga became a site where science, health, religion, and society intersect-and how these exchanges ultimately shaped what we now recognize as "modern yoga." In doing so, the course participants will see how yoga was not simply transplanted but reimagined-conceptualised through philosophy and vocabulray of physics, scientised in laboratories, medicalised in hospitals, synthesised with psychology, pedagogized in classrooms, and modernised in studios and digital platforms. Moreover, it also led to various legal conflicts between religious and non-religious followers and disputes around secularism in Western society.

Upon successful completion of this course, you will be able to:
- Analyze the key historical figures and movements that facilitated the transnational spread of yoga.
- Critique the processes of scientization, medicalization, and secularization applied to yoga in the West.
- Evaluate yoga's role as a form of Indian "soft power" and its relationship to nationalism and global culture.
- Map the complex, non-linear "circuits" of yogic knowledge between India and the West.
- Articulate the ongoing tensions and synergies between yoga as a spiritual discipline, a health practice, and a commercial commodity.

Notes:
At the outset of this course, participants need to choose the topic of their presentations and a theme for the research paper. Students are highly encouraged to participate in the class discussion. Readings are also subject to change from class to class and this is only an ad-hoc list of the required and recommended readings.

Event Diskursereignis "Frauenliteratur" 1970er/1980er Jahre
06SE360-519a / Seminar / 705

Description:

Business event contents:
«Radikal subjektiv und authentisch» sowie «Mit-dem-Körper-Schreiben» lauten Postulate schreibender Frauen im Kontext des feministischen Aufbruchs und etablieren eine Agenda, die sich um die Totschreibungen von Autorschaft (Barthes, Foucault) nicht schert. Schreiben gilt in der Neuen Frauenbewegung als politische Praxis, der Begriff «Frauenliteratur» als emanzipatorisch und subversiv. Um dies als Diskursereignis der
1970er und
1980er Jahre zu verstehen, gilt es, das zeitgenössische diskursive Feld auszuloten: die Entwürfe für eine weibliche Ästhetik, die Theorien der écriture féminine, die Debatten um Gleichheit und Differenz in den neu gegründeten feministischen Zeitschriften und der sich etablierenden feministischen Literaturwissenschaft, die Verschiebungen im Literaturbetrieb, der «Frauenliteratur» als Marktsegment bewirtschaftet.
Vor diesem Hintergrund lesen und diskutieren wir im Seminar literarische Texte, die von ihren Autorinnen oder durch die Rezeption zeitgenössischer Neu-Ausgaben diesem Diskursfeld zugerechnet werden. Neben dem zentralen Referenztext der Debatte, Verena Stefans Häutungen (1975), sind dies: Ingeborg Bachmanns Todesarten-Projekt (Das Buch Franza, erstmals als «Der Fall Franza»
1978 ediert; Malina
1972), Karin Strucks Klassenliebe (1973), Elfriede Jelineks Die Liebhaberinnen (1975), Jutta Heinrichs Das Geschlecht der Gedanken (1977), Anne Dudens Das Judasschaf (1985) und Marlen Haushofers Die Wand (1963, Neu-Ausgabe
1983). Weitere Texte oder Textauszüge von Adelheid Duvanel, Barbara Frischmuth, Fleur Jaeggy, Gertrud Leutenegger, Irmtraud Morgner, Erica Pedretti, Christa Reinig, Grete Weil und Unica Zürn werden das Programm ergänzen.

Event Literaturkritik
06SE360-532a / Seminar / 1,878

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Modul bietet eine intensive Einführung in die kulturjournalistische Praxis und erprobt die erworbenen Kompetenzen in der literaturkritischen Begleitung der aktuellen Schweizer Gegenwartsliteratur. Als semesterweise, on- und offline zusammenarbeitende Redaktion sichten wir die relevanten Neuerscheinungen des Frühjahrs, rezensieren diese für Print- und Onlinemedien, produzieren Audiobeiträge und begleiten die Solothurner Literaturtage als offizieller Blog . Die Kooperation mit namhaften Medienpartnern begleitet den Transfer von der universitären Theorie in die publizistische Praxis und lädt zur Netzwerkbildung und Publikation erster Texte ein. Gleiches gilt für die redaktionseigene Plattform https://www.buchjahr.uzh.ch, die sich als viel beachtetes Archiv der Schweizer Gegenwartsliteratur etabliert hat und den Studierenden auch über das Modul hinaus eine publizistische Bühne bietet.

Event Griaßdi! – eine Dialekt-App für das Bairische entwickeln
06SE360-543a / Seminar / 426

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Bairische ist der grösste Dialektraum des Deutschen. Bairische Dialekte werden in Deutschland, Österreich, Italien und in der Schweiz in Samnaun gesprochen. Wie in der Schweiz ist durch jahrzehntelange Forschung viel über die traditionellen Dialekte bekannt. Durch die zunehmende Mobilität verändert sich die Sprachlandschaft des traditionell bairischen Raumes jedoch spürbar und der sprachliche Alltag in diesem Raum ist stark von Variation geprägt. Das Ausmass dieser Variation ist noch nicht in allen Einzelheiten bekannt und die Forschung steht vor vielen offenen Fragen. Wo im Sprachraum finden sich noch die ursprünglichen Dialektmerkmale, wo nähern sich die Dialekte der Standardsprache an? Spricht man in der Stadt gleich wie auf dem Land? Halten sich Dialektmerkmale in Österreich besser als in Bayern? Wo verdrängt die Standardsprache die Dialekte? Und welche linguistische Beschreibungsebene ist besonders affin für Sprachwandel?

In dieser Lehrveranstaltung erheben wir gemeinsam Daten, um diese sehr aktuellen Forschungsfragen beantworten zu können. Wir arbeiten uns erst in die Grundlagen der bairischen Dialektologie ein, um dann Fragen für eine Smartphone-App zu entwickeln, die Ende des Semesters gelauncht wird. Als Grundlage für diese App dient die für das Schweizerdeutsche entwickelte App "nöis gschmois".

Im Herbstsemester 2026 folgt ein vertiefendes Angebot, in dem wir die Daten gemeinsam auswerten und die Resultate über verschiedene Kanäle der Wissenschaftskommunikation mit der interessierten Bevölkerung teilen.

Event TikTok Research Adventure: Mental Health Narratives on Short-Video Platforms
06SE250-700b / Seminar / 3,498

Description:

Business event contents:
This research seminar is a two-semester module in which students are guided and supported in the implementation of a research project. The focus of this seminar is on mental health narratives on short-video platforms.
In recent years, platforms such as TikTok have become central for the circulation of narratives about sensitive issues such as mental health. Content creators, mental health professionals, and ordinary users share stories, tips, and experiences, often blurring the boundaries between professional advice, personal testimony, and entertainment.
By focusing on short-video content for mental health topics, students will apply communication and media theory to investigate how messages are created, circulated, and received on platforms such as TikTok. Students will receive input on theoretical frameworks and methodological approaches, including qualitative, quantitative, and mixed-methods designs. The projects may serve as the foundation for the subsequent master's thesis.
Students will be able to design and implement a master's-level research project in a theoretically and methodologically sound manner and present it appropriately both in writing and orally.

Event Statistik II
06VL240-007e / Course / 3,531

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Regressionsanalyse ist ein Verfahren für metrische Variablen und die wichtigste Analysetechnik der quantitativen Sozialforschung. Ein Verständnis ihrer Potentiale, Probleme und Anwendungsbezüge ist Voraussetzung zur erfolgreichen Absolvierung eines quantitativ orientierten Soziologiestudiums. Gleichfalls ist sie Schlüssel zur Bewährung in der empirisch geprägten sozialwissenschaftlichen Berufspraxis und Brücke in die Data Sciences. Nach Vorstellung der Grundlagen und Diskussion wichtiger Probleme der Regressionsanalyse (Ausreisser, fehlende Linearität) widmet sich die Vorlesung vertieft (a) der Integration kategorialer Variablen sowie (b) der simultanen Analyse mehrerer unabhängiger Variablen (Multiple Regression). Letzteres dient entweder der Kontrolle von Drittmerkmalen oder der Erhöhung der statistischen Erklärungskraft. Die multiple Regression erfüllt somit wichtig Funktionen bei der kausalen Absicherung von Zusammenhängen sowie der Etablierung statistischer Prognosemodelle.

Notes:
Die Veranstaltungsinhalte bauen auf die Themen der grundlegenden Statistikveranstaltung (Statistik I) auf. Die Absolvierung der beiden Veranstaltungen in der vorgesehenen Reihenfolge ist daher dringend angeraten.
Zur Veranstaltung werden drei bis vier frei wählbare Tutorate angeboten. Die Buchung eines Tutorats erfolgt im Rahmen der Modulbuchung.

Event Europa im 11. Jahrhundert - Kirchenreform und Investiturstreit
06VL600o007a / Course / 914

Description:

Business event contents:
Mit dem Dynastiewechsel von den Karolingern zu den Kapetingern in Frankreich und von den Ottonen zu den Saliern im römisch-deutschen Reich, mit der Formierung des polnischen und ungarischen Königreichs sowie den normannischen Eroberungen in Süditalien und England erhielt Europa bis zur Mitte des
11. Jahrhunderts ein neues Gesicht. Den bedeutendsten Wandel in politischer, religiöser und ideengeschichtlicher Hinsicht leitete das Papsttum in der zweiten Hälfte des
11. Jahrhunderts durch die entschlossene Durchsetzung der Kirchenreform ein, die schliesslich in den Investiturstreit als fundamentale Auseinandersetzung zwischen geistlicher und weltlicher Gewalt mündete. In der Vorlesung werden diese Prozesse und sie begleitende Entwicklungen in chronologisch-systematischer Weise behandelt.

Notes:
Die Vorlesung findet ausschliesslich präsentisch statt (kein Stream, kein Podcast).

Course Materials:	Als Begleitmaterial zur Vorlesung werden Blätter mit Quellen- und Literaturhinweisen aus Olat eingestellt. Einführungsliteratur: - Rudolf Schieffer, Christianisierung und Reichsbildungen. Europa 700 - 1200, München 2013. - Claudia Zey, Der Investiturstreit, 2017 - Jochen Johrendt, Investiturstreit, 2018.

Event Die Stadt-Land-Beziehung, Urbanisierung und Städteagglomerationen in China
06UE280-201a / Exercise Group / 3,781

Description:

Business event contents:
In der Lehrveranstaltung wird ein Überblick vermittelt über die wichtigsten Kampagnen, Reformen und Herausforderungen, die die Stadt-Land-Beziehung und die Urbanisierung seit der Gründung der Volksrepublik China prägten. Dabei werden offizielle Strategien und Diskurse sowie Fallbeispiele zur Urbanisierung, insbesondere seit der Reform- und Öffnungspolitik ab 1978, vorgestellt. Auch Initiativen und Einschätzungen aus der Bevölkerung sollen zur Sprache kommen. Weiter sollen die Entwicklungsziele einer Städteagglomeration untersucht werden; es handelt sich um die "Greater Bay Area", die in Südchina ländliches Gebiet, neun Städte und zwei Sonderwirtschaftszonen integriert. Ziel ist es, die Urbanisierung und ihre Vernetzung mit dem ländlichen Raum innerhalb der Geschichte der Volksrepublik China zu positionieren.

Event China's Foreign Policy
06SE280o225a / Seminar / 3,963

Description:

Business event contents:
This course offers an in-depth examination of China's foreign policy from the founding of the People's Republic of China to the present day. It explores the historical, ideological, and strategic foundations of Beijing's engagement with the world and traces its evolution from revolutionary diplomacy to global power projection. Students will analyze China's relations with key actors-including the United States, the European Union, its Asian neighbors, and the Global South-through the lenses of international relations theory and contemporary case studies. Special attention will be given to topics such as the Belt and Road Initiative, cross-Strait relations, China's role in international institutions, and its use of economic statecraft and soft power. The course encourages critical reflection on how China's rise is reshaping the global order and the implications for regional and international stability.

Event Buddhistische Literatur des japanischen Mittelalters
06SE290-121a / Seminar / 515

Description:

Business event contents:
Gegenüber der Literatur anderer Epochen der japanischen Literaturgeschichte zeichnet sich die Literatur des Mittelalters (ca. 12. bis 16. Jahrhundert) unter anderem dadurch aus, dass sie in besonderem Masse vom Buddhismus geprägt ist. Nach einer kurzen Einführung in den Buddhismus und seine grundlegenden Konzepte und Schriften beschäftigen wir uns im Seminar mit literarischen Werken, die ohne ein Verständnis des Buddhismus nur unzureichend erschlossen werden können. Diese entstammen ganz unterschiedlichen Literaturgattungen: Lyrik (Gedichte und Lieder), didaktische Kurzerzählungen, Aufzeichnungen von Menschen, die sich dem Trubel der Welt zu entziehen suchten, Reisetagebücher, Kriegserzählungen, Tempelchroniken sowie Ursprungserzählungen von Gottheiten. Darüber hinaus sollen auch liturgische Texte, die in Zeremonien verlesen wurden, sowie performative Traditionen wie das Nō-Theater Beachtung finden. Das Seminar gibt einen Überblick über die Literatur des Mittelalters mit einem Fokus auf die Weltsicht und die buddhistisch geprägten Empfindungen, die den in ihrer Form so unterschiedlichen Texten gemein sind.

Event Die Erfindung des Bushidō: Wegweisende Texte über den "Weg des Kriegers"
06UE290-601a / Exercise Group / 674

Description:

Business event contents:
Heutzutage ist Bushidō, der "Weg des Kriegers", ein weltweit bekanntes Schlagwort im Zusammenhang mit japanischen Mentalitäten und der Geschichte des Landes.
Obwohl die jahrhundertealte Tradition dieses Begriffs immer wieder betont wurde und wird, erlangte er erst mit der Veröffentlichung von Nitobe Inazōs Buch "Bushidō: The Soul of Japan" im Jahr 1900 größere Bekanntheit - nicht nur im Veröffentlichungsland Amerika, sondern auch in Japan selbst.
In dieser Übung lesen wir zunächst Auszüge aus der japanischen Version von Nitobes Bushidō.
Anschließend befassen wir uns mit Klassikern des Bushidō aus der Edo-Zeit. Zum einen mit dem "Kōyō Gunkan", den heldenhaften Aufzeichnungen des Takeda-Clans von 1616, zum anderen mit Passagen aus dem "Budō Shoshinshū", das um 1725 von Daidōji Yūzan verfasst wurde.

Event Introduction to Research Methods in the Social Sciences
06UE290-703a / Exercise Group / 1,615

Description:

Business event contents:
This exercise introduces master students to relevant methods in qualitative social science research on Asia, and Japan in particular. We will consider the design of a research project from the first steps and brainstorming to the actual implementation, including suitable research questions, appropriate methods and analysis. The competences acquired in this exercise will ideally prepare students to design and execute their own research project such as the master thesis. The focus of this exercise lies on research design and research questions. Furthermore, common methods of qualitative research will be introduced and discussed with regard to the respective research design and questions of students' projects, but the methods will not be practiced more intensively. The exercise is thus particularly suited for students who want to tackle the challenge of designing a master thesis project or for those already working on the thesis and who want to use the module as a weekly space to support research and writing.

Notes:
Mainly on-site; materials available via OLAT

Event Tamil Culture and Society
06SE330o266a / Seminar / 3,041

Description:

Business event contents:
This course offers a broad and critical introduction to key issues in Tamil society and culture, with a focus on both Tamil Nadu and the Tamil diaspora in Switzerland. Drawing on a combination of ethnographic and archival sources, students will gain a comprehensive overview of Tamil society.

We will challenge the idea of a cohesive Tamil identity by engaging with Tamil Nadu's history, contemporary politics, and cultural landscapes. Key topics include inequality, gender, kinship, political movements, and caste. Particular attention will be paid to the rise of the Dravidian movement, the contradictions within Tamil nationalist discourse, and the distinct political and economic trajectories of Tamil Nadu in comparison to North India.

Beyond India, we will consider how Tamil culture has transformed and adapted in diasporic contexts, with a specific focus on the Tamil diaspora in Switzerland. We will also examine major themes and tensions in the study of Tamil identity, exploring how notions of a unified Tamil people have been constructed, contested, and reshaped over time.

The course is designed not only to introduce students to Tamil studies, but also to cultivate critical thinking and the ability to challenge mainstream narratives - skills that are essential in academic research and broadly transferable across university subjects.

Event Mixed Methods in the Social Sciences: Epistemologies, Practices, Politics
06SE330o267a / Seminar / 2,106

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar introduces students to mixed methods research in the social sciences, with a particular focus on bridging the epistemological and methodological divide between quantitative (positivist) and qualitative (constructivist/interpretivist) approaches. Students will critically engage with both variable-oriented designs (e.g. regression analysis, experimental design) and case-oriented approaches (e.g. ethnography, interviewing), and explore how these can be combined in innovative and rigorous ways.
By the end of the course, students will be able to assess methodological debates across paradigms, design coherent and well-aligned research strategies, and reflect on the political and ethical dimensions of their methodological choices. The course combines theoretical readings, group-based exercises, and practical reflection to prepare students for interdisciplinary research.

Notes:
The seminar is aimed at advanced BA and MA students across disciplines who are interested in developing a critical understanding of social science methods and engaging with complex research design questions. The course is conducted in English and participation is highly recommended and expected in all sessions.

Event Religion and Social Order: Theorizing Caste from Classical to Modern India
06SE330o311a / Seminar / 2,654

Description:

Business event contents:
Caste is one of the world's longest-standing systems of social hierarchy and exclusion. Despite India's constitutional commitment to equality, caste continues to shape access to power, resources, dignity, and citizenship in deeply entrenched ways. This course explores the historical foundations and evolving theorizations of caste, from its formulation in ancient Hindu texts to its contested interpretations in modern India.

We begin with classical sources such as the Manusmriti and the Dharmashastras, which provided early justifications for caste-based segregation. From there, we move through early colonial and orientalist readings of caste, and into the major 20th-century debates on caste and modernity. Central to our discussions will be the contrasting views of M.K. Gandhi and B.R. Ambedkar, as well as the role of caste in shaping contemporary Hindu nationalist ideologies. We will ask: How has caste been theorized-as religion, race, culture, or power? What challenges does it pose to the idea of democratic citizenship? And what kinds of resistance have emerged to challenge its social logics?

The course combines textual analysis with theoretical inquiry and draws on disciplines such as history, political theory, anthropology, and religious studies. No prior background in South Asian studies is required.

Event Stalinismus
06VL612o002a / Course / 2,963

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Vorlesung widmet sich dem Stalinismus als einer der prägendsten politischen und sozialen Formationen des 20. Jahrhunderts. Wir untersuchen den Stalinismus sowohl als Herrschaftsform - gekennzeichnet durch Terror, Gewalt, Zwangsarbeit, Deportationen und imperiale Expansion - als auch als soziales Phänomen, das tief in den Alltag der Menschen eingriff. Ein zentrales Thema der Vorlesung ist die Frage, wie sich diese Praktiken und Strukturen mit den ideologischen Grundlagen des Kommunismus vereinbaren liessen. Wir werden den Stalinismus als wirtschaftliches, politisches und kulturelles System analysieren. Darüber hinaus betrachten wir die unterschiedlichen Erinnerungskulturen, die in den ehemaligen Sowjetrepubliken bis heute existieren: von heroischen Narrativen über den "Grossen Vaterländischen Krieg" bis hin zu kritischen Formen der Aufarbeitung von Gewalt, Repression und kolonialer Herrschaft. Die Vorlesung bietet damit einen Überblick über zentrale Forschungsdebatten über totalitärer Systeme, politischer Gewalt und kollektiver Erinnerung.

Event Introduction to the Exegetical Methods of the Hebrew Bible
01PS14LB002 / Proseminar / 371

Description:

Business event contents:
Ziel des Proseminares ist es, den wissenschaftlichen Umgang mit den Texten des Alten Testaments zu erlernen und zu einer selbständigen und methodisch überprüfbaren Auslegung alttestamentlicher Texte zu gelangen.
An ausgewählten alttestamentlichen Textpassagen werden die wichtigsten exegetischen Methoden der etablierten (d.h. der historisch-kritischen) Forschung als auch aktueller biblisch-theologisch und literaturwissenschaftlich orientierter Zugänge vorgestellt und erarbeitet.
Die Arbeit im Proseminar ist echte Grundlagenarbeit, die von jedem Teilnehmenden aktive Vor- und Nachbereitung der Sitzungen sowie aktive Mitarbeit während der Sitzungen verlangt. Wir werden gemeinsam (kürzere) hebräische Texte übersetzen, die Sie in Eigenarbeit zuhause vorbereiten werden. Hinzu kommt die gründliche Lektüre der Sekundärliteratur zu den entsprechenden Methodenschritten. Ziel soll es sein, dass Sie methodisch reflektiert, aber auch theologisch-reflektiert die biblischen Texte im Studium, in der weiteren wissenschaftlicher Laufbahn und im pfarramtlichen Beruf kompetent auslegen können.

Notes:
Das erfolgreiche Absolvieren der Module Hebräisch I + II wird für die Teilnahme vorausgesetzt.

Course Materials:	Die wesentliche Literatur wird auf OLAT bereitsgetellt. Das Proseminar basiert v.a. auf: Becker, Uwe, Exegese des Alten Testaments: Ein Methoden- und Arbeitsbuch, UTB 2664, Tübingen 5. Aufl. 2021. Ferner wird allen Teilnehmerinnen und Teilnehmern empfohlen, eine Biblia Hebraica (Biblia Hebraica Stuttgartensia, Stuttgart 5. Auflage 1997) zu besitzen.

Event KG Seminar: Augustin, Gnadenlehre: Schicksal oder Determination
01SE22SS048 / Seminar / 1,692

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Gnadenlehre Augustins hat in seiner extremen Form Unverständnis hervorgerufen. Wie kann Gott die Menschen von Ewigkeit her der Verdammung überlassen und warum ist Christus nur für die Erwählten gestorben? Warum müssen Kinder getauft werden und was heisst Erbsünde? Für die Gnadenlehre gilt, dass sie für die Theologiegeschichte zentral ist und dass Augustin gerade mit der Gnadenlehre zumindest bis in die Reformation und frühe Neuzeit weitergewirkt und insbesondere die reformierte Bekenntnisbildung stark beeinflusst hat.

Event ST Lecture Dogmatics: Prolegomena
01VL23SV020 / Course / 2,777

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Prolegomena der Theologie beantwortet diejenigen Fragen, die vor der inhaltlichen Arbeit geklärt sein müssen: Was ist eigentlich Theologie? Was sind mögliche Gegenstände? Woher wissen wir von diesen Gegenständen und wie können wir diese verantwortet in den jeweiligen arbeitszusammenhängen bearbeiten? Die Prolegoma stellen damit wichtige Weichen für die theologische Konzeption - auch der eigenen. Die Vorlesung führt in diese Grundfragen ein und stellt die unterschiedlichen Antwortmöglichkeiten daraus aus der Theologiegeschichte exemplarisch vor. Sie zielt damit zum einen auf eine breite Grundbildung im Feld der Prolegomena und zum anderen auf die Schärfung des eigenen Selbstverständnisses als Theolog*in.

Event NT / KG / ST Seminar Dogmatics: Theologies of Ministry
01SE23SS049 / Seminar / 2,150

Description:

Business event contents:
Das interdisziplinäre Seminar befasst sich mit Amtstheologien im Neuen Testament, zur Zeit der Reformation, in systematisch-theologischen Entwürfen und aktuellen kirchlichen Positionspapieren. Dabei sollen nicht nur vertiefte Erkenntnisse der Vielfalt und der historischen Entwicklungen gewonnen, sondern auch Grundprobleme der Amtstheologie diskutiert werden. Das Seminar dient so auch der theologischen Urteilsbildung im Blick auf die in den Kirchen gegenwärtig stark debattierten Fragen zur Zukunft ihrer Ämter und Dienste im Kontext rückläufiger Mitgliederzahlen und Finanzen sowie einer fortschreitenden Pluralisierung der Gesellschaft.

01SE23SS125 / Seminar / 2,775

Description:

Business event contents:
Im Kontext der medizinischen Versorgung von Menschen gibt es immer wieder Siutuationen, bei denen die Frage im Raum steht, ob sie als Tötungshandlungen ethisch zu legitimieren sind. Wir werden uns im Laufe des Semesters einerseits grundsätzlich mit der ethischen und theologischen Begründung des Tötungsverbotes befassen, und andererseits konkrete medizinethische Kontroversen in den Blick nehmen, bei denen die Frage der Legitimität der Tötungshandlung kontrovers diskutiert wird: Tötung auf Verlangen & assistierter Suizid sowie die Diskusisonen zum Thema des Schwangerschaftsabbruchs.

Notes:
Empfehlenswert ist, dieses Seminar nur zu belegen, wenn bereits der Grund- und Lektürekurs Ethik absolviert wurde, da grundlegende Kenntnisse in Ethik vorausgesetzt werden.

Course Materials: Texte werden über OLAT zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event IE/ST Basics of Islamic Ethics
01SE27SS003 / Seminar / 1,525

Description:

Business event contents:
In einer zunehmend pluralisierten Welt rücken die Fragen über richtiges Handeln und eine gute Lebensführung des Menschen in den Mittelpunkt. Sie erfordert eine ethische Auseinandersetzung darüber, welche Prinzipien das Handeln leiten. In diesem Seminar soll ausgehend von den ethischen Prinzipien, die vom Koran und der prophetischen Sunna abgeleitet werden, die Entstehung und Entwicklung der islamischen Ethik nachgezeichnet werden. In diesem Kontext soll die griechische Philosophie in der islamischen Ethik verortet werden, da Komponenten in ihr wiederzufinden sind. Daneben sind die unterschiedlichen Positionen im islamischen Denken in der Gründungsphase bis hin zur Gegenwart Gegenstand des Seminars. Vor allem sollen die Konzepte zur Vorherbestimmung, zur Verantwortung und zum freien Willen des Menschen erarbeitet werden. Hierbei sollen die Disziplinen der islamischen Mystik und der rationalen Theologie herangezogen werden.

Event Die Sozialdemokratie im 21. Jahrhundert in der Schweiz und in Europa
06SE615-013a / Seminar / 4,268

Description:

Business event contents:
Bedrängt von strukturellem Wandel und neuen parteipolitischen Rivalen ringen sozialdemokratische Parteien in ganz Europa im 21. Jahrhundert um ein zukunftsträchtiges Profil, welches ihren historischen Anliegen des sozialen Ausgleichs und der Inklusion zu politischer Wirkung verhelfen kann.

Im Zentrum des Seminars stehen 3 Fragen, welche wir sowohl für die Schweiz, als auch vergleichend beantworten:

Wer wählt heute die Sozialdemokratie und warum? Wer nicht, oder nicht mehr? Wie verändern sich die Wählerschaften der verschiedenen linken Parteien über die Zeit?
Für welches inhaltliche Profil stehen sozialdemokratische Parteien? Wie unterscheiden sie sich voneinander (in der Schweiz und in Vergleichsländern)? Wen sprechen sozialdemokratische Parteien mit ihren Programmen an? Wie grenzen sie sich von links-grünen Parteien ab? Wie stehen sie zu neuen zentralen Themen der Linken (Klima, Bildung, Sicherheit) und welche Beziehungen haben sie zu neuen sozialen Bewegungen?
Wo liegt das strategische elektorale Potenzial der Schweizer Sozialdemokratie und der linken Parteien insgesamt? Welche Herausforderungen drohen ihr?

Ausgehend von aktuellen Forschungsprojekten studieren wir Analysen zur Transformation links-progressiver Politik und ihrer Wählerschaft im 21. Jahrhundert und ordnen den Fall der Schweizer Parteien theoretisch und empirisch ein.

Die Studierenden befassen sich mit aktuellen Studien und können in eigenen Analysen ausgewählte Aspekte der Fragestellung komparativ, für die Schweiz oder für ausgewählte Kantone vertiefen.

Event The Politics of Inequality
06VL615-034a / Course / 3,067

Description:

Business event contents:
This lecture explores the dynamics of economic inequality, its measurement, and the role of politics in shaping economic disparities. The course begins with an introduction to inequality patterns across regions and historical periods. A key focus is on how governments can respond to inequality through policy tools such as taxation and redistribution, while also examining the political and economic constraints that prevent stronger interventions. Students will explore how inequality influences public opinion, political behavior, and elections, while also covering topics like social mobility and intersectionality. The course includes a mix of lectures, discussions, and a final exam.

Course Materials:	Jensen/van Kersbergen (2017). The politics of inequality. London: Palgrave Macmillan. Research papers from political science, sociology and economics as detailled in the syllabus.

Event Advanced Studies in Anglophone Cultural Studies: Writing Skills in the Anthropocene
06KO440o517a / Colloquium / 4,273

Description:

Business event contents:
The Anthropocene-a term introduced to describe the epoch-making effects of human activity on the earth system-poses a special challenge for thought. It overturns our most basic representations of the world, like the distinction between nature and culture, or between human history and the history of life and the Earth. Coming to terms with the collapse of these representations puts tremendous pressure not just on our vocabulary, but on our syntax and idioms. After all, if the Earth is not the stage of human activity but another actor in its drama, then shouldn't we follow Donna Haraway's usage and say thatwe don't live "in" the world-we live "with" it?

Writing-let alone thinking-this way induces a three-fold disorientation: first, in space (where are we?); then, in time (what is our past and what is our future?); and finally, in identity (who are we and what can we do?).
Answering such questions often means transgressing the boundaries of genre and discipline. This course takes up the challenge, examining literary and non-literary attempts to map this terra incognita. Its core text is Richard Powers' Playground, a novel which narrates the brief history of the Anthropocene from the perspective of a tiny island in the middle of the South Pacific.

Event How AI changes Public Science Communication
06SE254o101a / Seminar / 2,090

Description:

Business event contents:
Artificial intelligence, with applications such as ChatGPT, is fundamentally changing societal communication in many realms. This includes public science communication, meaning how science-related topics - from climate change over health issues to nutrition and fitness - are communicated to non-expert audiences, including its production, content, use and effects. We will discuss these changes for different stakeholders: professional communicators, scientists, journalists, content creators, Wikipedians, as well as citizens. Students will develop small qualitative research projects, which will serve as their final assignment for this class.

Event Politische Kommunikation im Zeitalter von Influencern und KI
06SE250-700c / Seminar / 4,752

Description:

Business event contents:
Dieses zweisemestrige Forschungsseminar untersucht das aufkommende Phänomen der Social-Media-Influencer und die wachsende Rolle künstlicher Intelligenz (KI) in der Gestaltung politischer Kommunikation. Was unterscheidet Influencer von traditionellen politischen oder medialen Akteuren? Wie prägen sie den politischen Diskurs auf Plattformen wie TikTok und Instagram? Und wie verändert der Aufstieg KI-generierter Inhalte die Art und Weise, wie politische Botschaften produziert, verbreitet und rezipiert werden?
Im Laufe des Seminars durchlaufen die Studierenden einen vollständigen Forschungsprozess - von der konzeptionellen Entwicklung bis zur empirischen Untersuchung. Das Seminar bietet die einmalige Gelegenheit, an der Spitze der Forschung zur politischen Kommunikation zu arbeiten und dabei sowohl fundiertes theoretisches Wissen als auch praktische Fähigkeiten in digitalen Forschungsmethoden zu erwerben.
Im ersten Semester konzentrieren wir uns auf die Entwicklung des theoretischen Rahmens. Die Studierenden analysieren die Rolle von Influencern in modernen politischen Kommunikationslandschaften, ihre Strategien und ihre potenziellen Auswirkungen auf politische Prozesse und die öffentliche Meinungsbildung. Zudem wird kritisch beleuchtet, wie KI-Technologien - insbesondere generative Modelle - Sichtbarkeit, Engagement und Überzeugungskraft in der digitalen Politik beeinflussen. Die Studierenden setzen sich mit der Fachliteratur auseinander, formulieren Forschungsfragen sowie Hypothesen und entwerfen eine Forschungsstrategie.
Im zweiten Semester widmen wir uns der empirischen Forschung. Die Studierenden lernen moderne Verfahren der Inhaltsanalyse und computergestützte Methoden kennen. Sie erheben und analysieren Daten von Social-Media-Plattformen, um ihre Forschungsfragen zu beantworten und ihre Hypothesen zu testen. Besonderes Augenmerk wird auf die methodischen Herausforderungen und Chancen gelegt, die sich aus dem Einsatz von KI-basierten Werkzeugen für Kommunikation und Forschung ergeben.

Event NLP for Low-Resource and Marginalized Language Varieties
06SE521o002a / Seminar / 2,149

Description:

Business event contents:
Over 7,000 languages are spoken globally, yet only a small fraction can leverage modern language and speech technologies (LST). When considering dialects and varieties, this gap becomes even more pronounced. This seminar examines the major challenges facing low-resource languages and varieties that are often overlooked in current NLP development, particularly with the rapid advancement of large language models.
Students will explore established approaches ranging from data collection and augmentation to cross-lingual transfer learning and multilingual modeling. The seminar also addresses problems unique to bi- and multilingual communities, including code-switching, script normalization, and loanword integration. We will study state-of-the-art methods while critically examining their applicability to underrepresented languages.
This seminar follows a problem-driven structure designed for solution-oriented students. Through case studies and hands-on projects, participants will gain practical experience with the technical and sociolinguistic challenges of extending NLP capabilities to marginalized language varieties. The course is particularly suitable for students who speak low-resource languages or those interested in advancing inclusive language technology.

Course Materials:	Research papers, technical reports, and case studies will be provided. Students may work with real low-resource language data where ethically appropriate.

Event Organisation und Führung (V) (Organisation & Management)
03VL22BO0100 / Course / 2,216

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Vorlesung behandelt grundlegende Aspekte der Unternehmensführung vor dem Hintergrund einer organisationstheoretischen Betrachtung betrieblicher Zusammenhänge. Unter anderem werden Asatzpunkte einer Professionalisierung der Führungspraxis, die Handhabung von Entscheidungsproblemen sowie das weite Feld des Strategischen thematisiert. Überdies wird die Unternehmensführung als evolutionäre Führungskonzeption diskutiert, die systematisch von der Offenheit der Zukunft ausgeht. Der dadurch vermittelte, differenzierte Blick soll letztlich zu einem besseren Verständnis der Unternehmenspraxis verhelfen. Die Veranstaltung orientiert sich dabei an dem Lehrbuch Kirsch/Seidl/van Aaken "Unternehmensführung" (Stuttgart: Schäffer-Poeschel, 2009).

Notes:
Es werden ein Livestream und ein Podcast zur Verfügung gestellt.

Course Materials:	Kirsch/Seidl/van Aaken "Unternehmensführung" (Stuttgart: Schäffer- Poeschel, 2009). Siehe "Links" für die Verfügbarkeit der Pflichtlektüre in den Bibliotheken des Rechercheportals.

Students will learn about how leadership research is produced. Students will receive hands-on experience in the research process and learn a mix of content, learning about the current leadership research landscape and how to conduct cutting-edge, rigorous leadership research. We begin by surveying topic areas in leadership research and identifying design and methodological issues. Then, we will focus our attention on designing rigorous research to answer the leadership questions of today (and tomorrow). In addition to practice with design and analytic techniques, students will also develop their academic writing skills in preparation for a Master thesis or other research-related writing.

Event Die Logik und Erkenntnistheorie des ontologischen Gottesbeweises und seiner Kritik: Descartes, Gödel, Plantinga, Kant
06SE160o503a / Seminar / 677

Description:

Business event contents:
Der ontologische Gottesbeweis steht für eine dynamische Tradition des Denkens in der westlichen Philosophie, das Denkerinnen und Denker bis zur Gegenwart inspiriert und zur Kritik anregt. Es ist deshalb gar nicht so einfach, eine kurze Charakterisierung der Argumentationsweise zu geben, welche diese Tradition zusammenhält. Immanuel Kant, gleichzeitig der wichtigste Systematiker und der wichtigste Kritiker dieser Argumentationsform und ein zentraler Referenzpunkt für das Seminar, hält fest, dass der ontologische Gottesbeweis ``gänzlich a priori aus blossen Begriffen auf das Dasein einer höchsten Ursache'' schliessen will (KrV, B 618-19). Im Gegensatz zu anderen so genannten Gottesbeweisen verfährt der ontologische Gottesbeweis also gänzlich ohne Rückgriff auf empirische Evidenz, Daten, oder Beobachtungen.
Im Seminar werden wir diese negative Charakterisierung schrittweise mit einer positiven ergänzen. Dazu analysieren und diskutieren wir ausgewählte Instanzen dieser Argumentationsform aus einer erkenntnistheoretischen und logischen Perspektive, und wir setzen uns intensiv mit Kants Kritik am ontologischen Gottesbeweis fest. Tatsächlich bietet Kants Kritik an dieser Argumentationsform einen sehr erhellenden Einstieg in seine kritische Philosophie selbst: Das ontologische Argument steht für alles, was Kant an der traditionellen rationalistischen Metaphysik für grundlegend verkehrt hält und damit als Antithese zu seiner kritischen Philosophie.
Wir lassen dabei die ursprüngliche Version des Gottesbeweises von Anselm von Canterbury beiseite -- nicht zuletzt deshalb, weil sich bei ihm nicht ohne weiteres überhaupt von einem Argument im modernen Sinne, geschweige denn von einer bewusst erkenntnistheoretischen Vorgehensweise sprechen liesse. Wir konzentrieren uns vielmehr auf die sehr breit diskutierte Version, bzw. die Versionen, von René Descartes, des Mathematikers Kurt Gödel, und des amerikanischen Religionsphilosophen des 20. Jahrhunderts Alvin Plantinga. Diese Texte werden mit passender Sekundärliteratur erschlossen und kritisch diskutiert, und die Systematik und Kritik Kants wird von zentraler Bedeutung sein.

06SE160o508a / Seminar / 4,701

Description:

Business event contents:
This online seminar is taught in English; therefore, students should be aware that excellent knowledge of English is required to keep up with the reading assignments.
New York in the golden twenties was a cool place: we shall delve into the world of journalism, literature, art and the intellectuals and artists who were creating the culture, pulse and reputation of what one could call American modernity.
Dorothy Parker, née Rothschild, was a journalist, writer and poetess, as famous for her elegant essays as infamous for her acerbic literary criticism and witty poems.
This seminar addresses students of art history, modern American/Western history, American literature and gender studies. What did the life of an American intellectual look like in the 1920s and how political were these intellectuals in the interwar period? Did American women enjoy more liberty in society than European women? Those and more questions shall be addressed.

Event Oral History in Theorie und Praxis
06SE600-001d / Seminar / 2,210

Description:

Business event contents:
Oral History ist mehr als nur die Nutzung von Interviews als Quellen in der Geschichtswissenschaft. Sie ist eine Methode zeitgeschichtlicher Forschung mit speziellen Arbeitstechniken und Fragestellungen.
In diesem Seminar soll zuerst der Bereich der Oral History, ihre Chancen und auch Grenzen abgesteckt werden. Danach werden die wichtigsten Arbeitsschritte der Oral History thematisiert: die Planung und Durchführung von qualitativen Interviews sowie deren Bearbeitung und Auswertung. Fragen der Forschungsethik bei Interviews mit Zeitzeugen sind ebenfalls Gegenstand des Seminars.
Die Teilnehmerinnen und Teilnehmer dieses Methoden- und Theorieseminars sollen selbst ein lebensgeschichtliches Interview führen, dieses bearbeiten und interpretieren. Das Seminar und die Interviewdurchführung finden in enger Zusammenarbeit mit dem PTT-Archiv, dem Unternehmensarchiv der ehemaligen schweizerischen Post-, Telefon- und Telegrafenbetriebe in Köniz statt. Mit den Interviews mit ehemaligen PTT-Angestellten soll nicht nur die Konstruktion von Lebensgeschichten, sondern auch das Verhältnis von individueller Erfahrung und Geschichte reflektiert werden. Hierbei geht es um das erinnerte Erleben und die heutige Wahrnehmung nicht nur von Veränderungen im beruflichen Umfeld der PTT, sondern auch von allgemeinen sozialen, wirtschaftlichen und politischen Prozessen in der Schweiz in der zweiten Hälfte des 20. Jahrhunderts.

Notes:
Der Leistungsnachweis in diesem Methoden- und Theorieseminar besteht aus der Durchführung, der Transkription und der Interpretation eines lebensgeschichtlichen Interviews.
Abgabetermin der Seminararbeit ist der
2. November
2026.

Event Democracy and Development in Low- and Middle-Income Economies
06SE615o548a / Seminar / 4,746

Description:

Business event contents:
In this course, we will explore questions related to democracy, representation, and development. We will examine both theoretical and empirical research on democracy and development in low- and middle-income economies. Our focus will include specific frameworks such as democracy in conflict and post-conflict settings, the impact of gender, the role of digitalization, issues of corruption, inequality, and the process of autocratization. By concentrating on these areas, we will analyze various factors that can influence the stability of democracy, the proper conduct of democratic processes, and the success or failure of development policies.

Event Époques et mouvements : Symbolisme, Décadence, Fin de siècle
06SE390-003a / Seminar / 3,323

Description:

Business event contents:
Dans ce cours, nous développerons une compréhension des multiples facettes de la littérature française à la fin du XIXe siècle et au tournant du XXe siècle que l'historiographie de la littérature (et non seulement de la littérature) a cherchées à capturer à travers des mots-clés comme « Symbolisme », « Décadence », « Fin de siècle », de Baudelaire et Huysmans jusqu'à Rimbaud et Renée Vivien. Nous étudierons les motifs centraux, les formes et les médias typiques de cette littérature, ainsi que les contextes qui l'ont influencée et qu'elle a influencés. Et nous réfléchirons sur les critères et les manières de périodisation de l'historiographie de la littérature, en nous penchant sur les concepts d'« époque » et de « mouvement »: Un des enjeux du cours sera de relationner les trois termes « Symbolisme », « Décadence » et « Fin de siècle », souvent utilisés de manière plus ou moins synonyme par la critique.
Dans le séminaire, nous étudierons la prose, la poésie et la théorie, en focalisant entre autres, la dimension « synesthétique », intermédiale des textes, communiquant avec d'autres arts tels que la musique et la peinture.

Course Materials:	Les étudiantes et étudiants sont priés de se procurer les éditions poche GF Flammarion présentées par Daniel Grojnowski de Joris-Karl Huysmans, À rebours et de Georges Rodenbach, Bruges-la-Morte. Les autres textes seront fournis sous format digital.

Event Le Roman de Tristan en prose
06VL390o020a / Course / 1,828

Description:

Business event contents:
Le Tristan en prose est un long roman arthurien qui parvient, vers 1230, assez habilement à entremêler l'histoire de Tristan et d'Yseut à celle des chevaliers de la Table Ronde et à la Quête du Graal. Le roman a connu un grand succès au Moyen Age qui est attesté par le nombre de manuscrits conservés et les différentes réalaborations dont il a fait l'objet. Ce succès de la version en prose explique sans doute aussi la disparition de la version octosyllabique. Du point de vue de l'histoire littéraire, le roman reprend l'univers narratif du Lancelot-Graal, mais le modifie par endroits considérablement. Dans ce cours, on présentera les épisodes principaux dans les différentes versions et leurs différences et l'on réfléchira au "multivers" arthurien ainsi créé où sont racontées des aventures alternatives

Event El Español en Europa
06VL427o041a / Course / 835

Description:

Business event contents:
La Universidad de Zúrich participa, junto con la Universidad de Heidelberg y el Instituto Cervantes, en un gran proyecto de investigación sobre el español en Europa. Varios libros ya se han publicado sobre la presencia del español en diferentes países europeos (entre otros, en Suiza, véase https://cvc.cervantes.es/lengua/espanol_europa/). En este curso presentaremos resultados del proyecto y hablaremos de la presencia del español en los países europeos además de los fenómenos relacionados con esa presencia: la migración, los hablantes de herencia, el contacto de las lenguas, la enseñanza y el estudio del español.

Event Die "Abseitigen" im Zentrum: Dada, Surrealismus und Konkrete Kunst, wiederentdeckt nach 1945
06SE504o061a / Seminar / 672

Description:

Business event contents:
110 Jahre Dada! Ein guter Grund, die modernen europäischen Avantgardebewegungen neu in den Blick und ins Ohr zu nehmen und den Fokus noch etwas über sie hinaus zu erweitern: Ihre Entstehung ist kaum denkbar ohne Texte von Vorläufern und Zeitgenossen wie Mallarmé, Scheerbart und Alfred Jarry. Wir setzen uns mit der mehrsprachigen «Anthologie der Abseitigen» auseinander, die die Kunsthistorikerin Carola Giedion-Welcker 1946 herausgab. Sie rückt jene Autor:innen der Avantgarden ins Zentrum, deren Texte nach dem Weltkrieg kaum mehr greifbar waren, und jene Künstler, die zuvor nicht als Dichter wahrgenommen wurden, u.a. Klee, Picasso und Kandinsky. Im Zürcher Haus des Ehepaars Giedion-Welcker trafen sich Vertreter:innen der Avantgarden wie Sophie Taeuber, Hans Arp und Max Ernst. Wir können im Seminar Carola Giedion-Welcker, deren Bibliothek in der AVL-Bibliothek aufbewahrt wird, näher kennenlernen: als Forscherin und kenntnisreiche, weitvernetzte Autorin, Kuratorin und Kunstvermittlerin.

Event Statistik II, Tutorat Gruppe 1
06TT240-007a / Tutorat / 3,532

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Regressionsanalyse ist ein Verfahren für metrische Variablen und die wichtigste Analysetechnik der quantitativen Sozialforschung. Ein Verständnis ihrer Potentiale, Probleme und Anwendungsbezüge ist Voraussetzung zur erfolgreichen Absolvierung eines quantitativ orientierten Soziologiestudiums. Gleichfalls ist sie Schlüssel zur Bewährung in der empirisch geprägten sozialwissenschaftlichen Berufspraxis und Brücke in die Data Sciences. Nach Vorstellung der Grundlagen und Diskussion wichtiger Probleme der Regressionsanalyse (Ausreisser, fehlende Linearität) widmet sich die Vorlesung vertieft (a) der Integration kategorialer Variablen sowie (b) der simultanen Analyse mehrerer unabhängiger Variablen (Multiple Regression). Letzteres dient entweder der Kontrolle von Drittmerkmalen oder der Erhöhung der statistischen Erklärungskraft. Die multiple Regression erfüllt somit wichtig Funktionen bei der kausalen Absicherung von Zusammenhängen sowie der Etablierung statistischer Prognosemodelle.

Event Zur Probe: Szenarien des Testens und Trainierens
06SE255o010a / Seminar / 4,816

Description:

Business event contents:
In Proben werden Darbietungen einstudiert, Versuche inszeniert oder Wissen abgefragt. Kulturtechniken des Testens und Trainierens kommen in künstlerischen, wissenschaftlichen oder edukativen Szenarien zur Anwendung. In ihnen werden vielschichtig eingebettete Lebensrealitäten erprobt und durchgespielt, indem sie abgebildet und generiert werden. In audiovisuellem Testmaterial, in Lehrfilmen, experimentellen Videos oder metareflexiven Spielfilmsequenzen treten sie medialisiert in Erscheinung. Die Bezeichnung «Szenario» für derart dokumentierte und fingierte Ereignisse macht die darin stattfindenden Handlungen und Erfahrungen als testendes, eingeübtes und beispielhaftes Verhalten begreifbar. In den Blick geraten damit prozesshafte, strukturelle und operative Aspekte.
Im Seminar werden wir filmische Probeszenarien gemeinsam betrachten und besprechen. Dabei wollen wir insbesondere nach den medialen, sozialen und materiellen Umständen der inszenierten Test- und Trainingssituationen fragen. Wie werden sie entworfen und ausgestaltet? Was sind ihre Bezugssysteme und Funktionen? Welche Narrative und Implikationen transportieren die dargestellten und angewendeten Praktiken des Probens, Testens und Trainierens? In welchem Verhältnis stehen instruierende und ausführende Instanzen und welche Spielräume werden hier performativ ausgehandelt?

Event Decision Neuroscience (S)
03SEDOEC0133 / Doktorandenseminar / 631

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar provides an introduction to different aspects of decision neuroscience by exploring the neural processes and computations that underlie decision making in humans, non-human primates, and rodents. The seminar will begin with a brief introduction to methods in neuroscience and economics and outline neural and economic theories of decision making. Discussions of specialized topics will ensue, covering issues such as neural representations of valuation, strategic decisions, learning, social decision making, perceptual decisions, and multiplicity of decision-making systems. The seminar will be divided between overview lectures, student presentations of research papers, and general discussions of how neural data can inform theories of decision making.

Event ST Seminar Dogmatics: Testimony Today. An Interdisciplinary Exploration
01SE23SS051 / Seminar / 2,773

Description:

Business event contents:
Being a witness of Christ is a very old and common description of what it means to be a Christian. At the same time, giving testimony (and being a testimonial) is a very common form of medial and political communication today, especially within populist movements. This raises questions that the seminar wants to address from philosophical, theological, and political perspectives: What does being a witness mean? How can one live and speak as a witness? How can one speak truth? And how can witnesses be bound together as a shared confession?
 Interdisciplinary testimonial studies have shown where and how testimony represents a basic form of knowledge and testimonial speech is currently a basic form of public speech: Testimony as an essential category of justice-oriented epistemologies (testimonial injustice, social epistemologies, social movements as communities of confession) but also as an individualized, emotionalized, non-rational form of public speech especially on social media (build on trust, subject to confirmation bias, etc). Testimony stands between the individual and the communal, between identity formation and exclusion.
The seminar will reflect these questions, which will also be the topic of an international conference. The conference will take place on May 8-10, 2026, at the Faculty of Theology and the Study of Religion in Zurich. The seminar will prepare the students for attending the conference. Actively engaging there is a mandatory part of the seminar.

Notes:
Das Seminar ist verbunden mit der internationalen Tagung "Testimony - Confession - Truth", die am 8.-10.05.2026 in Zürich im Raum 200 stattfindet und von PD Dr. Frederike van Oorschot und Prof. Dr. Hanna Reichel (Princeton) verantwortet wird. Die aktive Teilnahme an der Tagung wird durch das Seminar vorbereitet. Die Teilnahme an der Tagung ist Teil des Seminars. Unterrichts- und Tagungssprache ist Englisch. Die Termine der vorbereitenden Seminarsitzungen werden in der ersten Sitzung ausgewählt.

Event PT Liturgics Training: Evensong
01UE24SU026 / Exercise Group / 2,226

Description:

Business event contents:
Der "Evensong" ist ein Abendgottesdienst in der anglikanischen Tradition. Typisch sind der gepflegte Gesang und die liturgischen Elemente der Vesper. Wir orientieren uns an dieser Form, aber interpretieren und erweitern sie zugleich. Wir hören eine kurze Predigt und nicht nur eine Lesung, lassen die Gemeinde und nicht nur den Chor singen und wagen den bewussten Stilbruch mit verschiedenen Traditionen (Gregorianik, Genfer Psalter und Worship). Ausserdem feiern wir ein schlichtes und schlankes Abendmahl. Wir üben uns also im Feiern und experimentieren mit Formen. Es geht darum, mit der klassischen Liturgie Vertrautheit zu gewinnen und gleichzeitig Neues zu erproben. Die Studierenden können im Rahmen des Moduls PT4 erste Schritte in Gottesdienstleitung, (öffentlich) Beten und Predigen üben. Selbstverständlich kann man die Übung, die jedes Semester stattfindet, auch als Wahlmodul buchen.

Notes:
Details zum Programm finden Sie auf Olat. In der Regel feiern wir im Fraumünster und an einigen Abenden auch in der Wasserkirche. Während den Osterferien vom 02. - 12. April finden keine Lehrveranstaltungen statt.

Event Faschismus
06SE360-515a / Seminar / 1,022

Description:

Business event contents:
«Everybody wants to be a fascist», wie schon Félix Guattari wusste.
Warum das so ist, was uns am Faschismus affiziert und mit welchen (literar)ästhetischen Verfahren - damals wie heute - dieser Affekt produziert wird: Diese Fragen bilden die reflexive Achse des Moduls.
Entlang dieser Achse beginnen wir unsere Suche nach der faschistischen Poetik natürlich zunächst im italienischen Futurismus. Sodann besuchen wir das deutsche Laboratorium der
1920er und
1930er Jahre, um uns alsbald aber über Kulturlandschaften zu beugen, aus denen der Faschismus gelöscht scheint - obgleich er doch unser steter Begleiter bleibt. Durchschritten wird in unseren Lektüren eine mehr als hundertjährige Diskursgeschichte, die von Marinettis Mafarka bis zur Popkultur des
21. Jahrhunderts, von den völkischen Räuberpistolen der Nazis bis zur faschistischen Maschinerie der Künstlichen Intelligenz reicht. Darüber hinaus werden wir natürlich Faschismustheorie lesen und diskutieren, von Benjamin über Bataille bis hin zu Theweleit und Žižek.

Event Ibsen
06SE360o233a / Seminar / 1,530

Description:

Business event contents:
Henrik Ibsen gehört zu den wenigen Autoren, die eine wirklich globale Rezeption erfahren haben. Seine Dramen spielen nicht nur in der modernen europäischen Theatergeschichte eine Schlüsselrolle, sondern markieren etwa auch in Japan und China den Beginn moderner Literaturbewegungen. Auch das amerikanische Hollywood-Kino und der indische Film weisen starken Spuren von Ibsens Stücken auf. Neben der globalen Verbreitung erstaunt auch die Aktualität Ibsen. Kaum ein Jahr vergeht, ohne dass nicht mehrere Ibsen-Stücke an Schweizerischen Bühnen gespielt werden. Im Seminar werden wir der Frage nachgehen, was zu diesem Erfolg der Ibsenschen Dramatik geführt hat und führt. Dabei werden der Aktualität der Stücke Ibsens u.a. mit Rückgriff auf vier kulturanalytische Problemkomplexe nachgehen, mit deren Hilfe wir die gendertheoretische, ökokritische, medientheoretische und sozialkritische Relevanz von Ibsens Dramen erproben.

Event Global Negotiation: Theory and Practice
06SE615o512a / Seminar / 1,370

Description:

Business event contents:
The ability to negotiate effectively is one of the core competencies of diplomats as well as a vital skill in all areas of professional life. Despite its prevalence as a conflict resolution tool, negotiation is often an undervalued and understudied aspect of political science and international relations. This course will introduce students to the underlying theoretical approaches to negotiation in a global context as well as equip them with the practical skills and strategies needed to enhance their individual negotiation capacity. The highly interactive course will involve students participating in negotiation simulations on a range of thematic cases.

Course Materials:	Alain Lempereur, Aurélien Colson and Michele Pekar. The First Move: A Negotiator's Companion (Wiley, 2010). Catherine Ashton. And Then What?: Inside Stories of 21st-Century Diplomacy (Elliott & Thompson, 2023). Hayley Walker and Katja Biedenkopf (2020) 'Why Do Only Some Chairs Act as Successful Mediators? Event Von Populismus bis Well-being: Religion, Spiritualität und Medien in Zeiten gesellschaftlicher Brüche
06SE254o108a / Seminar / 3,196

Description:

Business event contents:
Ob Klimakrise, Populismus oder Einsamkeit - die Krisen unserer Zeit fordern nicht nur Gesellschaften insgesamt, sondern besonders auch junge Erwachsene heraus. Der andauernde technologische Wandel prägt dabei nicht nur unseren Alltag, sondern verändert auch grundlegend, wie Öffentlichkeit und Gemeinschaft strukturiert sind - in einem ständigen Wettbewerb um Aufmerksamkeit, Vertrauen und Legitimität.

In diesem Spannungsfeld treten Religion und Spiritualität auf unterschiedliche Weise in Erscheinung: sichtbar und laut in aktivistischen Haltungen, populistischen Bewegungen oder politischen Konflikten; subtiler in digitaler Sinnsuche, neuen spirituellen Praktiken oder alternativen Gemeinschaftsformen.

Im Seminar fragen wir deshalb, wie Religion und Spiritualität in Zeiten von Krisen in klassischen wie digitalen Öffentlichkeiten sichtbar werden - ob als Quelle von Polarisierung oder als Ressource für Resilienz und Gemeinschaft. Neben grundlegenden Theorien und aktuellen Studien arbeiten wir auch praktisch mit Übungen und kleinen empirischen Projekten im Feld.

Notes:
Lernziele:

- Zentrale Krisenphänomene im Kontext von Öffentlichkeit, Medien und Religion einordnen
- Analysieren, wie Religion in klassischen und digitalen Medien als Verstärker oder Ressource wirkt
- Theorien zu Polarisierung, Pluralismus und Plattformgesellschaft anwenden
- Empirisch untersuchen, wie religiöse Themen in der Medien- und Social-Media-Agenda vorkommen
- Normative Perspektiven zu Freiheit, Vielfalt und sozialem Zusammenhalt reflektieren

Event Migration und Biografie. Zur Entstehung von Lebensgeschichten im 20. Jahrhundert
06SE600-503a / Seminar / 2,097

Description:

Business event contents:
Migration ist bereits seit langem ein Gegenstand der Geschichtswissenschaft, der auf vielfältige Weise analysiert worden ist. Doch die Frage, wie man Leben von Migrant:innen zu fassen bekommt und über diese schreiben kann, ist nach wie vor eine Herausforderung, die das Seminar aufgreifen wird. Vor diesem Hintergrund wird an erster Stelle eine Auseinandersetzung mit biographischen Ansätzen und dem Life Writing stehen. Ausgewählte Fallbeispiele folgen in einem zweiten Teil, bevor sich die Studierenden mit einer Vielzahl unterschiedlicher (Archiv)Quellen auseinandersetzen.
Das Seminar erfordert Offenheit dafür, dass an der Entstehung und Erzählung von Lebensgeschichten verschiedene Akteure, Diskurse und Institutionen beteiligt sind.
Der Schwerpunkt des Seminars wird auf der Zeit nach 1945 liegen.

Event Thematisches Tutorat: The Sociopsychic Subject – Introduction to Contemporary 06TT160o018a / Tutorat / 4,864

Description:

Business event contents:
This topical tutorial will attempt to introduce the thought of the French theorist Jacques Lacan as a pertinent avenue for theorising the social. Due to the inaccessibility of the original Lacanian text and to emphasise the social essence of his thought, we will approach Lacanian theory through two decidedly philosophical, rather than clinical, texts written within the last 35 years rather than encountering the Lacanian discourse head on. Each text engages with different aspects of social life while introducing and/or illuminating central Lacanian concepts and their relevance for the analysis of society. Our aim will be to gain a basic understanding of some important aspects of Lacan's thought, their import for social philosophy, and possible points of reference within the history of philosophy (e.g. Kant, Hegel, Marx) that might help us shed a light on the complex field which is Lacanian theory. The format of the tutorial will consist of weekly sessions wherein the readings will be discussed collectively, critically, and comprehensively. Prior knowledge of Lacan is discouraged.

Notes:
Das Tutorat wird von Lois Nyx Schulz durchgeführt.

Event Erziehungswissenschaftliche Grundlagen der Berufsbildung und das Berufsbildungssystem der Schweiz (EGB)
06VL222EGB / Course / 879

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Vorlesung zu den erziehungswissenschaftlichen Grundlagen der Berufsbildung und dem Berufsbildungssystem der Schweiz verbindet während des gesamten Semesterverlaufs die beiden Stränge Grundbegriffe der Berufsbildung und thematische Fragenstellungen zum beruflichen Lernen in der Schweiz. In der Regel gibt es pro Termin zu einem übergreifenden Thema jeweils einen Input und eine interaktive Phase: Zum jeweiligen Grundbegriff erfolgt eine systematisch-konzeptionelle Auslegeordnung mit aktuellen und historischen Bezügen und die Fragstellung wird in Form einer Antwort aufgegriffen, die Hintergrundwissen und aktuelle Befunde zum jeweiligen Thema zur Verfügung stellt. Die interaktiven Phasen dienen der aktiven Auseinandersetzung mit den Inputs und dem Einbringen der Perspektive der Teilnehmenden.

Event Lecture: Digital Religion(s): Methods, Technologies, and Futures
01VL28SV003 / Course / 3,203

Description:

Business event contents:
This course will explore the themes, issues, and techniques in studying Digital Religion(s). Treating digital religions as lived religions, we will draw on cutting-edge academic works with contemporary and agile ethnographic methods, supported by the latest works employing critical, sociological and historical approaches. We will discuss established and familiar religions as they utilise the digital and explore the New Religious Movements and contemporary spiritualities emerging from digital communities and spaces. The course will empower students with the tools to explore their own research interests in the study of Digital Religion(s): methods for online participant observation, discourse and material artefact analysis, human subject research, and the options for large corpus or sentiment analysis. Finally, we will consider the affordances and limitations of emerging technologies and their role in the future of Digital Religion(s), including AI, robotics, AR/VR 'Metaverse' technologies, collaborative and creative gaming spaces, social media platforms, blockchain and cryptocurrency, and the apps and tools employed in religious journeys - sometimes described as 'Spirit Tech'.

Course Materials:	"Suggested Readings for preparation: Part 1: Themes in the Study of Religion and New Media, in Digital Religion: Understanding Religious Practice in Digital Media, edited by Heidi Campbell and Ruth Tsuria (London: Routledge, September 2021) Pauline Hope Cheong, "Robots, Religion and Communication: Rethinking Piety, Practices and Pedagogy in the Age of Artificial Intelligence", in Religion in the Age of Digitalization (London: Routledge, 2020)"

Event Smart Cities: Digital Technologies and Public Life
06SE615o014a / Seminar / 4,848

Description:

Business event contents:
As cities worldwide evolve into "smart cities," this bachelor seminar offers a comprehensive look at how smart city technologies-from ICT and sensors to CCTV systems-shape the urban environments of tomorrow. The module introduces students to the concept of smart cities by exploring how these tools transform city infrastructure, from crisis management and public transportation to democratic participation. Balancing theoretical frameworks with real-world case studies and guest lectures, the course examines both the promises and challenges of smart cities, including ethical considerations such as privacy, inclusivity, and the digital divide. Assessment will include a presentation and an end-of-term case-study paper that requires students to critically interrogate a chosen smart city initiative, with a focus on ethical dimensions.

Event Designing Interventions for Social Impact (L+E)
03VU22MO0261 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 652

Description:

Business event contents:
Solving today's most urgent global challenges often requires not only effective technological or behavioral solutions, but also ensuring their widespread adoption and lasting societal impact. This course examines how to design interventions that enable the large-scale adoption of innovations that deliver positive societal benefits.
Students will be guided through the three main steps involved in the design and implementation of interventions for social impact: (1) mapping the social and behavioral context of the target population; (2) selecting context-appropriate interventions by means of behavioral and social network models; (3) implementing the selected interventions in real-world settings, including ethical considerations.
Students will gain hands-on experience by designing surveys, implementing simulations of behavioral change, and analyzing data from real-world field experiments. Drawing on insights from marketing, behavioral economics, network science, and complexity theory, this interdisciplinary course provides students with the tools to design and evaluate impactful social impact strategies.

Event NT Seminar: Longing for God - Ideas of the knowledge of God in the New Testament and its environment
01SE15SS045 / Seminar / 2,155

Description:

Business event contents:
Was bedeutet es, Gott zu erkennen – und ist dies überhaupt möglich? Das Seminar geht der Frage nach, wie Gotteserkenntnis im Neuen Testament verstanden wird, insbesondere im Horizont frühjüdischer und griechisch-römischer Denktraditionen. Im Zentrum stehen Texte, in denen visionäre, epistemologische oder mystische Zugänge zur göttlichen Wirklichkeit thematisiert werden (z.B. Joh 1,18; 1Kor 13,12; 2Kor 3–4; Apk 22). Gleichzeitig wird untersucht, in welchem Verhältnis diese neutestamentlichen Konzeptionen zu traditionsbildenden Texten aus der Umwelt des frühen Christentums stehen – etwa aus der Literatur von Qumran, der Weisheitsliteratur, der Apokalyptik oder der platonischen Philosophie.

Ziel des Seminars ist es, theologische, textliche und rezeptionsgeschichtliche Dimensionen der Frage nach der Möglichkeit und Grenze von Gotteserkenntnis im frühen Christentum interdisziplinär zu erschließen. Dabei wird auch berücksichtigt, inwiefern diese Einsichten Impulse für gegenwärtige theologische Rede und kirchliche Praxis – etwa in Verkündigung, Liturgie und spiritueller Bildung – eröffnen können.

Event Digitale Filmgeschichte: Quellen, Methoden und Perspektiven
06VL255o005a / Course / 696

Description:

Business event contents:
Wie verändert die Digitalisierung unseren Blick auf Filmgeschichte? Diese Vertiefungsvorlesung greift Fragen und Konzepte aus dem aktuellen Forschungsfeld der digitalen Filmgeschichtsschreibung auf und untersucht, wie neue Technologien, Methoden und Daten die film- und medienwissenschaftliche Forschung prägen. Statt Filmgeschichte anhand von Epochen, Personen oder Ländern zu ordnen, rückt die Vorlesung die materiellen, politischen und erkenntnistheoretischen Bedingungen ins Zentrum: Welche Filme und Materialien stehen uns als Forschende überhaupt zur Verfügung? Welche Lücken und Unsicherheiten prägen archivarische Praktiken und digitale Sammlungen? Welches grundlegende Verständnis von Wissen und Erkenntnis sind mit der Erschliessung, Zugänglichmachung und Auswertung heterogener Datensammlungen verbunden?
Ausgehend von Ansätzen der digitalen Hermeneutik und der praktischen Anwendung digitaler Tools und Methoden werden Theorie und Praxis der digitalen Filmgeschichtsschreibung beleuchtet. Dabei werden auch die Schnittstellen zu den digitalen Geisteswissenschaften thematisiert: Welche Möglichkeiten bieten computationelle Ansätze für die film- und medienwissenschaftliche Forschung? Welche Probleme gehen mit Konzepten wie «Big Data» einher?Können neue Technologien Denkprozesse automatisieren? Welcher Bedeutung kommen bisherige interpretative, ästhetische und historisch fundierten Grundlagen zu?
Die epistemischen Spannungen zwischen hermeneutischen Traditionen und quantitativen Verfahren werden in der Vorlesung ebenso diskutiert wie die Gefahr einer methodischen Monokultur, in der Algorithmen und Werkzeuge (z. B. zur automatisierten Schnitt- oder Mustererkennung oder für statistische Auswertungen filmbezogener Daten) die Fragen vorgeben und menschliche Beteiligung unsichtbar bleibt. Themen wie Digitalisierung, Datenkuratierung, Toolkritik sowie Analyse- und Visualisierungsmethoden spielen dabei eine wichtige Rolle. Im Zentrum der Auseinandersetzung stehen somit die Herausforderungen und Potenziale einer methodischen Pluralität, die qualitative und quantitative Zugriffe vereint und transdisziplinäre Zusammenarbeit erfordert bzw. fördert. Durch die Kombination analoger und digitaler, Close- und Distant-Reading- bzw. Viewing-Ansätze entstehen neue Fragen und Perspektiven auf die Filmgeschichte. Die Vorlesung greift internationale Fallstudien auf, etwa zur feministischen Filmhistoriografie, zur Annotation von Filmen und zur Visualisierung filmbezogener Daten.
Die Studierenden lernen Methoden, Werkzeuge und Anwendungsgebiete zur Analyse filmischer und filmhistorischer Quellen kennen und (selbst)kritisch zu reflektieren. Sie erwerben Kompetenzen im Umgang mit Daten, Metadaten und digitalisierten Artefakten. Ziel ist es, das Zusammenspiel von Quellen, Werkzeugen und Interpretation in der digitalen Filmgeschichtsschreibung anhand konkreter Beispiele zu hinterfragen, eigene Fragestellungen zu entwickeln und einen reflektierten Umgang mit digitalen Methoden zu fördern.

Die Vertiefungsvorlesung wird zum Teil vor Ort und zum Teil online abgehalten und als Podcast aufgezeichnet, sodass jede Sitzung im Nachgang zur Verfügung steht. Das Modul wird mit einem Portfolio aus Sitzungsprotokollen abgeschlossen, welches bis zum
22. Juni
2026 eingereicht werden muss.

Event Daten, Bias und Macht im Kontext audiovisueller Medienkultur
06KO255o011a / Colloquium / 4,903

Description:

Business event contents:
Obwohl wir mit Daten eine gewisse Akkuratheit und Objektivität verbinden und uns von ihnen definitives Wissen versprechen, sind sie weder selbsterklärend noch neutral. Daten sind nicht gegeben, sondern gemacht. Sie werden von Menschen erzeugt, modelliert und interpretiert und repräsentieren somit immer bestimmte Werte und Sichtweisen. Auch im Kontext der audiovisuellen Medienkultur lässt sich anhand von Daten und ihrem Gebrauch analysieren, wie wir die Welt sehen und was bestimmte Personen, Institutionen oder Unternehmen für relevant oder weniger relevant halten.
Ziel des Theoriekolloqiums ist es, das Zusammenspiel von Daten, Bias und Macht zu analysieren und dessen Relevanz für die Erforschung audiovisueller Medienkultur herauszuarbeiten. Im Mittelpunkt stehen dabei datengestützte Forschungspraktiken, digitale Sammlungen und globale Plattformen. Zentrale Fragen sind: Wo und wie werden Machtverhältnisse (re)produziert? Was bleibt unsichtbar, wo entsteht Hypervisibilität? Wie lassen sich normierende Verfahren zugunsten vielstimmiger Narrative aufbrechen?
Die Auseinandersetzung erfolgt anhand einschlägiger Texte aus der Film- und Medienwissenschaft, der feministischen Theorie, den Critical Data Studies und den Critical Digital Humanities sowie ausgewählter Fallbeispiele.

Neben der aktiven und regelmässigen Teilnahme wird die Übernahme eines kurzen Impulsreferats erwartet. Das Kolloquium endet mit einem Prüfungsgespräch am Ende des Semesters.

Event Globalization: The Rise and Fall of the West in the World Order
06SE615o516a / Seminar / 1,374

Description:

Business event contents:
Over the last three centuries, the "West" (intended as mainly Europe and its off springs in North America) has dominated the world on an unprecedented geographical scope. This dominance was economic as well as cultural (religion and Enlightenment) and scientific (in technology and medicine). This has led to a centre-periphery model of global order throughout the ages of colonialism and imperialism and, later, to North-South divisions. The seminar addresses first of all the reasons of this dominance, especially the origins of the dominance in this particular period of time, through explanations based on advantages in the fields of institutions, science, economy, but also by looking at climatic and cultural factors. In doing this the seminar attempts to put this period of dominance into a broad perspective by comparing it to previous periods during which Europe had a marginal position in the known world. Secondly, the seminar addresses the current changes to this state of affairs and analyses factors of the decline of the West as well as the replacement of centre-periphery structures in the world system through a number of other "global cleavages" such as left-right, democracies-authoritarian regimes, rich-poor countries, differences based on values and psychological traits.

The seminar takes a multi-disciplinary approach: (1) structural: macro-sociological comparative studies and economic history (2) institutional: institutional advantages in the form of property rights and democratic representation (3) cultural: "civilizational" elements based on religion, reason and critique, values and roles (4) psychological: differences in the perception of the surrounding world. This presupposes that participants are ready to engage in a variety of literatures from classic studies such as those of Max Weber on the cultural reasons for the West's predominance and to Locke's view of representation linked to property rights, to current analyses of globalization trends.

Event Hat das Sein (k)einen Sinn?Antworten aus der griechischen, arabischen sowie lateinischen Metaphysik
06SE160o006a / Seminar / 1,482

Description:

Business event contents:
Ausgehend von den aktuellen Debatten in der analytischen Metaphysik über die Sinne von Sein, schlägt das Seminar eine erneute Lektüre von Klassikern der Metaphysik, wie Aristoteles' Metaphysik (insbesondere die Bücher IV, V und VI), das sogenannte Epitome von Averroes, Thomas von Aquins De ente et essentia sowie die beiden Klassiker von Gottlob Frege: Die Grundlagen der Arithmetik und Dialog mit Pünjer über Existenz, vor. Das Seminar ist chronologisch und philosophiegeschichtlich so aufgebaut, dass die Abhängigkeitsverhältnisse einiger Hauptquellen verdeutlicht und analysiert werden können. Zugleich ist es als Einführung in die Metaphysik von Aristoteles, Al-Fārābī, Averroes, Thomas von Aquin und Gottlob Frege konzipiert.

Notes:
Die Primär- und Sekundärquellen des Seminars sind auf Deutsch oder Englisch und die Referate und anschließenden Diskussionen können ebenfalls in einer dieser beiden Sprachen erfolgen. In Form dieser Präsentation haben die Studierenden die Möglichkeit, eigene Fragen zur Argumentation und zum Inhalt philosophiescher Quellen zu formulieren, darauf einzugehen und mit Mitstudierenden zu diskutieren.

Seyed Ali Taghavinasab und Mostafa Najafi werden bei diesem Seminar mitwirken.

Event Körper, Kunst, Kontext: Kulturgeschichtliche Perspektiven auf antiken Schmuck
06SE682o501a / Seminar / 1,786

Description:

Business event contents:
Antiker Schmuck ist eine besonders herausfordernde Materialgruppe, betrachtet man die vielfach problematischen Provenienzen der Stücke in den Museen, die fehlenden Kontexte oder die selektive Betrachtung als Kunstobjekte. Kaum eine andere Materialgattung berührt jedoch so nah das Thema der Körperinszenierung und der eigenen Identität, vermag darüber hinaus Auskunft zu geben über die Bedeutung von Symbolen etwa in Grabkontexten oder gibt Einblick in antike Wertzuschreibungen an Materialien und Techniken. Im Seminar werden wir uns in Fallstudien mit verschiedenen kulturgeschichtlichen Perspektiven auf antiken Schmuck beschäftigen.

Notes:
Einführende Literatur wird zu Beginn des Seminars bekannt gegeben.

Event Die Russische Welt und die Serbische Welt: Vergleich zweier politischer Konzepte in historischer Perspektive
06KO612o001a / Colloquium / 678

Description:

Business event contents:
In diesem Kolloquium werden wir uns mit zwei politischen Konzepten auseinandersetzen, die in den letzten Jahrzehnten zunehmend an Bedeutung gewonnen haben: der "Russischen Welt" (Russkiy Mir) und der "Serbischen Welt" (Srpski Svet). Beide Begriffe sind nicht nur Ausdruck nationaler Identität, sondern auch Instrumente geopolitischer Strategien, die in die Geschichte und Kultur ihrer jeweiligen Regionen eingebettet sind.

Wir werden untersuchen, wie diese Konzepte entstanden sind, welche historischen, religiösen und ideologischen Wurzeln sie haben und wie sie im Laufe der Zeit politisch angepasst und instrumentalisiert wurden. Dabei werden wir uns mit Fragen beschäftigen wie: Welche Rolle spielen Religion und Sprache in der Konstruktion dieser "Welten"? Wie werden historische Narrative genutzt, um politische Legitimität zu schaffen? Und welche Auswirkungen haben diese Konzepte auf die internationale Politik und die Beziehungen zu Nachbarstaaten?

Ein besonderer Fokus liegt auf dem Vergleich der beiden Konzepte: Welche Gemeinsamkeiten und Unterschiede lassen sich feststellen? Gibt es Parallelen in ihrer Entwicklung und Anwendung, oder sind sie Ausdruck spezifischer nationaler Kontexte?

Das Kolloquium bietet den Studierenden die Möglichkeit, ein tieferes Verständnis für die Verbindung von Geschichte, Kultur und Politik zu entwickeln und kritisch zu reflektieren, wie solche Konzepte in der heutigen Welt genutzt werden. Sie richtet sich an Studierende, die sich für Ost- und Südosteuropa, Nationalismusforschung, internationale Beziehungen und die Rolle von Ideologie in der Politik interessieren.

Event B: Language change: mechanisms, issues and challenges
06SE440-123d / Seminar / 4,340

Description:

Business event contents:
This course explores how and why languages change over time, examining the mechanisms and the broader theoretical issues they raise. Students will be introduced to key processes of change, such as grammaticalization, chunking and reanalysis, and the factors that drive them. Particular attention will be given to methodological challenges in studying language change, focusing on the use of historical corpora. The course also engages with current debates about language change, which include the role of analogy and frequency, and the implications for linguistic theory. By the end of the course, students will be able to critically evaluate different explanations of change and apply analytical tools to case studies in the history of English.

Event Inequality, Redistribution, and Politics
06SE615o536a / Seminar / 1,551

Description:

Business event contents:
This course covers topics related to inequality and redistribution. It is divided into three parts. The first part engages with existing literature on voters' demand for redistribution and taxation, and how it is affected by inequality. The second part of the module covers studies on how non-economic variables (e.g., religion, immigration, meritocratic beliefs) affect preferences for redistribution. The third and final part of the course covers topics on the politicization of inequality and political conflict over redistribution, looking at class voting, structural economic changes and their effect on the left-wing coalition, and challenges for center-left political parties.

Event Ethics, Sustainability and Financial Markets
06SE163o502a / Seminar / 910

Description:

Business event contents:
There are contexts where anyone's personal decision is unlikely to make a difference, yet independent decisions by a large number of people can yield severe effects - think of buying an airplane ticket or of taking out a risky mortgage. What moral obligations do we have in situations like these - as private individuals, as professionals who occupy certain roles within organisations, and as members of political bodies that can impose regulations? This interdisciplinary seminar, which is offered in cooperation with the Institute for Banking and Finance, explores the recent literature on individual and collective responsibility, structural injustice, complicity, and systemic risk, and puts these concepts to use by addressing unavoidable ethical questions related to financial markets and global commons. Bringing together students from Philosophy and Economics, it draws on real-life decision scenarios to render the discussion concrete and to apply the theoretical ideas to practical questions we all face.

Notes:
This is a philosophy seminar aimed at an interdisciplinary audience.
As such, it is geared towards both students without and students with a background in philosophy.

So, it's perfectly fine to participate, whether or not you have a philosophy background!

As a philosophy seminar, the main mode of instruction is active discussion. One central aim of the seminar is to engage everyone in independently formulating their own ideas and developing arguments in support of these (both verbally and in writing). So, actively thinking along and contributing is very much encouraged - and student inputs will in part determine which questions we attend to.

For each session, course participants will read one journal article or book chapter in advance (ca. 20 pages per week). These texts will serve as the basis for our discussions. Typically, we will first reconstruct the key claims and arguments of a text and then move on to examine them critically and/or use them as a springboard for a more open discussion.

In addition, there will be brief lecture inputs, both in form of a weekly summary of the last session and (more occasionally) the introduction of background material. For some sessions, there is will be an option of having a brief student presentation that introduces one additional idea from an optional reading.

The seminar is structured broadly as follows: after motivating the relevance of the ethical questions we confront in complex interaction contexts, we will first equip ourselves with the theoretical toolkit that then allows us to address such questions in a coherent and systematic way, focusing on the contexts of financial markets and global commons. There will moreover be an option to examine three highly concrete decision scenarios tailored to the specific interests of course participants.

Universität Zürich[UZH]

Course Materials: The core readings for this seminar are chosen to be accessible to those who have not studied philosophy, yet offer sufficient depth to be of interest to those who have considerable knowledge of philosophy. We will cover more theoretical and more applied work, with many links between readings.

For orientation, here are a few texts we will (likely) cover:

- de Bruin, Boudewijn (2018): "Moral Responsibility for Large-Scale Events: The Difference between Climate Change and Economic Crisis." In: Midwest Studies in Philosophy, XLII.
- Gilbert, Margaret (2006): "Who's to Blame? Collective Moral Responsibility and Its Implications for Group Members." In: Midwest Studies in Philosophy, XXX.

Event Intellektuelle Verantwortung: Pflichten, Werte und Tugenden in der Kognition
06SE160o505a / Seminar / 1,565

Description:

Business event contents:
In der zeitgenössischen Erkenntnistheorie wird zunehmend betont, dass Überzeugungen - ebenso wie Handlungen - normativen Anforderungen unterliegen. In diesem Seminar gehen wir der Frage nach, welche epistemischen Pflichten es gibt: Sind sie rein theoretischer Natur, oder gibt es auch moralische Pflichten zu glauben - etwa das moralisch Gute - und Verbote, schädliche Überzeugungen zu erwerben? Zudem untersuchen wir, ob es tugendhafte oder verwerfliche Arten des Erwerbs von Überzeugungen gibt. Die Diskussion stützt sich auf aktuelle Beiträge der analytischen Erkenntnistheorie

Event Erfolg zu Lebzeiten: Künstler*innen
06SE640-523a / Seminar / 4,696

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Seminar trägt gegenwärtigen Ansätzen und Anstrengungen Rechnung, Frauen in der Geschichte der Kunst neu zu thematisieren. Dazu gehört ein Rückblick auf die tradierte feministische Kunstgeschichte mit ihren binären Geschlechter-Ordnungen wie auch die Erweiterung der Definition «Künstlerin» unter Gesichtspunkten queerer, non-binärer Identitäten.
Erfolg und Ruhm, ephemerer Celebrity-Status und Nachruhm sind Kategorien, die selten differenziert hinsichtlich der Karriere und des künstlerischen Gesamtwerks von Künstler*innen untersucht werden. Die tradierte feministische Forschung hat das systemisch angelegte Vergessen und die erschwerten Arbeitsbedingungen insbesondere von Frauen im System der Künste analysiert (Linda Nochlin; Renate Berger) wie auch darauf hingewiesen, dass das Fach Kunstgeschichte durch die Autorenschaft von vorwiegend männlichen Kunsthistorikern Frauen aus der Geschichtsschreibung herausgehalten hat. Der Fokus des Seminars soll jedoch nicht auf dieser faktisch fehlerhaften Geschichtsschreibung liegen, sondern auf Erfolgen von Künstler*innen zu Lebzeiten, um die Bedingungen dieses Erfolgs näher zu bestimmen und zu erklären. Dabei wird es nicht zuletzt um die Definition und Positionierung von Hochkunst gehen, um Kunstmedien wie Fotografie, Videokunst und Performance, die sich für künstlerische Erfolge von Frauen eher anboten als z.B. die tradierte Malerei, oder um Kunstwerke gehen, die eng mit den historischen Frauenbewegungen seit dem 19. Jahrhundert entstanden oder direkt feministische Themen behandeln (Cindy Sherman). Mit Blick auf das System der Künste wird es um Netzwerke und Künstler*innenfreundschaften gehen, um internationale Ausstellungen, wie z.B. die erste Ausstellung über «Women Photographers» am Beginn des
20. Jahrhunderts in Paris, sowie um nationale Künstler*innenförderungen, Nachlassverwaltungen und Initiativen von Kunstmuseen sowie um historische Konstruktionen dessen, was eine «Künstlerin» bzw. «Women Artist» sozialgesellschaftlich undwissenschaftlich war und ist. Es wird der Zeitraum von um 1800 bis heute behandelt.

Notes:
In den ersten drei Wochen des Semesters wird es gemeinsame Lektüren und Übungen zur Historiographie und zu Fallbeispielen geben. Das Seminar bietet Lektüren als Scans auf OLAT sowie einen Handapparat mit Grundlagenliteratur und weiterführender Literatur und Ausstellungskatalogen. Ende Januar 2026 wird es ein Merkblatt mit Themenblöcken und Referatsthemen geben.

Event Eve and Her Daughters in the 17th Century
06SE440o506a / Seminar / 917

Description:

Business event contents:
The story of the creation of Adam and Eve and their expulsion from the Garden of Eden because of the guile of a talking snake, is one of the most powerful origin myths in the long history of storytelling. It encourages us to ask fundamental questions about the created world and its creator, and the nature of men and women and their responsibility for the loss of Eden. Early commentators were quick to blame Eve for the Fall. Making use of misogynistic stereotypes, they cast her as morally defective from the start. Adam, they argued, was made in the image of God while Eve was made in Adam's image and was therefore inferior. He came first; she came second. She was made out of Adam's left rib and was therefore somehow innately crooked or sinister. She brought Original Sin into the world.

In seventeenth-century England, a period of intense political debate that would culminate in the Civil Wars and the beheading of a king, pamphleteers and poets revisited the story of the Fall to interrogate social hierarchies. Significantly, women now contributed to the debate in print. In this seminar we will explore Rachel Speght's and Ester Sowernam's prose defences of Eve, written in response to Joseph Swetnam's attack of 1615. This will serve as a context for the treatment of the Fall in the poetry of Speght, Aemilia Lanyer, and John Milton among others.
How did Eve's daughters and sons defend the mother of mankind?

Event Artists in Film: Artist Biopics
06VU640o007a / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 314

Description:

Business event contents:
This course examines artist biopics, biographical films about artists, chronologically from the genre's first appearance in 1936. Students will explore the complex relationships between film and history, major directors' attraction to artists' lives, stereotypes of artists (genius, deviant, etc.), and how myths of creativity are inflected by gender, race, and national identity. Students will analyze how these films also represent broad topics of the difference between the social value of art and of artists, the culturation of spectators, which artworks shown and why, how the studio is imaged socially and aesthetically, the nature and theory of abjection, how the art market (e.g., museums, art critics, patrons) is represented, and how success is attributed not only by artworks but also, and even more importantly perhaps, by social, economic and gendered ideologies about art and artists.
Assignments include weekly readings and film viewings and one short paper. Readings cover the biopic genre in general; representations of gender, national identity, and history in film; myths of creativity; stereotypes of artists; art historians' views on biopics; and reviews by film critics. Optional readings will also be available.
Films include Hollywood films, indies and European films.
Artist biopics studied are about Rembrandt, Michelangelo, Caravaggio, Gentileschi, Van Gogh, Carrington, Claudel, Rodin, Toulouse-Lautrec, Picasso, Gilot, Pollock, Krassner, Kahlo, Rivera and Basquiat by important directors, including Alexander Korda, Vincente Minnelli, John Huston, Carol Reed, Derek Jarman, James Ivory, Julian Schnabel, and Julie Taymor.

Notes:
Die Veranstaltung findet grösstenteils Online über Teams/Zoom statt. Im Mai folgen Präsenzveranstaltungen an der UZH.
Online only mit 2 Präsenzterminen am 30. April und 7. Mai 2026.

Event Politik auf dem Teller
06SE506-049a / Seminar / 2,319

Description:

Business event contents:
Essen ist politisch. Was wir (nicht) essen, ist politisch. Wie wir essen, ist politisch.
In diesem Seminar untersuchen wir nationale und globale Verknüpfungen von Essen und Politik. Die Fragestellungen sind vielfältig, das Themenspektrum weit: Welche Nahrungsmittel werden in der Schweiz durch Subventionspolitik und Lobbying unterstützt und welche Volksinitiativen werden mobilisiert? Wie prägen Nahrungsmittel nationale oder kulturelle Identitäten? Wofür darf geworben werden - wofür nicht? Wie entstehen, gestalten und entwickeln sich Kategorien wie Soul Food, Indigene Küche, Migrantische Esskulturen? Welche Rolle spielen Nahrungsmittel und Kochen in der 'Tradwives' Bewegung? Welcheglobalen Auswirkungen haben Social Media Food Trends auf Produzent:innen weltweit, etwa beim Hype um Matcha? Und welche Rolle spielen Kategorien wie Gender und Soziale Ungleichheit beim Thema Ernährung?
Die Studierenden finden im Seminar ihr eigenes Forschungsinteresse, definieren Fragestellungen und finden die passende Methode für ihr Forschungsprojekt.

Event Subkulturen im Archiv – Digitale Quellen kritisch erforschen
06SE506o002a / Seminar / 3,015

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Seminar setzt sich theoretisch wie methodisch-praktisch mit Archivforschung am Beispiel von Quellen aus subkulturellen Feldern auseinander. Auf Basis von Konzepten der Archiv- und Subkulturtheorien führen die Teilnehmenden eigenständige Recherchen und quellenkritische Analysen von (digitalen) Dokumenten aus einem selbst gewählten Fallbeispiel durch.

Wir gehen dabei von einem weiten Archivbegriff aus, der sowohl institutionelle Archive als auch weitere digitale Sammel- und Speicherpraktiken umfassen kann. "Subkultur" - teils im Kontext von jugendlichen Gegen-, oder Alternativkulturen oder einfach als Szene verstanden - ist ein ambivalentes Kulturkonzept, das sich auf gesellschaftliche Teilkulturen bezieht, die sich mehr oder weniger durch eigene Regeln und Merkmale von Mehrheitskulturen unterscheiden.

Im Zentrum des Seminars steht eine theoriebasierte, eigenständige Recherche- und Analysearbeit zu "Subkultur", die auch eine kritische Hinterfragung des Konzepts selbst zulassen soll.

Das Ziel des Kurses ist, dass die Teilnehmenden Archiv- und Subkulturtheorien kennen lernen, auf Basis deren sie eigene Recherchen im Internet und quellenkritische Verortungen eines selbstgewählten subkulturellen Feldes unternehmen.

Event Das Monster und Wir: Monströse Figuren und Zukunftsvorstellungen im Film
06SE506o005a / Seminar / 614

Description:

Business event contents:
Ausserirdische Gestalten, blutrünstige Zombies oder liebenswürdige Hybridwesen. Manchmal sind sie die Rettung, meist eine Gefahr für die Menschheit. Aus einer kulturwissenschaftlichen Perspektive beschäftigen wir uns mit monströsen Figuren und Zukunftsvorstellungen im populären Kino - von Alien (1979) über Avatar (2009) bis hin zu Poor Things (2023).
Wir lesen unterschiedlichste Texte über populärkulturelle Zukunftsvorstellungen und kulturwissenschaftliche Zukunftsforschungen. Die Filme verstehen wir demnach nicht nur als Projektionsflächen und Ausdruck aktueller ausserfilmischer Ängste und Auseinandersetzungen. Wir betrachten sie auch als populärkulturellen Versuch, die erfahrene Gegenwart sowie mögliche Zukünfte zu verstehen, verhandeln und verändern. Wir fragen zudem, wie die Figur des Monsters als das 'Andere' und als Angriff auf die 'Normalität' sowohl normativeWirkungen als auch kritisch-progressives Potential entfalten kann.

Notes:
Es wird die Möglichkeit geben, die Filme vorab gemeinsam zu schauen. Das gemeinsame Visionieren ist freiwillig, ein Schauen der Filme zur Vorbereitung - als Teil der Lektürezeit angerechnet - jedoch Pflicht.

Event Ein Ritter zwischen den Sprachen: Chrétiens und Hartmanns Erec (Mediävistisches Kolloquium)
06KO620o504a / Colloquium / 4,724

Description:

Business event contents:
Sowohl Erec et Enide von Chrétien de Troyes als auch Hartmanns von Aue Erec stehen jeweils am Beginn einer literarischen Tradition: Während Chrétiens um 1160/70 verfasstes altfranzösisches Werk als erster Artusroman des europäischen Kontinents gilt, etablierte Hartmanns 1180/90 entstandene Adaptation des Stoffs diese Gattung in der mittelhochdeutschen Epik. Im Seminar werden wir die beiden Erstlingswerke komparativ lesen und diskutieren. Dabei wird unser Augenmerk einerseits auf den Dynamiken und Modalitäten französisch-deutscher Literaturtransfers im Mittelalter liegen.
Andererseits werden wir auch versuchen, uns den verschiedenen methodischen Perspektivierungen und Traditionen von Romanistik und Germanistik anhand von Exkursen in die jeweilige Forschungsdiskussion anzunähern. Ein philologieübergreifender interdisziplinärer Dialog ist dabei explizites Ziel der Veranstaltung.

Notes:
Die Seminardiskussion wird prinzipiell auf Deutsch stattfinden, eine grundsätzliche Offenheit gegenüber Mehrsprachigkeit ist jedoch erwartet. Neuhochdeutsche Übersetzungen beider Texte werden wir als Lektürehilfe bereitstellen.

Event Chinese Law and Governance
06UE280-207a / Exercise Group / 4,907

Description:

Business event contents:
This course offers a systematic introduction to law and governance in the People's Republic of China. Focusing primarily on the post-1978 period, the course examines China's far-reaching project of legal modernization, including the expansion of legal institutions such as courts and legislatures, the professionalization of lawyers and judges, and state-led efforts at "legal popularization" aimed at reshaping citizens' legal consciousness. These developments are situated within the broader political and ideological framework of Chinese Communist Party rule and assessed in light of debates over reform, capacity, and control.
Rather than treating law as an autonomous or neutral domain, the course foregrounds the tension between legal rationalization and governance imperatives. Students will examine, for example, how different scholarly approaches conceptualize Chinese law; how the Party's internal disciplinary system operates alongside and at times above formal legal institutions; and how campaigns, constitutional discourse, and legislative processes reflect the Party's understanding of law as a governing instrument. Particular attention is paid to the integration of law and politics through institutions such as Political-Legal Affairs Committees, the role of People's Congresses in lawmaking and implementation at both national and local levels, and the gap between formal legal norms and their uneven enforcement.
The course also explores key domains of political-legal practice, including the stability maintenance system and the division of labor among courts, police, and the People's Armed Police; the governance of crime and the changing role of policing and community management; and the mechanisms through which citizens engage the legal system, whether by litigating against the state, petitioning higher authorities, or turning to mediation. These cases illuminate both the possibilities and the limits of rights-claiming under Party-state rule.
Finally, the course situates Chinese law within the international system by examining China's engagement with international legal norms and institutions, including trade law, investment and arbitration, human rights, and global governance. Throughout, students engage with both secondary scholarship and selected primary materials to develop a grounded understanding of how law operates in practice, how legal institutions are embedded in Party governance, and how China's legal order both challenges and adapts to global norms.

Notes:
No prior knowledge of Chinese law is required. Readings will be in English. Knowledge of Chinese is not a prerequisite but is advantageous for students wishing to engage more deeply with primary sources.

Course Materials:

Core readings consist of academic literature on Chinese law, governance, and political institutions. Supplementary materials may include legal texts, policy documents, and selected case materials. A detailed reading list will be provided at the beginning of the course.

Event Ethnographisch-kulturanalytische Stadtforschung
06VL506o401a / Course / 912

Description:

Business event contents:
Städte machen kulturellen und sozialen Wandel nicht nur sichtbar, sie treiben ihn auch voran. Sie sind geprägt von den Menschen, die in ihnen leben - und umgekehrt. Sozial- und Kulturwissenschaftler:innen haben das Urbane deshalb immer wieder als Labor verstanden, in dem sich solche Zusammenhänge untersuchen lassen.
Die Vorlesung führt in die ethnographische und kulturanalytische Forschungspraxis und ihre Methoden und Geschichte ein. Themen u.a.: Stadt- und Urbanitätsbegriffe; 'innere' Urbanisierung; urbane Diversität und Ungleichheit; Städte als Mosaiken kleinräumlicher Welten/Milieus; als Bühnen und Begegnungsorte; als analog-digital zusammengesetzte Räume; als Schauplätze von stadt-ethischen Initiativen und politischen Konflikten; als Palimpseste von widerstreitenden Erinnerungen; als «kulturelle Individuen».

Event Der United States Supreme Court und «seine» Geschichte
06SE602-502a / Seminar / 645

Description:

Business event contents:
Soll eine Abtreibung legal sein? Dürfen Frauen von bestimmten öffentlichen Schulen ausgeschlossen werden? Soll Homosexuellen als Minderheit besonderer Rechtsschutz zukommen? Können ehemalige Sklaven Bürger der Vereinigten Staaten werden? Darf die Polizei Fotos von Verstorbenen veröffentlichen?
Immer wieder griff der Oberste Gerichtshof der Vereinigten Staaten von Amerika auf die Antike zurück, wenn er in Hinblick auf diese und andere Fragen die amerikanische Verfassung zu klären hatte. Dies erstaunt, scheinen doch die Ansichten mehr oder weniger obskurer antiker Autoren zur Beantwortung dieser Fragen von denkbar geringer Relevanz zu sein.
Im Seminar untersuchen wir anhand der Analyse ausgewählter Urteile, welche Funktion der Bezug auf Geschichte, besonders der klassischen Antike oder auf antike Autoren, in der Rechtsprechung hat und welche Rolle ihr in der Argumentationsstrategie zukommt. Ziel ist es, die Rechtsprechung des Supreme Court in wegweisenden Fällen besser zu verstehen und zugleich Aufschlüsse über die Relevanz von (Alter) Geschichte für eine Institution zu gewinnen, die die amerikanische Gesellschaft entscheidend prägt.

Im Seminar werden die Fälle gemeinsam analysiert und diskutiert. Die Arbeit mit Urteilstexten steht im Zentrum; daneben werden auch antike Quellen und moderne Forschungsliteratur herangezogen.

Event Kindheit und Jugend im NS-Konzentrationslager – unterschiedliche Zugänge zum Leben im Lager und seiner Bewältigung
06EX226o529a / Field Trip / 1,704

Description:

Business event contents:
Im Rahmen der Exkursion steht das Aufwachsen unter den Bedingungen eines NS-Konzentrationslagers im Zentrum. Dabei wird es um Fragen des Überlebens von Kindern und Jugendlichen unter Bedingungen eines Arbeits- und Vernichtungslagers gehen. Zudem geht es darum, wie die damit verbundenen Belastungen bewältigt werden konnten und wie diese Bewältigung in den Folgejahren konkret aussah. Die Exkursion wird uns in die Gedenkstätte des Konzentrationslagers Buchenwald führen, wo es möglich ist, sich dem Aufenthalt von Kindern und Jugendlichen auf der Grundlage ganz unterschiedlicher Zugänge anzunähern. Von den Teilnehmenden wird erwartet, dass sie sich individuell oder in Kleingruppen auf einen selbstgewählten Fokus konzentrieren, hierzu recherchieren und einen kleinen Bericht (fünf Seiten) zu ihren Erfahrungen und Ergebnissen verfassen.

Event Agogische Hilfe zwischen Rechten und Wohltätigkeit
06SE226o541a / Seminar / 240

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Seminar widmet sich der spannungsreichen Beziehung zwischen Rechten, Pflichten und Wohltätigkeit im Kontext agogischer Hilfe. Es geht von der Beobachtung aus, dass sich Unterstützungs- und Hilfepraktiken nicht allein über rechtliche Ansprüche oder moralische Verpflichtungen erfassen lassen. Vielmehr zeigt sich, dass Rechte stets in einem komplexen Verhältnis zu Pflichten stehen, dass sie durch andere normative Orientierungen - etwa durch Vorstellungen von Wohltätigkeit, Solidarität oder Fürsorge - ergänzt und manchmal auch herausgefordert werden müssen, um ihre gesellschaftliche Wirksamkeit zu entfalten. Zugleich geraten in jüngerer Zeit Inklusionsforderungen in den Blick, die sich nur schwer in die etablierten Kategorien von Rechten oder Wohltätigkeit einfügen lassen. Sie verweisen auf grundlegende Fragen nach der Verfasstheit von Subjektivität, nach relationalen Dimensionen von Hilfe und nach dem gesellschaftlichen Verständnis von Teilhabe. Im Seminar werden diese komplexen Bezüge theoretisch reflektiert und anhand ausgewählter Beispiele aus der Praxis agogischer Hilfe diskutiert. Ziel ist es, ein vertieftes Verständnis der normativen, ethischen und professionellen Spannungsfelder zu entwickeln, die das Handeln in helfenden Berufen prägen.

Notes:
Texte aus Philosophie und Recht werden in Bezug gesetzt zu solchen aus den Erziehungswissenschaften und den Disability Studies.

Event Robert Schumanns Klaviermusik
06SE760o005a / Seminar / 2,735

Description:

Business event contents:
In dem Schaffen des «Tondichters» Robert Schumann nehmen die Klavierwerke eine zentrale Stelle ein. In einer Reihe von Werken, die nicht nur ausschliesslich für seine frühere Kompositionstätigkeit charakteristisch sind, sondern sich bis zum Ende seines Lebens erstrecken, steht der Komponist häufig jenseits der Gattungsbezeichnungen und experimentiert ständig mit dem Formgerüst. Darin liegt gerade der Kern seiner Ästhetik, nämlich die Idee der Poetisierung der Instrumentalmusik. Dabei versteht Schumann Musik als «höhere Potenz der Poesie». Die poetischen Assoziationen, die seineKlaviermusik durchziehen, orientieren sich dabei u.a. an der Ästhetik Jean Pauls und E. T. A. Hoffmanns. In diesem Seminar wird anhand von einer Reihe prominenter Werke und Zyklen untersucht, in welchem Zusammenhang Musik und Poesie für seine ästhetische Wahrnehmung der Klaviermusik stehen. Dabei wird erörtert, auf welche Art und Weise ihre gegenseitige Bezugnahme stattfindet und welche Rolle die höchst selbstreflexive Natur dieser Musik dabei spielt. Das Verhältnis zwischen früheren und späteren Klavierwerken wirft auch die Frage nach einer systematischen Vorgehensweise in seiner Klavierkomposition auf. Inwieweit diese «poetische Musik» aufgrund der starken Selbstreflexion als modern erscheint, ist eine grundlegende Überlegung zu diesem Werkkorpus Schumanns.

Event La mirada al gótico en la ficción latinoamericana contemporánea
06SE427-005a / Seminar / 1,797

Description:

Business event contents:
Es notable el surgimiento de escritoras latinoamericanas que desdibujan las fronteras clásicas de la literatura gótica, reciclándola a través de narraciones que hacen visibles las tensiones sociales y los tabúes culturales de América Latina. Corporalidades aberrantes y espacialidades asombradas son reubicadas en narrativas centradas en la distopía y la violencia de distintos matices. Este curso invita a reflexionar sobre cómo ciertas ficciones interesadas en lo sobrenatural van más allá de las etiquetas literarias, abordando lo gótico como una mirada crítica a las relaciones interseccionales entre clase, raza y género. El análisis de dichas obras y la lectura de textos teóricos sobre el tema nos permitirán igualmente reflexionar sobre los procesos de asimilación crítica de la mirada gótica por parte de la literatura latinoamericana contemporánea.

Event Las normas del español entre elitismo y populismo
06SE427-014a / Seminar / 1,814

Description:

Business event contents:
Las lenguas emergentes suelen desarrollarse a partir de variedades populares, pero su elaboración y normalización se orienta naturalmente hacia la distancia conceptual. Reflejando tendencias sociales, la norma de la lengua serpentea entre ideales lingüísticos "elitistas" y "populistas" a través del tiempo y de las construcciones identitarias. En el marco de este seminario, exploraremos la historia y la actualidad de la(s) norma(s) del español en este campo de tensiones.

Event Lo codi y las lenguas románicas medievales
06SE427-503a / Seminar / 1,887

Description:

Business event contents:
En el siglo XII, en una época en la que la prosa romance elaborada aún no existe, aparece en el sur de Francia un libro escrito enteramente en occitano que después será traducido al francés, al latín, al francoprovenzal, al catalán y al castellano. Este libro, conocido bajo el nombre de Lo codi (https://www.locodi.ch) es un hito en la evolución de las lenguas románicas, y se puede relacionar con la elaboración de la prosa de las lenguas en el siglo XIII. Conoceremos el texto, sus manuscritos, sus fuentes y su impacto sobre la historia de las lenguas románicas y lo relacionaremos con las diferentes tradiciones discursivas medievales.
Este seminario está relacionado con un proyecto de investigación sobre Lo codi que estamos desarrollando actualmente en nuestra universidad.
El seminario se dará en español, pero las presentaciones también se pueden hacer en francés o en otras lenguas románicas.

Event Purissem linguistic en contexts minoritars: autenticitad linguistica, politica da preservaziun e discurs ideologics
06SE431o053a / Seminar / 2,424

Description:

Business event contents:
Purissem linguistic u protecziunissem linguistic è l'idea ch'ina lingua duess vegnir protegida d'influenzas estras, da sbagls grammaticals u da variaziuns internas betg giavischadas. I sa tracta da la persvasiun ch'i dat ina furma «pura» e «correcta» d'ina lingua. Mo tgi posseda l'autoritad linguistica da decider tge ch'è autentic? Per revitalisar linguas en privel d'assimiliaziun è in tschert nivel da purissem linguistic indispensabel. La standardisaziun da linguas minorisadas per il diever public ed uffizial po però er render invisibla la variaziun dialectala interna. En contexts colonials vegnivan las linguas localas savens consideradas sco primitivas ed «impuras». Tscherts stadis postcolonials reproduceschan per part anc oz questa tenuta discriminanta, discreditont las linguas indigenas. En quest seminari ans fatschentain nus cun ierarchias linguisticas e socialas, discriminaziun linguistica, identitad naziunala e locala, resistenza ed activissem linguistic-cultural, innovaziuns ortograficas e neologissems, imposiziun da normas, verbal hygiene e translanguaging - e quai en divers contexts sin tut il mund. Tgi discurra la furma linguistica la pli prestigiusa e pertge vala quella sco sofistitgada? Tge consequenzas ha purissem linguistic per il mantegniment e per la transmissiun da linguas minoritaras e pertge è in tschert nivel da purissem impurtant en quest context? Pon purissem linguistic e giustia linguistica coexister? Po la purificaziun d'ina lingua insumma esser apolitica? È purissem linguistic inerentamain repressiv u po el er esser ina furma da resistenza e da subversiun en contexts minoritars? Cun talas dumondas ed anc bler auter vegnin nus ad ans occupar en quest seminari.

Event Geschichte der Filmmusik in der 2. Hälfte des 20. Jahrhunderts
06SE760o009a / Seminar / 1,344

Description:

Business event contents:
Die eigens zum Film komponierte Musik nimmt schon seit dem frühen Stummfilm eine besondere Rolle ein, mit Beispielen etwa von Richard Strauss oder Paul Hindemith. Die genau koordinierte Musik zu einem im Bewegungsablauf nicht beeinflussbaren szenischen Geschehen, mit dem es überdies nur eine mittelbare Interaktion geben kann, hat sich dann ab den 1940er Jahren zu einer bisweilen mit grossem Aufwand verwirklichten kompositorischen Aufgabe entwickelt. Im Seminar soll das Problem an einer Reihe von einzelnen Beispielen genauer diskutiert werden (wobei die Beschaffung verlässlicher Materialien oftmals ein grosses Problem darstellt, das nicht immer zufriedenstellend gelöst werden kann). Im Seminar behandelt werden sollen u.a. Musiken von Raimund Rosenbereger, Bernd Alois Zimmermann, Bernard Herrmann, Henry Mancini, Nino Rota, Rolf Wilhelm oder Michael Nyman.

Event Einführung in die slavistische Korpuslinguistik
06SE480o010a / Seminar / 814

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Lehrveranstaltung "Einführung in die slavistische Korpuslinguistik" bietet einen grundlegenden Überblick über Methoden und Werkzeuge der Korpuslinguistik im Kontext slavischer Sprachen. Studierende lernen, digitale Textsammlungen (Korpora) für sprachwissenschaftliche Fragestellungen zu nutzen und auszuwerten. Ein besonderer Fokus liegt auf der Analyse morphologischer, syntaktischer und lexikalischer Phänomene slavischer Sprachen mithilfe geeigneter Software. Die Veranstaltung vermittelt sowohl theoretisches Hintergrundwissen als auch praktische Kompetenzen im Umgang mit bestehenden slavischen Korpora. Ziel ist es, Studierende zur eigenständigen Anwendung korpuslinguistischer Methoden zu befähigen. Die Schwerpunkte liegen auf west- und ostslavischen Sprachen. Bei Bedarf kann das Angebot um südslavische Sprachen erweitert werden.

Notes:
Kenntnisse mind. einer slavischen Sprache sind von erheblichem Vorteil.

Event Natural Language Processing for Political Science
06SE615o525a / Seminar / 2,166

Description:

Business event contents:
Over the last decade, text as data methods have exploded in popularity in the social sciences, digital humanities, and industry. Recent advances in data availability, computing power, and statistical methodology make it easier than ever to collect and analyze text as data. This course introduces political science students to the quantitative analysis of textual data with the aim of making valid inferences about human behavior.

The core themes of the course are selecting and representing text, discovery, measurement, and causal inference. We cover underlying theoretical assumptions of text as data methods, applications of these methods in the academic literature, and their implementation in R. A strong focus will be research design and the factors to consider when leveraging text as data.

Each session consists of a lecture and a lab. The lecture introduces students to new theories, concepts, and methods. The lab is a practical hands-on exercise that teaches students how to apply the methods to various types of texts using R.

Event Inorganic Chemistry II: Chemistry of Transition Metals - Structure, Bonding and Chemistry of Transition Metal Complexes
07VUCHE202.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 284

Description:

Business event contents:
The first part of the lecture deals with the composition and electronical structure of transition metal complexes on the basis of the classical crystal field and ligand field theory. The additional involvement of the up to date concept of the molecular orbital theory (MO) shall thereby contribute to a deeper understanding of the bonding situation and reactivity of transition metal complexes.

The second part provides an overall survey of the d-block elements of the subgroups III - XII as well as their chemistry, application and research trends in detail.

In the third part the central role of the d-block elements in the area of metalorganic catalysis is focussed and illustrated with examples of fundamental catalytic processes within chemical industry.

Event Einführung in die Ältere deutsche Literaturwissenschaft (Gruppe 3)
06SE360-103c / Seminar / 821

Description:

Business event contents:
Die mittelhochdeutsche Literatur ist ebenso vielgestaltig wie faszinierend: Geschichten von Rittern und Heiligen, Liebeslyrik und politische Dichtung sind aber nicht aus sich selbst heraus verständlich. Nicht nur die Sprachstufe des Mittelhochdeutschen, sondern auch die besonderen medialen Verhältnisse einer oftmals vor Anwesenden vorgetragenen und handschriftlich überlieferten Literatur sind Voraussetzungen der wissenschaftlichen Beschäftigung mit der deutschen Literatur des Mittelalters. Anhand von konkreten Beispielen führt eine Vorlesung in die komplexen literarhistorischen, medialen, ästhetischen und soziokulturellen Besonderheiten der mittelhochdeutschen Literatur ein. In einem begleitenden Seminar werden ausgehend von der Lektüre eines Texts bzw. Textcorpus die Grammatik des Mittelhochdeutschen behandelt und die Übersetzung mittelhochdeutscher Texte ins Neuhochdeutsche eingeübt.

Event Photochemistry in Synthesis
07VUCHE746.1 / Lecture with Practical Exercises / 2,302

Description:

Business event contents:
When molecules absorb photons in the ultraviolet or visible region, they are promoted to electronically excited states that behave in ways completely different from their ground-state counterparts. These fleeting yet powerful states define the essence of photochemistry, a field where light becomes a reagent.

This course introduces the fundamental principles that govern light–matter interactions, beginning with the basic laws governing photon absorption and the nature of electronic excited states. Building upon this foundation, it explores the application of light-induced reactions in modern synthetic chemistry. While photophysical concepts such as fluorescence and phosphorescence are introduced briefly to set the stage, the main focus lies on chemical reactivity, i.e. how molecules can form, break, or rearrange bonds under the influence of light.

The course consists of lectures intertwined with hands-on experimental sessions. Students will transform their mobile phone into a simple, home-made spectrophotometer and apply it to real experiments in photolabeling, photoswitching, and photoredox chemistry. Through these activities, they will directly experience how light can drive innovation across the chemical sciences.

Event Literatur und Natur in Mittelalter und Früher Neuzeit
06SE360-110a / Seminar / 1,873

Description:

Business event contents:
Wie wurde die natürliche Umwelt in der deutschen Literatur des Mittelalters und der Frühen Neuzeit dargestellt, mit Bedeutung aufgeladen, für Argumente instrumentalisiert? Welche Formen von Natur gerieten dabei in den Blick und in welches Verhältnis sind sie zu dem von menschlicher Technik, Kunst und Kultur geprägten Lebensraum gesetzt? Welche Rolle spielen dabei religiöses und naturkundliches Wissen, ökonomische Interessen und Bedingungen, mythische Vorstellungen, aber auch ästhetische Konzepte von Schönheit und Hässlichkeit? Anhand von ausgewählten Texten aus der Literatur des 12. bis 17. Jahrhunderts geht das Seminar diesen Fragen nach. Dabei werden auf dem Hintergrund historischer Wissenskontexte spezifische Poetiken der Naturdarstellung reflektiert, aber auch beobachtet, wie Naturwahrnehmung die poetologische Reflexion provozieren kann.

Notes:
Verlangt ist die intensive Vorbereitung der einzelnen Sitzungen.
Mittelhochdeutsche und frühneuhochdeutsche Texte müssen gelesen werden können.

Event Sentiment Analytics (L)
03VL22MO0136 / Course / 2,896

Description:

Business event contents:
This course gives a general introduction into sentiment analytics applied to financial markets, and Natural Language Processing (NLP) with a focus on Natural Language Understanding (NLU), and applying these algorithms to analyzing news for their sentiment (i.e. news sentiment). The news sentiment data is then used in order to build models for predicting financial asset returns across asset classes (equities, fixed income, foreign exchange, commodities). Students will get an overview of the news sentiment analytics literature and newest developments in this field, as well as practical insights of how this data can be used in asset management.

Upon completion of the course, students will have an overview of news sentiment analytics and its application in finance/asset management. Students will be able to work with news sentiment data for their group project, giving them applied experience in the field.

Event Mise en abyme: Schweizer Idyllen und Legenden im 18. und 19. Jahrhundert
06KO360-113b / Colloquium / 2,101

Description:

Business event contents:
Wer hat's erfunden? Richtig: die Schweiz. Zwar gibt es Idyllen seit der Antike - im Seminar werden wir diese Gattungsgeschichte erarbeiten
-, doch erst im
18. Jahrhundert entsteht die moderne Idylle: Salomon Gessner und Johann Jacob Bodmer (ausserdem Jean-Jacques Rousseau) legen den Grundstein für eine Gattung, die von Anfang an höchst ambivalent ist: auf der einen Seite viele grüne Wiesen, Waldlichtungen, schneebedeckte Berge und herrliche Sonnenuntergänge, auf der anderen Seite physische und psychische Gewalt, ökonomische Ausbeutung und sexueller Missbrauch
- insbesondere von Mädchen. Dabei geht die Idylle - auch dieses Phänomen werden wir im Seminar erarbeiten - mit der christlich geprägten Gattung der Legende spannende Verbindungen ein. Diese Texte führen uns zu den Abgründen der modernen, d.h. der bürgerlichen Gesellschaft, die von Anfang an von inneren Konflikten zerrissen ist. Im Seminar behandeln wir u.a. Idyllen/Legenden von Gessner, Bodmer, Gottfried Keller, Conrad Ferdinand Meyer, Johanna Spyri (das essgestörte «Verdingkind» Heididarf nicht fehlen...) und Regina Ullmann (eine Schweizer Autorin des frühen 20. Jahrhunderts, die sich vor Franz Kafka nicht verstecken muss).
Übrigens werden Sie sehen, dass diese Texte top-aktuell sind. Sie haben uns heute vielleicht sogar mehr zu sagen denn je.

Event Gesellschaft und Verbrechen. Kriminalliteratur seit 1800
06KO360-114a / Colloquium / 1,355

Description:

Business event contents:
Vom simplen ‹Whodunit› über den avancierteren Detektivroman bis zum sozialkritischen Gesellschaftsroman und allen Facetten des ‹True Crime›: Kriminalliteratur hat bis heute eine ungebrochene Konjunktur, doch ihre Anfänge um
1800 sind weitgehend vergessen. Überdies ist die Literaturgeschichte der Kriminalliteratur durch eine problematische Kanonisierung und selektive Rezeption geprägt, die blinde Flecken und Stereotype der vermeintlichen Trivialität reproduziert. Das Seminar geht auf Spurensuche und gibt einen exemplarischen Überblick über die deutschsprachige Kriminalliteratur von
1800 bis zur Gegenwart. Auf einen literatursoziologischen und narratologischen Auftakt bilden die Fallgeschichte, das Kriminaldrama und die Kriminalnovelle um
1800 den ersten Einsatzpunkt des Seminars mit Texten von Meißner, Schiller und Droste-Hülshoff. Nach einem Exkurs zum populären Heftroman stehen in einem zweiten Schritt grosse Texte der Kriminalliteratur des 20. Jahrhunderts auf dem Programm mit Romanen von Perutz, Glauser und Dürrenmatt. Nach einem weiteren Exkurs zum populären Kriminalhörspiel wird das Seminarprogramm in einem dritten Schritt interaktiv, wenn es Kriminalliteratur der Gegenwart untersucht. Dafür werden die Seminarteilnehmenden gebeten, vor dem Semesterbeginn Vorschläge einzureichen, über die in der ersten Sitzung abgestimmt wird.

Notes:
Das Lektürepensum in diesem Seminar ist hoch. Einige Romane werden wir als Seminargruppe nur in Auszügen lesen; die Bereitschaft zur Lektüre einzelner Volltexte in Arbeitsgruppen wird vorausgesetzt. Narratologische Grundkenntnisse sind für die Seminardiskussion elementar. Zur vorbereitenden Lektüre in dieser Hinsicht ist empfohlen: Matías Martínez, Michael Scheffel: Einführung in die Erzähltheorie.

Event Der Tristanstoff in der Literatur des Mittelalters
06KO360-114b / Colloquium / 644

Description:

Business event contents:
Das deutschsprachige Mittelalter kennt mehrere Versionen der Geschichte von Tristan, der für seinen Onkel Marke um die Hand der irischen Prinzessin Isolde anhält, dabei aber selbst eine ebenso heimliche wie schicksalhafte Liebesbeziehung mit der umworbenen Braut beginnt. Neben den höfischen Romanen Gottfrieds von Straßburg und Eilharts von Oberg ist der Stoff z.B. auch verschiedentlich visuell auf Bildteppichen oder in illuminierten Handschriften dargestellt. Im Seminar werden wir uns diese unterschiedlichen Versionen des Tristanstoffs erschließen und dabei herausarbeiten, wie sie jeweils unterschiedlich nuanciert von idealer Ritterlichkeit, List und Klugheit, Treue und Täuschung sowie vom zentralen Konflikt zwischen höfischer Liebe und gesellschaftlicher Norm erzählen.

Event B: English morphology
06SE440-120d / Seminar / 345

Description:

Business event contents:
This course provides an in-depth exploration of morphology, the branch of linguistics concerned with the structure, formation, and meaning of words in English. Through a combination of theoretical discussion, hands-on analysis, and critical reflection, students will examine how words are built from smaller meaningful units - morphemes - and how these units interact to create the vast lexicon of English. We begin by establishing the foundational concepts of morphological analysis, distinguishing between free and bound morphemes, and identifying the core processes that govern word formation. Students will investigate inflectional morphology, which encodes grammatical information such as tense, number, and case, as well as derivational morphology, which creates new words and alters their lexical categories.

The course will explore morphological typology, situating English within the broader context of the world's languages. Although English is often described as morphologically "simple," students will discover the subtle and complex patterns underlying its word formation, from compounding and affixation to conversion and reduplication. Attention will also be given to irregular forms, historical change, and the influence of contact languages on English morphology. An important focus will be the interface between morphology and other linguistic domains. Students will examine how morphological rules interact with phonology (morphophonemic alternations such as knife/knives), syntax (morphosyntactic agreement), and semantics (shifts in meaning from affixation). This integrated approach will highlight the role of morphology in the mental lexicon and in real-time language processing.

Event Early American Literature
06SE440-220b / Seminar / 758

Description:

Business event contents:
In this survey course, students gain a nuanced overview of "American" beginnings, which have become central to current culture wars in the United States. Moving from the pre-colonial era to the early national period, we will cover a broad array of texts that have informed this crucial phase. We will start with Native American creation stories and trickster tales, investigate how the "nondiscovery" of the "new world" was represented by figures like Christopher Columbus, read personal poems and diary entries of settlers, discuss the rise of slave narratives, and apply close readings to founding documents such as "The Declaration of Independence."

In the process, students develop a complex understanding of the texts and contexts that shape early American literature. In this way, students also learn to trace how rhetoric from the nation's founding continues to shape U.S. culture today, by tracing the legacy of early American literature, for instance, in Amanda Gordon's poem "The Hill We Climb" at the presidential inauguration of Joe Biden in 2021, in American horror movies, in book bans currently sweeping the U.S., in right-wing populism as well as in progressive activism.

Event Posthumanist Approaches to Literary Studies
06SE440-225b / Seminar / 2,349

Description:

Business event contents:
For centuries, dominant Western discourses have been situated in humanist epistemological frameworks that focus on an anthropocentric and Eurocentric notion of rationality as the means to enlightenment and progress. This has arguably resulted in many of the ecological and socio-political crises of our time. In response to this, scholars have increasingly engaged with critical posthumanism as a potential tool for rethinking human relations with the environment and with each other. This framework can also be seen in literature and especially in speculative fiction. Literature at various times has critically engaged with the follies of humanism in one way or another and has increasingly offered alternatives such as posthumanism, modeling potentially more sustainable ways of existing in the world.

This class will introduce the theoretical approach of critical posthumanism and its application to literary studies. Scholarship of theorists such as Donna Haraway, N. Katherine Hayles, Rosi Braidotti, Bruno Latour, Michel Foucault, and Michel Serres will provide a critical lens for our discussion of literary texts. The primary texts we will read offer a wide range of interconnected and hybrid figures that are subsumed in concerns about the environment and animals, race and ethnicity, and gender and sexuality. We will start with Mary Shelley's Frankenstein (1818) as a well-studied point of departure, keeping it in mind as we delve into more recent works of fiction such as "Delhi" (2004) by Vandana Singh, "Good Hunting" (2012) by Ken Liu, "Abacus" (2020) by Nathan Adler, Annihilation (2016) by Jeff Vandermeer, Our Wives Under the Sea (2022) by Julia Armfield, and a couple of episodes from Netflix's anthology Black Mirror.

Our discussions of the texts will explore how posthumanist approaches to literary studies address ever evolving questions of agency, embodiment, and biopolitics. What does it mean to signify? How can humans engage with the environment and each other outside of discourses of domination? How might we evolve to survive with our changing world?

Event Reading Literary and Critical Theory (Group 1)
06SE440-550c / Seminar / 1,190

Description:

Business event contents:
Conceived as an intensive reading course, this seminar provides students with the theoretical and methodological training that is necessary for the type of research they will undertake at the Master level. Through the discussion of selected theoretical works, the course aims to clarify theoretical concepts, trace recurring critical tropes and examine how these texts construct and present their arguments.

Our programme will include theoretical texts by Sigmund Freud, Virginia Woolf, Julia Kristeva, Michel Foucault, Judith Butler and Donna Haraway among others. Our primary example will be Richard Marsh's fin-de-siècle horror novel "The Beetle" (1897). Marsh's text initially exceeded "Dracula" (also published in 1897) in its popularity before it was largely forgotten and eventually rediscovered by literary scholars in the last two decades.

Event Anglophone Media Studies: Diva, Disaster, and Deception: San Francisco in Full Drag
06KO440o007a / Colloquium / 281

Description:

Business event contents:
Dramatic, flamboyant, and brimming with excess, San Francisco-a city famous for its disguising fog, vertiginous hills, lacy Victorian facades, and eccentric personalities-has long served as a stage for some of cinema's most iconic and camp-infused stories. From the over-the-top disaster drama San Francisco to the shadowy noir Dark Passage, the exuberant Flower Drum Song, the screwball antics of What's Up, Doc?, the gender-bending comedy of Mrs. Doubtfire, and the off-beat So I Married an Axe Murder, these films showcase the city's unique ability to blend glamor, whimsy, and theatricality. This course explores the cinematic portrayals of this camp mecca, focusing on films that celebrate and subvert identity through camp, drag, and gender performance. From Hitchcock's psychological thriller Vertigo to Wiseau's bizarrely brilliant The Room, we will examine how the city has been used as both a literal and metaphorical backdrop to amplify themes of excess, transformation, and fluidity, while challenging conventional notions of gender and self-expression.

Event Reading James Joyces' Ulysses
06KO440o502a / Colloquium / 2,638

Description:

Business event contents:
Reviled and revered in equal measure, Ulysses remains controversial to this day: scandalous, funny, and perplexing; wildly innovative yet deeply moving. The novel was first serialized in Margaret Anderson and Jane Heap's The Little Review, but publication had to be halted after a
U.S. court ruled the so-called "Nausicaa" chapter obscene. Thanks to Sylvia Beach - an American who ran an English-language bookshop in Paris - Joyce's modernist masterpiece managed to evade the censors, and the book version of Ulysses eventually appeared on February
1922, its author's
40th birthday.

For this colloquium, we will meet at the Zurich James Joyce Foundation (top floor of the building at Augustinergasse 9,
8001 Zurich) to read and discuss all eighteen chapters of Ulysses, focusing on such issues as the novel's correspondences with Homer's Odyssey, the historical context of early 20th-century Dublin, as well as the text's increasingly radical experiments in literary form. At the end of the semester, students will be able not only to detail why Ulysses is commonly considered the quintessentially modernist novel, but also to position themselves within some of the key critical debates surrounding Joyce's novel.

Notes:
Learning portfolio (short homework tasks). The homework tasks will be due 24 hours prior to corresponding session.

Event Advanced Studies in Anglophone Cultural Studies: Cultural Studies with Stuart Hall: What is common sense?
06KO440o515a / Colloquium / 226

Description:

Business event contents:
Stuart Hall (1932-2014) is a one of the most prominent and influential figures in the field of Anglophone cultural theory. A founder of the Birmingham Centre for Contemporary Cultural Studies, Hall authored some of the most penetrating and farsighted analyses of the conservative turn in British politics and culture under Thatcher. This early work retains its force today, providing theoretical resources for understanding contemporary debates about race, migration, policing, and "woke-ism." One such resource--a keystone of Hall's version of Cultural Studies--is a particular conception of common sense.

In this MA course we will explore Hall's account of common sense. The first half of the course will be devoted to Hall's theory and the role the term plays in Hall's writing on popular culture, media, and politics. The second half of the course will turn to the present: students will draw on Hall's example to analyse invocations of common sense in contemporary Anglophone culture.

Event Kooperative Lehrarrangements: Bedeutung für das Lernen der Schüler:innen und die unterstützende Funktion der Lehrpers
06SEKOU / Seminar / 1,768

Description:

Business event contents:
Sozial-interaktive, kooperative Lernformen sind im Schulunterricht sowohl Methode als auch Ziel. Sie vermitteln idealerweise nicht nur Wissen und Fertigkeiten in den Unterrichtsfächern, sondern auch soziale Kompetenzen und Fähigkeiten zur Selbstregulation und zum selbst gesteuerten Lernen. Im Seminar werden etliche Formen kooperativer Lehrarrangements vorgestellt und ausprobiert. Dabei werden drei grundlegende Elemente dieser Inszenierungsformen hinterfragt, nämlich inwiefern die Aufgabenstellung der Tiefenstruktur des Verstehensinhaltes angepasst ist, welche Lernstrategien Lernende dabei erwerben, und welche Rolle die Lehrperson dabei innehat. Sich als Lehrperson bei der Unterstützung einzelner Lernender oder Kleingruppen anhand von zentralen Kriterien zu beobachten, ist zudem ein geeignetes Mittel, seine Unterrichtskompetenz zu verbessern

Event Heteronormativität oder Fluidität? Entwürfe von Geschlecht und Gender in der altnordischen Literatur
06SE360-207a / Seminar / 1,488

Description:

Business event contents:
Echte Kerle, Mädchenkönige, genderfluide Asen: Im zweiten Teil des Moduls Theorien und Methoden wenden wir uns im Frühjahrssemester mittelalterlichen Diskursivierungen von Geschlecht und Gender im isländischen Kontext zu. Eddische Dichtung und Sagaliteratur bieten reichlich Material für Studien von Konstruktionen und Verhandlungen von Geschlechternormen, und auch die Rechtsüberlieferung erlaubt Einblicke in mittelalterliche Entwürfe von Geschlechterrollen. In Auseinandersetzung mit dieser textuellen Überlieferung und der einschlägigen altnordistischen Forschung werden wir uns gemeinsam mit der Frage beschäftigen, mit welchem Instrumentarium solche historische Konzeptionen von Gender und Geschlecht adäquat erfasst werden können.

Event Tempus, Aspekt und Modalität
06SE360-506a / Seminar / 3,049

Description:

Business event contents:
In dieser Veranstaltung werden wir uns mit den Begriffen Tempus, Aspekt und Modalität auseinandersetzen. Wir werden uns mit Fragen beschäftigen wie: Wie viele Tempora gibt es im Englischen, Deutschen oder Schwedischen? Inwiefern unterscheidet sich das Perfekt im Englischen vom deutschen Perfekt? Drücken skandinavische Sprachen und Deutsch Aspekt aus oder nicht? Welche Funktionen haben Modi? Am Beispiel der modernen und historischen germanischen Sprachen werden wir sowohl die morphosyntaktische Struktur der verschiedenen Verbformen als auch ihre Funktionen analysieren. Darüber hinaus werden wir am Beispiel verschiedener germanischen Sprachen sehen, wie Tempus, Aspekt und Modalität mit den Eigenschaften des Prädikats, mit der Informationsstruktur und mit dem Sprachregister bzw. mit der Textart zusammenhängen.

Event Das eigene Leben schreiben
06SE360-509b / Seminar / 616

Description:

Business event contents:
In der frühen Neuzeit breitet sich die Tendenz aus, das eigene Leben in der Schrift festzuhalten: in teilweise lakonischen Aufzeichnungen, teilweise aber auch literarisch elaborierten Werken, die spielerischen oder reflexiven Charakter haben können. Im Seminar wollen wir repräsentative Formen von Selbstzeugnissen im Spannungsfeld von Authentizität und Inszenierung gemeinsam diskutieren.

Event Zerstörungen in der Literatur des Mittelalters und der Frühen Neuzeit: ruiniert, verbrannt, zerbrochen, zerrissen....
06SE360-510b / Seminar / 3,292

Description:

Business event contents:
Im Seminar lesen wir Texte, die in verschiedener Weise Zerstörung thematisieren. Dabei interessiert, wie gerade über diese Verletzungen einer Ganzheit, einer "heilen" Welt und Schöpfung, einer geordneten Gesellschaft und idealen Körperlichkeit, das Erzählen hervorgetrieben wird.
Gewaltsame Zerstörung durch menschliches Handeln oder Zerstörung durch die Zeit (vanitas) - immer ist es für den denkenden Menschen eine Herausforderung, die er nicht zuletzt durch sprachliche (Über-)Formung zu bewältigen versucht. Sei es durch Anverwandlung in mimetischem Nachvollzug, sei es durch sinnsuchende Reflexion, sei es durch poetische (Re)Konstruktion in imaginärem Raum, sei es durch didaktische Evidenz... über die Versprachlichung wird das Zerstörte zum Anfang von Sinnkonstruktion, was genauso Anlass des (Ver)Zweifelns sein kann wie Prozess einer rationalen Abstrahierung oder Imaginierung einer Ganzheit. Das Zerstörte und die Zerstörung sind so Kern des Literarischen, als Objekt des Erzählens und Dichtens wie auch Motor einer grundlegenden Poetik des Fragmentarischen.

Event An den Rändern der höfischen Kultur: Iwein Löwenritter
06KO360-511b / Colloquium / 268

Description:

Business event contents:
Mit den um
1200 entstehenden narrativen Entwürfen des höfischen Lebens und der abenteuerlich-ritterlichen Existenz gehen gleichzeitig Erprobungen von deren Grenzen einher: Wie verhält sich das Höfische zum Ausserhöfischen? Wie die ritterliche Lebensform zu anderen Lebensformen? Der "Iwein" Hartmanns von Aue, nach einer französischen Vorlage bearbeitet, ist dafür wohl das prominenteste Beispiel: Begegnungen mit einem Waldmenschen, Wahnsinn, Einsiedlertum und Freundschaft mit einem Löwen sind einige der Aspekte des Fremden, die wir im Seminar diskutieren wollen.

Event Übergänge: Handschrift und Druck im 15. Jahrhundert
06KO360-514a / Colloquium / 3,344

Description:

Business event contents:
Das
15. und beginnende
16. Jahrhundert stellen eine Zeit des medialen Umbruchs dar. Mit der Erfindung des Buchdrucks mit beweglichen Lettern begann ein tiefgreifender Wandel, der die Formate, das Publikum, die Verbreitungswege ebenso wie die Produktion von Literatur erfasste. Dabei existierten die beiden Medien Handschrift und Druck lange nebeneinander und zeitigten dabei vielfach gegenseitige Interferenzen und Mischformen. Im Seminar werden wir uns anhand konkreter Beispiele aus Zürcher Sammlungen dieser buchgeschichtlichen Umbruchszeit widmen.
Neben mediengeschichtlichen Reflexionen wird dabei auch der praktische Umgang mit den materiellen Überlieferungsträgern der Literatur des Mittelalters und der frühen Neuzeit geübt werden.

Event National Identity and Nationalism
06SE615-002a / Seminar / 2,164

Description:

Business event contents:
National identity and nationalism are central political phenomena in modern politics since the development of the nation-state. In spite of frequent claims that nations are disappearing and that the historical phase of the nation-state comes to an end, they remain the most important actors in world politics. Moreover, new nationalities and claims for national independence and self-determination emerging in all parts of the world. Consequently, it is not surprising to see that in political science, economics, history and philosophy the topic of nationalism has given rise to a large number of important theoretical contributions and debates. The goal of the course is to familiarise students with questions that bear a high relevance in their intellectual formation, as well as in their role as citizens in a changing world.

The course will address current issues and cases of national self-determination movements and new contestations of how national identities are defined and framed in different parts of the world. The course will also address the extent to which and how nationalist ideologies are growing in conjunction with populism in many parts of the world. Finally, the course tackles issues of national identities and how different conceptions of national identity exist in different countries (ethnic vs. civic ones, or combinations) and how the funding myths of various countries have been created in the process of nation-building. Nationalism will also be compared with notions of cosmopolitanism and multi-ethnic societies.

Students will acquire an advanced understanding of the key concepts, relevant topics and current debates in the field of nationalism and national identities. At the end of the semester they should be able to bridge empirical knowledge with normative questions about the justification of self-determination and access to territorially-defined resources, as well as making own original contributions. Preconditions for a successful seminar are critical reading of challenging texts and ability to effectively synthesize and convey the most important information, as well as the willingness to engage in debates across disciplines.

Event The Politics of Global Inequalities
06SE615-506b / Seminar / 3,066

Description:

Business event contents:
While national inequality has made headlines in recent years, opportunities, wealth, and political rights are far more unequally distributed globally then they are within each nation state. This course introduces students to philosophical considerations and international political economy analysis about global inequalities.

We start from the premise that the distribution of wealth and social rights has always been deeply political and cannot be reduced to purely economic mechanisms. In contrast to the alleviation of extreme poverty, where there is broad consensus about its normative desirability, the optimal level of inequality in society and between nations is a much more politically fraught question. We analyze therefore in a first step power relations in national and international regimes and their stance on social and economic inequalities. Secondly, we ask how increased globalization affect countries of different world regions and different parts of society. Can we witness an improvement of gender equality everywhere? Do political participation rights spread throughout the world? Who gains economically from globalization and who loses? Which new inequalities arise through climate change? Additionally, we look at attempts to mitigate global inequalities. We will see that redistribution is a fundamentally different matter at the global than the national level, given the absence of a global welfare state or tax authority.

Learning Goals

The only goal for the spring semester is that students write a meaningful research paper

The seminar is a core course for the MA Track Philosophy and Political Economy.

Description:

Business event contents:
In diesem Basismodul beschäftigen wir uns mit zentralen historischen Themen rund um Migration sowie Expansion, die die Entwicklung unserer Welt massgeblich beeinflussten.

Im Proseminar 1 befassen wir uns mit kriegerischen Expansionen, Gesandtschaften an fremde Völker und dem Zusammentreffen verschiedener Religionsgemeinschaften.

Im Proseminar 2 setzen wir uns abseits populistischer Betrachtungsweisen mit unterschiedlichen Migrationsformen und entscheidenden transnationalen Migrationsbewegungen auseinander.

Das Basismodul I dient vor allem auch dem Erwerb grundlegender Kenntnisse wissenschaftlichen historischen Arbeitens: Die Schwerpunkte des Proseminars I liegen im Bereich des Umgangs mit Forschungsliteratur, während sich das Proseminar II hauptsächlich auf die Arbeit mit Quellen konzentriert.

Notes:
Im Proseminar 1 besteht der Leistungsnachweis aus einem Vortrag und einem Forschungsbericht.
Im Proseminar 2 wird für den Leistungsnachweis die Ausarbeitung eines Konzepts zur Proseminararbeit und eine Proseminararbeit gefordert.

Event The UN Security Council in the 21st Century
06SE615-010d / Seminar / 3,072

Description:

Business event contents:
Perhaps the most powerful institution in world politics, the UN Security Council, is tasked with maintaining international peace and security. Because the founders of the organization did not specify what exactly constitutes "a threat to international peace and security", this course will critically examine the breadth and depth of the Security Council mandate. To do this, we will read theoretical and empirical literature on Security Council action and investigate the various ways in which the Council tries to prevent and solve international conflict. Course material will cover institutionalist theories of (dis)cooperation, empirical case studies of Council intervention, and quantitative analyses of Council performance. Crucially, we will answer the questions: Why do some conflicts never make it to the Council? Whose interest matter when resolving a crisis? And what explains the duration of eventual peace? Students should be prepared to read English language course material and contribute to a lively, productive, and pleasant seminar atmosphere. While statistical knowledge is no prerequisite, students should be willing to engage with quantitative literature.

Course Materials:	Literature consists almost exclusively of journal articles. Access will be provided through OLAT

Event ST Lecture Ethics: Albert Schweitzer's Ethics of Reverence for Life
01VL23SV123 / Course / 4,101

Description:

Business event contents:
Der Neutestamentler, Kulturphilosoph, Mediziner, Nobelpreisträger, Bachforscher, Organist und Ethiker Albert Schweitzer gehört ohne Zweifel zu den prägenden Gestalten der Philosophie- und Theologiegeschichte des 20. Jahrhunderts. Besonders bekannt geworden ist dabei Schweitzers Ethik der Ehrfurcht vor dem Leben, die in die berühmte Spitzenthese mündet: «Ethik ist ins Grenzenlose erweiterte Verantwortung gegen alles, was lebt» (KPh II, 332). Aus dieser – wie Schweitzer sagt – «fundamentalen Tatsache des Bewusstseins» leitet er ein ethisches Orientierungssystem en miniature ab: Gut ist, Leben zu erhalten, zu fördern und auf seinen höchsten Wert zu bringen; Böse die Vernichtung, Schädigung und Hemmung von Leben.
Die Vorlesung will Albert Schweitzers Ethik der Ehrfurcht vor dem Leben ideen- und werkgeschichtlich rekonstruieren. Denn die Ethik der Ehrfucht vor dem Leben ist auf dem Ogowe-Fluss nicht gewissermassen vom Himmel gefallen, sondern Schweitzer entwickelt sie sukzessive. Im Hintergrund stehen philosophische und kulturtheoretische Grundlagen, die Schweitzer v.a. in Auseinandersetzung mit dem Deutschen Idealismus (v.a. Fichte), der Philosophie Nietzsches und der Lebensphilosophie erarbeitet hat. Im Mittelpunkt der Vorlesung soll dabei eine Entschlüsselung dessen stehen, was Schweitzer unter Leben versteht und wie er dazu kommt, den Lebensbegriff in dieser spezifischen Form ethisch zu besetzen. Daneben rücken auch strikt theologische Implikationen, wie Schweitzers eigenwillige Paulusdeutung (Mystik des Apostels Paulus) und sein praktisches Christsein (Lambarene) in den Fokus.

Notes:
In dieser VL gilt für jeden Teilnehmer / jede Teilnehmerin die "Aktive Teilnahme", d.h. z.B. Protokolle, Kurzreferate, Disskussionsbeiträge oder ein kurzer Essay von 2-3 Seiten, die ein Themenfeld aus der VL reflektieren und Fragen dazu bedenken bzw. aufwerfen. Die Beiträge der Teilnehmerinnen und Teilnehmer werden dann in das VL-Geschehen integriert.

Course Materials:	Die Vorlesung hat powerpoint-Unterstützung. Die Folien werden den Studierenden zur Verfügung gestellt. Literatur wird am Anfang der VL zur Verfügung gestellt.

Event Kriegsethik
06SE160o008a / Seminar / 1,772

Description:

Business event contents:
Wenn Russlands Ukrainekrieg ein ungerechter Krieg ist, was gilt dann für die Soldaten, die ihn führen? Liegt die Verantwortung für den Krieg allein bei Putin und anderen Befehlshabenden, oder auch bei den kämpfenden Soldaten?

In seinem äußerst einflussreichen Werk Gibt es den gerechten Krieg? (Im Original: Just and Unjust Wars, Basic Books, 1977) argumentiert Michael Walzer, dass die Situation zwischen Soldaten, die einander im Krieg entgegenstehen, moralisch symmetrisch ist. Selbst wenn ein Soldat einen ungerechten Angriffskrieg führt, den der andere Soldat mit Recht zu beenden versucht, bleibt diese moralische Symmetrie bestehen, da die Ungerechtigkeit des Krieges nicht in die moralische Verantwortung der kämpfenden Soldaten fällt.
Soldaten schulden ihren Armeen und ihren Befehlshabenden Gehorsam.
Dies hat zur Folge, dass grundsätzlich nur politische Entscheidungsträger und allenfalls Oberbefehlshaber der Armee für einen ungerechten Krieg verantwortlich gemacht werden können.

In den letzten zwei Jahrzehnten haben Moralphilosoph:innen wie Jeff McMahan, David Rodin, Cécile Fabre und Helen Frowe begonnen, Walzers Position zu kritisieren. Sie argumentieren, dass die Kriegsethik letztlich direkt auf der Moral individueller Notwehr beruhen muss. Damit kann Walzers These der Symmetrie nicht aufrechterhalten werden kann. Soldaten auf der ungerechten Seite eines Konflikts sind vielleicht nicht voll schuldfähig, wenn sie unter Zwang handeln oder durch Propaganda im Glauben gehalten werden, ihr Krieg sei ein gerechter. Ihre Handlungen sind aber dennoch moralisch falsch.

Dieser Kurs bietet eine Einführung in die Ethik des Krieges, insbesondere in die umfangreiche revisionistische Literatur, die in den letzten zwanzig Jahren entstanden ist. Idealerweise wählt man diesen Kurs erst, wenn man bereits mit den Grundzügen der praktischen Philosophie im Allgemeinen und der Ethik im Besonderen vertraut ist. Der Kurs folgt keinem Lehrbuch im engeren Sinne, sondern stützt sich stark auf aktuelle akademische Fachaufsätze, die von der Dozentin zur Verfügung gestellt werden. Von den Studierenden wird erwartet, dass sie pro Woche in etwa einen wissenschaftlichen Aufsatz lesen. Die Pflichtlektüre wird durch weiterführende empfohlene Literatur ergänzt, die bei Interesse vertiefend konsultiert werden kann. Ein Lehrbuch, das viele Inhalte des Kurses auf zugängliche Weise behandelt, ist Helen Frowes The Ethics of War and Peace (Routledge, 2016). Der Kurs wird auf Deutsch unterrichtet.

Event The Power of Praise – Lob und seine soziale Funktion
06SE160o007a / Seminar / 3,069

Description:

Business event contents:
In diesem Seminar beschäftigen wir uns mit philosophischen Theories über moralisches Lob. Im Zentrum stehen dabei drei eng miteinander verknüpfte Fragenkomplexe:

1. Was ist Lob? Was macht ein Lob moralisch?
2. Welche soziale Funktion kann und sollte moralisches Lob erfüllen?
3. Wann wird Lob als angemessen betrachtet?

Wir kombinieren in diesem Seminar klassische Texte aus der Moralphilosophie mit empirischen Erkenntnissen aus der Psychologie (insbesondere der Entwicklungspsychologie), den Neurowissenschaften, der Soziologie sowie der experimentellen Philosophie.

Event The Origins of the Modern State: A Global Perspective
06SE615-002c / Seminar / 4,240

Description:

Business event contents:
This seminar will investigate the historical processes of state building across different world regions and time periods. It will introduce students to core theories of state formation and state capacity, covering classic and contemporary political science debates. The course will examine the domestic and international determinants of state development, such as geography, warfare, elite competition, economic structures, global finance, colonization, and diffusion. It will also consider the legacies of historical state building processes for contemporary political and economic outcomes. The seminar will be discussion-based, where students will engage directly with key works in comparative politics, and historical and international political economy, asking why some states developed strong fiscal and bureaucratic capacities while others did not. Students will learn to think like social science researchers, applying comparative theories to the study of political development.

Event English phonetics and phonology for teachers of English
06VL440o001a / Course / 847

Description:

Business event contents:
Phonemes are known as the smallest units in language that differentiate meaning, and this course provides a hands-on introduction to English phonetics and phonology. The first part will be dedicated to the articulatory and acoustic properties of (human speech) sounds, with a particular focus on English. We look at the speech producing apparatus and articulation as well as inherent features of speech sounds (place and manner of production). We will then discuss general phonology, from Jakobson's (structuralist) ideas of a formal development of distinctive feature theory to more cognitive approaches, problems of decomposition, the interplay of phonology and morphology, and phonological rules in general. There will also be a short introduction to phonetic transcription and analysis (the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA), PRAAT, etc.), complete with some practical work. In the second part of the lecture, we look at selected sub-fields: sound change in the history English, accent classification and distribution from a typological perspective, sociolinguistic aspects of variation (including style- shifting and indexicality), and contrastive phonetics (English-German).

Notes:
Written exam on the materials discussed in the lecture (Weeks
1-12). The exam is held in Week
13 of term and open book, in class and during the regular lecture slot.

06VL440o003a / Course / 692

Description:

Business event contents:
Humans have developed an intimate relationship with digital technologies. They pervade everyday life from cradle to grave, accompanying us from birth (and before) through childhood, youth, adulthood, old age and death (and after). This lecture series will examine the impact of this radical development (since say the 1990s) and the impact it has had on human behaviour, thought and self-understanding.

Event Seminar: Transformation of cult sites in the Middle East from antiquity to the Islamic period
01SE54LM002c / Seminar / 2,888

Description:

Business event contents:
Kultorte sind Ausdruck religiöser Praktiken, politischer Macht und kollektiver Identität. Im Nahen Osten, einer der bedeutendsten Kulturregionen der Menschheitsgeschichte, unterlagen solche Orte seit der Antike tiefgreifenden Transformationen – sei es durch religiösen Wandel, politische Umbrüche oder gesellschaftliche Reinterpretationen. Im Seminar wird der Frage nachgegangen, wie sich Kultorte im Zeitraum von der Antike bis in die islamische Zeit verändert haben: Welche Dynamiken führten zur Aneignung, Zerstörung oder Neudeutung bestehender Kultstätten? In welchem Verhältnis stehen Kontinuität und Bruch in der Topographie von Kultorten? Anhand ausgewählter Fallstudien werden Prozesse wie die Überlagerung religiöser Narrative und Praktiken, die Umwidmung antiker Tempel zu Kirchen oder Moscheen, architektonische und topographische Zeichen von Aneignung und Abgrenzung sowie die Rolle von Kultorten in der Legitimation politischer Macht untersucht. Die Teilnehmer*innen sollen ein Verständnis für die longue durée religiöser Räume entwickeln, methodische Interdisziplinarität kennenlernen und eigenständige Fallstudien erarbeiten können.

Event Seminar: Representation of Early Islam. From Sīra literature to YouTube videos
01SE54SS046 / Seminar / 2,884

Description:

Business event contents:
Im Seminar stehen Darstellungen zentraler Persönlichkeiten und Ereignisse der frühislamischen Zeit – etwa des Propheten Muhammad, seiner Familie und der ersten Gemeinschaft – von den frühesten islamischen Textquellen bis zu aktuellen digitalen Medien im Fokus. Repräsentationen werden dabei nicht als neutrale Abbilder historischer Tatsachen verstanden, sondern als ideologisch geprägte Narrative, die in spezifischen Kontexten entstehen und symbolische Ordnungen schaffen. Diese wirken normativ auf gesellschaftliche Realitäten – etwa auf Geschlechterrollen, religiöse Erziehung oder Selbstbilder – und prägen bis heute das Leben von Muslim*innen weltweit. Untersucht werden klassische Textquellen wie Sīra, Ḥadi and Historiographie ebenso wie moderne Formate wie YouTube-Videos oder Instagram. Die Ziele sind, den Umgang mit Primärquellen einzuüben und die symbolische Ebene religiöser Repräsentation kritisch zu analysieren und ihre Bedeutung für islamische Identitätsdiskurse, Erinnerungskultur und Lebenspraxis zu reflektieren.

Notes:
Grundwissen über den Islam ist von Vorteil, aber keine Bedingung für eine Teilnahme.

Vorbereitende Lektüre:

Event Lernförderliche Gestaltung digitaler Lehr-/Lernmedien
06SE222LGdL / Seminar / 1,858

Description:

Business event contents:
Lernen mit digitalen Medien setzt voraus, dass das entsprechende Lernmedium lernförderlich gestaltet ist. Im Seminar sollen grundlegende Theorien zur kognitiven Verarbeitung von Informationen, die durch das Lernmedium präsentiert werden, vorgestellt und besprochen werden. Aus diesen Theorien lassen sich eine Vielzahl von Gestaltungsempfehlungen für digitalen Lehr-/Lernmedien ableiten, die auch in der Forschung zum Lernen mit digitalen Medien häufig aufgegriffen werden. Das Seminar soll daher die Kenntnisse zur lernförderlichen Gestaltung digiler Medien erhöhen, sodass angehende Lehrkräfte in Zukunft sicher lernförderliche Lernmedien erstellen oder aussuchen können.

Event Kulturanalyse von Beschleunigung und Zeitpolitiken – Einführung in Akzelerationstheorien
06SE506o503a / Seminar / 1,775

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Vertiefungsseminar führt in zentrale theoretische Debatten um temporale Strukturen der Moderne ein. Ausgehend von zeitdiagnostischen Ansätzen (u.a. Hartmut Rosa, Armen Avanessian), die moderne Gesellschaften durch dynamische Steigerungslogiken, Beschleunigungserfahrungen und Zukunftsfixierung charakterisieren, widmen wir uns der kritischen Auseinandersetzung mit dem Akzelerationismus als vielschichtige wissenschaftliche und politische Strömung.
Wir untersuchen unterschiedliche Spielarten des Akzelerationismus: von reaktionär-destruktiven über emanzipatorisch-linke bis hin zu feministischen und xenofuturistischen Positionen. Gemeinsam ist diesen, dass sie Beschleunigung nicht allein als Problem, sondern auch als taktische Möglichkeit begreifen - sei es zur Überwindung des Kapitalismus, zur Radikalisierung technologischer Entwicklung oder zur Dekonstruktion normativer Subjektivitätsformen.

Business event contents:
In this seminar, students are supervised and guided through their research projects for the Bachelor dissertation. The seminar follows the Specialization of the Fall Semester.

Bachelor dissertations are individual pieces of research on topics chosen by participants in agreement with the lecturers. The projects should connect to the Specialization and to the literature covered in the Fall Semester. Research for the Bachelor dissertation must be based on a rigorous theoretical and methodological approach, as developed in the research design during the Fall Semester. The BA thesis can be:

- Empirical or more theoretical (e.g., definitions of concepts, typologies, etc.);
- Single-case studies or cross-country comparative; comparison of two/more reforms within a same country or across countries; analysis of supra-national institutions;
- Focus on institutions, challenges, dimensions of representation, areas of reform, indicators of crisis of representation, etc.;
- Qualitative (e.g., interview, content analysis, QCA, etc.) or quantitative (e.g., econometric techniques);
The topic of the Bachelor dissertation can be broader than the topics covered in the Fall seminar.

Event Politische Ikonografie im Europa der Frühen Neuzeit
06SE640-009a / Seminar / 3,313

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Seminar widmet sich medienübergreifend der Inszenierung von Macht und Herrschaft in der Frühen Neuzeit. Im Mittelpunkt steht die Frage, wie Bilder, Bauten und Plätze als Medien politischer Kommunikation und Repräsentation fungieren. Anhand ausgewählter Fallstudien - von Michelangelo bis Jacques-Louis David, vom Escorial bis zur Würzburger Residenz - werden Form und Funktion politischer Bildwelten analysiert, wobei dem Zusammenspiel von Körper, Raum und Ritual besondere Aufmerksamkeit gilt. Ziel ist es, mit der politischen Ikonografie einen zentralen Ansatz des kunsthistorischen Methodenkanons kennenzulernen und anzuwenden, der angesichts der heutigen Bildpolitik aktueller denn je erscheint.

Notes:
Die Vergabe der Referate findet in der ersten Sitzung statt. Eine Anwesenheit zu diesem Termin ist daher verpflichtend.

Event Kunst im öffentlichen Raum: Diskurs, Wahrnehmung, Erinnerung
06UE640-019a / Exercise Group / 3,402

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Übung widmet sich Objekten und Gebäuden, die im städtischen Alltag teils als Landmarken oder Treffpunkte genutzt, im Vorbeigehen betrachtet oder als Denk- und Mahnmale mit kollektiven Erinnerungen assoziiert werden. In der Veranstaltung erarbeiten die Studierenden grundlegende Probleme, Fragen und Positionen zum Umgang mit historischen wie zeitgenössischen Semantisierungen öffentlicher Räume durch künstlerische Arbeiten. Im Fokus steht dabei die visuelle Erschließung und Beschreibung ausgewählter Werke unter Berücksichtigung ihrer Materialität, der historischen Entstehungs- und Präsentationsbedingungen sowie der semantischen Wechselwirkungen mit der städtischen Umgebung.

Notes:
Die ersten beiden Sitzungen im Seminarraum dienen der Klärung des organisatorischen Rahmens sowie der gemeinsamen Erarbeitung inhaltlicher Grundlagen. Da auch die Themenvergabe in der ersten Sitzung erfolgt, ist eine Anwesenheit für die Teilnahme obligatorisch. Die übrigen Termine finden vor Originalen im Zürcher Stadtraum statt.

Event Das bildgebannte Abstraktum: Tod als Experimentierfeld ästhetischer Praxis
06VL640o010a / Course / 4,631

Description:

Business event contents:
Todesfigurationen sind visuelle Repräsentationen eines sich der Darstellung konsequent entziehenden Mysteriums, für dessen ästhetische Bewältigung die Kunst ab der zweiten Hälfte des 13. Jahrhunderts eine anthropomorphe, ambig auf den menschlichen Leichnam rekurrierende Gestalt fand. Eine detaillierte Betrachtung der frühneuzeitlichen Mors-Figuren belegt in diesem Kontext, dass die bildliche Vorstellung des Todes bis ins beginnende 17. Jahrhundert weder formal noch inhaltlich einem fest etablierten Kanon folgte und neben den tradierten Modi von kulturhistorischen Brüchen sowie Diskontinuitäten geprägt war. Gerade die proteische Wandlungsfähigkeit des Todes, sein beständiges Substituieren von Identitäten, Rollen und Geschlechtern in unterschiedlichen Handlungszusammenhängen, machte die stets an das System religiöser Doktrinen gebundene mors zu einer komplexen künstlerischen Herausforderung. Die vielschichtige Darstellungstradition des Todes, der sich die Vorlesung widmet, kann daher als ein ästhetisches Experimentierfeld begriffen werden, in dem die Potenziale und die Grenzen der visuellen Wiedergabe immaterieller Wirklichkeit kontinuierlich ausgelotet wurden.

Event Multiperspektivische Konfliktanalysen: Der China-Taiwan-Konflikt
06SE615-010c / Seminar / 2,133

Description:

Business event contents:
Ziel des Seminars ist eine Vertiefung bereits erworbener Kenntnisse der Theorien der IB durch eine Analyse des China-Taiwan-Konflikts aus unterschiedlichen theoretischen Perspektiven. Ausgewählte Theorien (z.B. neorealistische, neue liberale, neoinstitutionalistische, postmoderne, geopolitische und chinesische) werden im Sinne theoriegeleiteter wissenschaftlicher Konfliktanalysen angewandt. Aus Vergleich und Diskussion der unterschiedlichen Konfliktperspektiven werden Schlussfolgerungen abgeleitet: Zum einen in theoretischer Hinsicht (Vergleichen unterschiedlicher theoretischer Perspektiven hinsichtlich ihrer Grundannahmen über Akteure und Strukturen und ihrer Erklärungsmodelle internationaler Politik) sowie zum anderen hinsichtlich ihrer praktisch-politischen Handlungsimplikationen

Event Global Governance Networks
06SE615-010e / Seminar / 1,369

Description:

Business event contents:
Since the 1990s, a growing body of literature in political science and international relations has highlighted a shift from government-centered, interstate relations to a more complex system of global governance. This transformation reflects the increasingly cross-border, cross-sectoral, and multi-stakeholder nature of global governance initiatives, in which traditional state actors are joined by NGOs, civil society organizations, and private sector stakeholders. As a result, global governance has become closely associated with what many now refer to as "networked politics." These networks aim to leverage the resources, legitimacy, and expertise of diverse actors to design, implement, and monitor global policy programs, with the promise of more effective and responsive governance.

The seminar explores the concept and implications of networked governance, with three core objectives. First, we aim to sharpen the theoretical understanding of governance networks. Despite growing scholarly interest, key questions remain about how such networks are defined, how actors interact within them, and how different types of networks vary in structure and function. In addition, we seek to deepen our understanding of the concept of (global) interdependence, which underlies the very rationale for networked forms of governance and complicates traditional notions of authority, responsibility, and sovereignty in global politics.

Second, the seminar introduces students to the tools of social network analysis. Using the programs R and visone, we will work with real-world data to analyze network properties at the individual, group, and overall network levels. This methodological component is designed to provide students with hands-on experience in interpreting and visualizing governance structures.

Third, the seminar turns to the study of specific global governance networks. Students will select a sectoral governance network of interest, conduct original research, and present their preliminary designs, data, and findings.

Event Vorratsdatenspeicherung – Hintergründe und aktuelle Debatten
06SE254o104a / Seminar / 3,208

Description:

Business event contents:
Wer kommuniziert wann, wo, mit wem und über welche technischen Mittel? Die pauschale Speicherung dieser Kommunikationsdaten zu Zwecken der Strafverfolgung - bekannt als «Vorratsdatenspeicherung» - wurde vomEuropäischen Gerichtshof wiederholt für unzulässig erklärt. Dennoch wird sie in der Schweiz und auch in anderen Ländern weiterhin durchgeführt. Die langjährige Debatte um die Vorratsdatenspeicherung dauert an und bewegt sich in einem scheinbar unüberwindbaren Spannungsverhältnis zwischen Freiheits- und Sicherheitsinteressen. Vor diesem Hintergrund befasst sich dieses Seminar mit den Hintergründen der Vorratsdatenspeicherung und analysiert aktuelle Konfliktfelder in der Schweiz und im Ausland.

Event KI als Werkzeug der Persuasion: Können Einstellungen mittels KI erfolgreich verändert werden?
06SE254o109a / Seminar / 1,695

Description:

Business event contents:
Persuasion bezeichnet jede Veränderung einer Einstellung, die durch jegliche Form der Kommunikation hervorgerufen wird und gilt als zentrales Instrument in sozialen, politischen und ökonomischen Kontexten. Wie können wir eine Person überzeugen, sich gesund zu ernähren, ein nachhaltiges Produkt zu kaufen, oder für eine bestimmte politische Partei zu wählen? Mit der jüngsten Entwicklung und der daraus folgenden breiten Anwendung von KI-basierten Systemen hat sich dieses Feld stark verändert und neue Werkzeuge hervorgebracht, persuasive Botschaften zu erstellen.

In diesem Seminar behandeln wir die Grundlagen zu künstlicher Intelligenz und Persuasion von einer kommunikationswissenschaftlichen Perspektive. Wir untersuchen die Wirksamkeit von KI-basierter Persuasion, welche Faktoren die Effektivität beeinflussen, und welche Implikation sich daraus für unsere Gesellschaft ergeben.

Im Rahmen dieses Seminars erhalten die Teilnehmenden inhaltlichen Input zur Theorie, erarbeiten sich ein Verständnis über den aktuellen Stand der Forschung, und lernen, wie KI zur Persuasion verwendet werden kann. Zusätzlich werden ethische Fragen zur Nutzung von KI gemeinsam behandelt.

Event Der Einfluss der Digitalisierung auf Medienunternehmen und Handlungsoptionen aus ökonomischer Sicht
06SE254o110a / Seminar / 642

Description:

Business event contents:
Der Medienmarkt durchläuft seinen bisher grössten Wandel. Die Digitalisierung hat die Art und Weise, wie Medien genutzt werden, grundsätzlich verändert. So stehen den Medienkonsumenten heute eine Vielzahl von Inhalten, Plattformen und neuen Anbietern zur Auswahl, die zu jeder Zeit und an jedem Ort verfügbar sind. Intelligente Algorithmen ermöglichen zudem ein, auf die persönlichen Interessen der Medienkonsumenten zugeschnittenes Angebot.

Diese Entwicklung fordert auch die Schweizer Medienunternehmen. Es gilt, die Bedürfnisse der Medienkonsumenten antizipieren und in diesem digitalen Medienmarkt bestehen zu können. Insbesondere in der Verbreitung von Medieninhalten stehen die Medienunternehmen auch ganz neuen und finanziell viel potenteren Mitbewerbern gegenüber. Die Digitalisierung erfordert für die Schweizer Medienunternehmen deshalb nicht nur Investitionen in die digitalen Kompetenzen des Personals und in neue publizistische Angebote, sondern auch Investitionen in die technische Infrastruktur, in neue Verbreitungswege und in digitale Plattformen. Weil gleichzeitig die kommerziellen Erträge aus der Werbung sinken, müssen diese Investitionen aus neuen Geldern oder aus Einsparungen im bestehenden Angebot finanziert werden.

In diesem Seminar erhalten die Studierenden einen Überblick über die wesentlichen Herausforderungen der Digitalisierung aus Sicht eines Medienunternehmens. Ein spezielles Augenmerk widmet der Lehrplan auch der Verbreitung von digitalen Medieninhalten, welche die Medienunternehmen aufgrund neuer Wettbewerbsteilnehmer (Technologieunternehmen) ganz besonders fordern. Schwerpunkt bildet die Transformation von klassischen Medienunternehmen. Die Studierenden verstehen die Problemstellungen und Handlungsoptionen, sowie die nötigen Planungsschritte einer ganzheitlichen digitalen Transformation. Zum Abschluss erfolgt auch eine kurze politische Einordnung der Marktregulierung und Medienförderung im Kontext der Digitalisierung, inklusive Blick in den EU-Raum. Das Seminar versteht sich als Wissenstransfer aus der Praxis.

> Die Studierenden verstehen die betriebswirtschaftlichen Herausforderungen von klassischen Medienunternehmen im Kontext der Digitalisierung.
> Die Studierenden wissen um die wesentlichen Problemstellungen, Handlungsoptionen und Planungsschritte der digitalen Transformation eines Medienunternehmens und können solche Vorhaben auch kritisch beurteilen.
> Die Studierenden verstehen die Herausforderungen in der Regulierung und Förderung des Medienmarktes im Kontext der Digitalisierung

06SE090Imm / Seminar / 670

Description:

Business event contents:
The course's aim is to provide a basis for future CLIL teachers in order to reflect upon and to implement the methodological and pedagogical dimensions of teaching a subject immersively in English. Participants will get an insight into the basics of CLIL, working on theoretical as well as practical materials, to be prepared for the challenge of having to teach a subject in a - presumably - foreign language. Apart from theoretical inputs and practical work, there will be guest speakers as well as opportunities to talk to immersion students. Course participants are expected to be active in class and in groupwork. During the course they will be required to produce their own hands-on materials, written assignments and will have to be willing to reflect critically upon them. In addition to this, participants are expected to do a set number of hospitation and trial lessons.

Event Why is there something rather than nothing?
06SE160o506a / Seminar / 3,250

Description:

Business event contents:
In this seminar devoted to the question of why there is something rather than nothing, we will address this fundamental metaphysical issue from three complementary angles, in addition to the examination of the contemporary literature directly devoted to this question. The first will be historical and contemporary debates about cosmological arguments for God's existence. The second will be historical and contemporary debates about what is called since Leibniz the Principle of Sufficient Reason. The third will be contemporary debates about the nature of metaphysical grounding and how it differs from other forms of explanation - e.g., causal explanations. Much attention will be devoted to views such as metaphysical nihilism and brute fundamentalism, and to arguments such as the subtraction argument.

Course Materials:	The list of the texts to read during the seminar will be indicated during the first session (at the lastest). I will maybe upload this list on OLAT before the first session.

Event Divided We Stand: Tracing the Roots and Impact of Political Polarization
06SE615-006d / Seminar / 709

Description:

Business event contents:
The goal of this seminar is to explore the origins of political polarization and examine how it affects society. Polarization occurs when parts of a system become deeply divided. In politics, this often takes the form of a strong left-right split, known as ideological polarization.
In the social realm, polarization can manifest as groups forming close bonds within themselves while opposing others. This is called affective polarization.
These groups can go beyond political parties, often forming around specific interests, such as anti-vaccination groups or climate action groups.

In this seminar, we explore different types of polarization and learn how they can be observed and measured. Using real-world data from the Swiss parliament and the Swiss public, we examine divisions within the legislative system and the broader population.

The seminar combines both content and practical methods. Alongside reading and discussing the latest research, we engage in hands-on programming exercises to build up and strengthen methodological skills.

Course Materials:
- Selected literature on political polarization, including discussion prompts.
- Guides for reading and understanding scientific papers
- Introductory materials for R programming
- R exercises for hands-on empirical analysis (including data and code)
- Weekly pop quizzes to help assess learning progress
- Assignment guidelines

Event Direkte Demokratie Schweiz im 21. Jahrhundert (DDS-21)
06SE615-BAh / Seminar / 700

Description:

Business event contents:
Die regelmässig durchgeführten Volksabstimmungen sind ein charakteristisches Merkmal der Schweizer Politik. Diese Spezialisierung widmet sich der Analyse des Abstimmungsverhaltens der Stimmenden. Wie kommen die Stimmenden zu ihrem Entscheid? Welche Rolle spielt dabei die Abstimmungkampagne? Wie erklärt sich die Höhe der Stimmbeteiligung? Diese und weitere Fragen stehen im Fokus dieser Spezialisierung. Für Ihre Arbeiten werden den Studierenden Daten aus repräsentativen Nachabstimmungsbefragungen des aktuellen Nationalfondsprojekts 'Direkte Demokratie Schweiz im
21. Jahrhundert (SDD-21)' zur Verfügung gestellt.

Im ersten Semester des Seminars diskutieren die Studierenden die relevante Literatur im Bereich der Abstimmungsforschung, befassen sich mit Fragen der (vorwiegend quantitativen) Methoden und den Datensätzen, und erarbeiten ein Design für die persönliche Forschungsarbeit. Im zweiten Semester verfassen die Teilnehmenden eigene Forschungsarbeiten.

Event Takeovers, Restructuring, and Corporate Governance (S)
03SE22MO0032 / Seminar / 3,040

Description:

Business event contents:
This course studies mergers and corporate restructuring. The question addressed include: what are the motives for mergers? Which mergers create value? What arethe different methods of payment and what motivates their use? What are divestitures and spin-offs and what motivates their use? The course will cover various takeover defenses available to firms. We will examine the motives for going private and leveraged buyouts. Finally, the course will cover the relation between the market for corporate control and corporate governance.
To understand whether a particular type of merger or corporate event improves shareholder wealth we develop tools to calculate abnormal returns associated with the event and test whether these returns are statistically significant.
Additionally, we will look at valuation in the context of acquisitions and restructurings, using standard valuation techniques such as adjusted present value.

Event Theories of Legitimacy and Authority in International Relations
06SE615o534a / Seminar / 3,105

Description:

Business event contents:
In an increasingly interdependent world, questions of legitimacy-why actors accept authority as right and proper-sit at the core of international politics. This seminar primarily examines the literature on legitimacy, authority, and contestation in world politics, engaging students with key theoretical approaches and debates across International Relations research. In the first block of the semester, we unpack competing theories of legitimacy and their normative and sociological foundations. In the latter half, we apply these frameworks to the study of international organizations, assessing how mandates, procedures, and performance shape the recognition and contestation of their authority.
Throughout the course, each session features a structured class debate or small-group deliberation that applies the week's theory to real-world contexts and current crises.
By bridging theory and practice, students will develop the analytical tools to evaluate when, how, and for whom international authority is-and is not-considered legitimate.

Event What is New Adult Fiction?
06SE440o505a / Seminar / 3,247

Description:

Business event contents:
What originally started as an experimental marketing campaign in 2009 has by now become an international staple of bookstores and booktok: "new adult fiction." Neither fully adhering to the coming-of-age narrative commonly found in young adult fiction, nor revolving around watersheds such as parenthood or midlife crises associated with adult fiction, the newly minted genre was supposed to represent and attract people in their twenties.

But what ingredients, specifically, make up a recipe for quintessential "new adult fiction"? How is new adult fiction produced by conglomerate publishers? How is new adult fiction shelved in bookstores-and why might that be culturally significant? What explains the popularity of "50 Shades of Grey"- a novel that prominent critics in the humanities dismiss as "some of the worst writing I have ever seen" (Eva Illouz)? How do industrial and economic factors shape the emergence of new adult fiction and its plotlines? What kind of romantic and sexual scripts can be identified across commercially successful samples of new adult fiction-and why does that matter? And how do we 'do' textualanalysis when a seemingly "basic" popular novel openly explains its own symbolism to the implied recently adult reader?

Event Mark Aurel und Commodus: Der Philosophenkaiser und sein missratener Sohn
06SE600-036a / Seminar / 1,948

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Regierungszeit der beiden Kaiser Marcus Aurelius und Commodus gilt einerseits als Blütezeit des Imperium Romanum. Andererseits zeigten sich aber auch deutlich Vorboten der Krise, die das Reich im 3. Jahrhundert an den Rand des Abgrunds brachten. Gleichzeitig wird Marcus Aurelius in der Forschung wie in der populären Wahrnehmung oft als idealer Philosophenkaiser überhöht, gegenüber dem sein eitler, auf Gladiatoren fixierter Sohn Commodus einen jähen Absturz bedeutet hätte.
Im Seminar werden wir uns anschauen, mit welchen Herausforderungen beide Kaiser und das Imperium konfrontiert waren, wie sie mit diesen umgingen und wie die Quellen dies bewerteten.

Event Imperien, Ideologien, Identitäten. Moldau, Geschichte und Gegenwart an Europas Bruchlinien
06SE600-045a / Seminar / 1,537

Description:

Business event contents:
Kaum eine Region Osteuropas war so zwischen den drei Imperien der Region, dem Osmanischen, dem Habsburger- und dem Zarenreich exponiert wie die Moldau. Sie liegt auch heute wieder an einer geopolitischen Bruchlinie. Wir fragen danach, wie diese konkurrierenden Einflüsse die Region umgeformt und geprägt haben: politische Kultur, Infrastruktur, Alltag, gesellschaftliche Verhältnisse, Siedlungsstruktur und Migrationsbewegungen sowie, damit verbunden, religiöse, ethnische und kulturelle Zusammensetzung und Identität der Menschen. Besonderes Augenmerk gilt den Umbrüchen des 19. und 20. Jahrhunderts: der russischen Zarenherrschaft und der rumänischen Nationalstaatsbildung, den Verwerfungen durch Revolution, Weltkriege und Holocaust sowie den tiefgreifenden Transformationen von Sowjetisierung, Stalinismus und sozialistischer Modernisierung.
Wir fragen danach, wie sich die Geschichte einer solchen Grenzregion überhaupt schreiben lässt: Welche Quellen stehen zur Verfügung? Welche Narrative haben sich etabliert? Und wie verändern sich Perspektiven, wenn man imperiale, nationale oder regionale Zugänge miteinander vergleicht? In welche trans-regionalen Bezüge war die Moldau eingebettet und inwiefern bietet das Fallbeispiel der Moldau exemplarisch einen Einblick in lokale Dynamiken grösserer Zusammenhänge im Rahmen einer gesamteuropäischen Geschichte?
Ergänzt wird das Seminar durch eine fakultative Exkursion in die Moldau im Juni 2026, die separat buchbar ist und Gelegenheit bietet, historische Orte vor Ort kennenzulernen und mit Expert:innen zu diskutieren.

Event Mensch und Umwelt im westlichen Kleinasien
06SE600-033a / Seminar / 2,073

Description:

Business event contents:
Das Seminar untersucht die Wechselwirkungen zwischen Mensch und Umwelt im westlichen Kleinasien von der klassischen bis in die spätrömische Zeit. Wie gestalteten Menschen in der Antike ihre Umwelt - und wie prägte die Umwelt ihrerseits Gesellschaft, Kultur und Wirtschaft? Im Fokus stehen Themen wie landwirtschaftliche Ressourcen, Wasserwirtschaft, Urbanisierung, Sakralisierung von Landschaften, Rohstoffausbeutung, Umweltkrisen und Naturkatastrophen.

Anhand ausgewählter Fallstudien - etwa Pergamon, Ephesos, Aphrodisias oder Hierapolis - werden verschiedene Facetten dieser Mensch-Umwelt-Beziehungen analysiert. Literarische, epigraphische und archäologische Quellen werden dabei ebenso herangezogen wie Ansätze der modernen Umweltgeschichte. Ziel ist es, den Raum Westkleinasiens als Laboratorium für das Verständnis antiker Umweltinteraktionen sichtbar zu machen und methodische Werkzeuge für die historische Analyse von Natur und Kultur zu erproben.

Teilnehmer:innen haben die Möglichkeit, an einer Exkursion in die West- und Südwesttürkei teilzunehmen, die im April 2026 stattfindet.

Event Economics of Gender in Education and Labor Markets (S)
03SE22MO0159 / Seminar / 769

Description:

Business event contents:
All over the world, we observe different economic outcomes for men and women.
This course uses economic theory and analysis in order to explain these differences in outcomes focusing on educational attainment, career choices, and earnings. We will examine the role of gender differences in abilities, preferences (career vs. staying at home, but also for competition), and discrimination in explaining these differences. We will also examine how the choices women make (like marriage and child rearing), medical advancement (the birth control pill), and policies by firms affect these outcomes. Lastly, we will discuss what roles firms, educational institutions, and governments could have in achieving gender equality today.

Notes:
Please note, the number of students that can participate in this seminar is limited. To determine who is allowed to participate, each interested student needs to prepare a short assignment to be submitted before the semester starts.
Students who are interested in taking the seminar should e-mail Professor Segal (carmit.segal@business.uzh.ch) for details about the assignment before February

Event Subjekt - Objekt - Apparat. Methoden und Theorien der Fotografiegeschichte
06SE600-516c / Seminar / 3,014

Description:

Business event contents:
Um 1826 beginnt die moderne Geschichte der Fotografie, die von Anfang an in einem theoretischen Spannungsverhältnis zwischen Abbild und Konstruktion stand: wer oder was macht das Foto? Eine Frage, die auch nach 200 Jahren noch virulent ist und sich in den jeweiligen Epochen mit unterschiedlichen Problemstellungen verbunden hat. Möchte das fotografierte Objekt Bild werden? Ist es der Apparat, der objektive Abbilder ermöglich oder komponieren und gestalten die Fotograf:innen selbst das Bild? Und was bedeuten diese Fragen für Portrait und Selbstportrait? Im Seminar wollen wir uns mit klassischen und aktuellen Texten zur Fotografie beschäftigen, um ein besseres Verständnis von Geschichte und Gegenwart dieses Mediums zu gewinnen, und uns zudem in der Interpretation von Bildern üben, denn Fotografien sind eine wichtige Quelle der Geschichte. Doch wie wird Geschichte zu Bildern und wie werden Bilder wiederum zu Geschichte?

Event Frauen im präkolonialen Westafrika: ein Lektürekurs
06KO600o008a / Colloquium / 1,158

Description:

Business event contents:
Vor der Kolonisierung im späten 19. Jahrhundert funktionierten die nicht-islamisierten Regionen Westafrikas ohne Schriftsysteme und produzierten daher keine endogenen Schriftquellen. Entsprechend anspruchsvoll ist die geschichtswissenschaftliche Rekonstruktion der Vergangenheit dieser Gesellschaften - insbesondere wenn es um die sozialen Rollen, Biografien und das Selbstverständnis von Mädchen und Frauen geht. In diesem Kolloquium werden wir uns mit den methodologischen Herausforderungen auseinandersetzen, mit denen Historikerinnen und Historiker beim Versuch konfrontiert sind, die Geschlechtergeschichte des präkolonialen Westafrikas zu untersuchen. Wir werden das anhand von zwei sehr unterschiedlich geprägten Gesellschaften tun: der Sakralmonarchie des Königreichs Dahomey (im Süden der heutigen Republik Benin) und den weitgehend staatenlos organisierten Gebieten im heutigen Guinea-Bissau. Geschichten von Königsgattinnen und -müttern, Sklavinnen und Kauffrauen, Priesterinnen und Soldatinnen, Marktfrauen und Bäuerinnen werden uns dazu dienen, uns westafrikanischen Geschlechterordnungen, Familienstrukturen und gesellschaftlichen Machtverhältnissen anzunähern.

Event Zwischen Tradition und Innovation - Streitschriften im Investiturstreit
06KO600o502a / Colloquium / 3,303

Description:

Business event contents:
Aus dem Investiturstreit als epochaler Auseinandersetzung zwischen Papsttum und Königtum im 11. und 12. Jahrhundert über den Vorrang in der christlichen Welt ist ein besonderes Schrifttum hervorgegangen, das die moderne Forschung als "Streitschriften" bezeichnet hat. Es handelt sich dabei um zahlreiche Schriften, mit deren Hilfe die Anhänger beider Lager ihre Argumente schärften und die Positionen der Gegner zu entkräften versuchten.
Dabei spielte Geschichte als Argument eine bedeutende Rolle. Im Gegensatz zu diesem traditionellen Element steht die Art des Argumentierens am Beginn einer neuen Zeit, denn das dialektische oder scholastische Argumentieren, das an verschiedenen europäischen Schulen als innovative Methode Einzug hielt, konnte an den Themen des Investiturstreits über viele Jahrzehnte geübt werden. Im Kolloquium sollen wichtige Beispiele dieser Schriften inhaltlich und methodisch analysiert und auf der Grundlage einschlägiger wissenschaftlicher Texte untersucht werden. Wenn möglich sollen Gruppen gebildet werden, die einerseits die königlichen Argumente vertreten und andererseits die päpstlichen. Von den im Original lateinisch-sprachigen Texten liegen deutsche (oder englische) Übersetzungen vor.

Auf dieses Kolloquium ist die Vorlesung "Europa im 11. Jahrhundert - Kirchenreform und Investiturstreit" abgestimmt. Der Besuch der Vorlesung ist empfehlenswert.

Event Gruppe 02, Proseminar 2: Materielle Kultur und maritimer Handel
06SE600-007e / Seminar / 1,451

Description:

Business event contents:
Wie veränderte sich materielle Kultur im Laufe der Geschichte? Welche historischen Ereignisse und Entwicklungen beeinflussten das Konsumverhalten und die Handelswirtschaft nachhaltig? Mit dieser Fragestellung werden wir uns der Expansionspolitik der griechischen Stadtstaaten und des Römischen Imperiums (PS 2) sowie der europäischen Kolonialmächte (PS 1) annähern. An Fallbeispielen aus unterschiedlichen Geschichtsepochen erforschen wir die Auswirkungen des Kolonialismus auf Warenhandel und materielle Kultur. Zudem beleuchten wir, welche Einzelakteure und Akteursgruppen in das koloniale Handelssystem involviert waren. Im Proseminar 1, das der frühneuzeitlichen Epoche gewidmet ist, folgen wir den transatlantischen Handelsrouten für Warenimport und erkunden, wie dieser die lokale Güterproduktion prägte. Die wirtschaftlichen und sozio-kulturellen Einflüsse auf das Konsumverhalten untersuchen wir etwa an neuen Luxusgütern, die zum zeitgenössischen Statussymbol wurden. Hinsichtlich Materialität im Alltag nehmen wir auch die Sittenmandate unter die Lupe, mit welchen das Reformiertentum übermässigen Konsum zu regulieren versuchte.
Das Thema Wirtschaft in der Antike geht mit der Entwicklung der griechischen und römischen Gesellschaften einher. Nach einer Übersicht über wichtige wirtschaftliche Akteure antiker Gesellschaften (Bürger, Frauen, Soldaten und Sklaven) konzentriert sich das Proseminar 2 auf drei Makrobereiche: die Grundlagen der antiken Wirtschaft; die Verwaltung öffentlicher Unternehmen in Griechenland und Rom; die Rolle von Grossereignissen bei der Veränderung antiker Wirtschaftssysteme. Wir werden uns mit antiken Definitionen der Wirtschaftswissenschaften, der Funktionsweise des griechischen und römischen Handels, der materiellen Kultur wie Münzprägung, der Verwaltung grosser Bauwerke sowie den finanziellen und sozialen Auswirkungen bedeutender Ereignisse wie der griechischen Kolonisierung, der römischen Provinzialisierung und den Folgen von Epidemien befassen.

Wichtig: Die Unterrichtssprachen sind Deutsch (PS 1) und Englisch (PS 2).

Event Schreibwerkstatt für Masterstudierende
06UE600o503a / Exercise Group / 2,790

Description:

Business event contents:
"Jede Art zu schreiben ist erlaubt - nur nicht die langweilige." Was Voltaire im 18. Jahrhundert wusste, gilt auch heute noch. Gerade wissenschaftliche Texte stehen jedoch nicht selten im Verdacht, trocken zu sein. Aber muss das so sein? In dieser MA-Schreibwerkstatt beschäftigen wir uns mit dem wissenschaftlichen Schreiben und Lesen. Im Mittelpunkt steht die intensive Arbeit an der eigenen Masterarbeit oder einer Seminararbeit. Zudem soll es darum gehen, einen eigenen wissenschaftlichen Schreibstil zu entwickeln und zu festigen. Wir fragen: Wie gelingt es, Texte zu verfassen, die nicht nur durch ihren Inhalt, sondern auch durch ihre Form überzeugen? Wie ist eine gute wissenschaftliche Arbeit aufgebaut? Und welche Strategien helfen, Schreibblockaden zu überwinden? Anhand eigener Texte erproben wir den gesamten Prozess des Schreibens und Überarbeitens: vom ersten Entwurf über mehrere Revisionen bis hin zur stilistischen Feinarbeit.

Event «Blutsband» und «Mischblut». Köpersubstanzen und die Konstruktion von Zusammengehörigkeit und Ausgrenzung im MA
06SE600-514a / Seminar / 3,316

Description:

Business event contents:
Wie haben sich die Menschen im Mittelalter die Funktionen und Bedeutungen von Körpersubstanzen vorgestellt, die Menschen verbinden?
Wenn heute vom Mittelalter die Rede ist, fallen rasch Begriffe wie Blutsbande, Geblütsrecht und Blutsrache. Diese Blutmetaphorik stammt aber weniger aus den mittelalterlichen Quellen selbst. Sie entspricht Rückprojektionen aktueller Modelle der geteilten und weitergegebenen Gene auf ein Zeitalter vor der Genetik und der Vererbungslehre. Erst in den letzten Jahren begannen Wissenschafts- und Sozialhistoriker:innen, sich näher mit den mittelalterlichen Vorstellungen von Körpersubstanzen zu befassen, die Verwandte teilten und an Nachkommen weitergaben.
Wir beschäftigen uns im Kolloquium mit Literatur und Quellen zu folgenden Fragen: Wie stellten sich Gelehrte und Laien die Beiträge von Mutter und Vater zur Formierung von Embryos vor? Was meinten sie eigentlich, wenn sie sagten, Ehepartner würden «ein Fleisch»? Welche Rolle spielten solche Vorstellungen für Prozesseder Inklusion und Exklusion? Wie setzten sich am Übergang zur Neuzeit Vorstellungen von reinem und gemischten Blut durch? Und inwiefern rechtfertigen es diese Veränderungen, die Formierung des modernen Rassismus im Spätmittelalter zu suchen?

Event Humanités cliniques, santé et démocratie – Penser les transitions politiques à l’ère post-moderne
06VL390o025a / Course / 1,521

Description:

Business event contents:
Dans ce cours, la prof. Cynthia Fleury propose d'analyser le contexte actuel des démocraties occidentales confrontées à des défis paradigmatiques : faut-il poser une défiance croissante envers l'État de droit ? Comment qualifier et dépasser la mise à l'épreuve des institutions démocratiques ? Peut-on parler d'un rapport déficitaire au langage, au symbolisme, aux régimes de véridiction (Foucault) ? Comment la question des limites planétaires reconfigure-telle les modèles traditionnels de production et de consommation ?
Dès lors, faisons-nous face à une fabrique systémique des situations de vie indignes pour les individus, exacerbant la vulnérabilité, la précarité sociale et psychique, et mettant à mal le principe même de dignité humaine ? Et pouvons-nous, en mobilisant les concepts clés issus des humanités cliniques, réarticuler de façon efficiente une réflexion sur la santé individuelle, la santé publique et la résilience démocratique pour contrer ces dérives post-modernes.
Le cours s'appuiera notamment sur les apports critiques issus de la philosophie politique et morale (dignité, vulnérabilité, résilience, justice sociale), tout en intégrant les réflexions issues de la psychiatrie institutionnelle (François Tosquelles, Jean Oury, Félix Guattari) et de la psychologie sociale (Kurt Lewin, Stanley Milgram, Serge Moscovici) pour diagnostiquer les formes contemporaines de pathologies démocratiques (populisme, autoritarisme, dérives sécuritaires). Il proposera aussi d'étudier les pistes théoriques et pratiques permettant d'élaborer de nouveaux modèles politiques fondés sur une redéfinition de l'État de droit et la valorisation des communs démocratiques, indispensables à la régénération démocratique et à la préservation des équilibres écologiques et sociaux.
Une attention particulière sera portée à l'analyse d'expérimentations socio-politiques et sanitaires concrètes ouvrant des voies de résolution aux conflits et dilemmes actuels : tiers-lieux, habitats alternatifs comme les "earthship", pratiques d'entretien et de réparation de l'existant, émergence de nouvelles épistémologies critiques, etc... Le cours examinera également comment les humanités cliniques peuvent favoriser un dialogue fructueux entre la médecine fondée sur les preuves (evidence-based medicine) et les humanités fondées sur les preuves (evidence-based humanities), afin d'enrichir la réflexion et l'action dans les champs de la santé publique et de la démocratie.

Description:

Business event contents:
Kindheitshistoriker:innen verstehen Kindheit nicht als einen biologisch gegebenen und unveränderlichen Tatbestand, sondern als ein kulturelles Konstrukt, das beständigem Wandel unterworfen ist und entsprechend historisch untersucht werden kann. Ausgehend von dieser Prämisse bemerkte die englische Historikerin Ludmilla Jordanova: «Classes, groups, and individuals are constantly negotiating and renegotiating in many different contexts what children are.» Kindheitshistoriker:innen gehen also davon aus, dass zu unterschiedlichen Zeiten und an unterschiedlichen Orten verschiedene Vorstellungen davon existierten, was Kinder sind und was Kindheit ist. Im Seminar beschäftigen wir uns mit der Frage, wie Kindheit als historisches Phänomen untersucht werden kann. Zunächst nähern wir uns dieser Frage anhand von Fachliteratur, indem wir uns mit für die Kindheitsgeschichte wichtigen Konzepten und mit kindheitshistorischen Fallstudien auseinandersetzen. Anschliessend suchen wir selbst Antworten auf die gestellte Frage: Wir analysieren das Phänomen «Kindheit» in unterschiedlichen historischen Kontexten (z.B. Familie, Schule, Wissenschaft) und anhand verschiedenartiger Quellen (z.B. Ratgeberliteratur, Berichte von Lehrpersonen, Ego-Dokumente von Kindern).

Event Fachdidaktik Pädagogik und Psychologie II
06SE090PP2 / Seminar / 992

Description:

Business event contents:
Im Zentrum des Kurses stehen Methoden, die einen dialogischen und (inter-)disziplinären PP-Unterricht ermöglichen. Zentral sind dabei lernförderliche Aufgaben sowie hilfreiches, prozess- und produktorientiertes Feedback. Weiter werden Gelingensmerkmale von Klassen- und Gruppengesprächen und Varianten einer prozess- und produktorientierten Leistungsbeurteilung beleuchtet. Entsprechend stehen diese Fragen im Zentrum: - Wie werden didaktische Methoden (Ziele, Raum, Zeit, Aufgaben, Austauschformate, Medien, Materialien) kombiniert, um einen lernwirksamen und kohärenten PP-Unterricht zu gestalten? - Welche Merkmale zeichnen lernförderliche Aufgaben im PP-Unterricht aus? - Wie können die Schüler*innen durch gezielte Rückmeldungen in ihrem Lernen unterstützt werden? - Welche Merkmale zeichnen ein dynamisches Klassen-/Gruppengespräch im PP-Unterricht aus? Welche Rolle spielt die Lehrperson? - Wie werden Leistungen der Schüler*innen auf vielfältige und zu den Unterrichtsinhalten passenden Weise erhoben, ausgewertet und beurteilt? - Was bedeutet Disziplinarität, Interdisziplinarität und Multiperspektivität im (P)PP-Unterricht? - Welche Aufgaben übernimmt die Lehrperson bei der Betreuung von PP- Fach- und Maturitätsarbeiten?

Event El Discurso Poético (grupo 2)
06SE427-001b / Seminar / 1,391

Description:

Business event contents:
Este curso tiene el objetivo de introducir y familiarizar a sus participantes con el análisis de los textos literarios y, en esta segunda parte, nos centraremos en el análisis discursivo de textos pertenecientes al género lírico. Teniendo en cuenta que una de las características fundamentales de la poesía es su hipercodificación, en las primeras lecciones estudiaremos nociones fundamentales de métrica y de retórica. Más adelante, aprovechando los conocimientos de narratología aprendidos en el semestre anterior, nos centraremos en la interacción entre el plano de la expresión y el plano del contenido a la hora de construir el significado poético. Por tal motivo, la parte central del semestre la dedicaremos a analizar multitud de textos poéticos de Federico García Lorca. Por último, en la recta final del semestre, las alumnas y alumnos trabajarán y discutirán en clase el poema que analizarán en su trabajo.

Notes:
En la redacción del trabajo se admite el empleo de la inteligencia artificial SOLO para la corrección idiomática (una vez redactado), pero NO para la elaboración de su contenido y, menos aún, para el análisis de los poemas, que ha de elaborarse bajo la supervisión de la tutora, por lo que se aconseja fervientemente tomar parte en la tutoría que acompaña al Seminario.

Course Materials:	Todos los materiales se colgarán en OLAT poco antes del inicio del semestre.

Event La construction du lexique en français
06SE390-008a / Seminar / 1,793

Description:

Business event contents:
Ce séminaire de morphologie lexicale propose aux étudiant·e·s d'étudier la manière dont le lexique du français moderne se construit. L'approche sera principalement synchronique, puisqu'il s'agira avant tout d'analyser la manière dont les mots, pris dans leur forme actuelle, se construisent - ce qui ne nous empêchera toutefois pas de regarder parfois l'histoire des mots sur lesquels nous nous pencherons. Les premières séances du séminaire, qui alterneront des moments de théorie et des moments d'exercices, permettront aux étudiant·e·s d'acquérir les outils de base pour comprendre et analyser les principaux mécanismes de construction des mots en français (dérivations, conversions, sigles, mots-valises, etc.). Dans la seconde partie du séminaire, les étudiant·e·s présenteront, sous la forme d'exposés, leurs propres analyses morphologiques, sur la base d'un corpus qu'ils/elles auront eux/elles-mêmes collecté - analyses qu'ils/elles développeront ensuite dans des travaux écrits.

Course Materials:	Les documents nécessaires pour le séminaire seront distribués en cours (et déposés en parallèle sur Olat).

Event Plus court, plus profond, plus fort ! Lire des textes brefs
06UE390-501a / Exercise Group / 2,310

Description:

Business event contents:
Le module comporte deux volets : dans le premier (avec Dagmar Wieser), seront abordés des textes courts issus de l'espace européen à travers les siècles ; dans le second (avec Ursula Bähler), le travail portera sur des textes extra-européens de différentes périodes. Thématiquement, on s'intéressera à des sujets variés : héritage colonial, écologie et, de manière plus générale, la connaissance de soi et le rapport à autrui. Le but est de montrer comment la littérature participe aux débats de société.

Event La linguistique comme soutien de l'enseignement du français langue étrangère
06KO390-504a / Colloquium / 1,795

Description:

Business event contents:
Dans ce cours, nous étudierons les intersections entre la linguistique et la didactique du français langue étrangère (FLE). Un premier bloc thématique du cours portera sur des domaines langagiers que l'enseignant arrive mieux à éclairer et à didactiser en s'appuyant sur des modèles et des explications fournis par la recherche linguistique : la variation linguistique, la diachronie au service de l'apprenant, l'enseignement vocabulaire, l'orthographe, ainsi que les bases linguistiques d'une bonne stratégie de lecture de textes authentiques. Un deuxième volet thématique sera dédié à la critique linguistique de trois approches didactiques actuelles en FLE : le CECR (Cadre Européen Commun de Référence), la didactique du plurilinguisme et les approches immersives comme l'Enseignement d'une Matière Intégré à une Langue Étrangère (EMILE). Le cours se terminera avec un troisième bloc thématique qui s'intéresse à la présentation et l'explication de la grammaire du français dans des manuels pour l'enseignement du FLE.

Description:

Business event contents:
Alors que depuis 2007 la Suisse a établi une « loi fédérale sur les langues nationales », visant entre autres à encourager le plurilinguisme, le français, 2e langue officielle du pays, 5e langue parlée au monde, voit sa place de plus en plus mise en danger en Suisse alémanique : recul de son enseignement à l'école primaire ou secondaire, suppression d'heures au lycée, disparition à l'aéroport de Zurich, etc. Rejet par méconnaissance, mauvais souvenir, effet de mode, ou paresse ? - Le français est sous pression : il est temps d'agir en sa défense !

Dans ce module, nous réfléchirons à une série d'interventions de différentes natures (écrits, conférences, performances - la liste n'étant pas exhaustive) afin de mettre en avant la richesse et l'importance des langues et littératures d'expression française. Soyez créatif·ve·s !

Event Il “De pictura” di Leon Battista Alberti e le sue traduzioni
06SE410-013a / Seminar / 1,533

Description:

Business event contents:
Il trattato sulla pittura di Leon Battista Alberti (1436) è un testo fondamentale della cultura rinascimentale, di centrale importanza per la storia letteraria e la storia dell'arte. Fu redatto in latino e immediatamente tradotto dallo stesso Alberti in volgare. Si analizzeranno la struttura argomentativa e i concetti portanti della versione volgare e la si confronterà con due importanti traduzioni cinquecentesche (Domenichi, Bartoli). Esploreremo così un capitolo affascinante della storia delle traduzioni nonché del pensiero relativo alle arti figurative tra Quattro e Cinquecento

Event Musil lesen
06UE504o062a / Exercise Group / 2,139

Description:

Business event contents:
Der unvollendet gebliebene Roman Der Mann ohne Eigenschaften (1930/1932/posthum) ist ein Mammutwerk der Literaturgeschichte, das in den publizierten Teilen 1.032 engbedruckte Seiten, im fragmentarisch gebliebenen und posthum gedruckten Fortsetzungsteil nochmals gut 1.100 Seiten und 11.000 Blätter handschriftlichen Nachlass umfasst. Im Seminar lesen wir dieses Buch in Auszügen und mit Blick auf die Architektonik des Ganzen, um zugleich eine praktische Anleitung an die Hand zu geben, wie zumindest der sogenannte 'kanonische' (von Musil selbst in den Druck gegebene) Romantext selbstständig vollumfänglich erschlossen werden kann. Der im letzten Jahr vor Ausbruch des Ersten Weltkriegs spielende Roman ist in den Worten Musils ein "aus der Vergangenheit entwickelter Gegenwartsroman" - er hat also sowohl einen historischen Bezug zur Zeit vor 1914, zur Zeit des Nationalsozialismus wie auch - und die Gründe dafür werden zu diskutieren sein - zur jeweiligen Gegenwart seiner Leser:innen. Im Seminar befassen wir uns mit der berühmten Figurenkonstellation des Romans, seiner Erzählhaltung der 'konstruktiven Ironie' und weiteren romankonstitutiven Konzepte wie ‚Möglichkeitssinn', ‚Essayismus' und ‚anderer Zustand' ebenso wie mit der ideologiekritischen Dimension, die Themen wie Sexualität, Technik, Weltkrieg, Psychiatrie, Philosophie, Großstadt, Ethik, Sport, Mode und Militär umfasst.

Event Novellen, Novellendramatisierungen, Novellenverfilmungen
06UE504o063a / Exercise Group / 2,200

Description:

Business event contents:
Die Übung stellt sich eine der ältesten erzählenden Gattungen zum Thema, die seit ihrem Aufkommen im italienischen Mittelalter durchgängig bis in die Gegenwart und von der italienischen Literatur ausgehend in wohl allen europäischen und auch zahlreichen Literaturen weltweit gepflegt worden sind und weiter gepflegt werden. Besonders häufig ist an der Novelle das Einzelfallhafte und Ereignishafte hervorgehoben worden (das häufig in Sammlungsform, gefasst in einen erzählerischen Rahmen, zusammengeführt wird), weshalb die Novelle sowohl ein Paradigma des Erzählens darstellt als auch immer wieder mit dem Drama verglichen worden ist. Dies nimmt die Übung zum Ausgangspunkt, um die Transformations- und Adaptationsformen von Novellen in anderen Medien zu betrachten: Viele Stücke Shakespeares beispielsweise basieren auf Novellen, und unlängst hat Netflix das Decamerone von Boccaccio verfilmt. Daneben gibt es aber auch Novellen, in denen gerade nichts zu geschehen scheint, wie Melvilles Bartleby, the Scrivener. Auch diese besondere Spielart - und ihre Theoretisierung - nimmt die Übung in den Blick.
